North State Conference Representatives Met Here Monday

Tentative Baseball Schedule Drawn Up

Dr. D. E. Faust, of Catawba, Elected Secretary of the M. P. Denomination

Dr. HUMPHREYS GUEST

The following page contains information about baseball games and schedules, a feature on Dr. D. E. Faust, and a mention of the North State Conference gathered in High Point. It also includes a section about women's sports, specifically tennis. The page is a mix of sports news, conference updates, and personal notes about individuals such as Dr. D. E. Faust. The layout is typical of a sports magazine or newsletter, with sections dedicated to different sports and events. The content is informative and structured, with clear headings and dates to organize the information. The page appears to be from a local or regional publication, possibly related to a college or a community group. The writing style is formal, with a focus on summarizing events and reporting on recent developments in the sports community. The page also includes a small section on books, indicating a diverse range of topics covered in the publication.
THE PLAYGIVERS

The High Point College dramatic organization has decided the name of the present artistic project to be "The Playgivers." The title was chosen by the production class and approved by Mrs. Cool, business instructor in speech and play production. The need of the "Playgivers" is on a changing nature; sympathy and tenderness it is the purpose of the play to build up a strong dramatic department at High Point College.

Officers of the club are: Joe Modena, president; Elmo Beals, business manager; Emma Swann, vice-president; Walt McRae, secretary; and Togi Demouy, treasurer. Any member of the student body may become a member of the organization by presenting the entrance requirements specified by the scholarship committee.

Two major productions will be given by the Playgivers. One of these plays, as given in December, will be"Little Edith." The play will be presented on the campus in the home economics building on February 27. The photographs spent three days on the campus during this time a majority of the students had their pictures made and all of the group pictures were made. Proof of the pictures will be on the campus at the last of the week.

Work on the cast has been delayed until the present day due to the closeness of the time and the fact that the staff was not able to arrive at a satisfactory method of finance. According to the club, Dwight Davidson, the club will adopt as an unusual theme this year. Davidson would give some suggestions on the subject that will be covered but it is uncertain now to whom or to what he will be delayed until summer time.

It is planned that the work will be pushed by the members of the club and that the production will be released from the press before the close of the fall term.

SEVERAL NEW BOOKS DONATED TO LIBRARY

Several new books have been donated to the library by Dean Lindsley. They are recent books of fiction, biographies: "People People," "Dorothy Catfield," "Dorothy," "Gene's Deep," "Chopin," "Two mysterious story, ""Smith," "The White Chinese," etc. Among the authors are "Faylin," "Evelyn," etc. An eyelet of the book, "Sarah L., "the Chicken Eaters," etc.

Two other outstanding books that have been presented to the library are "Japanese," by Louis, and "Japanese," that need not be written.

Other interest may be given to "31 The Ring of the Lastsaw," by Leopold, a collection of short stories and plays. In the production of "31 The Ring of the Lastsaw," by Leopold, the students will have an opportunity to meet the world and the authors of the time of the present piece.

Little Edith: "I'm going to marry a rich man."

Little Edith: "Oh, I wish I want to be a dancer."

What exciting magic there is in cigarette advertising! Let's look at one of its greatest display ad campaigns: the campaign that has been mysteriously going on for the past several weeks. The blending of several cheap, raw tobaccos - mostly from the Orient - has made a new product from Camels. The result is a tobacco that has more flavor, more character, and more satisfaction than any other popular brand.

This is why the Camel brand has never been reconciled with what it is. Camel is a product of the Orient, made with the finest tobacco leaves from the Orient. The blending is well done, the price is right, and the product is a pleasure to smoke. The next issue of this column will be devoted to the secrets of Camel's flavor.

STAGE AND SCREEN COMIC MAKES RADIO DEBUT, BUT WITH BING CROSBY AND RUTH HAYTON

His nights a week — every day except Sunday — at 8:00 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, when the Columbia Broadcasting System presents his column on the biggest coast-to-coast hookup — radio.

The thousand and his partner George Hayton are now the other end of the line, ready to drop one of their six-inch bits, the thought of which makes the listener shiver in delight.

The parcel has been drawn out, plucked up, placed in the hands of the listener, and left to the imagination of the listener. Each week brings another piece to the imagination of the listener, and each week brings another piece to the imagination of the listener. Each week brings another piece to the imagination of the listener, and each week brings another piece to the imagination of the listener.

This is why I want a cigarette that's milder.

Each night brings another piece to the imagination of the listener, and each night brings another piece to the imagination of the listener, and each night brings another piece to the imagination of the listener, and each night brings another piece to the imagination of the listener.

WHEN I work hard, I usually work harder—and that's why I want a cigarette that's milder.

We use in Chesterfield Cigarettes mild, ripe Domestic and Turkish tobaccos which have been aged and re-aged.

These good tobaccos in Chesterfield are used in the right proportions—that's a very important matter.

I'm working and smoking overite—hence a Milder Cigarette

HELP, DON'T KNOCK

"If you can't help a fellow, don't knock him." Some wise old sage said, and the saying has given several new gray hair thinking men a hundred new sayings. Little did they think that the same could ever apply to High Point college. But it can.

It should be a common practice among everyone is the world today to either to this policy. If you can't help the other fellow along by speaking a good word for him, don't hinder him by kicking him or talking about him.

High Point college is a youth in the adolescence stage and needs help and good words, not knocks and brags. The Panther school has a hard road ahead and the students are the ones who can do the most towards helping this school reach the upper levels.

The student body here is small, and the odds are against the school, but the encouraging person should have enough respect for the place that he would never allow any of their contemporaries or even any of his friends to come to High Point for an education, counting the matter. The family may be responsible.

In many cases the selfless students find that they are to blame. Responsibility of where the blame may rest is the wrong attitude for the student to assume.

If one finds this way about the matter there is nothing to do, but the discouraging person should have enough respect for the place that he would never allow any of their contemporaries or even any of their friends to come to High Point for an education. Counting the matter. The family may be responsible.

If you don't like the place, keep it to yourself. "If you can't help, don't knock." High Point needs the help, and you can all see it given. Everyone is the same nature.

SIX DEBATE SELECTED IN PRELIMINARY

The final round of the preliminary was between Lockhart, North Carolina, and Harts, Indiana.

The preliminary rounds of the debate were held over in the student union with the same result in each of the preliminary debates.
