New Dormitory under Construction

Professorship Established

Earl N. Phillips, a prominent High Point businessman, has committed a minimum of $100,000 to establish a professorship in business economics at High Point College. The money will be used to strengthen the Business Administration and Economics School by supplementing what the College can pay to get the most outstanding man available to teach in the school.

In making the initiating gift for the professorship, Phillips said he had been impressed with the quality of work done by the Business Department, and that several valued men in his companies are graduates of the school. Phillips, who established a highly successful fabric supply business in High Point in 1926, is chairman of the board of Phillips-Davis Co., Phillips-Foscue Company, Factors, Inc., Electric Supply Company, and several other companies in whose establishment he was instrumental.

College Given Real Estate By Mrs. J. S. Welborn

A gift of real estate with a value of $175,000 was given on November 4, by Mrs. J. S. Welborn, member of a local pioneer family. The announcement was made at the annual Parent's Day assembly.

The property fronting on Commerce and South Elm Streets, in the heart of the business district of High Point was sold to the Redevelopment Commission of High Point for $175 thousand for a proposed down-town parking garage.

Mrs. Welborn, a member of the pioneer Barbee family effected the transaction through her attorney, Owen Reese and accountant Worth Bowman after a ruling from the revenue service as to the tax aspects of the transfer.

The donor lives at 421 East Washington Drive in the sturdy, two-story house which her husband constructed for her more than 60 years ago. Mrs. Welborn is still active and alert at 86 to the changes that have taken place in High point.

Her father, William Gaston Barbee, married a Randolph County girl and built for his bride the house that stands at the corner of Barbee Street and North Centennial. That was in the year 1880. Mrs. Welborn is the only daughter, the seventh child. She is the only surviving member of the Barbee family.

Interested from the beginning of High Point College, she has placed the College in her will. The campus occupies part of the farm which her father bought prior to 1875.

The annuity purchased by the $175 thousand gift will provide an income for Mrs. Welborn as long as she lives and will provide a residuum for the College after her death. Therefore, the transaction was a good deal for Mrs. Welborn, for the City, and for the College.

High Point College through life income contracts and gift annuities offers a very effective method of guaranteeing income, and tax-saving advantages for the donor.

Professorship Endowed By High Pointer

Earl N. Phillips, a prominent High Point business executive has established a professorship in business economics at the College.

Mr. Phillips has committed a minimum of $100 thousand to an open-end endowment which President Patton indicated would enable the College to strengthen the Department of Business Administration by supplementing the salary in order to get an outstanding person to teach in the department.

The department has moved into new renovated quarters in Dennis H. Cooke Hall, the former science building.

In making the initial gift, Mr. Phillips, said he had been impressed with the quality of work done by the business administration department. Several valued members of his staff are products of High Point College and the department. He also indicated that it was an area in which most businesses now have an interest. He expressed the hope that this investment would help do an even better job of training people for a business career.

Phillips who established a highly successful fabric supply business in High Point in 1926, is chairman of the board of various corporations and holds membership on the boards of other corporations. Included are Phillips-Davis and Phillips-Foscue along with several others.

Holt McPherson, the chairman of the board of trustees of High Point College stated in writing about the gift, "There's no finer investment."

President Patton will ask the College trustees to give the name of Earl Norfleet Phillips to this professorship.

Ginn Joins Staff At H. P. C.

William R. Ginn, a Charleston, South Carolina native, has been added to the administrative staff at High Point College, it was announced by President Wendell M. Patton.

Ginn will work in the admissions office at the college, interviewing prospective students, working at College Day programs, and advising high school seniors about High Point College.

Ginn graduated from Elon College with a Bachelor of Arts in history. Following graduation he entered Naval Officer Candidate School and during three years of active duty on board ship to the rank of Executive Officer.

Before coming to High Point he held the position of Admissions Counselor at Elon College and was Director of Admissions and Public Relations and director of summer school at Limestone College.

He is married to the former Jacqueline Love of Burlington and has two children.

AF-R.O.T.C. PROGRAM SLATED FOR H. P. C.

High Point College males graduating in 1970 will have an opportunity next fall to participate in an Air Force R.O.T.C. program, according to an announcement by President Wendell M. Patton.

Dr. Patton said that the program has been tentatively approved and will be presented to interested students by an Air Force officer. Those students interested should see Dean of Students F. Lee Edwards to set up interview dates.

Students accepted for the AF-ROTC program will be paid $50 a month by the Air Force while in school, have their uniforms furnished, and be eligible to compete for scholarships.

During the academic year the students en-

If You Have Cash, Securities Or Other Property

A gift annuity agreement with High Point College is a means of providing yourself with a guaranteed income for life and making a gift to the College if you give High Point College a specific sum of cash, securities, or other property. In consideration of this gift, the College guarantees you a fixed annual income for life. This income is based on (1) the amount of your gift, (2) your sex, (3) and your age at the time your gift is made. Eventually the principal of your gift is used for the benefit of the institution.

Annuity contracts have been written by some colleges for many years. A gift annuity may be the most advantageous way to give because (1) you have a guaranteed fixed income for life, (2) in the year you make your gift a large percentage is deductible from your federal income tax for charitable purposes. If this deduction exceeds the annual 30% allowed by law, you can carry over the excess for as much as five years.

Most of your income is tax-free. You, or your estate, may benefit from savings in capital gains, gift, and estate taxes. There are no management or investment worries on your part. You receive payments regularly. You have the satisfaction of knowing that you have contributed generously to independent, higher education through an institution which benefits mankind.

The tables provided by the Committee on Gift Annuities give the following facts:

	Male	Female
Gift Annuity	$ 1,000	$ 1,000
Annuity income of:	6.5%	6.5%
Charitable deduceion in year made	$500.67	$406.87
Amount received annually	$ 65.00	$ 65.00
Pay income tax on only of the $65.00	$ 10.13	$ 13.87

rolled in the program will meet classes in military science twice a week at A & T University in Greensboro.

They will also be required to attend a summer training camp at an air force base near their home.

Upon graduation the students will be commissioned Second Lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve and will begin pilot or navigation training.

A & T University in Greensboro will be the host institution for the program, providing all facilities, teachers, officers, parade grounds, etc. for the students.

High Point College Receives Shell Assists Donation

High Point College has been selected for the second time to share in the program of Shell Assists, with the college receiving a $1500 donation from the Shell Companies Foundation, Incorporated.

Under the Shell Assists program each of a number of privately supported colleges or universities annually receives a donation with each recipient institution using the money for three separate grants in the following manner:

Grant No. 1 is for any institutional use which the President decides is wise. Grant No. 2 is for general faculty development. It is intended for use by the Academic Dean to encourage additional professional development of individual members of the academic faculty of the institution. Grant No. 3 is for additional professional development of individual members of particular departments. This grant is restricted to members of the Department of Chemistry, Physics, and Mathematics.

22% of High Point Teachers Come From High Point College

With the main teacher-recruitment months of February, March, and April coming up, the Department of Teacher Education at High Point College is gearing for an influx of recruiters from school systems from Florida to Maine.

The High Point City school system is probably the main beneficiary of the teacher education department of High Point College. At the present time some 22% of the professional workers in the High Point system — teachers and administrative staff — are graduates of High Point College.

Recruiters coming to the High Point campus this spring will be after the talents of 82 graduates from the department of education. This includes 46 on the elementary school level and 36 on the secondary level.

Every year the department of education at the college, directed by Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, helps its graduates to find jobs in school systems throughout the Eastern part of the country.

Thus far there are 24 school systems scheduled to recruit on the High Point Campus during the month of February.

Gesell Institute Founder At High Point College

The director of research at the famed Gesell Institute of Child Development will be in High Point, March 1, for a lecture at High Point College.

Dr. Louise Bates Ames, who is the co-founder of the Gesell Institute, will speak to students, faculty, and the general public on the topic, "Is Your Child in the Right Grade?" The lecture will begin at 2:30 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium.

Distinguished visiting lecturers such as Dr. Ames come to High Point College through the Piedmont University Center's Visiting Scholars Program. These scholars visit various colleges holding membership in the Piedmont University Center and share their experience and knowledge with students, faculty, and the public in the area.

In addition to her work with the Gesell Institute, Dr. Ames is also a collaborator or co-author of numerous books and has a weekly television program, "Child Behavior".

BUSY YEAR AHEAD FOR H. P. C.

For High Point College, 1968 promises to be a busy year. Dr. Wendell M. Patton of High Point College announced an impressive list of physical improvements that the colleges will be working on during the new year.

One of these improvements will be the remodeling of the first and second floors of Roberts Hall, the main administrative building, converting several classrooms into much-needed office space. Dr. Patton said that much of this work will probably be done next summer.

Also on the list for remodeling during 1968 is the second floor of Cooke Hall. Remodeling of the first floor of that building has been completed.

Dr. Patton said that he hopes something can be done about the proposed new infirmary during 1968, also. Work is progressing on the four-story dormitory with a possible occupancy date of next fall.

Also in the planning stages is a new chapel and student union building. Dr. Patton said that the College is trying to select a site for the chapel but that no definite plans have been made yet. Surveyors have been on the campus looking over a possible site for the new student union building.

Enlargement or better utilization of space of the present library building is also in the works for 1968, Dr. Patton said.

Work on the new 138 - bed dormitory reaches third floor level

Contract Let For Infirmary

The site has been cleared and the excavation has been completed for the first infirmary building for High Point College. Located on the south edge of the parking lot near the Alumni Gymnasium, the building will contain two wards, four private rooms, examining rooms, a small apartment for a nurse, and a waiting room.

The basement space will be for future expansion of health facilities. When completed, the basement will provide double the space on the first floor.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees awarded the contract to E. E. Younts, Incorporated. Younts is presently the builder for the dormitory. The infirmary is expected to be completed by the opening of the fall semester in September.

Student Government Association Officers Elected

Robert Myers of High Point has been elected by the students of High Point College to serve as the new President of the Student Government Association.

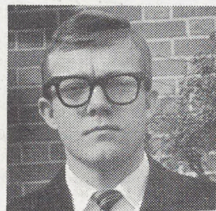

Also elected to posts in the student governing body were Tommy Holmes of High Point, treasurer; John Driscoll of Somerset, Massachusetts, vice-president; and Robin Woodhams of Bethesda, Maryland, secretary.

Myers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Myers, 1013 Barbee Avenue. He is a graduate of Central High School, where he played basketball and baseball. He earned the Hodgin and Reed memorial athletic award.

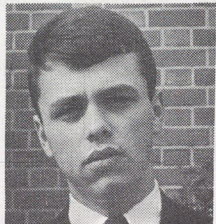

Myers

At High Point College Myers has been president of the freshman class, member of the baseball team, and the student legislature. He was recently inducted into the Order of the Lighted Lamp.

Holmes

Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Holmes, 1403 Eastchester Drive, graduated from Central High School, where he was in the Beta Club, French Club, and Interact Club. He was also a member of the golf team and the French honor society. At High Point College Holmes has been vice-president of the day students organization and a member of the golf team. He has been on the Dean's List and is a co-chief of the Junior Marshals.

Driscoll

Driscoll is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Driscoll of 82 Adams Street, Somerset, Massachusetts. He was the treasurer of the freshman class at High Point College.

Woodhams

Miss Woodhams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Woodhams, 7714 Radnor Road, Bethesda, Maryland. She is a Christian Education major and is active on the campus as a cheerleader.

A Look Into What Lies Ahead

In 1965 the College set out to realize goals which had been proposed by a committee composed of trustees, faculty, alumni, and students. Under the leadership of W. R. Henderson, the effort was named the Golden Decade Development Program and a goal of ten million dollars was set.

The goal for the ten-year program was apportioned $6,800,000 for endowment and $3,200,000 for buildings and capital improvements. At this time the capital goals are being met on schedule.

1. The Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science was constructed with a grant, a loan, and the remainder from Golden Decade funds.
2. The new dormitory to house 138 students is under construction with a loan and other funds from Golden Decade.
3. The infirmary is under construction with funds accumulated before the Golden Decade began and other gifts from individuals.

These buildings when completed will be only a part of the total needed. To complete the goals there will be:

1. A student-campus center.
2. Another dormitory.
3. An administration building.
4. A chapel-religious center.
5. Alteration and addition to library.
6. Renovation of the two older dormitories.
7. A swimming pool.

There are indications that the endowment needs are the most difficult to secure. With our present endowment at $3,000,000, there is a desperate need to have an endowment of $10,000,000. The investment of borrowed funds in the Sears block in down-town High Point, when paid for, will produce an income equal at the present 4% rate, to an endowment of $2,500,000. Then if leases can be worked out at Five Points to build a small shopping center, the income after fifteen years could equal the return on another $1½ millions in endowment.

The College has come a long way in three years. The road ahead will be filled with many difficulties. If we are to survive, and we must, then there is room for much concern, many prayers, and supernatural guidance in the years ahead.

We who have "set our hands to the plow" are looking to the future with hope. You are invited to join us in our "plowing."

Development Council Proposes 1968-1969 Program of Work

The March 14 meeting of the High Point College Development Council's Executive Committee took a look at the achievements of the past and then proposed for the Board of Trustees at the April meeting a very challenging program for 1968-69. The one matter with implications was the decision as to what to do about the Golden Decade Program of Development embarked upon in 1965.

Second Phase Recommended

The second phase scheduled to begin in October, 1968, was delayed until January-February, 1969. It is to be recommended that the College proceed to enlist a chairman by June 1, 1968, to work out details and procedures, and then begin the actual campaign early in 1969. If this recommendation is passed by the trustees, the way will be cleared for the second phase of Golden Decade.

Corporate Partners Possibilities Viewed

The second item to be recommended is that a corporate chairman be enlisted and a kick-off for Corporate Partners be set for the first week in September. The goal suggested is 200 members by December 31, 1968. A recognition event for all Corporate Partners will climax the reaching of the goal. With more than 500 corporations operating in High Point alone, it has been estimated that the amount allowed by the Internal Revenue Service to be given by corporations (5% of profits before taxes) is some $800,000.00. If High Point College through the Corporate Partners Program could receive 1% of corporate profits before taxes, we would receive more than 160,000.00 per year from this source. This amount would equal the income from an endowment of $4 million.

Deferred Giving Plans To Be Presented

Late September, 1968, is the date proposed for a conference on deferred giving. It is recommended to the trustees that a date be arranged in September to bring in at least three specialists in the field of estate planning.

One part of the conference would be concerned with taxes - estate and income-which would affect the individual and his family. An outstanding tax-attorney has been suggested for this conference. Another group concerned with the "how" of charitable giving would meet with a nationally known authority on charitable giving. The third group would be composed of those interested in knowing about the foundation approach to estate conservation and planning. Again, this section would have as leader an outstanding expert in the field of family and corporate foundations.

Those invited to attend such a conference would include; pastors in the area in and around High Point, attorneys, C.P.A.'s, C.L.U.'s, trust officers, corporate executives, and others who might be interested in the field of estate planning and charitable giving through wills, bequests, trusts, foundations, life income plans, gift annuities, and insurance.

Plans For Parents' Associates Revealed

The Executive Committee of Parents' Associates of High Point College, a group formed at Parents' Day, November 4, 1967, will meet at the College on May 18, 1968, to select a nominating committee and prepare a program of work for the parents to be presented at Parents' Day in 1968.

More than 2,200 parents of students (presently enrolled at High Point College) will be considered in the total program presented. In addition to the parents of presently enrolled students, parents of alumni are urged to become involved in the affairs of the College. At the May 18 meeting of the Executive Committee of Parents' Associates, the business manager of the College, Mr. Earle G. Dalbey, and the Dean of Administration, Dr. David W. Cole will speak to the group concerning the financial, economic, and academic problems facing the College.

Promotional literature and materials for all events scheduled must be provided. The Development Council urges that additional members must be enlisted to share in the work of development.

Dr. Patton Returns From Russian Trip

President Wendell M. Patton returned to the campus on April 3, after a three-week's trip to Europe. He was one of a party of 100 composed of college presidents, members of boards of trustees, city school superintendents, and other educators who left New York on March 12 for a three weeks' study of communist colleges and universities.

The seminar and field trip was sponsored by the Comparative Education Society, a national inter-professional organization, to give its members an opportunity to study the higher educational systems of other countries.

The itinerary included a briefing and orientation program at Oxford and Reading Universities in England. Brief visits were made to Moscow University, Charles University in Prague, Humboldt University in East Berlin, and the University of Copehagen.

New Grant Aids High Point College Work-Study Program

Some 45 students at High Point College will be aided by the recently announced grant to the college of $11,748 from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

In a telegram to college President Wendell M. Patton, congress Horace R. Kornegay announced that the grant has been approved for the work-study program at High Point College.

Under this program students are given on-campus jobs in various departments at the College, with the money from the newly-awarded grant paying 80% of their salary and the College paying the remaining 20%.

The students chosen to participate in the work-study program are selected by the financial aid office on the basis of family income and size.

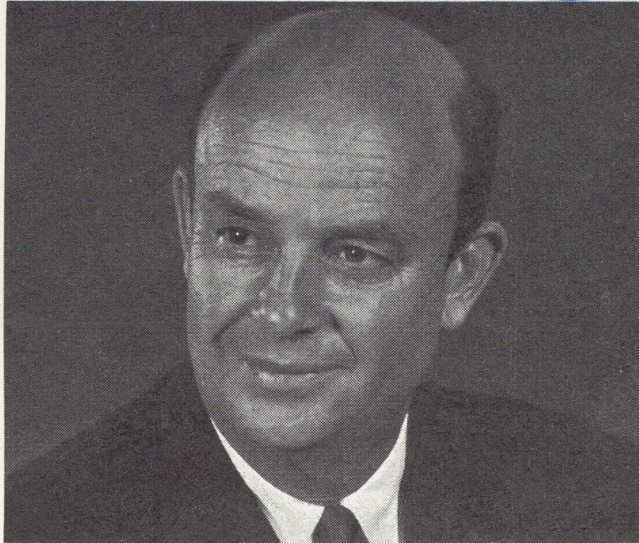

Dear Lord, please give me . . .
 A few friends who understand me and yet remain my friends.
 A work to do with real value, without which the world would feel poorer. . .
 A mind unafraid to travel, even through the trail be not blazed.
 An understanding heart. . .
 A sense of humor.
 Time for quiet, silent meditation.
 A feeling of the presence of God.
 And the patience to wait for the coming of these things.
 With the wisdom to know them when they come.

A native of Louisiana, McKeithen attended High Point College from 1936 through 1938, when he returned to his home state where he received his A.B. degree in 1941 and an LL.B. degree in 1942 from Louisiana State University, in Baton Rouge.

McKeithen served with the United States Army, 77th Infantry Division, for three years during World War II. He received the Bronze Star while in the Pacific Theater.

Following the war, McKeithen began his legal career. He first entered the field of politics in 1948 when he was elected to the Louisiana House of Representatives, which he served until 1952. He was elected Public Service Commissioner in 1954 and 1960.

In 1963, McKeithen was the first candidate to announce for governor. After two strenuous primary campaigns, he won the Democratic nomination. Then, facing the strongest Republican opposition in modern Louisiana history, he won the governorship in the general election. He has further astounded the electorate by becoming the only governor of Louisiana to be elected to succeed himself in office.

High Point College recognized its most outstanding alumnus by giving John J. McKeithen an honorary degree in 1964.

It was a real privilege for the Alumni Association to be able to bring Governor McKeithen back to High Point College to speak to the Class of 1968.

HIGH POINT COLLEGE

Development

BULLETIN

June, 1968

High Point, North Carolina

The Development Program Continues Second Phase Of Golden Decade

By action of the Board of Trustees at the April meeting, the second phase of the Golden Decade will begin this year. The Board accepted the recommendations presented by William R. Henderson, chairman of the Development Council: 1. To hold a Corporate Partners kickoff meeting in early September (9th). 2. To offer a Deferred Gifts and Estate Planning Conference in late September (30th). 3. To begin the second phase of the Golden Decade to secure capital funds during the year 1968-69 to culminate May 31, 1969.

Since the April 24th meeting of the Board of Trustees, the fund raising firm of Cumerford, Inc. has been secured to direct the fund raising effort. A member of the staff of the mid-western firm will be on hand by September 1, to begin setting up committees and other mechanics for the effort which will begin not later than February 1, 1969.

Corporate Partners Meeting Scheduled

The Corporate Partners of High Point College will have a meeting on September 9, 1968 for all who have indicated a willingness to share profits with the College. This group will consist of trustees and corporate executives who have become corporate partners with the College. A full discussion of the program is planned. A goal of 200 corporate partners has been set to be reached by December 31, 1968. A banquet is scheduled for late December to honor all those who have become "Partners in Progress" with the college.

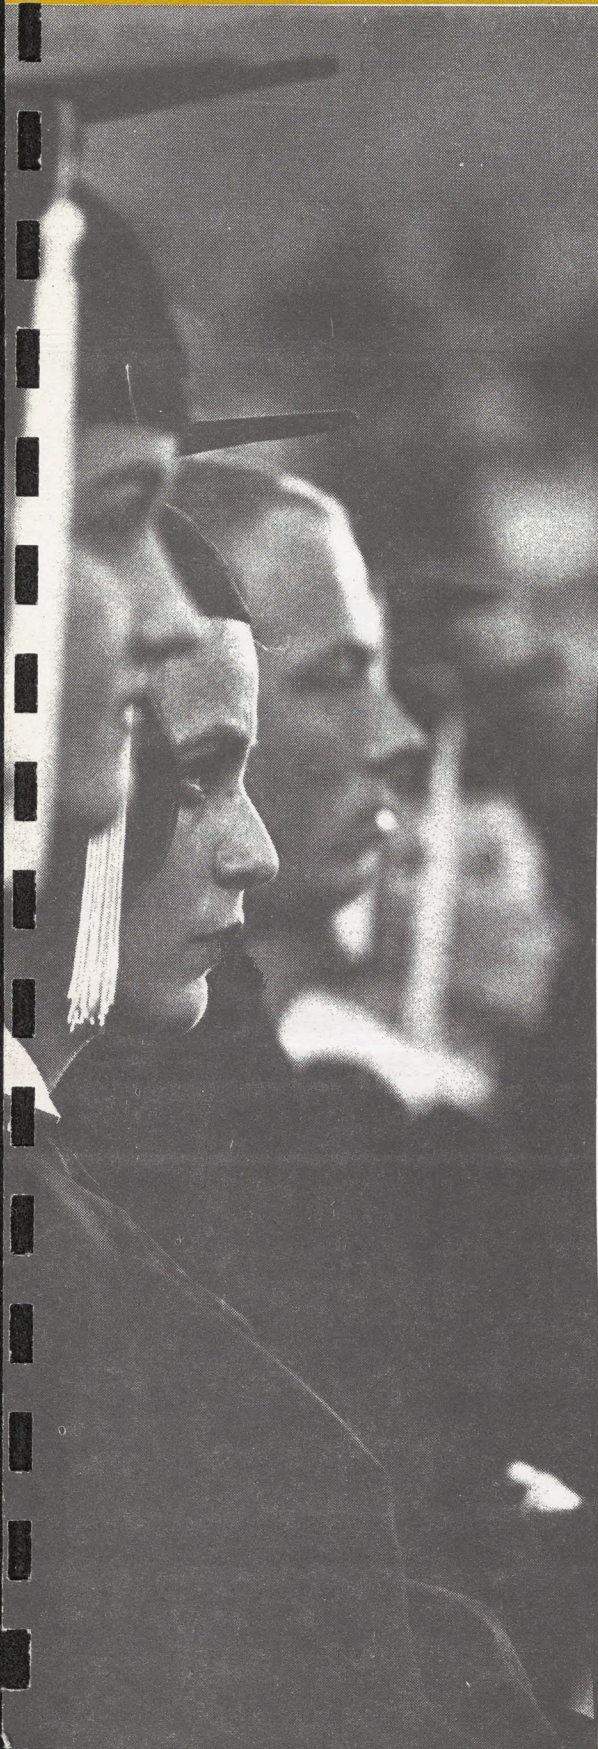

Estate Planning And Deferred Gifts

This conference is being offered as a service to those who may be interested in learning more about estate planning, taxes, and methods of giving. There will be at least three special seminars offered.

1. A seminar led by an outstanding tax attorney which will deal with all the angles of taxes in estate planning and charitable gifts.

2. There will be a seminar offered on the ways and means of making charitable gifts. Included will be wills, bequests, trusts, annuities, life income. The leader is an outstanding consultant in charitable giving.

3. The third seminar will be offered in the foundation field. The head of one of the large foundation will be secured to lead the seminar in methods, means, and advantages of the corporate or family foundation.

Student Center Must Become A Reality

With the completion of a dormitory now under construction High Point College will have accommodations for 800 resident students. Another dormitory housing 100 to 150 additional students will be built in 1969. This dormitory will bring our total resident student population to well over 900. If we limit our growth to 1200 students, this means that we will have 250-325 commuting students.

All this adds up to the pressing need for a new student union which will adequately care for 1200 students. We now have a cafeteria, which was formerly a gymnasium, to which has been added a kitchen and storage rooms. With 650 resident students the present cafeteria is taxed to capacity.

The present student center has a student store with a snack bar. The snack bar area has standing room for 50 students. The College post office occupies the remainder of the space on the first floor.

On the second floor is a lounge for television next door to a recreation - day student area which has vending machines. There are rest rooms on the second floor also.

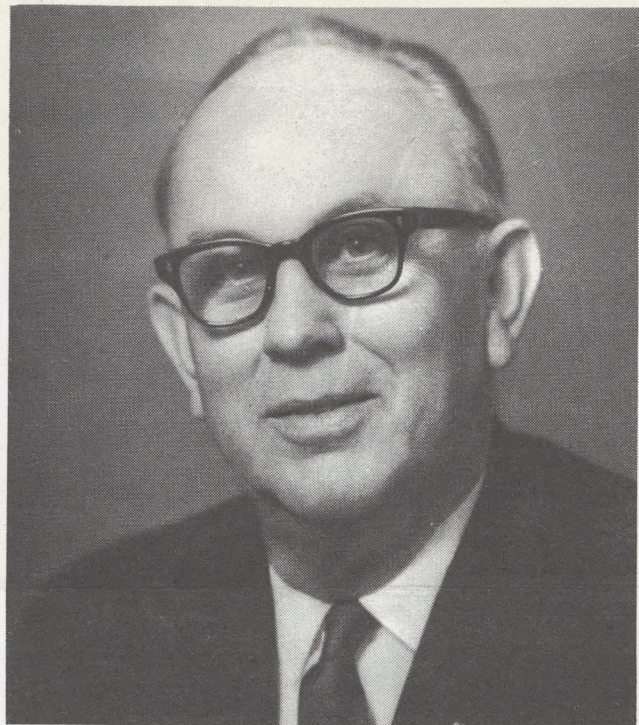

The third floor has a small classroom, the office of dean of students, and the guidance counsellor. No space is available for student government or the newspaper or annual staff.

Administration and student committees have been attempting to ascertain the basic requirements for a student-campus center. It is known that certain accommodations must be included.

Food services must be adequate with space for the boarding students we expect to have. There must be included space for private dining rooms as well as a seating capacity of from 500 to 1000. Kitchen space with storage for seasonal commodities and cold storage facilities are necessary in order to have the best food service.

There must be parlors, small lounges, music and television rooms, snack-bar, recreational space, student government offices, student publications, student personnel offices, reception room, lobbies, a general store, a bookstore, and adequate storage space for equipment. This list is not complete, but it gives an idea as to the enormous need for these facilities, now.

This building — the student-campus center — offers a challenge to all friends of High Point College. What a beautiful and lasting memorial this building would make for someone now reading these words!

Historical Statement Of High Point College

High Point College was founded in 1922 by Methodist Protestant leaders who had a firm belief in a distinctly Christian philosophy of life expressed in service. These men and women built into the school a concern for intellectual and spiritual integrity. The college was a dream, a plan, and an extraordinary accomplishment.

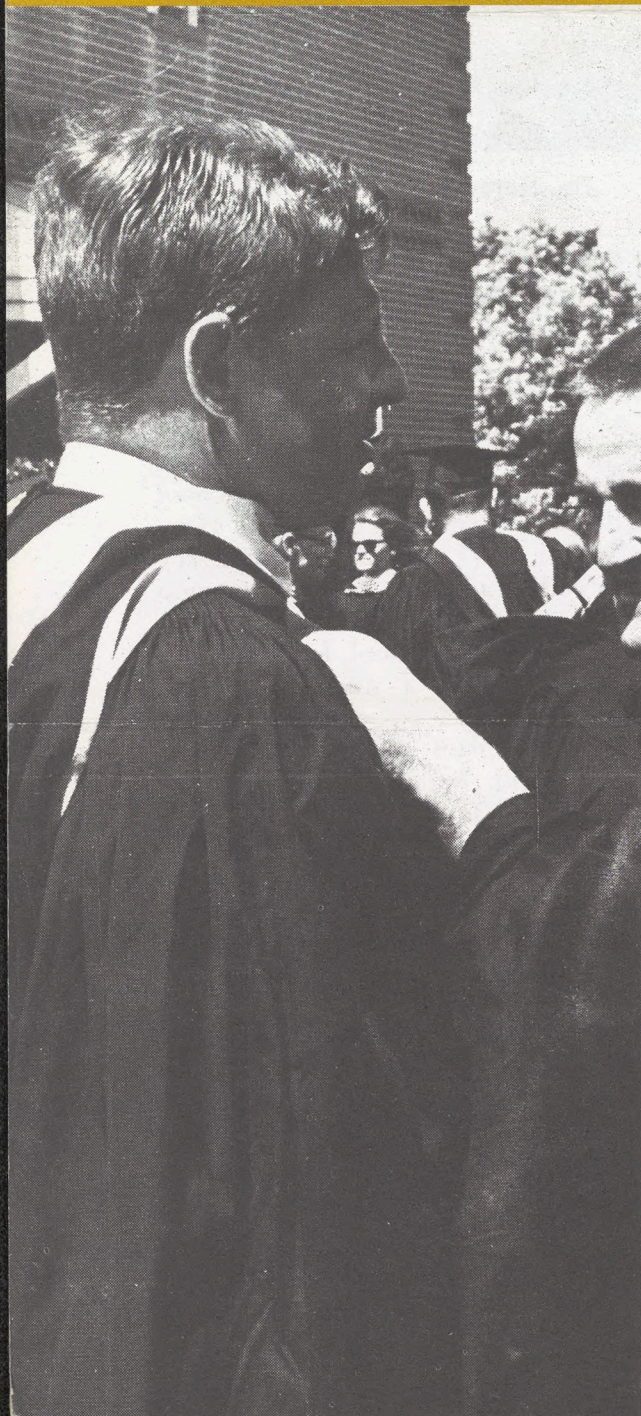

From the opening day in September, 1924, the college was a four-year institution and offered only college work. Out of the adversity of the Depression there emerged a spirit of dedication to Christian higher education that combined academic excellence with spiritual values. A vanguard of graduates took their places as purposeful leaders, ministers, business and professional men. In 1952 the Southern Association recognized the College's academic stature by granting it full accreditation.

The school's capacity to serve continued to grow. Evidence is reflected by a student body in excess of 1100 students in the day session and 500 students in the evening school from 28 states and 4 countries representing 35 different religious denominations, an expanded faculty of more than 70 Christian scholars, an undergraduate program leading to 24 majors, and the construction of 10 major buildings on the 65 acre campus during the past 15 years.

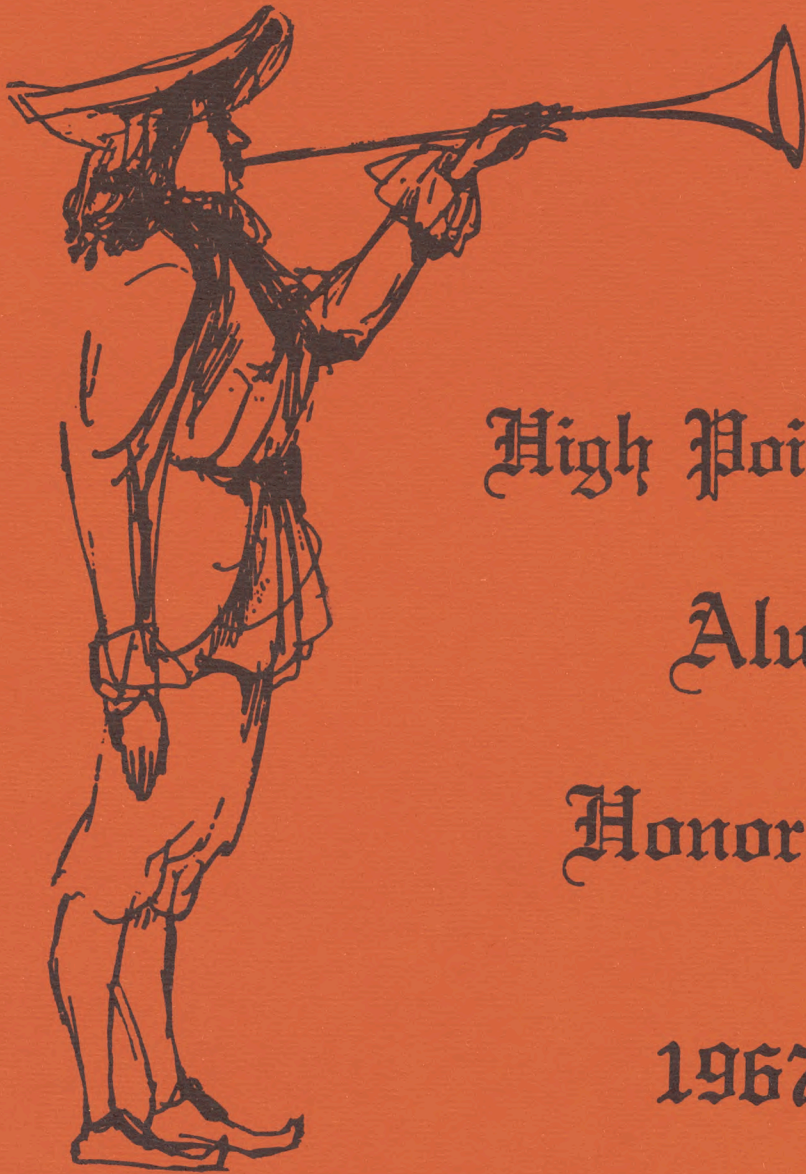

A full range of majors in the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences are available, as well as professional preparation in religion, religious education, and education. The College recognizes that change — often radical and rapid — is characteristic of the times. Its programs, therefore, attempt to help students to seek truth with the willingness to unlearn and relearn as truth is discovered.

In the last analysis, the achievement of any college must be measured in terms of the character and contribution of its graduates. HPC is justly proud of the caliber of the host of alumni — men and women who face their life careers with the stamp of high intellectual purpose and spiritual commitment.

The future must be met with adequate planning and effective doing.

President's Remarks

The record breaking milestone again achieved by the High Point College Alumni is a source of great encouragement to all of us charged with carrying on the work of the College.

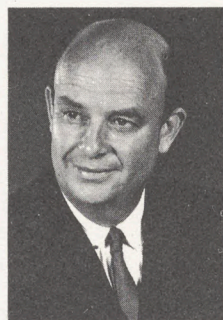

We want to express our thanks to Jim Brewer and to his able team of co-workers for a job carried on with energy and interest. We want to thank all who responded to their appeal.

The Fund's emphasis on unrestricted money makes it most helpful to all the essential areas of life and work at the College. So long as High Point has interested alumni and friends, she can have increased confidence in the strength and quality of her service to young people and to our country.

Chairman's Report

All of you who took part in the 1967-68 Alumni Fund Drive, either as givers or workers, may take pride in the new record which you have set. Alumni participation reached 40 percent for the first time as we received a record of 2564 gifts.

We hope you will remember High Point College in your annual giving, for she needs your continuing support. If you will give now by means of the enclosed return envelope, most of our 1968-69 work will be done.

You and I can and must afford to be proud of High Point College. Join me in sending a gift which truly represents you; and be counted with the winners.

Sincerely,

Alumni Fund

Following is a list of the members of the Centurion Club and of contributors by Class to the 1967-68 Alumni Fund. Alumni who have given to the College for at least two consecutive years are members of the Encore Club and are designated with an (E) after their names.

High Point College, as a private institution, relies upon individuals for the financial support it needs to strengthen its educational programs. While our tax dollars keep tuition low at state institutions, our alma mater must rely on the generosity of its alumni and friends.

The tax laws encourage voluntary giving to higher education by permitting a tax deduction. This reduced cost of giving is of indirect financial benefit to you and to all other taxpayers. Voluntary gift support prevents all of higher education from becoming a public responsibility which would require additional tax dollars and, at the same time, establish a monolithic educational system.

How much you give to H.P.C. is governed, not by tax laws, but by the depth of your belief in its objectives, tempered by personal circumstances. Give what you can afford to assure the continuation of our alma mater as a private institution.

Centurion Club

The Centurion Club was founded in 1964 by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association of High Point College in order to afford our alumni an opportunity to participate more actively with High Point College in its efforts to provide for its students the finest in educational opportunities.

Now beginning its fourth year of operation, the Centurion Club has attained a high degree of success. The club has grown in total membership from 24 in 1964-65 to 94 in 1967-68. The 1967-68 Centurion members contributed $33,057.97 to High Point College between June 1, 1967, and May 31, 1968.

HIGH POINT COLLEGE

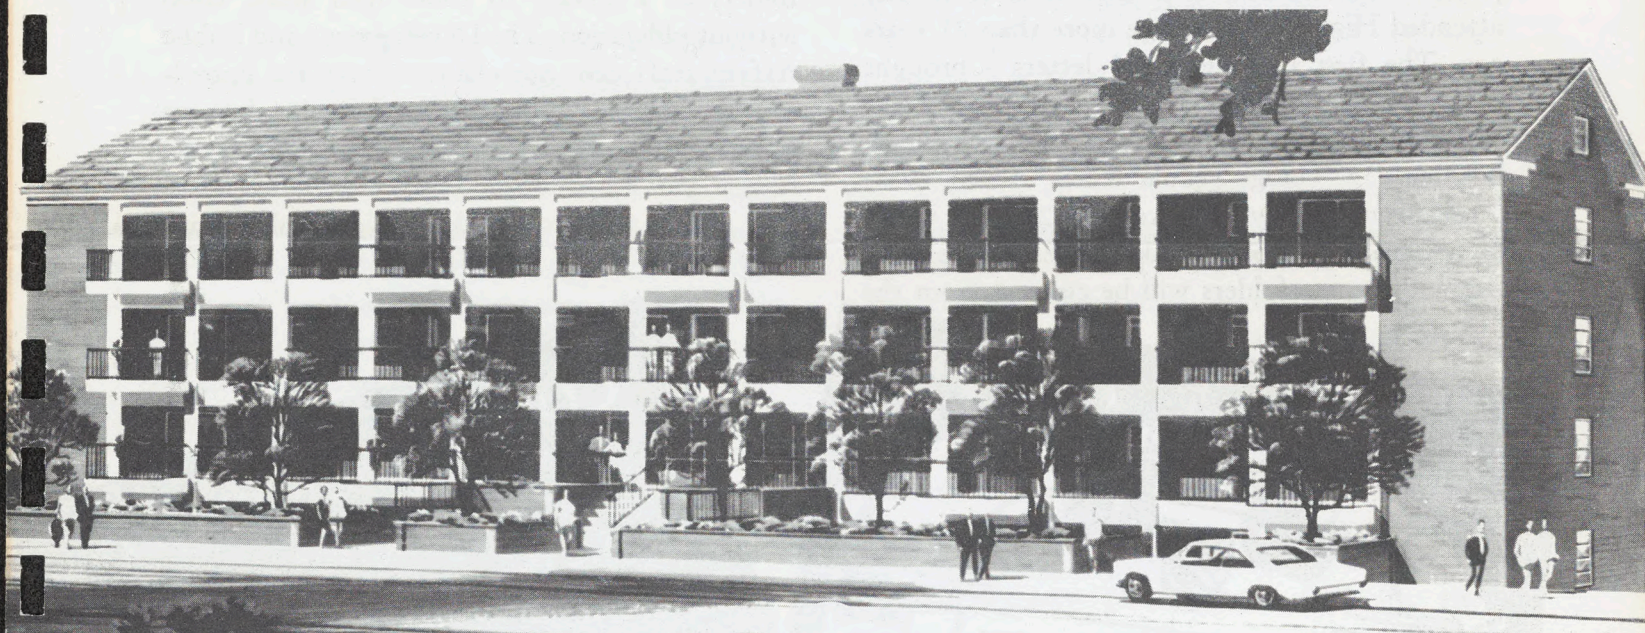

Development

BULLETIN

August, 1968

High Point, North Carolina

First Phase Of Golden Decade Shows Progress

According to the responses which come to the Development Office there was a total of $1,070,000.00 pledged or intended. Of this amount $800,00 has been paid to date leaving an unpaid balance of $270,000.00 A considerable amount of this balance is made up of deferred pledges to be paid before 1974.

The amount collected has enabled the College to begin construction on three Golden Decade projects. The Horace S. Haworth Hall of Science has been completed and occupied. The new women's dormitory will be ready for occupancy on September 1. The infirmary will be ready around October 1. Other funds earmarked for a chapel and swimming pool have been accumulated. In addition, the endowment of the College has increased to more than $3 million. The Dennis M. Cooke Hall has been partially renovated.

The total number of gifts to Golden Decade during the fiscal year was 836 amounting to more than $215 thousand. Other gifts for the year including church support total more than $392 thousand.

With another phase of Golden Decade to begin in 1969, many pledges will be paid by December 31, 1968. In order not to confuse donors who have pledges projected later than 1968, these will be transferred to Phase II.

New Dormitory almost ready for occupancy

Parents' Day Is Set For November 2

Parents of all High Point College students are cordially invited to come to the College for Parents' Day on Saturday, November 2, 1968. Not only are parents of present students expected to come, but parents of alumni are also invited.

This fifth annual Parents' Day meeting will be held under the new constitution and by-laws. The Reverend Paul Hamilton, Mooresville, North Carolina, will preside at the business session to be held in the Memorial Auditorium at 9:00 A.M.

Parents, clear the calendar and plan to be present on November 2.

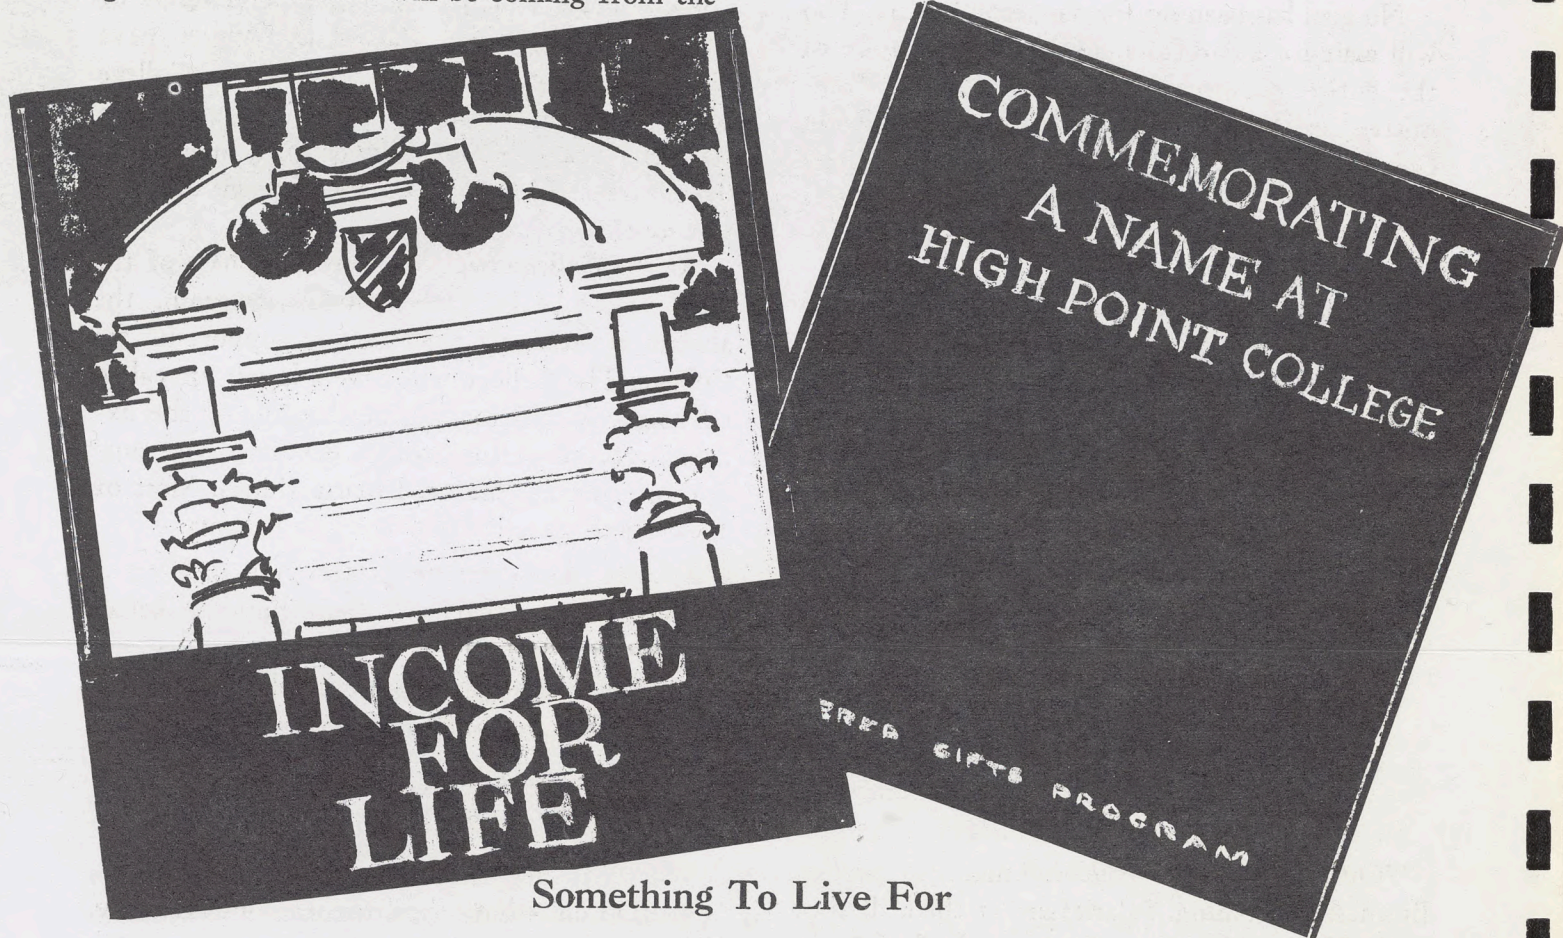

Charitable Giving Emphasized

Charitable giving especially in the realm of deferred gifts is being promoted through the Public Affairs Office of the College. The Director attended a conference in Memphis in May at which time attention was focused on annuities and trusts as a means of philanthropy.

Since that time, more than one thousand personal letters have been sent to alumni who attended High Point College more than 25 years ago. The first mailing - 600 letters - brought responses by means of envelopes of 4 per cent. The 400 letters sent more recently has a little booklet "37 Things People Know About Wills That Aren't Really So." Another 24 page booklet is entitled "Your Guide To Effective Giving." Two new folders will be coming from the press in a few days. "Four Life Income Plans" and "Ways of Commemorating the Name of Someone You Love." These folders are available to anyone who would like to have them. Write: Editor, High Point College Development Bulletin, High Point, North Carolina.

High Point College offers these booklets and folders as a service to those who want them without obligation. The Development and Public Affairs staff does not claim to have the knowledge or training to provide legal service, but we can suggest ways and means of charitable giving so that you are able to convey to your attorney that which you would like to accomplish with your estate.

Something To Live For

Leland Stanford lost his only child. Though he was United States senator from California, he said to himself, "I have nothing to live for. I have no children." He put a million dollars into a private home, but it was not a home to him.

One night he had a dream. In this dream his son appeared to him and said: "Father, never say again that you have nothing to live for-live for humanity, live for other people's children."

There soon arose a Palo Alto the Leland Stanford Junior University at a cost of $20,000,000. He and Mrs. Stanford became the devoted servants of the poor, the orphan, and the suffering, and left their property to go on doing good to the rising generations.

Golden Decade Second Phase Begins This Fall

The second phase of the Golden Decade Development Program will get underway on September 23, 1968. A meeting of all Development Council members combined with the first annual meeting of the Corporate Partners will be held.

Prior to the September meeting of the Development Council, W. R. Henderson, President Patton and others will secure a campaign chairman to head a Steering Committee for the second phase effort. After the chairman has been secured, a steering committee will be enlisted and an organization will be set up.

No goal has been set for the second phase. This will wait for a careful analysis and evaluation of the entire prospect list. An Evaluation Committee, an Arrangements Committee, an Audit Committee and a Public Relations Committee will be appointed. The chairman of each committee will be a member of the Cabinet or Steering Committee.

The organization plan calls for the following divisions: Pace Setters, Leadership, General, Family, and Area, with a chairman for each one.

Through all the planning stage and then in the actual campaign, an outside campaign director will be on the scene to keep every part of the program moving. The closing date for the local and area campaign is May 31, 1969.

THE CRISIS

"Our country has never been more prosperous. Business is booming. Salaries are at their all-time peak. The average American's standard of living is higher than ever before.

"But there are two kinds of organizations that have not felt the benefits of prosperity - that have, in fact, been penalized by the inflation that goes with this prosperity. They are our educational and charitable institutions, the great bulwarks of our freedom."

Annual Report Of Alumni Affairs Shows Gains

The annual report of Alumni Affairs prepared by Miss Beverly A. Deal, Executive Secretary, shows some interesting facts. Forty per cent of the 6,407 known alumni gave more than $54 thousand. This high percentage of alumni making gifts to the College is an all-time high mark.

Beginning in 1960-1961 with 2% of the alumni giving $570 the increase has been constant with the exception of 1965-1966 - the Golden Decade first phase campaign, until this year when the 40 per cent goal was reached.

While the amount contributed is not large, the number of alumni is significant. There are a few colleges which have larger percentages of alumni making gifts and many which have much larger total gifts, but High Point College is proud of the record the alumni have made in the last 7 years. Ninety four couples, or individual alumni, made gifts to the College of $100 or more.

As the College begins the second phase of the Golden Decade Development Program, the alumni are stronger than ever in support of the College. The College will have a larger appeal to corporations and foundations because of this excellent record of the loyalty, devotion, and support of alumni. We need many things. Most of all we need to enlist businesses to help us.

Four Things that will help build a better world or a better man:

1. Learn something new each day - a poem, quotation, fact, etc.
2. Think one great thought each day.
3. Make friends each day - a friend is an asset - an enemy is a liability.
4. Do something good for someone each day.

Corporate Partners will Meet September 23

The officers of corporations who have become Corporate Partners with High Point College will hold their first annual meeting at the Top of the Mart, 6:30 P.M. September 23. The first meeting of Corporate Partners is scheduled in order to understand mutual responsibilities in higher education in our time.

Mr. William F. May, Chairman of the Board and President of American Can Company speaking to the Corporate Leadership Luncheon of the Council for Financial Aid to Education, Inc., recently called attention to the fact that all is not well with the higher education system. He also stated what others have been saying . . . "and the crisis reduced to its lowest common denominator is money."

Where shall higher education look to obtain the money necessary to survive? Not to student fees, already reaching the limit; not to the federal government, for if this percentages goes above 50% we are in trouble from the control stand-point; not to foundations, for they are turning toward innovative programs. The only other source is the corporation - the business - that sees the great need for the strengthening of the institutions of higher education.

Every business and every individual will survive as they survive as a part of society. Decisions made, will be made to enable society to survive and prosper. If not, then business cannot survive while society crumbles. There are other lesser considerations of returns on investment that do justify an increase in the commitment to educate.

Corporate support of higher education is a measureable investment in a prime source of needed manpower and brainpower. As the source of educated personnel for business in the United States today, higher education will furnish that necessary personnel to insure growth and prosperity. Corporate support is not philanthropy. It is an investment as much as plant, equipment, or any other aspect.

What are the alternatives to businesses' proper support of education? While business gives about 2 per cent of the dollars used, government provides about 50 per cent. Tuition and fees average about 40 per cent. Private gifts including business about 10 per cent. Government increase means inevitably greater influence.

Corporate giving can be justified according to Mr. May:

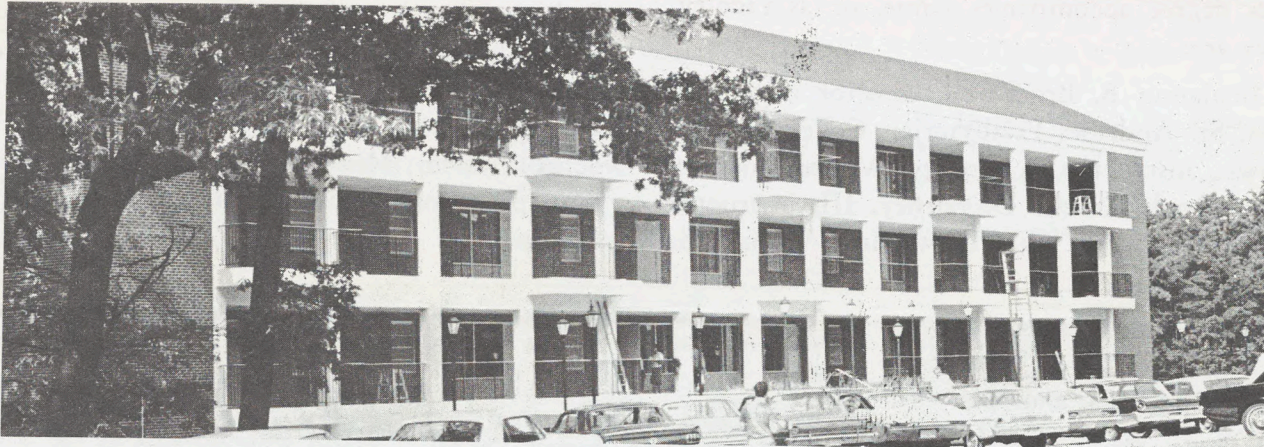

"(1) . . . because business invests in the future man-power needs. (2) . . . because an educated people will be less likely to abandon the free enterprise economic system. (3) . . . because an educated society is a society which produces more, consumes more, and therefore, makes it possible for business to prosper more."

Corporate support for High Point College is not just a "pipe dream", it is necessary to survival.

ALUMNI ISSUE — SEPTEMBER, 1968

NEW DORMITORY OPENS

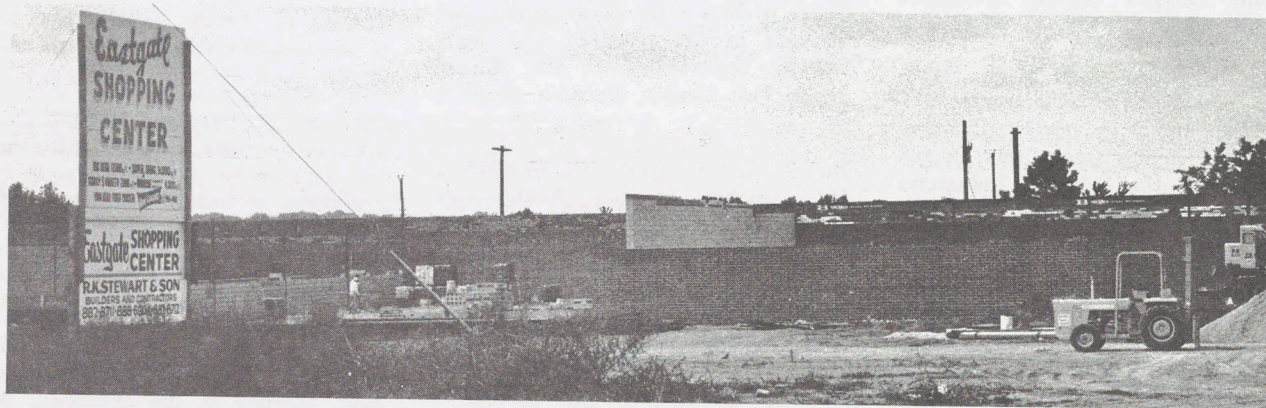

The new four-story dormitory, dubbed the High Point Hilton by the students living there, opened on September 1, as scheduled.

Constructed at the cost of $635,000 on the east side of the campus parallel to North and Yadkin Halls, the building has exterior corridors providing entrances to separate student living areas. Each area houses eight students and features built-in furniture, carpeting, and air-conditioning in the living room, four bedrooms, bath, and storage facilities.

In addition to the living areas for 138 students, there also is an apartment for a house mother, a lounge, a recreation room, and a laundry room.

While constructed as a woman's dormitory, the building will accommodate men students until a new men's dormitory is constructed. The first two floors will house men students and the two upper floors will house women students.

ANOTHER STEPPING STONE

In another farsighted move to increase the endowment of High Point College, the Board of Trustees has authorized the development of the 5.69 acre Five Point property into the Eastgate Shopping Center, which is scheduled to open October 1, 1968.

The shopping center buildings contain 60,000 square feet, 56,000 of which have been leased to the following: Big Bear grocery, Super-X drugs, Family Dollar store, Honey-Fried Chicken, Woodcoe launderette, and Pickway shoes.

High Point College also owns the property and buildings leased by Sears and Roebuck in downtown High Point. Our Board of Trustees, chaired by Holt McPherson, is to be commended for its efforts to insure the future financial security of High Point College.

High Point College Builds Eastgate Shopping Center

The Eastgate Shopping Center is fast becoming a reality. Due to the generosity of two members of the Board of Trustees this property was obtained, and the College was able to begin construction without the delay in securing a loan.

As was the case in the Magic Block, no current operating funds will be used except on a loan basis to be paid at the rate the College could receive in the market. These funds, when loaned, will be subject to immediate recall if and when needed in the current operation of the College.

Second Phase Of The Golden Decade Development Program Is Underway

With the coming to the campus of Frank Henwood, vice-president of Cumerford, Incorporated, the second phase of the Golden Decade Development Program is underway. Mr. Henwood has had more than 20 years experience in fund raising and represents a firm that counts its successful campaigns in the billions of dollars.

The first few months will be used in getting materials printed, public relations, building a leadership group, and setting up the organization needed for solicitation.

It is hoped that by February 1, 1969 the intensive effort will begin. The campaign will end around June 15. The territory to be solicited will include High Point primarily with fewer contacts in Thomasville, Lexington, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Kernersville, and Asheboro.

Mr. Henwood will present a plan of operation, budget, and suggested goals for consideration at the meeting of the Board of Trustees in Raleigh on October 9. William R. Henderson, chairman of the Development Council, will play an important part in this phase of Golden Decade.

Corporate Responsibility For Higher Education

By Charles B. Wade, Jr.

Have you ever noticed how cherished bits of Americana have a way of slipping further and further from our memory until they are almost completely forgotten? For example, how often do we still refer to or remember "the little red schoolhouse" — an institution once, and not too long ago, very much a part of American life?

Yet, is it any wonder that the "little red schoolhouse" seems so distant in our past that we scarcely ever call it to mind? Have you looked at our schools lately? Wall-to-wall carpeting has replaced worn wood floors. "The smell of a school-room" as described by Thomas Wolfe has also been replaced by the antiseptic smell. Central airconditioning is replacing the pot-bellied stove. Magnificent complexes of modern structures connected by breezeways house auditoriums, cafeterias, gymnasiums and countless classrooms.

When you combine our rising cost of living spiral and the projected enrollment figures for the coming decade, imagine what we are talking about in terms of dollars to support our exploding demand for colleges and universities.

Everywhere people are asking where will the money come from? And ever more frequently the answer is being heard . . . from the corporations of this country.

Now let us ask ourselves how we ever came to feel that corporations had a responsibility for higher education. It is, indeed, not an obvious obligation; and certainly a member of the management of a corporation must justify such gifts to owners and stockholders and to his own mind else his move is either dishonest or unwise. Fortunately, it is neither; and let's take a moment to see why it proceeds on a scale of increasing compulsion from almost desirable to highly obligatory.

Educators across America generally concede that the private colleges and universities form the core of our best educational institutions. They should because they are the best endowed and supported, they enjoy a freedom of form and direction that allows them to innovate, and by and large they attract the best scholars and students.

These private institutions, if you will think a moment, are generally named for men. Put another way, they are not named for public entities. Harvard, Princeton, Yale, Cornell, Vanderbilt, Emory, Tulane, Duke, Stanford.

Is it not then significant to us that these were begun, if you look at most of their histories, by men and families of wealth? Those were wonderful eleemosynary acts. But the terrifying thought is that these acts are not likely to take place in our lifetime and perhaps never again.

I once asked the rather rhetorical question: "Who will be the next Mr. Duke?" And I answered it in the next sentence: "The corporation." In one sense the corporation always has been the donor, for it was largely from this form and device of free enterprise that came the wealth to individuals to perform their acts of generosity.

With individual great wealth shrinking before progressive taxation, a court in New Jersey in the early fifties confirmed the right of directors to allocate profits as tax deductible for certain benefactions.

It is interesting to note that Irving Olds, the former Chairman of the Board of United States Steel, once said: "Capitalism and free enterprise owe their survival in no small degree to the existence of our private, independent universities."

My second main point brings me to a matter so obvious that I am hesitant to mention it. Surely, we all recognize the fact that the modern corporation makes far greater demands on educational institutions than it realizes. A corporation uses every skill taught and every resource provided by a modern college; and in the setting of a corporation and a college in the same community there is a mutuality of interest almost immeasurable. Corporate excellence, community excellence, and college excellence are tied directly together for self renewal. It is as true of High Point and High Point College as it is of Cambridge and Harvard. A trail of influence spreads from each in proportion to the support the institution receives.

So, to the Corporate Partners group of High Point College, we have enjoyed fellowship, a Development Council Meets

The Development Council headed by William R. Henderson, alumnus and trustee, met at 5:30 September 23, at the Top of the Mart prior to the dinner for corporate executives and their wives. The agenda for the meeting brought several matters to the attention of the group.

A report of the first phase of The Golden Decade Development Program was presented by W. Lawson Allen, Director of Public Affairs. The salient points are:

September 23, 1968

Number of pledges	1412	$1,072,752.29
Number of cancellations	24	2,473.40
Number of live pledges	1388	1,070,278.89
Amount collected		812,768.07
Amount to be collected		$ 257,510.82

The second phase was delineated in general terms by Frank Henwood, director of the second effort for capital funds. Mr. Henwood is an employee of Cumerford, Incorporated. He indicated that the preparation period in which a goal will be set, leadership will be enlisted, a brochure published, and other necessary materials produced will last until January, 1969. The intensive phase of solicitation will begin about February 1 and end about June 15.

High Point College's greatest need was presented by Robert Phillips, Dean of Students, and Earle G. Dalbey, Business Manager. Mr. Phillips said that the greatest need now and for the future is a student-campus-center in order to direct the tremendous energy of students in the right direction. With 138 additional students boarding on the campus, the present student center and the cafeteria are inadequate to meet the basic needs of students for meals and recreation.

Mr. Dalbey stated that he had been conferring with students, faculty, and administration for more than two years as to the facilities that the building ought to provide. He indicated that no projection had been made as to when the plans would be ready or the building constructed. He along with Dean Phillips placed top priority on this student-campus-center.

The question, then, as to what the Council would recommend was discussed. The goal was mentioned, but no recommendation was decided upon. The Council decided to recommend that the second phase of Golden Decade should be primarily for the student-campus-center.

Chairman Henderson closed the meeting with a statement concerning the possibilities for the College in the Golden Decade Development Program, lifting up the Corporate Partner Program as a means of reaching endowment goals. He stated that if Corporate Partners could produce $100,000 a year, that this would be the equivalent of $2 million endowment at 5% interest.

Corporate Executives Hear Wade

The dinner for corporate executives was held in the High Point Room, Top of the Mart, at 6:30 p.m. September 23. Mr. Fred Council, Chairman of Corporate Partners, presided and requested Dr. Phil Shore to give the invocation. After the meal was served Dr. Patton introduced the guests, which included the Reverend and Mrs. John Cagle, William R. Cumerford, and Frank Henwood.

Dr. Patton asked William R. Henderson to discuss the purpose of Corporate Partners. The Corporate Partners Program is a program which seeks to enlist corporate support from profits before taxes up to 1%. The College itself furnishes to industry in this area a number of outstanding men and thus shares with corporations trained manpower.

After a very interesting and provocative speech by Mr. Charles B. Wade, Vice-President of Reynolds Tobacco Company, Chairman Council gave an enthusiastic testimony as to the value of High Point College men to Heritage Furniture Company. Excerpts from Mr. Wade's speech appear in this issue of the Bulletin.

meal, and I have enjoyed the opportunity I have but to praise the concept here arrived at and the opportunity now presented to you.

The thought of sharing your profits with a college like High Point is a welcome reduction from the concept that most of us who are involved in college fund raising want. We usually want amounts to include all the profits. At least our sights are never low. I strongly commend the plan to you, for I am certain that it offers you and High Point College a unique opportunity yourselves and will serve as an excellent and probably widely copied example for industry and private education everywhere.

Sixth Annual Parents' Day Set For November 2

November 2 has been set aside as Parents' Day on High Point College campus. Last Parents' Day the Parents Associates was formed with a constitution and election of officers. The Reverend Paul Hamilton was elected president and will preside at the assembly at 8:45 in Memorial Auditorium.

The tentative program which is printed herein indicates some changes. Since professors will be teaching on this Saturday, two periods have been arranged for parents to confer with professors — the first 10:00-12:30, and the second from 1:30-2:30.

Taking the place of the basketball scrimmage this year will be a musical program by the High Point College Choir and the Madrigalians under the direction of Mr. William K. Highbaugh of the Fine Arts Department of the College. There will be two performances, one at 2:30 and a repeat performance at 3:15.

The tea for parents, their sons and daughters, and the faculty will close out the day.

It should be noted that parents of all students and recent alumni are invited. In fact, the parents of any alumnus are urged to become a part of the Parents Associates.

TAR HEEL STATE LEADS

Of the 1,150 students attending classes at High Point College, the majority (648) are from North Carolina. Maryland, the number two state with respect to student enrollment, claims 148 young men and women. Virginia, with 107 students, and New Jersey, with 90, round out the first four.

Other states represented on the campus are Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, and Vermont.

As might be expected, Methodism is the predominant religion at the Methodist-affiliated college. With 533 students identifying themselves as Methodists, they are far ahead of the second largest religious body on campus - 183 of the Baptist faith. Presbyterians follow with 116; Episcopalians with 71; and Roman Catholics with 64. A total of 35 religions are represented on the campus.

HIGH POINT COLLEGE

HIGH POINT, NORTH CAROLINA

An institution of great potential, with solid achievement and exciting plans for the future.

A Message For Christmas, 1968

All the High Point College family extends to you warmest season's greetings. Ours is a large family — more than 1150 students, 70 faculty members, 30 or more administrative workers, 30 trustees, and almost 100 others performing other campus duties.

In such a large family there are those who plan, those who administer, those who instruct, those who minister, those who work. All must learn from each day's experiences how to live, cooperate, and work together to minimize the problems - even solve them - by a mutual sharing of responsibility, each in his own sphere.

We, the family of the College, appreciate your involvement in higher education, whether as a parent, a donor, an alumnus, or the countless ways which may be used to create a climate conducive to growth and strength. You are our hope for survival as well as our means of becoming a good and great instrument of hope to the thousands who will come to us through the years.

We thank you for your support. We in turn are grateful, and the "family" is striving to be worthy of your support.

With Tiny Tim, "May God bless us all" as we continue into 1969.

Have You A Few Dollars That You Can Share?

As we close out the year's work, we usually take inventory to see what has been accomplished and to anticipate the future. Many decide that they can give a little more or can give something that formerly seemed improbable.

If a gift is made, you will want to get maximum benefit in terms of your own satisfaction, and maximum advantage of your Government's encouragement to make a charitable gift.

Who should make a year-end gift? The person who has a higher income this year, for the higher the tax bracket the lower is your after-tax cost.

How may one make a gift? There are several methods.

1. Give appreciated securities. Often you can make a larger gift and thus avoid capital gains tax.
2. Make a bargain sale at your original cost to the College of securities which you have held. The amount of appreciation is a gift.
3. Set up a trust.
4. Buy an annuity contract.
5. Secure a life-income contract.
6. Have your corporation make a gift. It may cost less than to make it personally.
7. Make a direct cash gift.
8. Set up a memorial fund.
9. Make a gift of equipment.

There are many more ways to make a gift to High Point College. If you would like to know more about any of these or any other methods or needs, call W. Lawson Allen at 883-0726.

Daniel Burnham, planner of Chicago's lake front, once said, "Make no little plans. They have no magic to stir men's blood - Make big plans, remembering that a noble diagram once recorded will never die."

Phase Two Of Golden Decade On Schedule

Preliminary work related to the second phase of the Golden Decade Program is on schedule, according to Frank H. Henwood, regional vice-president of the Cumerford Corporation, who is in charge of the campaign effort. The initial effort which began in 1965 phases out this year.

The top-leadership for the campaign has been enlisted and will be announced shortly after January 1, 1969. The campaign in High Point is to begin around February 1.

As it is now envisioned the program will involve three soliciting divisions in High Point plus a College division. Other communities will be solicited on a very selective basis by a local committee.

The chairman of the auditing committee is Earle G. Dalbey, the College's vice-president for business and financial affairs. The campaign promotion and publicity committee is chaired by W. Lawson Allen, and forthcoming releases will be issued by Allen, who is vice-president for public affairs at the College.

A Prayer For 1969

Almighty God, and Father of us all, we beseech thee to forgive us because we have done less than our best, because we have served all too often selfish causes, because we have failed to love all thy children as we ought. Grant that we, today, may seek not our own selfish ways but thy way, not that which is expedient, but that which is expressive of the Divine Nature within us.

Help us to stand tall and yet walk with humility toward goals which lead to peace and victory. Continue to work out among us and through us thy blessed will and may our College be a lighthouse of learning and a fortress of spiritual strength for all to see and to follow.

Give us the imagination to dream and plan and work that thy kingdom may come as we follow the leadership of thy Holy Spirit through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Parents' Day On November 2 Was An Outstanding Event

The day was perfect! Hundreds of parents came to visit sons and daughters and to confer with teachers.

From the assembly at 8:45 in Memorial Auditorium until the last parent left the campus, there was a spirit of cooperation and helpfulness. Students were especially helpful in registration, in guiding parents to various places, serving at the tea, and at lunch. Faculty members cooperated wonderfully.

The parents at assembly elected a new slate of officers and board members. Those elected are:

The Reverend Paul Hamilton, President
218 North Academy Street
Mooresville, North Carolina

The Reverend Dewey Smith, First Vice-President
703 Overbrook Drive
High Point, North Carolina

Mrs. Virgil H. Myers, Second Vice-President

Mr. J. T. Pizzadili

Dr. Charles D. White

Gastonia, North Carolina

Dr. David W. Cole, Dean of the College, spoke briefly of possible problem areas on the campus and suggested a later meeting for discussion by interested parents.

W. Lawson Allen, Vice-President for Public Affairs and secretary of Parents Associates, brought pertinent questions as to areas of cooperation between parents and the College. It was definitely established by a show of hands that parents desired more communication with the College by Parents' Mailings, The Bulletin, Annual Report, and Student Handbook.

Office of the President

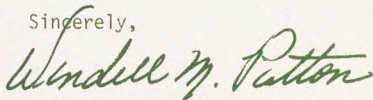

Dear Friends of High Point College:

We trust that this condensed report will indicate to you the progress which High Point College has made and is continuing to make. The fourth year of the Golden Decade is almost history. We have seven more exciting years including the Fiftieth Anniversary (Golden) of 1974.

Progress as usual will not be sufficient to meet the tremendous challenge of these years. We must strengthen our weaknesses and build more effectively on our strengths. Let me assure you of our dedicated efforts to provide the best educational opportunities for you, for students, for alumni, and for all others who are concerned about the future of independent and church-related higher education.

We covet your prayers that God will lead us. Your interest and your support are needed as we enter a new year.

Sincerely,
