To Our Valiant Classmates

---

On this Memorial Day we pause reverently to pay homage to you—our former class mates—and to offer our gratitude and affection. We are thankful, that for a time, we knew your happy laughter and charm and that our lives have been enriched by your worthy manner of living. You represented our noblest and best; friendly, courteous, loyal, intellectually active and ever the gentleman. We loved you—each, in his own way, as dearly as the other. Your high hopes and ideals are enshrined in our memory.

Although in the midst of preparation for a life of greater service, you had but to hear the call of duty to make response. It was not easy; the leave taking, the separations, the hardships. But, you defended your sacred conviction to its last demands, and bequeathed to us a way of life dearer than existence itself. Spirits such as yours never perish. You live on in your deeds—and in ideals which you helped to preserve as “an artist lives on in his own compositions.”

Words are weak and phrases commonplace as we seek to express an appropriate eulogy but language cannot add to your glory. In giving your life to the cause of humanity you have consecrated yourself forever. It is more fitting that we rededicate our lives to the way of Christ and pray that we may prove ourselves worthy of your great sacrifice by establishing, throughout the world, an enduring peace.

A Prayer

O loving Lord of Life, in whose hands are the uncertain ways of men, make hallowed to us the supreme offering of Thy young servants upon the altar of our country. In our hearts enshrine their memory; and inspire us to noble deeds in days of peace no less valiant than the stern demand of war. Fill us with gratitude for every sacrificial gift. Upon the consecrated toil of others we would build a better world. Help us to extend the light of liberty to all men; and may material blessings abound throughout the earth. Let Thy truth everywhere abide, we pray, and cause the great family of nations, following the influence of Thy Holy Spirit, to dwell together in harmony and lasting good will. Amen.

Dr. P. E. Lindley

Ode

How sleep the brave, who sink to rest,
By all their country's wishes blest!
When Spring, with dewy fingers cold,
Returns to deck their hallowed mold,
She there shall dress a sweeter sod
Than Fancy's feet have ever trod.

By fairy hands their knell is rung;
By forms unseen their dirge is sung;
There Honor comes, a pilgrim gray,
To bless the turf that wraps their clay;
And Freedom shall a while repair,
To dwell a weeping hermit there!

—William Collins
