High Point College

ABOUT THIS ISSUE

This abbreviated issue of HIGHPOINTS comes to you in this form as there are some exciting happenings at High Point College, and we want you to know about them as soon as possible. You can expect your regular publication with the March-April issue of HIGHPOINTS, complete with a report on Homecoming '74 and "News from Alumni."

FEBRUARY 16

is the date for Homecoming '74. By now you should have received the Homecoming '74 brochure with all the details for the day. These classes will be having reunions: '29, '34, '39, '44, '49, '54, '59, '64, '69, and '73. What an ideal time to see friends made at HPC, and perhaps you have lost track of them. Two NEW reunion activities are planned: at 11:00 a. m. in Cooke Hall there will be a reunion of English majors. Mrs. Emily Sullivan, chairman of the department, is planning some activities which English majors cannot afford to miss. A reunion of A Capella Choir members will take place at 10:30 a. m. in the choir rehearsal room of Memorial Auditorium. Mr. Bill Highbaugh, choir director, promises some real joy in singing some old favorites and reminiscing those impressionable choir years.

Some Homecoming '74 activities which you will not want to miss:

- class and group reunions
- Dr. and Mrs. Patton's reception at their home
- Homecoming '74 Banquet
- Crowning of Homecoming Queen
- Basketball Game: High Point vs. Catawba

THE ANNUAL ALUMNI FUND

launched its 1974 program on January 25 with the first mailing piece to Alumni. During this Golden Anniversary of High Point College, the Alumni challenge is perhaps the greatest ever. Your gifts to High Point College are a living monument and your Alma Mater expresses her appreciation for your interest and assistance in meeting educational opportunities and needs. The excellence of High Point's program will continue to increase as more Alumni participate in the support of the College.

Our hats are off to our many Class Chairmen and Class Agents who are assisting us in reaching our Alumni. Many will be hearing from classmates who they haven't heard from in a long time. Keep up the correspondence and the interest in High Point College.

Donors to the Annual Alumni Fund will be recognized during the Summer of this year.

THE ADMISSIONS OFFICE

reports to this date, in comparison of last year, we are up 17% in applications for the '74 - '75 academic session. Admissions Director Robert A. Wells, Jr. states this is extraordinary in that most private and public colleges in North Carolina are experiencing decreases in applications in comparison with last year. Part of our success can be attributed to an interested Alumni who have recommended good, prospective students, as well as many faculty programs that have attracted area high school students. Have you recommended a student for the '74 - '75 session?

THE GOLDEN DECADE FUND

is well underway under the direction of the Campaign Steering Committee made up of key leaders in the community and operating under broad policies set out by the Board of Trustees. Dr. Charles F. Carroll is General Chairman and Holt McPherson is Co-Chairman. The minimum goal has been set as $2,150,000 with $1,000,000 to endowment and $700,000 for the library addition and $450,000 for the addition to the Physical Education facility.

The campaign is divided into five solicitation divisions - each with a specific area of responsibility.

1) The Advance Division is made up of prospects who have a definite relationship to the College, that is Employees, Trustees, Students, Parents and Alumni. This division is the first to be solicited and because of their relationship must set the pace for the Campaign.

a) The Employees of the Campus set a minimum goal of $50,000 and a challenge goal of $60,000. To date pledges total $69,246 which is an outstanding performance. Dr. Murphy M. Osborne is Campus Chairman.

b) The Trustees set a goal of $800,000 for their participation, this is the personal and corporate pledge of all Trustees. To date Holt McPherson, Chairman of the Trustees, reports $543,435 with several Board members yet to be heard from. The Chairman is encouraged that this goal will be reached.

2) The Primary Gifts Division is made up of prospects who have a potential of $25,000 and up and is headed by Charles E. Hayworth and James H. Millis. They have a target of $500,000 and to date have reported $159,715 with only 5 of the 27 cards worked.

3) The Major Gifts Division is made up of prospects with a potential of from $10,000 - $25,000 and headed by J. Harriss Covington and Herman H. Smith. Major Gifts Division has reported $96,883 from 28 cards from a total of 58 cards. The target for Major Gifts Division is $300,000.

4) Special Gifts Division is made up of prospects with a potential of from $1,000 - $10,000 and is headed by Robert T. Amos, Jr., Jack H. Campbell and Phil Phillips. They have 227 cards and the Division had its Kick Off on January 29 at 7:30 a. m. There is a target of $200,000 for this Division.

5) The Area Division will be made up of prospects in the several counties where the College receives students and some indication of support. Each county where we have prospects and leadership will have its own campaign.

The Campaign organization is made up of the top leadership in the area, and several good pace setting gifts have been received. We have high hopes of going over our minimum goal by the end of the Campaign on May 31st.

THREE PROFESSORS TO BE HONORED

During commencement exercises on May 19, three former professors at High Point College will receive honorary doctoral degrees. The honorees of the College are Miss E. Vera Idol, English and chairman of the department; J. Hobart Allred, modern language and dean of students; and, Nathaniel P. Yarborough, modern language and registrar. These former leaders of the College who faced the hardships of its opening will receive their recognitions in concurrence with the fiftieth anniversary of High Point College.

Miss Idol will receive the Doctor of Literature degree, and Mr. Allred and Mr. Yarborough will receive the Doctor of Humanities degree. Miss Idol and Mr. Allred began teaching at the College in 1924, and Mr. Yarborough joined them in 1925.

Miss Idol received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Greensboro College (NC) and the Master of Arts degree from Columbia University (NY). She has been a recipient of several honors, including the Distinguished Service Award from her undergraduate Alma Mater, the Book of Golden Deeds award from the High Point Exchange Club, and the Citizen of the Month award from the High Point Sertoma Club. Miss Idol is the author of two books, Paths of Shining Light and A History of Wesley Memorial United Methodist Church from Its Beginning in 1856 to 1960.

Dean Allred received both the Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. In addition to his professional duties of teaching French and Spanish, he served the College as Dean of Students from 1951 until 1959.

Mr. Yarborough was the recipient of his Bachelor of Arts degree at Wofford College (SC) and the Master of Arts degree from the University of South Carolina. Continuing to teach modern language on a part-time basis, Mr. Yarborough was registrar of the College from 1936 until 1968. He is a past president of the North Carolina Association of Registrars and Admissions Officers.

It is fitting during the Golden Anniversary of High Point College, that these former professors will be recognized because of their dedication to the institution that is a modern day miracle. That miracle may never have happened had it not been for persons such as these.

TWO NEW DEGREE PROGRAMS

Two new Bachelor of Arts degree programs have been approved by the faculty of High Point College. The new programs are Theatre Arts Education and Human Relations.

The purposes of Theatre Arts in a college curriculum include providing opportunities for students in discovering theatre as an avenue for the expression of feelings and beliefs; help students develop talents for expressing themselves through speech, movement, and theatrical devices; encourage students to use their talents creatively; lead students to an understanding of oral and physical communications; and, assist students with special talent and interest to prepare themselves for further education as well as careers in theatre and its related areas.

GOLDEN DECADE THIRD PHASE TOPS $1,500,000

The High Point College Board of Trustees held their Spring meeting on March 6 and received the good news that the current campaign for the Golden Decade Fund has received gifts and pledges totaling $1,500,889, just under 70% of the Third Phase goal of $2,150,000. This represents the greatest amount of money ever raised by the College in a single campaign.

The total reported included a large grant from the Belk Foundation of Charlotte which was received in February. In appreciation for this gift, the Trustees have named the newest dormitory on the campus (until now known as Co-ed Dorm) the Mary Irwin Belk Dormitory.

The reported amount also included the excellent participation by the campus family including faculty, administration and staff in the amount of $69,400 and trustees in the amount of $599,000. The balance of the reported total represents outstanding participation in the Primary, Major and Special gift divisions of the campaign. Dr. Charles Carroll, General Chairman, praised the performance by the campus family and trustees because it represents a real giving of one's self and a true dedication to the College and its mission. Area campaigns are planned for Asheboro, Charlotte, Greensboro, Raleigh, Thomasville and Winston-Salem where it is hoped that good results may be realized through calls on selected prospects.

No general solicitation is planned for alumni gifts to the Golden Decade Fund because of the emphasis being placed on our Golden Anniversary Loyalty Fund campaign this year. Gifts and pledges to the Golden Decade are welcomed from those individual alumni who may have a desire to participate in the Golden Decade Fund and receive credit as well for Annual Fund with the same gift. Some alumni have already taken advantage of this opportunity.

The response by the campus and High Point communities, businesses, alumni, foundations and many friends of the College has been most gratifying. With the momentum which has been generated to date, the campaign should be more than successful. Endowment for faculty enrichment and increased scholarship funds, an addition to the Library and the addition of an auxiliary Gymnasium are the three priority areas needing to be satisfied with the Third Phase and the successful completion of the ten year Golden Decade Campaign. We are all looking forward to a happy fiftieth birthday for High Point College in September of this year.

LESLIE E. MOODY

LESLIE E. MOODY DIES

Leslie Eugene Moody, former Resident Administrator of the Humanics Department at High Point College, died in High Point on March 9, 1974. Mr. Moody came to the campus in 1965 with the establishment of an American Humanics Foundation unit on the campus.

Mr. Moody, a native of Riley County, Kansas, received his bachelor's degree from Kansas State University and his master's degree from Stanford University (CA). His career, varied in experience, was widely recognized throughout the United States. Mr. Moody spent fourteen years in the teaching profession, the last seven of which he served as a high school principal. In addition, he was Director of Boys Work in a settlement house. Since 1945 he was in the professional service of the Boy Scouts of America serving in Kansas, Iowa, and Missouri. Mr. Moody came to High Point College from Jefferson City, Missouri where he was a Boy Scouts of America Executive.

A contributor to his community and church, Mr. Moody was a member of the High Point Model Cities Commission and a member of Central Christian Church, where he was Superintendent of the Sunday School and an Elder.

After his retirement from High Point College as Visiting Lecturer of Humanics in May of 1973, Mr. Moody taught ceramics at Crossnore School at Crossnore, North Carolina.

Mr. Moody is survived by his wife, Mrs. Helen Brooks Moody, High Point, N. C.; a daughter, Mrs. J. L. Barnes, Gainesville, Florida; a son, M. T. Moody, High Point, N.C.; and a sister, Mrs. C. A. Neuber, Topeka, Kansas.

Memorial services were held on March 12 in High Point with burial in this city.

A group of Alpha Phi Omega Alumni have agreed to establish a Leslie E. Moody Memorial Scholarship Fund to honor the memory of Mr. Moody. It has been understood that contributions to the fund will accumulate until the principle amount has reached $2,000 before the first grant will be made. The scholarship will be awarded each year thereafter to a deserving student in good standing and a Human Relations major. Contributions may be made to the fund and also receive credit as a gift to the Annual Alumni Fund. It is hoped that it may be possible for the Scholarship Fund to grow well beyond the $2,000 minimum figure because, as with most such funds, it will be an open end arrangement with no established maximum principal amount. This is an excellent gesture on the part of the APO Fraternity alumni members and a fine way to honor the memory of a man loved by many.

"LITTLE THEATRE" -

A NEW FACILITY

A new "little theatre," in the Old Student Center, was used for the first time during the weekend of February 22-23 by high school and college students for the staging of district competition of the Carolina Dramatic Association.

The little theatre was constructed by the Theatre Arts Department and members of Alpha Psi Omega, the College's dramatic fraternity. The new campus facility seats about one hundred persons and can be used for theatrical productions, coffeehouses, piano and small ensemble recitals as well as other programs.

ELEVEN STUDENTS INDUCTED INTO ORDER OF THE LIGHTED LAMP

Eleven students have been named to the Order of the Lighted Lamp, the oldest honor society at the College and considered to be one of the highest honors which can be conferred upon a High Point College student. Membership is based upon scholarship, character, and leadership, and the honoree must have maintained an average of 1.75, attended High Point College for five semesters, and made outstanding contributions to the religious, social, and other extra-curricular activities on the campus.

TWO NEW DEGREE PROGRAMS

The Human Relations program is one which seeks to provide the best possible undergraduate background for a young person who is looking forward to professional leadership in youth-serving agencies. The program seeks to provide a broad understanding of the nature of social work, the philosophy of group work, and the psychology and sociology involved with working with people. The human relations program at High Point College is conducted in conjunction with American Humanics, Incorporated.

NOTICE TO FORMER TOWER PLAYERS

Alumni who were members of the Tower Players are asked to send their name and address to The Tower Players, in care of Fine Arts Department, High Point College, High Point, North Carolina 27262. From time to time you will be sent a newsletter of dramatic and fine arts events and other news items which will be of interest to you. This will be published by the Fine Arts Department of the College.

STUDENTS REQUEST PRAYER SERVICE

At the request of several students, Chaplain Charles P. Teague opened Charles B. Hayworth Memorial Chapel for a prayer vigil beginning at 10:30 p. m. on March 15 which continued 1:00 a. m. the next morning. Chaplain Teague reports that some fifty to sixty students came and left during the vigil. At 12:45 a. m., Chaplain Teague celebrated Holy Communion for those present.

TENNIS CAMP DATES ANNOUNCED

Dates for the annual High Point College Tennis Camp have been set as June 9-14, June 16-21, and June 23-28. The camp, which is both a day and resident camp for boys and girls, ages 9-18, has been expanded to three one-week sessions following a very successful 1973 season.

The camp is directed by Ray Alley, varsity coach at High Point College and twice NAIA District 26 Coach of the Year. Included on the staff will be several members of the Purple Panther tennis team which finished No. 4 nationally a year ago and several collegiate coaches. Instruction will be highly personalized to the ability of the individual players, who will be broken into beginner, intermediate and advanced divisions.

Teaching aids will be utilized, including the extensive use of instant replay video tape equipment, Prince ball thrower, and hitting boards. Off-court seminars and clinics will cover singles and doubles strategy, rules, history and traditions of tennis, court etiquette, first aid, and numerous instructional and feature films.

Resident campers will be housed in the new air-conditioned dormitory with the evening programs held in the newly completed Holt McPherson Campus Center. Fourteen courts will be utilized for both instruction and play.

Enrollment for each session will be limited and applications are presently being accepted. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Ray Alley at the Athletic department at High Point College.

AN APPEAL TO ALUMNI

"Have you heard about the time they put a cow in the tower of Roberts Hall?" This is a frequent response when someone learns that I am writing a history of High Point College. The answer is, Yes. Of course the cow was discovered in the second floor auditorium. What happened in the tower is another story.

I have learned about the Roberts Hall bell being mysteriously tolled at midnight and (vaguely) about the tower chimes playing "Little Brown Jug." A model T Ford (surreptitiously assembled) appeared in the faculty lounge of Roberts Hall. Halloween produced an outhouse between Roberts Hall and the Student Center.

What else happened? Important things like money and buildings and the coming and going of presidents will make up the bulk of the history. But student activities are important too, and in the memories of alumni pranks fill an important place.

A panty raid in 1957 incurred a resolution of "extreme disfavor" by the Student Legislature. A walkout from the dining room in 1945 created headlines in the Enterprise. If I remember right, Dr. Lindley told of a bombing raid on the High Point campus when Guilford students hired an airplane and dropped paper bags of red paint. Can anybody fill in the details?

Recollections of student activities - usual and unusual - are needed as part of the historical record. I don't promise to include everything: I already know of some things that ought not to be included. But every bit will help to paint a more complete picture of what has been happening in the past half century. Please write to me: address, High Point College.

FEBRUARY 16: TYPICAL HOMECOMING WEATHER!

Electrical failures, freezing rain, ice, sleet, cold - such was the order of the day, weatherwise, for Homecoming '74. Those Alumni who braved the elements found warmth, fellowship, and renewal of friendship among classmates.

In addition to class reunions for '29, '34, '39, '44, '49, '54, '59, '64, '69, and '73, two group reunions were held for former A Cappella Choir members and English majors. These affinity group reunions were well attended - choir members, reminiscent of tours and former and present conductors, enjoyed a surprisingly good tonal quality as voices blended in several selections. The English majors were entertained in the home of department chairman, Mrs. Emily Sullivan, who, with members of the department, hosted a luncheon for returning majors.

The Alumni were welcomed at the home of President and Mrs. Patton for an afternoon reception after which the Homecoming banquet was held in the Holt McPherson Campus Center. The Homecoming Queen and her court was presented prior to the HPC vs. Catawba basketball game in Alumni Gymnasium. Homecoming '74's queen is Miss Donna Walls, a sophomore from Richmond, Virginia. At the game which followed, High Point was victorious over Catawba, 84-67.

Members of the class of '29 joined in their reunion despite "typical Homecoming weather!"

A Cappella Choir members reminisce days they enjoyed by looking at scrapbooks that have been kept through the years of various tours which the choir made.

English majors enjoyed seeing new teaching techniques as well as discussing their vocations with each other.

Class of '64 reunion.

Miss Rosalie M. Andrews, '30 left, and Miss Dorothy V. Hoskins, '29, enjoy the Homecoming reception given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wendell M. Patton.

Have It Matched!

If you contribute to your college or university and are associated with one of the companies whose names appear in this listing, you can arrange to have a second gift sent to your alma mater, courtesy of your company.

Sound easy? Well, it is.

Perhaps the most pleasant aspect of gift matching, next to the good such contributions do, is how easily you can arrange to have them sent. Once you have made your gift, just inform the appropriate persons at your company that you've done so. A matching check will be sent to your college soon thereafter, indicating that your gift made the matching gift possible.

In effect, by matching your gift, your employer is recognizing the contribution which you, as an educated person, are making to your company. It's the boss' way of saying "thanks" to the college which helped to provide your education.

To be sure, gift matching is only one way in which businesses and corporations are assisting education. But it has become an increasingly significant source of annual support.

Won't you check over this listing to see if your company has such a program. If it does, take a moment to have your gift matched. You may be sure that both gifts will be gratefully received.

KEY TO THE LISTING

Remember that while nearly every program will match a gift to an institution, its alumni fund or receiving foundation, most exclude from matching such things as club or association dues or publication subscriptions. As a general rule, the program of a parent firm will apply to its divisions, subsidiaries and affiliated companies.

To receive more complete information on your company's program, contact it directly. To assist you in identifying the important provisions of these programs, some information has been coded in parentheses after each corporate title, as follows:

- 1 Four-year colleges and universities are eligible
- 2 Graduate and professional schools are eligible
- 3 Junior colleges are eligible
- all All three of the above are eligible
- epi Program excludes public institutions
- lpi Limited program for public institutions; percentage of public support or capital gifts may be restricted; regular program for private institutions
- epr Program excludes private institutions
- lpr Limited program for private institutions; regular program for public
- lim Program is informal or restricted to a limited number of specified institutions or employees
- sp Companies which will match gifts of a spouse (husband or wife) of an eligible employee
- n-a Will match gifts of non-alumni

HIGH POINT COLLEGE GIVEN ITS LARGEST GIFT

Mr. & Mrs. Holt McPherson

The highlight of the evening, on the occasion of the Golden Decade Recognition Dinner held May 14 on the campus, was the announcement that Mr. and Mrs. Holt McPherson have made a commitment to the Golden Decade Fund of properties and securities having a value in excess of one million dollars. The announcement was made by Bishop Earl G. Hunt, Presiding Bishop of the Western North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church. The McPhersons have been generous contributors to the ongoing life of the College and have made this generous gift for the specific purpose of providing endowment income for securing and maintaining a superior faculty.

A native of High Point, North Carolina, Mr. McPherson received his education in the High Point City Schools, the Bachelor of Arts degree in journalism from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and Catawba College in Salisbury, North Carolina conferred upon him the Doctor of Laws degree in 1963. A nationally known newspaper editor, he has edited THE SHELBY STAR, Shelby, North Carolina and THE HIGH POINT ENTERPRISE, High Point, North Carolina. In addition, he edited FURNITURE SOUTH and was a special writer for THE MIAMI FLORIDA HERALD. The donor has authored several books and has contributed voluminous articles to trade magazines and newspapers.

Mr. McPherson has been appointed to several boards and commissions on the national, state, and local level, and likewise has been the recipient of many awards because of his service. Currently, he is chairman of the North Carolina Medical Care Commission. He holds membership in many business and professional organizations and has been a leader in the City of High Point both in civic and church affairs. A member of Wesley Memorial United Methodist Church, he has been a member of its Official Board, a trustee, and headed his church's finances for the Building Committee, directing four campaigns during its building program.

Mrs. McPherson, the former Miss Elsie Greene, was born in Concord, North Carolina, but claims High Point is her native home in that her family lived in Concord until she was six months of age. Like her husband she received her education in the City Schools of High Point. (She and Mr.

LOUISE ADAMS OUTSTANDING ALUMNA

At left, Robert B. Rankin, '38, presents outstanding Alumna award to M. Louise Adams, '29. Miss Adams has been associated with the College since 1933.

Myra Louise Adams was presented the 1974 Alumna of the Year award at the Alumni-Senior Banquet on May 10. This annual meeting of the Alumni Association was held in the cafeteria of the Holt McPherson Campus Center. The presentation to Miss Adams was made by Robert B. Rankin, '38, the 1971 recipient of the coveted award, and in making the presentation he cited Miss Adams for her "devotion and loyalty to her Alma Mater in every phase of its life and work."

A native of Randolph County, North Carolina, Miss Adams is the daughter of the late A. O. and Pearl Chamness Adams. Receiving the Bachelor of Arts degree in mathematics from High Point College in 1929, she was awarded the Master of Arts degree in mathematics from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill the following year. Upon receiving the latter degree she taught at Davenport College in Lenoir, North Carolina until it closed in 1933.

In 1933, Louise Adams began an association with High Point College which continues to the present. She was an associate professor of mathematics until 1969 when she became a full time assistant in the College Affairs division. Active in the organization and ongoing

The Class of 1974 march to their places in front of Roberts Hall for Commencement on May 19. The M. J. Wrenn Memorial Library is seen in the background.

Commencement 1974, held on May 19 on the steps of Roberts Hall, saw High Point College confer two hundred and forty-two bachelor degrees.

The speaker for the occasion was an Alumnus of High Point College, United States District Judge Robert H. Merhige, Jr., '42, of Richmond, Virginia. The Honorable Mr. Merhige expressed the belief that the Class of 1974 is mature enough to realize that even with "U.S. failings," as he called them, "America is still the greatest country in the world. I believe this country can fulfill our hopes and aspirations." He urged the graduates to alleviate injustice by means of affirmative action along with total commitment.

Dr. Earl P. Crow, chairman of the Religion and Philosophy Department at the College, received the John C. and Kathleen Y. Foy Distinguished Teaching-Service Award. He is the first recipient of the award given by Mr. and Mrs. Foy. The award recognizes outstanding classroom performance, interest in students as expressed through availability for advising, sponsorship of student activities organizations, community and church interest, production of scholarly papers, articles, books and monographs, evident interest in professional growth by attendance and participation in professional meetings and organizations. Dr. Crow was selected by ballot to be this year's recipient by his colleagues.

Dean J. Hobart Allred receives the honorary Doctor of Humanities degree during Commencement on May 19.

Receiving honorary doctorate degrees were J. Hobart Allred, Miss E. Vera Idol, and Nathaniel P. Yarborough. (See HIGHPOINTS, Volume 50, Number 2 for biographical sketches of these recipients.)

The Alumni Association congratulates the Class of 1974 upon its achievement and welcomes each graduating senior into its membership.

McPHERSON

McPherson graduated from High Point High School in 1924, and on May 10 of this year they were active in the Fiftieth Reunion of their high school graduating class. (Mr. McPherson is permanent Class Chairman.) During her early years, Mrs. McPherson was a member of South Main Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South, where she served as organist. In later years as a member of Wesley Memorial United Methodist Church she was President of the Women's Society of Christian Service. She has been the strongest supporter of her husband and has given him the needful support which successful men need today.

The nearly 300 workers and contributors in attendance at the dinner were told that this generous gift, the largest ever made to the College, putting the Third Phase over the top with total pledges and gifts of $2,800,000. It also put the original ten year goal of $10,000,000 over its mark.

Dr. Wendell M. Patton expressed the gratitude of the College for the many fine areas of support and the generosity of its many friends. He expressed the hope that the McPhersons' gift may interest others in the value of High Point College as an investment.

life of the Alumni Association, she also administered the College's Placement Office for several years. She has continually had an insight into the effectiveness of Alumni work which has enabled those attending and graduating from High Point College to know the strength of their Alumni Office. Such insight has resulted in Louise Adams being one of the organizers of Alumni Chapters in Forsyth County, Alamance County, and Greensboro, North Carolina.

Active in the work of her church and community, Miss Adams is a member of Bethel United Methodist Church in Randolph County where she is an adult Sunday School teacher, a member of the Official Board, and Chairman of the Ecumenical Affairs Committee. She is the immediate past president of High Point's Furniture Capital Chapter of American Business Women's Association in which she has held all elective offices except treasurer, and she is treasurer of the local Beta Omicron Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma.

The editors of HIGHPOINTS and the Alumni Association wish to extend their congratulations and appreciation to Louise Adams for the well deserved recognition which has come her way in being named Alumna of the Year for 1974.

THREE HPC PROFESSORS RETIRE

During Commencement on May 19 three High Point College professors received citations for their services to High Point College. Those long-time teachers at the College who retired this spring are Dr. Lew J. Lewis, Professor of Music; Dr. Charles Eugene Mounts, Professor of English; and, Dr. Christopher L. Wilson, Professor and Distinguished Lecturer of Chemistry. They also received gifts at the Trustees Annual Commencement Luncheon in the Holt McPherson Campus Center at noon.

Dr. Lewis has taught at the College for twenty-two years, Dr. Mounts for twelve years; and Dr. Wilson for thirteen years. Dr. Lewis was director of the College band and a member of the College's Academic Policies Committee and a board member of the North Carolina Symphony, High Point's Arts Council, and the Community Concert Association. Dr. Mounts was named to Phi Beta Kappa, "Who's Who in the South and Southwest", and "Director of American Scholars." He served as HPC's faculty secretary and a member of several committees including executive, advisory council on teacher education, athletic council, and publications. He is active in groups concerned with hiking, bird study, and theatrical productions. Dr. Wilson was named to "Dictionary of International Biography," "World Who's Who in Science," "International Who's Who in Community Service," "Who's Who in America," and several other national and regional publications. He holds membership in Sigma Xi and Phi Lambda Upsilon. Dr. Wilson is owner and-or inventor of seventeen United States and seventy-five foreign issued patents. He is a member of international, national, and regional organizations including the Piedmont Society for Paint Technology.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION ACCEPTS $150,000 CHALLENGE

In its annual meeting on May 10, 1974, the Alumni Association of High Point College voted to accept the challenge of a goal of Alumni giving for $150,000 to be given over a five year period, June 1, 1974 - May 31, 1979. (Alumni giving is defined as the unrestricted gift to the College, and this will be remembered as formerly the Loyalty Fund by the Alumni.) Over the five year period goals have been established for each fiscal year and these goals will be the pivotal point for the Annual Giving Fund. The Executive Committee was given authority to designate these givings for a project acceptable to the Alumni Association. This gift, on the part of Alumni, is within the framework of the Golden Decade Program which culminated on May 31 of this year.

Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of the College, "recognized this Alumni Challenge as a milestone for High Point College, as our Alumni again recognize the vast importance of their Alma Mater as others seek Christian Higher Education. Many of our Alumni have supported the College in past years with their gifts, and I am confident that they will be faithful in fulfilling their new obligation."

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OFFICERS AND EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEMBERS ELECTED

As specified in its constitution and by-laws, officers and members of the executive committee of the Alumni Association of High Point College for the 1974-75 year have been elected by ballot. ## MANY ALUMNI AND FRIENDS ENJOYING TRAVEL OPPORTUNITIES

Since entering the travel program the Alumni Association in cooperation with the Greensboro Regional College Consortium, has offered three trips during 1974. These travel opportunities have included London, April 13-21, Hawaii, June 8-15, and this fall a trip to Bavaria, September 23 - October 1. Many Alumni have made inquiries into these trips, and several have traveled with our groups.

Those traveling to London during the Easter vacation were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Miller, Mrs. Jane Saunders, Ms. Ann M. Wilhoit, and Ms. Elizabeth Wilhoit.

On June 8, the Alumni and friends left the Greensboro Regional Airport for the Hawaii Holiday: Mr. and Mrs. David Auman, Miss Kathy Black, Mr. Michael E. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Dan W. Chance, Dr. and Mrs. Dennis H. Cooke, Mrs. Hilda Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Disher, Mrs. Wade H. Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Jones, Miss Jill Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Langstaff, Miss Cindy Maley, Mrs. E. A. Means, Mr. and Mrs. H. Eugene Morris, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Gurney L. Stroud, III, Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Watson, Mr. John B. Wells, and Dr. Christopher L. Wilson.

The Bavarian Holiday, scheduled for departure from the Greensboro Regional Airport, September 23 is a complete sellout.

Watch a fall issue of HIGHPOINTS in which announcement will be made of the 1975 travel opportunities which will be available for our Alumni and friends.

NEW FORMAT OF HIGHPOINTS

This current issue of HIGHPOINTS in the form of a broadside is one of the best possible ways of getting more news to Alumni and friends of the College. In an era of inflation, the editors are continuing to explore new avenues for presenting an attractive issue of HIGHPOINTS and, at the same time they are "watching the budget." The next issue of your Alumni publication will be the July-August issue which will be a magazine format, complete with a final report of the 1973-74 Annual Giving Fund.

ERRATA

Our account of the creation of the Leslie E. Moody Memorial Scholarship Fund appearing in the March-April issue of HIGHPOINTS should have read: A group of Alumni of the Human Relations Department of High Point College have agreed to establish a Leslie E. Moody Scholarship Fund to honor the memory of Mr. Moody. The story stated the fund was created by Alumni of the Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity. We are sorry for the misunderstanding which created the error.

NEW GUIDANCE PROGRAM INITIATED

A new guidance program for the High Point College area, called "Evaluating Your Career Potential", has had great success according to those persons closely involved with the program.

Great success was made with helping high school students make successful choices concerning their futures, specifically in making inroads into career choices for which they may be suited.

Also success was observed in decisions concerned with the formal education which the students will need in order to be successful in chosen career areas, reports the program's director, Robert A. Wells, Jr.

Robert A. Wells, Jr.

The following was said of the program by Mrs. Christine Greene, guidance counselor at Ragsdale High School: "Everything I have seen about it is real good. The one student I talked with felt that the counseling and individual attention was so beneficial."

"The person doing the counseling was very knowledgeable about many areas and was able to help the student see a relationship between his aptitude potential and interests and job areas."

Persons interested in the program are asked to contact the High Point College Admissions Office or Wells at 919-885-5101 and 919-885-4445. High school guidance counselors in the area may also be contacted for information about the program which is designed for fifteen to nineteen-year-olds.

The program consists of one's participation in a series of tests concerned with personality and interest traits. Sessions on how to take tests and on improving study habits are held, and individualized follow-up counseling and personal interpretations and suggestions concerning one's future career choice are offered also.

Many young people spend an endless amount of time and effort for education and training in fields that are not compatible with their interests or abilities say those involved in the program.

Those involved in the program hope that analysis of each participant's personality traits, skills and interests will help one make more realistic choices concerning vocational and education decisions.

The program is a first for this area in that it is now available to students who reside in this area of North Carolina.

CHEERLEADING CAMP AT HPC

The Program will include basic cheerleading gymnastics, lifts and mounts, cheers and chants, pom-pom routines, spirit projects, fashion and costume design, and individual and group jumps and cheer routines.

Trophies and ribbons will be presented to outstanding squads during the week with a cash award presented to the Grand Champion squad at the end of the session. Emphasis will be upon learning and sharing with a close and personal relationship between campers and staff.

Additional information, including cost, reporting times, etc., may be obtained by writing to the Camp Director at the Athletic Department at High Point College. Enrollment will be limited and early registration is urged to assure space in the camp.

The Quality of Excellence

President Wendell M. Patton, Jr. discusses High Point College with Raymond A.
Petrea, the new director of information services

Dr. Patton, for the newcomer as well as for the alumnus who has been away for a while, where is the starting point to become acquainted with High Point College?

The starting point is with the people. I'm talking about the students and the faculty. The vast majority of our faculty are warm, approachable people who are interested in the personal welfare of every single student. This is true out on the campus or in their offices as well as in the classrooms and I think the high degree of this interest is one of the unique things about High Point College.

Lots of colleges say those things. Do we have evidence that it is actually true here?

Yes. The Visiting Committee of the Southern Association, the regional accrediting agency, in its report just a few months ago, said it had seen the unusual friendliness between the students and the faculty. They reported that the interest of the faculty in the individual student went beyond the classroom.

How do the students respond?

You should walk across the campus with any administrator or faculty member. The students will give you a friendly greeting, stop and talk, exchange jets, or have a generally cordial manner. The point is, the faculty recognizes that the students are first of all people and the students give the faculty the same recognition. Our faculty members have a high degree of feeling responsible for the total life of the institution. For instance, faculty members were about to contact prospective students. This grew out of a Central Committee effort to assist in enrollment. Typing facilities were to be furnished to the faculty members so their letters would be a minimum burden on them. But as it turned out, many of them wrote their letters in long-hand and the response from prospective students was so positive that I'm sure similar plans next year will include longhand letters.

How do you account for this kind of faculty involvement?

I think we are seeing the truth of how nothing succeeds like success. The students sense this positive approach and they respond positively to it. This student response stimulates the faculty. We are truly in a cycle of success.

What is the underlying philosophy of High Point College?

High Point College is a Christian college dedicated to the pursuit of excellence in learning. We respect the liberal arts tradition and we emphasize its values. At the same time, we believe in preparation for careers and career development. The liberal arts education is by far the most practical kind of education. In a technical education, the material is outdated as soon as it appears in print. But when you study science, history, economics, literature, or art, then you are dealing with topics of lasting value. Since we can't predict the changes ahead in the world, we have to prepare for everything.

How well is High Point College meeting this dedication to excellence?

Better than most similar institutions, I think, and still not as well as we should. Beyond that, what I want is for a visitor on this campus to sense and feel the spirit of Jesus Christ here and to know without being told that this is a Christian college.

How do you characterize the college's relationship to the Methodist church?

First, I believe Methodists are doing more for higher education than any other church I know of. They know how to nurture a college without smothering it; they know how to preserve academic freedom in pursuit of truth. And they know how to support High Point College. The Western North Carolina Conference gives the College about $217,000 annually and the North Carolina Conference, about $10, - to $15,000 annually.

How much growth is still ahead for the college in the immediate future?

Actually, we don't plan to become any bigger. It's not that we are deliberately planning not to grow; it's just that our plans for the immediate future don't include a certain figure that our enrollment has to reach. Our goal is better instruction, not more buildings. We build for improvement, not for the sake of getting larger. However, our present buildings and faculty could take care of 200 more students without being crowded. In the immediate future, I believe we must look for innovative ways to demonstrate the practicality of the liberal arts education for young men and women in high school. Young people don't automatically decide to come to college anymore. We need to demonstrate why they should. To do this, we need new projects, new programs, and we must enter new ventures.

Has the Golden Decade Fund achieved its goals?

Yes. It has done what we said it should do, in that we have pledges and payments for the endowment, and plans for the library and the gymnasium. We are not building the men's dormitory originally planned because changing life styles - some students want to live off-campus - suggest it would be wise for us to wait a while before investing in a dorm.

What do you see ahead for the College?

That depends on what we do with our assets. We have a tradition of service to the community and to the region that we intend to uphold. We offer the kind of personalized education that respects the integrity of the individual. We will not compromise the quality of education we offer. We must help young people find their places in the world where they can make contributions. We must work harder to show our young people what can be done with this kind of education, and education of quality.

Look at our humanics program - one of four in the nation - or the contract program, or the World Campus Afloat. If we can continue the kind of progress that these and other programs suggest, then we can reach our goals. In fact, to survive, we must.

The Golden Decade Fund—A Success Story

The Third Phase of the Golden Decade fund was the most successful campaign ever conducted by High Point College. The campaign ended on May 31 with $3,006,115 in gifts and pledges, exceeding the minimum goal of $2,150,000 by nearly a million dollars. The success of the Third Phase also assured the success of the original Golden Decade goal of $10,000,000. The gift from Holt and Elsie McPherson of $1,000,000 was the largest single commitment ever received by the College. The McPhersons and the College hope this contribution will be an incentive for other contributions, whether large or small.

402 individuals, businesses, and foundations all contributed to the overwhelming success of the Third Phase.

A year ago, High Point College's alumni and friends were faced with their largest challenge. Along with the faith that the challenge could be met, we had some questions and uncertainties. The final year of the Golden Decade was upon us and there was no margin for failure. These same tense feelings must have been experienced by members of the Long-Range Planning Committee in 1962 when they developed the ten-year projection of priority needs for the College. In 1964 dollars, the minimum needs came to $10,000,000. We have fulfilled the challenge put before us then.

Funds received are to be allocated with the following priorities: $1,000,000 to be added to the endowment for faculty support and increased scholarship funds; $750,000 for library addition; and $400,000 for an auxiliary gymnasium. As gifts are received, they will be forwarded to the designated purposes. We have suggested preliminary plans for the two building projects. Groundbreaking will more nearly coincide with the actual availability of the funds for use; some pledges have been made over a five year period.

Our deep appreciation goes to Dr. Charles F. Carroll, general campaign chairman, and members of the Steering Committee. The campaign was successful because of their leadership and the dedicated help of the division chairmen and the large number of workers who called on contributors.

Steering Committee members include Holt McPherson, Charles E. Hayworth, James H. Millis, J. Harriss Covington, Herman H. Smith, Robert T. Amos, Jr., Jack H. Campbell, Earl N. Phillips, Jr., Murphy M. Osborne, I. Paul Ingle, Leo J. Heer, Dr. Wendell M. Patton, Cletus H. Kruyer, Earl G. Dalbey and Howard E. Covington.

Howard Covington, professional director for the campaign, did an outstanding job in the management and direction of campaign activities.

The Golden Decade Fund was successful. Now will High Point College stop the fund-raising activity? All who cherish and respect High Point College will answer with a grateful and emphatic "No."

The College must meet new challenges and new needs with new and changing programs. The College can stop its search for funds only when it is ready to stop its progress and service. Consequently, continuing contacts must be made. The pledges for the Golden Decade, many of them spread over five years, must receive regular attention from the College. Even with its success, the Fund was devised to meet the minimum needs for the College to attract good students. The competition in recruiting new students is never-ending.

In addition, inflation has created new demands on the operating budget as well as on the scholarship funds. In order to keep High Point College the superior institution we want it to be, we must continue to make financial contributions. At the same time, the College is exerting every effort to find new sources for gifts and grants. We welcome any suggestion or lead. We will be pleased to share financial information with anyone who would like to identify our needs more fully.

Inquiries about the Golden Decade Fund or any of the development activities of the College are welcomed at the College Affairs Office.

Four Chapters Report Activities

Four chapters of the Alumni Association have had worth-while activities during the summer months.

As reported elsewhere on this page, the Forsyth Chapter gave a scholarship to Mr. Robbie McClearn, a fall freshman entering High Point College. It is notable that this is the first scholarship to be awarded by any of our chapters.

On Sunday afternoon, June 9 the Forsyth Chapter hosted their annual summer picnic at Miller Park in Winston-Salem. This is an annual event on the part of this chapter and one to which the membership looks forward. The chapter president is Donna Lawrence Staley '63, and she is to be commended, along with her officers, for the splendid assistance they give the College.

The North Carolina United Methodist Conference Alumni Chapter had its annual dinner on Tuesday, June 4, in the cafeteria of Methodist College in Fayetteville. The speaker for the evening was Dr. Murphy M. Osborne '58, Vice President for Student Affairs. New officers were elected for the year, and they are Tyree S. Lindley '33, president; Earl Richardson '48, vice president; and, James C. P. Brown '48, secretary-treasurer.

On Thursday, June 6, The Western North Carolina United Methodist Conference Alumni Chapter held its annual breakfast at Lambuth Inn at Lake Junaluska. Newly elected officers include Larry D. Wilkinson '58, president; and, Dwight E. Whitlock '59, vice president. The Reverend Charles P. Teague '68, Chaplain of High Point College was the speaker for the breakfast this year.

The High Point Chapter held a summer executive committee meeting at the home of its president, Nido R. Qubein '70. Plans were made for the coming year's activities, and there was the genuine interest expressed by the committee that the High Point area Alumni would seek to become actively involved in this project which is sponsored by the Alumni Association.

Forsyth Chapter Awards First Scholarship

The Forsyth County Alumni Chapter

has awarded its first scholarship in the amount of $200.00 to Robbie D. McClearn. Robbie, who lives at 1420 Brewer Road in Winston-Salem, North Carolina with his grandmother, Mrs. Mable Owens, plans to study medical technology at the College this fall.

A 1974 graduate of Parkland Senior High School, Robbie was an honor roll student, a member of the French Club and the Art Club. His hobbies include crafts, sculpture, drawing, and painting. Music is also one of his favorite pastimes and he has participated in the annual performance of George F. Handel's "Messiah," which is under the auspices of Winston-Salem's Mozart Club. Robbie also enjoys reading and hiking.

In the twin city he is employed part time by the Winston-Salem - Forsyth County Library System.

The Forsyth Chapter is to be commended for awarding its first scholarship, as well as the first scholarship given by any Alumni Chapter, under the direction of their current president, Mrs. Donna Lawrence Staley '63.

HPC Expecting Enrollment Increase

High Point College is expecting to enroll 1,050 students in September for an increase of some thirty students over last year. All dormitory rooms will have double occupancy with no private rooms available. College officials have said they can accept a few more day students.

During this year, there has been a 21.3 per cent increase in applications over 1972-73. Two factors which possibly can be attributed to the increase are the State of North Carolina program for students with a financial need to attend private colleges and universities in North Carolina, and the active involvement of faculty and Alumni in talking to prospective students and recommending the College to them.

There has been a 31.9 per cent increase in North Carolina applications over last year, and other states showing a definite increase in applications include Virginia and Florida. Several states have remained constant from last year's number of applications received in the Admissions Office.

Our admissions personnel have expressed their appreciation to our Alumni for assisting and recommending prospective students. Since last September, Alumni contributing to the annual fund have received prospective student recommendation cards. Their response in returning these inquiry cards to the Admissions has been most gratifying. This effort to find worthy, well qualified students is continuing this year. Other Alumni may receive a supply of the recommendation cards upon request to the Alumni Office.

High Point College had 1,020 students last academic year including 250 new and 89 transfer students. The predicted figures for this coming September includes 275 new students and 115 transfers. Returning students will bring the total to 1,050 for the four-year liberal arts United Methodist related school.

Students applying for admission in September are required to deposit $100 as a guarantee that they will enroll as planned, following the acceptance of their application. Fifty more prospective students have paid the deposit this year than by the same date last year.

The College awarded forty scholarships to new students on the basis of their academic qualifications alone, the largest number in a single year. Other scholarships were given on the basis of personal need.

Fifteen additional awards were Presidential Scholarships, offered to students with high SAT scores and in the top two per cent of graduating high school seniors. The awards were offered to fifteen high school graduates and all have been accepted for study at the College this fall.

HPC COMPLETES DOMINATING SEASON

For the second straight season, High Point College was a dominate force of championship power in District 26 of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). The Purple Panthers fielded teams in seven varsity sports for men and captured four NAIA District 26 championships. Four sports fielded women's teams with all four enjoying successful seasons.

The Panthers captured district titles in tennis (for the third straight year); cross country (for the fifth straight year); track, and baseball. In addition to these, they finished number three in the district in soccer and second in the conference as well as fifth in the district in golf. Basketball, while not finishing high in standings, did produce its first NAIA All-American since 1969 as senior center, Pete Collins, was named to the number three team.

The Panthers participated on the national level in track, tennis, and baseball. The baseball team captured the area playoffs for the second time in two years and advanced to the NAIA World Series in Saint Joseph, Missouri. They were ranked number five nationally in the final NAIA baseball poll.

The tennis team captured its third straight finish among the nation's Top Fifteen small college teams with a number fourteen finish in the nationals in Kansas City, Missouri. In addition to the district title, the Panthers took their second straight Carolinas Conference crown and swept the annual Campbell College Invitational. They won eight of the nine individual conference titles and played five players on the All-District 26 squad.

Eight school marks were either tied or broken in track and javelin. Mike Bogdon finished number fifteen nationally this spring. The Panthers were 6-1 in dual meets, and their conference and district titles followed the outstanding cross country season that saw two High Point College performers named to the All-District 26 squad.

The golf team had its first winning season in seven years with a squad composed mainly of freshmen. The squad finished number one in the league in addition to the fifth spot in the district.

In basketball, it was a story of close-but-not-close-enough. The Panthers posted a 10-19 record, but lost eight games by three points or less. They still had a victory over defending national champion, Guilford College, and the play of Pete Collins was outstanding. The 6' 8" center set a new four year rebounding mark with a total of 1,661 recoveries and became the Panther's first All-American since Gene Littles was named to that honor in 1969. Collins was also drafted in the NBA draft by the Washington Bullits.

The soccer team closed strong with a basically freshman-sophomore squad to finish second in the conference and third in the district with two players being named to the All-District team and two to the All-Conference squad.

Five Panthers were named to the All-District baseball squad and four to the All-Carolinas Conference team. The Panthers took the regular season league title with a 32-8 mark; their fourth straight thirty win season. Home run records, both team and individual, fell as Otis Foster and Danny Goins slammed sixteen each as the Panthers collected a national record of sixty round trippers.

For the year, the Panthers captured eight team titles in the seven varsity sports for men, had nineteen athletes to make All-Conference teams, and seventeen to make the All-District squads.

In addition to these honors, Bob Davidson was named Coach-of-the-Year in the district cross country and conference track, while Ray Alley was named tennis Coach-of-the-Year in both district and conference and was one of five coaches nominated for National Coach-of-the-Year in NAIA.

AN EXPRESSION OF GRATITUDE

This year culminates fifty years of Christian higher education as offered by High Point College. The community of High Point is far richer in many ways because of the existence of this United Methodist Church related institution.

Many of the programs which have been initiated at the College would probably not have been possible had it not been for Alumni support. Financial assistance is only one of the many ways in which our Alumni can give to their Alma Mater. Such financial backing is needed and appreciated. Yet, our former students have given of their time, interests, and talents to the institution they admire and appreciate.

In an age when many good, private colleges are facing multiple problems, even to the extent of closing their doors, High Point College remains able to offer a high quality education in addition to professional training in selected areas. Our College will continue in its quality tradition if our Alumni and friends will maintain their fine role of support.

I am grateful for your loyalty and interest for your College which constantly seeks to uphold a noble effort of developing worthy citizens.

Wendell M. Patton,
President, High Point College

Dr. Wendell M. Patton

Mrs. Dell C. Johnson

Our Alumni Association has made great strides during the past fiscal year. Many new services have been initiated by our Director of Alumni Affairs. With travel opportunities, activities of the Golden Decade, and our Fiftieth Anniversary, more exciting opportunities are planned for the future of our Alumni.

The 1973-74 ANNUAL ALUMNI FUND REPORT is included in this issue of HIGHPOINTS. As can readily be seen, many contributions were received, but certainly more gifts will be needed for us to reach our $150,000 pledge to the Golden Decade Fund. My personal gratitude goes to each Alumnus who worked — Class Chairmen and Class Agents and countless others — to make this year's Alumni contributions as successful as they were.

Our Alumni Association is only as strong as we want it to be. As your officers and executive committee are continually working on plans and activities for each of you, please share your suggestions, advice, and ideas so that we can best serve you.

Dell Conrad Johnson '61
President, Alumni Association

IN APPRECIATION OF OUR LEADERS

Our ANNUAL ALUMNI FUND has been under the direction, during this past fiscal year, of National Chairman Robert B. Rankin '38. Mr. Rankin is a partner in the insurance firm of Haywood and Rankin, Incorporated in High Point, North Carolina.

A most active Alumnus, he served as president of the Alumni Association for two years, 1969-71, and this was preceded by two years as vice president of the association. He was the 1971 recipient of the Outstanding Alumnus Award at High Point College.

Through the years, Bob Rankin has untiringly given of himself to the service of his community, his Alma Mater, and his church. He is a past president of several organizations including High Point Jaycees, High Point Rotary Club, High Point Chapter of the American Red Cross, and the High Point Chamber of Commerce. In First United Methodist Church of High Point he serves as treasurer and is a former chairman of the Official Board.

A native of High Point, he is married to the former Miss Nanabeth Null, a member of the Class of '41, and they are the parents of two children Mrs. Nancy R. Lothian and Robert Blair Rankin, Jr.

The Alumni Association is most appreciative of the work which this loyal and faithful Alumnus has rendered to his Alma Mater. Much of the success of this year's ANNUAL GIVING FUND can be attributed to his interest in the betterment of High Point College.

Robert B. Rankin '38

W. Joseph May '41

Under the splendid leadership of Dr. W. Joseph May '41, our Advanced Giving Program enjoyed its greatest success. (Advanced giving is that part of the Annual Alumni Fund which contacts Alumni, seeking an advanced gift early in the fiscal year.)

Dr. May is a native of Thomasville, North Carolina, and after graduating from High Point College he received the Doctor of Medicine degree from Bowman Gray School of Medicine in 1944. After completing his internship and residency in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, he spent two years in the United States Army Medical Corps. From 1949-55 he was in private practice in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, and since 1955 he has been associated in different capacities with Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest University. Presently he is Associate Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at that institution.

A member of numerous medical associations and societies, Dr. May is also a prolific writer in his chosen fields and has made many notable contributions to medical journals.

Dr. and Mrs. May are the parents of four children, of which two sons are students at High Point College. He has been a loyal supporter of his undergraduate Alma Mater and served as its Alumni Association President, 1952-54.

The Alumni Association is grateful for this most recent leadership which Dr. May has afforded as chairman of our Advanced Giving Program. This is only one of the many ways in which he has served High Point College through the years.

Dr. Locke reviews fifty years at opening convocation

Kreskin, Gregory, highlight special fall events

TWO nationally-known personalities will headline special events at High Point College this fall. Also scheduled are concerts, films, and lectures. Most events are open to the public and some require tickets.

Kreskin, billed as a "mentalist," will demonstrate his amazing feats of extra-sensory perception on November 11, at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Auditorium. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Parents to be guests

PARENTS DAY is scheduled for November 16 with events planned to give parents a close look at the College. Activities include the premier of a slide show to be used in recruiting students, by alumni groups, and in general college relations.

Parents will hear a review of the new mentor program which provides each freshman a year-long advisor and counselor from the faculty or staff. The Tower Players will offer their first play of the season on Saturday evening.

Parents Associates will elect officers at a brief meeting. Current officers are president, William H. Chadwick, Greensboro; vice president, Ed J. Taylor, East Norwich, N. Y.; and secretary, Cletus H. Kruyer, Jamestown.

Board members are Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Carlson, Rockville, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chadwick, Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Garrett, High Point; Mr. and Mrs. James Porter, Shelby; Mr. and Mrs. Ed J. Taylor, East Norwich, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Herald H. Hughes, Jr., Maitland, Fla.; The Rev. and Mrs. Ardis D. Payne, Thomasville; and Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Lee Shaw, Gibsonville.

Kreskin is particularly noted for inviting his sponsor to conceal his check for the appearance somewhere in the audience. He then locates it through ESP and has found his check over the years in such diverse places as a man's upper plate and inside the binding of a book.

Dick Gregory, comedian and civil rights lecturer, will appear on November 21, at 7 p.m. in the auditorium. Gregory has successfully combined his career of night club entertainer and worker for civil rights of blacks.

The Community Concert Series in Memorial Auditorium begins with a ballet performance by the North Carolina Dance Theatre on October 8. The Winston-Salem Symphony will appear on October 16, and Claude Frank, pianist, on November 19. All performances are at 8 p.m.

Classic films will be shown in the Holt McPherson Campus Center on September 19 and November 18, at 8 p.m. Sponsored by the Writer's Club of the College, the showings of old movies will be followed by discussion and analysis.

Four lecturers from the Piedmont University Center will speak to classes or groups of students. They are: Dr. Paul R. Halmos, professor of mathematics, Indiana University, on October 3; Dr. Eunice Moore, professor of English, Clark College, on October 7; Dr. Robin M. Williams, professor of sociology, Cornell University, on October 9;

Dr. R. L. Brummet, professor of accounting, UNC-Chapel Hill, October 29; and Dr. LeMar P. Miller, professor of education, New York University, on November 13.

HIGH POINT COLLEGE celebrated its fiftieth anniversary with a family reunion on September 11. The students filled most of Memorial Auditorium while the faculty sat on the front rows in their academic garb. Four of the original 1924 faculty members were there, plus the first graduate and other personalities from the early days.

Dr. William R. Locke, the family historian, reviewed the first fifty years with anecdotes, facts, and observations. He even admitted there is a "permanent generation gap between students and the Establishment" — and both the students and the Establishment loved it.

"While the faculty provide continuity, stability, and a link with the past, the students are the growing edge, the innovators, the ones who bring change," he said.

He recounted the 2-year struggle the students had in persuading "the Establishment" that dancing should be allowed on campus. "So if you find the Establishment is slow to allow change, be patient with them" he said to the students. "They are needed for stability and continuity."

He said the faculty does not claim to know all that has been thought or said in the world, but they can relate students to it and teach them how to become acquainted with it. The faculty, he said, is the link with the past.

"College is a meeting place of the past and the future. The faculty represents the past and the students represent the future. The buildings represent the place where they meet," he concluded.

Dr. Locke was introduced by Dr. Harold E. Conrad, professor of history and social sciences. He said no professor was "more beloved or had influenced the temper of the student body more" than Dr. Locke. The applause after Dr. Locke's speech seemed to support Dr. Conrad's assessment.

To open the convocation, Chaplain Charles Teague quoted scripture, made a brief comment, and then introduced Donnah Harrington, Thomasville, who sang "The Impossible Dream." She was accompanied by Toni Taylor, Archdale. It was, in fact, just a family reunion with everybody enjoying the occasion.

New faculty, staff and advisors program for 1974-75

SIX FACULTY MEMBERS, three administrative staff personnel, and 450 students joined High Point College for the fall term and a new advisory system was started for incoming students.

The faculty members are listed with the department they are joining and a summary of their credentials:

Mrs. Michael E. Quinto, physical education, M.S., University of Virginia; A.B., Winthrop College. She has taught previously in secondary schools in High Point, New York, South Carolina, and Virginia.

Mrs. Cynthia E. Stanley, English; A.B., High Point College. She was employed in High Point before resuming her education, graduating from High Point College in 1974. She was a dean's list student and a member of the College Scholastic Honor Society.

Dr. Marylin O. Karmel, education; Ph.D., UNC-Greensboro; M.A., UNC-Chapel Hill; A.B., School of Art Institute, Chicago. She has taught previously at the University of Kentucky, at UNC-Chapel Hill, and in the public schools of Hillsborough.

Dr. Richard R. Bennington, business administration and economics; Ph.D., University of Georgia; M.A., VPI & SU; A.B., Emory & Henry College. He has taught previously at Virginia Tech, Averett College, and at the University of Georgia.

Dr. David Kenneth Linn, chemistry; Ph.D., University of Arizona; A.B., University of Dayton. He will teach the industry-requested course on polymer Coatings, reinstated last year after a lapse since 1967. He has taught at Pima Junior College, Tucson, and at the University of Arizona.

A. Lynn Lockrow, fine arts; M.A., UNC-Greensboro; A.B., East Tennessee State University. He taught in Charlotte-Mecklenberg schools and for two years was technical director of "The Lost Colony" at Manteo.

Administrative staff additions are Elaine Conklin, Martha Harris, and Mrs. Ann Boyles. Miss Conklin and Miss Harris are admissions counselors.

Miss Conklin is a 1974 graduate of High Point College, where she was selected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" in recognition of her student leadership. She will maintain residence in Whippany, New Jersey and visit counselors and students in New Jersey, Delaware, and Pennsylvania.

Miss Harris earned her undergraduate and master's degrees from Appalachian State University. She taught the vocational program for mentally handicapped children in Caldwell County for three years and, at the same time, taught interior decorating at Caldwell Community College.

Mrs. Boyles is assistant dean of students. She earned her undergraduate degree at UNC-Chapel Hill and her master's degree at UNC-Greensboro. She is an active member of the Greensboro Jayettes, the United Arts Council, and the American Association of Teachers of French.

All faculty members met for three days immediately prior to the opening in September to discuss matters of mutual interest. These included faculty and curriculum development, the cultural events program, the new developmental reading program, and a new advisory system.

In the new advisory system, nearly half the faculty each accepted ten freshmen and transfer students for "social and cultural exchanges." Suggestions for activities, coming from the Central Committee of the college, include lunch or dinner meetings, group attendance at a social or cultural event, visits by the individual students to the faculty member's home, and individual conferences on the campus.

Each faculty and administrative member in the program is being encouraged to use his own "talents and wisdom to guide students toward a liberal arts education," said a spokesman for the Central Committee.

"Mame" on stage

THE FAMED Broadway musical "Mame" has been tentatively selected as the fall presentation of the Tower Players on November 14-16 with visiting parents invited to the final performance. Curtain time is 8 p.m. each evening.

Mrs. Carolyn Rauch, assistant professor of theatre arts, is the director. She will be assisted by Jim Shover, Medford, N. J., a senior drama major.

Supported by a 30-member cast, the title character is noted for her lively life style. The story is set chiefly in New York from 1920 to 1950.

Hit songs from the play include "My Best Girl," "Open a Window," and "Busom Buddies."

Wins expected

THE PANTHERS have signed three pitchers for the coming baseball season and Coach Chuck Hartman is optimistic about winning the national title next spring.

His optimism is strengthened by the return of last year's entire area 7 title team. Hartman said he believes the Panthers will "win at least some games in the NAIA finals."

The new pitchers are junior college transfer Dan England and freshmen Vic Pongonis and John Crittenden. Hartman said that England, a 6-0, 170-pounder, had a good curve ball and could be a mainstay on the staff.

Pongonis was 9-0 this summer in the Coatesville, Pa., American Legion team. Crittenden, of Hillcrest Heights, Md., was 15-1 in two years of legion ball.

THE LANDMARK Tower on Roberts Hall had extensive refurbishing during the summer. The old slate was barely hanging on the deteriorating wooden framework. Down came the slate, the framework was repaired, and up went a fiberglass covering finished with a specially-made copper paint. Total cost was slightly in excess of $4000, preserving the landmark that welcomed the first students in September, 1924.

FORMER COLLEGE students who would like to return to their degree studies may enroll in a new program at High Point College called Operation Resume.

The program started this fall and is designed exclusively for adults over 26 years old. The returning students are meeting as a separate group and are taking only one course.

Next year, those continuing in the program will be expected to register for full course loads. They will be in class with the "regular" college students.

The first course is philosophy in literature, taught by Dr. Earl P. Crow, Jr., professor of religion and philosophy, and Mrs. Shirley Y. Rawley, assistant professor of English. The class meets on Tuesday evenings at 6:30 p.m. in Horace A. Haworth Hall of Science.

The spring term course will be a survey of United States history from 1945 to the present, taught by Dr. A. Paul Gratiot, professor of history, and Dr. David W. Cole, professor of history and dean of the college. Mrs. Nanci Mot-singer is counselor for the group.

Students may also be given academic credit for life experiences. A legal secretary or someone in public relations may be able to receive credit for creative writing or journalism. A social worker who has no degree may receive credit for courses in sociology or even psychology. Experience in community theatre groups may qualify someone for credit in drama or theatre arts.

Triad leaders elected officers at fall board of trustees meeting

TRUSTEE Treasurer Soles, Chairman Womble, and Vice-chairman Hayworth.

Cooke

McPherson

Haworth

Carroll

Board honors Cooke, McPherson, Haworth, Carroll

FOUR LEADERS of High Point College were honored by the trustees at their fall meeting.

- Dr. Dennis H. Cooke was made president emeritus,
- Holt McPherson was designated trustee chairman emeritus,
- Horace Haworth was designated trustee vice chairman emeritus, and
- Charles F. Carroll was thanked for his leadership of the Third Phase, Golden Decade Fund.

Dr. Cooke was president of the College from 1949 to 1959. During his presidency, new construction on the campus included Alumni Gym, Memorial Auditorium, Cooke Hall, Wesley and North Halls for Women, additions to the library, and the maintenance shop.

The College was accredited two years after Dr. Cooke became president, signifying that the college had taken its place among institutions offering quality higher education and that it had fulfilled minimal standards in the overall program.

Dr. Cooke retired from the presidency in order to return to the classroom as professor of education. He remained on the teaching faculty until this year.

He has been nationally recognized as an educator and school administrator. He is the author of 26 books on education and school administration, with specialization in mathematics and psychology.

After graduating in the first class from Duke University in 1926, Dr. Cooke earned his Ph.D. degree from Peabody College, Nashville. He remained on the faculty there for 17 years. He was president of East Carolina University and was on the faculty of UNC-Greensboro before coming to High Point in 1949.

Both McPherson and Haworth stepped down as officers of the board after 20 years in office. Both will remain on the board.

McPherson is the retired editor of The High Point Enterprise and has a long record of professional and civic interests. The college's new campus Center, named in his honor, recognizes his service to the college.

Haworth, an attorney in High Point since 1921, has numerous other business and civic interests. He was chairman of the board of Federal Home Loan Bank of Greensboro for many years. He has also been a trustee of High Point Memorial Hospital and Guilford College.

Dr. Carroll, retired state superintendent of public instruction, was honored for his leadership of a successful capital campaign that provided $3 million to the college. The Third Phase of the Golden Decade Fund will allow additions to the endowment and new facilities for the library and the physical education program. Dr. Carroll was given a certificate of appreciation from the trustees.

NEW OFFICERS were elected by the High Point College trustees at their fall meeting. They are: William F. Womble, chairman; Charles E. Hayworth, vice chairman; Roger Soles, treasurer; and Dr. Wendell M. Patton, secretary.

Womble is senior partner in the law firm of Womble, Carlyle, Sandridge and Rice, with offices in the Wachovia Bank Building, Winston-Salem.

He has been a trustee of the College since 1950. A leading Methodist layman, he has been chairman of the official board of Centenary Methodist Church in Winston-Salem. He has been active in civic and state affairs, serving several terms in the N. C. House of Representatives and on the state Advisory Budget Commission. A native of Winston-Salem and a graduate of Duke University, he earned his law degree at Duke and has done additional graduate work at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Mr. Hayworth, trustee vice chairman, is president of Alma Desk Company, chairman of the board of Liberty Veneer Company, and chairman of the board of Clarendon Industries, Inc. He is director of the Southern Furniture Exposition Building Corporation.

He has served in numerous civic leadership capacities and has been on the board of stewards of Wesley Memorial United Methodist Church, High Point.

Soles, treasurer, is president of Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, Greensboro. He rose through the ranks at Jefferson to become assistant to the president in 1964. He was made executive vice president two years later and became president of the company in 1967.

He has been a college trustee since 1966. An outstanding Methodist layman, he is a former chairman of the West Market Street United Methodist Church board. He headed the successful campaign for the expansion of Wesley Long Hospital. He is president of the City Club in Greensboro.

Following the annual fall meeting, the trustees attended the dedication of the new Mary Irwin Belk Dormitory where Mr. Womble participated in the ceremonies.

Portraits of past presidents of the college and trustee chairmen were placed in the trustee dining room. These include portraits of Presidents R. M. Andrews, G. I. Humphreys, and Dennis H. Cooke; and trustee chairmen R. Fletcher Williams, H. A. Millis, and L. F. Ross. Several friends and relatives of those honored attended the trustee luncheon.

College homecoming Feb. 8

HOMECOMING '75 will be celebrated at High Point College on February 8 with reunions and other Alumni activities.

Classes scheduled for reunions are '30, '35, '40, '45, '50, '55, '60, '65, '70, and '74. A brochure will be mailed to alumni and friends of the College the first week of January. Location and details of the reunions will be in the brochure.

Two affinity interest groups reuniting will be the A Cappella Choir (repeated from last year because of popular demand) and humanics majors. Alumni in these particular groups will receive special mailings with details and additional information.

One highlight of the day will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen prior to the basketball game when High Point College takes on Lenoir Rhyne College in Alumni Gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Alumni and friends of the College are urged to mail the reservation section of the homecoming brochure to the Alumni Office if they are planning to attend.

Contributors clubs and awards Inaugurated for annual fund

AN INCENTIVE AWARD Program for contributors to the Annual Fund has been approved by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association.

A recognition program for Alumni participants in the Annual Fund was inaugurated in 1964 with The Centurion Club. The recognition, in effect for ten years, honors the contributor with a certificate and honorary pass to home basketball games and/or campus events, depending upon the amount of the contribution. The Centurion Club has well served its purpose of recognition.

In the new program each award will be personalized with the donor's name, and the program is retroactive until June 1, 1974. Contributors from June 1-December 31, 1974 will have a 1974 brass tab on their award commemorating the Golden Anniversary of the College. Contributors during the calendar year 1975 will have that date on their award. Each award will have four blank spaces to note years of additional contributions.

Categories and awards are:

THE CENTURION CLUB - For contributions of $100-$249, an individualized paper weight with deep-etched copper on marble;

THE TOWER CLUB - For contributions of $250-$499, an individualized paperweight with deep-etched white metal on marble;

THE LAMPLIGHTERS CLUB - For contributions of $500-$999, an individualized double coaster set with deep-etched copper on walnut column; and

THE FELLOWS CLUB - For contributions of $1000 and above, an individualized walnut floating shadowbox with lettering and design deep-etched in copper.

All contributors in these categories will receive passes to High Point College home basketball games and campus events depending upon the contribution.

Alumni fund needs more chairmen

THE 1974-75 ANNUAL ALUMNI FUND has its kick-off on January 24 when class agents begin contacting class mates for High Point College.

As of press time 75% of the classes have been chaired for the current year. Several classes are without a chairman to direct class agents. These classes are: '30, '36, '37, '44, '45, '47, '51, '53, '62, '65, '66, and '71. If you are interested in chairing your class, please contact Robert E. Williams, Alumni Director, for the details.

Student Career Intern Program combines work and study for complete education

CAN THE LIBERAL ARTS College graduate find happiness in a job-oriented world? High Point College is learning how to answer "Yes".

The way to bridge the gap between theory and practice is to give the student a job in his chosen field before he graduates.

Dr. William P. Matthews, professor of psychology, directs the Student Career Intern Program (SCIP) at the College. Students in behavioral science, psychology, sociology, and human relations may drop out of class for five months and become part of a social service operation on a full-time basis. If they decide this is not the career they thought it would be, there is time to take up other studies before graduation.

The variety of jobs taken by students for the trial period have included rehabilitation for society's drop-outs, support for young people's groups, the elderly, the handicapped, and assistance to people in trouble. Institutional agencies where the student is employed include Girl Scouts, YWCA, Salvation Army, Model Cities, and other divisions of government assistance.

Dr. Matthews thinks colleges should assist their students from first registration to graduation in three fundamental areas. He calls it his "package deal" for a college student. "We should help them pick out, try out, and then hire out," he said.

"Some students arrive at college with a firm career choice in mind. But actually most of them don't know what is involved in their chosen fields, and that includes even the ones who say they do. We should have a way to let them know the full range of options available in college," he said.

"Then they should have a chance to try out what they have chosen so they can continue their preparation or back out while there is time to select some other field before graduation."

Surprise bequest for Idol memorial fund

AN UNEXPECTED BEQUEST to High Point College from the estate of the late John D. Idol, Kernersville, will establish a memorial scholarship.

Mr. Idol died September 29, 1974. He had been retired for a year following a career of 41 years as a leading salesman for Adams-Millis Corporation.

The will states that 30% of the residual of the estate will be given to the College to fund the scholarship with first consideration to "qualified" students in religion and humanities.

As far as can be learned, only Mr. Idol, his attorney, and executors had knowledge of his plans to include the College in his will. He had no apparent connection with High Point College; he was not an alumnus and there is no record of a previous contribution. He was unmarried, and, so far as is known, no immediate relatives attended the College.

President Wendell M. Patton had unstinting praise for Mr. Idol's generosity. "Here was a man who had not walked our campus and was never directly associated with the life of the College. Yet, he was motivated to make this truly outstanding contribution to future generations of students. Even though he had neither sons nor daughters, he directed his money to the heart of the College - the students who need the money to come to class."

Dr. Patton said he hoped Mr. Idol's bequest would be "an example" to other benefactors. "We are deeply grateful for this kind of generosity. Gifts of this magnitude make it possible for some students to attend High Point College who might otherwise not attend any college anywhere."

Dr. Patton also urged other potential donors to discuss with the College their plans for bequests. "Mr. Idol's will was carefully planned and will be properly executed. The College, through its Development Office, can assist individuals and attorneys with estate planning considerations."

"There are numerous kinds of plans available for deferred giving which can continue to benefit the donor during his lifetime with the College as the beneficiary to provide a 'living legacy'. We can only hope that Mr. Idol's recognition of High Point College will be an inspiration to others."

Forsyth, Alamance, and D.C. alumni chapters meet

NEW AND VARIED activities marked Alumni Chapter meetings in North Carolina and Washington, D. C. held in October and November.

Dr. Murphy M. Osborne '58, Vice President for Student Affairs at the College, spoke to the Alamance Chapter on current trends of the campus. The group also saw a slide show being used with prospective students.

Joseph R. Payne '37, Burlington, is president of the newly-reorganized Alamance Chapter. The dinner meeting was held on October 15 at the Ramada Inn, Burlington.

The Forsyth Chapter hosted a reception for Alumni, prospective students and their parents, and friends of the College on October 24 at Ardmore United Methodist Church, Winston-Salem.

Donna Lawrence Staley '63 is president of the Forsyth Chapter, an active group scheduling at least four activities each year.

Re-organization was the topic for Washington, D. C. area Alumni meeting November 18 at the Key Bridge Ramada Inn, Alexandria, Virginia.

President Wendell M. Patton spoke on the state of the College and urged Alumni to recommend students who are seeking a Christian higher education. The group also saw the slide show.

The Alumni Office urges graduates and former students to consider the possibilities of an Alumni Chapter where thirty or more Purple Panthers are concentrated.

Chaircouple to lead annual fund

A HUSBAND-WIFE team will be National Chairmen for the 1974-75 Annual Fund. They are Porter '39 and Wilma (Sink) '41 Hauser, Charlotte. They are the first chaircouple in the history of the Fund.

"We are looking forward to their leadership of the Fund," said Robert E. Williams, alumni director. "We appreciate their continuing interest in Alma Mater, both during past years and now as National Chairmen," he said.

Both Porter and Wilma were student leaders during their undergraduate days on campus. Porter was president of the Alumni Association from 1958 to 1961. He is head controller for Duke Power Company in Charlotte. They have two daughters and two grandsons.

SUSAN GARNER (above) assists regularly in serving a lunch to 32 senior citizens in Stokes County. They are all retired or past 60 and are on supplemental security income.

While the program is ready-made for students in behavioral science, sociology, psychology, or human relations, other departments are considering adaptations of SCIP for their use.

Among students in SCIP are:

Susan Garner, a senior, living at home in Stokes County where she is working with the elderly in a Community Action Program funded by the Office of Equal Opportunity.

Rick Eldridge, High Point, is working with the Kiwanis Club at the state level in supporting Circle K clubs.

George Ferguson, Temple Terrace, Florida, worked with the Boy's Home last summer at Lake Waccamaw.

Dr. Matthews is quick to point out the advantages of the program. "The students get work experience they can refer to on their first job application; they have opportunity to prepare for something else if they change their minds;

"They make connections in a professional field by meeting professionals on a daily basis; they have supervision by on-the-job people as well as by their familiar professors;

"Frequently they get job offers and are ready to take the job immediately after graduation."

Picture potpourri of High Point College news

JUNIORS AND SENIORS becoming concerned about after-graduation plans attended the Career Conference on October 30 to meet representatives from area employers. Major attention went to people-oriented agencies such as juvenile court, family services, education, and counseling of numerous kinds. Dr. William P. Matthews, chairman of the psychology department, has been instrumental in the program which grows larger each year. Nearly 50 area businesses and agencies sent representatives to the half-day conference.

PARENTS DAY on November 16 gave nearly 300 family visitors opportunity to meet faculty and staff members, hear the state of the College from President Patton, and see a slide-show used in telling prospective students the High Point story. Evening's entertainment was a talent show with students and faculty participating. Parents who wanted the full treatment had lunch and dinner in the cafeteria and went to church Sunday morning in the Chapel.

NEW NATIONAL CHAIRCOUPLE for the Annual Fund are Porter '39 and Wilma (Sink) '41 Houser, of Charlotte. See story next page.

TRUSTEE JIM MILLIS (left) and Dr. Patton look over the program for the Belk dormitory dedication just before the ceremonies. Trustees, students, visitors, faculty, and staff all joined in the dedication, held in front of the dormitory.

THE TRUSTEE DINING room was filled to capacity for the luncheon attended by trustees, and friends prior to the board meeting. Portraits of former trustee chairmen R. F. Williams, H. Albion Millis, and L. Ferree Ross were hung. Mrs. Humphries, widow of President G. I. Humphries, is seated below the portrait of Dr. Ross.

THE VICE-CONSUL from the Canadian Consulate in Atlanta came to the College bearing gifts of books. Under Dr. H. E. Conrad's watchful eye (left), vice-consul Robin O. McNab, acting for his government, gave 100 Canada-related books to the College. They were received by Mrs. Marcella Carter, librarian.

Interim '75 study-travel

STUDY-TRAVEL COURSES will give about 50 High Point College students the opportunity to continue their education "on-location." Alumni and others may join some of the groups.

Dr. Carl M. Wheelless will guide a class through South Asia to study the geography, government, and politics of the sub-continent.

Mrs. Lucy J. Washington's class in historic preservation in the Carolina's will study documents and sites at Camden, Beaufort, Charleston, Georgetown and other stops in South Carolina.

Dr. Earl P. Crow will escort a class to the Holy Land with a side trip to Rome to study religious sites.

Prof. J. Wilson Rogers will take his class to Wall Street, New York City, to study the American securities market.

Professors Jane F. Burton and Raiford M. Porter will tour the nation's capital with emphasis on exposing the students to the visual arts. The week's tour will include museum collections and outstanding architecture.

Mrs. Carolyn Rauch and James Lockrow will offer a similar tour of New York City, with emphasis on the performing arts.

Mrs. Pat May will take a small group of piano students to nearby junior colleges, technical institutes and high schools where they will perform.

Mrs. Pauline B. Kayser and Thomas E. Scott will guide their Spanish class through major centers of interest in Mexico in observance of customs and history.

Soccer team wins Carolina Conference title in Undefeated season, look to Top Ten ranking

A TWO-YEAR BUILDING effort has culminated in an undefeated soccer season, a Carolinas Conference championship, and the No. 1 seeding in the NAIA District 26 play offs for the Purple Panthers. Buried in a 20-match losing streak in 1972, the Panthers rebounded in two seasons to become a contender for a Top Ten ranking among small college soccer teams in the South.

The Panthers posted a 10-0-2 record in the regular season with basically a freshman-sophomore team. The perfect 6-0 league record gave the Panthers their first Carolinas Conference title. Balance has been the key to the Panther effort as 10 different players shared in scoring the 34 regular-season goals.

Record high budget

A RECORD HIGH Budget of nearly $3 million has been adopted for the current academic year. More than a third of the total budget will go for direct instructional costs including faculty salaries and operation of the library.

$698,500 will be spent on general operation while $228,300 will be given back to worthy or needy students as scholarships, grants in aid, or work-study aid.

Building and grounds maintenance, administrative operations, athletic program and the bookstore operations brings the final total to $2,922,150.

"We have come a long way in a short time," said Panther Coach Ray Alley '66. "This has been a great year for us, but we think of it as a beginning rather than the end of a rebuilding effort. We have a lot of talented freshmen and sophomores, and with another outstanding recruiting year we can look to an even better future," he said.

"Freshmen like Jeff Potter and Hunter Brett have given us the scoring punch we lacked last year, while Jerry Gostic and Skip King have done an outstanding defensive job for us. We've also had outstanding seasons from lettermen like Gary Downing, Mike Ludwigson, and Tom Mackintosh, while Peter Ranney, who never played soccer before this season, has been exceptional in the goal."

The Panthers downed Atlantic Christian and Pfeiffer twice during the season, while getting single wins over Belmont Abbey, Guilford, UNC-Wilmington, Pembroke State, N. C. Wesleyan, and Elon. The two ties were against NCAA opponents, Davidson and UNC-Greensboro.

The Panthers, who now play their home games in Albion-Millis Stadium, got a big boost towards Southern rankings with a 1-0 victory over six-time District 26 champion Belmont Abbey. That win put the Panthers in the No. 1 playoff position with a playoff showdown likely in the championship game against the Crusaders.
