Robert Thornton Graduates in Two And a Half Years

Robert D. Thornton of Leaks-ville, N. C., a two and one-half year honor roll student, will receive a B. S. in Business Administration at the mid-winter graduation exercises at High Point College January 25.

Thornton enrolled here in September, 1947, as a freshman, but by applying himself diligently he has been able to complete the four years required work in two and one-half years.

Since graduating from Leaks-ville High School in 1944, he has served in the U. S. Navy for one year, worked as a drug clerk, machinist, machine operator, roving hauler, shoe salesman, and florist's helper.

'Glamor' to Be Emphasized In Teacher's Job

The high qualities and qualifications most desired in the teacher-of-tomorrow will be evaluated for the first time in North Carolina as a state-wide program to "glamorize" the teaching profession gets under way.

The Division of Higher Education and the Department of Future Teachers of America, under the sponsorship of the North Carolina Education Association and the State Department of Education have inaugurated this program in an effort to publicize the positive side of teaching.

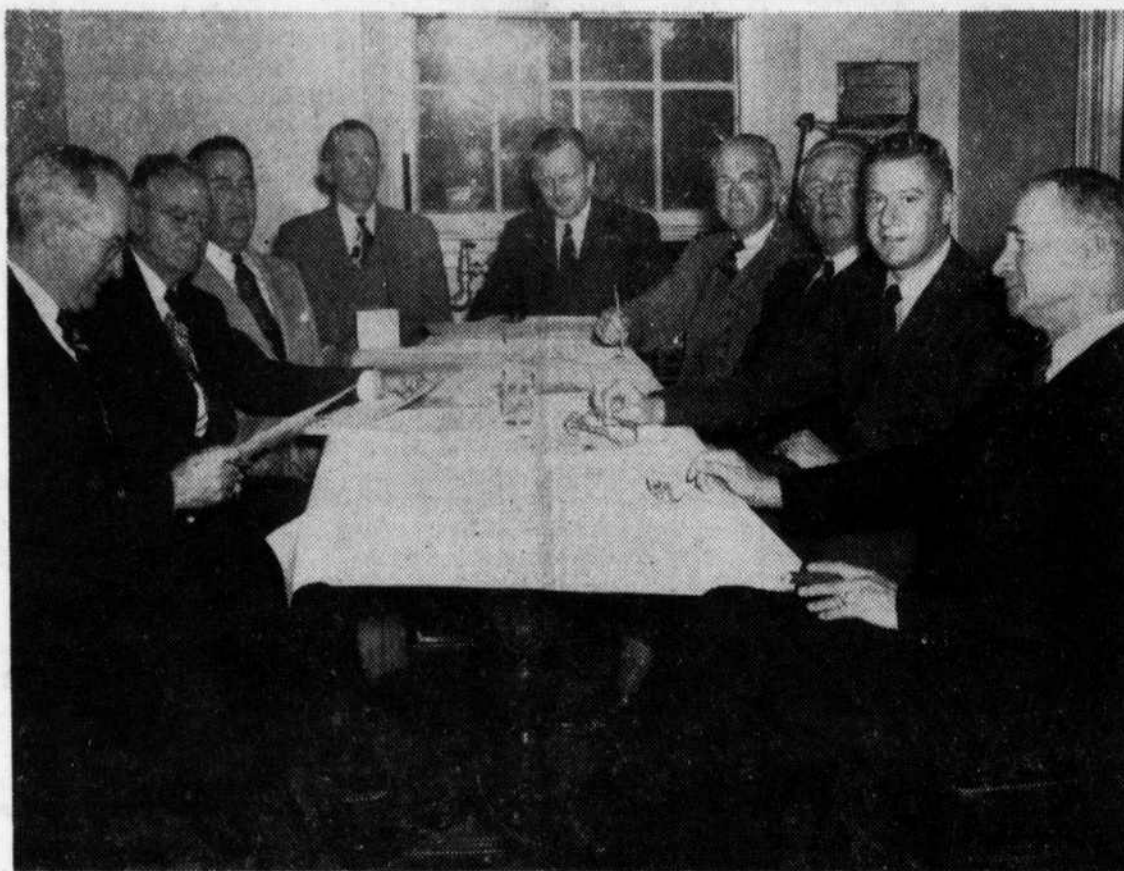

Dr. Elizabeth Welch of Salem College, president of the division, says its primary purposes are: (1) To erase from the minds of prospective teachers the thought that teaching has only a debit side; (2) to have high school boys and girls feel that their teachers consider it a privilege and an honor to teach them, and (3) that the teaching profession offers deep and abiding pleasure.

During the next two months, students and faculty of teacher-training institutions over the state will stress the importance of the program by conducting an evaluation campaign to choose a representative Mr. and Miss Student Teacher from their campus. Those selected as possessing the qualities most desired in future teachers will be presented to the members of the North Carolina Education Association at their state meeting in Raleigh, March 8-11.

The future teachers, under direction of Beverly Johnson, state president, have greatly aided in promoting the project and will guide the campaign on their respective campuses.

Qualifications being considered include personality (intelligence, reliability, adaptability, leadership, creativeness, enthusiasm, integrity, sense of humor); essential understanding (general cultural understanding, understanding of children, school's purposes, problems and operation, and understanding of the principles of effective human relations); professional competencies (discovering pupil needs, working creatively with colleagues, ad-

10 Steps in Securing a Job

1). Have at hand a continuous record of all your jobs, with the dates of employment, wages received, work performed, and reasons for leaving each job.

2). Be able to name as reference at least three responsible and reliable persons who know you well.

3). Make sure you are presentable before leaving for the interview. Be neat and clean but avoid "dressing up."

4). Learn as much as you can before the interview about the kind of work in which the firm, to which you are applying for a job, is engaged.

5). Be on time for the interview and go alone.

6). During the interview, speak with confidence, enthusiasm, but not too much or too loud.

7). Try to forget personal problems, domestic or otherwise.

8). Answer all questions fully, truthfully and concisely.

9). Sit quietly and comfortably when talking to the employer.

10). If you are nervous and self-conscious during the interview, do not become discouraged.

A day or so after you have had your interview—make it a point to send a carefully written "thank you" letter to the employer. This courtesy, which takes so little time, may well cinch that job for you.

Important Meeting Of Hi-Po Staff

There will be a meeting of the Hi-Po staff next Monday, January 16, in the Hi-Po office at 7:30 p.m. All members are requested to be there. There is also a need for more reporters, typists, copy readers, and business members. Any student who would like to assist this paper is urged to attend and join the staff.

Hoover Plan Explained To Students

Mr. C. A. York, Jr., addressed the student assembly Tuesday, January 3, on the Hoover Plan for government economy.

"The government is presently spending $18,000 every minute, over and above the amount it was receiving," stated Mr. York. He declared that if our country is to survive it must stop wasteful extravagance. He described the overlapping of department and bureaus, and bad treatment of the President to whom 65 different agencies make reports. He pointed out that at present it takes $10 to process one service dollar. He declared that taxation had reached the saturation point and that the Post Office Department was $500 million in the red last year.

York outlined the Hoover economy plan which has the endorsement of the President and many other government officials as well as most of the leading businessmen of the nation.

Students were asked to sign a mimeographed letter which would be sent to their Congressmen to get them to accept the Hoover Commission's program.

REGISTRATION

Mr. N. P. Yarbrough, registrar, has announced the following plans for registration of students for the second semester.

On January 26, Freshmen will register from 8:00 to 12:00 a.m. and Upper Classmen from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. on January 27. Classes will begin on Monday, January 30.

George Matthews Sings At High Point College

George Matthews, tenor, presented an enjoyable program before the student assembly at High Point College, Tuesday, January 10. Mr. Matthews attended A. and T. College, Greensboro, Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., Detroit Institute Music of Art, and Eastman Music School, University of Rochester.

Two groups of songs, including one in French, two typical Creole melodies, a Western cowboy number, and Negro spirituals were presented with outstanding ability by this rising tenor.

A native of Kernersville, N. C., and formerly with the Ford Quartet, Mr. Matthews is on a tour which will take him from Texas to New England by April.

Penney Hall Sold

Penney Hall, located on East Campus of High Point College, has been sold to the Presbyterian Home for the Aged.

Students now living at Penney Hall will continue there until June when the building will be renovated with funds from a trust fund established in the will of the late Mrs. Mary Burrus.

Before the building was deeded to the college, it was used as an orphanage home under the former Methodist Protestant Church.

Band Plays at Game

The College Band under the direction of Mr. Robert Simmons entertained the spectators at the Guilford game during intermissions and half time. Although our band is not large it can make a loud noise in the gymnasium. The student body hopes that this will become a regular feature at the games as the music is a help to the student spirit.

After this issue the Hi-Po will lose the services of a very capable member. When the staff was organized in the Fall, he volunteered his services, and although he is a ministerial student he proved a man of abilities in dealing with the business world. As in any business organization, this paper has to be self-supporting, and the man responsible for the success or failure of the paper is the advertising manager. He has made the paper self-supporting.

In addition to this paper he has been very active in campus life. But as all good men with a worthy goal to attain, he will pass out of the orbit of our campus life. Good luck in your life's work, Chester Brown!

Theta Phi Sorority

The Theta Phi Sorority has big plans for the spring. February 13th, they are planning a Gingham Tavern in the Student Center. There will be dinner and entertainment, and everyone is invited.

A mountain trip to Boone, N. C., is planned for the Spring holidays. As soon as college is out for the summer they will head for the seashore to spend a week in the balmy air.

Plans are under way for the big spring banquet. The date is set for March 18th at the Woman's Club in Thomasville.

World Problems

AND THE MARSHALL PLAN

In 1947 the economic condition of the European nations was extremely serious; production was lagging and showed no signs of improving. In order to aid the economic situation and to increase production and employment, the United States allotted $5,077,000,000 for the Marshall Plan. The Marshall Plan was to improve these conditions of underproduction and unemployment.

What effects have the Marshall Plan had upon European production and employment?

One typical example of the effects of the Marshall Plan upon production is the automobile industry in Austria. The Marshall Plan was supposed to have caused an increase in the production of vehicles; however, because 20,000 vehicles have been imported under the Plan, there "has been a cut to half of the 1937 output." "Austrian automobile workers' incomes have reduced." This clearly shows that the Marshall Plan has not aided the people of Austria. In addition, "Belgium is experiencing serious unemployment in textiles and shoes."

What do the people who have toured Europe have to say about the Marshall Plan?

Paul Hoffman, head of the Marshall Plan, admitted that "in-

"Wha' Hoppended"

BY JEAN KERR

Starting a new year—the last one was fine, but bet we can make this one better if we try, so here's the first news from 1950.

The ITK frat started the year off with a bang by having a stag party with the ITK frat from Elon. All of the boys were said to have had a fine time, specially Clayton Snyder and Jim Rusher, who started the new year off with a splash instead of a bang. Stone Cold!

From the looks of everyone January 3rd, the holidays must have been a great success. Most all of the steadies remained steadies, even tho' separated. Betty Belcher spent a lonely holiday until Buddy came down New Year's. Hugh visited Sarah, Henry visited JoAnne, and so things look about the same on the Romance Field in 1950 as in 1949.

Something new has been added. Boone Jackson has finally settled down to a certain Ann Hendrix from Jamestown.

Are you fighting the battle of the bulge? If so, don't worry—just enter the reducing class which is conducted every night from about 10:30 til on the third floor of Woman's Hall. Course, you may get a little stiff at first, but you won't mind, because for classmates you'll have Bonnie Crawford, Marion Warren, Edna Clark, Nancy Lawson, Mildred Reading, Doris Autry, "Littlebit", and a couple more who I'll refrain from mentioning.

"Oh, You Beautiful Doll—" dedicated to Lib Gilbert from all of the boys in the dorm. And all the time we thought that Gene O'Daniel was the only one capable of holding this title!

Frank Graham hasn't lost a thing in the girl's dorm, unless it could be his heart. Seems Eleanor Church is the big attraction.

Seen dating again are Bill Fanetty and Doris Autry. Speaking of dating, wonder what happened to Marion Warren Sunday night?? Can't help it if you have more dates than you can handle, can you Marion?

Mary Frances Howell's Jimmy was up from Duke this week-end. Mary Devonne also had a fine week-end as Huitt came up, too. Also pleasantly surprised this week-end was Nancy Lawson, who is dating her ole flame.

Until next time, when maybe there'll be more news and more room, this is the end, so "BYE SHUG!"

NEW career opportunities for you in the U. S. AIR FORCE as an OFFICER AND NAVIGATOR

In this era of long range flights, the role of the navigator has become increasingly important.

The U. S. Air Force now offers new opportunities to young college men between the ages of 20 and 26½ who are single and can qualify for such training.

If you can meet the high physical and educational standards (at least two years of college), and are selected, you can be among the first to attend the new one-year navigator training course at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston, Texas. A new class begins each month!

You'll be an Aviation Cadet! And, you'll receive the best available training—including 184 hours in the new T-29 "Flying Classroom."

Then, graduation! You'll win your wings as a navigator . . . and a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force. After a 30-day leave with pay, you'll be ready for challenging assignments as navigator with one of the famous commands in the U. S. Air Force. Your office will be the "front office" of mighty bombers or long-range transports!

Be among the first to win your wings as a U. S. Air Force navigator under the new navigator training program—be a key man on the Air Force team!

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival—or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

Other Flying, Non-Flying Careers

Aviation Cadet pilot training is also available to young men between the ages of 20 and 26½. See about the many nonflying assignments, too! Never before in peacetime has there been such a good opportunity for college-trained men and women to obtain regular commissions in the United States Air Force.

Nine in a row is the aim of our Purple Panthers as they travel to W. C. T. C. tonight. Dido Cullen has consented to the use of his name and several of the boys around the school plan to play on his all-star squad when the baseball season rolls around.

P. G. Havnaer, ex-athlete from Catawba, has been active in officiating basketball games around High Point.

George Eroth is now back in school after a visit to the Chicago Cubs office and he has informed your reporter that he is due to report to Sioux Falls in the Northern League.

From what we hear Kirby Joyce has been signed by the Greensboro Patriots. Gene Polko and Jack Klein played a great deal of basketball while home for the holidays.

I know for a fact that the basketball squad extends their thanks to the student body for their hearty support at the games. Keep up the good work students because the team is only as good

Waiz, Hunt Tied For Top Spot

Guard Leonard Hunt and Forward Bill Waiz are tied for scor-ing honors with a 13.2 average per game. Hunt has played in eleven games and scored a total of 145 points while Waiz has played in ten games and scored a total of 132 points.

Big Ed Sueta is close behind with a 12.5 average per game. Sueta has played in eleven games and scored a total of 138 points. Joyce has a 12 average for 132 points in eleven games. Gray Cartwright rounds out the first five with 55 points in ten games.

The three leading reserve play-ers are Bob Draper with a 4.3 average in six games. Paul Pryor with a 4.1 average in seven games, and Keith Mobley with a 2.5 average in six games.

These averages are computed through the Guilford game of January 10. The Panthers con-tinue to burn up the hardwood at a better than 60 points average per game.

Catawba was the first Con-ference foe to feel the onslaught of the victorious Panthers when the growling Panthers invaded the wigwam of the Indians on January 7. For the first time in four years the Indians lost a game to the Panthers on the In-dians' own camping grounds. It was a hard-fought battle from beginning to end that saw three of the first stringers on both sides foul out. Coach James was forced to call three untried re-serves out of their den. These reserves proved their power and it is to them that the largest credit for the twenty-point mar-gin of victory must go. The In-dians lost their scalp to the tune of 79-59. On January 10 the pious Quakers from Guilford at-tempted to tame the fighting Panthers, but their efforts were in vain as the Panthers chewed them to a 75-57 victory. Bill Waiz and Ace Cartwright were sidelined with injured ankles. The outstanding players of the game were the two reserves, Paul Pryor and Bob Draper who led the fight right up to the steeple of the Quakers.

On January 5, the Panthers defeated the Eatmans semi-pro team from Greensboro by a de-cisive 72-51 margin. In a game played just before the Christmas holidays the Panthers redeemed themselves for their only loss early in the season by dumping the strong semi-pro team of Hanes Hosiery from Winston-Salem from the undefeated ranks. This is the team that formerly defeated the Panthers and also held victories over North Caro-lina, Wake Forest and Duke Uni-versity.

The Return Of the Natives

Some came back limping, some with broken legs, and some just came back!

Yes, we were a sad looking collection of natives who returned to HPC January 2nd.

Some of us flew in from the north, our wings tipped with snow left over from the holidays. According to Art Nicholas it was really cold up north! And according to Jim Perry it was just as cold in Boone, N. C.

If all the diamonds in Woman's Hall were put together, they would rival those of Aly Khan. We congratulate the gentlemen!

The examination schedule was the first blow we received after our return. From all reports we will dig in and burn the midnight oil for the next two weeks.

Every cloud must have a silver lining. Big plans are in the air for this spring. To mention a few of the events you will be attending and enjoying: Basketball games, Gingham Tavern, Feb. 13th, the spring banquets of the Sororities and fraternities, the inauguration of Dr. Cooke, Spring recitals, May Day program and the May Day dance, and graduation in May!

Drunk in a phone booth: "Number heck, I want my peanuts!"

Women's Army Corps

Captain Florence M. Packard, the representative for the Women's Army Corps in North Carolina, will be at the U. S. A. Recruiting Station on January 16, 1950, for the purpose of answering questions and interviewing applicants interested in obtaining a commission in the Women's Army Corps Reserve.

An applicant must meet the following qualifications: Be 21 years old, but not past their 27th birthday, be unmarried, have no dependents under 18 years of age, be a graduate of an accredited college or university, and possess mental and moral fitness and aptitude for the military service.

Applications will be accepted at the local office. The applications take several months to process, therefore they should be filed now by students expecting to graduate this spring.

Young women who are interested in obtaining more information or who wish to apply may get full details at the nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, located in Room 212-C, P. O. Building, High Point.

Any young men who would like a personal interview contact Rec. Sgt. Burpo.

WORLD PROBLEMS . . .

dustrial production in Western Europe has not increased since early summer." A member of the Public Advisory Board of the Marshall Plan, Eric Johnston, stated upon his returning from Europe, "Communism is increasing in Western Europe in spite of the Marshall Plan." Another great American, Republican Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont, on his return from a trip to Europe said, "The United States has lost a major and perhaps decisive battle . . . the Marshall Plan is becoming diverted from its original purpose of European recovery into a means of rearming Europe."

But what of the countries that are not participating in the Marshall Plan?

The United Nations Monthly Bulletin of Statistics stated: The ratio of industrial recovery is higher among the non-participating nations than among the participating nations in the Marshall Plan while "the economic status of the French workers was worse than before the Marshall Plan."

There is only one solution to the present European situation. The solution is "A new program of economic assistance — conducted through the United Nations and eliminating both political conditions for aid and military subsidies." When this is done, European recovery will surpass the greatest expectations of the civilized world.

"I FLUNKED!"

By JEAN KERR

'Twas the night before exam when all through the dorm, Every creature was stirring, every shape, every form.

I opened my book with the greatest of care, To try to learn what was written there.

I tried to learn all the names and dates—

I really was in a terrible state. This studying business will get you down.

"I'll drink a coke," I said with a frown.

About this time I heard a great noise,

As I distinguished Betty Edward's voice.

The girls were all giggling and bubbling with glee.

Would someone please tell that joke to me?

Someone was swooning over a new made date.

Oh suffer, oh suffer, oh terrible fate!

Edna Clark burst into the room. She just wanted to test my new perfume.

Jean Colson came in with face oh so dead.

She just couldn't study. (She was lonesome for Fred.)

I started to study when I jumped up with a thud!

It was just Carlotta screaming "I love Judd!"

Every radio was blurring a sweet refrain.

Just 10 different versions of Frankie's "Mule Train."

Roommate was smoking — our room was a den.

Push back the smoke and come on in!

I had just started reading about Italy and France,

When some of the girls decided to dance.

I closed my eyes and prayed for quiet

But the place was really rocking that night!

With bloodshot eyes, I closed my book,

And to the bookstore I me took.

I relaxed in the quietness of the place,

With a pleased expression upon my face.

Thoughts of history came again at 10.

But I told myself it's too late to begin.

As I lay there in my hard little bed

Thoughts of history ran through my head.

Forget it kid—it's all just junk! But yes, you guessed it — I flunked!

Hi-Po Staff to Lead Polio Drive at H.P.C.

Starting next Wednesday, February 1, the staff of the Hi-Po will commence a drive on the campus to raise funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The campaign will run through Saturday, February 4th.

The reason that the staff has decided to try to aid the National Foundation is that it is one of the most worthy campaigns in our nation.

Last year saw the largest number of polio cases in the history of our nation. There were 52,000 cases with more than 10,000 cases over 15 years old, with the greatest number proportionally between the ages of 15 and 24. This large number of cases was a serious drain on the National Foundation's funds.

We in North Carolina well remember the summer of 1947 and last summer. The largest majority of stricken patients could not afford the expensive treatment that is necessary to effect a recovery.

The National Foundation must have the necessary funds to carry on next summer in case the outbreak is as great as last summer. The campaign is the most concentrated this year because those funds must be built back up.

We here at the college have been called on to help. Not many on this campus could afford to be treated if they were hit. A small investment now is very good insurance for the future.

In addition to patient care, the Foundation is conducting an extensive research and educational program. Virus research seeking a means of prevention or control of poliomyelitis has cost the National Foundation over eight million dollars, while research for the prevention and treatment of after-effects of the disease have cost three million.

When the staff of the Hi-Po sets up its booth next week, we are asking each student to donate at least one quarter to this worthy cause.

Important Meeting Of Hi-Po Staff

Next Monday night at 7:30 there will be a very important meeting of the Hi-Po staff. All members whose names appear in the staff box are requested to be present if they intend to continue working on the paper next semester. Any member of the student body who would like to work on the school paper is urged to attend the meeting. The meeting will not be held in the staff room, but in the room under the library.

Plans are under way to increase the frequency of publication next semester, but these plans cannot be carried out unless there are enough workers to share the load. If you do not write, there is still a place for you on the paper. The Hi-Po needs more help in the business (Continued on Page Four)

Honor System at H. P. College

At a recent meeting composed of faculty heads and the heads of the Student Government, the following plan was agreed upon in regards to an Honor System at High Point College. In Chapel on January 17th, Dr. Hinshaw summed up the results of the meeting as follows:

Capitalizing on the work that has been done toward an honor system at High Point College, the executive committee of the faculty and the Student Government officers sincerely hope that an effective honor system can result at High Point College at the earliest possible date. They also believe that each student should assume full responsibility for his own action in every test and examination.

Yet it is the consensus of the executive committee of the faculty and officers of the Student Government that until such time as a satisfactory and effective honor system can be evolved, the faculty should supervise duplicating, administering, and taking of all tests and examinations.

Dean Lindley then made a brief talk on the reason for concern over an honor system. He stated that the college has been approaching and trying to build an honor system all these years and needs to conserve what has already been achieved. Dean Lindley praised the sentiment of the student leadership as being identical with the thoughts of the faculty. Both are struggling for something that is for the highest welfare for all.

He presented three reasons as to why an honor system is needed:

1. Without strict honor on an exam the exam would amount to nothing. An exam is a unit of measure, and if everyone cheated all grades would be faked; therefore, the honor student who had studied would be robbed.

2. It is a law of ethics that in regard to one's conduct one should act as if his conduct should become the law universal.

3. In cheating the person robs himself more than anyone else—it is a question of his own integrity. As Emerson says: "The thief but steals from himself."

Polio Drive

We at this school have a job to do and a service to render. As stated on the front page there is going to be a drive in this school to secure funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The staff of the Hi-Po will be in charge of this drive. Our goal is to cover the top of the table in the foyer with dimes. If each member of the school will donate as much as a quarter each it will amount to around two hundred dollars. Many students of the college age group were stricken last year and none of us have any assurance that we won't be stricken in the near future.

If you haven't already read the story on the front page then do so. Remember the figures and when we of the Hi-Po staff ask you for your help next week then help so that others may walk.

Student Spirit

Let's face it. We have a great basketball team that is destined to sweep the conference championship this year. There are five men on the court at the game; there are 500 students in the stands. Let's continue to let those players know that we are behind them and that we are as anxious to have that championship as they are. Coach James and all the boys were very elated over the rousing student spirit at the Lenoir-Rhyne game. Now if we could only get our elected cheer-leaders out there at each game we would be assured of plenty of rousing spirit. Bill Marley led the students last week and the response was terrific.

Study Harder

Now that everyone has enjoyed another week of vacation time it is time to return to the grind; settle down and produce. As Spring approaches the social life will pick up. This means that due to more activities each student will have to study harder in order to maintain those grades. Remember the hours that the library is open and plan to spend more time there.

GET ACQUAINTED . . .

order to give students an opportunity to check out overnight books. The hours for the library are: 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday; 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday; 7 to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Saturday. At the present time there are 17,500 books on the shelves and five new shelves have been added to take care of more books. There are a total of 125 monthly and weekly magazines on the shelves. In the newspaper department there are four North Carolina dailies, The New York Times, Christian Science Monitor, and Wall Street Journal.

On the library shelves can be found most of the current best sellers. In the fiction best sellers one may find such books as: Mary by Sholem Asch; The Big Fisherman by Lloyd C. Douglas; Let Love Come Last by Taylor Caldwell; Never Dies the Dream by Margaret Landon, and several more that are currently leading the fiction list.

In the non-fiction best sellers one can find such books as: This I Remember by Eleanor Roosevelt; The Autobiography of Will Rogers; A Guide To Confident Living by Norman V. Peale; Peace of Soul by Fulton J. Sheen; A Treasury of Southern Folklore; American Freedom and Catholic Power by Paul Blassbard; The Man From Nazareth by Harry E. Fosdick. These and many other books on the shelves will lead to many hours of delightful reading.

For anyone having difficulties in their studies it would be wise to cultivate the habit of spending a few hours in the library each day. It is quiet and there is nothing to distract your attention. Plan to improve your grades this semester by using the library more.

We must alter our lives in order to alter our heart, for it is impossible to live one way and pray another.

Panthers Win Two From W. C. T. C.

On Friday and Saturday, January 13 and 14, the Panthers traveled to Cullowhee to battle the Catamounts of Western Carolina. After the dust had cleared on Saturday night the Panthers were strongly entrenched in first place and the Catamounts were just as strongly entrenched in last place.

On Friday night the Panthers let the Catamounts down easy by handing them a 67-57 defeat. In the second game the Panthers never allowed the Catamounts to enter the game. After five minutes of play the game was sewed up by the Panthers. From there on out the Catamounts never could close the gap under twelve points. The Panthers waltzed away with a 73-58 victory.

Never to have seen the truth is better than to have seen it and not to have acted upon it.

People who are far from God think they are very near Him, when they begin to take a few steps to approach Him. The most polite and most enlightened people have the same stupidity about this as a peasant who thinks he is really at court, because he has seen the king.

"Ma" Answers the Lovelorn

By G. T.

Dear Ma:

I am a big handsome junior at High Point College. My build would put Charles Atlas to shame. I simply find myself irresistible to the screaming females around the campus. Now since I have told you about myself here is my problem. I have accumulated quite a few women around here and Greensboro. Now I know that all these women are going to fight over me someday, so what should I do?

SMOE

Dear Smoe:

You lucky dog.

Ma.

Dear Ma:

I am just a little girl on the campus trying to do my duty. It is my job to find out who is loving or dating who. Sometimes I turn up some pretty good scoops. Now the trouble is that some of my fellow-students get a little peeved at me when I mention their names and some of my fellow-students get mad if I do not mention their names. What am I to do?

JELL

Dear Jell:

The more the merrier.

Ma

Dear Ma:

My Mamma thinks that I am the best boy in the world but I just can't seem to make these thick-headed females around the campus believe that. Of course I'm not as good looking as Smoe. In fact I'd just be a dark blot beside of him. I stand somewhere between five and six feet tall. The truth of the matter is that I am closer to five than six. Now I am in love with a beautiful blonde and she won't even give me as much as a dirty look. Please tell me what to do before I go out of my mind.

NEW career opportunities for you in the U. S. AIR FORCE as an OFFICER AND NAVIGATOR

In this era of long range flights, the role of the navigator has become increasingly important.

The U. S. Air Force now offers new opportunities to young college men between the ages of 20 and 26½ who are single and can qualify for such training.

If you can meet the high physical and educational standards (at least two years of college), and are selected, you can be among the first to attend the new one-year navigator training course at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston, Texas. A new class begins each month!

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival—or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

You'll be an Aviation Cadet! And, you'll receive the best available training—including 184 hours in the new T-29 "Flying Classroom."

Then, graduation! You'll win your wings as a navigator . . . and a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force. After a 30-day leave with pay, you'll be ready for challenging assignments as navigator with one of the famous commands in the U. S. Air Force. Your office will be the "front office" of mighty bombers or long-range transports!

Be among the first to win your wings as a U. S. Air Force navigator under the new navigator training program—be a key man on the Air Force team!

Panthers Are Growling Louder Now

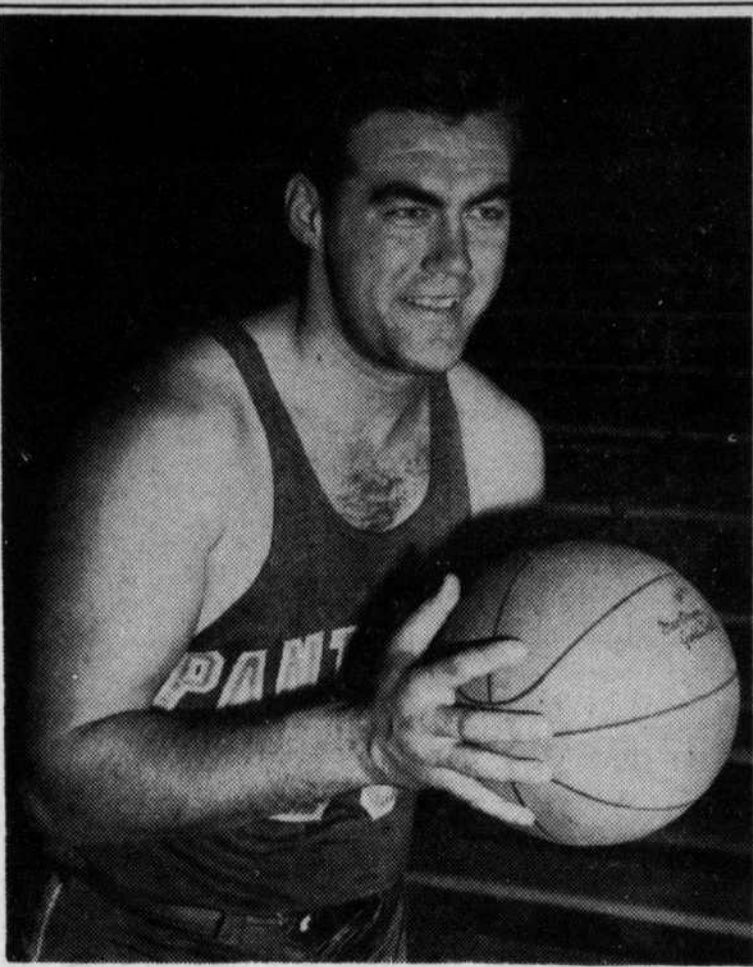

Thirteenth Straight Victory

Led by big Ed Sueta, Bill Waiz, Jesse Joyce, and a rip-roaring, fighting-mad student body, the mighty Purple Panthers came back in the second half clawing and chewing to dump the aroused Bears from Lenoir-Rhyne from their two-point half-time lead in last Saturday night's game before 1,500 jam-packed, sweating fans at Harrison Gym. It was a rough game from start to finish. Lenoir-Rhyne, last-year conference champions, was determined to knock High Point from atop their perch just as they had done to Appalachian last year at the tournament. Led by all-conference Tony Sellari and Bill Wells the Bears threw up a defense in the first half that held the Panthers from the inner circle for lay-up shots.

During the first half the score was tied three times, and the Bears were able to leave the floor leading 35-33.

After five minutes of playing in the second half, the score was knotted at 42-42. At this point the aroused Panthers, led by Sueta, Pryor and Hunt, took over the backboards and steadily began to increase their lead over the Bears. Late in the game when the Panthers were leading by 15 points, the Bears staged a rally and closed the gap to four points with two minutes remaining in the game. Bob Draper and Ed Sueta with a one-two count pushed in a lay-up each, and with 90 seconds remaining the Panthers led 67-59. Each team then scored six points, and the Panthers earned a hard-earned 73-65 victory.

The game marked the sixth North State Conference victory and put High Point in undisputed possession of first place. It marked High Point's thirteenth straight victory and the fourteenth victory in fifteen starts.

Wake Forest, and Lenoir Rhyne defeated Carolina. Or we could take it this way in regard to North Carolina State, which is also rated up there in the national ranking: Duke defeated State; Carolina defeated Duke; Lenoir Rhyne defeated Carolina, and we are back where we started with High Point defeating Lenoir-Rhyne. Wonder who would holler the loudest if we rated the Panthers as the best in the Carolinas and one of the best in the country?

Everyone that believes that there are only seven teams in the nation violating the so-called sanity code, stand up and holler aye.

Pryor will be back next time to give you his slants on the sports scene. Ye ole editor is just pinch-hitting till the vacation days are over. Till next time I wish the mighty Panthers continued success, and the Panthers will continue to look for that rousing student support.

International Student Conference

"Students as Ambassadors" is to be the theme of an international conference February 11 at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. All college students, exchange students, and Americans who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

The plan of the conference will include an afternoon student panel discussion on "How Can We Facilitate International Student Exchange?" This will be followed by a dinner in North Dining Hall for all conference participants. The evening session will feature an address delivered by Dr. Henry P. Brandis, Dean of the School of Law at the University of North Carolina, on the topic, "Students As Ambassadors for World Federalism." Dr. Brandis is well qualified to speak on this topic as he has been a leader for years of world federalism in North Carolina. His experience with world affairs includes work in Indonesia with Dr. Frank Graham.

PANTHERS HAND APPALACHIAN A 60-50 DEFEAT

On January 17 our mighty Panthers traveled up to Boone to play their roughest game to date. At one point in the game it resembled a football game with all the body blocks being thrown from both sides. Appalachian took their only lead in the game after one-and-a-half minutes of playing time when they lead 3-2. The Panthers began to breathe fire at this point and before the Mountaineers knew what hit them they were on the short end of a 15-6 score.

LUCY F. KING

Associate Editor

Lucy F. King, from Durham, N. C., is the popular Associate Editor of the Hi-Po. This is Lucy's second year at High Point College and for both of her years here at the college she has been on the Hi-Po staff.

Last year Mrs. King worked as a reporter and last Fall she was appointed Associate Editor of the paper.

Mrs. King is an English major and has made the honor roll in both her years here at the college. Lucy aspires to become a writer but plans to teach for a living.

During the recent war Mrs. King served for 14 months in the Womens Army Corp. She is married and the mother of a three-year-old son.

Theatre Associates Present Play

The Theatre Associates of First Methodist Church presented three one-act institutional plays before an appreciative audience Tuesday evening in Heuser Auditorium.

Herman Coble, Jr., directed a comedy, "Joint Owners in Spain," written by Alice Brown. Juanita McKenzie, Bea DeHaven, Mary Lib Barton, and Lula Pegram turned in fine performances.

"The Valiant," a tragedy, by Holworthy Hall and Robert Middlemass, was under the direction of Nick Lawrence and starred Benny Myers, Max Shoaf, Herman Coble, Jr., Janie Bartlett, Boone Jackson, and Don Toliver.

An outstanding comedy, written and directed by talented Bea DeHaven, entitled "Petunia House," was well received. The cast included Lula Pegram, Mary Barton, Herman Coble, Jr., Bea DeHaven, Don Toliver, Juanita McKenzie, John Parker, Boone Jackson, Max Shoaf and Nick Lawrence. The scene takes place in the sitting room of Petunia House, an exclusive rest home. The play sustains a mood of mad disorder throughout, and the inmates manage to keep the audience in stitches with their slapstick comedy. The authoress is the wife of one of High Point College's most outstanding students, Kenneth DeHaven.

Complete On-the-Spot Exams Given by Jet Pilots

Young men and women interested in a career as an officer in the United States Air Force will have an opportunity to be interviewed and completely processed by Air Force Jet Pilots here.

Major McLaurin, veteran B-29 pilot in the Pacific, from Shaw Air Force Base announced that Captain Burns, jet pilot with a long combat record at Guadalcanal and Christmas Islands, and another jet pilot will be on hand to answer all questions concerning Pilot, Navigator, and OCS Training, and tell how it feels to fly those fast jet fighters and bombers.

The interviewing board is especially equipped to give a complete vision and hearing examination and, along with the written test, can advise immediately whether the applicant is qualified. This enables the applicant to get an on-the-spot exam and eliminate delay and uncertainty.

The three types of training have the same educational requirement and that is two years of college with the exception that the OCS applicant may be a high school graduate and have the ability to pass an equivalent examination of those two years. The physical requirements vary with each of the three programs, the pilot and navigator having more stringent vision standards than those of the officer candidate for men and women.

Generally the three types to be explained and tested next week are, one, Aviation Cadet Pilot Training. Young men selected from those qualified receive 12 months of academic and flying instructions. Graduates are awarded the silver wings of a pilot and commissions as second lieutenants in the Air Force. Outstanding graduates receive regular commissions. All others, with reserve commissions, have opportunity to compete for regular commissions while on three years of active duty in flying assignments with the Air Force.

To be eligible for pilot training, single men must be between the ages of 19½ and 26½; citizens, and pass the qualifying examination; and with high physical and moral qualifications. Classes begin every six weeks.

Two, Aviation Cadet Navigator Training. Young officers trained in the latest technique of radar navigation are in great demand to navigate the bombers and transports. To meet this increasing need for navigators, the Air Force has opened an Aviation Cadet Navigator School at Ellington Base, Houston, Texas. Classes begin every month.

Graduates of the 12-month training program receive commissions as second lieutenants, with aeronautical rating as navigator. After a 30-day leave with pay, they are assigned to navigation duties with the Strategic Air Command or the world-wide Military Air Transport Service.

Opportunities for regular commissions are the same as for aviation cadets taking pilot training.

INAUGURATION CEREMONY

Mr. Horace S. Haworth, Presiding

A large number of college presidents and approximately 200 delegates from colleges all over the country have accepted the invitation to represent their various colleges and take part in the academic procession of the inaugural ceremonies of Dr. Cooke, third president of High Point College. The student body and the public are invited to attend the 10:00 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. ceremonies.

Joe College: "I've got an eight o'clock class."

KNOW YOUR COLLEGE

The Student Center Building, erected in 1941-42, stands north of Roberts Hall and houses the Bookstore and Student Center. Students become acquainted with the Bookstore soon after arrival on campus through their purchases of books and school supplies.

Mr. H. E. Coble, Associate Professor of Education, has been connected with the Bookstore in the capacity of manager since 1945. A modern soda fountain, candies, milk, sandwiches and college jewelry are found here. Students relax and enjoy refreshments between classes from 8 to 4 each day except Saturday when the Bookstore closes at noon. It is open from 9 to 10 each evening. Student help is employed exclusively to serve the students.

Mrs. Edna Paschal, Director of Student Center, is hostess to students each afternoon from 1 to 4 and each evening from 6 to 7:15. Card games, ping-pong, dominoes, checkers, and dancing to a record player are a few of the activities which the students enjoy in the large comfortable Alumni Room.

Students interested in participating in a bridge tournament are urged to contact Mrs. Paschal in order that plans may be completed and the tournament carried on this semester. Mrs. Paschal would like to see more of the dormitory students use and enjoy the facilities of the Center.

Coffee and cookies were served during the week of examinations through the courtesy of Mr. Pettit and the financial aid of the Student Center fund.

Croquet and shuffleboard will be available as soon as the weather permits, it was announced by Mrs. Paschal.

George Steffan, a sophomore and a native of High Point, succeeds Chester Brown as Business Manager.

George attended High Point High School and served in the U. S. Navy before entering High Point College.

Home Ec. Dept. Shows High Average

In the last nine years there have been 45 graduates in Home Economics from High Point College, making an average for the past nine years of five graduates per teacher per year. This number is higher than the average per teacher in the large institutions and higher than the average of all the Home Economics departments.

The figures taken from the 1948 issue of U. S. Office of Education, Vocational Education in Federal Security Agency at Washington, D. C., show:

Ames Home Ec. College total 2.8 graduates in Home Ec. per teacher per year.

The University of Nebraska total 2.0 graduates in Home Ec. per teacher per year.

The George Peabody College total 3.8 graduates in Home Ec. per teacher per year.

The University of Texas total 3.0 graduates in Home Ec. per teacher per year.

Marshall College, W. Va., total 2.8 graduates in Home Ec. per teacher per year.

In 1948 in the co-ed institutions, the Home Ec. majors number nearer 10 per cent of the total women enrolled. High Point College meets this requirement of 10 per cent of girls enrolled and sometimes has exceeded this 10 per cent.

Child development classes use the "Jack and Jill Nursery" in High Point and a practice house is maintained for senior girl Home Ec. majors.

The Home Ec. Department of High Point College is equal to, and sometimes exceeds, the accomplishments of the larger and richer endowed institutions of the nation that give Home Ec. training.

"You're drunk again, Mark. Well, you're in bed anyway. I guess I better get these empty bottles off the floor. What are you mumbling about, lying there with that airplane picture in your hand? You're a funny kid. Here, let me get that blanket off of you. It's sort of warm in here. There you are, old top."

"What did you say? Don't tell your mom? Don't worry, brother, I won't; but if you don't sober up and start going to classes again, she's going to hear about you and not from me."

"What's that? You want another drink? Look, you've had enough. Aw, never mind. Here it is, but that's all you get tonight. Poor kid, I don't blame you. I think I'd get drunk too if I were in your loafers."

"Funny thing. I remember when we were kids together. One day you'd done something. I don't remember exactly what it was—yelled a little too loud or something while your mom was trying to sleep, I think. She locked you in a dark closet. You raised a hell of a fuss at first. Then after a while you got quiet, and your mom went back to sleep again. The house was as quiet as if somebody was dead, but that's the way it was most of the time, thanks to your mom's domination. None of your friends ever went to the house to see you because of her. They couldn't stand her, and I don't see how you stood her either. Talk about domineering women, she was one. Oh, well."

"Here, fellow, let me get that strand of hair out of your face."

There's still some peroxide on it. You peroxidized your hair for that girl so you'd look more handsome, as if you needed anything to improve your looks. You were trying to be somebody else that you weren't. You were always running away from yourself.

"Let's see, what was that girl's name? Oh, yes—Janet. A pretty good looking girl, but somehow she always seemed a lot like your mom. I suppose it was because she always tried to boss everybody around, especially you because she knew she could get away with it."

"It's a good thing she broke up with you. I'll never forget that night. You had asked her to ride out to the airport to watch the planes come and go. You always were keen on watching an airplane roll down the runway and soar into the sky. Janet wanted to go dancing, though, at some high class place, but you stood your ground for once, thank God. You told her flatly you were going to the airport and she could go dancing with someone else. I was glad to see you stand up to her. Of course, I was the guy who ended up taking her dancing, but I was happy for you."

"Hey, why are you staring at that airplane picture so much? Sure, go ahead and talk about it. Dream about it. You've got to dream about something, poor kid. What are you talking about now? You what? Here, here's some coffee. You're what? Will I . . . ? Say that again, buddy. Sure. You're damned right I'll go down to the recruiting office with you tomorrow!"

Ping-Pong Tournament Begins

Last fall the students of High Point College held a ping-pong tournament to determine the college varsity team. The original plan was to stimulate this minor but much-played sport to a place of competition, not only in our college but in others also. John Hinton, the former manager of the series of games, had to leave school because of illness. Before he left he, with the help of Physical Education Instructor, arranged the tentative schedule that follows: Elon, February 8, here; Catawba, February 15, here; Elon, February 22, there.

These games will be played in the Student Center. There is a special advantage extended to the students attending our team's games—they get in free. So fellows, bring a gal, or girls, bring a guy, supply yourself with popcorn and join the eye ballers in their support of our team.

The Southern farmer was introducing his family of boys to a visiting governor.

"Seventeen boys," exclaimed the father. "And all Democrats but John, the little rascal. He got to readin'."

"A Passing Thought"

BY CHARLES GARDNER

The earthy roads on which we walk
Would tell of things if they could talk,

Of life and love, death and a daring deed,

Of men who fought under a single creed

To win Freedom and prosperity for us all.

Gone are the blood stains where they fell.

The blanket of time has covered them well;
Yet still they are in every grain of sand
That flows through the fingers of my hand
As I stand on the edge of this lonely road.

Although with weeds it is overgrown

The road shall not forget what it has known

We mortals are always forgetting these things

Until the bell of death begins its last rings

And we have our last look at the earthly road.

This lonely, weeded road and the thoughts I met;
I surely shall never in this world forget.

"I have just returned from a big-game hunting safari in India."

"Yeah?" What did you bring back?"

"Seven lions, five tigers, two leopards, and a potter."

"Potter? What's a potter?"
"To cook in."

Here's your opportunity to qualify for Aviation Cadet training. To be eligible, you must be single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college and with high physical and moral qualifications.

Find out about the academic, military and flying training you'll get as an Aviation Cadet—either for pilot or navigator. If qualified, your papers will be processed so you can begin training after you finish college.

Learn about the important career opportunities open to you as an officer . . . after you have won your wings as pilot or navigator . . . and received a commission as second lieutenant in the Air Force!

...NON-FLYING CAREERS, TOO!

Never before in peacetime has there been such an opportunity for college-trained men and women to obtain commissions in the U. S. Air Force. If you are interested in a non-flying career in aviation, ask for information about Officer Candidate School.

U. S. AIR FORCE

ONLY THE BEST CAN BE AVIATION CADETS

WITH THE PANTHERS

BY G. T.

The mighty Purple Panthers' growl is rumbling louder and louder. The growl is being heard and feared from one end of this state to the other. The Panthers are beginning to receive some belated national attention. After all, 17 in a row without a loss is no cry matter where the Panthers are concerned. The Hi-Po went to press before the ECTC game, but if the Panthers win that game then they will have tied State's best consecutive win record under Case. If the Panthers beat ACC, in addition to ECTC, then it will be 20 straight victories and will have broken Case's record at State.

This is the non-letter crew that was given an outside chance to finish somewhere in the second division before the season's firing got under way.

On January 2 the Atlantic Christian Bulldogs came to High Point flexing their muscles from having just dumped the Bears of Lenoir-Rhyne in two games. The Bulldogs play a slow game with the purpose of throwing fast teams like the Panthers off their motion. For eight minutes it looked as if the Bulldogs might succeed. Led by Jack Allsbrook and Bobby Statt the Bulldogs were playing a fine delaying tactics game till Hunt, Joyce, Sueta and Waiz broke their back with the fast break and from there on out the Bulldogs would have fared better if they had hung up their shoes and returned to Wilson. The final score was 87-44.

On January 31, the Mountaineers from Appalachian journeyed down to High Point only to receive the same treatment as every other conference foe that has matched wits against the mighty Panthers. The Mountaineers were out to avenge an earlier loss that the Panthers had inflicted on them on their home floor. It was a rough game from start to finish that saw two first-string men foul out from both sides by the fourth period. The Mountaineers held the lead till midway in the third quarter at which time the mighty Panthers began to look over their sore spots as they were on the short end of a 51-40 score. At this point the Panthers came to life and proved why they are the best in the State. Within six minutes the Panthers scored 18 points while holding the Mountaineers to a mere two points. From here on out it was open country for the Panthers.

When the final curtain of smog had settled in the valley of Boone the Mountaineers picked up their shooting irons and brown jugs and quietly returned to the mountain to lick their wounds. But as they stole away we could all but hear them say: "Just wait till next year and we will avenge this 71-59 licking." Could it be that no one has informed them that out of the first seven men that there are no seniors and only two juniors on the Panther squad?

On February 2 the Panthers traveled to Elon where the fighting Christians entertained ideas of converting the Panthers from their winning ways, but before the shades of night had been lifted the Christians found out to their sorrow that the very cagey Panthers had no intentions of being converted. Led by Joyce and Waiz the Panthers dropped the Christians 75-51.

On February 4 the Catawba Indians in full war dress and paint led by Heap Big Chief Ruth invaded the lair of the Panthers to get some scalps. The Indians were in a vile mood since it had been just a short while ago that the Panthers had invaded their tepee and soundly chewed the Indians up for the first time in four moons on their own stomping grounds. But Big Panther James was now out of bed and he refused to let the Indians scalp his youthful sophomore crew.

Catawba entered the game breathing fire and took the lead which they held till after the half. At half-time Catawba held a 35-33 lead and the score was tied twice before High Point went ahead at 56-55 with less than six minutes to play. From here on out it was the Panthers' game and they were able to win 78-69.

From here it is hard to pick an outstanding man on the High Point squad. This is probably the reason the other teams find it rather difficult to beat the Panthers because to stop the Panthers it requires for every man to be guarded. The Panthers today are like the famous five All-Americans from Kentucky. If one member made All-America then all members of the team would have to be chosen. That's just how close the Panthers play together. Students—keep up that rousing support.

The W. A. A. is grateful to the following for furnishing their basketball suits: Mobile Grocery, High Point College Bookstore, Quality Clothing Store, Deluxe Diner, Penney's, Steel's Diner, Redwine Hardware, Jeff's Drug, Dick Culler, Parham-Darr Co., Kopper Kettle and Steward's Automatic Laundry.

If you've seen something roaming around the campus this past week that looks like new football recruits, don't get excited. It's only W. A. A. initiation. The girls initiated were Dot Stone, Ann Hendrix, Reba Wright, Betty Barber, Kat Wade and Patricia McCulloch. We welcome you to our organization.

Saturday night following the Catawba basketball game, the W. A. A. members journeyed to the home of the president, Anita Cornelison, for a party. Entertainment for the evening consisted of dancing, bridge, ping-pong, miniature basketball, bowling, and, of course, eating.

On Tuesday, February 7, the Athletic Council announced that C. Q. Smith had accepted the job as head coach at High Point College to succeed Coach Ralph James whose resignation is effective March 1.

Smith is married and graduated from Southern Methodist University in 1937. He has spent three summers doing graduate work at S. M. U. After graduation he coached football, basketball and baseball for four years in Texas high schools. Then he entered the Air Force as an athletic director and his team won the Air Force football championship. He was discharged with the rank of captain. After his discharge he assumed the head coaching position at Tennessee Wesleyan Junior College where he compiled a good record. For the last three years Smith has been at Georgetown College at Georgetown, Ky.

Coach Smith runs from the split-T, using the razzle-dazzle brand of ball that the Southwestern Conference is famous for. His father is president of Oklahoma City University.

Society News

The biggest sensation of High Point College is of course . . . you guessed it, the basketball team! From the society page goes all best wishes for continued success for the remainder of the season. . . . The Girl's Religious Education Club has made favors for the Tuberculosis Sanatorium for the month of February. These favors are small candy cups with red cupids on the side. They will be filled with candy and placed on the trays St. Valentine's Day. . . . Heart Sister Week is drawing to a close. Each girl has a "sister" to whom she has been especially nice to by doing helpful and enjoyable little favors. At a Valentine party Monday night each girl will make herself known to her heart sister. By doing this the girls become closer attached to each other and really are "sisters" to each other. . . . On February 6 the Faculty Woman's Club was entertained jointly by Mrs. Joyce Ellis, Miss Myrtle Engen, Miss Joyce Hester and Mrs. Phyllis Collins. A delightful fruit course was served following entertainment. Mrs. Dennis Cooke was the honored guest. . . . The big note in the Theta Phi Sorority plans is the Gingham Tavern which will be held in the Student Center on Monday night, February 13. There will be atmosphere, entertainment, delicious food and good table service. Make your reservations for the evening from 5 until 7 o'clock with one of the sisters. The cost, seventy-five cents. . . .

Birthday congratulations to the DBA fraternity on their second birthday. They will celebrate with an anniversary party at the Plantation Supper Club Sunday night, February 12. . . . When the faculty and staff of High Point College met one afternoon the members elected Miss Vera Idol to represent the faculty at the inaugural ceremonies of Dr. Dennis H. Cooke as the third president of the college on February 23. By virtue of having served the college since its beginning in 1924 in a teaching capacity, Miss Idol was elected to receive the honor. Miss Idol has had a wide range in career in teaching having taught in the elementary and high schools of High Point before coming to the college.

OWEN FITZGERALD

Owen Fitzgerald was recently elected president of the North Carolina Methodist Student Movement at the annual conference in Greensboro, an honor of which to be very proud. Owen is a native of Kinston, N. C., and was graduated from high school there. He was for three years an officer of the North Carolina Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Upon coming to High Point College, Owen was elected treasurer of the Freshman class and later of the Junior class. An honor roll student, he is a member of the DAE fraternity. He is also president of the High Point College Methodist Student Fellowship which is this year sponsoring the adoption of expenses of a 10-year-old Greek girl. Owen has represented High Point College at the United Christian Conference at the University of Kansas and the Methodist Student Conference at the University of Illinois.

This Summer Owen plans to visit Europe with a Youth Caravan of 12 North Carolina youths to re-establish the church in Stuttgart, Germany. He will be there about six weeks and will spend another two weeks on tour in Europe. Following graduation here, Owen plans to enter Duke Divinity School in Durham, N. C. Major McLaurin explained a very important point that anyone trying for one of these three careers who may find himself unsuitable and is eliminated does not have to remain in the service. He may withdraw and seek some other profession in which he may be interested.

Dr. Dennis Cooke to be Inaugurated Third President of High Point College

Outstanding Men in Religion and Education to Speak at Ceremonies

Speakers

The inauguration of Dr. Dennis H. Cooke as third president of High Point College this afternoon at 2:30 will feature outstanding men in religion and education as speakers.

Dr. A. Hollis Edens, president of Duke University, will speak on "The Responsibility of the Church in Higher Education" from the viewpoint of the educator. Dr. John O. Gross, Executive Secretary of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, Division of Educational Institutions, will speak on the same subject from the viewpoint of the churchman. The viewpoint of the layman will be expressed by Mr. Benjamin Schmoker, General Secretary on Friendly Relations Among Foreign Students.

Bishop Costen Jordan Harrell, outstanding churchman in this section and Bishop of the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference, will preside during the program of inauguration ceremonies this morning at 10:00.

Following is a biographical sketch on the speakers:

BISHOP HARRELL — Born in Gates County, February 12, 1885. Educated, Sunbury Academy in North Carolina; Trinity College, Vanderbilt University, Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Va.; Duke University, Litt. TO BE INAUGURATED TODAY

DR. DENNIS H. COOKE

Prominent Visitors Alumni Serve in On Campus Many Fields

Dr. Boyd McKeown, Director of Public Relations, Board of Education, Methodist Church, with offices in Nashville, Tenn., and Dr. B. Joseph Martin, Executive Director of the Methodist College Foundation of North Carolina, with offices in Greensboro, were on the campus all day Wednesday, February 15, to visit and observe many phases of the college program.

The regular faculty meeting, originally scheduled for Monday, February 13, was set forward to Wednesday so that the members of the faculty and administration might have the opportunity to hear the helpful and inspiring message which Dr. McKeown was known to bear. He pointed out the important role and the significant obligation that the faculty and the college as a whole had as a unit in public relations. At the conclusion of the faculty meeting, refreshments were served in the foyer of Roberts' Hall; and thus the members of the college staff had the opportunity to meet and talk informally with Dr. Martin and Dr. McKeown. We are indeed honored to have such distinguished visitors on our campus.

Since 1927, High Point College has graduated 1,700 men and women who have brought and are still bringing honor and distinction to their Alma Mater. Approximately 1,100 have given their services to 158 towns and communities of North Carolina.

The number of graduates have increased from 13 in 1927 to 154 in 1949. The number of men graduates has exceeded the number of women graduates by four to one in recent years. Formerly this ratio was almost reversed with the number of women graduates exceeding the number of men graduates three to one.

Approximately 1,000 teachers and 100 ministers are keeping the name of High Point College before the public. Thirty-three states and several foreign countries are enjoying the services of our graduates. During World War II, 34 of our alumni gave their lives in the service of our country.

Distinguished and Experienced Educator

Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, B.A., M.Ed., Ph.D., will be inaugurated as the third president of High Point College this afternoon at 2:30 in Harrison Gymnasium.

Dr. Cooke is aged 45, married, a Methodist, has two sons, and was born and reared in Maiden, N. C.

High Point College is honored to have such a distinguished educator for its third president. Dr. Cooke has the following experiences in the educational field: He served for one year as principal of the elementary school in Maiden, N. C.; one year as principal of high schools in Aberdeen, N. C.; two years as superintendent of the Masonic Orphanage Schools, Oxford, N. C.; one year as Julius Rosenwald Fellow and graduate student in department of education administration and educational psychology, Peabody College; two years as associate professor of education administration, Peabody College; eight years as professor of education administration, Peabody College; six years as head department of educational administration, Peabody College; thirteen months as president East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, N. C.; two years professor of education, head department of education, and director summer session, Woman's College, University of North Carolina, and has been head of High Point College since June 1, 1949.

Dr. Cooke has either served as member of the survey or staff for the following educational surveys, always handling the administrative phases of the surveys on the following: (1) A study of South Carolina High School conditions; 2) Greenwood, Mississippi, City Schools; 3) Survey of all the Baptist Colleges in North Carolina; 4) Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Parish and City Schools; 5) Louisiana State Educational Survey; 6) Louisville, Kentucky, City Schools; 7) Athens, Georgia, City Schools; 8) Darlington County, South Carolina, City and Rural Schools; 9) Crossett, Arkansas, City Schools; 10) Corpus Christi, Texas, City Schools; 11) Houston, Texas, City Schools; 12) El Paso, Texas, City Schools; and 13) North Carolina State Educational Commission study.

Dr. Cooke is listed in the following publications: (1) Leaders in Education; 2) Psychological Register; 3) The Southerner; 4) Who's Who in American Education; 5) Who's Who in America; and 6) Who Knows—And What. He is also a member of the following professional and honorary organizations: (1) Kappa Delta Pi; 2) Phi Delta Kappa; 3) Southern Society for Philosophy, Psychology and Education; 4) American Psychological Association; 5) American Educational Research Association; 6) National Educational Association; 7) American Association of School Administrators; and 8) North Carolina Education Association.

He is the author or co-author of approximately 100 articles in educational journals, mostly of an administrative nature. Also author or co-author of 26 books in education administration, general education, psychology, and elementary school textbooks.

W. L. Terry Makes Personal Appearance

Warren Lee Terry appeared before the student body in assembly Tuesday, February 21, and gave a very entertaining program in song and story of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas.

Mr. Terry, a Broadway comedy star, is a comedian with a repertoire of 52 roles in light and grand opera. Leading comedian with R. H. Burnside, Gilbert and Sullivan Co., 1945-46, principal comedian Metropolitan Comic Opera, N. Y. C., 14 years leading comedian Chautauqua Opera Association, Chautauqua, N. Y.

In his appearance before the student body Mr. Terry was full of tales, anecdotes, music, humor and education. He has a keen sense of humor combined with a remarkable personality.

Mr. Terry travels over the country entertaining at universities, colleges, high schools, men's and women's clubs. He has appeared at over 500 USO clubs and 100 military hospitals, entertaining over 2,000,000 men and women of the armed forces.

The college is indeed honored to have such a distinguished man to appear before and entertain them.

CONGRATULATIONS TO BASKETBALL TEAM

Tonight the mighty Purple Panthers enter the tournament at Statesville to decide the North State Conference champions. The student body and faculty pledge their loyal support to the Panthers and Coach James to help bring the championship to High Point College.

EDITORIALS

We, the students at High Point College are indeed fortunate to have as our next President a man with the experience and vision that Dr. Dennis H. Cooke possesses. Dr. Cooke has a wide experience in the educational field and we may rest assured that under his leadership the college will become fully accredited in the near future. Dr. Cooke has expressed definite plans for the next ten years. Following is his own statement as to the next ten years at High Point College:

"We do not have our hearts set on 'bigness' here at High Point College; neither are we against it. We are an institution of between seven and eight hundred students. This is all we can handle with our present facilities, and do a good job. We are not allergic to becoming a larger institution, but we must 'get better' before we have a right to 'get bigger.' If our friends give the College enough money to expand and to improve our program, we shall become both 'bigger and better.' But if we must choose between becoming 'bigger or better,' as it appears we must until larger funds are in sight, we must become 'better.' For the next ten years, therefore, emphasis should be placed upon development of our present program rather than expansion. Considerable effort should be devoted toward improving our academic structure which has been good, but it should be made better. All departments should be improved and strengthened, and as many instructors with advanced graduate degrees should be added as we can afford."

These few words should be enough to indicate to the students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the school that we have a President who will be working hard to improve the standards of High Point College and will endeavor to place our institution on a par with any institution of its size in the country. This is a big job and one man cannot do it alone. There must be ceaseless help from every quarter. We as students can help to make this a better school. By patient study and our loyal support. By supporting the Administration and by letting the outside world know what a great school we have and also by informing everyone just what our President is out to accomplish. When we graduate and become Alumni then we will be in a better position to aid our school. It will be our duty to join the Alumni organization and to get behind it to make it a strong group to support the various programs that our college is undertaking.

Many factors have been working for better student spirit and student-faculty relations during the past year. Dr. Cooke has been directly behind this movement and the program has been successful. One important factor has been the weekly assemblies where the students and faculty are able to get together and discuss current problems and also to inform everyone just what is happening and why. It has proved to be a definite aid to student morale to be able to come together once a week. Another outstanding feature noticeable on the campus this year has been the vibrant student spirit and a strong willingness to support the athletic teams and the different new programs that have been instituted for their benefit. These are just a start and now with a strong pilot at the wheel the school and its supporters will rise to a higher height than has been attained previously.

High Point College is a young school. At 25 years of age it is not much older than its student body, but unlike its student body the college has reached full maturity and has now taken a seat among the eldest colleges of this nation. The students and alumni are indebted to the City of High Point for making a college at this location possible. The City of High Point donated fifty acres of land and contributed $100,000 through a citizens committee to make the college possible. The city itself has derived many benefits from the college being located here. The cultural atmosphere of a college has been introduced, almost half the graduates of the college are from High Point itself. By the college being located here many students have been able to attend college where they would have not been able to otherwise due to the expense incurred in going off to a distant college. In 25 years High Point College has conferred almost 1,700 degrees, and from an initial enrollment of 27 it grew to an all-time high of 846 students in 1949. The property value of the college now stands at $1,000,000 and is growing every year.

From only an idea the success of the college is a success story that could only take place in a free nation such as ours. The college has been supported by the people and owes its success to the people and not to being supported by state or national funds. By keeping itself free from entanglements by any political organization the college has been able to teach what it considered right and fitting in a free democracy. Although High Point College is a church-related school its liberal education policy is such that no faith feels offended in pursuing the different courses offered. All students are required to pursue one year of Bible teaching, but the courses are not taught from the angle of one church denomination. The courses are designed to embrace all faiths. Protestants, Catholics and Jews sit side by side in each class and enjoy the same type of instruction. All Protestant faiths have at one time or the other had ministerial students to complete their undergraduate work at High Point College. High Point College is truly a democratic school to all faiths.

HITCH-HIKING

Some of us still have cars that will still run, and it would give us real pleasure to help the roadside High Point students reach their destinations. What we need is an authentic High Point signal. Too often have we stopped to give a lift to one we thought belonged to us. But he turned out to be a Fuller Brush Man, a book agent, or a reader of gas meters, and at times a plain old bum. Or he might have looked pretty tough at the moment—and yet turn out to be a High Point student.

When traveling there are a few simple rules to observe on the way—especially if you are traveling by the thumb. First, is to dress neat—no one wants their car soiled nor do they want a bum in their car. Second, when the car stops tell the driver at once who you are, where you are from, and your destination. Third, if you have a bag put a High Point sticker on it. But if you do not have a bag there is need for a signal especially locally so that a student or friend of the college may know that you are a college boy. A good sign to get started with is the "V" sign till someone can submit a better sign.

Thumbing is the national pastime among the college group. The driver takes a risk when he picks up a stranger and the thumbtaker takes a risk when a stranger picks him up. If you find that a reckless driver has picked you up then request him to stop so that you may get out. If the driver is under the influence of alcohol or seems to be incompetent then get out as quickly as possible for your life is not worth the trip. One last word of advice: Always be courteous, thoughtful, and considerate of the driver who has given you a ride. He may want to give you a lift again at a later date, or give your buddy a lift.

ALUMNI

The inauguration ceremonies for Dr. Cooke should bring to the campus a large number of High Point College alumni. Each of them should be recognized and honored, for our alumni belong to no particular administration and to no short period of time; they are an imperishable part of the college for all time. It is the alumni who have spent four years on the campus and now they have mellowed in wisdom and strength and it to this group that we the students have to look for our leadership and guidance. It is they who can observe our faults and shortcomings and make the recommendations for improving our standards. The greatest asset to any college is a strong alumni organization behind it. The alumni from High Point College have been slowly increasing in strength and now they have reached the point where they will begin active participation in the college affairs. High Point College is already showing signs of growing pains, but it will not grow unless the alumni back the college all the way, mentally, morally and financially. The alumni spirit, as the student spirit, is showing great signs of improving till both have reached the point where they are High Point College bred, read, and fed with knowledge. When we the students finish up our High Point College careers we will enter into the alumni association and be able to maintain a close contact with our school and help to enlarge and maintain its various programs.

Alumni and Students go hand in hand,
Down the long, winding road of life,
But wherever they roam or whatever they do,
Their thoughts in truth will be,
High Point College is my Alma Mater.

College Is Asset to City of High Point

In 1924 the people of High Point established a college here. It took much hard work but only minor emphasis was placed on the prospective institution as an economic asset.

The original founders looked upon the college as an educational opportunity, a cultural center, an asset with beautiful buildings, all of which have come true.

Financially the dividend paid by the college cannot be overlooked. College operations and student expenditures are estimated at 20 times the cash subscriptions. The four financial campaigns between 1924 and 1945 netted almost a quarter of a million dollars in cash. Between four and five million dollars have flowed through local commercial and banking channels as a result of this location. Naturally dormitory students spend more locally than those who come daily from cities close by and the local young people. Authorities calculate that at today's price level a student living on the campus makes personal expenditures of $160 to $175 in a college year. In a fiscal year these students represent some $50,000 in local markets.

Since the establishment of the college, students have spent between a million and a half dollars in High Point. This excludes the people who live outside of town even though they do buy articles that will amount to quite a sum.

It has been ascertained that the college is an important consumer of both retail and wholesale merchants. Supplies for the cafeteria run into a substantial figure; purchases for classrooms and departmental and building use represents a considerable sum. Including the salaries for college instructors and employees the institution provides more than $125,000 per year for local distribution.

Economy for the local students has shown that there is an average saving of at least $175 annually.

With more than 600 High Point young people graduating at the college, it is estimated that in excess of $100,000 has remained in the community that otherwise would have been distributed in other municipalities.

Including buildings, equipment, real estate and endowments which provide a certain amount of income for operating purposes, college authorities appraise all capital assets as just short of a full million dollars.

Mr. Cavalier Visits H-P Campus

Mr. Cavalier paid a visit to High Point College last week and distributed free Cavalier cigarettes to the students on the campus. After spending the morning on the campus, Mr. Cavalier paraded in the city of High Point.

The Cavaliarcade was led by a motorcycle escort and a convertible carrying two of the beauties from High Point College. The feature attraction was Mr. Cavalier shown above with Miss Betty Barber and Miss Rhyne Allen from the college.

After the parade, Mr. Cavalier visited among the crowds in the downtown section, passing out samples of the new, mild, king

Liberal Education

By CHARLES CHILDS

Under the directorship of the Chancellor, Robert Hutchins, the University of Chicago was the first major American university to adopt a plan of liberal education. Chancellor Hutchins, noted philosopher, returned to the teaching of the old classics such as Socrates, Plato and Aristotle. When he first placed the liberal education into operation there was considerable criticism from many notable conservative educators.

But what was his plan and what has been the result of this liberal education plan?

Chancellor Hutchins' plan was to have every graduate of the University a "well rounded citizen." His plan has been fulfilled through a planned curricular for each individual student. Each student is required to pass specific courses in mathematics, history, philosophy, and languages. If a student can pass a standard test in any of these fields, he is not required to take the course. The result is that many superior students graduate earlier than they otherwise would in another school. Chancellor Hutchins believes that if a student has already mastered a certain subject he should not waste his time or the time of the university by repeating the course.

There are not any roll-books, grade, or attendance checking. Each student realizes that if he wants to learn he must attend classes; however, if the student feels that it is not necessary for him to attend every class in order to pass the subject, he is not required to attend, provided of course that he is showing the instructor that it is not necessary. When a student believes that he is capable of passing the standard test for a particular subject, he is permitted to take the test. If he passes he is not required to attend any more class periods and he receives credit for the course. This system encourages the student to study more outside the regular curriculum.

Another change which Chancellor Hutchins made was the removal of the University of Chicago from inter-collegiate sports. He did not completely eliminate sports. He kept participation in sports within the university.

The University of Chicago has made remarkable progress and success in the field of liberal education. Chancellor Hutchins made these changes in the face of severe criticism. Time and graduates have proven him correct.

Major Bill Reynolds, Oregon '40 Pilot-Professor, U. S. Air Force!

Bill was an all-round athlete. He chose football as his favorite sport, made the varsity teams at Pomona Junior College and also at the University of Oregon.

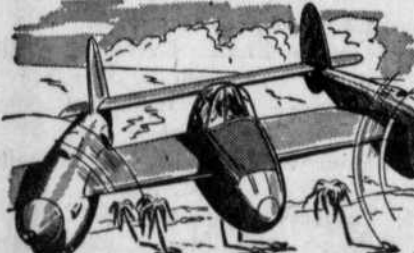

A Theta Chi, Bill enjoyed campus social life. Found that it eased the pressure of rugged athletics and his heavy study schedule in Personnel Management.

Upon graduation, Bill chose a future in the Air Force. He "flew" his first Link trainer as an Aviation Cadet in 1940. By March, 1941, he had won his pilot wings.

The 1st Observation Squadron, Fort Riley, Kansas was Lieutenant Reynolds' first assignment. While there he met the future Mrs. Reynolds. They married a year later and now have two fine sons.

The Squadron moved to Panama, then to the Pacific. Bill advanced from pilot to operations officer to squadron commander. He came home a Major and qualified for a Regular Commission.

Recently commended for peacetime work —organizing and improving instruction techniques—Major Reynolds, a "Pilot-Professor", looks forward to a long and gainful career in the U. S. Air Force.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attn: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

FACULTY MEMBERS

Students at High Point College are fortunate to have the inspirational services of the faculty members pictured above. A large majority are from North Carolina and neighboring states.

Of the administration members, Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, the president, is a native of North Carolina, received his A.B. and A.M. degrees at Duke University and taught many years in his home state; his Ph.D. degree, however, is from George Peabody College in Tennessee. Dr. Clifford Reginald Hinshaw, Dean of Instruction since 1939 and head of the department and professor of education and psychology, is a graduate of Guilford, and did some of his advanced study at the University of North Carolina and at Duke; his other graduate work was at Columbia, and his LL.D. degree is from Western Maryland. He, too, is a North Carolinian and has been at High Point College since 1927. Dr. Percy E. Lindley, Dean of Students and professor of religious education, graduated from Elon; he has taught at High Point College since its founding in 1924; his advanced studies were at Vanderbilt and Chicago, and his LL.D. is from Western Maryland. Mr. Ralph E. James, a North Carolinian, is director of athletics and head coach. Connected with the college from its beginning is Mrs. Clara L. Whitaker, now matron of Woman's Hall and formerly dietitian.

Department heads are as follows:

Dr. Benjamin H. Hill of Texas, professor and head of the department of biology, received his A.B. and M.S. degree from Texas Christian University, and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Illinois.

Dr. George H. Hobart of Michigan and Ohio, heads the department of business administration. Dr. Hobart received his A.B. degree from Michigan University, and the A.M. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of North Carolina.

Dr. Edmund O. Cummings, native of North Carolina, heads the department of chemistry. Dr. Cummings received his B.S. degree from the University of North Carolina and his Ph.D. degree at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Head of the English department is Dr. Lincoln Lorenz, native of Pennsylvania, who received the A.B. and A.M. degrees at Harvard and the Ph.D. degree at Stanford.

Dr. Stuart C. Deskins, of Virginia, is head of the department of history and received his Ph.D. degree from the University of North Carolina.

Miss Ada B. Johnson received her B.S. degree from the University of Nebraska and the M.S. and M.A. degrees from New York and Columbia Universities, respectively. Miss Johnson is assistant professor and head of the department of home economics.

The modern languages department is headed by Mr. J. Hobart Allred. Mr. Allred completed his undergraduate work at the University of North Carolina and the University of Mexico.

Mr. Albert J. Wood of Baltimore, took his B.S. and M.A. degrees at Columbia University. He is head of the music department.

Dr. P. E. Lindley received his Litt.D. degree from Western Maryland College and his other studies were pursued at Vanderbilt and Chicago. Dr. Lindley heads the religious education department.

Director of physical education for men, Mr. Arthur G. Paschal, received the B.S. and M.S. degrees from institutions in Oklahoma.

High Point College Serves as Training Ground for Teachers

Approximately 60 per cent of the High Point graduates have entered the teaching profession. The training of capable teachers has been one of the primary objectives of High Point College since its doors opened in 1923. Eleven of the 13 graduates in the class of 1927 received teachers certificates. For the first few years most of the teachers certificates were issued to women, but in the last few years there has been a noticeable tendency for more men to enter the teaching field. This has been brought about due to the fact that the pay for teachers is practically on a par with the pay in a business and due to more security in the teaching profession than is prevalent in the business field.

The department of education and psychology offers all the professional courses required by the state for the primary, grammar grade and high school teachers certificate. In addition to the required courses in the school, the pupil, and teaching and practice, a large number of elective courses are offered in education. A variety of courses are offered in psychology.

The college is able to offer such a variety of courses in education and psychology because it has a well-trained and adequate teaching staff.

Of the more than 1,000 graduates who have received teacher certificates, some are teaching in colleges, some are school superintendents, some are high school or elementary school principals. But most of them are classroom teachers located throughout the state and in many other states.

Wherever the teachers produced by High Point College are located they continue to give a good account of themselves that is reflected in the quality of the teaching that they received while students at High Point College.

High Point College Serves In Peace And in War

During the recent war High Point College donated its facilities to the use of the government in order to do its part to help end the fight and bring victory to the Allied cause.

On April 5, 1943, the army sent its first detachment of aviation students to the college to receive their basic instructions in the fundamentals of English, history, mathematics, physics, geography and other practical subjects. During the period that the army maintained a unit here at the college 753 men were put through the prescribed program.

Many of these army trainees returned after the war to complete their college education at the institution that they had been introduced to during the war. These students represented the neighboring states as well as the Northern and Western States.

The college gained from the experience of having these service men here. The intensive military training tended to speed up the 247 regular students who were in attendance during the time that the cadets were here. The diversified talents and experiences of the men who had come from many sections of the country gave a broader outlook to all; and the high spirit and good nature of the boys did much to keep up college morale during a very difficult time.

Graduates of High Point College served in all branches of the armed forces, as chaplains, doctors, soldiers, sailors and marines. Thirty-two of these graduates paid the supreme sacrifice by giving their life in service for God and Country.

High Point College gives its service to the nation in peace and war. Its function is to the moral and educational uplifting of the nation.

NORTH STATE CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

The Panthers rebounded from their only Conference loss to soundly trounce E. C. T. C. and thereby to take undisputed possession of the North State Conference championship in regular season play. It has been a hard-charging, hard-fighting, never-say-die Panther team that has won 23 out of 25 games in regular season playing. The Panthers racked up the points that made the victories possible, but behind them was the best coach in the conference and the solid support of the student body and faculty members who were solidly behind the Panthers from start to finish. Even when the mighty Panthers were away from home they were well supported as witnessed by the large number of students who faithfully traveled to every game away from home. No team could ask nor receive better support than the Panthers received during the basketball season.

TOURNAMENT

Eight teams will square off in the tournament tonight at Statesville for the supposed purpose of determining the championship of the North State Conference. The Panthers will enter the tournament as the favorites and in all probabilities will win the crown. Now the question arises as to why it takes a tournament to decide the champions of the conference? For any number of reasons the Panthers could lose out before the final game and could possibly end up as a four-place team in Conference standing notwithstanding the fact that they have won 15 out of 16 games in regular season play. In the last three seasons the actual winner of the Conference championship have not won the tournament. Last season a sixth-place team in regular season play walked off with the fictitious honor of the North State champions. There is no doubt in any of our minds that the Panthers won't win the tournament just as they have defeated all comers in regular season play, but I would still like to know why it takes a tournament to decide a championship?

GOOD LUCK COACH JAMES

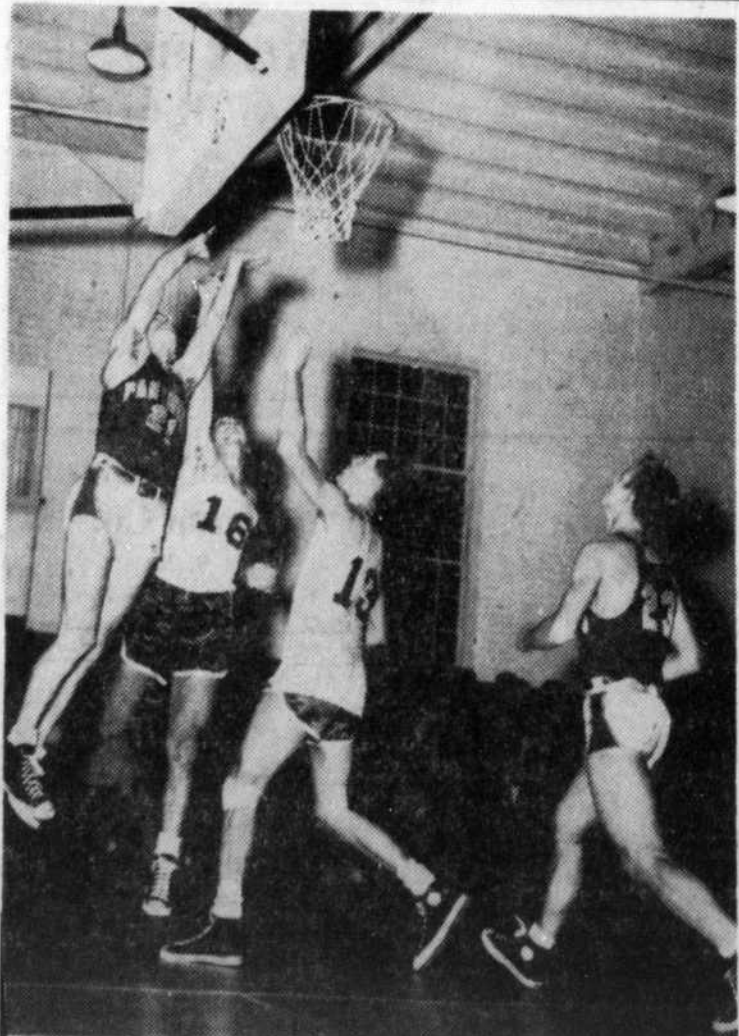

After March 1, Coach Ralph James will leave our campus. Although he will not be around any more we will all remember him for many years to come for the great basketball team that he has produced in the last season. During his five years at the college Coach James' basketball teams have all ended up in the top bracket and he has won more football games than he has lost. We do not know where he will go after leaving here but every one of us certainly wishes him the best in whatever endeavor he undertakes. It is rumored that Coach James will return to Asheville. There is one request that we would like to make of Coach James before he leaves us. If you produce another Charlie Justice, Coach, send him to High Point College so that the students of High Point can sing all the way Choo-Choo instead of the students at North Carolina.

BASEBALL

All you New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodger bait should start getting those muscles limbered up because baseball season is just around the corner. We are all looking forward to many enjoyable afternoons of winning baseball just as we have enjoyed many pleasant nights of winning basketball.

OTHER SPORTS

There are more sports that will be getting under way in the near future than the ones mentioned above. The Intramural basketball season will be coming to an end around March 1st. Then the Volleyball season will get under way; all team captains are urged to have their list in Mr. Paschal's office at the earliest possible date so that the schedule may be drawn up. Volleyball is a game that the girls can play also, so how about a few dozen girls getting together and forming teams and participating in these intramural activities. As soon as the weather clears the Tennis and Golf teams will begin working out. High Point always produces good tennis and golf teams so all newcomers are urged to join the lettermen and make this another great season. The wrestling team has been working out for several weeks now. Why don't you wrestling men put on a few exhibitions for the students? Why not form an intramural wrestling league?

Panthers Win Conference Championship

High Point College Purple Panthers walked off with the league championship by defeating every team in the North State Conference twice with the exception of Eastern Carolina who handed the Panthers their only defeat in conference play. This is the third Conference championship that Coach James has brought to the college since he became head coach in 1946.

The Panthers have been unbeatable on their own home court and have suffered only two defeats on the road.

With only one game to go to tie North Carolina State all time modern record of winning 19 straight games the Panthers suffered a momentary letdown and were defeated by E. C. T. C. for their second and last loss in regular season play. The Panthers handily redeemed themselves four nights later, just as they had done previously with Hanes Hosiery, by soundly trouncing E. C. T. C. and to prove that they were the better team, Coach James used nothing but the second and third string during the last quarter.

Tonight the Panthers enter the tournament at Statesville to replay the same teams that they have already defeated in regular season play to prove that they are the conference champions.

The National League has completed its games. Each team in the American League has one game yet to go.

The tournament will be completed by March 1. The four top teams in each league will play for the championship and the Block-H trophy. Last two teams in each will play off for the consolation prize.

PANTHERS DOWNED BY E. C. T. C.

After winning 18 straight games the Panthers traveled to Greenville, N. C., to play the Buccaneers of E. C. T. C. It was here that the Panthers met their Waterloo, but Napoleon's defeat was final and the Panthers bounced back to take the next four games to sew up the conference championship. An overall shooting accuracy of only 16 per cent, bad passes, and the pressure of extending their winning streak contributed to the Panther defeat. The Panthers were off in the goal department and the Buccaneers were playing their best ball for this upset of the season. The Panthers tried 87 shots from the floor and hit on only 19. At half-time the Panthers held a comfortable 33-26 lead, but the scrappy Buccaneers came back in the second half to completely dominate the playing and to snap the High Point winning streak at 18 games by winning 58-53. E. C. T. C. evidently exerted themselves to the limit against the Panthers because the next night they fell to an underdog eighth-place Elon by a score of 54-30.

A. C. C. GAME

After dropping the game to E. C. T. C. on Friday night the Panthers traveled up to Wilson on Saturday night to redeem themselves by trouncing the Bulldogs 75-63. A. C. C. is a hard team to defeat on its own home floor and it was the first time in three years that the Panthers had managed to do the job.

E. C. T. C. GAME

On Monday, February 13, E. C. T. C. paid a visit to the home court of the aroused Panthers who were still smarting over their defeat of the previous Friday night. The Panthers extended no mercy to the team that had upset their apperact. Using everything but the manager the Panthers proved to everyone's satisfaction that the defeat at the hands of the Bulldogs was only a mistake that was corrected. Waiz hit the comeback trail in this game by sinking 22 points by way of the hoops. In the previous game with E. C. T. C. Waiz had failed to connect on ten tries at the basket. Sueta, the high-scoring Panther center, missed this and the remaining games due to a leg muscle pulled in the A. C. C. game. The 72-61 victory over the Bulldogs definitely clinched the regular season Conference championship for the Panthers as no other team had a mathematical chance of catching the high-flying Panthers from here on out.

ELON GAME

Led by Leonard Hunt who swished 31 points through the hoops and without the services of big Ed Sueta the roaring Panthers ran up their highest score of the season in their last home appearance before the local fans to soundly out-class the Christians from Elon by setting them up and bowling them over to the tune of 90 to 64. The Panthers hit on 52 per cent of their tries at the net. Hunt, who is a regular guard and a mere six footer, took over Sueta's spot at center. Hunt's position at guard was ably filled by hefty Paul Pryor, who along with Bob Draper, have developed into first-class players.

LENOIR-RHYNE FINAL GAME

Last Saturday night, February 18, the Panthers traveled to Hickory for their final Conference game of the season. It was a high-scoring game with three players getting 25 points each. Hunt from High Point, Sellari and Wells from Lenoir-Rhyne. Waiz dropped in 21 points and Joyce 18 to take the other scoring honors for the night. High Point was pushed all the way to obtain the victory. The Bears breathed down the Panthers neck from start to finish and were in the lead several times. High Point was able to maintain their lead in the last few minutes and finally won by a score of 87-81.

A regiment of Negro soldiers were billeted somewhere in England and some of them taught the English lads the great American game of poker. The cards were dealt and a Britisher picked up his hand. He examined it carefully and said:

"I really don't know your poker game, but I'll wager a pound."

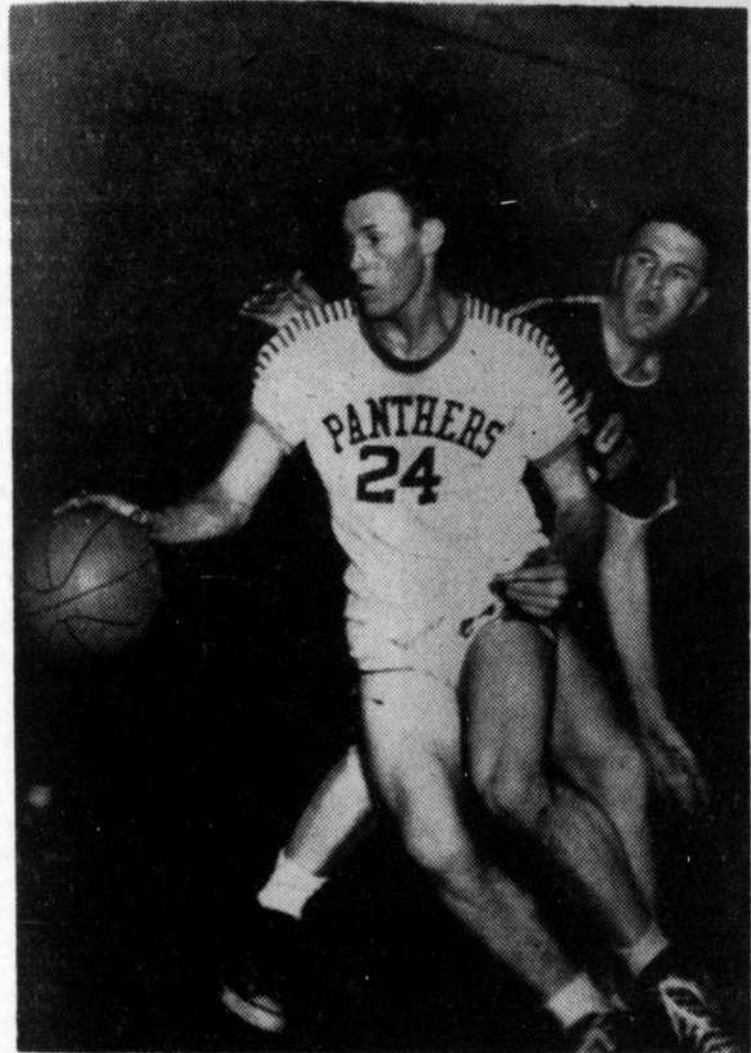

Then one of the colored boys looked at his hand and discovered that he had four aces.

"Well," he said, "I don't know much about you-all's money, but I'm gonna see your pound and raise you a ton."

EX-MEMBER . . .

Mr. Seger stated that he knew Hitler personally and that he did not consider Hitler a genius or an educated man. He stated that Hitler possessed the requirements for all leaders and that was the ability to organize the mass in time of distress. Hitler became the seventh member of the National Socialist German Workers' Party in 1920 and shortly thereafter became the leader, but he was unable to make much headway until the depression set in during 1930. At the beginning of 1930 there were only 13 Nazi members in the Parliament of 435, but by the end of the year there were 170 members of the Nazi party. Mr. Seger at that time was a Democratic member of Parliament. Hitler still needed a majority before he could become Chancellor. In order to obtain a legal majority he ordered the arrest and internment of all Democratic members of the house so that he could receive a fake vote of confidence.

Hitler's success lay in his control of the Secret State Police, better known as the Gestapo. Its membership included one person out of every 100 persons in Germany. This group could arrest anywhere, at any time without benefit of a warrant. They could try and convict without a jury. Mr. Seger as a member of the Reichstag was thrown into a concentration camp by Hitler. After three months of horrors, which he described as being many times worse than three and one-half years on the battlefield during the First World War, he managed to escape to Czechoslovakia and from there to the United States, later he became an American citizen.

Sueta, Hunt, Waiz and Joyce Among Highest Scorers

Four Panthers are in the first six highest scorers in the conference. Graham, from Catawba, takes the highest scoring honors in the conference, but only in the average number of points scored in the total number of games played. Leonard Hunt, Panther guard, leads the conference in total number of points scored. Due to missing the last three games big Ed Sueta did not get the opportunity to improve his score.

High Point still has one game to play with McCrory. The game will be played on February 28 after the tournament is over. This game was brought about due to High Point having to cancel a December engagement because of the students getting to go home earlier than originally planned.

In 16 conference games the Panthers have scored 1,182 points for an average of 73.7 points per game. In 25 games the Panthers have scored 1,804 points for an average of 72.1 points per game. At the same time the opposition has scored 1,394 points against Guard Leonard Hunt and Center Ed Sueta of the High Point College Purple Panthers are among the 116 outstanding basketball players of the nation who have been tapped for All-American honors by the Associated Press Bureau. The final All-American selection will be made by the newspapers and radio stations who are members of the AP. A first and second team will be selected and final results will be announced on March 9.

Hunt and Sueta are among seven North Carolina players who were selected. Others nominated were Dick Dickey, North Carolina State; Dick Groat, of Duke; Hugo Kappler, North Carolina; Nemo Nearman, North Carolina; Sut Najeway, Wake Forest; Sammy Ranzino, North Carolina State; and Creep Youmans, Duke.

Hunt is a sophomore and comes to High Point by way of Indiana; Sueta is also a sophomore and comes to High Point by way of Pennsylvania. At the time that Sueta pulled a leg muscle in the A. C. C. game he was the highest scorer in the North State Conference. Hunt has displayed All-American abilities all during the season, but reached the peak of his performance in the game against Elon when he scored 31 points.

High Point being one of the smaller schools it is doubtful whether its nominees will make the final All-America team, but Hunt and Sueta are All-Conference and will probably receive high attention in All-Southern honors.

Adopted Daughter

The Methodist Student Fellowship has taken as its main project this year the adoption of expenses of Vassiliki Douna, a ten-year-old Greek girl made fatherless, homeless and destitute because of the war. The cost of this project is $180.00 for a year. This gives the child her books, education, food, clothing, and teaches her the religion into which she was born. Contributions for the project are from the members of the M. S. F. Donations from others will be deeply appreciated. Before Christmas a package was sent to Vassiliki containing shoes, socks, soap and many other useful articles.

Vassiliki is the eldest of the three children of George Dounas and Helen Dounas. Her parents were sheep-owners living in the village of Legrana in winter and herding their sheep in the mountains in summer. They earned sufficient money from their herds to live fairly well and they were happy.

In July, 1944, George Dounas was grazing his sheep on Mt. Parnis when he was arrested with 17 other shepherds, by the Germans. They were accused of feeding and helping the resistance groups seen in the mountains. The 18 men were executed that day and all their sheep were taken. Since that fateful day, Vassiliki's mother (now only 34) has had great difficulty feeding and clothing her children. They live in a tiny village of about 50 families, near Souion, where there is no church and school. The nearest school is 14 kilometers and these children have no regular transportation to permit

"I have never known the time when I wasn't in love with my wife," says Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, who will officially be High Point College's new president February 23, 1950, at 3:30 p.m. It makes one wonder how his accomplishments could be listed in half-column of "Who's Who" when we look at his varied and useful career.

At home Dr. Cooke is a devoted father and a congenial companion to his two sons, Dennis, Jr., a junior at Duke University, and Murray, a freshman at the University of North Carolina. In reminiscing Dr. Cooke says, "Perhaps the happiest days of my life were those spent with my two boys when they were about the ages of four, six, and eight years."

As candidate for the title of "most popular guy on the campus" is the other member of Dr. Cooke's family, "Scottie," a wire-haired terrier. Scottie now calls the president's office home. He finds a place under the president's desk whenever he chooses to lie there and he is a familiar figure on the campus of High Point College. Mrs. Cooke says she thinks Scottie is Dr. Cooke's other love.

High Point College looks strong and healthy on the occasion of the inauguration of its third president, and to this capable leader is extended our heartiest congratulations and co-operation!

Vassiliki's home is a wooden frame partially covered with old tin and rags; rain and wind enter freely in this improvised room. The floor is of earth and the ceiling not much protection from the rough, cold winter weather. The furniture consists of two small beds, a wooden trunk, a table and two chairs. In the corner of the room is an improvised fire-place where the family cooks. The mother receives a pension of $18 a month, their only income.

The tragic plight of this family came to the Foster Parents' Plan For War Children, Inc.'s attention and they were given emergency help. Packages of food

Have you noticed how many of the old songs are being released now? Tommy Dorsey's "Well Git It" is back at its same fast pace. . . . You'll agree that Nellie Lutcher and Nat King Cole make an elegant pair on "For You My Love." . . . How do you like the tricky tune "Cuttin' Capers" by Doris Day? As a matter of fact she has our vote for most anything. . . . Frankie Laine has hit the jackpot again — he's off the "Mule Train" and flying now on a "Wild Goose." . . . Billy Eckstein has the number one listenable recording of "Sitting By The Window" — another sentimental tear-jerker. He's running a close race with Perry Como in his recording of "Temptation." . . . and clothing are delivered to Vassiliki regularly by the Plan and to supplement this, her mother is given a small cash grant each month to help with Vassiliki's home needs. Our M. S. F.'s "adoption" made this possible.

Vassiliki is of normal size for her years, with very long brown hair and dancing brown eyes. She is extremely quiet and quite shy with strangers, but she answers questions with directness and after her first shyness, she enjoys new friends. Vassiliki is very industrious and is always eager to help her mother. She wants to become a school teacher when she is grown, but her school attendance is so irregular, she faces this obstacle. Attending school is the high-light in her existence.

It is through acts of kindness such as this that we are working toward world friendship and peace.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK WILL BEGIN ON MARCH 19TH

Plans for the Christian Challenge Series, a group of programs designed for religious enrichment of High Point College students, have been completed by the Christian Student Council, it was announced today by Jannie Bartlett, secretary of the Council.

The series is slated to begin on Sunday, March 19, and continue through Wednesday, March 22.

Outstanding North Carolina ministers and church leaders have been secured to speak and hold discussion groups.

Opening the series at Sunday night vespers will be Rev. Kenneth Goodson, pastor of the First Methodist Church in High Point. Rev. Goodson, who is a popular speaker among young people, will speak on religion as it concerns young people. It is hoped that this service will set the stage for the following programs.

Monday evening at 7:30, Mr. Edwin L. Jones, an outstanding Christian layman and building contractor of Charlotte, will speak on the subject, "Religion and Business."

On Tuesday morning at the regular chapel period, Dr. Howard Powell, pastor of Edenton Street Methodist Church, and widely acclaimed churchman, will speak on the subject of "Faith." Dr. Powell will speak again at the 7:30 service.

Wednesday, the final day, will be a full day, beginning at 10:20 in Hauser Chapel with a voluntary chapel period. All students who wish to attend this service will be excused from the 10:20 class period. The featured speaker for these Wednesday meetings will be Rev. Marvin Vick, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Jonesboro Heights, N. C. The topic of his discussions is "Courtship and Marriage." Wednesday afternoon there will be held an informal discussion forum at which time the students can ask questions and discuss generally this timely theme of "A Christian's Way of Looking at Courtship and Marriage." Wednesday night for the final service, Rev. Vick will sum up the emphasis of the whole series when he speaks on the theme, "The Christian Perspective on Faith, Business and Marriage."

Leaders of the C. S. C. stated that the purpose of this series of services was: "To confront students with the practical and intelligent interpretation of the Christian message and its application to present-day life." They also strongly urged all the students to come and take an active part in these services.

Head of National Education Asso. Is Assembly Speaker

Dr. Andrew D. Holt of Nashville, Tenn., executive secretary of the Tennessee Education Association, was elected president of the National Education Association at the association's 87th annual meeting in Boston in July, 1949. Dr. Holt has served education well as teacher, college professor and editor of The Tennessee Teacher. He is a graduate of Emory College, Atlanta, and earned his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at Teacher's College, Columbia University, New York.

Students of High Point College were privileged to hear Dr. Holt speak in assembly Thursday morning, March 9.

May Day Dance Committees Are Announced

Committees on May Day Dance plans were announced today by Henry Maddux, president of the Student Government. The dance will be held Saturday, May 6, from 8:30 p.m. to 12 midnight, in Harrison Gymnasium.

Decorations will be carried out by Kyle Stevenson. The alumni publicity will be handled by Curt Bovender, and the campus publicity by Charmione Rose. Forrest Brown and Chick Glaesner have charge of the intermission program. Owen Fitzgerald and Henry Maddux were chosen to engage a band which was not decided upon at the time The Hi-Po went to press.

As in former years, the May Dance will be semi-formal, no admission, and flowers optional.

Practice Teachers For Second Semester

Dr. C. R. Hinshaw, dean of instruction, announced that 42 seniors are doing their practice teaching in the local public schools prior to their graduation this year.

On the completion of the practice teaching and the successful passing of their work here at the college the students will be eligible to teach in the public schools of the state.

Following is a list of the practice teachers for the spring semester:

What with the high price of handkerchiefs, even a cold is now expensive.

It has been reported that a man kept a single pipeful of tobacco alive for 88 minutes by taking frugal whiffs. Is this the record?

Lindley Chapel Now Remodeled

Lindley Chapel, located on the third floor of Roberts Hall, has been completely remodeled and is now open for the students' use.

The redecoration was a project of the Ministerial Association and the Religious Education Club here on the campus.

It was decided last fall by these two groups that if the chapel was to be of further use it must be repaired. Since they had no concrete plans for finances or architecture, the presidents of these two organizations met to discuss the matter with Dr. Cooke, new president of the college. Dr. Cooke immediately gave his approval and began helping them lay plans to secure the necessary funds to do a good job. He also appointed a committee to help the two presidents do the work. Dr. P. E. Lindley was made chairman of this committee, which consisted of Iris Williams, Dwight Mashburn, Charmione Rose and Chester Brown.

After the blueprints were drawn, Snow Lumber Co. agreed to make the pews and do the mill work at a considerable discount. Hedgecock Lumber Co. donated the lumber used for building the platform, and George T. Wood & Sons aided in getting the carpet. With the help of Sunday school classes at First Methodist and Wesley Memorial Churches, and the aid of many benevolent friends, the total amount of $800 was secured. The Chapel is now one of the most beautiful places on the campus and is open as a place of devotion for all who wish to use it in such a manner.

The Chapel was first built in May, 1944, by the Ministerial Association and Religious Education Club in Penny Hall which was then the boys' dormitory. It was built there because the U. S. Army was using the men's dormitory and Roberts Hall.

Dr. N. M. Harrison dedicated the Chapel with due ceremony and unveiled a portrait picture of Dr. P. E. Lindley, professor of religion, dean of students, and faculty advisor to religion majors. The Chapel was then dedicated to Dr. Lindley for his untiring and ever helpful service to the students. The picture remains still as a reminder of that dedication.

The religious education majors on this campus want to remind you that they want all of you to use the Chapel and help to keep it as inspiring as it is now.

ASSEMBLY SCHEDULE

- March 9—Dr. Andrew D. Holt, President, National Education Association
- March 14—Honor Society, Tapping
- March 21—Dr. H. P. Powell of Raleigh, North Carolina, Christian Challenge Week
- March 28—Local Program
- April 4—A. and T. College Choir, Greensboro, North Carolina (Tentative)
- April 11—Easter Holiday
- April 25—College purpose program
- April 25—Investiture Services

The three remaining assembly periods in this semester will be conducted by Dr. Dennis H. Cooke and addresses to seniors in particular. The members of the graduating class will march in a body in caps and gowns to assembly for these three programs.

F. T. A. SENDS TWO DELEGATES TO NCEA MEETING IN RALEIGH

Miss Ruth Lain and Mr. Curt Bovender have been selected as representatives to the convention of the North Carolina Education Association to be held in Raleigh March 9-11 by the Future Teachers of America Chapter of High Point College.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock there will be a meeting of the Division of Higher Education when the topic for discussion will concern practice teaching in the teacher-training institutions.

Luncheon will be served at 1 p.m. to the Future Teachers of America representatives only, and will be presided over by Miss Beverly Johnson of Salem College, president of the N. C. Future Teachers Association.

At a general session Friday evening at 7:30 all representatives will be presented to the delegate assembly alphabetically by schools. The F. T. A. is one of the divisional sections of the N. C. E. A.

A brief history of the two representatives from High Point College follows:

Miss Lain is the youngest daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Lain of 1201 Ward Street, High Point. Ruth has six brothers, three of them ministers, and one sister. She attended Oak Hill Elementary School, High Point Junior High School Senior High School. Following 34 months' service as supervisor of statement of service unit, Adjutant General's Office, War Department, during World War II, Ruth attended Allentown Bible Institute, Allentown, Pa., for one year. Her sophomore year was completed at Pilgrim Bible College, Kernersville, North Carolina. Ruth was the assistant business manager of the school paper, a member of the school quartet, mixed chorus, and girls' chorus while at Pilgrim Bible College. Since coming to High Point College for her junior and senior years, Ruth has participated in the Future Teachers of America and the Priscilla Club. Ruth served as youth director at First Pilgrim Church in 1948-49. She is majoring in elementary education. Her hobby is cooking, especially baking and making desserts. Besides being an excellent student, Ruth has been employed by the Adams-Millis Corporation Plant No. 2 for the past two and one-half years.

Curt Bovender, son of Mrs. C. A. Bovender, 931 Goldfloss Street, Winston-Salem, attended

James A. Gray High School where he was vice-president of the Student Government, president of the Student Government, president of the National Honor Society, winner of the Bunn Sportsmanship Trophy, played varsity football two years, varsity basketball two years, varsity baseball three years, and a member of the Hi-Y Club. Since coming to High Point College, Curt has been vice-president of the Student Government, president of the Junior Class, president of the Block "H" Club, and Junior Marshall. He is an honor roll student and holds membership in Future Teachers of America, N. D. M. Fraternity, and the Spanish Club. Curt's name has also been listed in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. He has participated in football and baseball for three years at High Point College. He is majoring in physical education and math.

Mr. Herman E. Coble, associate professor of education, is sponsor of the campus F. T. A. Edward Jones has recently become president and Lucille Craver secretary-treasurer. A drive to increase the membership in this organization is being conducted at present, and any student planning to become a teacher is invited to contact a member of the F. T. A.

From the Hi-Po Files

SNOWSTORM COVERS CAMPUS TO 20 INCHES

Reported in Hi-Po of March 1927

"Snow Bound" was an appropriate description of High Point on Wednesday morning. The piling up of the snow from its average of about 20 inches, by drifting, covered some parts of the ground to a depth of 3½ to 4 feet. The students of High Point College had a wonderful time taking advantage of the unexpected day of leisure and did their good turn daily by hauling stranded automobiles free from the rifts of snow, and by carrying unfortunate co-eds from the highway to the school buildings.

SELECTION OF MARSHALS VERY KNOTTY PROBLEM

(Hi-Po, March 23, 1927)

The election of Marshalls for the graduation exercises is creating much comment and discussion about the campus. Herman Coble, speaking in chapel in behalf of the senior class said that as the seniors had a little to do with the graduation that they should have a little to do with the appointing of marshalls. Many ideas of appointing the marshalls were discussed in chapel. As to who shall elect, and who shall be elected seems to be the troublesome problem.

She (at a basketball game): Why do they cheer so when any of the boys get hurt?

He: So the girls can't hear what he's saying.

"Lost in a Dream"

What's this? I simply can't believe my eyes! Is that Betty Belcher and with a frat pin, too? It must be Buddy's. What's this? Betty Belcher pinned up to Paul Pryor. Betty was running lickety-split over to the dorm to tell Doris Autry of her good fortune, but upon reaching Doris's room Carlotta was in hysterics, for she had just heard the latest: Doris had eloped to York with Powell Jones. Betty decided to go out to the spacious club rooms of Woman's Hall, where the new butler, Boone Jackson, was busy escorting in that famous newspaper man, who was editor of the BEACON, Grady Thomas, who was calling for his fiancée, Miss Cora Sonner.

Can all this be happening? I decided to visit my favorite spot, the third floor club room, which was now carpeted in heavy Persian rugs, furnished beautifully, and as usual all seats were filled, but not with the usual Jean and Gary (Clark), or Jo and George, or Jim Rusher and Jean, but instead with Tommy Mixon and Pat McNeil, Jim Fisher and Charmione Rose, who was now running for president of the United States, and with Edna Clark and Duncan Redditt, who were busy discussing their June wedding plans.

Journeying on through the dorm, I heard that all of the girls had quit smoking, that all freshmen had been given permission to date eight nights a week, while upperclassmen had been given permission to attend only one class a week, and that French bathing suits were the latest thing for the fashionable girl to wear to class. Nancy Lawson hurried into her French bathing suit and rushed out to meet Frank "Eyes" Smith, who was waiting outside with his newly peroxided hair and a pair of "Zoots" that just wouldn't quit! Well, well, what is this world coming too?

Might as well take in the student center and see what's new there. Well, could this be true? Paul Wattington was entertaining a group of his frat brothers with a stag supper as he was about to become Mr. Lib Gilbert. His bridesmen were "Bull" Durham, "Prunes" Morrison, Adrian Neal and Bill Smith. Lonnie Bledsoe was singing "Because" for the occasion. Someone said the couple planned to live in the field house.

Since this world is upside down, I thought I would stroll over to the boys' dorm, and when I got there it seems I was a little late, for the boys in K section were having a big birthday. Some of the local debutantes were already present for the occasion. Bonnie Crawford and Gregg Mergie had taken extra class hours and both were graduating in June, and were leaving for the South Seas right after graduation, where Greg had purchased a coconut grove. Bonnie was glad because she wouldn't be needing a rolling pin to get Greg intact, by living on a coconut farm.

It seems there had been many students complaining about the food served in the dining hall, so "Chief" hired Betty Edwards, and her fiancée, Bob Heath as chief cooks, with Nancy Tuttle, "Cookie" and "Booger" as dishwashers. Eleanor Church had deserted Frank Graham for a career in New York, where she was proving to the world what Hada-cal had done for her. Eleanor, who was once a 125-pound weakling, was now a husky 200-pound lady wrestler.

Emily Badgett and "Chick" had bought a farm, and after they both finished school they had decided to move to the farm and raise "Chickens." Of course, they had a few cows and such and "Chick," Emily related, was trying hard to buy an electric milk-er from Bill Elmore, who was now a successful dairy farmer, although he was still head of the ITK boys, having several of them work on the farm for him between frat parties.

Now I wonder why I have such a terrible headache? I felt cold

"Wha' Hoppened"

BY JEAN KERR

By now you all are probably wondering wha' hoppened to "Wha' Hoppened," but it is a long story, so why waste space when so much time has already been wasted without a gossip column.

In Spring a young man's fancy turns to love. So does a young girl's. If you don't believe it just ask Becky Brown and Alec Pappas, who have been seen together frequently on campus lately.

New faces on the H. P. C. campus always give everyone something to notice, and it seems that John Czarnecki noticed Margie Hartman's. Campus romances are fine, but sometimes there's "the boy back home." Reckon??

Speaking of new faces, there are also a few new boys around giving all the girls a thrill. For instance, there's Frank "Eyes" Smith, who seems to be keeping those eyes on Nancy Lawson, and then there's Jack Kerns, who is still looking them over. J. B. Inman joined the gang at H. P. C., too. J. B. is from Pinnacle or Pilot, and from what we hear his presence would be appreciated at Woman's Hall by certain females!

There's still some boys over in the dorm who prefer to give all the girls a hard time. For instance, "Bull" Durham, Tommy Mixon, Paul Waddington, and a few other lucky males have even been practically asked for dates, but they're still staying away from these parts. Wonder why?

Edna Clark has really been getting a rush lately. Among her admirers are David Meekins, Charles Gardner, George Dameron and Don Green, but Edna just can't seem to make up her mind. Come on, Edna, who's it gonna be?

Style a while—that's what the girls at H. P. C. go for nowadays. The Plantation seems to be very popular on Sunday nights, especially for Lib Gilbert who we see there every Sunday night with a different male, but have you seen that look in her eyes when John Riggs is mentioned? Hmm!

"Booger" Heath, Powell Jones, Bob Heath and a few other males are seen around Woman's Hall much more frequently lately. The attraction—Betty, "Cookie," Doris and Carlotta.

"Babs" Lawrence is also back at H. P. C. with sentimental thoughts of Wake Forest College, and Red Mashburn's at H. P. C. Way to Whoop!

Jack Klien looked mighty happy for a while. Maybe it was because his girl came down for a few days from Temple University way up in "Philly." And Jean Colson and Fred Rogers tied the knot right after exams. Hope they'll be mighty happy!

Johnny Hinton had to stop school this semester because of illness. Hope Johnny will be well real soon, and be right back at H. P. C. "whoopin' it up!"

Could it be that "Snakeyes" is giving "Buddy" Welch a little competition with Betty Belcher, or is this just a rumor? How about Perry?

Margaret Southerland appeared bright and early with Bill Peeler's frat pin. Bill is an ITK, or was until he graduated at mid-semester.

Well, everybody, looks like it's about that time, so until this column meets you face to face again, I'll sign off with the usual—"BYE SHUG!" (Sentimental Me.)

cloths upon my head and opened my eyes to see Nurse Myrtle standing by, helpful as ever, telling me that I was having a nightmare—thank goodness!

N. C. Editor: What shall I say about the two peroxide blondes who made such a fuss at the game?

Reporter: Why, say the bleachers went wild.

—Hi-Po, Oct. 21, 1926.

Hunt in the Kitchen: What's on the menu for dinner, Delaware?

Delaware: I have frog's legs, pig's knuckles, and—

Hunt: Never mind your deformities, what have you to eat?

—Hi-Po, Oct. 21, 1926.

Little: What makes that red spot on your nose?

Lee: Glasses.

Little: Glasses of what?

The Panthers ended their regular season of play against McCrary Eagles on Tuesday night with a win of 73-59. The full team was at its best throughout the game with every one of the fellows hitting and passing accurately. Don Embler and Herman Deaton donned the purple and gold for their final appearance with the Panthers. Embler and Deaton will bid farewell to H. P. C. and sports at graduation this spring.

You can keep an eye on towering Bob Draper as baseball season begins. Rapid Robert was an ace hurler last season for the Panthers against conference foes. Towering Bob Draper, better known as “Cuz” to all his friends, hails from Martinsville, Va. “Cuz” is a man of many talents. Among them is cutting hair, and you really should have seen the swell job he did on all the fellows while we were at Western Carolina Teachers College. Truly an artist in his field, I’d say.

Speaking as we are of the versatility of our Panthers, Big Ed Sueta is also a man of talents. For instance, Eddie is a strong bass in the A Capella Choir. His ear and eye are highly skilled in the art of music. You can find Big Ed in the music practice room working away on counterpoint or just playing at ease as we have often seen Carmichael do in the movies. Prior to practice sessions during the week in the dressing room, we often heard Eddie crooning “Dreamer’s Holiday” or “I’m In the Mood For Love.” Big Ed placed in the honorable mention column for the All-Star team. Congratulations, Ed!

Then there’s that sparkling, razzle-dazzle, push-shot artist Leonard “Hairs” Hunt. There is something more to be admired about Leonard than his ability to shoot and pass. Resourcefulness stands out and on the top of the list, as I see it. When things begin to slow down or seemed to stand still in those games on the offensive or defensive, “Hairs” never failed to come out with just the thing needed at the time. To prove that the touchy spot in the lives and memories of the Yankees and Rebels is almost a matter of history, “Hairs” and “Ace” Cartwright have become and are the best friends one rarely sees. Where we see “Ace” we usually see “Hairs” right there too making whoopee. The students and followers of the Purple Panthers of H. P. C. look forward to next year which should prove another great year in basketball at H. P. C.

Another man from Indiana land is Bill Waiz, better known as “Goose” to his teammates and friends. Those uncanny shots that “Goose” makes from the floor will not be forgotten in any short while. It seems that he literally takes off from the foul-shot circle and glides right on in, weaving and turning as he glides, for a lay-up. “Goose” explained once how it is that he became able to make such leaps to the bucket. His coach in high school placed a chair some distance from the basket and required the players, in shooting crisp shots, to jump over the chair and stay in the air from their jump on into the basket. Hours of practice at this makes Waiz the artist at those seemingly impossible shots we saw him make this season. If only he could have come through with some of those incredible shots against E. C. T. C. and Elon. Oh, well, that is wishful thinking. We’ll be looking at you next year in there with those other great players, “Goose.”

A look now at a man certainly not lacking in length of name, “Ace” George Gray Cartwright. “Ace” hails from Old Town, which as he describes in words well known to many as being the city with Winston-Salem for its suburb. “Ace” was indeed a great part of our great five men this year on the hardwood. On offense, the ball came down so fast that the opposition was continually driven under by a rain of deadly shots and passes. “Ace” had the ball down on offense before the opponents knew what was up, and this accounted for many of our team’s successes. It was in the Elon game at Statesville that “Ace” came through with that left-handed push shot from the floor that kept the Panthers in the game. It was always a thrill to see that dribble behind his back and a drive on in for a lay-up. In every sense of the word, “Ace” lives up to his name on the hardwood.

In there fighting, hustling, and passing with the top-flight Panthers was Paul Pryor of Rhode Island. Paul was an excellent man on rebounds and good passing. Ask Big Ed or any of the forwards to find out if it wasn’t necessary to be awake to play with Paul. His passes were good, and his hustle kept the team sparked while he was in there with the fellows. Another thing about Paul is that at any place the Panthers traveled, he had friends to call on. His wide experience in baseball makes him known to his friends as well as his basketball with the Panthers. I think Paul practices the idea that in order to have friends, one must first be a friend. We can learn from you there, Paul.

Last, but assuredly not least, of all, Fieldale, Va., provided the Panthers a valuable forward this season in the person of Jesse B. Joyce, known as “Snake” and “Snake-eyes.” Believe you me, he was as deadly with his hook shot and push shot as many of the snakes we know. In the tournament at Statesville, “Snake” was in there all the way, keeping the Panthers neck to neck with Elon, but five fouls drove our staunch forward out to look on his mates for the remainder of the game. It is well to remember that last year we saw “Snake” playing with the J.V.’s, and this year right up there with the first five playing equally as well as his teammates.

Intramurals

The D. A. E. and E. H. O. reached the play-off that resulted from a tie in the regular season’s play in the American League. The game was close all the way with both teams playing hard to win. Sid Tayloe, Greetop and Charlie Foster hit steadily for E. H. O., keeping them in there for the championship. For the D. A. E. Jim Teachy, Lyles Kearnes and Robert Boyles played outstanding ball to make the game close all the way into the final minutes. The E. H. O. was out front with one point, 34-33, and the clock showed two and a half seconds to go. D. A. E. had just attempted a shot and missed, and the rebound fell into the hands of Sid Tayloe who went dribbling down the side lines, hit the out-of-bounds line, and possession of the ball went to D. A. E. With two seconds remaining, Teachy passed in to Kearnes who promptly dribbled twice, jumped high, and pushed in an incredible shot to clinch the championship for his fraternity, 35-36.

In the National League division, H. M. H. emerged champions with Ed Auman, George Clark and Ralph Futrell leading their team.

The trophy championship tournament is now being played. E. H. O. is a likely winner along side the Blasters. The Blasters are defending champions in this season’s play-off.

Looking ahead a little in the intramurals we see volleyball and softball coming up. Both these activities will have tourneys that promise plenty of competition for the top honors.

It is good to note that all fraternities make entries into these tourneys and their members support their respective teams at the contests. Keep up the great competitive spirit is the admonition.

Coach (Tex) Smith Assumes Duties

Coach C. Q. Smith arrived on the campus yesterday to take over as head coach and athletic director of the college.

We extend to him a cordial welcome and pledge to him the student support as he begins his tour of duty with High Point College. The college is very fortunate in being able to secure such an experienced head coach and we feel certain that in a few seasons the Purple Panther football machine will be as good as any in the conference.

It is the plan of Coach Smith to get spring football practice under way as soon as possible. Weather permitting, the workouts probably will begin some time next week.

Assistant Coach Don McCurry will coach the baseball team this season. The schedule for the baseball team is practically completed and will be announced in the next issue of the Hi-Po. Pitchers and catchers have already begun to loosen up, and as soon as the weather clears the rest of the team will begin to get in shape for the coming race.

First Father: Is he any smarter now than when he went away to college?

Second Father: Well, a degree.

Installation service for Sigma Alpha Phi Sorority was held Monday night in the basement clubroom of Woman's Hall with Bennie Jo Davis, president, presiding. The traditional installation procedure was carried out. The following girls were inducted into the sisterhood: Tate Foust, Dorsey Crumpler, Dot Davis, Nancy Greene, Lydia Teer and Nancy Tysinger. . . . The Iota Tau Kappa Fraternity initiated four new members into its brotherhood. Lynwood Grissom, Illard Yarborough, J. B. Innman and Vernon Kimbro were the new pledges. The fraternity was entertained one afternoon by Bob Robertson's family at their home in Bixby. The pledges were given a dinner on the last night of initiation after being wished success in the future by the old members. . . . After a pajama party at the home of Doris Nance on Saturday night and church on Sunday morning, Theta Phi Sorority held its formal initiation service at Doris' house. The new members are Ruth Dare Cooke of Fayetteville, a junior and transfer from Appalachian College, and Sara McDougle of Black Mountain, a freshman. The annual banquet will be March 18 at the Woman's Club in Thomasville. The theme will be "Heralds of Spring." The banquet will be followed by a cabin party. . . .

The next meeting of the Methodist Student Fellowship will be held in the Student Center Thursday evening, March 16, at 7:30 p.m. A special movie, "Seeds of Destiny," will be the main feature of the meeting. March 30 will bring to the M.S.F. a program presented by a group of girls from Greensboro College. R. Harold Hipps, assistant pastor of the West Market Street Methodist Church, will direct square dancing following the program. These meetings are not merely for students who are members of the Methodist Church or majors in religious work, but are for all students. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

"My Heart Has No Home"

By CHARLES GARDNER

I wander sad and weary
In a world dark and dreary
Never to rest, always to roam,
For my heart has no home.

I wander through paths, over hills,
By running brooks and twisting rills
Watching life, plodding the loam,
For my heart has no home.

I search for love but in vain;
I search for joy but find pain,
Alone 'neath the world's dome,
For my heart has no home.

My love departed as life began
In this brilliant world of man,
In this world alone I roam,
For my heart has no home.

TOWER OF PISA

Geography books used to show a picture of the famous Leaning Tower of Pisa, where the great scientist Galileo performed some of his early experiments on the force of gravity. The tower is about 180 feet high. Around the year 1350, when it was built, this was considered to be a skyscraper.

The unusual feature is that the top is 16 1/2 feet away from a perpendicular line. If it leans much more it will fall. Underpinning with cement may be necessary.

How did it acquire this leaning tendency? Simply because it was not built on bedrock or a reasonably firm foundation. The location is at the mouth of the picturesque river Arno. The tower is based on the loose sand and pebbles brought down by the river. The foundation is only ten feet deep in this insecure rubble. The tower began to lean even during the building and has become worse with each passing year.

Major Bill Reynolds, Oregon '40 Pilot-Professor, U. S. Air Force!

Bill was an all-round athlete. He chose football as his favorite sport, made the varsity teams at Pomona Junior College and also at the University of Oregon.

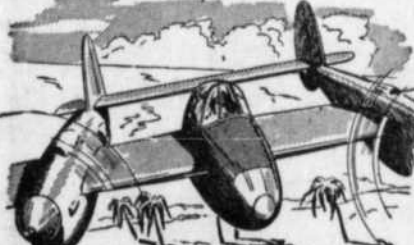

A Theta Chi, Bill enjoyed campus social life. Found that it eased the pressure of rugged athletics and his heavy study schedule in Personnel Management.

Upon graduation, Bill chose a future in the Air Force. He "flew" his first Link trainer as an Aviation Cadet in 1940. By March, 1941, he had won his pilot wings.

The 1st Observation Squadron, Fort Riley, Kansas was Lieutenant Reynolds' first assignment. While there he met the future Mrs. Reynolds. They married a year later and now have two fine sons.

The Squadron moved to Panama, then to the Pacific. Bill advanced from pilot to operations officer to squadron commander. He came home a Major and qualified for a Regular Commission.

Recently commended for peacetime work—organizing and improving instruction techniques—Major Reynolds, a "Pilot-Professor", looks forward to a long and gainful career in the U. S. Air Force.

Christian Challenge Week At H. P. C. Is Impressive

The speakers who took a part in the Christian Challenge Series at High Point College beginning March 19 and continuing through March 22 made a lasting impression upon the students and faculty by their sincerity and deep concern for the welfare of High Point College and its student body.

Reverend Kenneth Goodson of First Methodist Church spoke on the subject of "Religion as it Concerns Young People" to a receptive audience Sunday evening. He told of his experiences as a young man in college and how they helped to strengthen his faith in God.

Mr. Edwin L. Jones, Charlotte building contractor, considered the subject of "Business and Religion" and its application to the lives of young people Monday evening. Mr. Jones emphasized the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," as an aid to good business and good living. He further emphasized the importance of young people having the proper goals toward which to work in life.

Dr. Howard Powell, minister of Edenton Street Methodist Church of Raleigh, recipient of the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from High Point College, addressed the assembly Tuesday morning on the subject of exercising faith to carry one "the second mile." He also spoke Tuesday evening on "Faith" following a dinner given in his honor by the Christian Student Council.

The Christian Challenge Series drew to a close Wednesday with Reverend Marvin Vick holding a discussion on the subject of "Marriage and Courtship" which students found particularly interesting.

Dr. Holt Addresses Student Body

Dr. Andrew D. Holt, president of the National Education Association, on March 9, spoke to the student assembly on the "Importance of the Teacher in the Child's Life."

He told of his young boy and said he wanted the modern teacher to teach him the following things to insure his boy of a well-rounded education.

1. In addition to the three R's to also teach him how to speak.
- 2—Teach him a line of work in which he can be happy; one in which he can make a living and be successful.
- 3—Teach him to enjoy living, to have a good time, to get along with people and to be a good sport.
- 4—Teach him how to enjoy reading good literature.
- 5—Teach him to enjoy the wholesome pleasures of life.
- 6—Teach him how to be a good citizen and the importance of voting.
- 7—Make him feel that he has some responsibilities toward the home.
- 8—Above all to teach him the difference between right and wrong.

After speaking to the future teachers on their duties Dr. Holt told the non-teachers that it was

Summer School Begins June 7

Dr. C. R. Hinshaw, Director of the Summer School, stated that the 1950 Bulletin for the Summer is now off the press. He urges any student that plans to enter Summer school to come by his office and pick up a bulletin and registration blank.

First term will begin on June 7 and will be over July 18. The second term will begin on July 19 and will end August 25.

In its Summer term High Point College offers a splendid opportunity to teachers and college students to increase their educational qualifications. The Summer school is organized with the definite aim of helping students now in college to make up needed credits or to help those who wish to reduce the time for graduation.

The college will make every effort to offer the courses as outlined in the bulletin. However, if a sufficient number of students request a class that is not offered every effort will be made to open a class in the subject requested.

Election of Student Government Officers

Interest in the forthcoming Student Government officers election has made it necessary to bring the following rules and regulations regarding nominations to the attention of the student body:

1. Officers must be elected in time to be installed in office one month before the end of the regular term.
2. Two candidates for each office will be nominated by the Student Government Council. Other nominations may be made from the floor.
3. Candidates must have a C average.
4. Candidate for the office of president must be a rising senior.
5. Candidate for the office of vice-president must be a rising junior.
6. Candidate for the office of secretary-treasurer may be a member of any class.

An attempt is being made to secure voting machines such as those used for the first time by any college in the South by High Point College in last year's elections. An assembly hour for the nomination of candidates has not yet been decided upon, it was announced by Henry Maddux, retiring president of the Student Government Council. Other retiring officers are Curt Bovender, vice-president, and Ruby Workman, secretary-treasurer.

In men whom men condemn as ill,
I find so much of goodness still—
In men whom men praise as divine,
I find so much of sin and blot—
I hesitate to draw the line,
Between the two, when God has not.

MISS VERA IDOL ADDRESSES ORDER OF THE LIGHTED LAMP

Miss Vera Idol, professor of English, picked as her topic "The Twentieth-Century Renaissance" when she addressed the students who were admitted to The Order of the Lighted Lamp because of their leadership and scholastic attainments, on Tuesday, March 14.

A summary of Miss Idol's speech follows:

You young men and women have attained the highest honor you can achieve on the campus of H. P. C. This day will take its place as one of the red-letter days in your college career.

We associate the word Renaissance with the rebirth of learning in Europe during the middle ages. But that is not all. A knowledge of the history and cultural and moral developments of the past show how mankind has met crises in the past and how always a man or men arose to lead the way into a new life.

Milton's famous definition of education is most comprehensive: An ideal education is that which fits "a man to perform justly, skillfully, and magnanimously all the duties, public and private, of peace and war."

Today, if humanity and the world are to survive there must come another renaissance, another dominating interest in the moral life. The leaders must come from the ranks of our students today to bring about the renaissance if the world is to survive.

Leaders do not spring full-grown to lead the world. There must be a long period of preparation. Lincoln studied from borrowed books beside the glow of a woodfire, and split rails to get an education, so was ready when his destiny called him.

No honor comes without its corresponding responsibilities.

By accepting membership in The Lighted Lamp you have pledged yourselves to live up to the high requirements set by the founders of the society. The name given the organization is meaningful. The office of a lamp is to light the way; an unlighted lamp is worth nothing.

Following are fourteen points which any member of The Lighted Lamp must possess if he is to reach that height of success to which every ambitious man and woman aspires.

T—for Trustworthiness; H—for Honor; E—for Efficiency; L—for Loyalty; I—for Integrity; G—for Gratitude; H—for Helpfulness; T—for Tact; E—for Enthusiasm; D—for Dependability; L—for Laughter; A—for Adaptability; M—for Mastery; P—for Power.

"The Lighted Lamp." If one acquires the characteristics for which these letters stand, he cannot help attaining the right kind of success. What is success? The prize-winning definition in a contest sponsored by a Boston magazine several years ago has ever since pleased me. "He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much; who has enjoyed the trust of good women, the respect of intelligent men, and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul: who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and gives the best he has; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory a benediction."

To you the new members of The Lighted Lamp we offer congratulations. The old members will soon leave the campus. To you they throw the torch.

"Be yours to hold it high."

Eight new members were inducted into the order by Dr. Dennis Cooke. Before administering the oath Dr. Cooke told the members of a study that was made of people who have made a success in life. A random sampling of these people on their jobs was made and of those who made very high grades in college there were 10 successes and one failure; of those with average grades, there were three successes and one failure; of those who made very low grades, there were four failures and one success. He pointed out that the correlation of high grades and success in life is very high, and conversely the correlation of low grades and failure in life is also very high.

The members elected were: Herman Coble, Joe Irwin, Ianthia Gerringer, Fletcher Womble, Ed Euman, Owen Fitzgerald, George Thompson and Ruby Workman.

Jo: I don't see where he gets off—springing a test like that. It was too long and he didn't even go over the stuff in class.

Mary: I flunked, too.

—The Lenoir-Rhynan.

Henry Maddux, President of the Student Government, announced that the Student Government approved the Constitution for the Christian Student Council on March 14, 1950.

According to the Constitution the purpose of this organization "shall be to unify, lend aid to the various groups on the campus, and to stimulate religious life so as to portray the Christian attitude among the students."

Article III provides for the president of, and one representative from the following organizations: Religious Education Club, Ministerial Association, Methodist Student Fellowship, and one from every other religious organization which may be formed by approval of this council. It further provides for one representative from every other denomination which maintains an organized group on campus, one representative elected at large from the student body, and four representatives from the faculty, three of which will be elected by this council, the four appointed by the President of the College.

Election of a president, vice-president, and a secretary-treasurer will be held by May 1 of each school year by a plurality vote of the designated members of the council. New officers will be chosen from the active membership of the Council and will assume their duties immediately.

Meetings will be held as often as the president feels that the need implies or on a fixed date of each week or month. Necessity will play a great part in determining whether or not there will be a set time.

Miss Doris Tant and Mr. Wayne Shelton are president and vice-president respectively. Mr. George Thompson was chairman of the Constitution Committee which prepared the document for the chartering of this organization. It is hoped that this Constitution will give the C. S. C. the opportunity to co-ordinate all religious activities on campus. The faculty is expected to pass on the provisions of the Constitution within the next few days.

"I have always been fond of the West African proverb: 'Speak softly and carry a big stick, you will go far.'—Theodore Roosevelt, 1900.

"I covet for this administration a record of having further contributed to advance the cause of peace."—Herbert Hoover, Inaugural Address, 1929.

"You cannot imagine what horror some persons are in, lest peace should continue."—John Adams, April 19, 1794.

EDITORIAL POLICY

Election of school officers for next year will take place some time during the month of April. In order to create no misunderstandings among the students and faculty members of the school in regard to the editorial policy of the HI-PO during the election period and indeed during the school year when a controversial issue arises the following points should be kept in mind so that everyone may understand just why certain policies are followed.

1—In the election of school officers the editor will take no sides. Each candidate will receive equal space in the paper. The campaign manager for each candidate will furnish all articles to be printed and each manager will be notified as to how much space every candidate will be allowed. In no case will any member of the HI-PO staff be the author of the material presented for publication.

2—In the event of a controversial issue arising on the campus between faculty and students, or between the Administration and students, or among any group on the campus, the student paper will endeavor to present both sides of the question without prejudice or bias.

3—The final decisions in regard to the editorial policy followed or practiced will be referred to the publication council.

4—The HI-PO is a student publication and as such tries to represent the majority opinions of the students. The paper is open to the opinion of any student on the campus and, therefore, letters from the students are welcome. In order to be printed the letter must be signed. Name will be withheld on request. The open forum column is likewise open to members of the faculty and subscribers of the paper. Everyone that submits letters is under the same regulations as quoted above.

JOURNALISM CLASS

A student newspaper is essential on any college campus. It is a means whereby the students can voice their opinions and keep up with news items that are interesting to them; the student paper is also a training ground for future writers. Many of the best journalists in this nation received their initial training with their college newspaper. But before a student can become a journalist he must receive the proper training in the proper procedure.

The administration itself has a job to insure the future success of the HI-PO. At the present time there is not one place on the campus whereby a student can learn journalism. On page 73 of the 1949-50 catalogue it will be found that "Introductory Journalism" was to be offered during the first semester, and that "Advanced Journalism" was to be offered during the second semester. Neither course was opened to the students during the specified time. In my investigations I have received the following answers to the question of why?

- 1—Not enough students interested.
- 2—Shortage of English instructors.
- 3—If a student wishes to write there is a composition class open.

To the first answer I know from personal experience and contact that there are enough students interested in knowing how to write to fill a class. When the first call was issued for help on the paper at the first of the year over 20 students responded. All these students are anxious to learn how to write stories that the public would enjoy reading.

The second answer carries the greatest weight as to a legitimate reason. Without a doubt there are not enough English instructors to teach all the classes that are needed. But correct writing is as important as correct speaking; therefore, it seems that a journalism class should receive equal rating with a speech class.

The third answers as to a composition class being open is correct. But a composition class and a journalism class are entirely different in their outlook. A composition class teaches a student to write correctly in the form of themes. Whereas a journalism class teaches a student to write correctly and, also, teaches a student to write in such a way that his writing will be interesting for the public to read.

If the student paper is to improve, it is important that something be done about teaching the interested students the correct procedure in writing and publishing a newspaper.

BY JEAN KERR

Time waits for no one—how true. Seems like only yesterday that I was racking my brain to try to remember what had been happening around H. P. C., and here I am doing the same thing all over again, so hurriedly—Here's Wha' Hoppened:

Girls, bless them, are always getting crushes on males. Now why this can't be vice-versa, I'll never know, but anyway, there seems to be a girl on "2-A" of Woman's Hall, and also one on third floor who would like to date JACK RIDGE and JIM BAILEY respectively. Hope these two males will respond to this plea!

A certain Asheville girl certainly would be pleased if a boy from Asheville, named JOE HARRELL, would give her more breaks. How's about it Joe?

Seems like JIMMY FISHER'S name hasn't been in this column for a long time, but the time has finally arrived that Jimmy is being sought after again, this time by a certain girl from Durham. Wouldn't hurt to date sometimes.

Bob Heath sang "You're Breaking My Heart" at the dance the other night, and all of the girls are still talking about his wonderful voice. P.S. There are a few people who think that he isn't ONLY a wonderful singer, too. Don't be modest Bob!

JIMMY JOHNSON has been frequenting the girls' dorm quite often lately. Square dances seem to be his favorite dish, or could be that that "girl" is his favorite dish??? Bet I could guess!

BECKY BROWN attended the Frosh-Junior dance at Catawba last week-end. Fine time, no less!

Just two weeks from Saturday night the DAE frat is planning their annual banquet. The girls that have been invited are simply thrilled to death at the sound of all the excitement and glamour of the night. Of course, there is still time to be invited in case you boys don't have dates. Isn't it right girls???

BECKY HOOVER and JOE INMAN seem to be seeing quite a bit of each other lately. Sunday nights, week nights, they're all the same to Becky and Joe, who usually manage to see each other.

GARY HENRY likes the dorm that he doesn't live in so much that he can be seen over "HERE" even early in the morning. When asked why he came over so early, Gary just replied that he always liked to start the day off right—with a "JEAN."

What was the A-Model doing over behind the girl's dorm the other night? No, there wasn't a soul in it, until it's sad owner tried to get the "straying car" back over to the boys' dorm. Boys will be boys, and play tricks, won't they?

"FACE" EVANS shocked Dot almost to death when he walked into psychology class with a huge nose Monday. After Dot was able to speak, she just said, "Well, Face, at last you have a nose." It was one of those big, awful imitation noses, of course. They're a "sight."

Since space is short, and rainy weather has a bit of making a certain "me" so sleepy, better end this column, and fly over to the press office where a certain editor is probably having mad fits because a certain feature editor is so very slow, so until next time—"BYE SHUG!"

"WITH THE ATHLETES"

BY WAYNE SHELTON

Well, sportsmen, basketball is still in the air, and our varsity is still in action under the sponsorship of various business concerns. The tourney in Greensboro ended only a week ago, and our varsity men went into the finals against strong competition all the way to a group of players composed largely of McCrary Eagles. At the end of regulation play the score was knotted, and it was necessary to go into an overtime period. McCrary's strength in reserves and scoring proved too much for our tired squad, and at the final buzzer the fellows of High Point College Grill became runners-up of the tourney. Due to the alertness of the lame Jessie Joyce who was active coach the game was played under protest since McCrary had illegally signed too many men for the tourney. The protest was upheld and the championship went to the High Point College Grill. The trophy is a beauty, and all the fellows are proud of it. Individual awards were made also. I realize that many of our students are not seeing these games, but it is good to know the boys are playing yet and winning top honors as they go. At the present time, the varsity is playing in an open tournament, at Trinity under auspices of the Sportsman's Club, and Friday night, with Waiz hitting 30 and Hunt 25, Draper 22, and Cartwright 14 the final score was 100 to 61. Believe you me, that is what I call literally pouring the points in that hoop!

The I. T. K. and N. D. M. fraternities have also been in these tourneys, of course, in different brackets or classes.

If you keep an eye peeled around the men's dormitory on sunny afternoons you can see fellows out there throwing baseballs around warming up for the coming season. Those fellows not found throwing at these familiar sites can be found on the baseball field in practice when the weather permits. The pitching staff this season promises to be strong and effective with towering "Cuz" Draper, the fast-ball artist, "Ace" the Panther's southpaw, L. P. Ward, a curve-ball marksman, Jim Swiggett, capable moundsman, and Bob Green who is with the Panthers for his first season. True it is that the season is yet young, but we hope the Panthers will go right into the conference and come out with more wins than losses this season. Remember, too, when we have a home game be right out there to support the fellows and enjoy the game as we did in the basketball season.

Only yesterday evening, I saw the tennis courts being cleaned up and getting in shape for the coming season. As the weather permits now we will be watching such experts as Henry Muddux, Jake Steele, "Chic" Glaesner, lettermen from last season, along with prospective members of the tennis team at work to get into that top form that carried them to the championship last season in the conference. The team will miss Joe Melvin this season, but there are many able and capable players to fill in his vacancy. So, fellows, we will have our eyes on you and hope that this will be another championship season.

If you see certain husky young men at supper each night with rosy cheeks and nose, you can bet that they have been over on the football field engaged in Spring football practice. For the next five or six weeks, the squad reports each evening for practice or skull practice. With several lettermen coming back, we can expect many exciting contests next Fall.

INTRAMURALS

N. D. M. fraternity claimed the championship of the two leagues by defeating E. H. O. in the championship game. The trophy now changes hands from the Blasters to N. D. M. The Blasters had held the trophy for two consecutive years, and it is with great pride that N. D. M. club takes possession of it until next year's play-off. If you remember, this N. D. M. fraternity went undefeated in the touch football league to take top honors there. It is surely a championship-minded organization, and congratulations are in order.

Volley ball entry blanks have been passed out among various teams, and soon we will see action in this division of intramurals. Surely the N. D. M. will be in there for top honors also, but so will the other teams. If your fraternity or club has not yet entered this league, be sure to get in right away for the exercise and pleasure.

FOR THE RECORDS

Just as a point of interest and for the oddity of the situation, look for a moment at these nick-names the fellows are known by:

- Leonard Hunt—"Hairs"
- Gray Cartwright—"Ace"
- Jesse Joyce—"Snake"
- Bill Waiz—"Goose"
- Paul Pryor—"Crisco Kid"
- Robert Draper—"Cuz"
- Donald Embler—"Cass"

Of course there are several others with nicknames just as odd, or maybe even more so, but it is interesting to look over that list above. Some of us would possibly take offense if we were called by some of those nicknames, but it is remarkable how these fellows accept these conferred appellations more readily than their given names.

Mountaineer Drop Close Decision In NAIB Tournament

Appalachian Mountaineers, winner of the North State tournament, represented the North State Conference in the NAIB tournament at Kansas City. For the first round they met the second seeded team from Brooklyn College. Coach Hoover's boys almost upset the Northern team, but bowed in the last minutes and lost by the small margin of 79-74.

It was good to see our representative make such a fine showing against this Brooklyn team. Immediately after the second half the Northerners went ahead by 20 points, but the Mountaineers fighting an uphill battle were able to close the gap, knot the score, and then pull ahead only to drop behind again in the last minute of play.

This is proof that the quality of teams is on the upgrade in this conference. During the regular season Brooklyn played several of the eastern powerhouses including City College and Long Island University. Brooklyn did not merely play these powerhouses but won games from their opponents. Therefore, we are proud that Appalachian made such a fine showing for the North State Conference.

Thoughts for Lent

Let justice well up as waters, And righteousness as a mighty stream.—Amos 5:24.

We belong to God. He owns us, Our destiny is to live with Him.

All the way with Christ assures victory over death.

"Behold the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding."

"Glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's."

"The just shall live by faith."

"Where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty."

"Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

The problems of our horizontal man to man relationships are conquered when the vertical-God to man and man to God relationships—are firmly established.

"Who his own self bore our sins in his own body on the tree."

"The blood of Jesus Christ His Son cleanseth us from our sin."

"For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God."

HENRY MADDUX

To be a good teacher is the ambition of our personality man, Henry Townes Maddux, who hails from Raleigh, North Carolina. Henry is a senior and his major is English.

Henry's favorite sport is tennis and for his three years of playing he has to his credit 43 wins and two losses. Last year he was the North State Conference singles champion.

As president of the H. P. C. Student Government, Henry has been outstanding in keeping the affairs of the college running smoothly. During his four years in college he has been a member of the N. D. M. Club and at present is the secretary of the organization. He has also been a member of the Block "H" Club, sports editor of the "Zenith," former editor of the HI-PO, Red Cross representative, is listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" and was chosen Best All-Round in the senior class.

Best wishes for your continued success in years to come!

"Foundation of A Nation"

By CHARLES GARDNER

There are things on the face of a dime,
Things that play the liberty rhyme.

The wings of love that give us life
Shall carry us through all our strife;

The face of Miss Liberty can be seen
To represent the fruits of life we glean;

The letters gracing the edge so well
Do in a single word our motto spell;

The four words, "In God We Trust,"
Are our soul's only earthly must;

The axe of war for freedom's fight
Which can be won with its might;

The olive branch of living peace
That reigns when war does cease.

Jaycee Jollies To Be Presented

The Junior Chamber of Commerce of High Point will present the "Jaycee Follies of 1950" in the Junior High School auditorium March 30-April 1 at 8:15 p.m. High Point College is well represented in the cast of the show.

Willard Leathers is in charge of the production and promises a rollicking good time for everybody. The first part of the show is a minstrel; the finale is a river scene on the levee with the darkies singing, dancing, and playing as they work "for de white fo'ks."

Reserved seats for these performances are $1.50, general admission, $1.00. The proceeds will go towards helping the Jaycees to continue their support of local civic projects.

The foundation of our nation we chime
Is given to the world upon a dime.

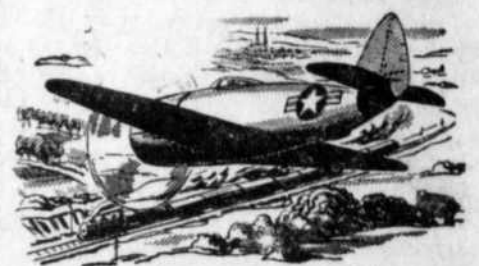

Major Roy Carlson, U. of Iowa, Training Executive, U.S. Air Force!

Born in Red Oak, Iowa, Roy graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School at Council Bluffs. He was ready to enter the University when war changed his mind.

He went to work at Consolidated Vultee in San Diego, building PBV's and B-24's. But it wasn't long until he had put in his application for Aviation Cadet training.

Cadet Carlson won his wings in April, 1943, was assigned to P-47 "Thunderbolts" with the 368th Fighter Group in England, to break ground for the Normandy invasion.

Roy completed 125 combat missions, leading many of them, supporting the invasion and the advances on into Germany. Won Air Medal, D.F.C., many other decorations. Promoted to Captain, then to Major.

Back home, he married the lovely Army nurse from Lowell, Massachusetts, whom he had met at Cannes, France. After the honeymoon, he returned to finish his studies at the University of Iowa.

Major Carlson is now Chief of Operations, 2471st Air Force Reserve Training Center, at O'Hare International Airport, near Chicago. Has two husky sons, a fine job, a great career still ahead of him!

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. Dr. Talton M. Johnson

In loving memory of Dr. Talton M. Johnson, D.D., one of the founders of High Point College, who passed away Sunday, April 2, 1950, in Alexandria, Virginia.

Workman, Auman Elected To Head Zenith Staff

Ruby Workman, a rising senior, has been elected by the retiring Zenith staff and the publication staff to the editorship for 1950-51. Miss Workman is very active in campus activities and is at the present time a representative on the student council.

Ed Auman, a rising senior, was elected as the business manager on the 1950-51 staff. Mr. Auman has also been very active in campus activities and is this year chief marshal.

Bob McKenzie was elected Associate Editor, and Betty Jane Gibbs Associate Business Manager.

With this fine staff, the students are insured of the Zenith being maintained as the fine book which it has always been.

Lois Kreinbaum, editor of the 1950 Zenith, has expressed the hope that the Zeniths will be ready for distribution early in May. She would like to express her appreciation for the cooperation of students and faculty in helping the staff prepare a good year-book.

The Church-Related Colleges

Dr. B. Joseph Martin, head of the Methodist College Foundation in North Carolina, spoke to the student body on Tuesday, April 4, on their responsibilities to the church and state as college-educated citizens.

The text of his speech follows: "The Methodist College Foundation in N. C. was established in 1949 to give support to five of the seven Methodist institutions of higher learning within the state. There was a time in America when the church related school made its mark on the scene by having the only institutions of higher learning. The church-related college now plays a minor but important scene in the American educational system. During the last twenty-five years the average church member has lost contact with the colleges of his denomination. The members of the churches must realize that without their colleges that they will soon be without leadership because it is from these colleges that the ministers and leading layman of the congregation are drawn. On some state college campuses there is still spiritual leadership but the strength is not as great as on the campus of a church-related college dedicated to that purpose.

The purpose of the Foundation is to try to show the alumni and lay members of the churches that their colleges are important and worthy of their support.

One of the first things that a graduate of a church-related col-

Placement Office Asset to College

Originally planned as a background for a teacher advisory system, the Placement Office headed by Mrs. Alice C. Gorman, Vocational Counselor, has proved of great value to students and alumni in planning their careers and securing positions.

The services of Mrs. Gorman are at the disposal of all students in their efforts to obtain information about the fields in which they are interested. A complete file on the fields of work, requirements, remuneration received, future outlook, and cost of preparing for a particular field may be found in the Placement Office.

Interest and aptitude (general ability) tests scores are available to students and offer much assistance in helping the student to locate his best field of interest and ability. The files are confidential and available only to faculty members and prospective employers.

Twice a year before graduation in January and May, letters are sent out to all county and city school superintendents announcing graduates who are eligible for teachers certificates and the fields in which they are specialized.

Approximately 300 letters go out to business concerns in this section with a list showing the names, addresses, and degrees of the graduating class. Students are asked to fill out forms bringing their plans up to date and are given rating sheets to give their teachers in order that a composite rating may be presented to the prospective employer.

Besides the placement of students in full-time jobs, this office also handles part-time jobs. Mrs. Gorman handles the appointments with local concerns to secure part-time positions in addition to the student work program on campus.

Mrs. Gorman estimated that 95 per cent of the seniors do get their records up to date and use the facilities of the Placement Office to locate desirable positions.

lege should understand is that there is a wide difference between what he pays the college to get an education and what the college pays out to educate him. If other young men and women in the future are to get this same opportunity it is important that the graduates give financial support to their college as alumni of the college.

Every citizen of the community, state and nation has a right

Easter Recess Begins Today

In order that all students may secure a few days rest before the final half of the semester begins, and to let everyone be home to attend their own church for Easter, there will be a recess beginning at 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, April 6, and will continue till 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, April 11.

Classes will resume on Wednesday, April 12, at the 8:20 a.m. class.

Forms for State Teacher Certificate Are Available

All seniors who are planning to receive a state teacher's certificate at graduation should go by the Registrar's Office immediately and fill out an application form. All applications will be mailed to the Raleigh office by April 25, in order to receive certificates by commencement time.

Three Dramas to Be Presented

Miss Emma Frances Baber, in addition to her duties as a professor in the English Department and director of the News Bureau, has received the distinction of being selected by the American Association of University Women to direct three dramas to be presented before the citizens of High Point. This project is one of the most outstanding educational events of the year.

A powerful religious drama entitled "The Hourglass," by Yeats, will be presented before the student assembly Tuesday, April 18. The characters are: Herman Coble, Jr., Philosopher; G. S. Lawson, Teigue the Fool; Carlotta Autrey, Bridgett, the Philosopher's wife; Dan Whittington, the Angel; Thomas Weaver, Joe Flythe and Marvin Calloway, students; Betty Mellard and Jean Kerr, children of the Philosopher.

"Blithe Spirit," by Noel Coward, is now being cast. This play will be presented on May 16 in the Junior High School auditorium. The Children's Theatre, under the direction of Miss Baber, will present "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" at the Junior High School on May 6. If you see the campus crowded with little folks any afternoon between the hours of 4 and 7, you may rest assured that they are dwarfs, elves, and gay spirits who have escaped the set of the "Snow White" drama.

Miss Baber wishes to publicly express her appreciation for the co-operation she has been given by the students in producing these plays. All students are cordially invited to visit the News Bureau and give any information

The annual Junior-Senior prom—a highlight of the school year for rising Juniors and departing Seniors—will be held in the ballroom of the Robert E. Lee Hotel at Winston-Salem on Saturday night, April 15.

Curt Bovender, president of the Junior class, and his staff, have completed the final arrangements to insure an entertaining and gay evening for the members of the two classes and their dates.

Betty Jane Gibbs and Bob McKenzie are in charge of the music program, and through these two, Art Lopez and his orchestra have been contracted to play, thus giving a big name band for the event.

Doris Nance and Joyce Mills are in charge of securing a suitable place to hold the dance. After considering several places, they finally decided to hold the ball at the Robert E. Lee.

The 13-year-old brother of Curt Bovender made the posters which are displayed around the campus to announce the event.

D. W. Andrews, colored vocalist who appeared last fall with Horace Heidt in Winston-Salem, will entertain during intermission.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Paschal, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Todd, and Mrs. George Perry have kindly consented to chaperone.

All members of the faculty and the graduating class of January have been extended cordial invitations to attend.

The dance is semi-formal, with flowers and no charge. Tickets will be given to members of the Junior and Senior classes in the foyer of Roberts Hall on April 13 and 14.

The presidents of both classes are anxious to see all the members present for their big event of the year.

SECRETARY WORKS ALL NIGHT

Today's perfect secretary works with machine-like precision, has electronic innards, and boasts a mahogany finished chassis. A business machine company plans to market it soon at about $200.

The electric secretary has a wire recorder and record player. If the phone rings while the owner is out, the machine lifts the receiver and the caller hears a voice say: "This is a recorded message. Mr. Smith is out right now. You have 30 seconds to leave a message if you wish."

After recording the incoming message, the machine cuts in again with "Your time is up. If you need more, please call again."

concerning their activities and participation therein that they wish to go into their hometown newspapers, and to form the habit of dropping by to discuss any question of publicity. The young men on campus should feel no embarrassment in coming to the News Bureau as its location in Room 101 in Woman's Hall facing the Student Center, since the office may be reached through the end door.

Fall Registration

Mr. N. P. Yarbrough, Registrar, would like for all students to comply with the following announcement: "In order to reserve a place in our enrollment for next fall, it will be necessary for all students to make a deposit of the proper reservation fee and fill out an application for re-admission. These forms can be picked up in the registrar's office.

Each student should fill out the application for re-admission, take it to the Bursar's Office and pay their reservation fee, then return the application form to the registrar's office.

Old students who make their application before May 1 will be given first preference for readmission. After May 1, all applications will be considered in the order which they are received, regardless of whether they are new or old applications.

It is very important that all present students comply with this order so that the Administration will know exactly how many are planning to return to school before beginning to take new applications from ones who wish to enter the college next fall. The enrollment is expected to remain at its present level and possibly increase. The office is receiving five high school seniors at this many applications from prospective students.

Rubinoff Plays At Assembly

David Rubinoff, with his famous Stradivarius violin, presented an entertaining program to the students at assembly on Monday, March 27.

Mr. Rubinoff told the students the history of the famous violin. It was made in 1731 by the master of all violin makers, this particular Strad eventually found its way into the hand of Romanoffs, one-time rulers of Russia, and still bears the bejeweled emblems of that family. During the revolution it was smuggled out of Russia to eventually land in the hands of its present owner. The violin is famous for its silken, lustrous tone, its full range and almost unbelievable depth. It is sensitive to heat, humidity and altitude and hence has to be handled with extreme care.

Mr. Rubinoff played the following selections to a very appreciative audience of students, parts of the "Polonaise," "Dance of the Russian Peasant," "The Warsaw Concerto," "Rhapsody in Blue," and to top off the program he played his own rendition of Cole Porter's "Don't Fence Me In."

A girl called one day on the great pianist Rubinstein to play for him. When she had finished, she asked him, "What do you think I should do now?" "Get married," said Rubinstein.

Editorial

To the students who have not read and to the ones who might have forgotten I would like to quote the following from the Constitution of the Student Government of High Point College, under the heading of the By-Laws and specifically as to the policies. The numbers refer to the policy number:

3.—Profanity, gambling and obscene language in all forms are contrary to the principles of our government. We hereby express our emphatic disapproval and obligate ourselves to take necessary action to eliminate such.

4.—The possession or use of alcoholic beverages shall be grounds for a recommendation to the Executive Committee for suspension or expulsion.

5. Social Standards—Total development is the ultimate goal of life at High Point College. There are many phases of this experience and the social life is a part of it. The social standards of High Point College are on a high level in keeping with those of co-educational church institutions. All students by their conduct contribute daily to the level of student life. Satisfactory development depends on their standards being in harmony with the standards of the college. The administration and the student government work together to maintain this high level of a wholesome social development.

The above laws were drawn up by and approved by the students. The elected officers are pledged to uphold these laws. These laws do not only pertain to the student while on the campus but are also in activities outside the campus. Every organization and club represents High Point College on and off the campus; therefore, all clubs are under this law as long as students of the college are members of such organizations.

THE CHURCH . . .

to expect that the young men and women who have been blessed with a college education will have a sense of responsibility to the community, state and nation. The church and state has a right to expect a higher type of citizenry and that they will try to help others receive an education and enjoy the same privileges as the church college has made possible for them. There is something wrong with the present colleges when young people are being turned out who have no sense of responsibility toward their community, state, nation and colleges. In a survey of a middle-sized Western college, it was found that the graduates contributed only an average of 25 cents a year toward the support of the college.

Leading businessmen of the nation today are beginning to worry over the types of graduates coming out of the colleges. They are asking such questions as: 'How many young people made a decision for Christ in that college's last Religious Emphasis Week?' 'Do the young people have a sense of appreciation for the type of citizenry and American democracy that made this money possible that made possible their education?' 'Are these young people really enthusiastic about their school?' 'Just how Christian is that College?'

It is time for the American student and graduate to wake up to the true meaning and worth of their church-related colleges."

BY JEAN KERR

April Fool's Day passed quietly at High Point College with no casualties being reported, but the DAE frat wasn't fooling when they said they planned a big night at the King Cotton in Greensboro, for the girls were excited before they left for the banquet and dance, but after the evening was a memory, many of them were lots more excited for everyone had a wonderful time. Some of those were BILLY SMITH with BETTY VENABLE of Mount Airy; EDNA CLARK with CHARLES CASEY, RICK FOWLER with FRANKIE TAYLOR; CARLOTTA AUTRY with JUDD RUTH; LIB GILBERT with TED HODGE; JEANNETTE HAWKINS with BOB MORRISON, and too many others to mention. Of course all of the girls were proud of their orchids and DAE "babydolls."

Flash! The sun must be pretty hot behind the girls' dorm, for the other afternoon when about half of the girls in the dorm were taking sun baths, all of the close-by grass went up in a blaze. No one could explain it, unless the heat of the sun caused the fire, but all of the girls quickly turned firemen, and put it out. ELEANOR CHURCH, "LITTLEBIT" MALLARD, DORIS AUTRY, BETTY EDWARDS, and many others will receive the "PURPLE HEART" for bravery beyond the call of duty. Lost or damaged in the fire—one shoe—belonging to DORSEY CRUMPLER.

BECKY SOUTHERLAND'S "Kirby" was here this week-end, and BETTY GARRETT'S man came up Sunday. MARION WARREN was dating BILL ELMORE, COOKIE was dating W. G. and all had a fine week-end.

Why was ED AUSTIN so happy Thursday night? Why anyone could guess that CAROLYN, that cute gal from Lenoir-Rhyne, was here. She came down for a wedding—no not her's and Ed's—but anyway Ed was sporting a car, so they had mucho funs!

BETTY BELCHER and RUTH JONES were among those attending the azalia festival in Wilmington this past week-end, and this was a week-end to remember for them.

JEAN COLSON ROGERS came down from Norfolk, Va., to attend the DAE dance this week-end. Of course, she dated her husband, FRED ROGERS.

OLIVER HAUSER just won't ask any of the girls in the dorm for a date, but there are several over in these parts who sure would like a long, SLOW ring on the phone—it being Oliver, of course, asking them for a date. How about it Oliver?

Well, soon everyone will be leaving for the Easter holidays, and at the present time I better be leaving for history class, so this about winds up the "Wha Hoppened" until after Easter.

Note: CLAYTON SNYDER had been neglected in this column long enough, and since Clayton just won't put me in the know about things—and his name needed to be in here, this column was just for him!

Sure would like to see you all at Myrtle Beach Easter holidays—until next time—BYE SHUG!

Mr. Henpeck: "My wife went through my pockets last night."
Friend: "What did she find?"
Mr. H.: "What all explorers find—material for a lecture."

BY WAYNE SHELTON

I want to give this last bit of information on the basketball season here with H. P. C. and I suppose next Fall will bring us more news on the basketball scene. Here goes. The Sportsman's Club which was composed of our varsity men went to the finals in the open tourney at Trinity last week. The fellows overcame stiff opposition all the way and finally met the Grey Foxes of Catawba College in the finals. The game was thrilling all the way, and let me tell you folks, our team played one of its best games ever. Believe me, it was a thrill to watch them in action. At the final buzzer, our fellows emerged victor of their division in the Class A bracket. After the game, individual awards were given each player, and the Sportsman's Club was awarded a beautiful trophy as winners of their division. Leonard Hunt received a personal trophy for the most valuable player in the tourney. Our varsity men now hold three awards from three tourneys in the surrounding neighborhood. I know they mean a lot to the individual players now, but just think what happy hours they will furnish in the future when they sit down to tell junior about the big game, or to just muse on in spare moments. May you have many happy memories, fellows! Of course there was Jesse Joyce on the sidelines to coach the fellows since his ankle would not allow him on the court.

Just check that fine start the Panthers got away to in the brand new baseball season by defeating the McCrary Eagles 4 to 3. The wind was blustery, but our fellows were there all the way, dust or wind, come what may, to win their first game. Bob Draper, that towering terror from Martinsville, Va., went the first three innings with his fireballs, and his task was finished, as it was the plan to give each of the pitchers some work in the first tilt. Bob Green showed up very good and worked hard to place high on the Panther's squad. Bob shows signs that promise trouble for the conference foes this season. We will be watching you Bob and good luck to you. Well, the game went into the bottom of the ninth inning with the Panthers trailing one run behind the Eagles who were apparently about to soar right off with the game. Right at this point that able second baseman, Curtis Bovender, came through with a hit that scored the winning run. That cinched the game for the Panthers. Hats off to you Curt and all the fellows who had a part in the game!

The tennis team meets Lenoir-Rhyne here Tuesday evening for the first tennis match of this season. From all reports, our team has been undergoing workouts in preparation for this game and the season which is now very nearly in session. The fellows are: "Scoop" Maddux, Neil Maddux, Fay Gilbert, "Chic" Glaesner, Jake Steele and Harry "Termite" Cardwell. You can keep an eye on these fellows to keep their record in holding the consecutive wins. Their only contender, William & Mary, was defeated last week, and this now leaves our Panther netmen holders of this record in consecutive wins. We have a true championship team, students, so come out to see them in action at every opportunity you have.

Oh yes, sportsmen, we do have a number of trackmen among the Duncas Redditt and his size 12 track shoes have been at work around the football stadium these warm spring days. I might add that his stride is that of a true champion in track. With those long, muscular legs, he can cover a lot of ground in a minimum of time. I love track myself very much, for in high school days I saw quite a bit of it in the 100 yards and high jump especially. It is one of the more difficult sports as any trackman will tell you, but proper training and participation makes a staunch physical body. I hope that in the near future that we here can have a track team that will compete with the regular conference rivals. It is something we can have if we work after it hard enough.

I cannot refrain from writing something on "Hairs" just this last time, for I know we are going to miss him here on the campus in our social life as well as on the hardwood. "Hairs" was surely liked by all of us, and I'm sure we all send him our best wishes as he goes.

I understand that Paul Pryor is forming an All-Star team under the heading of Dick Culler's College All-Stars to play a number of pro teams near this community. He has such players as Gene Palko who plays second base and was in North Dakota in a Class B league for considerable experience. Dayton Crews, who traveled with the House of David last season for a number of games as shortstop, will be on his All-Star team. Paul will do relief pitching for the team. Good luck fellows as you go, and I know you will have loads of fun.

THEY JUDGE THEMSELVES
One successful employer whose office is run most efficiently tells us that he apparently pays little attention to new employees for a week or so. He lets them show him what they have in them. He judges them by what they do instinctively. Just as people tell what they are most interested in by the things they do when they are free to use their time as they please, so employees make known to their employers what their characters are by what they do before they are forced by office rules to act in a certain prescribed manner.
This man says he saves himself much trouble by this method because he lets the new workers judge themselves. They either win a place or win a discharge. He says it is foolish to try to build a house on a weak foundation, and he cannot afford to waste either time or energy on workers who are not naturally capable.

INTRAMURALS

The slant now in intramurals is volley ball. There have been some good games in this sport now in session over in Harrison gymnasium. There has been good attendance to the games, since they come around the time everyone wants to just rest and enjoy some leisure. Volley ball gives more students the opportunity to get some good exercise and put in a bid for the win at the same time. The fraternities have their formals, parties, and meetings together, but these games add just as much to their unification as any of the other events. Their co-operation is strengthened by playing well together, contending for that championship all the time. Watch the bulletin boards for the coming games and go over after that fine supper to watch these games. These warm spring evenings do invite a promenade with that certain someone or just a friend to some favorite site, but divide the time and come over once in a while to see these interesting games.

Say, what do you think of a horse shoe intramural sport? I would like to see one here this year, for it is a game of skill and highly interesting. If you would like to get a team from your fraternity or other organization, see Mr. Paschal and let's get started. Most all of us have had some experience with the shoes around home and can offer good competition. Remember the old, rusty, well-worn, mule shoes that were so hard to ring? Well, some of us do. These shoes that are used now are nothing like the ones we used at home. Ringers are very easy to throw, if you work out your pitch. It is not uncommon to see four ringers after both contestants have tossed now. In fact, if you expect a point, it is nearly impossible to get it without two ringers. Well, keep the game in mind, and if you want intramural horseshoes, see Mr. Paschal.

You know, intramurals are valuable to us, and by that I mean they can be valuable to us in the years to come. In colleges all over the nation it is always true that the varsity in all the sports makes the sports pages with captions, pictures, and all that sort of thing which by no means is not right. But what I have in mind is that outside the varsity men, there are others on campus that do not have the ability or time to devote to varsity athletics. For these people intramurals can and do give experiences that some will never forget. For instance, I am thinking now of Lyles Kearnes of the D.A.E. and that impossible shot he made that determined the league championship for his fraternity. I doubt that he will forget basketball intramurals for a long time to come. It may be that hilarious incident that you will remember. Do you get what I mean about intramurals can mean something to us if we get out there and take part in the games? Intramural sports can be and are interesting, vital to the individual, and will provide many experiences to remember.

Marc Anthony made two famous speeches. One was at Caesar's grave when he said, "I came to bury Caesar, not to praise him." The other was at Cleopatra's tent at midnight. "I didn't come here to talk," he said.

SOCIETY NEWS

The Delta Alpha Epsilon Fraternity held their annual banquet and dance April 1, at the King Cotton Hotel in Greensboro. Special guests of the evening were three of the charter members: Dr. Glenn G. Perry, Mr. Coy Willard, and Mr. Harvey M. Young. The guest speaker was Mr. Henry C. Furches, who recalled the first banquet held by the D.A.E. Fraternity twenty years ago in the same hotel. Other guests of the evening were Professors S. H. Allred and J. H. Mourance, Mrs. Allred and Miss E. Frances Baber. Dancing to the music of Art Lopez was enjoyed after a delicious dinner.

On Friday evening the E.P.O. held a cabin party with out-of-town guests from Indiana, Virginia, and South Carolina. New members of this organization are: Dan Heath, Walnut Cove, N. C.; Bob Forbes, Jonesville, N. C.; Bob Hughes, Oxford, N. C.; Sandy McDonald, Star, N. C.; Bill Woods, Durham, N. C.; Bill Collette, Mocksville, N. C.; Gene Dull, Mocksville, N. C.; and Gary Hardin, Fairmont, N. C. Following the Easter holidays the weekly dances will be resumed. Thanks are extended to those who have made these dances a success!

The Epsilon Eta Phi annual banquet and dance with honorary members, Prof. and Mrs. H. E. Coble, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Hobart, Prof. and Mrs. N. P. Yarbrough and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Short, present, was held at the Lexington Country Club, on Saturday, April 1. Music by Jerry Johnson and his orchestra was enjoyed until midnight.

The Religious Education Club filled paper Easter bunnies with candy which will be given as favors to the patients at the T. B. Sanatorium. Miss Engen, "Nurse Myrtle," presented to the club a pair of gold candlesticks which will be used in Lindley Chapel.

The Methodist Student Fellowship was presented an inspiring program by the Fellowship from Greensboro College on Thursday evening, March 30. Following the Easter worship program, recreation was led by Harold Hipps, Assistant Pastor of West Market Church in Greensboro.

SHOO FLY—THEN THE FIRST SALUTE

The salute, which is today a universally accepted part of military decor, stated as a simple gesture of necessity. It originated, the story has it, with a messenger who was detailed to deliver an important communication to Hannibal, the famous Carthaginian general. The messenger entered the general's camp and dismounted before the great leader. He was about to launch into his words of greeting, when suddenly a large fly landed on his nose and proceeded to torment him unmercifully. Unable to brush it away casually because of the seriousness and formality of the occasion, he suddenly had an inspiration.

Raising his hand to his forehead he quickly snapped it toward the fly in order to shoo it away. As the messenger had anticipated, Hannibal interpreted the movement as some kind of greeting and replied in kind.

"Meandering in Music"

By Dot Montgomery

Seems as if the "rags" are in again — after "Rag Mop" has died down a bit, we have "Sugar Foot Rag" and "Johnson Rag" following it up.

A favorite in the bookstore is Billy Eckstein's "Baby Won't You Say You Love Me?"—one of those lengthy titles but a top singer.

Kay Starr, the Cherokee Indian Maid, has rated top again on "Tell Me How Long the Train's Been Gone." One word to describe it—dynamic.

Monday night we thronged to hear Johnny Long in person doing his version of "We'll Build a Bungalow." This tune, along with "It Isn't Fair," "If I Had Known You Were Coming—etc." are hit-parade successes.

Everyone is talking about Patti Page's harmonizing on "With My Eyes Wide Open"—terrific.

Some boxes are being fed with many buffalos for "The Old Piano Roll Blues"; any opinion is acceptable.

A good bargain—Sears Roebuck's sale on new records. My purchase and suggestion is Louis Armstrong and Jack Teagarden doing "A Song Was Born." Very good trombone done by Jack—he sings, too.

The Jaycee Jollies of '50 brought out many old timers and new hits last week-end—a fine amateur production. We're always in favor of a good musicale to keep us mindful of the fact that music makes the world go round.

The consonant j did not appear in the Latin and other alphabets of western Europe until the 16th century. It had been represented by the letter i. In manuscripts the letter i was carried slightly below the line to indicate that it was being used as a consonant. This form crept into the alphabets.

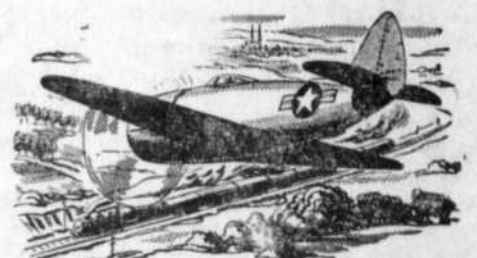

Major Roy Carlson, U. of Iowa, Training Executive, U.S. Air Force!

Born in Red Oak, Iowa, Roy graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School at Council Bluffs. He was ready to enter the University when war changed his mind.

He went to work at Consolidated Vultee in San Diego, building PBV's and B-24's. But it wasn't long until he had put in his application for Aviation Cadet training.

Cadet Carlson won his wings in April, 1943, was assigned to P-47 "Thunderbolts" with the 368th Fighter Group in England, to break ground for the Normandy invasion.

Roy completed 125 combat missions, leading many of them, supporting the invasion and the advances on into Germany. Won Air Medal, D.F.C., many other decorations. Promoted to Captain, then to Major.

Back home, he married the lovely Army nurse from Lowell, Massachusetts, whom he had met at Cannes, France. After the honeymoon, he returned to finish his studies at the University of Iowa.

Major Carlson is now Chief of Operations, 2471st Air Force Reserve Training Center, at O'Hare International Airport, near Chicago. Has two husky sons, a fine job, a great career still ahead of him!

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. Woman's Hall Elects Council

Woman's Hall elected the Council which will govern the activities of girl dormitory students next year in an election Wednesday, April 5, 1950.

Joyce Mills of Ararat, N. C., retiring secretary, was elected to the office of president and assumed her responsibilities upon return from the Easter holidays. Betty Jane Gibbs yielded to Lucille Craver the office of vice-president. Dot Stone was elected treasurer; Iris Williams, secretary, and Carlotta Autrey, head proctor. Retiring officers of these three positions are Dot Montgomery, Joyce Mills, and Doris Tant.

Paschal, Morrison, Snyder Represent H. P. C. at Dallas

Mr. Arthur G. Paschal, director of physical education; Bob Morrison and Clayton Snyder, physical education majors, travelled to Dallas, Texas, this week to represent High Point College at the National Physical Education Convention to discuss the part of the Intramural Program in the College. All major colleges in the nation are represented at this meeting and speakers from several different colleges spoke on how to improve and strengthen the Intramural program.

Mr. Paschal spoke to the gathering on "Intra-Murals for the Future in American Colleges," and also actively participated in the panel discussions.

Important Announcement

All seniors who are planning to receive a state teacher's certificate at graduation are urged to go by the Registrar's office immediately and fill out an application blank as all applications will be mailed to the Raleigh office on April 25.

Summer school begins on June 7. All students who plan to attend should file their application at Dr. Hinshaw's office immediately so that the Administration may know what classes are needed and which classes are not needed.

All students who plan to re-enter next fall are urged by Mr. Yarbrough to drop by his office and fill out application forms in order that a place will be reserved for them in next fall's class.

Remember the elections for the student officers for next year will be on Monday from 9-3, so do your part and vote in a democratic election.

Student Governing Officers Nominated

The Student Body met Thursday, April 20, 1950, in the auditorium in Roberts Hall to nominate candidates for the offices of president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer of the Student Government.

In accordance with the rules governing Student Government elections, the Student Government nominated two candidates for each office prior to the nominations by the Student Body. Ed Auman and Owen Fitzgerald received the nomination for president; Wayne Shelton and George Steffan for vice-president; Sara McDougle and Dixie Henderson for secretary - treasurer. The names of the nominees made from the floor were not available at the time the HI-PO went to press.

Candidates must have a C average and be installed in office one month before the end of the regular term.

Election by secret ballot will begin Monday, April 24, at 9 a. m. and continue through 3 p. m. Students are urged to exercise their right to vote and participate in the elections in the Student Center. Remember, your vote assures next year's students of the same fine, democratic, and co-operative Student Government you have enjoyed this year.

Retiring officers, Henry Maddux, president; Curt Bovender, vice-president; and Ruby Workman, secretary-treasurer extend their sincere thanks for your co-operation and help in making 1949-1950 a school year to be remembered in their college careers.

Seniors Rehearse For Graduation

Seniors who are to graduate May 29 had a rehearsal in Harrison Gymnasium Thursday, April 20, at 10:30 a. m. for the program to be held at the regular assembly period on Tuesday, April 25.

Weaver And Whittington Defeat Elon

Thomas Weaver and Dan Whittington, taking the negative side of the National College debate question "Resolved: That the Basic Non-Agricultural Industries Should Be Nationalized," defeated W. R. Sinclair and W. Curtin of Elon College in a debate at High Point College Thursday, April 13.

Weaver is a sophomore from West Jefferson and is majoring in the pre-law course. Whittington is also a sophomore and a pre-law major and hails from Winston-Salem.

Judges for the debate were Miss Ruth Steelman, Dr. Sloan and Horace Haworth. John Riggs acted as chairman. Miss Emma Frances Baber, professor in the English department, is the debate coach.

Slow Down, Drive Carefully And Live Longer

One of the sorriest symbols of our times is America's automobile accident record.

The summing up for 1949 has just reached us from The Travelers Insurance Companies who each year publish an almanac of crash data. Of all the facts about auto accidents in their booklet, the most significant, it seems to us, is this:

More than 400,000 casualties in 1949 were the direct result of speeding. One out of every three Americans who lost their lives in last year's wrecks were killed because someone was driving too fast.

Speed has been causing a greater percentage of accidents year after year. In 1949, speed was a greater factor in traffic casualties than at any time in history.

Traffic laws and law enforcement are part of the answer. Engineering will help some. But with perfect roads and perfect

Students Suffer From Thieves

In the last two weeks two deplorable things have happened in the boys' dorm where the actions of a thief and a short-sighted student have both disregarded the rights of the fellow men and by their actions have caused many to suffer.

The first incident was in two boys' room who went about collecting laundry in the dorm in order to help pay their way through college. A low, sneaking, thief, who is probably registered as a student here at the college, stole into these boys' room and removed around seventy dollars that they had collected to pay for the week's laundry bills. These boys have had to make this loss good to the laundry.

The second instance was last Saturday night when someone entered the phone booth in the lobby of the Men's Hall and ripped the phone off the wall and removed around fifty dollars from it. As a result all the boys in the dorm are suffering from the actions of this one irresponsible person. The phones have been removed and thus the whole dormitory is deprived of phone service.

This school is too large for such small men. There is no place on this campus for such people. It is up to the boys in the dormitories to take the necessary action to catch these thieves and to see that they are punished in a proper manner. If anyone has any type of information the Student Council will be only too happy to take action to see that these sneaking thieves are dealt with by the legal courts.

Tower Players Present "The Hour Glass"

The Tower Players, under the direction of Miss Emma Frances Baber, presented "The Hour Glass," a one-act morality play by W. B. Yeats, before the student body Tuesday, April 18. The theme of the play deals with the wise man who taught his students everything except religion and the resulting consequences of his negligence.

Excellent performances were turned in by the following cast:

The Wise Man—Herman Coble

Teigue, the Fool—G. S. Lawson

The Angel—Dan Whittington
Students — Thomas Weaver, Joe Flythe, Marvin Calloway

Bridget (Wife of the Wise Man)—Carlotta Autrey

Children — Jean Kerr, Betty Mellard.

This is the first of three plays to be presented before High Point audiences within the next few weeks and is sponsored by the American Association of University Women and under the direction of Miss Baber.

Mr. D. W. Andrews, Jr., nationally known singer from Winston-Salem, entertained at the Junior-Senior prom last Saturday night by singing several popular songs during intermission. Mr. Andrews is a graduate of Tuskegee University and while there he was a soloist in the famous 100-voice choir. Miss Ruth Holden, a school teacher from Winston-Salem, played the piano for him.

EDITORIAL

Nominations for next year's student officers have been made; elections will come off this Monday. Has anyone noticed that in all this process of nominating and electing that there is an apparent lack of student spirit in regard to the whole matter? Why is there such disinterest on the part of the student body? We will not have to dig very deep beneath the surface before the failures begin to crop up.

In the first place who has ever heard of political parties nominating their candidates and then, before the voting citizen has an opportunity to find out who has been nominated or what the nominated have in mind to benefit their constituents, holds a fast election. The nomination was on Thursday of this week and the elections will be next Monday. We are all aware of why our forefathers rushed the present United States Constitution back to the States to have it ratified before the public could get too much knowledge concerning the new Instrument of Government but why must speed be used in our elections?

There is nothing that can stir up student spirit better than a rip-roaring campaign full of good speeches and political atmosphere. There has been no time for publicity in this present election. The candidates have not had time to formulate a platform nor deliver a speech before the students. We are supposed to leave College with an idea of how democracy works but how can a student learn about the workings of democracy when it is not practiced on the campus. The election will be a vote of personalities and not a vote because some candidate stands to help the student body in some way. This learned vote of personality is carried on out into the student's actual political life where he will continue to vote one party or one man regardless of the damage that can be done by voting one way. In chapel a few weeks back Dr. B. Joseph Martin made the remark that business men today are asking whether the present-day student is aware of our democratic government and its principle. This election business is one of the biggest principles of our system of government. When a nation loses its voting privilege then it has lost its freedom. No, I am not implying that we have lost our voting privileges here at the college. But what good is a vote when it only narrows down to a popularity contest?

It is not the fault of the candidates that they have not had a chance to present themselves and their views before the student body. Most of the candidates had no idea that they had been nominated before Thursday and therefore they have not had an opportunity to form their parties. The same principles as described above have operated in all the elections this year. In most cases the candidates have been selected within a few days of the actual election. Almost half the students on this campus are day students and are not acquainted with the ones nominated. In a case like this you can't blame them much if they show little interest in the election outcome and even neglect to show up at the polls to cast a vote.

The ones nominated this year will be the officers next year and they should try to work out a plan whereby the nominations can be made well in advance of the time set for the elections. Student spirit begins on the campus and very little will be carried off if nothing is done to start it budding while on the campus.

"They Are The Meek"

By CHARLES GARDNER

In the world there are the meek;
Who cannot find that they seek.
Their lights burn dim but strong;
The brighter cannot burn so long.

The physically strong are really weak,
For from their hearts they cannot speak.
To this end I shall diligently pray,
That for the meek there'll come a day.

Their love for others they cannot hide,

For it flows from them in a flood tide.

This is the reason they are slow to fight.

Those whom in succeeding must hide their light.

MacDougal, leaving home for a few days, said: "Noo, Maggie, dinna forget to mak' wee Alec tak' off his glasses when he's not looking through them."

Forward (to center): "Why didn't you pass to me when I was open? You are the dumbest guy on the whole squad!"

Coach: "Boys! Boys! You forget that I am here."

Unfinished Accomplishments

By G. T. S.

Br-r-r-r, the clock runs down and George slowly opens one eye which is slightly red from an apparent lack of sleep. Aw shucks, it is only 7:05 and my first class doesn't start till 8:20 so I will just lay here a few minutes longer. George muses to himself. Then he softly dozes back into the world that he just left before being so rudely jarred by a clock. Fleeting beauties begin to drift through his mind. Now George is the hero at the beach the girls are swooning over him like Errol Flynn. Aw, but here is a beauty who just thinks George is super, but who is that big strapping seven-footer over there? Yes, you guessed it because it is her boy friend; but George you must remember has control of this particular dream; in such favorable circumstances it is no wonder that the giant is disposed of in short order.

Boy you should have been with me last night. There I was walking down the street minding my own business and here comes this babe, gently swaying too and fro as she navigates the distance between us. Man was she built! You have seen Betty Grable, but Grable has nothing when it comes to this gal. Anyway, as she saunters past I give her the old eye and the long, low, familiar whistle and she slowly turns around to speak. . . .

And now we take you back to the gallant old days of the War of Secession when gentlemen were men and Northerners were "damnyankees." Lincoln is in the White House and Davis is in the Out House. Lincoln's left-hand General is speaking, says General Henry, "lets go down and chase those d—(sorry general, but you know that word is reserved for ones above the old well-known line) anyway, the General strategy is to take the Robert E. Lee down the Muddy-sippi and stop off to attend the social functions at Memphis, Vicksburg, and New Orleans. Then take the Dixie Flyer on a sight-seeing tour of Georgia with a stop-over at Atlanta, then to drop down and see Savannah. From Savannah it would be advisable to take the Good Ship Sumpter to arrive in Charleston harbor just in time for the fireworks. From Charleston proceed inland to Columbia by way of the Underground railroad. After seeing the sights of South Carolina the trip would not be complete without a trip through North Carolina and on into the valley of Virginia by the Stonewall. But let's leave these two great minds and drop down to Richmond where Davis and his right-hand General are mapping their strategy. s General Podd to President Davis, now if we would just start at Gettysburg it would be possible—but here we must leave our masterminds and only history can tell us who . . . but since this would only lead to bloodshed I will leave you to figger out the ending to this story.

Half the ills we hoard within our hearts are ills because we hoard them.

"Wha' Hoppened"

BY JEAN KERR

Surprised to see this column again so soon? Well, to tell the truth, I am too, but orders are orders.

Do you listen to Skyline Patrol? Well, it seems that a certain someone was accused of "hogging the program" the other night with requests for EDNA CLARK and JIMMY JOHNSON, and for a few others who we will not mention now.

Just wha' happened to CHARLES LONG CASEY ("Casey," to me) over the Easter holidays? Didn't you say that she lived in Rock Hill, S. C., "Casey?" "I Almost Lost My Mind" is dedicated to "Casey" at the point.

The ITK frat banquet is tomorrow night at the Lexington Country Club. DORIS AUTRY will be dating President BILL ELMORE, JOAN "COOKIE" COOK will be with LONNIE, and of course many, many others. Everyone is counting on a marvelous time.

RED MASHBURN is a frequent visitor to "BABS" LAWRENCE. But yes, you guessed it—there is no privacy on the front steps of the dorm is there???

Seen quite often around the campus is TRUMAN FARRELL and HELEN STANLEY.

BETTY BELCHER dated OWEN FITZGERALD to the junior-senior prom. A glamorous occasion so they say.

JOYCE MILLS has taken over duties as dorm president, taking the place of Charmione Rose. Other newly elected officers also took over their new jobs Monday night.

THOMAS WEAVER is really a busy man, and says he can't let studying interfere with his education. Couldn't find out his girl's name, nor could I find out a thing about DAN WHITTINGTON. Maybe he'll put me in the know.

Have you noticed that AL COOMES gives a wolf call every-time he sees a certain girl. This may develop into something better—or is Al just a wolf at heart. I really couldn't say.

Who is it that MARION WARREN has been seen in the halls with so frequently lately? Just ask Marion for all of the details.

Just heard today that CLAYTON SNYDER and BOB MORRISON and MR. PASCHAL whooped it up to Texas. No further details at this time.

Among the girls who are importing dates for the junior-senior are MILDRED PARRISH, MARY LEE RICHARDSON, and MARY DEVINE. The boys back home you know.

What was the big explosion at exactly 6:25 p.m. in Woman's Hall? Could it be that an unidentified being smuggled an Atom Bomb into the dorm. HA-HA-HA Ladies! I know that the saying is usually gentlemen, but in this case it had to be LADIES! (You know who I am referring to.)

Everyone seemed to have had a wonderful time at the junior-senior, and among those dating were JANIE BARTLETT with HERMAN COBLE, CHARMOINE ROSE with WAYNE SHELTON, JO WYATT and GEORGE THOMPSON, and just too many others to mention.

Well, everybody, that's about all of the news for this time, so till about that time—Bye Shug!

BY WAYNE SHELTON

With most of those wintry blasts of cold air behind now, it is truly beginning to seem more like the summer time that we all love so well. The poet says that in spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, but if we observe more closely another facet of campus life it seems that the newness of Nature brings in a host of sports that we enjoy. Last Tuesday, we were represented in four sports in one day. At King, N. C., the American Legion finals were played and won by our varsity men; the same day was used for a tennis match; golf and baseball with Catawba were the other two sports. This seems to me an indication that thoughts turn toward sports as well as with Cupid.

The sports calendar seems full for the remaining weeks of school for the tennis, golf, and baseball men. This week there will be three matches in tennis with Catawba, Lenoir-Rhyne and Guilford. We also contest Lenoir-Rhyne and Elon in baseball this week on the 19th and 21st. Keep an eye on the home events and come out to watch the contests.

On Saturday the 15th, our tennis team went to Elon where, despite cold, wind, and dust, our men added one more win to their brilliant record. The consecutive wins have now reached thirty-two. It is interesting to note that we dropped only one singles match to Elon. The win was 7-1. I understand that application has been made by the tennis team to some of the best-known universities for matches, but as yet no reply or acceptance has been received from them. So far as I know, the tennis team here holds the record in consecutive wins.

When the Panthers defeated Guilford 10-6 last Saturday evening, Bob Greene did a great job on the mound. With a jittery infield and eight errors behind him, Bob pitched on to a win. In the eighth inning Bob came to bat and made a grand-slam that knotted the game, and in the same inning the winning run was scored when Sam Venuto threw wildly into centerfield when he returned the ball to pitcher Dewey Wolfe. Ralls had four for five to cop hitting honors of the contest. Homer Smith for the Panthers had three for five, which is very good. Twelve Quakers went down swinging at Bob's pitching.

The story is different on the Catawba game in which the Braves captured the Panthers, 10-1. Between the cold night air and the power of the Indians, our team went down in defeat. At Greenville when the Panthers met E. C. T. C. on the diamond, it seemed that success was ours until that fateful last half of the ninth came up. With errors and strong determination of the foe, the final score stood 10-9, Panthers behind. The Panthers now have a record of two wins and two losses which is good for the season's start.

Our golf team dropped its match at Elon Saturday. An interesting remark came from Elon's coach while these two matches were in progress Saturday evening. He said: "Elon beats High Point in golf and basketball, but never in tennis." I might add that he never wins in basketball except at, shall we say, the wrong time, tournaments for instance.

HE WAS REALLY MIXED UP

A cop picked up a man who was staggering down the street and took him to police headquarters. The captain made him go through different routines to determine how drunk he was. He was also asked to repeat the poem "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star." The drunk repeated:

"Starkle, starkle, little twink, who the heck I are you think, I'm not under the affluence of incohol, although some thinkle peep I am, I fool so feelish I don't know who is me. The drunker I sit here the longer I be."

INTRAMURALS

Well, the volley ball games are going top speed now with interest and participation mounting all the while. The Parsons tangled with the D. A. E. in one of the most exciting games, possibly, that has yet been played in these games. Some words taste badly when you have to eat them, especially those that you have said yourself. It so happens that the D. A. E. and Parsons are quite well represented in one of the sections in Men's hall, and there was a pre-game conversation concerning the outcome of the game that night. It seems that the Parsons were going to give D. A. E. the once over lightly or that the game would be a crip. It also seems that the D. A. E. entertained like thoughts and made them known. All this added to the already promising game. The first game was taken by the Parsons with apparent ease, and D. A. E. wondered about the third game until the score stood 16-14 in favor of D. A. E. The game went entirely contrary to both sides that had speculated, and this caused much greater interest as a result. So you can readily see that each side had some of their own words to consume. It all goes to prove that air castles are all right until we attempt to move in them. There are those exceptional cases that one can and does move into his air castle, but don't you agree that it is pretty difficult? The most important item is those efforts that put us at the top of the ladder or in those air castles. If your team is to be tops, then everyone has to be in there with hours of practice behind and a determination to be above average. If you play on the volley ball team, work hard to be the winner of the league you are in.

The three remaining assembly periods in this semester will be conducted by Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, President of High Point College, and addressed to seniors in particular. The members of the graduating class will march in a body in caps and gowns to assembly for these three programs, known as Senior Chapels.

Dr. Mark Depp, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church, Winston-Salem, will speak May 2,

“Hell” and “Devil”

Not long ago one of my friends married a lovely girl who lived near Alcoa, Tennessee. He had a good position at the Alcoa plant, and so was able to provide a nice home from the very start. The servant problem was supposed to be a hard one, but an advertisement brought immediate results in the person of Hazel Burnett, a nice-appearing mountain girl, whose home was in the edge of the Smokies some 15 miles away. The couple engaged her at once. In spite of certain crudities in language and manners, Hazel became day by day increasingly indispensable. My friends did everything possible to make her contented.

Hazel had been in the home two whole months without having expressed a desire to return to her folks, but one Saturday afternoon she failed to return to her work—nor was she back Sunday or Monday. And then a friend stopped by to get Hazel's few possessions.

"Why did Hazel stop?" Bob's wife asked, looking the girl straight in the eye. "Weren't we good to her?"

"Yes'um," she said, "you was awful good to her."

"Then, why?"

"I don't know fur sure, and I think mebbe she'll come back, but I heard her say—well, I guess I oughten to tell it—"

"Of course you can tell it," Bob's wife put in quickly.

"Mebbe this warn't it, but she said—she said she was gettin' so tired hearin' 'Darling' and 'Sweetheart' all the time that she couldn't stand it no longer. She said she just had to go back home where she could hear 'hell' and 'devil' and mebbe 'damn.'" and Dr. T. C. Knoles, president, College of Pacific, Stockton, California, will speak on May 16. The speaker for May 9 has not been decided upon as yet.

Advice is seldom welcome. Those who need it most like it least.—Johnson.

Spring Basketball Practice Begins

The Purple Panthers who emerged from the past season of basketball as champions of the conference reported Monday night at 7 o'clock for the first night session of practice and will continue to report for spring practice until Coach Smith deems the sessions sufficient. As the number stands now, the full squad of last season will report with only three exceptions. Next year's squad promises even greater success since the fellows have another year of experience behind and a new determination to go further next year than they did this season. "All the way to Kansas" should and could well be the slogan for the varsity to adopt and an aim to keep in mind. This spring practice is an important phase in the sport of basketball as is spring practice to football; however, in the recent years, we have not had the early drills in spring.

Musicians

By DR. LINCOLN LORENE

The human heart has chords of purest song
Which echo from its depths, an instrument
Whose power and range and brilliant tones belong
To such as key the strings with steadfast bent;
Vibrating with all subtle sense and thought,
Responding in each sphere of sympathy,
Such music is the beauty man has wrought
Transmuting mortal prose to poetry.
Just as no skill of learned scientists
Can change base metals to the worth of gold,
No art of imitative lyricists
Achieves the concord that true heartstrings hold.
Musicians of life's harmonies may win
Strains lovelier than the voice of violin.

A Sock Story For Men

By JIMMIE KENT

Since the following article is directed mainly toward the men readers, the women may read it but please keep silent. Only the opinions of the not-so-fair sex on this article are acceptable.

After consulting the experts in London and Paris, the fashion centers of the world, it was found that the reason why men wear symmetrically inclined, specifically designed men's hosiery is due to custom and tradition. Let it not be said that this writer is trying to degrade the ancient habit of wearing a similar pair of socks. However, let us consider for the moment the time-saving element involved. There would be no more sorting of the materials. When one sock wore out, you could simply throw away the holey one and pick up another to be the mate of an entirely different sock. This would cut down the time consumed in conforming to this necessary evil for social likeness, and you fellows—like myself—could spend more time daydreaming in this mild weather we are having or perhaps use your odd moments with the little woman by a shady brook.

The main objection seems to be that no one else wears unlike socks, so why should you? This, coupled with the fact that shoes are in pairs and the suits are the same color — even the legs of trousers have a colored sameness — are the probable reasons why nobody ever seriously considered wearing unlike socks.

You will admit that the average person has more socks than shoes or suits or cuff links, etc. The other actual clothing you wear takes up more room than socks and does not take as much time to pair up. Nowadays when you send a suit to the cleaners, it comes back already paired up for you.

In the olden days of Kings, the Counts, Viscounts, and no-accounts of the court DID wear trousers with different-colored legs. Today, the labor unions would not stand for the change because it would take more time to make them.

It has been admitted by the experts that a typical "College Joe" may wear three colors or more at one time and still be in style. If this be the case, comes the Great Revolution and perhaps we will all wear different colored socks.

Alternative

By DR. LINCOLN LORENZ

In seems now beyond our farthest ken

When a new race of beings has its birth

Or flies from other plants to the earth

By rocket planes like comets, its supermen

May find strange primates hidden in their caves

Man's spirit now must master gruesome war

Since science has outraced its human link

And earth prepares to totter crumble, sink

Its civilization in the slimy shore.

The alternate is mankind's dust-filled urn.

A horse divided against itself cannot stand.

BONERS IN HISTORY

Abraham Lincoln wrote the Gettysburg Address while traveling from Washington to Gettysburg on the back of an envelope.

Many of the Indian heroes were killed, which proved very fatal to them.

Martin Luther died a horrible death. He was excommunicated by a bull.

They gave William IV a lovely funeral. It took six men to carry the beer.

What did Paul Revere say at the end of his famous ride? "Whoa."

Milton wrote "Paradise Lost"; then his wife died and he wrote "Paradise Regained."

A psychology footnote: The class instructor had finished a short discussion on illusions, delusions, and allusions when a thoughtful student inquired: "What is a mirage?" It was at that point that a student of the class offered the answer: "A mirage is where the little man who wasn't there keeps his car."

SOCIETY NEWS

The Thomasville Woman's Club will be the scene Saturday night of the annual banquet of the Alpha Theta Psi Sorority. Rev. Wilson Welborn will be the guest speaker for the colorful occasion. Returning alumni and guests expected are Fran and Harry Jordan, Cora and Jimmy Teachey, Donna Burns, Louise Ellison, and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Harp. Clyde Watson and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing. The officers of the sorority are Betty Auman, president; Bertha Lowe, vice-president; Ann Stuart, secretary; and Romona Rhodes, treasurer. . . . The annual D.B.A. Fraternity Banquet will be held at the Bliss Restaurant in Greensboro April 22. The theme "Spring" will highlight the occasion with appropriate decorations of spring flowers. Music will be provided by Milton Crocker and band. The invocation will be given by Forrest Brown and the welcome extended by Bill Black, president, to the guests and returning alumni. Bob Ashmore, Glenn Burris, Hubert Whitaker, Bob White, Darrell Parrish, Bill Marley and "Red" Ennis. . . . A delegation from the Duke Divinity School, consisting of a choir and those who will present the program, will be the guests at Vespers Sunday night, April 23, at 6:30 p.m. The Church Relations Committee is bringing the group to H. P. C. campus and everyone is invited to attend. This promises to be one of the most interesting and enjoyable meetings of the year.

police work, the man behind the wheel can still exceed the limit if he wants to or if he isn't thinking.

Keep this in mind when you drive. Stay within speed limits and you'll be doing your full part in a crusade to reduce automobile accidents by one third.

It may surprise you to learn that experience can be dangerous—even deadly.

Statistics compiled by The Travelers Insurance Companies show that 97 per cent of last year's traffic accidents were caused by drivers with at least one year's experience.

Learning how to drive is relatively easy. The mechanics of driving become second nature soon after a student "solos." At this critical point, attitudes begin to take over. The super caution of the beginner is diluted by an ever-increasing confidence based on experience. And, with too many drivers, caution is ultimately replaced by indifference, carelessness.

The skill of experience can sometimes get you out of trouble on the highway. But the chances are your over-confidence, your indifference got you into the trouble in the first place.

The moral is clear and urgent. Those of us who are experienced drivers must also be humble drivers.

In the middle of the nineteenth century, all the morons moved to Utah.

Dr. C. R. Hinshaw, Dean Of Instruction, Director Of the Summer School

Dr. Clifford R. Hinshaw, dean of instruction, on June 7 assumes the job as director of the Summer school which he has been in charge of since 1928.

Dr. Clifford Reginald Hinshaw, professor of psychology, is a native son of North Carolina. He received his Bachelor of Arts from Guilford in 1916; earning his Master's Degree from the University of North Carolina in 1924. He also received a Master's degree from Columbia in 1927, and in 1932 was honored by the degree of Doctor of Literature from Western Maryland College.

He served two years as high school principal and eight years as superintendent of schools in this State. He acted as professor of education in the Summer sessions of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, until he received his appointment as professor of education and psychology at High Point in 1927. In addition to his regular college duties he is director of Summer school and of extension teaching.

Many honors have come to Dr. Hinshaw, from his early days in college at Guilford, until the present. As an undergraduate he was a member of the Guilford debating team; he was secretary-treasurer of the Guilford Athletic Association; he was a member of the editorial staff of The Guilfordian, the college newspaper, and the assistant editor of The Quaker, the annual at his college.

Columbia University, New York, elected him to membership in the Beta Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, a national honor scholastic society. He is chairman of the faculty committee on academic ceremonies and presides at all formal college ceremonies. He served as chairman of the committee to arrange for the inauguration of Dr. Dennis Cooke last February and was responsible for contacting all the delegates that attended.

Dr. Hinshaw

Formerly he was secretary-treasurer of the board of education of the Methodist Protestant Church in North Carolina. He has been a member of the college executive committee since 1927; he is a member of the athletic board; he was secretary-treasurer for one year, and then president of the North State Athletic Association.

Dr. Hinshaw has two children who graduated from High Point, and one was a member of the faculty last year. He is an active member of the Masonic Lodge, and formerly was a Kiwanian in this city.

Best of all, Dr. Hinshaw is known to all the campus as a friendly, genial gentleman, never too much in a hurry amid his multitude of duties to pause long enough for a pleasant word. His courses are popular and his office is always open for any student to walk in for a moment's chat about his problem of the day. In reading the local papers one often runs across his name having delivered a lecture to some notable audience.

Dr. T. C. Knoles Speaks to HPC Assembly

Dr. Tully C. Knoles, chancellor of the College of the Pacific, spoke to the final student assembly on Tuesday, May 16. Dr. Knoles is a graduate of the University of Southern California. For ten years he was head of the department of history in the University of California. He was elected to the presidency of the College of the Pacific in 1919 and served in that capacity until 1948, at which time he retired and was elected chancellor. Dr. Knoles came to High Point College as a part of an extensive itinerary through the South, under the sponsorship of the Division of Educational Institutions of the Methodist Board of Education in Nashville.

He spoke to the assembly on being optimistic instead of pessimistic. He said that we are facing a very serious situation in

Message from the President

"I think we have had a good year. It has been a year of change and adjustment. I want to thank the Board of Trustees, faculty, students, and the Alumni for their complete support, co-operation, and hard work. With continued co-operation of this kind the possibilities at High Point College are really great."

Sincerely,
Dr. Dennis H. Cooke.

New Faculty Members

Dr. Dennis Cooke announces the following new additions to the faculty and administration.

Dr. E. J. Coltrane, A.B., M.A., D.D., will come to High Point College on June 1 to assume the job as financial representative of the college. Dr. Coltrane is at the present time president of Brevard College but is retiring from the position on June 1. He received his A.B. at Guilford College, his M.A. at Columbia University, and his D.D. from High Point College.

Dr. W. R. Locke will come here as Associate Professor of Religion and as head of the Religious Department. Dr. Locke received his Ph.D. at Boston University. At the present time he is pastor of a Methodist Church in Perry, Ohio, and also lecturer in religion at Lake Erie College, Lake Erie, Ohio. He will begin here at the second term of Summer school.

Dr. Philip Angeles, B.A., M.A., Ph.D., a graduate of the National University of Mexico will come here in September to assume the head of the Department of Language.

Mr. J. M. High, A.B., M.A., will begin here at the second term of Summer school as an instructor in business administration. He received his A.B. at Maryville College and his M.A. at the University of Tennessee.

Dr. Joseph M. Wilson, B.S., M.A., Dr. of Ed.D. in Music, will come here as head of the music department. He is a graduate of Milwaukee State Teachers College and Columbia University. Mr. Woods, the present head of the music department is returning to graduate school this Fall for more advanced study.

Mrs. C. Q. Smith, A.B., and graduate service in library service, the wife of the coach will work as assistant librarian.

Miss Betty Auman and Miss Lorene Kivett, graduates of the class of 1950, and both natives of High Point, will work in the business office.

John Bohn, who at the present time is attending the University of North Carolina, will transfer to High Point College next Fall and become the sports publicity director.

Dr. Cooke stated that "efforts are being made to place Ph.D. at the heads of all departments to work toward qualifications for accreditation by Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools."

Wife (to late-returning husband): "Is that you, John?"
John: "It'd better be."

Professor J. Hobart Allred To Succeed Dr. Lindley As Dean of Students

Professor Allred

Mr. J. Hobart Allred, professor of Modern Language and a member of the faculty since 1924, has been named by Dr. Cooke to succeed Dr. Lindley as dean of students.

Dean Lindley, as he is affectionately called by students, has been the dean of students since 1926, he has been relieved of the position at his request in order that he might devote more time to teaching and writing. He will continue as a member of the faculty as professor of religious education. Dr. Lindley was active in behalf of the College even before the doors were opened. He was instrumental in the collection of funds for the construction of the original buildings. He came to the College when instructions first began as professor of religious education, and since that date in 1924 he has acted as teacher, registrar, dean, member of the board of trustees, and was the first band conductor.

Dean Lindley was elected secretary at the first faculty meeting held in 1924, and since that time he has been associated with the administration of the college in one capacity or another.

The graduating class of 1929 paid tribute to him by dedicating the "Zenith" to him.

Dean holds a bachelor's degree from Elon College, and M. A. from Vanderbilt University. He has also done graduate work at the University of Chicago, and was honored with an Litt.D. from Western Maryland College.

Before coming here Dr. Lindley taught at Branham and Hughes Military Institute at Spring Hill, Tenn., and also directed the band there. His religious, educational, philosophy, and sociology courses which he teaches are very popular with the students. His classes are always filled and many that seek to enter his classes are turned away until the next semester.

Dr. Lindley is the author of two well-known books. "Human Nature and the Church," was published in 1932, and last year his latest work, "Rise Up and Walk," was released by the publishers. At the present time he is working on several more manuscripts which he plans to release in the future.

"I asked to be relieved as dean of students," he said, "in order to be able to devote more time to teaching and inspirational work. The routine of the office work was too heavy to allow me to pursue the things which I consider most worthwhile now."

Mr. Allred is a native of Ashboro and received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of North Carolina. He has been with the college since 1924. He is an advisor to the day student boys; an honorary member of the D.A.E. fraternity; advisor to the Spanish Club; a member of the executive committee of the faculty; and for many years he was a member of the Athletic Council and the Pan-Hellenic Club.

He and Mrs. Allred spent last Summer and the Summer of 1939 traveling over Mexico refreshing his knowledge of Spanish and learning more about the customs of the Mexican people.

In announcing Mr. Allred's new assignment, Dr. Cooke said: "Mr. Allred's duties as dean of the students will be to assume the responsibility for the student's life and the student's conduct, to receive the report and recommendations from the head counselors and from the student councils, and to make such decisions as his judgement may indicate. He will continue to teach classes in the Modern Language department of the college."

More Rooms

High Point College is going in for the new look by increasing the size of the accommodations of the campus. Those men that you see over around the boy's dormitory every day aren't loafing. The third floor is being remodeled to make more rooms to accommodate additional students. When the building was completed the third floor was left bare. During the war while the army was here the third floor was completed in barrack's style and after the war when the enrollment was too heavy for the amount of rooms available students were housed there. This year the students were moved out to Penny Hall, but since the Hall has been sold for an old age home additional rooms had to be found to accommodate the boys for next year.

The girls' dormitory will also have the rest of the third floor completed in order to accommo-

EDITORIAL

Last issue and the issue I have been looking forward to for many months so that the shouts of glee could be heard from one end of the campus to the other. But as the presses slowly grind to a stop on this the last issue of The Hi-Po for the school year 1949-1950 my thoughts turn instead to the many pleasant hours of work on the paper. The pleasant thoughts of trying to do my part as a student and the cordial relations that I have enjoyed with the faculty members and the student body. To look back on these fond remembrances is like the President of the U. S. remembering his pleasant days in office as he hands the keys over to his successor. Some times the going was stormy and the critics were rough but you remember at this time that underneath their breast their only thought was to try and help improve the standards. To the staff I am deeply indebted for their constant help and their cheerful disposition just when I began to sag in spirit. Keeping the paper going and meeting all deadlines would have been impossible without a capable staff. My successor will indeed have a capable core of workers to assist in his work.

Writing an editorial for the last issue is a hard job for no one is interested in reform movements and at this time the only thing that everyone is interested in is passing their finals. But we can take just a minute to say good-bye. Say good-bye to the class deadline that we have been rushing to meet all year. Good-bye to our friends, chapel, football games, basketball games, home-coming, dances, the book store, May Court, and the beauties of High Point.

The freshmen can say good-bye to their first year in college. You have come a long way since last Fall. You are now able to take on the airs of a big sophomore. You have made some lasting friends. You have had the first thrill of college life and probably found the movies were all wrong since they neglect to show the study side of the picture. You have learned how to study or if you haven't you will be counted among the missing for next year. And now you are ready to return and have the opposite sex thrill to your stories of your first big year in college.

You sophomores are probably anxious to say good-bye to your second year and see next Fall term begin because then you will become a haughty upper classman. This year has been routine with you except for all that parallel reading and all that literature that you never knew existed before. You have settled down with your steady until next year and then some cute freshman will enroll. Two more wonderful years to look forward to.

You juniors will watch the graduation ceremony with wishful looks gleaming in your eyes because you will be picturing just how you are going to look next year in your cap and gown. As you finish this year you are certain that nothing can stop you now for you are over the hump. You juniors were the backbone of the campus because it was your year for your big fling; because next year as a dignified senior you will have to be serious and also study harder to pull up that average.

The seniors find it the hardest to say good-bye. They can't seem to realize that the years have passed by so swiftly. Last Fall you looked at the freshmen in amazement and wondered why they were enrolling such young kids in college these days. On every side some bright sophomore or junior is saying we will sure miss you, and you remember that you said those same words last year and now you have been trying all year to remember to whom you said those words. You will say good-bye to friends that have been with you for four years as they return to their homes many miles away to not be seen again for many years. It will mean saying good-bye to High Point College and the faculty members that you have learned to love so well. It is saying good-bye to college and hello to life.

Briefly, these are the things that we are all saying good-bye to as this year comes to a close. But around the corner there are many more pleasant things to say hello to. So till we meet again it's good-bye for now. But the fond memories will always linger on.

Shelton Appointed Editor of Hi-Po

Wayne Shelton has been appointed by the publication council to succeed Grady Thomas as editor of the Hi-Po for the school year 1950-51. Shelton is a pre-ministerial student, and has acted as sports editor for the paper this semester. In a recent campus election he was elected vice-president of the Student Government for next year.

The new editor has stated that it is his desire to continue to improve the standards of the paper. He is also interested in lining up his staff for next year as soon as possible. Everyone who is interested in working on the paper is urged to contact him before this semester is over. The retiring editor states that "he has enjoyed very much his tenure of office and the cordial relations that have existed between the student body and faculty members in relation to the paper."

Just Thinking...

By Jean Kerr

Father Time has slipped up on us again and a wonderful year at High Point College is drawing to a close. Soon everyone will be heading for home, or heading for the beaches, so before we leave, let's look back at a few of the pages of your Hi-Po for the year of 1949-50. And then we can't forget.

In September, 1949, High Point College was busy welcoming back her old students, and meeting her new ones. Most everyone on the campus was buzzing about someone. All of the boys had seen a girl who was "plum cute," or goodlooking, or attractive, or what have you, and all of the girls had found some male who was just "dream material." It wasn't long before the phone at Woman's Hall was about to ring off, and boys were standing in line at McColloch Hall just waiting for a chance to call "her."

The bookstore was quite a popular hangout, and Jim Fisher was seen often with Jean Ray. Rhyme Allen was getting a big rush from Bill Collett, and "He's big, he's blond, he's Taylor Greene," was heard about as often as "whooping it up." Clayton Snyder was dating Dot Hunsucker rather often, and all of the boys were wondering how he did it. "Footsie" Owens dated Betty Davis from Charlotte a few times before she decided to leave High Point to go back home. As time went on Betty Belcher and Buddy Welch were seen together most of the time and Joanne Grimes became known as Henry Maddux's girl.

And then came the home-coming beauty contest and the big dance. Everyone will remember that the Ray twins were home-coming queens and that they also decided to give up all of the other boys for Gary Henry and Forest Brown. Of course Catawba beat High Point in the big football game, but with all the other happy thoughts of the week-end it was fine anyway.

Pretty soon Loyd Pardue started dating Elva Mae Thomas and Emily Badgett dated Chick Gleasner. Barbara Cooke was dating Roddy Yeats and Bob Hughes, and Pat Sides was dating the Marley twin. Everyone was dating, dating, dating. How could we forget. Football games, dances, and frat parties, supplied most of the fun for both the boys and the girls. Initiation came in right along in here to supply the "kicks" for a while.

Everyone was having so much fun at High Point that the Christmas holidays were upon us before we knew it, and Buddy Welch went to Wilmington, Hugh Gordon went to Wilmington, and Bob Gleasner went to Wilmington to see Betty, Sarah, and Lib, respectively.

The ITK Frat had their Christmas banquet at the Plantation Supper Club and all of the other frats had banquets and parties.

After Christmas, if you will remember, Bill Woods, Bill Collett, "Booger" Heath, Gary Harding and Gene Dull took over for the cheerleaders and led High Point in yells throughout a basketball game to get into the EPO frat. The basketball season was very successful for the Panthers, being led most of the time by Ace, Snake, Goose, Hairs and Big Eddie. Of course, all of the boys on the basketball team did a great job and the students were proud of "our team."

Somewhere along in here exams managed to slip in and give everyone a big headache, but they were soon forgotten and everyone promised not to be caught napping the next time. Reckon???? Oh, well, I speak for myself.

When thinking of this year, everyone will always remember Lynewood Grissom's Packard, Jim Fisher's jitterbugging, and Lonnie Bledsoe's singing and playing of the hillbilly songs that he has made so popular on the campus. They will also remember seeing Lonnie give up trips to W. C. for Joan Cooke. Oh, there are just so many things to remember. For instance, it isn't likely that Bob Heath, Doris Autry, Betty Edwards, Greentop, Carlotta Autry and Powell Jones will forget their ride in that big fine convertible during the Cinderella contest, nor will we forget the plays given by the students, the bookstore, the chapel programs, the Sunday night vespers, the dining hall with Chief (nor eating potatoes!) We just couldn't crowd everything into this little space, but you all have your own memories and no doubt they are all just wonderful ones. Even worrying about a big test when you hadn't cracked a book sounds funny now, doesn't it?

And so the pages of your Hi-Po and your "Wha' Hoppened" column close for this year. Maybe you griped when your name appeared on the "scandal sheet" but in years to come you will probably say those were the happiest days of my life. May each and everyone have a great big fine Summer full of sun and fun, and try to make next year at High Point College even better than the years gone by. It's been fun writing for you this year. Hope everyone survived even if they did make the "Wha' Hoppened." And with "Bye Shug" the pages of the Hi-Po close with just one thought—"It's been fun."

Employer: "For this job we want a responsible man."

Applicant: "I'm the guy you're looking for. Everywhere I've worked, when something went wrong, they told me I was responsible."

She (suggestively): "That roast duck in the window makes my mouth water."

He: "Then spit."

"What kind of a guy is your roommate?"

"Well, last night he stubbed his toe on a chair and said: 'Oh the perversity of inanimate objects.'"

The Voice of Thunder
E. Clifford Shoaf

How serenely the dusky cloud puffs fly,
Floating so black across the fading sky.
Like the darkness of the night they grew,
Until o'er all the earth their shadows flow.
O, Thou in Heaven, hast Thou hid Thy face
From this Thy earth, with all its evil race?
From thence does not man his power receive?
So in this wicked hour would'st Thou deceive
Mankind in his creator—to believe
That Heaven from the earth Thou shall bereave?
But wait, for now the gallant wind has dared
To search the brazen sky for One who cared.
When suddenly there flashed across this sky

A jagged light directed from on high.
Then rattling thunder shook the mighty deep.
From its resounding tones the earth did reap—
Such a warning to man God never spake,
As now the heavens moan —
Awake! Awake!

"Well, my boy, said the minister to the three-year-old, "what did you get for your birthday?"
"Aw, I got a little red chair," said the kid, "but it's no good. It has a hole in the bottom."

Father: "When Abe Lincoln was your age, he was making his own living."
Boy: "Yes, and when he was your age, he was President."

"Windy Thoughts"
By Charles Gardner

I sit and pine by the roaring fire in the old-iron stove
And the night winds sing a melancholy song of forgotten men,
Men who perhaps are winding their ways over lonely trails,
Trails leading to nowhere from nowhere and for no reason;
For these men I have built a haven in the recesses of my mind;
Although I am not of their brotherhood I am their kind,
For I too am a lost soul without the fire of human kindness.

Yet listen again friend and hear what the wind will tell you.
Do you not hear the scream of a man in mortal agony rising as if it was gaining strength and volume from your lips?
Does it not give forth great ghastly sobs from its soul,
Sobs that reach deep into you and bring forth compassion?

You think you have troubles but life is a rosy dream.
That you must enjoy for it lasts for but a short time.

Think not my friend of things you have lost in the past
But of that which you will gain from living the future.
Time is something we have not learned to know and control
And so we must grasp each moment only for a moment
Letting those who come behind get the moments we miss.
Live to the best of your ability and do not regret
For this is so much in life you have not met.

A girl was talking to her grandfather: "Grandfather, how old does a girl have to be to get married?"
Grandfather: "She must be old enough, yet young enough; big enough, yet little enough; wise enough, yet dumb enough; weak enough, yet strong enough, to chase a man until he catches her."

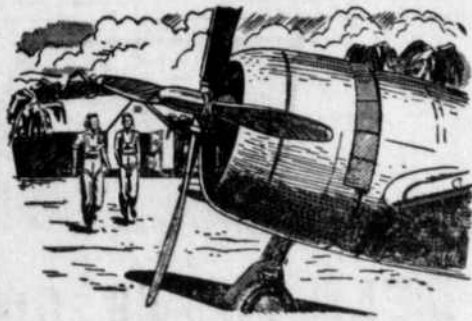

Major Nathan Adams, Auburn '40
Personnel Manager, U.S. Air Force

Following a three month course, Lt. Adams decided the Air Force was the place for him. He applied for pilot training, was accepted, proceeded to Maxwell Field.

He won his wings and reported to the 36th Fighter Group in Puerto Rico. The group soon returned to the States, giving Adams a chance to marry his college sweetheart.

Within months Adams was overseas, flying "rhubarbs" (missions against enemy transport). He flew 63 P-47 missions within seven months, returned to the States late in 1944 for rest and recuperation.

V-J Day came, and Adams decided to make the service a career. He chose personnel work as his career field, was assigned for training to the Adjutant General's School at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Now a regular Air Force Major, he heads a 32-man section at Bolling Air Force Base. He advises his Commanding Officer on selection, assignment and promotion of all officers and airmen in the command.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. Information On Zenith

Miss Lois Krienbaum, editor of the Zenith, announced that the yearbook is due some time next week. However, if a student has his exams early and is not here when the yearbooks arrive, if he desires to have a copy mailed to him he should leave his name and 20 cents with Miss Krienbaum and the book will be mailed to his home. Plans as to theme and cover have not been released.

Two Courses in Science Offered This Summer

The chemistry department of High Point College will offer during the 12-weeks Summer school, which begins June 1, two classes in science.

One of these will be a six-weeks elementary survey course in general physics, intended for the general layman. The course deals with the application of the laws of physics to the everyday things about us, with an attempt to explain why inanimate objects behave as they do, and with some stress given to the application of physics to the objects found in the home.

The course is non-mathematical and has no laboratory. As no previous knowledge of any science is required, the course is open to anyone desiring some general information of physics. The course will count in college credit as an elective only.

The other course will be general chemistry of college level. Sufficient class meetings and laboratory periods will be met to equal the meetings of the course during a college year. By very intensive study and concentration, it is possible for a college student to complete the science requirement for a degree in the 12 weeks Summer session. The course carries four credit hours each six weeks period. High school graduates who intend to enter college may begin their chemistry work during the Summer, and thus will lighten their work during the Fall college term, or will shorten their time for graduation.

J. H. Mourane, professor of chemistry at High Point College, will teach the courses.

North Main
Come in and Rest
Your Weary Minds

With the Athletes

BY WAYNE SHELTON

On May 4th and 5th High Point College tennis courts, students, and campus had the distinct honor of welcoming the championship material of the North State Conference tennis realm. For two days we were privileged to see sun-tanned arms and faces against gleaming white tennis uniforms fervently chasing their opponents' drives and shots to make accurate returns. For High Point College, JAKE STEELE and "CHIC" GLAESNER made application in the singles division of the tourney, and HENRY and NEIL MAD-DUX entered the doubles division. "CHIC", after a very fine performance lost in his match. Nice going, anyway, "CHIC", we are proud of you. JAKE STEELE made his way fighting hard into the finals against Winstead of Elon. It was a hard-fought match in the first set between JAKE and Winstead, for at the close of the first set, the games read 16-14 in Winstead's favor. It was then that Winstead came back in the second set with the final score of 6-2 over JAKE. Great going out there, Jake, in taking the second place for Conference singles. By defeating JAKE, the Conference championship in singles went to Winstead of Elon. Winstead succeeds our own Henry Maddux as Conference champion.

Again, I would like to extend to the tennis team of this past season congratulations and appreciation for their brilliant record of not this year, but the years in which they have represented H. P. C. You fellows, "Scoop," Jake, Neil, Fay, "Chic" and, yes, Harry, too, can count on fellows next year who will be trying to meet your records in years to come. Thanks a million!

Elon College brought their netmen here for the final match of the season which was previously rained out. At the end of the match the Panther netmen had gone down to the count of 6-3, with Jake, Fay, and Harry taking singles to account for the three wins. Winstead dropped Henry Maddux in this match to mar Harry's splendid record of consecutive wins this year.

Let's go out onto the greens and fairways of the golf course for a bit now. Here we saw JOHN KUPICE slam out a second place in the North State Golf Tournament against a field representative of the respective Conference foes. Very nice going, John!

At Guilford College on May 5th, the North State Conference Track Meet was held, in which High Point, Lenoir-Rhyne, Guilford, Elon, and Camp Lejeune was represented. Guilford topped the entire field with 58 points against a close second of Elon with 56. HILIARD YARBOROUGH of High Point placed second in the javelin throw and in the high jump. Elon took first place in the high jump with the height at 5 feet, 11 inches. JACK KLEIN took third place in the 100-yard dash with a timing of near 10.3 seconds. That was some fast and high stepping, believe you me! Tall, dark and handsome DUNCAN REDDITT took second place in the shot-put event, throwing the 12-pound put some 38 feet. Duncan was compelled to leave the event in order to get back for the May Day practice at 4:00 p.m., and this prevented his chance of taking the 880-yard event. He did a fine job in the May Day festival along with his mate, Nancy Green. WAYNE SHELTON placed fourth in the 220-yard low hurdles. BILL WAIZ placed sixth in the mile run, and DAN "BOOGIE" HEATH participated in the broad jump and time trials for the 100-yard dash. CHARLIE JONES ran in the 220-yard dash, and HERMAN DEATON participated in the 440-yard. I hope that next year High Point College will have a track team that can enter this event and come away with more than 11 points as we did this year. Our team had very little practice before entering the field against teams that had been at work on their respective events, and for this reason our team that went to this track meet and placed second and third among such competition deserves a word of honor and an expression of congratulations.

The Panther baseball team journeyed to the wilds of Western Carolina's Teachers College to be on the receiving end of two games, 3-1 and 8-3. The Catamounts overpowered the Panthers in these two contests played in the shadows of the towering hillsides there at Cullowhee.

All sports schedules have, as of now, been completed, and I'm sure the athletes who have represented High Point College in the seasons now behind, can now spend hours of relaxation from their duties in conversation or just in meditation on their particularly favorite game that was important and thrilling, especially to them if they happen to be the player who drove over for that vital first down or tackled that would-be scorer; or if he was the player who scored the winning basket that determined the game; or if he pitched extra hard with his arm aching in that last half of the ninth, or chased that long drive out into centerfield to make a spectacular snare; or if he continued serving the ball hard and cross-courting to win that second or that third set which would determine the winner. Yes, you fellows have earned the right to think on and be proud of the swell performances that you have turned in for your college this year. Wear that medal you earned; wear that sweater you earned, with pride; hang that track ribbon you earned up in your dorm room or at home, if you are a senior, and remember that special experience that you gained playing for the High Point College Purple Panthers, at home or away. Then, too, you athletes who now have the remaining two or three weeks, get more time in on your books and make an effort to bring those marks higher in the final exams just ahead. I know the time it requires to be an athlete in any sport. One has to conserve and use his time very carefully in order to keep the marks high and play the games, too. There is time for both, if you apply yourselves as you should. Well, I just wanted to throw out those few lines for what they may be worth. We will be watching all you sportsmen next year during the different seasons as you give your best to defeat the foes you will be against in the Conference. See you then.

COACH TEX SMITH

Coach Tex Smith

By G. S. T.

Since Coach Tex Smith has arrived on the campus the power bill has gone up a little around the office of the Athletic Association. The 100 watts can be seen burning late into the night and sometimes early in the morning. It has been rumored that the roosters are going to go on a strike if this human dynamo doesn't stop getting up so soon. Your reporter had to interview him practically in the prop wash of an airplane. The skies were a little murky but as soon as they cleared he was going to be off in the wild blue yonder for some little town nestled on the plains of Indiana where some big giant around six foot-eight is running loose. This coach does not confine himself just to Indiana on this trip. There is also a little spot on the map up in the corner of Illinois where a few huskies hang out and swim in Lake Michigan and fondly call Chicago their home. On the way back he could probably find some airports and cowhide around Ohio, West Virginia and Virginia. If this man isn't careful he will have that Big Ten bunch hollering about those big Southern schools coming up and paying more for their local yokels than they can afford to pay. This is just to give you a small indication that we do have a coach who is working to build up the athletic program. As if this wasn't enough for one man, Coach Smith is also sending out letters to all the alumni to enlist their support. In addition over 50 letters go out every week to all parts of the U. S., even across the Mississippi to prospective players. The response has been excellent and now the coach has the problem of screening the players in order to get the best.

Pardon your reporter for saying that this is a one-man job, because it will be found that a woman is also involved in this murderous schedule. Anyone who desires can check by the office now and they will most probably find a beautiful Texas woman pounding away on the typewriter. Further investigation will show that her name is Mrs. "Tex" Smith and she is a good wife as well as an excellent secretary.

In thinking of the future teams Coach Smith has not forgotten the Alumni and future coaches from High Point College. On his office wall will be found a huge map of the United States and on this map will be found 41 pins which represent the places where alumni coaches are at. He keeps in touch with them and as calls come through for a coach he gets in touch with the coach that will fit the job and thereby tries to keep them going up the ladder to success.

Coach Smith had the following to say in regard to the athletic situation: "The Spring training was good, the boys worked on the fundamentals and at this time there is only one team that knows the fundamentals well enough to play well in his system. We are weak in depth but the boys are full of spirit and have that will to win. To win we must get better. No miracles can be expected this year as it will take a few years to build up the program. The team will get better from game to game and we can't expect them to set the league on fire this year. However, they will be in there fighting. The basketball team will play a tougher schedule. We are going to try and schedule some name teams. There will be no more playing of professional teams; High Point will stick to college teams only."

This should be enough to show that our coach is in there pitching for us and it will be our duty as students to play ball with him by supporting the team all the way. See you next Fall with a loud voice at the opener.

"Two for a Nickel"

Jerry Byars raised more hogs than any man in our section and naturally had the equipment for butchering and marketing. As a special accommodation to his neighbors, he agreed to scald their hogs at the rate of ten cents each. Our preacher had carefully nurtured his one animal until it was ready for final ceremonies. Then Jerry rendered his customary service.

"Here is your dime, Jerry," said the preacher, "and it's kind of you besides. I know it's worth more."

"Oh, no, Brother Simms," spoke up Jerry quickly. "I won't take your money—I'll tell you," he added as he saw Mr. Simms was going to insist, "I'll come out to hear one of your sermons right soon. That'll pay me."

"I don't preach ten-cent sermons," Mr. Simms replied, pretending to be offended.

"Then I'll have to come twice," said Jerry.

Intramurals

The softball tourney has been in full sway on the practice field each night after dinner, or from 5 in the evening to 7 o'clock. There were ten teams entered at the onset and now on the winner's side there remain four teams to battle it out for the championship. The teams now in the quarter-finals are NDM and Penny Hall, EHO and W. S. Travelers. These teams should reach the finals the last of this week. In this double elimination tourney there remains ITK, EPO and DAE on the losers' side of the bracket.

The attendance to these games has been excellent. The spirit resembles that of a crowd who follows the leagues of your hometown club. For instance, the night that the Parsons played ITK, in the sixth inning leading by eight or nine runs, the ITK fraternity allowed the Parsons to score and hit freely. Their manner of doing this was quite a show and proved to be exciting for those who were there to watch the game. There was Clayton Snyder and Lynwood Grissom on the mound with their spectacular pitching that proved interesting to the observers. If you happen to be among those who did not go to the games, and if you should be around the gym or tennis courts, you can hear the shouts and cheering clearly from your position at the tennis courts.

In the horseshoe tourney there were more than 20 entries in the singles division and eight in the doubles. The field is open to everyone who enters now, and each evening that the weather permits the fellows will be over there tossing for that championship. Herman Deaton and Jesse Joyce, and Big Ed Sueta looked good in their wins recently and may be the final winners. Here's luck to the entire field of contestants.

It looks like now that intramurals are about over here on the campus for the year at the termination of the horseshoe and tennis tournament. Remember, though, that next year we will still have the same intramural sports, so let's all be out to make the program next year even more successful on the campus of High Point College.

A French undersecretary was invited to the silver wedding anniversary of a distinguished British bishop. "Silver wedding?" he asked the bishop's nephew. "It's a ceremony which I do not understand."

"Well," said the nephew, "you see, my uncle and aunt have lived together for twenty-five long years without even being separated a single day."

"Ah," said the Frenchman. "And now he marry her? Magnifique."

Europe. There is a great deal of confusion in the world and many prophets have sprung up to foretell the doom of the world. But then he showed that eight hundred years before the time of Christ the same doom prophets were operating and yet civilization continues to move onward. Civilization has never died. The Hebrew were the greatest doom prophets and on the surface their prophecies did come true. All material evidence of their civilization has vanished but their culture still lives on.

The world is slowly moving toward a goal of one government for one world. The national barriers have been removed and the next step is to remove the international ones to trade, science, and learning. Our goal has been set toward one world and we aren't going to stop till that is achieved.

Humanity has always been pressing toward one civilization. Humanity is very tough. At least once in every generation of recorded history the world has selected its most physically able and sacrificed them on the altar of war. The price of liberty is not only eternal vigilance but also involves the shedding of blood. There is evidence to prove that the present generation is the strongest generation that has ever lived. In spite of these tremendous costs humanity keeps moving on. Following World War I there were twenty million less men, women and children in Europe and two million less in Britain, but yet this very section came back in 20 years with a war twice as destructive. Everyone fears the atom bomb but its only use is not for destruction, for many strides are being made in the fields of medicine and science with this new power. It is the means where there is a greater opportunity to make progress in human relations. The pessimist fails to see all the advancements that can be made even to old things in use such as the telephone. When men talk about the destruction of the world they fail to consider the words from the first book: "And God said, let there be light and there was light."

The graduate of today must elevate his ideals and see that there is great hope for the extension of civilization and culture.

Intramural Tennis Championship Under Way

Approximately 32 applicants have filed for the intramural tennis championship which is now under way to seek out possible players for the tennis team next year. There will be no doubles played off in this because it will be impossible to make combinations from those who qualify in the singles matches. There will be trophies given to the 1st and 2nd place winners. The reward being so attractive has aroused great interest in this event, and the players who have entered the contest are seen at all hours of the day on the courts at practice for their match which may be the next day or that afternoon. Strong contestants will be hard to name, but possibles are John Hall, Owen Fitzgerald, Oliver Hauser, Ray Shore, Bob Powell, and Don Embler. Alec Pappas and excellent prospects for the team next year.

The first two rounds of the play-off have been completed which leaves a total of 15 matches remaining to be played. By the time of publication of this issue, the winners will be known, so watch the next issue to learn of the winners. Here is luck to all yet remaining in the play-off.

The teacher was classifying a new pupil: "Who gave us this beautiful school?" she asked.

"Governor Scott," he replied.

"Who gave us our wonderful rural roads?"

"Governor Scott."

"And who makes the trees grow and the flowers bloom?"

"God," answered the pupil.

At this point an angry voice from the rear cried, "Throw the d--- Republican out."

Now I lay me down to sleep. The prof is dry, the lecture's deep. If he should quit before I wake, Someone kick me, for goodness sake.

Dr. Richard C. Todd

By G. S. T.

This is the story of a Yankee who has been converted to a Rebel. A man who loves the students, and a man who the students love. It took President Roosevelt thirteen years to leave his enduring mark on the nation but it has only taken this man one semester to leave his enduring mark on the students of High Point College.

Born and raised in Lancaster, Pennsylvania he migrated South in 1938 and every since then he has been one of us. From the mountain foothills of Pennsylvania he brought to this section the heritage of a people who have made it a practice to love their fellowmen and to follow the teachings of the great King. North Carolina's gain is a definite loss for Pennsylvania.

This man always has an attentive ear to hear any problem from any student and tries to help the student reach a solution to that problem. Many cartoons have been drawn of the professor putting his pupils to sleep in class but this cartoon would not fit the students of his classes. The students are ever attentive in order not to miss any word that this great doctor might say. No books are in his way as he takes the rostrum to lecture to his pupils. With thundering voice and directional movements of the hands he puts his ideas across like an old Methodist circuit rider on the stump lecturing to a group of backwoodsmen.

In an exclusive interview with his wife, she stated: "He is the greatest man I have ever known, and living with him is a perpetual joy."

He will be with us for the first six weeks of Summer school and then many sad hearts will bid him good-bye as he winds his way slowly down to Eastern Carolina at Greenville.

In an interview he stated that he "had fallen in love with High Point, the students, faculty, and other people whom he had met." But we believe that he will fall in love with the people down there and the people will fall in love with him just as it happened here. This statement reminds me of the old story of the stranger who moved to a strange town and asked an old Quaker resident what kind of people lived in the town. The old Quaker then asked the man what kind of people did he find in the last town that he lived in and the man replied, "good, kind, peace-loving people." To which the Quaker replied, "you will find the same type of people here."

It's the old adage that whatever you are will rub off of you wherever you go. A man such as this who carries love in his heart will find love wherever he goes.

There is no use to mention his name as everyone knows who it is by now, but on his birth certificate will be found the name Richard C. Todd.

He attended the public schools at Lancaster and then entered Middersville State Teachers College at Lancaster where he received his A.B. degree. After this, Dr. Todd began teaching school in Lancaster and in the Summers he attended the Universal School of Language and Franklin and Marshall College at Lancaster. He took his masters at Penn State. In the Summer of 1938 Dr. Todd paid his first visit to the South when he came to Duke to begin working on his Doctor's degree. The pull of the South was so strong that he returned to Duke in the early forties and received a fellowship in history which gave him an opportunity to complete his doctors degree. In 1945 the title of doctor was added to his name. For his thesis he wrote: "History of Confederate Finance." This work is so good that it is now being considered for a $1,000 prize by the Daughters of the Confederacy. The thesis has been made into a book and will come off the press some time in the latter part of this year.

A friend noticed Adrian riding along the street on a woman's bicycle.

"How came you by that?" he asked.

"Well, it was like this," said Adrian: "I was out walking with Louise the other evening and when we came to the darkest part of the campus she said: 'I love you, Adrian; I love you so much I'll give you anything you want.' So, when I had thought it over a bit, I took her bicycle."

"I want an explanation and I want the truth," stated the wife irately. "Well, make up your mind," he snapped. "You can't have both!"

Professor H. E. Coble

By G. S. T.

Professor Herman E. Coble, a member of the first graduating class of High Point College in 1927, has charge of seeing that the students have a place to loaf around and sees that they receive the necessary textbooks by the beginning of each semester.

Professor Coble has been a member of the faculty since 1945 when he came here as Associate Professor of Education.

In 1924 when the first students of High Point College reported to register one of the first in line was Herman E. Coble. In 1927 when the first graduating class went forward to receive their degrees Herman E. Coble was the first one to step upon the stage to receive his A.B. and, therefore, led the way that around 2,000 students have followed since that memorable date. In 1928 Miss Amelia Wagoner stepped upon the stage to receive her degree and a little later became Mrs. Coble. In the graduating class of 1950, Herman Coble, Jr., will receive his degree. This is the first time in the history of the school that a student of two alumni has graduated from the college. Although in one other case three members of the same family have graduated from the school. But the mother took her degree at the same time that the degree of her son was conferred.

After graduating from here, Mr. Coble went to the Leaksville-Spray-Draper schools. In a few years he went to Carolina and got his M.A. degree. Then he returned to Spray and assumed the principalship of the school where he remained till 1945 at which time his alma mater beckoned to him.

Professor Coble can always be seen around the bookstore trying to beat the salesmen off or trying to get an article that the students would enjoy having. He is always willing to try and help a student obtain a book or an article that they need.

Voice: "Is this Dr. Wasserman?"

Doctor: "Yes, it is."

Voice: "Are you POSITIVE?"

Will Rogers, on conversation: I always like to hear a man talk about himself because then I never hear anything but good.

Professor N. P. Yarborough

By G. S. T.

A man of many duties and diverse talents is the first impression that anyone receives when they meet Professor N. Y. Yarborough.

This big man can be seen rushing through the halls to classes or in his office pouring over applications from prospective students. At the football and basketball games this huge man can be seen sitting quietly in his seat while two little twin girls of 13 are whooping it up for the team.

Our story begins at Wofford College in Spartanburg, S. C., where as a young man he received his A.B. degree. In fact, to observe the amount of work that this professor does and the spirit in which he enters into the various college activities, one would still think that he was a student. After leaving Wofford, N. P., as he was referred to in those days, journeyed on down to Columbia where the University of South Carolina is located, and did a little work to get his M.A. degree. Then in 1925, Mr. Yarborough reported for duty here at High Point and he has become so attached to the town and the school that nothing short of an earthquake could induce him to leave.

During the time that he has been here, Mr. Yarborough has attended three sessions of Summer school at the University of North Carolina. In addition, he has spent one Summer at the University of Paris studying French. Professor Yarborough stated that he had enjoyed every year of his 25 years at High Point College and although he was a native of South Carolina, he felt more like a Tarheel.

In addition to his job as registrar, Mr. Yarborough also teaches German and French. His courses are popular and he has to contend with no more than the usual amount of cuts. His biggest problem is to get the students to start their translation more than ten minutes before coming to class. He always enters his classes with a cherry hello and strange as it sounds, he always leaves with the same smile and cheerful disposition.

If things become a little dull during a stiff translation, he usually will pep the class up with a little joke, such as "Wer war die Dame mit der Dich garsten Abend gesechen habe? Dar war keine Dame, das war meine Frau."

Christopher Morley invented this slogan for an antique dealer to put in his shopwindow: "If you don't know what you want, we have it!"

date more girls. In the administration building additional administrative offices will be added. A corner of the cafeteria has been walled off in order to make a private dining room for small groups. The third floors of both buildings will be completed by September 1, and these halls then will accommodate 68 additional students.
