RECEPTION IS ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWD

Faculty Reception Draws Large Crowd of Students;
Dr. Humphreys Speaks

The first major social event on the school year's program was held last Friday night when the Faculty entertained the students of the new assembly. At the beginning of the evening, Dr. Humphreys, president of the college with Mrs. Humphreys, Mrs. Miss Gertrude Strickler introduced the students to Dr. Humphreys, who, in turn, introduced them to the College of the Filibuster Protestant Church of High Point, North Carolina. Then the students were introduced to each member of the faculty. Following the introductions, each student was served dinner, and each was given a booklet in which to select autographs. If the student was not in the room at the time, he was later brought the booklet.

Among the students who attended were all of the student body, there was a chance for each student to meet many of the members of the faculty. Following the dinner, Mr. J. H. Monahan, Jr., president of the Alumni Association, spoke before the students and the faculty. Among those of the newly graduated students, Humphreys spoke on the ways in which the student could recognize and the reasons why the student must work hard to get a better education and a more useful life for him in the world of today.

Many Various Reactions Given By Students To Afternoon Classes

By JAMES CLARK

The afternoon class was long or was difficult during the first week, but the students have become used to it now. The choice of the student must be used to it now, and they are beginning to get used to it

  In the spring of 1935 Mrs. J. M. Wren, a member of the board of trustees, announced the donation of funds to construct a library building in memory of her late husband. This was a substantial gift in High Point College's history, and it marked a significant milestone in the school's development. The library would serve as a hub for student learning and scholarly pursuits, providing a critical resource for the growing student body. The library's construction signaled the school's commitment to academic excellence and its role as a center of intellectual life.

Infractions of Rules

Despite explicit instructions on the part of the Student Council and the fact that only when a complete list of violations in the form of pictures has been checked and approved by both the Council and the President, does the copy of the rules pass to the Business Department to proceed with the regular stages on the new college student, somebody fails to comply. Disregard of the rules in a minor way will not bring the State laws, endanger the growth of the college, and will not help the college's only recently established traditions which were just beginning to take root toward permanency. Only a plus of complete ignorance of the nature and consequences of their acts can we, as fellow students, tolerate, even for a moment, such conduct.

If the miserable be uprooted even though they have lived here for only one year, they could not help but know the stand which the administration and the representative student council take on the matter of infringements; therefore ignorance cannot be accepted as an excuse. If they be new students, freshmen, or upperclassmen, they reflect no credit on the college through the ignorance of sportsmanship and obedience to liberal yet definite rules. Their thoughtlessness, whether they be old or new students, has caused an unnecessary blot to be placed by the name High in the pages of society. "A woman's college is not concerned with the war or the conduct of sane, sportsmanlike men, given by the Council and the Administrations were explicitly initiations in the future. We believe that the instructions can we, as fellow students, tolerate, even for a moment, such conduct.

Lyceum Stock Takes Rise

We take peculiar pleasure in writing this editorial of congratulations, and have a great many words to say, especially on the eve of the opening of the Lyceum program for the year. The reason for this is the charge of preparing educational Lyceum programs for the year in advance, at a time when the usual practice is to do this in the last minute, since the program is completely a function of the year. And we are now congratulating ourselves, because the Lyceum peak has been reached.

Several days ago the administration made announcement to the effect that all its arrangements were prepared and the convenience of the overflow of Day students. In order to prepare these rooms as study and lounging rooms the R.P.O. editors, and other administrative departments, particularly the registration department, have been utilized to study and plan the program. The students and the citizens of the surrounding community will be acquainted with conference and friendliness of these two rooms, which were prepared in the most efficient manner, and are equipped in such a way as to be comfortable and pleasant.

This win, which pushed the Panthers into a first place tie for the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship, followed a string of successful Panther performances, which include a 20-7 victory over High Point College a week ago.

The Panthers put up a second quarter blitz which was instrumental in gaining a dominating advantage. After a scoreless first quarter, the Panthers went into the locker room with a 9-0 lead.

The Panthers dominated the second quarter, scoring two touchdowns just before the half. After a punt by the Panthers, the Panthers scored another touchdown to take a 19-0 lead into halftime.

In the second half, the Panthers continued their winning streak, scoring two more touchdowns to take the final score 20-7. The Panthers' defense held Elon scoreless in the second half, allowing the Panthers to cruise to victory.

The Panthers' defense was led by the likes of Marquise Causey and Jamie Malfregeot, who were instrumental in the Panthers' success. The Panthers' offense was led by quarterback John Standing, who threw for two touchdowns and ran for another.

With this win, the Panthers have a 3-0 record in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, putting them in a first place tie with High Point College. The Panthers will look to continue their winning streak as they prepare for their next game against High Point College.
Marjorie Hillis Opens
First of Lecture Course
With Enlightening Talk

Author of "Live Alone and Like It," and "Orchids On Your Budget," now a brilliant author "Being a Brand New Author"

Monday night, October 8, Miss Marjorie Hillis, brilliant author of "Live Alone and Like It," and "Marjorie Hillis On Your Budget," and also noted orator and literary worker, was the first in a series of Literary programs.

Miss Hillis has descended from a long line of literary-minded ancestors, her father having been a noted author and lecturer of some note. She is the grandchild of Miss "Being a New Author." The "Hillis" always had a growing desire within a book, she states, "to sell a book just and deepened.

However, before she thought she could write a book, she began matriculating. She never got a chance for step by step development of the idea of a book, except in one or two cases when she had to fill in a small space in the margin of her books and notes with a pen "Vivian Hillis," "Mallory Hillis," and "Illis Hillis," and occasionally had to write to some people who felt that if opportunity did not knock, she was not in the habit of knocking out what she had to say.

She had always lived alone, but she finished college, and she went on matrimony and married a friend of her on the stage. He was happy, but others were not. Perhaps it was in the way of life, with them. The school was "A Talk on Miscellaneous Visuals about a woman on the stage, and a man who had never been written about in the stories of the little girls. "It's impossible to know how to live," said, "to live the part of the great woman, children, how to make own time and get one's own career.

She had always been a writer, but she had not before written anything. Her first book was "Live Alone and Like It," and the other one was "Marjorie Hillis On Your Budget.

The talk was a short interview; only a few minutes had been given to her. She had been talking for three years. She had lectured on the Science of Life, and her entrance here in the fall of 1938. Her latest book was "Our American youth is spiritually illiteracy," Mr. Fred Flory, who published the book, spoke on the point. The book was addressed to the little boy.

Mr. Fred Flory stated that the book was written for the benefit of all children. It is necessary for everyone to take time out to reflect on the book. "Live Alone and Like It," and "Our American youth is spiritually illiteracy," "Being a New Author," and "Live Alone and Like It," will enlighten as it should be read by every college student. The book is a must for all college students.

Mr. Flory stated that the book is more than a book; it is a benefit to college students. They are able to take time out to reflect on the book. "Live Alone and Like It," and "Our American youth is spiritually illiteracy," will enlighten as it should be read by every college student.

NIKES BASE PROGRAM ON MARJORIE HILLIS

The Thalians based their program on March 9 at the University of North Carolina, when Marjorie Hillis, as a president of the university, spoke at the meeting.

Miss Hillis gave a realistic view of the world, and their isolation. The students were interested in the lecture, which was timely and sometimes reviled the books that were read, from women's.

BAD INVESTMENT?

In an earlier editorial this year we brought to the attention of the students and readers of the HI-PO the new and improved (or rather the old) investment policy which had been established and was being practiced by some of the banks in the South.

In our previous editorial we pointed out that the old investment policy was based on the idea that the South was a good place to invest because the South had abundant natural resources and a large and growing population.

Today, however, we must admit that this policy has failed. The South is no longer a good place to invest, and we must look elsewhere for a better investment opportunity.

In particular, we must look to the North, where the economy is stronger and the prospects for growth are better. The North has a larger and more diversified market, and it is better able to absorb new investments.

The United States has become a much more complex and dynamic economy, and we must adjust our investment policies accordingly. We cannot afford to be complacent and to continue with policies that have failed in the past.

We urge our readers to reconsider their investment strategies and to invest wisely in the future.

Since this is the last editorial of the year, we would like to wish all our readers a happy and prosperous Christmas and a successful and fulfilling New Year.
During the past week the two semi-final matches of the fall tennis tournament were played with Richard Short, a sophomore, and Melvin Samet, a freshman, emerging as winners.

The second semi-final match Richard Short defeated Bob Standing by the score of 6-1, 6-4. Short, a member of last year's varsity, had beaten the opponent throughout with Short helping a small advantage because of his experience. The first set went to Short with the second set tied. The second set was played yesterday in the semi-finals where he was defeated by Standing, 6-4, 6-4. However, Short went on to win the tie. The match between Standing and Hinshaw was also played yesterday in the semi-finals where he was defeated by Standing, 6-4, 6-4. However, Short went on to win the tie.

Standing has been assisted by the Protein stuff as they should. Both Short and Hinshaw were in the singles when Short was the only full game. It was not given to the team that it deserved. A possible explanation for this is that the second set was not as easy.

The most recent game was played in the doubles when Short was the only full game. It was not given to the team that it deserved. A possible explanation for this is that the second set was not as easy.

Standing and Hinshaw are emerging as winners.

Alfred Leading
Then Richard Short gave a talk on "Racing". He said that horse racing was bad business for the bettors because they pay such high interests. It was bad for the bettors because the leader got 10% of their profits, and the people that were in horse racing had to pay heavy interest for the horse racing money. Thus there was no improvement for any one year. Trotters and various other thoroughbreds are not able to collect the money. All their work is overlooked. In the past they were not able to make them prevent it in order to have fair play. Their interest, such as $100, $200, $300, $400, $500, or even more, was not present, so therefore the talk on "Racing" skated but was not given that evening.

Casing
Meet William Barrow, gives an interesting talk on "Casing". He said that ten million dollars were invested in his company. He started it as a friendly on his friends, football, basketball, horse racing. At one party the greatest great dress. Finally one of the owners, who was a great horseman, walked away the night with his three hundred collected 's won that had been made on better racing horses. When they started out with only dollars but they were in the horse racing class, they had eleven thousand dollars. Forty thousand dollars is the improvement of each year. Talk On Prayer Is Given Group

Miss Winifred Burton Speaks Before Ministerial Association on "What Prayer Means to Us"

Miss Winifred Burton brought a substantial, yet entertaining, message before the Ministerial Association Tuesday morning.

There was a time, she said, that men and women were more deeply concerned about matters of the spiritual kind. In those days, even prayer was regarded as the essential method through which we could renew our faith and strength. She reminded us that when prayer was the primary consideration of our lives, we were more likely to have a sense of purpose and direction.

The value of prayer was not to be measured by the amount of time spent in it, but by the sincerity with which it was conducted. She urged us to make prayer a regular part of our daily lives, not just on Sundays, but throughout the week.

She encouraged us to pray for our neighbors, our community, our country, and even for our enemies. Prayer, she said, is the most powerful force we have to alter the course of actions we cannot control.

She ended her talk by reminding us that prayer is a personal communication with God, who listens and responds to those who sincerely seek His guidance. "Let us remember," she concluded, "that prayer is not just a duty, but a privilege."

Local Varsity Get's Tie With Mountainaires

Local Outfit Secures Thrilling Point in the First Half of Season

Appalachian Reserve Out Gain High Point Team.

(From High Point Enterprise) The Purple Panthers of High Point college battled the Appalachian Line reserve in a 12-12 deadlock in Beaver Fall Saturday evening in a game that was made exciting from start to finish. Neither team has been defeated this season.

Outstanding for the High Point team was the intelligent play of쏘 Secret and Malfregeot and the shaving defensive play of Durham's Little Billy Wilson was the outstanding man for honors on the Appalachian team. Thus after the 1:15 pass play through the line the Purple Panthers were able to carve their way aboard the horseshoe teams. The scoring rah of safety was the highlight of the Mountainaire team.

The invading Panthers drew first blood in the opening period when Secret, low centering the ball from the Appalachian 8-yard line, punched it across the line for the touchdown and Justice kicked the extra-point goal.

At the end of 10 minutes of the second quarter, High Point took the ball at its own 33 and Secret passed to Bratton, who, in turn, to Malfregeot who ran the ball to the 18 yard line. On the next play, both teams were penalized and the ball was on the 21. Secret took the ball on the 21-yard line and passed to Justice, who ran 95 yards for a touchdown, and the Purple Panthers led, 12-0.

At half time the score was 12-0. In the second period, Malfregeot passed to Justice from the Appalachian 28 to gain 6 yards on the next play, and Secret kicked the goal for a 12-0 lead.

Football Jitters

By Artie Occor

The Byline's the limit of our space in this issue, and although one does not wish to spend the expression of one's joy in playing this sport, we must set the record straight on the following facts:

In the first place, there is a variety of jitters which are strictly the players' department. The problem is for you to learn to control them. In the second place, we have a whole group of what we shall call 'quivering knee cap jitters.' The reason for this is a perfect combination of nervousness and a failure to adjust oneself to the play. The cure is to have a good conditioner. The last one that went to the mountains was just the shot put out of the right eye. The solution was that the player had been in the cold for a week or more. The coach then gave him a session of jitters rationing which is a shot put of the heart and a dose of cold.

HOMES OF FUTURE TO MEET TEACHERS

PANTHER GRIDDERS MEET TEACHERS

Chicago, Ill. (AP)—Homes for the next generation, will be built in the United States because more than merely a "parking place for the night" according to Dr. Robert Ogburn, University of Chicago sociologist.

"This is not the result of an immediate need, but something that must come about the way that the public's interest in housing is increasing everywhere in the country. The American house is a thing of the past. It will be something entirely new."

The teacher will build homes, according to Dr. Ogburn. He explained that this was not a new idea, but one that had been suggested before. He said that the idea was to build homes that would be suitable for the teacher's needs, and that these homes would be built in areas where the teacher could live comfortably.

Homecoming Day

We pause, in the midst of our building rush toward modernity, to pause and look back toward the annually changing campus those who have done so much toward preparing us for the world of today. We also must give time to the good works that are necessary—"the Alums! This year the College is able to give the Alums a job of better work for a visit and for a get-together such as has been impossible during any year in the past. There have been football teams and gunners here in the years gone by but these three have been the first to get together and accommodate facilities such as are present now. The first feature of this annual event is the trip of foreign or unfavorable home grounds; after the ceremony—all the students come to build the huge to the open air. We have returned to the Academy can come back to a football game, during the afternoon in a brand new, up-to-date stadium; after the game—live band, Ohio State, the fraternity and sorority rooms; recall old adventures and debates in the classroom; next year's budget. They are both toward the nearest and most up-to-date building on the campus. The material Library, there to enjoy and admire with the present students the benevolence and growth.

Old graduates, we not only hold out to you the mellow reminders of joys, sorrows and valued experiences gained during earlier years of the History of High Point College but also the mariners and milestones which we have more than pronounced progress and we challenge you to further that which is good, making your hands homesick of the sincerity, forecasts and modernism to which you have contributed and extend to you every convenient and faculty of the College which will make your visit enjoyable.

Debaters, Where?

Last week the HI-PO editorialized the Debates and Debate College authorities on securing such an eventable venue—much needed. Foremost debate tournament for the local campus. We congratulate the Academy College because we have faith enough into the school and the students to believe that we can face the situation in a manner which would be profitable to them as well as to ourselves. Only several weeks ago the same College issued a material for the Debate squad and out of four hundred votes cast in favor of the Academy College in previous and earlier years has built up a debating record which would have been the pride and joy of any school, he it Good—of which we are proud. The possession of a room for which many people strive a life time. It is one of the sine of the College, itself, to furnish some that development yet so often the men and women miss it.

Team Is Still Hurt By Injuries To Key Players

Friday afternoon the Puritan Panthers will meet the Carolina Reserves on the Indian reserve field in their fourth engagement of the present season. The Panthers will enter the game in poor shape, with several injuries to key men which will not be out with bad legs and backs.

It is to be expected that the team which will compile the starting eleven will have a strong lineup except that of the three injured men. The forwards are three injured men, the three injured men, the three injured men.

The high-sounding name of the Reserve team is not necessarily a guarantee of quantity, having played the Rileyville Eagles to tie it in 73 in the opening game.

The powerful lineup of Mississippi Beret has been added to the lineup of the Visitors.

The local team will be the first of the two teams to be named in the first half of the game. All the Visitors are well known players. The Visitors will be the first to make a touchdown.

Stopping backed field was but was trapped, as he ran around end, and back across the goal to complete the 9-yard scoring play that gave the Panthers the last win of the day.

The game was played with numerous odds being given to the home team, but on this occasion the Panther attack was never completely bottled up and the outstanding man on the field, from either side, was probably the fine play of Turvar, Grigg and Phibbs. Turvar has played more minutes than any other high school player, but his skillful handling, although and Renny Owen and veterans are worth mentioning.

We do not intend to criticise the Council destructively. We do so only because we believe that since one of the most powerful groups on the campus and be regarded as a more or less democratic body it should be rightfully that the Council has made in its record can show that, though the council has made errors, it has justified that respect and confidence.

This year, however, we feel that not only is the Council, the representatives of the students, but that the Council is a school in a progressive or competent way. Something of the dignity and serene confidence that has returned to the school after what many faculty and students attend often attend the sacrifice of other things which might be done, yet, being on the inside, we know that through all matters, which might be progressively developed, are advanced, they are lost in a maze of inaction and apathy.

In somewhat of a defense and commendation of the group, we must point out that this is not only one of the year for the social life of the College by sponsoring various events and functions. Yet last year was done in a year ago and received very little consideration or planning for concrete examples of the respect we accord the Council with the sight to you the way in which the freshman class revives this year and which has remained so for a psychology professor at the University of California, that there are about those books that are on the market. Some have been retold, others have been forgotten, but there is a steady flow of incidents and in which there is a problem of freshmen only. Discussion of this week by telling about the case of the President of Wesleyan College, Mr. W. M. Lake, who is a native of South Carolina, was assisted in the administrative work by the New Deal, a lot of points below an average striking on the basis of 10,000 students in the United States—men students achieved a rating of 47.

VETERAN TEAM Only Two Games To Be Played Before Christmas

The Purple Panther basketball teams will open its season Saturday night when they travel to Asheboro to meet the Mount Olive Eagles in a charity affair, which is to be sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Asheboro.

The game will be the first of the season for the Panthers; however, the Tarheels have played several games, among them being one last season before the State College outfit, when they defeated in a contest which they made five goals. Coach Wimbish, who has been the guidance of the college basketball team for several years, will return in the form of coach of the basketball team, having had a successful season last winter here at the college. Wimbish heads State College, High Point College, and Elon College, the prominent college basketball team of the district.

The game will be played at the Asheboro High School at 8:30 o'clock. For the last few weeks the Panthers have been in practice faithfully. It is expected that on this first game the Purple Panthers will take the measure of the Mount Olive Eagles, who have been drilling the last week or so.

 Maui-Shell Buses, which will take the players and their families to the facility of the game, have been scheduled for 8:15 o'clock. Paul Roye, guard for M'Crary, will make the trip with the latter team. Paul Roye, the former player for the school, was a member of the championship team in 1934-35.

The games will be played in the eastern part of the state and the Blue Devils will be favored to beat the local team.

The game is expected to be quite a gala event. It will be another of the popular West End City games.

She was president of her senior class and a member of the Theta Phi Alpha and the Athenesian Literary Society. D. K.
