DR. PATTON HONORED BY HOME STATE

Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of High Point College, was among those honored by the South Carolina Homecoming Committee on Hilton Head Island in November, 1966. Honorary chairman for the event was James J. Byrnes, Governor of the State of South Carolina.

John Gettys Smith, chairman of the South Carolina Homecoming Committee, expressed the purpose for the recognition in his letter of invitation by stating: "We feel that our state, with a comparatively small population, has perhaps produced a disproportionate share of outstanding people."

Dr. Patton is one of the 135 native South Carolinians who have distinguished themselves in various fields and who no longer reside within the state. Nationally recognized South Carolinians who are leaders in education, church, military, business, finance, arts, science, and government fields were honored.

Dr. Patton, a native of Spartanburg, was a business executive prior to assuming his duties as President of High Point College in 1959. He is a member of the Board of Directors of Wachovia Bank and Shuford Mills, Inc.

EARLY BASKETBALL NEWS FOR THE ALUMNI

Bob Owens, Student Publicity Director for the Athletic Department.

As the 1966-67 basketball campaign gets underway, the High Point College Purple Panthers have already displayed enough power and awesome strength to give fair warning to the rest of the league that they are hungry for another taste of the championship berth.

With only five games under their belts, at this writing, the Panthers are once again undefeated and off to another whirlwind start.

The Panthers, sporting one of the league's most effective offenses, are currently averaging 92.6 points per game. They have broken the "hundred barrier" once this year while holding the opposition to an average of 78.0 points a game.

Coach Bob Vaughn, the Panthers' new coach from Surrattsville, Maryland, inherited an ideal team when he accepted the position, but along with it came pressure to equal or surpass the performance of the prior "Tom Quinn Squads." Despite this pressure, Coach Vaughn has whipped the Panthers into one of the best clubs that H. P. C. has ever sponsored on the hardwood.

The 1966-67 edition of the "lizards," a nickname used jealously by fans of the opposition, features the sensational 3rd Team Little All-American guard, Eugene Littles. At present, Littles is averaging over 30 points a game and has continued to spark the club with his clutch shooting and floor generalship.

Another pleasant surprise to Coach Vaughn has been the great improvement of sophomore center, Jim Picka. The 6' 11" giant has dominated the backboards and poured in a total of 81 points for a 16.2 average. Coach Vaughn says of Picka, "Jim has come along real well for us- I think his improvement over last year stems from the fact that he is older and is able to move much better under the boards."

John Davis, a top-notch defensive player, has just begun to reach his scoring capacity. In the Campbell game, John scored 26 points and played a vicious board game.

Pepper-pot guard Chris Lindsay has improved this year. Off to a slow start because of frequent foul trouble, Chris has begun to bomb points in from 30 feet while combining with Littles to spearhead the Panthers' fast-break offense.

Even though the Panthers have four sophomores in the starting lineup, the value of senior Co-captain Bill McDermott cannot be overlooked. Bill's team leadership and experience, to say nothing of his brute strength as one of the club's top rebounders, has given him the "father image." "Uncle Billy" played the best game of his career recently when he scored 18 points with almost as many rebounds.

The top reserve has been freshman Danny Witt a High School All-American from Baltimore, Md. Witt came off the bench in the first game of the season, and his first game as a college player, to lead the Panthers in scoring with 22 points.

Larry Wall, hampered by an early season foot injury, and Ron Loewenthal are the two junior reserves who give the Panther bench considerable strength which was lacking in last year's squad.

Senior Jim Spiridopoulos and freshman Steve Matthieson have also seen action this year as they round out the small ten-man squad of the Purple Panthers.

The future looks bright for the remainder of the season as the Panthers use their superior height and game savvy to stage their drive for the Carolinas Conference Championship in February.

High Point Resource Area Organizes For Action

Chairman, Ed Mendenhall, met with his four Majors, Chairman, Bill Henderson, W. Lawson Allen, and Dr. Carl Savage on January 16 to make plans for enlisting workers to present the College needs to individuals and businesses in High Point. The four majors are: J. Roscoe Adams, Wachovia Bank and Trust Company; Fred Alexander, President of High Point Bank and Trust Company; J. Ed Pleasants, North Carolina National Bank; and Dick Edmundson, Manager of Sears new store.

At a meeting at High Point College on February 13 at 4:30 p.m., Chairman Mendenhall asked W. Lawson Allen, Director of Public Affairs, to present the procedure for the High Point Business Resource Area. Seventeen Captains have accepted the responsibility of securing four workers who will in turn select the names of four firms or individuals in High Point to which to present the needs of the College.

The calendar as presented by Allen sets the date of February 27 as the deadline to obtain the additional workers. March 6, was selected as the date for the kickoff meeting and training session for all workers. The names of those to be contacted will be selected by the workers themselves. March 20, was announced as the first report meeting for all workers.

The list of the seventeen Captains affords an outstanding group of community leaders: Dick Culler, Jr., Vince Spracklin, Mrs. W. T. Powell, Fred Council, Dr. I. Paul Ingle, Douglas Kerr, Jim Burnley, Bill Hylton, Ted Pettyjohn, Wilbur Groome, Dean Rich, Herman Bernard, C. Louis Huff, Sanders Dallas, Jr., R. E. Clement, Carter Holbrook, and Bill Ervin. Each one of these Captains has accepted the responsibility with enthusiasm.

Golden Decade Board of Advisers Meet At College

The Board of Advisers of the Golden Decade Development Program met on Monday afternoon, February 13, 4:30 p.m., in Roberts Hall on the campus. The first meeting of this Board was an outgrowth of the November 4, Development Conference. Nearly 100 outstanding men and women in ten resource areas attended the November 4 meeting and made suggestions and recommendations for the future of High Point College.

The Golden Decade Development Board of Advisers is composed of the chairmen of the resource areas and a like number of members selected at large. Outstanding men and women from across the state have accepted membership on the Board. These individuals have agreed to become members in order to use their influence and advise the trustees and administration in matters of development and advancement in the 10-year program to secure $10 million to undergird the College on its long-range plans.

The Chairman of the Golden Decade Development Board of Advisers, Mr. W. R. Henderson, is President of Bennett Advertising, Incorporated. Resource Area Chairmen are: Roger Soles, President of Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company; Ed Mendenhall, President of Mendenhall-Moore Realtors; Vincent Spracklin, Trust Officer of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company; William McGuinn, Public Relations Officer, High Point Bank and Trust Company; Charles E. Hayworth, President of Alma Desk Company; Dr. Phil Shore, District Superintendent of the High Point District of the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church; Dr. Larry B. Holt, eye surgeon; Holt McPherson, Editor of High Point Enterprise; and Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of High Point College.

Others who have accepted membership on the Board are: Mayor Robert L. Reese of Asheboro; Mayor Stanford R. Brookshire of Charlotte; Governor Dan K. Moore; and Dale Montgomery, Chairman of Guilford County Commissioners.

The meeting on February 13, was directed by Mr. W. R. Henderson. Reports were given by chairmen of the various resource areas. An interesting report was given by the Corporate Partners Resource Area with 20 corporations indicating that they would share their profits with the College. The High Point Business Resource Area reported that the organization was being built to solicit individuals and businesses in High Point.

Trustees Of Methodist Colleges Of N. C. Invited To Conference

High Point College will provide another service which will give the College an additional rung in its ladder of leadership. On April 28 and 29 the Trustees Conference will bring to High Point outstanding men to present views and trends in trusteeship. Dr. J. L. Zwingle, Executive Vice President, Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges, Washington, D. C., will be among the program personalities.

Dr. Ralph Decker, Director of Department of Educational Institutions, Division of Higher Education of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, Nashville, Tennessee, will appear on the program both on Friday and Saturday. Dr. James W. Fowler, head of the Western North Carolinas Conference, College Coordinating Council, will be present to share in the program. Former Governor Terry Sanford, trustee of Methodist College and former Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina will bring the closing address at lunch on Saturday the 29th.

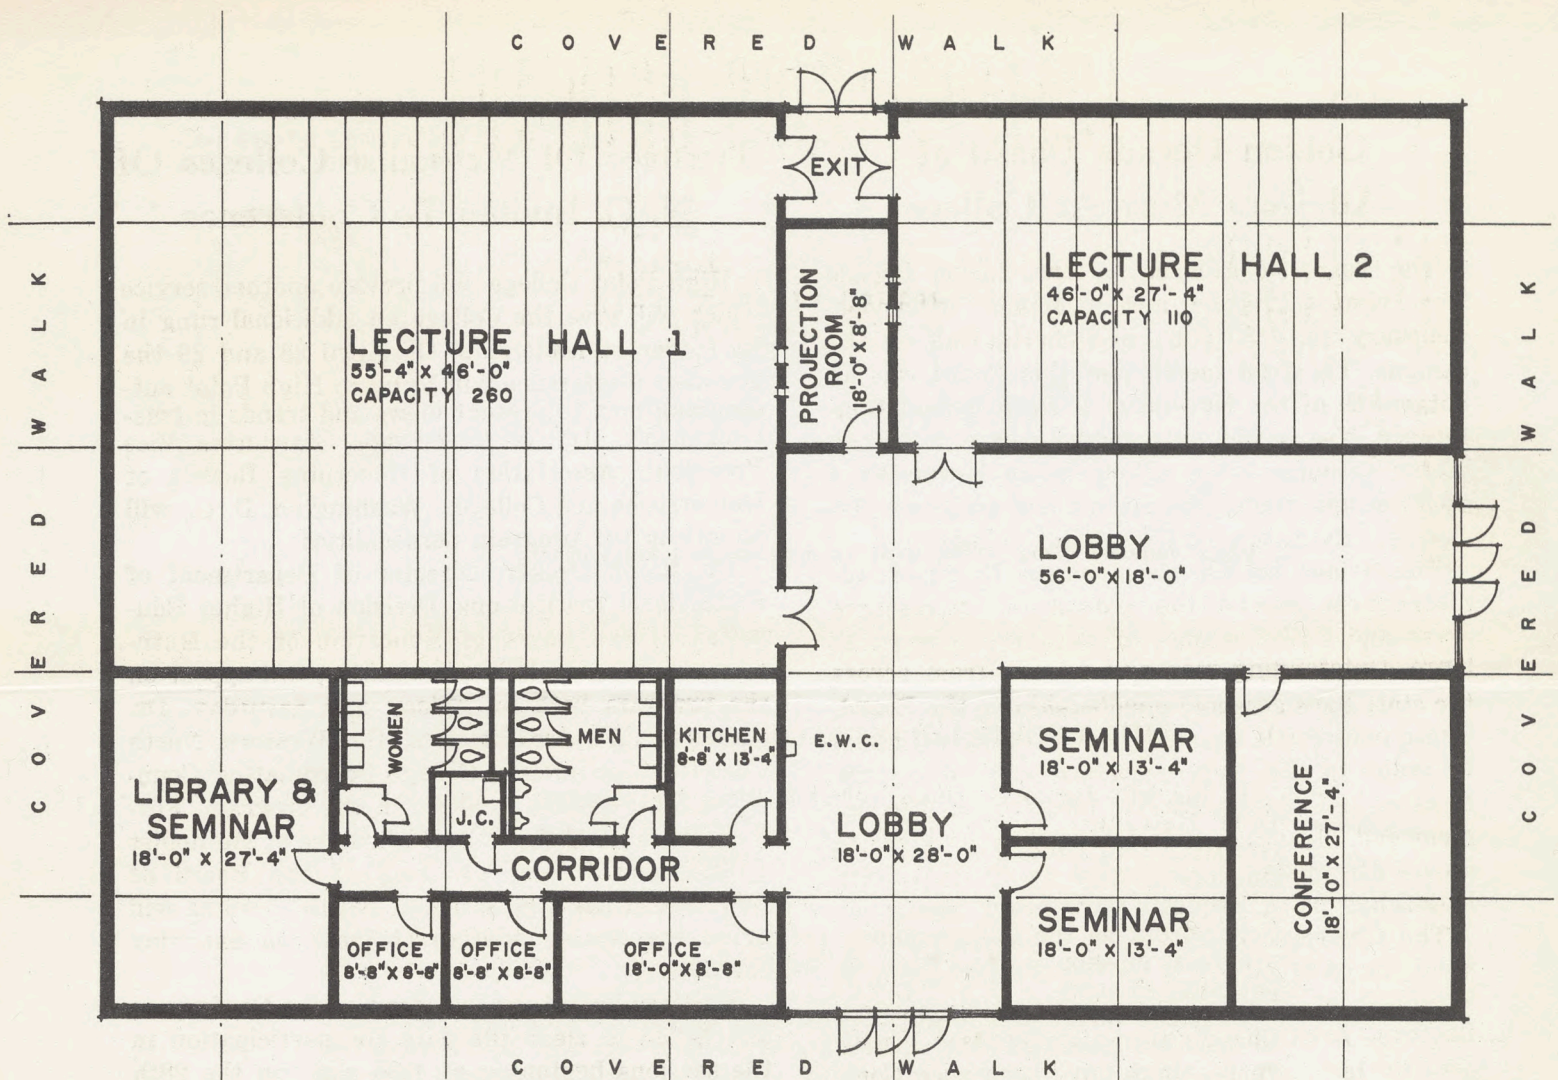

Trustees have been informed of the Conference and asked to clear the date for participation in the sessions beginning at 4:30 p.m., on the 28th at the Sheraton Hotel. An invitation went out on February 20 to the trustees of Brevard, Pfeiffer, Greensboro, Louisburg, Methodist, North Carolina Wesleyan, and High Point Colleges.

PLANS FOR INFIRMARY REVISED

Revised tentative plans for an infirmary have been received from the architect according to Earle G. Dalbey, Business Manager of the College. Dalbey states, "These plans may not incorporate all that is wanted, but at least, they are more nearly in line with the funds which are available with which to construct the building."

The revised plans have more than 3,300 square feet of floor space and make provision for any illness short of epidemic proportions. The building is so designed that it is possible to have twenty-four hour nursing service if feasible.

Funds have been designated by Mr. A. A. Shuford, Jr., of Shuford Mills for the erection of the infirmary. Some of the 30 doctors who have attended High Point College have indicated an interest in the infirmary. Ten dentists have graduated from the College, also.

Grant For Lecture Centre Approved College Seeks Additional Funds

A grant for $82,333 has been approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, according to a release by Chalmers G. Norris, Chief of College Facilities Branch of the Department. This grant is one-third of the estimated cost of this facility which consists of two lecture rooms with capacity of 250 and 100 with stage, latest equipment for visual aids, seminar rooms, large hall for receptions, kitchen, 2 rest rooms, and faculty offices.

According to Dr. Wendell M. Patton, the trustees have not indicated when construction will begin due to the lack of $166,677 which the College will have to put up to assure construction.

The Lecture Center would be used for large multi-section courses such as the history lectures now held in the Memorial Auditorium. Many of the activities now held in the foyer of the auditorium could be held in the large hall. The small group cultural activities of High Point could be scheduled here, such as plays, concerts, lectures, and the like.

The architect, Leon Schute, is working with Earle Dalbey, Business Manager to make changes and secure tentative plans for the building. The College is seeking a donor that is willing to give $100,000 toward this building which could bear the name of the donor, or someone he wishes to memorialize.

HIGH POINT COLLEGE LOOKS TO THE FUTURE

In his will James B. Duke, selected Duke University. "I have selected Duke University as one of the principal objects of this trust because I recognize that education. . . is, next to religion, the greatest civilizing influence."

Bequests have never been a large factor in the support of High Point College, but as the College moves through the years, it must continually progress, develop its facilities, its faculty, increase its excellence and its potential to serve.

Bequests must become an integral part of means which are necessary to meet the needs of each succeeding student generation. In the last few years, there have been an increasing number of individuals who have, in the planning of their estates, remembered High Point College and its needs. Alumni, trustees, faculty members and other friends have been thoughtful and gracious to include the College in their wills.

It has long been the policy of our government to encourage, through estate tax laws, giving to educational and charitable institutions. It is frequently possible, by thoughtful planning, to give generously to High Point College at a small cost to the individual or his estate. It is advisable always to seek legal counsel when making deferred gifts.

Bequests may be for an established amount, for a percentage of an estate, or for real property or other assets. Bequests may be large or small, with each expressing the donors' ideals and hope. They may be made in the body of a will or as a codicil to it.

Gifts by trust are of many types and can be established for the common benefit of the donor and High Point College. One example is a trust which may yield its income to the donor or someone he names with the principal ultimately going to the College. A trust may be either irrevocable or revocable with tax advantages varying with the type of trust established.

Participation in the Estate Planning Program will have an important effect on the future of High Point College. Some have made bequests and have notified the College, others have not. The Estate Planning Committee of the Golden Decade Development Program has been selected to help the College in the areas indicated.

Mr. Vincent Sparacklin, Trust Officer of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company of High Point is Chairman of the committee and Mr. Perry Keziah is Co-Chairman with him.

By making High Point one of your beneficiaries and then permitting the Committee to list your name with the names of other participants, you do High Point College a double service. You give promise of needed support and you encourage by your own act a similar response by others.

"To place your name by gift or bequest in the keeping of an active educational institution is to be sure that the name and the project with which it is associated will continue down the centuries to quicken minds and hearts of youth, and thus make a permanent contribution to welfare and humanity." High Point College needs well-qualified students if it is to continue as a quality institution. You can assist your alma mater by recommending that good students apply for early admission to H.P.C. The S.A.T. scores of students admitted to High Point College for the Fall Semester, 1966, were above the national average. I know that you will be proud that you attended a college which is admitting students above the national average; and I hope you will continue to recommend it to well-qualified students.

On February 18, your Executive Committee passed the following resolution: "The Executive Committee recommends that the Alumni Association of High Point College support two tax relief bills that are in the N.C. Senate and N.C. House of Representatives. The first bill provides $600 allowance for tuition, books and fees for dependent students after high school. The second tax relief bill provides $300 additional dependents allowance for support." (N.C.H.R. Bill No. 32 and N.C. Senate Bill No. 18)

Many additional young men and women will be better able to attend college by having the financial relief provided for by these tax relief bills. In addition, an individual who has attended college usually pays more taxes than a person who has not attended college. Therefore, the passage of the tax relief bills should ultimately bring additional revenue into our state.

You can assist parents in securing a $900 yearly deduction for dependent college students by contacting your representative and senator in the N. C. Legislature.

APRIL, 1967

WE WILL PROVIDE HIGHER EDUCATION FACILITIES

One way or another the youth of our state will have the opportunity to get a college education. In 1868 the Constitution of North Carolina affirmed that the privilege of education is the citizen's birth-right and sets forth the State's obligation to maintain that right and encourage its fulfillment. Historically, higher education has been a major factor in the establishment of North Carolina's reputation as a progressive state.

Higher education in America is a product of the Church. From Harvard for more than 150 years until the University of North Carolina opened its doors in 1795, independent and church-related higher education held sway. Davidson College, then Wake Forest were opened before the mid-19th century. Until the 20th century was well along the majority of college students were enrolled in private schools. Such is not the case today. Last fall (1966) the enrollment of tax supported institutions of higher learning in North Carolina had 59% of all students. The increase is nearly 2% each year in favor of the tax supported institutions.

The North Carolina Position

Our high school graduates are going to college. Where they go is largely a matter of economics. With the rise of the Community College, within the foreseeable future every high school graduate can be enrolled in an institution of higher learning.

The student who attends a tax supported institution in North Carolina pays on the average $891 per year for room, board, and fees. The State appropriated another $1030 last year for each student attending a tax supported college whether as day or boarding student. The students who attend private colleges saved the taxpayers of North Carolina the sum of $47,112,000 last year!

A very cursory glance at these facts indicate that with the ever increasing number of high school graduates attending college, it is to the great benefit of the taxpayers to see to it that the private colleges continue to grow and develop. The taxpayer will pay one way or the other - voluntarily through the private college or involuntarily through taxes to meet increasing expenses at the public institutions.

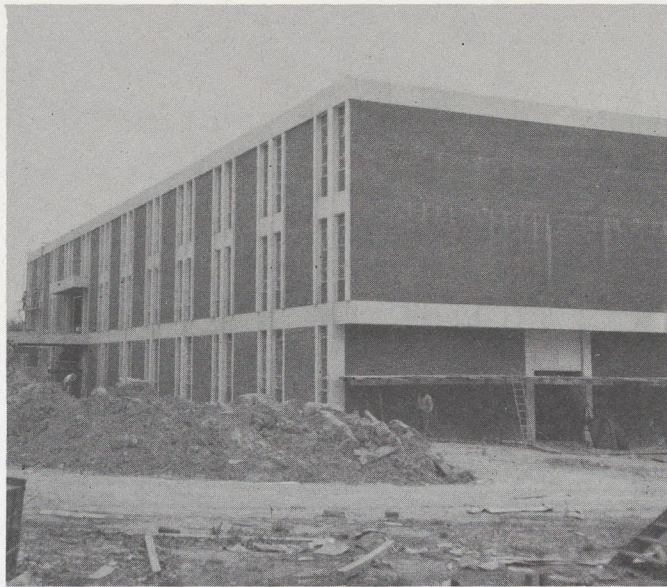

What Will Happen To The Private College?

Does the private colleges have a case? The history of independent higher education attests to the fact that it does. Liberal arts education it has been said offers the last bulwark for free enterprise. The private college provides freedom from political chicanery and protects the academic freedom not only of the private-independent college, but also the public institutions.

If the taxpayer wishes to assume the 41% in addition to the 59% now being supported, which is 75% increase in taxpayers funds for higher education, the way is now being cleared. The State will extract the funds in taxes and in addition will ask you to provide voluntarily funds for additional staff members, facilities and endowment. More and more this is the case.

The taxpayer will pay one way or the other - either in taxes to support public institutions or in gifts to undergird and make strong the private, church-related, independent colleges.

We will pay! We will provide for the education of our youth. Which approach shall we take? We must do both.

The Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science Nears Completion

The new science building was named the Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science by the unanimous action of the Board of Trustees to honor, a long-time trustee, faithful servant, and respected attorney of High Point.

The Science Hall is nearing completion, as far as construction is concerned. The parking lots are being prepared for paving. The furnishings will arrive late which will necessitate moving the old furnishings from the present science building during the summer with the hope that new equipment will arrive by August 15, so that it may be installed by the opening of the fall semester.

Perspective on Charitable Giving

Let's take a realistic look at this business of making gifts to a college.

Federal tax laws encourage giving to colleges and universities; indeed, they offer special opportunities for giving.

But let's be candid about the matter. It will cost you something to make a gift to a college or a university; surprisingly, though, the cost to you may be very little.

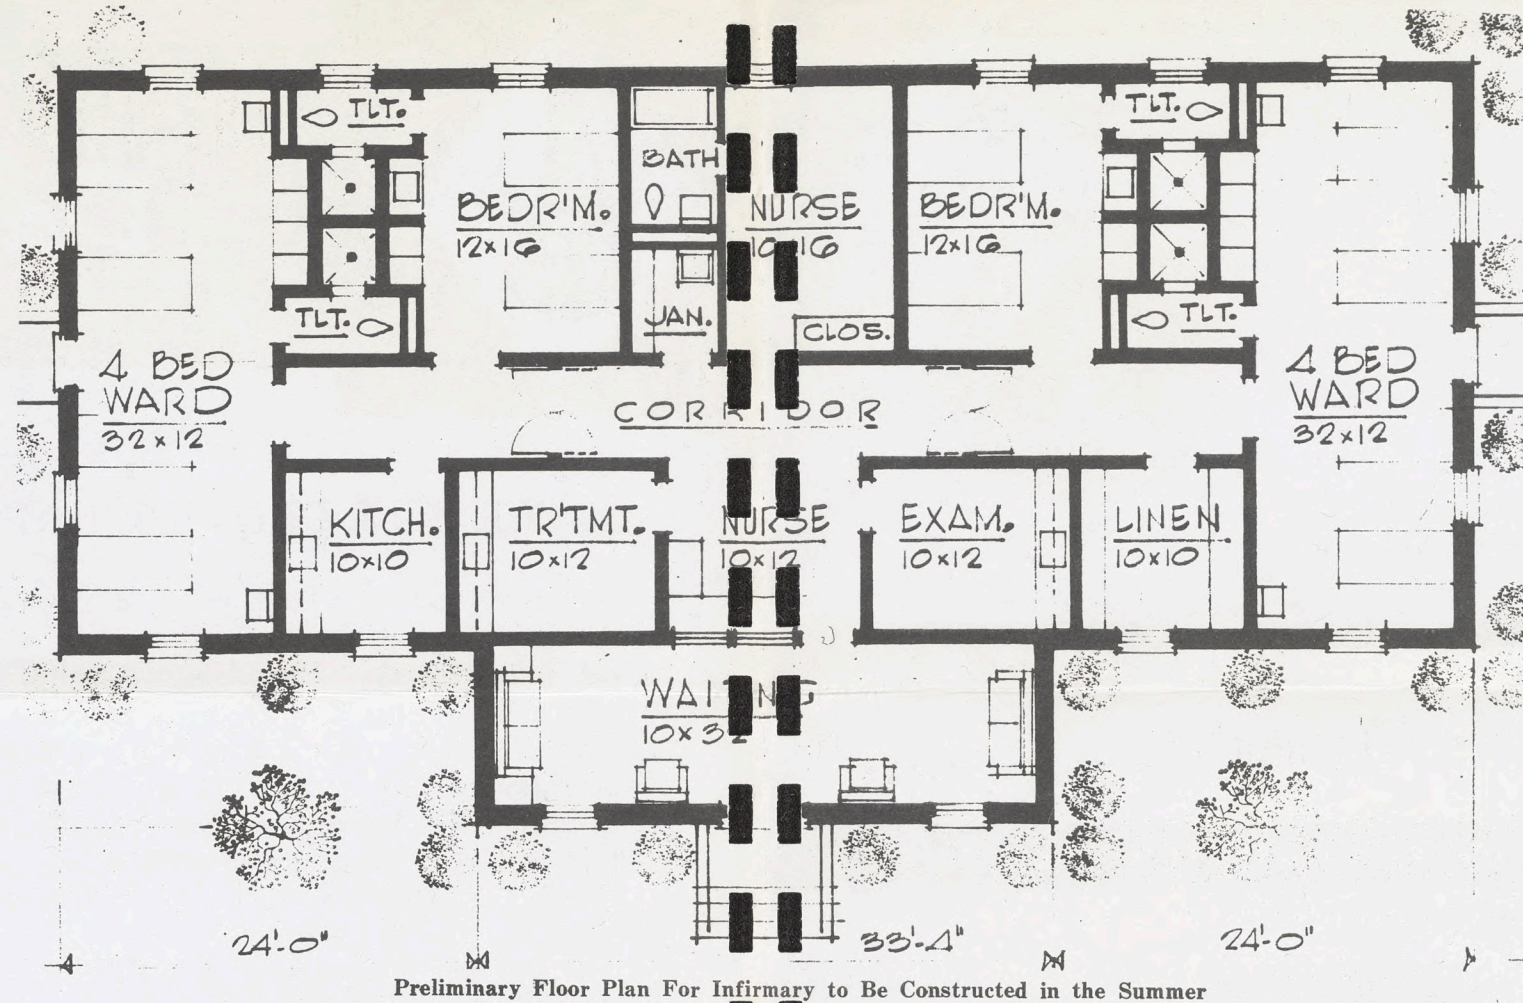

Let's See Why

Whether you give to charitable or educational institutions or whether you don't give, the government will take a portion of your gross income in taxes. This is inevitable. If you don't give, a greater share of your money goes to the government in taxes and you have no further control over it.

On the other hand, by giving to recognized charitable or educational institutions, you legally divert a portion of this tax-destined money into areas which are of particular interest to you. . . such as High Point. In this manner you can control the spending of money which ordinarily goes to the government in taxes for purposes beyond your control.

You can give up to 30% of your adjusted gross income to High Point and receive a tax deduction on the full amount.

It's as simple as this . . . your contribution comes off your top income tax bracket. Your cost is the amount you would have kept had you not made the contribution. Had you not made it, the sum you donated would have been taxed.

High Point Closes Follow-up Campaign, April 5

The High Point area follow-up of the 1st phase of the Golden Decade Program of Development was organized under the leadership of Ed Mendenhall, President of Mendenhall-Moore Realty Company. Four Majors were enlisted: Roscoe Adams, Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, Ed Pleasants, North Carolina National Bank, Fred Alexander, High Point Bank and Trust Company and Dick Edmondson, manager Sears Roebuck and Company.

Each of the Majors selected at least four Captains. The organization was complete with a total of seventeen, who in turn selected and enlisted four lieutenants who accepted, on March 7, prospects to contact in behalf of High Point College.

The First report period was held on March 20 with about one-third of the workers reporting. The closing date was April 5th. While it is too early to ascertain the total received, the contacts were fruitful.

More than 250 prospects were seen during the four weeks effort. The organization was as efficient as any that we have observed with almost 100% effort to see prospects. The Majors were always cooperative. The Captains were ever at the task of seeing that lieutenants were making an effort to solicit the prospects.

The High Point follow-up effort will give impetus to the entire development program. A hearty "thank you" is in order to all who were involved.

The Trust Offers Special Opportunity For Charitable Giving

A trust is an arrangement whereby property is held by a Trust Company, other institutions, or individuals for the benefit of others. There are several kinds of trusts.

1. The Living Trust is a Trust created during the lifetime of the person or persons setting it up.
2. The Testamentary Trust is a trust created by will.
3. An Irrevocable Trust is one which cannot be ended by the person creating it.
4. A Revocable Trust is one which may be ended by the creator.

The Trustee may be a company or individual holding the trust property for the benefit of others.

Trusts may be set up to avoid payment of income taxes on a given investment or portfolio over a period of not less than two years. The arrangement is very helpful for the person who is in a high tax bracket now, but will need the principal at a later date (after two years). In addition, there may be decided advantages in estate planning.

The trust is often used to care for wife or children as well as offering a very effective and satisfying method of charitable giving.

Conference For College Trustees Set For April 28-29

The first Conference for trustees of all North Carolina Methodist colleges has been planned for April 28-29 at the Sheraton Hotel in High Point sponsored by High Point College. The Conference is made possible by a grant from the Shell Companies Foundation, Inc.

The Conference will open at 4:30 p.m. in the Gold Room of the Sheraton Hotel with Dr. Wendell M. Patton, presiding. The afternoon session will feature Dr. James W. Fowler, Secretary of the Coordinating College Council of the Western North Carolina Conference, Charlotte, North Carolina, Dr. Ralph W. Dr. J. L. Zwingle, Dr. Ralph Decker, and W. R. Cumerford will present papers. After a short break, a question and answer period will be held.

The Conference will close with an address by The Honorable Terry Sanford "Develop, Advance, Or?"

Present Science Building Named For Dr. Dennis H. Cooke

The present science building to be vacated and renovated during the summer was named for Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, former president of the College and now head of the Education and Psychology Department.

The Dennis H. Cooke Hall will be used as classrooms in all probability. Masonary walls will be removed, offices constructed, and present equipment either transferred to the Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science or placed in storage.

DR. HINSHAW, FORMER DEAN,
SUCCUMBS AT 77

Dr. Clifford R. Hinshaw, longtime teacher and administrator, died April 11 at the age of 77.

Dr. Hinshaw had been in the service of High Point College since 1927 when he became teacher of education and psychology. As Chairman of the Department of Education and Psychology, he was instrumental in getting state accreditation for the teacher education program.

Elected Professor Emeritus upon his retirement from active teaching in 1958, Hinshaw became Director of the Evening School and, according to Registrar Nathaniel P. Yarborough "made it what it is today." He held this position at the time of his death.

Yarborough, long-time friend and associate, had nothing but praise for the man who had also served as Dean of the College for 17 years and Director of Summer School for 28 years. "I don't know of any more remarkable person than Dr. Hinshaw. He was a man in the true sense of the word."

LUTHER MEDLIN SPEAKS AT SENIOR INVESTITURE

Luther Medlin '30, principal of Walter Hines Page Senior High School, Greensboro, and an outstanding alumnus of High Point College, was the guest speaker during Senior Investiture ceremonies at High Point College on Wednesday, April 26.

A native of High Point, Medlin received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from High Point College and the Master of Arts in Education from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

After teaching for four years, Medlin became principal of an elementary school in Gastonia, at which time he organized a school for crippled children at the N. C. Orthopedic Hospital located in Gastonia. Subsequently, he served as principal of Central Junior High School in Greensboro, and for the past nine years has lead the Walter Hines Page High School in Greensboro from a new school with 500 students to one with an enrollment of 1700.

Aside from his professional accomplishments, Medlin has given of his many talents to his church, as a member of the Board of Stewards and church school teacher, to his college as president of the Alumni Association, to his community as chairman of Cancer Crusades and March of Dime campaigns, and to his state through service as the N. C. Governor of Civitan International.

Senior Investiture is a traditional ceremony at the College when seniors receive their caps and gowns from a relative or a close friend. After investiture, the seniors wear their caps and gowns at assemblies preceding graduation exercises.

YOU WILL BE PROUD!

High Point College's Ten Million Dollar Golden Decade Development Program will be featured in a full-page advertisement in the May 12 issue of TIME MAGAZINE (Southeastern edition).

Recently, the publisher of TIME announced that he would consider printing messages, free of charge, from institutions of higher learning "provided the messages demonstrated the imagination and scope that would appeal to TIME's readers."

The ad was prepared by Bennett Advertising, Inc., promotional agency of the College and coordinator of the Golden Decade program. The advertisement contains a statement by Archie K. Davis, Chairman of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, telling corporations how to "multiply corporate contributions to colleges with the 'Arithmetic Magic' of $1 equals $40."

TIME ran its first complimentary ad in its November 11 issue. The advertisement was submitted by St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Indiana.

The Alumni Office will send complimentary copies of the advertisement to all alumni as soon as they become available.

What Could High Point Do With $10 Million?

We become confused by the announcements which come to our desks concerning Tulane's $24 million far exceeded with more than $27 in cash and pledges for the "Forward Fund." This includes a $6 million Ford Foundation grant. There is Duke with its $90 million goal over the next few years to stagger our imagination. Then comes Wake Forest University with long-range needs of $100 million over the next ten years. We could go on to tell of Brandeis - $14 million; Claremont College - $39 million including matching grant of Ford Foundation, and others.

The $10 million Golden Decade Development Fund goal seems small beside some of these, yet it must be realized if High Point College is to continue to grow and develop. What could we do with $10 million? We could at this time proceed to build a student center; the dormitories; the administration building; the religious center; the library; and have enough endowment to bring in more than $100 thousand additional revenue for the College. Indeed the $10 million may seem small as compared with Duke or Wake Forest, but it would give High Point College financial stability for the next ten years.

What would be the results if from some source, High Point College would receive $1 million? It would result in many others taking a good look at the College which someone thinks is worthy to receive and use $1 million. It would engender new enthusiasm, for too long we have majored on the $1 gift. Giving of this sort never has challenged others to give, nor has it enhanced the financial position of the College.

As you read this article, will you stop, meditate, think and reflect on the possibility of a deeper commitment of life and material possessions to the service of the Master of Men? All the staff that could be acquired cannot raise funds to keep the College advancing. We must have the interest, influence, and work of friends from Alumni, from the Church, from the community of High Point, and from beyond.

What couldn't we do with $1 million?

High Point College Receives Silver Anvil Award

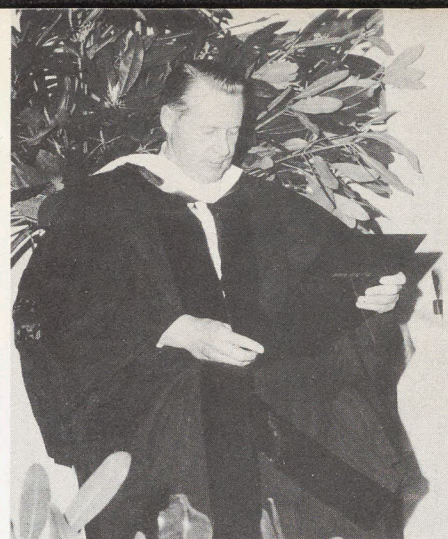

The Public Relations Society of America presented the coveted Silver Anvil Award to Holt McPherson, Chairman of the Board of Trustees in New York City on May 18.

William R. Henderson, President, of Bennett Advertising Company, handled the Golden Decade Promotion which led up to the award for . . . "Outstanding public relations performance in promotional publicity - non profit."

This significant honor is but another indication of the depth and effectiveness of the Golden Decade Development Program as viewed by the Public Relations Society of America. Gratitude is due Bill Henderson and President Patton for this signal achievement.

Braxton Younts of the Enterprise interviews Dr. J. L. Zwingle, Executive Vice President, Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges, at the Methodist Trustee Conference on April 28.

The College Closes 43rd Year With Optimism

High Point College on May 21 closed out another successful year - the 43rd - with the awarding of three honorary and 153 bachelor's degrees and ceremonies retiring three faculty members with a total of 85 years service to the College.

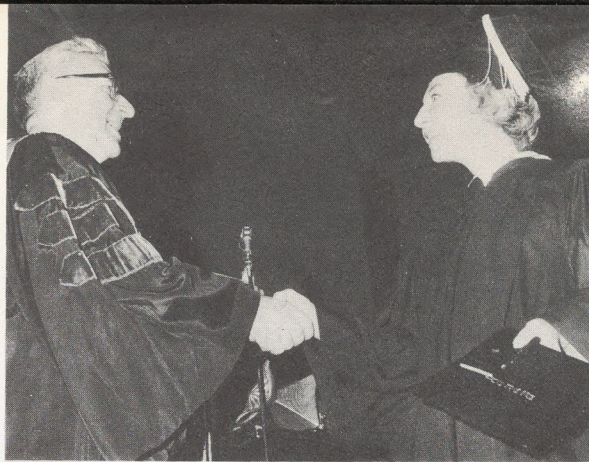

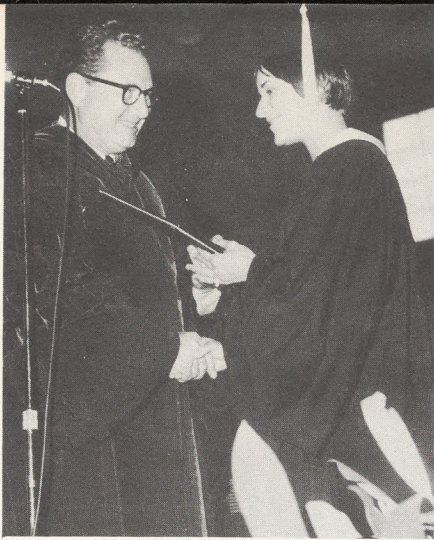

Honorary degrees were conferred on The Reverend Edgar Harrison Nease, Jr., minister of the First Methodist Church, High Point; The Reverend William Howard Miller, Jr., minister of Trinity Methodist Church, Durham; and to Mr. Archie K. Davis, Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, Winston-Salem.

Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of High Point College presented diplomas to 153 men and women who received the A.B., B.S. and A.B.T. Degrees.

Three faculty members were honored by the trustees and administration of the College upon retirement from active duty as teachers. Dr. E. O. Cummings came to High Point in 1927 and closed out forty years of service as teacher of chemistry and head of the department. Miss Ernestine Fields professor of organ and piano was awarded a citation for 24 years of service. Dr. S. C. Deskins was honored not only for his years of service since 1948 at High Point College as professor of history, but for his long years of service to secondary education.

The pictures at the top and bottom of this page give a running account of commencement exercises with the accent on continuity of effort and achievement of the 43 years of College history.

High Point College Has A Heart

Bill Skaggs, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Romulus P. Skaggs of Thomasville, received his diploma from the hands of Dean David W. Cole of High Point College. There is nothing unusual about that, for more than 150 others experienced the the same thing at commencement on Sunday afternoon, May 21, 1967.

The unusual was that Bill received his diploma at the bed side of his 81 year old father, who was recuperating from a major operation in the Memorial Hospital in Thomasville. The mother was unable to be present at the graduation due to illness which keeps her in bed or in a wheel chair in an area nursing home.

Mr. Romulus P. Skaggs, an educator who served as principal of the Baptist Childrens Home School in Thomasville for 17 years prior to his retirement, was elated.

The elder Mr. Skaggs wanted so desperately to see his only son receive his diploma, that the word got to Joseph Godwin, assistant Professor of Psychology, who in turn conveyed the wish to W. Lawson Allen in Public Relations who talked with Dr. Patton. The engagement was set up and the Hospital authorities gave special permission for High Point College officials to confer the degree at 6 p.m., Sunday, May 21, 1967.

It was done. A happy father was the result. Thus years of dreaming were brought to reality . . . and a College does have a heart!

Here's how you can multiply your corporate contributions to colleges with the 'Arithmetic Magic' of $1 = $40

by Archie K. Davis, Chairman,
Wachovia Bank & Trust Company;
Immediate Past President,
American Bankers Association

A "Profits Pledge" costs you 50¢ dollars, yet benefits the colleges 40 to 1. Suppose you could, by some accident of fortune, give $25,000 to a college you're interested in. Have you ever considered what that gift is actually worth?

Chances are the school administration would put it into endowment funds where it would earn, on the average, 5%. Your gift would be worth $1,250 a year.

Suppose, instead, you pledge an annual gift of 1% of your company profits—pre-tax, so the contribution is deductible. Now suppose your company earns $100,000 this year, and the college gets a check for $1,000. That's the equivalent of 5% interest on an endowment of $20,000, yet it actually cost your company only $500. There's the Arithmetic Magic: $1=$40.

Church-related colleges must be nourished by those who believe in them. Among my favorite charities are the church-related colleges. I believe they perform a vital function in higher education which state tax-supported schools cannot perform. Schools founded in the belief that religion should play a central role in our education, as in our lives, are now faced with ever-increasing costs, without tax support.

High Point College is a leader among the independent, though church-related, small schools. Leading up to its Golden Anniversary in 1974, High Point College is now conducting a $10-million 'Golden Decade' program. Most of its alumni are not wealthy (over 50% of its graduates become teachers); its support from the Methodist Church is not flexible. Pulling itself up by its bootstraps, this young College is seeking 'Profits Pledges' from any corporation whose officers believe in church-related higher education.

Your company can deduct up to 5% of its pre-tax profits for contributions to charity. In addition to the other donations you are called on to make, I would suggest you consider 'Profits Pledges' to colleges you are interested in, rather than lump-sum gifts. I would also suggest you look into the sound, progressive 'Golden Decade' program of High Point College. Its success will lead the way for all small colleges to meet the problems they must face in the coming decade.

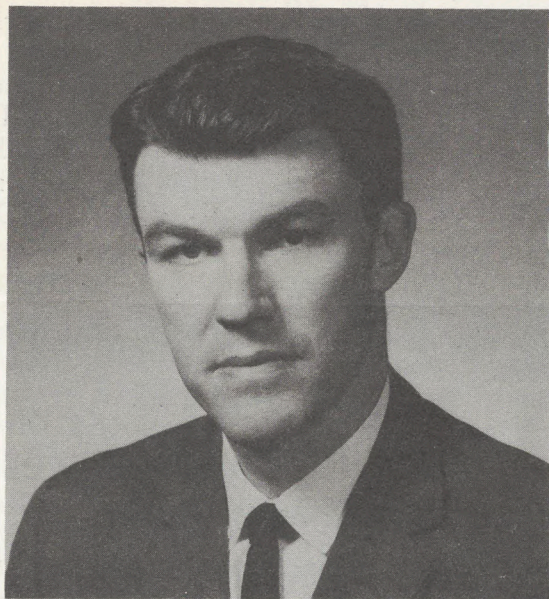

For further information on the 'Golden Decade' Corporate Partners Program, write Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President, or Development Office, High Point College, High Point, N. C. 27261.

ALUMNI ISSUE - JULY, 1967

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE HEADED BY AUMAN

Dr. Edwin L. Auman, M. D., of High Point, N. C., has been elected to the position of president of The Alumni Association of High Point College, replacing Dr. Lawrence B. Holt, of Winston-Salem, N. C., who held the presidency for two years. From 6188 alumni, 726 votes were cast, of which 722 were for Auman. The other new members of the Executive Committee are: Robert B. Rankin, vice president, 718; Joseph W. Holmes, member at large, 717; and James H. Hight, member at large, 719. ALUMNI EXCEED 34% GOAL

The Alumni Association takes this opportunity to thank all the alumni who made it possible for us to exceed our 34% participation goal for the 1966-67 fiscal year. We are especially indebted to those loyal alumni who knocked on other alumni doors on behalf of the College in the personal solicitation campaigns. These "workers" are primarily responsible for the success of the campaign, which ran from June 1, 1966, through May 31, 1967, during which we received gifts totaling $44,993.77 from 2206 of the 6188 alumni in our records. The amount given during 1966-67 is greater than any recorded in the history of alumni giving at H.P.C.; and the 35.65% participation is a full four percent higher than any year prior thereto.

Personal solicitation campaigns were conducted initially in Alamance County, Asheville, Baltimore, Md., Charlotte, District of Columbia, Durham-Orange County, Fairfax, Va., Falls Church, Va., Forsyth County, Greensboro, High Point, Richmond, Va., Rockville, Md., Thomasville, and Wake County.

When it became apparent that we would not make the goal without additional personal contact, supplementary campaigns were set up in areas of alumni concentration. Dedicated alumni in the following areas rallied to the cause: Alexandria, Va., Arlington, Va., Asheboro,

EVELYN CULLER NAMED "ALUMNUS OF THE YEAR"

Mrs. Broadus Richard (Evelyn Williams) Culler, '37, of High Point, N. C., was presented the "Alumnus of the Year" award at the Alumni-Senior Dinner in May, 1967, by The Alumni Association of High Point College.

Criteria used for the selection of the person to receive the award include an interest in, and support of, the Alumni Association and other college activities, community involvement, church activities, and professional recognition.

Mrs. Culler recently established a $500 a year scholarship to be awarded a young man in the field of physical education in honor of her late husband. She was active in the February Homecoming activities and served as hostess for the most successful reunion of the Class of 1937. During Homecoming ceremonies, she presented to the College her husband's jersey, number 9, which was retired in 1937 following his outstanding athletic career at High Point College. The jersey is on permanent display in the trophy case in the foyer of Roberts' Hall. For the benefit of those who did not know Dick Culler, he went on to fame as a major league baseball player after his graduation from H. P. C.

Mrs. Culler also served as a "major" in the High Point city campaign of the overall Loyalty Fund Drive of the Alumni Association. An active member of the First Presbyterian Church, she owns and operates the Rail Fence Shop, an antique and needlework shop in High Point.

Franklinville, Gastonia, Jamestown, Kernersville, Lexington, Randleman, and Silver Spring, Md.

High Point College is in its first phase of the Golden Decade Development Program designed to raise 10 million dollars in ten years. We are in great hopes that our alumni will respond to the call for "HELP" from alma mater and raise the percentage of participation to 50% within the next few years. With 50% participation, the College will be eligible for grants from foundations and large corporations. A SMALL GIFT FROM AN ALUMNUS CAN MAKE THE BIG DIFFERENCE BETWEEN MEDIOCRITY AND EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION.

A complete annual report will be released by September. If YOUR name is not among those who remembered H.P.C. with a gift in 1966-67, resolve now to put it on the "Honor Roll" for 1967-68.

THE HIGH POINT COLLEGE Development

AUGUST, 1967

BULLETIN

Another Year's Work - Another Review of Results

The office of Public Affairs is a rather conglomerate and inclusive operation which includes development, fund-raising, public relations, information services, alumni affairs, photography, records, and mailing services. The office of public affairs takes the position that development includes the entire structure of college life-faculty, students, physical facilities, academic, social, church, and community life. It is the concept of this division that the entire College is our field. Without interfering in the internal affairs of any other department, we work to meet the needs that growth and progress demand.

Golden Decade Shows Progress

Beginning with June, 1966, the Golden Decade Development Program assumed a role primarily of consolidation and collection of pledges made in the Golden Decade campaign of late 1965 and early 1966. The following gives an idea as to the first phase standing.

Total verbal pledges	145,075.00
Total written pledges	975,037.10

1,120,112.10

Total cash received on pledges	412,487.54
Monies in trust	60,431.98
Total stock received on pledges	53,802.88

Total real estate
received on pledges	12,150.00

Lease on real estate received
on pledges	25,222.50

Total equipment received
on pledges	11,943.00

Total insurance premiums
received on pledges	457.47

Total car allowance received
on pledges	6,000.00

582,495.37

Total unpaid Golden Decade
Pledges	537,616.73

The total number of gifts for the year was 1,050. These gifts were made by 733 individuals and 123 corporations for a total of 856. This means that 193 gifts were by those who had already made a gift. This duplication can be accounted for by those who gave monthly, quarterly, or semi-annually.

During the year a total of $335,897.09 was given to the Golden Decade. These amounts do not include annual alumni loyalty and other funds except as pledged through the Golden Decade Program.

Other gifts, 63 in number, amounted to $80,206.25. Three hundred six (306) gifts of $100.00 or more were made to Golden Decade, June 1, 1966, thru May 31, 1967. Of the three hundred six (306), seventy-five (75) were alumni gifts.

Board Of Advisers Constituted

During June, July and August, the Golden Decade Development Board of Advisers, which was approved by the Trustees, was organized. This Board replaced the Development Council which has been set up prior to the Campaign. The list of members follows:

Roger Soles	Frang Hunsucker, Jr.
W. Lawson Allen	William McGuinn
Dale Montgomery	Vince Spracklin
Mayor R. L. Reese	Charles Shaughnessy
Dr. Phil Shore	Dr. Wendell M. Patton
George Lyles	Charles Hayworth
Dr. Ed Auman	Governor Dan K. Moore
Earle Dalbey	Mayor Stanford R. Brookshire
Holt McPherson	Mayor Thomas Ragsdale
Ed Mendenhall	William R. Henderson

Annual Development Conference Held

November 4, 1966, was the date of the Second Annual Golden Decade Development Conference. Invited were 242 outstanding men and women from across the State of North Carolina. Of these invited participants, 109 responded by saying they would attend. When all were registered, there were only 88 present, but they were the kind of people which were wanted to become involved in the development of High Point College.

These were divided into 10 resource areas. Each area was headed by a chairman, a discussion leader, and a recorder. Questions of importance and bearing on the problems within the resource area and the College were prepared before the meeting.

The purpose of the Conference as stated was . . . "to provide the Board of Trustees and the Administration of the College with the opinions and the recommendations of a carefully selected cross section of its constituency, relating to specific areas which are involved in College planning for both the present and the future."

Every area which had participants gave a report and these were edited, bound, and sent to each participant. A summary statement was included and later the recommendations of the group were presented to the Board of Trustees for action. At the close of the fiscal year no official action has been taken on the proposals. The next annual conference will be held on October 2, 1967.

The High Point Business Resource
Area Mounts A Campaign

Under the leadership of Ed Mendenhall the High Point Business Resource Area workers met on March 7, 1967, at the Sheraton Hotel for the purposes of crowning Miss Golden Decade of 1967, training workers, and to kick off the campaign for funds for the Golden Decade in High Point among those prospects not seen in the campaign in 1965 and 1966. About 40 workers out of 64 were present and prospect cards were chosen from the boards arranged about the wall. The captains in some cases selected cards for their workers.

Miss Dianne Holt of Charlotte was crowned Miss Golden Decade of High Point College to succeed Sherri Snow.

The first report period was scheduled for March 20, 1967, at the Sheraton Hotel. The following report shows the organization and the results. While not impressive the value lies in the fact that about 80 individuals talked to more than 200 people about the College and its needs:

Number prospects	292
Number reported but no pledges	18
Number of pledges & gifts	32
Total	$5,857.00
Number refusals	53
Number follow ups	42
Number not seen	25
Number outstanding	122

Acting as majors were Mr. Ed Pleasants, Mr. R. I. Edmondson, Mr. Roscoe Adams and Mr. Fred Alexander.

College Hold First Trustees Conferenc

Included are: the Aero Space Program for summer school students, the History Caravan, the Church Management Seminar, the Annual Development Conference, and last, the Trustees' Conference for all Methodist College Trustees for North Carolina.

While the resume' given below is not too impressive as to attendance, the list of conference leaders is impressive as noted under "Speakers and Conference Leaders."

Bishop Earl G. Hunt, Resident Bishop presiding over the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church, Charlotte, North Carolina.

Mr. W. Lawson Allen, Director Public Affairs, High Point College, High Point, North Carolina.

Other Areas of Development Emphasized

On February 15, 1967, the Sears store opened on the Magic Block. The construction of a large warehouse on Kivett Drive was completed in December. Both the store and the warehouse were built without using any current funds or endowment. When the loan is paid off, this operation will be an asset to the endowment fund of the College. Until that time all revenues will be used for taxes, maintenance, interest and the payment of the loan.

Science Building Named

The science building which is named for the vice-chairman of our trustees, Horace S. Hawthorn, is nearing completion and will be available on September 1, for the sciences and mathematics. Financed by a Federal Grant, a Federal Loan and Golden Decade Funds, this building is the best science facility in North Carolina's small colleges.

Other Buildings Planned

The trustees have given tentative approval to go ahead with a dormitory for women to be ready for the fall of 1968. This dormitory will house 144 women with lounges, air conditioning, carpet, with suite arrangement. Another dormitory for men and a college union building have also been placed in the planning stages. The chapel-religious center is also being planned.

Dennis M. Cooke Building

The former science building has been named for former president Cooke, who is now head of the department of education and psychology. This building will be used for classrooms and faculty offices.

ALUMNI ACTIVITIES EXPERIENCE BEST YEAR

Alumni Affairs under the direction of Executive Secretary, Miss Beverly Deal, showed gratifying progress during the year. When Miss Deal came to the office in October there were many activities to be planned.

Annual Parents' Day Report

The Annual Parents' Day was open to all parents of students. The authorities were encouraged by the fact that of the 400 parents registered, 60% were parents of freshmen, 20% sophomores, 15% juniors and 5% seniors. The large percentage of parents of other than freshman seemed to indicate a need for this program.

Homecoming Was Held In February

A loyalty fund meeting for leadership of the Loyalty Fund Campaign and the Alumni Reception were undertaken by the alumni this year. Homes of alumni in High Point were opened to all reunion classees but two. At least 500 alumni were present for the day's activities.

Senior investiture day was observed with Luther Medlin of Greensboro as the guest speaker at the investiture assembly.

Off Campus Activities Were Provided

Ten of the eleven alumni chapters held dinner meetings during the year. The secretary met with the other chapters and in addition met with a group of alumni from Asheville and vicinity. The annual spring meeting will be emphasized instead of trying to have three or four meetings a year.

The Executive Committee Has Important Function

The men and women who make up the Executive Committee are loyal to the College and give much time and effort to create the guidelines for effective image building. Dr. Lawrence Holt, immediate past president has given of his time, money, and influence to create a better image of the College among the alumni themselves. He built on the solid foundation of those before him. Dr. Edwin Auman, the newly elected president will provide progressive leadership in alumni affairs.

Alumni Giving Progress Is Encouraging

The following report shows the definite upward trend of alumni giving. With the exception of 1965-1966, every year since 1960 shows an increase over the previous year. The slump in 1965-66 can be explained by the emphasis on the Golden Decade and the late date of the beginning of personal solicitation due to the Golden Decade emphasis.

1960-61	2.0%	$ 570.00	$ 469.78
1961-62	18.0%	5,770.00	5,175.35
1962-63	25.5%	13,990.00	8,515.89
1963-64	25.0%	15,358.00	9,323.60
1964-65	31.2%	19,940.19	13,028.16
1965-66	15.3%	29,197.88	7,327.60
1966-67	35.2%	45,011.27	12,081.08

For the first time an accurate account of class participation is provided. This report shows that the class of '27 had the highest percentage of the class contributing but the class of '38 had the highest average gift with $263.30. The class of '65 had the dubious distinction of the lowest percent of members giving - 20.2% followed closely by '61 with 23.9% and '55 with 24.5%.

THE COLLEGE INFORMATION SERVICES SHOWS PROGRESS

The annual report from Information Services as compiled by Mrs. Margaret Ingram gives statistical information concerning the activities in the News Bureau, Radio, and Television coverage. Dr. Carl Savage head of this department of Public Affairs division gave many hours in preparation for airing of programs over 14 radio stations, a thirty minute, weekly television program over WGHP-TV, and in gathering and sending out the news about the College.

An average of one release each day sent to 76 newspapers, 32 radio stations, and 11 television stations, making a total exceeding 20 thousand individual releases, or more than 100 each day. As proof of the effectiveness, there were received from our clipping service within the state more than one thousand clippings, which amounts to four clippings for each release.

The use of photographic material was not overlooked. More than 400 pictures accompanied the releases. The photographic lab under Dr. Savage's direction produced 2 thousand pictures for all purposes. The Golden Decade, The Alumni and Development Bulletin, the Hi-Po, Catalogues, and the Zenith were all provided with pictures.

Weekly Radio Programs Carried on 15 Stations

The task of obtaining material suitable for release on radio programs is no easy task. However information services provided materials for 125 hours of broadcast quality programs. Only time will tell how much these public service programs aided in creating a true image of High Point College. In addition to programs, the department arranged radio coverage for a number of events on the campus such as commencement and Bishop Goodson's visit to the campus.

For the 34 telecasts, the film was made by the College and prepared for broadcast. The director of information services was master of ceremonies as well as producer of the programs. Advertising of plays, concerts, and special programs such as the Church Management Seminar was prepared and presented to the news media.

ANNUAL PARENTS' DAY SCHEDULED FOR NOVEMBER 4, 1967

The annual Parents' Day has been set for November 4, 1967. This day set aside for parents to visit their sons and daughters has become an annual event of significance.

Last year more than 400 parents registered for the event. It was open to parents of all students with the majority parents of freshmen, but with a marked number of parents of upper classmen.

The day will begin with registration in the foyer of the memorial auditorium and continue with varied activities through the tea in the late afternoon.

Parents' Day has a three-fold purpose:

- (1) It enables parents to visit their sons and daughters.
- (2) It gives parents an opportunity to meet the faculty, administration, and other students, and to see something of the Colleges' operation.
- (3) It affords an opportunity to eliminate areas of possible misunderstanding by a face to face meeting with teachers.

Alumni

Honor Roll

High Point College

1966-67

High Point College is most grateful to its Alumni for the success of their 1966-67 Fund Drive. To each of those who worked and contributed, I send the College's profound thanks.

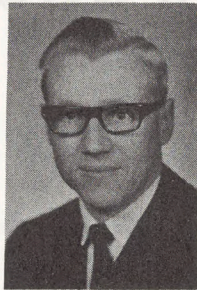

Year by year, your Alma Mater's responsibilities increase. These increases demand greater financial support from you and from our other friends.

As you contemplate your gift to High Point College this year, remember that it is you who will enable the College to move forward in its service to the youth who have taken your place on campus.

President
High Point College

Sept. 1967

Dear Fellow Alumnus:

I am happy to send you the report on the 1966-67 Loyalty Campaign. You will note from the summary that our campaign was most successful. This success is attributable to the collective response of both those who worked in the campaign and those who made financial contributions. We are grateful to you for helping High Point College attain this significant goal.

Of course, last year is history; and this year, again, you will be asked to support your Alma Mater with your gifts, your time, and your influence. I am hopeful that our interest in High Point College has increased to the point where we will remember her voluntarily in our annual giving without the necessity of a time-consuming solicitation program. To this end, I enclose a return envelope in which I invite you to send your contribution for the 1967-68 Alumni year.

Thank you again for what you have done for High Point College.

Sincerely,

Bob L. Parrish

Alumni Fund

It has been said many times that the greatest asset of High Point College is its interested alumni. Each person whose name is listed in the following pages has given a financial vote of confidence to High Point College as it strives for excellence in its goal to educate students to be leaders in their fields.

The College can be proud of its Honor Roll of contributors, prouder still in the knowledge that its alumni continue to recognize the part they must play if Alma Mater is to grow in the spirit of Christian Higher Education.

The Alumni Fund is becoming a valuable source of income, essential to the strength of High Point College's educational programs. Alumni gifts are used primarily to improve campus facilities and to increase faculty salaries and scholarships. Also, monies received from Alumni are used to help finance the operations of the Alumni Office.

Encore Club

Alumni who have given to the College for at least two consecutive years are members of the newly-formed Encore Club. Members of the Encore Club are designated with an (E) after their names in the following pages.

Centurion Club

The Centurion Club was established by the Alumni Association in 1964 to recognize alumni who contribute one hundred dollars, or more, to High Point College during any one fiscal year.

The 1966-67 Centurion Club, composed of the following 86 couples, or individuals, contributed $35,590.69 to High Point College between June 1, 1966, and May 31, 1967:

THE HIGH POINT COLLEGE Development

BULLETIN

OCTOBER, 1967

The Third Annual Development Conference Is Held

The Third Annual Development Conference of the Golden Decade met at the Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science on the campus at High Point College, Monday afternoon, October 2, 1967 at four o'clock. Mr. William R. Henderson, chairman of the Golden Decade Development Board of Advisers, presided over the first session in the large lecture room. The 107 participants attending the conference were divided among the eleven resource areas.

Each resource area had a chairman, a discussion leader, and a recorder. The resource areas were chosen to encompass the various interest and geographical constituencies. The family group was divided into three areas: the faculty, the alumni, and the students. Normally the trustees would fall in this grouping, but in this conference they were used as resource people in other areas. The family as well as other resource areas discussed several general questions along with those which concerned the particular group itself.

The High Point Community was represented by three interest groups: The High Point Business Resource Area, Clubs and Organizations, and the Corporations Areas. Other resource areas included were: Estate Planning, Out of Town, Public Relations, Foundations, and Church Relations.

After the first session the eleven groups were escorted by faculty, staff, or students to the assigned rooms for discussion sessions. This session began at 4:30 and was recessed for dinner at 5:15. The meal was served to all participants from the regular cafeteria line.

Immediately following dinner the discussion groups met for the second session. At 7:45 the summary session was held in the large lecture room.

Development Conference Participants Make Suggestions

Many interesting and significant suggestions and recommendations were made at the closing session. To name a few:

1. That the next phase of the Golden Decade Development Program be set to begin in the Fall of 1968 and to be concluded in the winter of 1968-69.

2. That an adequately trained professional full-time staff member in the field of estate planning should be added at once to the development staff.

3. That the student-union building should be the next building constructed on the campus. This was closely followed by a men's dormitory.

4. That campus-community relations should be promoted by more groups being invited to the campus.

5. That a board of visitors be formed.

6. That at least 25 additional CORPORATE PARTNERS should be added during the year.

7. That the faculty be invited to continue to participate in the Golden Decade.

8. That students be given an opportunity to help plan buildings and become a part of all the activities that are of interest to them.

9. That a better public relations program be an immediate goal of the College.

10. That a development conference meets a need in the development program and should be continued.

Those attending in each of the discussion groups were:

Is "To Give Or Not To Give" A Reasonable Question?

The person who has accumulated properties which produce income, strange as it may seem, can by a program of gifts that is started during life produce advantages to the donor - the person making the gift. For example, such gifts may actually increase the donor's spendable income and without having to pay a capital gains tax.

The key to such economic benefits lies in planned charitable remainder gifts or gifts under which the donor retains the income for life.

TAX DEDUCTION FROM CHARITABLE GIFTS

When an individual gives property to a college but retains the income for life, he has made a gift of the remainder interest. Under current law, the donor is entitled to a federal income tax deduction of the present value of the remainder interest.

The present value of a charitable remainder and therefore the amount of federal income tax deduction depends on (1) the value of the property that is given and (2) the age of the donor at the time of the gift according to Internal Revenue Service tables.

HOW TO INCREASE THE DONORS' SPENDABLE INCOME

Very often a gift of property which already provides income for the donor may with the income retained, produce extra spendable income in the year of the gift. This is true because the donor still receives all the income from the property given away - thus his year's income will be the same as before the gift was made. Therefore he will have more spendable income in the year of the gift because of the income tax deduction resulting by giving a remainder interest to the college. Spendable income may be increased up to 35% of the taxable income by the amount of the taxes he saves.

If the remainder gift is more than the 30% of the taxable income, the donor may make payments in installments over several years. Each installment is treated as a separate gift. The value of the charitable remainder portion of each gift depends on the donor's age at the time each installment is actually paid. At 60 years the value of the remainder interest is 60.321%; at age 70, 72.63%; 80, 83.241% of the total present value.

TAX-FREE DIVERSIFICATION OF INVESTMENTS

A property owner can use a charitable remainder gift to avoid capital gains tax. Under present law, when appreciated property is given outright to a college, no capital gains taxes are payable when the property is given or later sold. The same rule applies when the donor retains the right to receive the income for life and the college has the remainder interest. No capital gains is paid either by the donor when given or by the college when later sold.

HOW REMAINDER GIFTS CAN BE MADE

There are generally two ways in which a property owner can make a charitable remainder gift during life to a college.

1. One is by a conventional charitable remainder trust by which a donor transfers the property comprising the gift to a trustee - usually a trust institution. The trustee (1) pays the income to the donor, (2) is responsible for the investment program of the trust and (3) administers the trust in accordance with the trust agreement. Upon the donor's death, the trust terminates and the principal is paid over to the college.

2. The other means is through what is frequently called a life income agreement. Many colleges have this type of program. The college is responsible for the investment and management of the property, and the college agrees to pay the income to the donor for life. When the donor dies, the institution becomes entitled to the income and is entitled to use both the income and/or principal for such purposes as the donor may have stipulated.

Such an arrangement gives the donor the personal satisfaction of making an important capital gift. His gross income is not reduced, his spendable dollars are actually increased because of income tax reduction and no principal is lost through capital gains tax when investment changes are made.

RETIREES HONORED

Three faculty members were honored at graduation exercises on May 21, 1967, by the trustees and administration of High Point College upon their retirement from active duty as teachers.

Dr. E. O. Cummings came to High Point in 1927 and closed out forty years of service as teacher of chemistry and head of the department. Dr. S. C. Deskins was honored not only for his years of service since 1948 at High Point College as professor of history, but for his long years of service to secondary education. Miss Ernestine Fields, professor of organ and piano, was awarded a citation for 24 years with the College.

High Point College and her alumni will indeed miss three such dedicated professors.

BREWER CHAIRS '67-68 DRIVE

James F. Brewer, '49, vice president of Erwin-Lambeth, Inc., furniture manufacturer, Thomasville, N.C., has been named Chairman of the Alumni Drive scheduled for Spring, 1968. The Executive Committee of the Alumni Association named Brewer in September when it established a goal of 40% participation and $60,000 for the current fiscal year, which runs from June 1, 1967, to May 31, 1968.

Personal solicitation will be employed again this year in areas of alumni concentration. Alumni who mail their gifts to the College will save the man and woman power involved in personal calling.

THE HIGH POINT COLLEGE Development

DECEMBER, 1967

BULLETIN

Another Dormitory Is Under Construction

High Point College moves ahead in its program of development! The new dormitory pictured above indicates that the trustees are in earnest about the long-range plans. This is the second major building undertaken since the Golden Decade Program of Development was begun in 1965. The first building constructed under the program was the Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science dedicated on November 4, 1967.

The dormitory will house 138 students on four floors. In each section four rooms are built around a central lounge and bath. The entire dormitory will be carpeted and air conditioned. A large lounge on the first floor will add charm as well as utility to this building.

The College was fortunate to obtain a Federal loan for part of the cost of this dormitory. Golden Decade funds will be used to supplement the loan. A High Point construction firm placed the successful bid for the dormitory. The completion is scheduled for August, 1968. The student room rental fees for this dormitory will be increased substantially beyond that charged for rooms in other dorms.

Parents Associates Organized

Parents entering New Science Building

The fifth-annual Parents' Day was held on the campus on Saturday, November 4. For several years our consultant had felt that in order to have a more complete development program that a Parents Associates group should be effected.

Prior to Parents' Day a small group of parents were asked to come to the campus to discuss a parents' organization. After several hours of discussion the parents present drafted a suggested constitution which called for the organization of Parents Associates with officers and a board of directors. This constitution was presented to the parents assembled in Memorial Auditorium at 9 a.m. on November 4, along with the nominations for the officers. A motion was made for adoption of the constitution and election of the officers. Those present voted for the organization, the constitution, and elected the officers as presented.

The constitution is printed in the Bulletin so that all may know about Parents Associates. The slate of officers is also presented in this issue. Parents Associates will provide still another means of communication and understanding among the constituencies of the institution. A careful study of the constitution will show that there is no indication stated or otherwise to make Parents Associates anything but a public relations - development asset for the College. It can never be a PTA because teachers are not included in the membership of Parents Associates.

ANNUAL REPORT

1967

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It is thrilling to note progress each year as High Point College continues to advance. At the same time all of us realize that without the dedicated service of a great many people this progress would not be possible.

The major project of the year, The Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science, was almost complete by May 31, and will be occupied this fall. This modern science building is the first evidence of the success of the Golden Decade Development Program. When one realizes that in one year as much instructional space has been added as in the entire forty-three year span of the College's history, it is amazing what hopes the future holds as we "place our hand to the plow."

The first Church Management Institute for Ministers was held in October, 1966. This "first" for High Point College gives impetus to our task of serving our whole constituency. Another "first" was the Trustees' Conference held in April, 1967, to which were invited all the trustees of all Methodist Colleges in North Carolina.

This 1966-67 report comes to you, not in a spirit of boasting, but in an attempt to communicate with you. Our sincere gratitude is herewith expressed for your support during the year.

Sincerely,

Wendell M. Patton
President

The Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science which will house Chemistry, Physics, Botany, Zoology, and Mathematics, is in final stages of completion and will be ready for occupancy at school opening in September.

The Dennis H. Cooke Hall, the old Science and Home Economics Building, has been officially named The Dennis H. Cooke Hall and will be remodeled to house the Departments of Business Administration, English, and Sociology.

The Golden Decade Development Program continued as the clean-up campaign was held in High Point with eighty workers soliciting more than 300 individuals and businesses.

The Second Annual Development Conference was held at the New South Motor Inn on November 4, 1966, with 88 participants representing nine resource areas.

The Conference for Trustees, which was held April 28-29, 1967, marked the first attempt to bring together the trustees of the Methodist Colleges of both Conferences in the State of North Carolina. Fifty-nine trustees were present.

The Sears, Roebuck Store was completed and the grand opening held February 15, 1967. Sales volume for the first three and one-half months met expectations.

The Church Management Institute was held on the campus October 2-7, 1966, with 29 ministers from the Western North Carolina and North Carolina Conferences attending. It received high praise with strong recommendations that it be continued on a permanent basis.

Championship Base Ball Team — High Point College was the Carolinas Conference Champions and runner-up in District 26, NAIAA.

The Silver Anvil Award was presented to High Point College by the Public Relations Society of America for "outstanding public relations performance in promotional publicity — non profit" in the Golden Decade Development Program.

NEXT YEAR

A Women's Dormitory, to house approximately 130 students, has been approved for construction to be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1968. A 3% federal loan for $435,000 has been awarded by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for construction of the women's dormitory. Golden Decade funds will be used to supplement this loan.

The Second Church Management Institute will be held on the campus October 9-12, 1967, in the Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science.

The Third Annual Development Conference of the Golden Decade will be held on Monday, October 2, 1967, in the Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science.

Parents' Day will be observed November 4, 1967. Over 2,000 parents will be invited to visit on the campus to meet faculty, parents, and trustees present for this occasion.

The Dedication of the Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science and the Dennis H. Cooke Hall will be held on Parents' Day, November 4, 1967.

The College Coordinating Council was created with Dr. James Fowler, as secretary. The four Methodist Colleges of the North Carolina Conference belong to the council — Brevard, Greensboro, High Point and Pfeiffer.

Remodeling of Dennis H. Cooke Hall to accommodate the Business Administration, English, and Sociology Departments will be complete for the beginning of the second semester in January.
