

Civilian Defense Among New Courses To Be Offered Second Semester

England and America further cemented relations with the recent marriage of Miss Pamela Edna Cox and Mr. Walter Stocker, Jr. The couple is shown leaving St. Mary's Episcopal Church following their marriage Saturday, Jan. 6. Miss Cox is a native of England and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cox of South Rhodesia, Africa. Mr. Stocker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stocker of Miami, Fla., and is an instructor in Business Administration at H. P. C.

"Civilian Defense Against Atomic Blasts," a new course in civilian defense, will be offered in the second semester by Professor J. H. Mourane.

"This course," stated Professor Mourane, "is offered in order that the civilians may know what to do to survive an atomic bomb attack."

The course is open to all students, men and women, and it requires no previous knowledge of any science. It is a layman's course and will be taught from the viewpoint of instructing as many people as possible concerning the dangers of atomic blasts, and what the average person can do in civilian defense to counteract the effects of the A-bomb.

The course will begin with the structure of the atom, and then will proceed to the subjects of radioactive atomic disintegration; the atomic bomb; the characteristics of the atomic blast; the dangers of atomic radiation; the possibilities of survival; decontamination of atomic radiation; the cardinal points for what to do in case of an atomic explosion.

The course is listed as physics 8. It will meet three times per week, and will carry three hours credit as an elective.

"Anyone interested may take this course provided he registers with the college," stated Professor Mourane.

Botany, Biology 15, will also be given as an additional course in the Science Department in the second semester. This course will be taught by Mr. Nicholas Antonakas, a graduate of the University of North Carolina. It will deal chiefly with the reproduction of the lower fungi, algae, mosses, and ferns. Great stress will also be placed on the classification and seed development of the evergreens and other seed plants.

This course is required for those who plan to major in Biology.

Band-Choir Concert Brings Unanimous Approval From Students and Surrounding Area

The Band-Choir concert presented under the direction of Mr. William W. Collins and Dr. Joseph Wilson prior to the Christmas holidays has brought notice and approval to the Music Department and to H. P. C.

Tuesday afternoon, January 9, the band was featured on the first of a series of programs to be given each week from 2:30 to 2:45 over Radio Station WHPE. These programs are under the direction of Miss Emma Frances Baber and will attempt to better acquaint High Point and the surrounding area with H. P. C. and its aims in educational and cultural development.

Pictured is the band led by Clarence Maxwell, Drum Major, and the five majorettes elected by the student body to represent H. P. C. on the football field and in parades. Dr. Wilson is shown at the left. The band has been greatly enlarged this year through the efforts of Dr. P. E. Lindley. Dr. Wilson has done an admirable job as evidenced by the enthusiasm and appreciation displayed at the appearance of the band at student assembly and basketball games.

The choir (picture next issue) has also brought honor to the Music Department this year. The concert featured soloists who are receiving excellent training under Mr. Wilson.

News Bureau Offers Valuable Service

In referring to the work of the News Bureau of H. P. C., Miss Baber, head of the department states, "I wish to express my appreciation for the cooperation of the students and faculty in bringing news items and I urge them to continue to do so." Miss Baber requests that students knock on her door when they find it closed, and in the event that they receive no response to slip news items under the door.

The News Bureau has many services available to students, including pictures of various activities on the campus and of campus surroundings. It offers service for individual photographs, information concerning college students and faculty, and opportunities for valuable publicity which will be of help to students in obtaining desirable positions.

In asking for the continued cooperation of students, Miss Baber says, "Let's put our best foot forward and tell the world the good work H. P. C. is doing!"

Enlistments Number over 40 H. P. C. Men

Over forty men have enlisted in the armed forces and have gone for training from H. P. C. Of this number the Air Corps received the majority of enlistments, but recent regulations have temporarily frozen Air Corps recruiting.

It was announced this week, following a meeting of the Executive Committee, that those men called prior to the end of the semester may see Dr. Hinshaw and make arrangements to take their exams early in order not to lose credit for the semester's work. All departments and instructors are cooperating to see that the men who must leave receive every opportunity to conclude their work as soon as possible.

The policy concerning future calls to active duty has not yet been announced, but it is expected that some plans will be formulated that will benefit the student who has completed the major portion of a semester and is called prior to its completion.

Purpose "Scholastic"

"To stimulate the love of learning; to insist upon thorough useful knowledge; to develop resourcefulness and intellectual integrity; and to cultivate the ability and the disposition for creative thinking in the American tradition of individual freedom."

So is set forth the scholastic purpose of High Point College, and the words are packed with meaning. The important thing is to be sure we understand the challenge and are moving forward with all our might to meet it.

To give one's best efforts to scholastic achievement is a mark of loyalty to one's college; to be dilatory and indifferent about such things is a form of selfishness. Especially is this true at High Point College where a reputation for "the love of learning" has yet to be established. Wisdom and the true love of wisdom increase with age, and we are a young institution; yet we cannot delay putting all emphasis possible upon such things as "intellectual integrity," "resourcefulness," and "the disposition for creative thinking." Without doubt, many of us will attain a certain amount of "useful knowledge," presented to us, we often think, with impressive "thoroughness," but the type of scholarship we are pledged to uphold goes far beyond the merely practical.

Above all, our thinking is privileged to be "in the American tradition of individual freedom." We must rely upon ourselves. No real scholar accepts without question all that is told him or all that he reads. Without skepticism, he must often investigate, weigh and consider, and reach his own conclusions. And then the "American tradition" invites freedom of speech, so it be short of slander or obvious falsehood.

Browsing Through The Bookshelves

"CAMPUS CUES"

Would you like to start the New Year "in the know?" Then be the first in line at the Library for the new book, "Campus Cues," by Irene Pierson. From her ten years of close association with college students as Social Director of the Illini Union at the University of Illinois, Mrs. Pierson has gained a wide understanding of campus social problems. She has collected over five hundred typical questions which have been repeatedly asked by students in informal meetings called Social Forums. Presented in entertaining and readable form, with humorous illustrations by Robert Voegelé, this book recalls the original French meaning of "etiquette: a paper ticket required for entrance to court ceremonies. Today etiquette is the ticket to successful social contacts, all phases of which are discussed in "Campus Cues," from blind dates to engagements and weddings. Young men readers should not let the mention of weddings cause them to ban the book. In broaching the subject of engagement, Irene Pierson still gives them the complete initiative.

"CHIMP ON MY SHOULDER"

When Bill Wesley volunteered to go to Africa to capture animals for the Leila Roosevelt Anthropoid Ape Research Foundation, he felt that by capturing animals which were vital in polio research he would be making a valuable contribution in the six-months of life that had been allotted to him because of the condition of his heart.

The reader of Bill Wesley's "Chimp on My Shoulder" is likely to consider a chase into the Congo River by enraged baboons, a tryst in a dark cellar with a full grown wild leopard, and an unwitting acquirement of three native wives as rather drastic treatment for heart disease. Bill Wesley declares that it cured his.

Whether your ticker is all that it should be or not; if you like a comfortable evening at home with an entertaining, fast moving book—full of adventure, humor and jungle savagery, "Chimp on My Shoulder" is for you. However, if you could not visit Africa without trying to reform the natives you will be disappointed. Bill Wesley loved them as they were.

On a windy day in downtown Chicago recently, I saw a woman holding her hat with both hands while her skirt blew higher and higher about her knees. In response to the frankly curious glances of two men lounging at a corner, she just as frankly commented without loosening the double grip on her hat:

"Gentlemen, what you are looking at is 40 years old. What I am hanging onto is brand-new!"—True.

Six Yanks were crouched in a Korean rice paddy when an enemy shell landed nearby, spraying them with mud and rice. "We're in a tight spot here!" growled one of the soldiers.

"Brother," said a young man who had twice been married and divorced, "you're always in a tight spot when they start showerin' you with rice!"

Absent-minded Judge to dentist: "Do you swear to pull the tooth, the whole tooth and nothing but the tooth?"

Jones: "I'll bet you think twice before leaving that wife of yours alone in the evenings."

Smith: "I'll say! First, I have to think up an excuse for going out, and then a reason why she can't go with me."

Our Poets Speak

GROWING UP

Our twelve-year-old is not the same.
There's been a change somehow.
She's put away her dolls and toys
And reads the fashions now.
She says, "Long hair is out of style.
I'll have mine cut a bit.
And then I think I'll take a course
In how to baby-sit.
She stands before the looking glass
And turns in each direction.
And then she says, "Now just what type
Would you call my complexion?"
Our twelve-year-old is growing up.
The signs are plain to see.
Today she said, "Oh Mom, I saw
A hat just made for me!"

"THE VILLAGE"

"Nor wars did men molest
When only beechen bowls were in request."
Immune to robbery because his hut
Was furnished by his poet's simple taste.
Devoid of luxuries, stern, rustic,
chaste,
Thoreau at Walden had no doors
to shut
Against the stranger. All came and went
While he was absent, made his home their inn.
And felt its austere charm. It
checked the sin
Of evil paid for good, thieves'
common bent.
They stole no thing, save for one precious book.
Pope's Homer in a binding rich
and rare
As though they felt discord to find wealth there.
It seems that even wars might be forsook
If nature's tempering so served
the State
And marked the spirit of peace
inviolable.

ELSIE, THE BORDEN COW, SAYS:

"IT AIN'T NECESSARILY SO"

By JEAN KERR

A New Year is just beginning, and New Year's resolutions have been made and broken by now. Everyone is eagerly awaiting exams, but even though some students can hardly wait to begin exams, a few people find time for other interests. Lay aside that book for a little while and read about what's happening in the "moon-light and roses" section of H. P. C.

So many of our boys are leaving for service with the armed forces that we could not mention them all, but to each boy leaving we'd like to say, "Best of luck to you. We who remain at H. P. C. will miss you every one."

Betty Edwards came back after the Christmas holidays wearing a beautiful frat pin from a certain boy at Carolina. Joyce Mills also received a sparkler from Bob Robertson. Peal Denton is wearing a Hargrave Military School ring. Frank Early and Doris Farrar also became engaged.

Lib Gilbert dated Johnny Efrid last week-end, and this couple has been seen frequently in the halls. Johnny is a Marine vet and a day student.

One of the newer twosomes on campus is Betty Belcher and Bruce Hamilton. Bruce is leaving soon for the Air Corps and will be missed by all.

"Snake-Eyes" Joyce really has a loyal fan. There's a little boy who attends every game and roots for "Snake" all through the game. And by the way, if you boys notice "Snake" wearing a new tie and belt just ask him where he got them. From another loyal fan, I bet!

Bob Davidson, better known as "Sparkle," wants someone to explain to him how a dead horse can be led back to a "Rebel" army camp. No doubt you saw the recent picture, "Rocky Mountain." If you did maybe you can be of help since this took place in said picture. Reckon this will make "The Beacon" satisfied, B. D.?

Majorie Brown dated Clarence Maxwell to the Catawba game and dated "Pancho" Sunday night. They were "night-clubbing" at Jeff's after the show.

Jimmy Fisher had a cute Salem gal at the game Saturday night. Jimmy is leaving for the Air Force soon also. Becky Hoover, Frances Howell, and Bonnie Leonard all seem mighty happy when they get mail. Sentimental interests, no doubt.

Buddy Connor must have made a New Year's resolution to spend more time with Carlotta. They're one of H. P. C.'s steadiest couples.

Although our basketball team was defeated over the holidays in Indiana, each boy and the coach deserves much credit. I think the team realizes that H.P.C. is behind them all the way.

Bob Hughes left H.P.C. for the Navy recently. Johnny Huffstetler is also leaving soon. It's too bad that the world situation is as it is, but anyway to all of you leaving we wish you the best of luck.

To start the New Year off right, it would be natural to do a little studying, and so that all of you can get back to your books (ahem) we'll end this column with the usual "Bye Shug"—and an added Happy New Year!

PANTHERS LOSE CONRAD WEST TO AIR FORCE

WHAT'S NEW IN SPORTS?

BY JIM HARDIE

During the Christmas holidays, I went to Terra Haute Ind. with the basketball squad for the Mid-Western Basketball Tournament.

We left Christmas morning and spent the day driving through the beautiful Great Smoky Mountains. The first leg of our journey took us to Lexington, Kentucky where we got a good night's sleep. The next morning we were up bright and early in preparation for the final stretch of our trip.

The morning was spent in easy progress past the vast farms in the blue grass section of Western Kentucky. Shortly before noon, we reached Louisville and crossed the Ohio River where Bill Waiz was waiting to join the team. Bill had been spending several days with his wife and baby just outside Louisville.

The second day ended with the three cars from North Carolina parked behind the Terre Haute House Hotel in the city where the tournament was taking place. During our first night we got a sample of cold nothern style. The temperature dropped to a cool eight below zero. Take it from me, High Point was never like that. At least not to my memory. I walked from the gym to the hotel, some two blocks, and I shook all night long.

Our team took a good workout shortly after we arrived Tuesday evening. We were fed a delicious supper and sent to bed.

Wednesday morning the team worked out at eleven o'clock in the gym where the game was to be played that night. Everyone worked hard that morning because everyone really wanted that game.

After the workout, we had lunch and went back to the hotel. The afternoon was spent just lying around. All the players were to stay off their feet, and they did.

Well, I won't go into the game part of the trip because anyone who was interested already knows the details of that.

We packed most of the equipment and our clothes that night after the game. The next morning we started the long trip home. We were slowed down while coming back by rain and snow. We pulled into High Point around seven o'clock Friday night. The speedometer showed that we had traveled a total of 1,428 miles. All in all it was an unforgettable experience in which we saw some of our great country and made many wonderful friends. That Friday night there were fifteen travel-weary bodies in High Point. But not for long because one tired body headed for old "Winnie" Salem. The North was nice but there's no place like home.

The Purple Panthers defeated the Guilford College Quakers 72-51, to make successful their debut in the '51 North State Conference title race.

A near capacity crowd saw High Point, led by Joyce and Waiz, jump to an early lead and remain ahead throughout the game.

The fast-breaking and hard-driving of the Panthers, kept the Quakers in the hole for the entire 40 minutes.

High Point's man-to-man defense put an anchor on the Guilford offense, nevertheless, Al Johns was high with 13 points for the losers.

Bob Draper, "Ace" Cartwright, and Bob Davidson worked well for the Panthers. Cartwright was handicapped by a foot injury sustained in the early minutes of the game.

"Snake-Eyes" paced the Panthers scoring with 21 points. "Goose" added 13 points to the High Point score. Two unsuccessful trips to Indiana accounted for four blemishes on the Panther win, loss record.

Special recognition is in store for Jesse Joyce and Bob "Bullet" Davidson after their stellar performances the other night against Eastern Carolina. Bob added three successive set shots in the closing minutes of the game to give High Point a one point lead. With less than a minute to go, E. C. T. C. took the lead 58-57. "Snake-Eyes" Joyce made a field goal in the closing seconds to give the Panthers the long end of a 59-58 score.

Threat of Draft Is Cause; His Loss Will Be Felt

Conrad West, who hails from Winston-Salem, left Thursday for his physical examination in preparation for entrance into the Air Force. West was examined in Charlotte and will be sent to San Antonio Texas for his basic training. West's announcement came as a surprise to the Panther cage squad and his absence will surely be felt by the team. West had figured high in the cage plans of Coach Smith. He played considerable ball this, his freshman year.

Last year at Hanes High in Winston-Salem, West scored 250 points in 25 games. His fine play earned him All-Conference and All-State honors his senior year. Conrad was a member of the 1950 Western square in the annual High School All-Star game.

West entered High Point College last September with a music career in mind. He was elected to the office of Freshman President by the first year students. His office will be taken by the Vice-President.

Committee Plans Redecoration of Girls Day Room

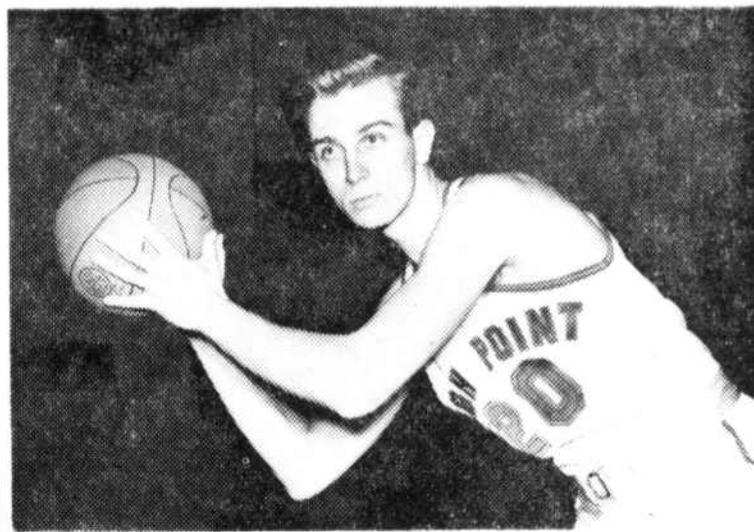

A committee, working under the direction of Dr. G. H. Hobart, is compiling lists of furniture and draperies needed to make the Day Student Room more comfortable and attractive.

The day student girls who use the room have been invited to make a list of those items which they think would add to their comfort and convenience and turn it in to a member of the committee. A color scheme is being worked out by the committee and suggestions will be compared, prices considered, and final arrangements made for the redecoration in the near future.

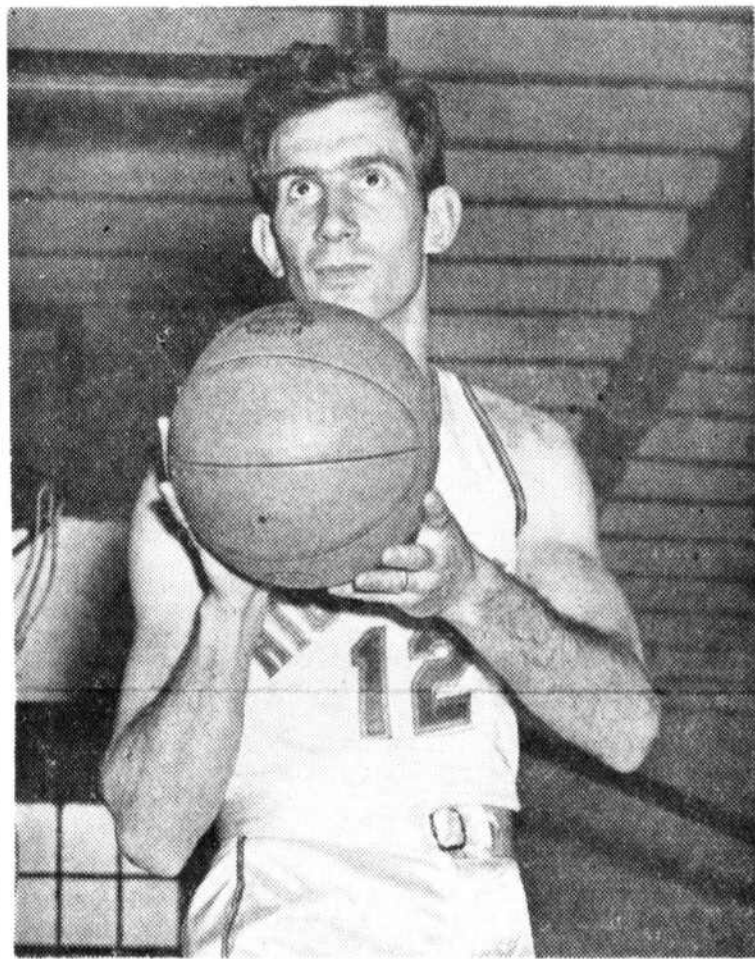

The committee is composed of Dr. G. H. Hobart, Miss E. Vera Idol, Jimmy Kent, Lucy Page, Mr. Dick Short, and Laura Mae DeHaven.

Air Force Bound—Conrad West joined the Air Force and will leave soon for San Antonio Texas for his basic training. Conrad was president of the Freshman Class and a promising basketball player on the Panther varsity.

You Can't Keep A Good "Goose" Down—Nevertheless Bill Waiz will have to play the part of a spectator till he recuperates from an injury suffered in the Eastern Carolina game Tuesday night.

The 59-58 victory over Eastern Carolina cost the Panthers the service of Bill "Goose" Waiz. Bill will be unable to take part in the next several games due to a painful injury sustained in the fast and furious game. The loss of "Goose" will throw a heavy burden on the last three of the original "Big Five," because Waiz's shoes will be hard to fill from the ranks of our reserves.

Bill was All-North State Conference 48-49 season. He was a Co-Captain last year on the Panther squad. In spite of his missing three games due to injuries, Waiz racked up a total of 375 points for the Panthers. This is the fourth and final year for Bill on the varsity squad. He is a veteran, married, and has one daughter.

News From The Alumni

by LIB GILBERT

Bill Marley ('50), Bob White ('49), and Lloyd Pardue ('50), attended one of our basketball games recently. Bill is working in Rockingham at the office of the Carolina Light and Power Co. Bob is an insurance salesman for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and he too is in Rockingham. Lloyd is teaching school at his home in Yadkinville.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Maddux are located in Raleigh, North Carolina. Neil graduated in 1950. He is working as Assistant Paymaster at the Seaboard Railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Gilbert live in Greensboro and Fay is working as Assistant Athletic Director of the Cone Mills. He graduated in 1950.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lucas are also living in Greensboro and Phil is working for the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company. His wife is attending Woman's College.

Bob Marley ('50) is in Lemon Springs, N. C. teaching school.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ashmore ('48) are now living in Charlotte, N. C.

Clay (Corky) McBride is working as a radio announcer at WCEC in Rocky Mount, N. C.

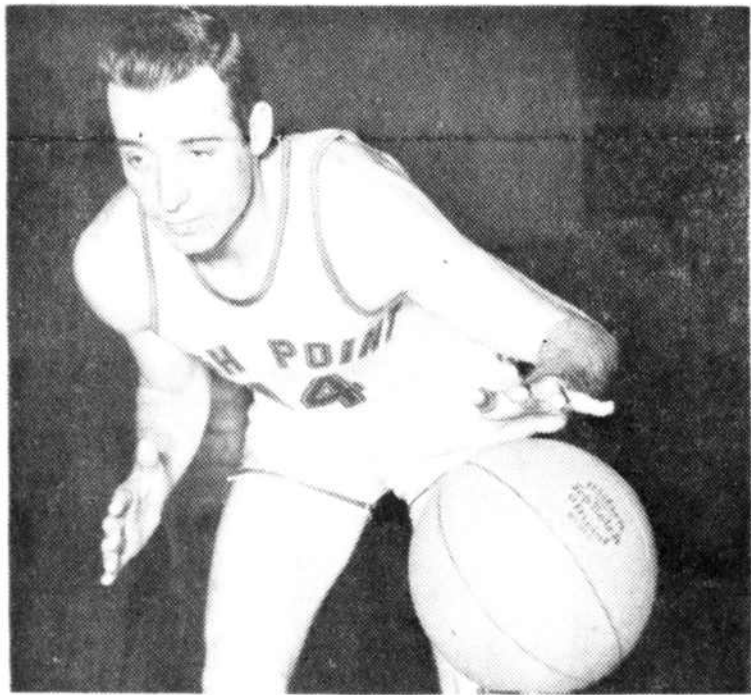

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ennis ('48) are living in North Wilkesboro, Vernon (Red) is connected with a mirror company and his wife works in the office. Red is the distributor.

Many of our boys are being called into the service. Joe Hiatt left last week to join the Air Corps. That will make four out there that we know of. Donald Helms, Hampton Vestal and Fred Southard are there also.

Mrs. David McEwan (Alice Chandler, '41) is living in Waterbury, Conn. She has three children, two boys and one girl.

Leon Thompson ('36) and his wife (Christine Latham, '36), with their three sons, live in Columbia, S. C. where Mr. Thompson is Postal Inspector.

These Bones Will Rise Again—"Ace" Cartwright will be unable to play in the next few games because of a foot injury sustained in the Guilford game. He may be able to join the squad later in the season.

The loss of Gray "Ace" Cartwright will lessen the Panther's chances for North State Conference honors. Gray suffered a foot injury in the Guilford game which will probably keep him out of play for the remainder of the season. At first reports it was thought that Cartwright had sustained a severe strain, but x-rays revealed a broken bone in his right foot.

Cartwright played high school ball at Old Town in Winston-Salem. He made All-State in '44, and All-Forsyth County four years in a row. Gray was Co-Captain on last year's team and scored a total of 201 points. He missed three games last year due to injury. This marks the fourth year of varsity duty for Cartwright on the Panther squad. While in service he played basketball with the Lido Beachcombers, Navy team at Long Island, New York. The accurate passing and dribbling of "Ace" contributed to his being All-Tournament player for the 48-49 season.

Singing Of Hymns Starts New Year

Opening the first assembly hour of the new year, Dr. P. E. Lindley, Chairman of the Program Committee announced that the scheduled entertainer, Mr. William Irvine Fayssoux, Magician and Hypnotist of Gastonia, had died suddenly in Salisbury at 3:00 a.m. that morning. Following this announcement, Dr. Lindley requested the students, led by Mr. William Collins, Choir Director, to join in the singing of hymns appropriate to the beginning of a new year.

Dr. William R. Locke delivered a brief talk on "New Beginnings," pointing out that "the year is new only as we make it so; nothing in the season makes it new." Each day should be a new beginning. Quoting from the Apostle Paul's letter to Timothy in which he advised Timothy to rid himself of his handicaps, Dr. Locke expressed the opinion that "1951 looks like a handicap. However," he stated, "It is not the handicap but what we do about it that matters."

Dear Sir,

It has been some time since I have received the Alumni Newsletter, and I am kind of worried. In order to insure its arriving I enclose my new address at the end of this letter.

I left High Point College in May of 1942 after attending for two and one-half years. Even though I have studied at many other schools since then, I still consider it my "Alma Mammy."

Presently I am doing graduate work in education at the University of George Washington in D. C. At the same time Leo Pappas, class of 1943, is attending its law school. Incidentally he was the best man at my wedding in March. Russ Lombardy was our photographer for the wedding pictures. Although it is only a hobby with him, many people have quietly suggested to Russ to give it up.

George Nostrand is not playing basketball this year in order to devote more time to his business. What's his business? I really don't know but I'd guess that with his 6 feet 8 inches height he'd be good at painting ceilings.

My brother Anthony is a foreman in a large dress factory in New York City. He attended High Point College in 1942-43, but he received a degree from L. I. U. in 1949.

Bud Fletcher is working for the Embassy Dairy here in D. C. No, he doesn't squeeze the milk out, he just squeezes the money out of the company every week. Incidentally, he, or rather his wife, is expecting their third child.

Sincerely,

Louis R. Soscia
Washington, D. C.

Fashions On Parade

By LIB GILBERT

Welcome to 1951—a new year—and new fashions with the spotlight pointing to woolens.

Woolens will play an important role in everyone's wardrobe. They will be used for suits, coats, dresses — even hats, bags and shoes.

The newest woolen fabrics for '51 to be used for coats will consist of nubby tweeds, with a lot of white, basket weaves, and shaggy fleeces—ideal for short coats.

Narrow pin stripes and the wide novelty stripe in combination with solids for suits will be at the top of the fashion popularity poll.

Neutral colors ranging from beige through the coppery tones; blues, newest in slate; reds, clear and bright; navy and gray, especially when used with white pink and mauve for accent will also be seen a great deal this year.

Woolens and '51 will be coherent in the new fashion parade.

Opportunity To Select Air Force Course After Graduation

Major Leslie McLaurin, veteran B-29 combat pilot, has announced that Capt. F. R. Goldsberry, jet pilot with a long combat record in the Pacific, and his staff of examiners will be on hand to give tests and answer all questions concerning pilot and navigator training, Jan. 15, 16, 17, and 18th.

The selection team is especially equipped to give a complete vision and hearing examination and, along with the written test, can advise immediately whether the applicant is qualified.

Major McLaurin wishes to call attention to the fact that the applicant may select a class eight months ahead—to start after he has graduated from college.

With the recent Armed Forces Pay Bill, the cadet, while in training receives $105 a month, plus all expenses; and the flying Lieutenant receives more than $1700 single, and more than $5100 a year, married.

The two types of training have a two year college requirement for eligibility. To be eligible for pilot training men must be single, between the ages of 19 and one-half; and 26 and one-half, with high physical and moral qualifications. The same high qualifications are required of navigators and the opportunities are the same as for pilots. The navigator has less stringent vision requirements than the pilot.

Men who are in doubt about their draft status may sign up for either the pilot or navigator training program. In the event that circumstances should change, making it possible for them to go to college next year, they can withdraw their application.

Major McLaurin stresses the very important point that anyone trying for one of these careers, who is found unsuitable for the training and eliminated, does not have to remain in the service. He may revert to civilian status.

The examining staff will be in the "Hi-Po" office on the top floor of the Library Building on the stated days for the convenience of all young men who are interested in careers in the United States Air Force.

Dr. Cooke Attends Church and College Meetings

Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, President of High Point College, accompanied by Mrs. Cooke is visiting Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and Atlantic City for official business purposes in the interest of High Point College. Dr. Cooke's schedule includes meetings of the association of American Colleges and also the National Association of Schools and Colleges of the Methodist Church to be held in Atlantic City. Dr. Cooke is putting forth every effort to bring High Point College to the standards required for membership in the Association of American Colleges.

Drama Class Prepares Saroyan Comedy

The Drama Classes under the Direction of Miss Baber hope to offer an interesting and varied program for the enjoyment of the students during the next semester. They are planning several one act plays, the first of which is to be "My Heart's in the Highlands," by William Saroyan, a delightful comedy, pleasing in all respects; with music, songs, and a variety of interesting characters.

Another project of the Drama Classes is the weekly radio program which began last week.

Portrait of Dr. Cooke Gift from Senior Class

Student Body Gets Preview Showing of Senior Class Gift

The Senior Class of '51 presented a large oil portrait of Dr. Cooke to the college Wednesday, Jan. 18, at the weekly assembly hour. The class president, Charles Payne stated that the class wished to present the gift now because a large number of the seniors would be leaving before June. Dr. Hinshaw accepted the gift in behalf of the college, saying, "It is altogether fitting and proper that the Senior Class present this portrait of Dr. Cooke, third president of High Point College." Dr. Hinshaw announced that the portrait would be placed in Roberts Hall, along with the portraits of the two former Presidents of High Point College, Dr. Andrews and Dr. Humphreys. The portrait of Dr. Cooke is by Conrad Shaver, Winston-Salem.

Following the presentation of the portrait, Mr. E. H. Paschal, brother of Mr. Arthur Paschal of the college faculty, introduced The Reverend Mr. Foy E. Wallace Jr., of Oklahoma City, Okla., who delivered a brief message on the subject, "Things Which Cannot Be Shaken." Calling attention to the unstable condition of many of our institutions today, he expressed the belief that the hope that anchors is one of the things that will remain when the shaking is over."

"Center" Serves Refreshments

Students worn and weary from exams found companionship and refreshments in the Student Center last Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon from 1 to 5. Coffee brewed by Chief Pettit and cookies were served to many grateful students. Mrs. Paschal began this practice last year and has continued it since it found such favor with the students.

In addition to refreshments, during exam week, everyone is invited to visit the Student Center throughout the year and make use of its facilities. There are ping-pong tables and bridge tables for games, and music for dancing. If you just want to relax and look at a magazine, you will find comfortable couches and magazines for your enjoyment. Mrs. Paschal is your hostess from 1 to 4 each afternoon.

Enrollment Down Due to Enlistments

The enrollment for second semester will be down to approximately 650 from the first semester figures of about 770, it was learned today. This decrease is due to enlistments in the armed forces, draft calls, and mid-term graduation.

Students who receive their draft notices prior to the completion of a semester's work are urged to contact Dr. C. R. Hinshaw, Dean of Instruction, in an effort to postpone induction until the end of the semester.

Registration will begin Monday, January 29, and continue through Tuesday, January 30. Classes will begin on Wednesday, January 31, at 8:00 a.m.

New Draft Ruling Favorable to Students

The Defense Department has announced a new draft ruling which makes it possible for the student who is now enrolled in college and doing satisfactory work to choose the branch of service he prefers to enter at the end of the school year, in the event that he is drafted before his school year has been completed. Under the old plan the student who was drafted had no choice but to enter the army. In order to be able to choose this branch of service many students stopped school to volunteer. This interruption of school work is no longer necessary.

Ramona Rhodes Featured Soloist on "H. P. C. Time"

Miss Ramona Rhodes, soprano, accompanied at the piano by John Raper, presented a program made up of both classical and popular numbers, over W.H.P.E. on High Point College Time, Tuesday, Jan. 17. Her opening number was "Time for Making Song Has Come," (James Rogers). She continued with "O' Cessitate," (Scarlati); "Clouds" (Ernest Klemm); and "Sounds" (Gustav Klemm). Both Miss Rhodes and Mr. Raper are music majors and are much in demand for various musical programs throughout High Point and vicinity.

"BENNETT'S WELCOME"

Now that mid term exams are behind us once again, we can relax for a while and learn some history the painless way. Inglis Fletcher has completed the sixth of a series of Carolina novels, in which she tells the story of two hundred years history, from the first settlement, to the ratification of the Constitution.

This newest novel, "Bennett's Welcome," takes its hero, Richard Monington, through the conflict between Oliver Cromwell's armies and those of the Royalists and Charles II of Scotland. The desperate flight of Charles is told with the vividness that is characteristic of Inglis Fletcher's narratives. After Richard Monington had seen his cavalier world crumble, he made a hazardous voyage to Virginia as an indentured servant, and from there to Carolina, into the rich land of Albemarle where the first permanent settlement in North Carolina was made.

This Book is not recommended to replace your studies of European history, but if you want to make your history live, you will find the characters in "Bennett's Welcome" unmistakably alive.

"THE HINGE OF FATE"

The fourth volume of Winston Churchill's story of "The Second World War" is now available in the College Library. This book, called "The Hinge of Fate," was so named because of the abrupt turn from disaster to success in the latter part of the war. Beginning with the completion of the Grand Alliance, after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Mr. Churchill covers the most critical part of the war; and no one is more qualified than he, to give this great story of human courage and triumph.

"FABULOUS DESTINATIONS"

This is the time of year when we begin to look longingly at the tempting travel posters in magazines. But since we are detained by the necessity of getting an education, the best substitute for a journey to far places can be found in the exciting pages of "Fabulous Destinations," by John Nicholls Booth. The author, formerly a pastor of a Unitarian church, gave up his work temporarily and set out to see the world on a shoestring. As an amateur correspondent for the Chicago Sun-Times he found himself covering every thing from earth quakes to guerilla warfare. Can you picture a former minister doing card tricks for the emperor-to-be of Japan, meditating with the wrestling monks of Engaku-ji, or dancing with the Sultana of Johore? He even

Hi-Po To Celebrate with Dinner Party at Plantation Club

A dinner party at the Plantation Club on Friday evening, February 2, has been planned by the officers and faculty advisers of the HI-PO to celebrate the successful completion of the schedule for the first semester. The HI-PO has been published every two weeks and there have been seven issues for the semester.

Invitations to the HI-PO staff will be delivered this week and members of the staff are invited to bring a date. Dinner will be served at 8 followed by dancing. Miss Steelman and Mr. Withers, faculty advisors, will also act as chaperones for the occasion.

Keys for members have been ordered and it is hoped delivery will be made in time to present them at the party. The key is a symbol of full cooperation, service, and membership in the college newspaper program.

Hi-Po Staff To Publish Magazine In June

Plans are under way to publish a slick magazine of a literary nature at the end of the school year. The HI-PO staff will solicit material from the students beginning in February and choose a committee to edit and prepare this material for publication. The expense of the publication will be defrayed by

EDITORIAL

With exams behind us and a new semester before us, we should take time out to examine our lives and our future plans. With many it is the last registration and the last semester at H. P. C. How we have longed for this day . . . and yet . . . The future was brighter three years ago when we first came to H. P. C. We could plain our careers and feel confident that the success or failure of the plan depended in large part upon our personal ambition and ability.

But the picture has changed. How it changed and why it changed, we don't know; but it is changed and with the alteration went our future. In June many will go out into the world to seek employment. The first question a prospective employer will ask is, "What is your draft status?" Time was when the amount of experience you had was the first question. But today they want to know if you're in the reserve or the national guard or a veteran (although that isn't going to help much at the rate they're going in certain quarters).

What happened? Why are our plans and perhaps even our lives out of our personal control? I didn't do it, did you? But somebody did, or maybe it was everybody. So now you've got to make some new plans. Your conversation begins and ends with, "When I get out of the service" What are you going to do when you get out of service? Are you going to do your part to make sure your kid brother or your own children do not have to face this same problem when they finish college?

We have the best government on earth and because you and I believe this we're going to have to put on a uniform and stand in readiness while the men we've entrusted with the running of our government attempt a peaceful settlement across the conference table. All this adds up to just one thing; are you ready to assume your responsibilities to your fellowmen and join in the efforts to keep peace in the world? Have you examined your life lately? Does your plan include the four freedoms for everybody that our forefathers gave their lives for? Are you free of prejudices? Can you see both sides of every situation and think yourself to a logical conclusion? The day is coming when those plans you made years ago will have an opportunity to bear fruit. Be ready for that day and plan for better days for the world. We are all brothers; let's live and work together like brothers. Make your beliefs include: "One God Indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all."

Tips on Registration from an Old Timer

It is once again time for registration at H. P. C. and now begins the headache of getting required courses and likeable professors. Fortunately we have a sufficient amount of both.

If you are one of those privileged seniors who has completed required work and has time to shop around for enjoyable electives, let me give you some friendly advice. Don't be too anxious when you approach a professor. Look him in the eye and say, "What you teaching that I ain't had that's worth taking?" If you have had this particular professor the previous semester, the best plan is to try and find out what kind of grade you received and then decide. Now smart professors will evade the question about grades (if you didn't do too well) by referring to that poor final exam you turned in. Then he will tell you that he thinks you will enjoy course such-and-such more than you did the one you just completed, and the first thing you know you will have signed on the dotted line.

Now with Freshmen it is a different story. There are just so many classes and they can hold just so many students, so you had better get in line early and prepare to beg for a seat. If you are the type that gets hungry around noon, you had better get the "Chef" to pack you a lunch because you're going to be there a long time. And don't hate those upperclassmen too much who take registration day like it was a tea party and stand around shooting the bull while you're sweating out a line. With a little luck and a lots of registrations you, too, will one day be an upperclassman.

A word of advice to all students, however. To make it easy on yourself and the instructors and bursar, have your schedule worked out in advance of getting in line and have your money ready when you reach the final table. If you have trouble figuring out the schedule, ask someone who knows. They will be glad to help you. If there is any doubt about the requirements and you can't find the answer to your problem in the College Bulletin, then see the Registrar and be sure.

Our Poets Speak

BYNUM'S APPLES

By Dorene Lewis

Next to Bynum's hunting hounds,
His apples were his pride;
And he could grow the finest ones
In all the countryside.
Each year in fall the wagons took
The narrow country road
That led to Bynum's cellar door
To leave their precious load.
The cellar door was opened wide;
The floor was dry and clean;
Into the bins the apples poured
With red and yellow sheen.
Old Bynum cautioned now and then,
"Take care, you know they bruise;
Virginia beauties such as these
Are much too good to lose.
We'll keep the Fallow Waters here
Beside the cellar stair,
Away from sudden blasts of cold
And chilling winter air.
All wrapped in paper on the shelves
The choice apples go,
For Christmas and Thanksgiving treats,
And special times, you know.
Delicious golden in the bin
Beside the Roman red.
Just smell their fragrant odor, man—
It goes right to your head!"
The apples poured and Bynum watched,
And many things he saw:
The golden sun of summer days
Preserved through April thaw;
The russet of rich autumn days.
Held captive in his store;
The freshness of the orchard grove—
All these he saw and more:
Long winter evenings of good cheer
Beside a glowing fire,
Where friends and loved ones, old or new,
With minds at peace retire
To share the bounty he bestows,
With open hand and free—
Each wine red apple worth its weight
In hospitality.

THOUGHTS

By Betty Clarke Dillon

There is a time to live,
And a time to die;
A time to give,
And a time to buy . . .
There is a time to smile,
And a time for tears;
A time for reproof,
And a time for cheers . . .
There is a time for parting,
And a time of return;
A time for laughter,
And a time for concern . . .
There is time for the meek,
And a time for the proud;
A time for the lonely,
And time for the crowd . . .
There is time for thinking,
And a time for voice;
A time for voice;
A time of dependence,
And a time of choice . . .
There is time for hell,
And for heaven above;
A time for hate,
And a time for love . . .
There is time for blindness,
And a time for seeing;
Yet—the world is dying
And time is fleeing . . .

"IT AINT NECESSARILY SO"

Everyone can breathe a sign of relief about now, since most of you have finished your exams. While you're resting from the ordeal, maybe you have time to read some of the latest bits of gossip.

Congrats to the people who took the "big step" around Christmas time. Ovid Kerns became Mrs. Eugene O'Daniels. He is a former H. P. C. student. Patricia Kay McCulloch also received her "MRS!"

Paul Pryor has become rather interested in Greensboro, "the Studebaker City." Her name is Patti, and she's quite a Panther fan, apparently.

There seem to be a few girls who have formed a club of some kind around here, but no one knows exactly what kind of club it is, because it's called "The Thing," and who can figure out what "The Thing" is? Ken Bost seems to be working on the case, so maybe he can give you further information!

There is a certain boy at High Point College who thinks Peggy Rothrock is really "pur-ty." What do you have to say on the subject, Peggy???

Ernest Forbes must have his eyes on some girl in Woman's Hall, but seems to think it's better to "conceal than reveal." True or false, Ernest???

Lloyd Brown is still dating Betty Gardner steady. They're together on all "date nights," so maybe this is a new love affair that will go down in ye olde Romance Book for H. P. C.

Bill Briggs, a former H. P. C. student, is now a disc jockey for WMFR. Bill is now on "Skyland Patrol," and he'd like to be swamped with requests from High Pointers.

Rumors are that Conrad West will be back at H. P. C. second semester. We all hope so! Tommy Mixon is also back at High Point. Glad to have you back.

Janie Bartlett and Rodney Gates can be seen together any ole' time. In fact when someone looks for Rodney, they start at the Girl's dorm. "That do make it nice!"

Something really funny happened to "Little-bit" Mellard, but she had rather not discuss the matter. It was a pretty good joke on us, wasn't it "Little-bit???"

Bruce Hamilton has joined the fold, and spends "bu-cu's" of time at Girl's dorm with Betty Belcher. It seems to be a race nowadays in the club rooms, between Bruce, Eddie Sueta, Buddy Conner, "Burley," and—yep—Bob "Sparkle" Davidson!

There is a certain girl who has a big crush on either "Red" Stanback, or "Ace" Cartwright. Just can't figure out whether it's Cartwright's personality, or Stanback's "slay the women good looks!"

Tony Lishe hasn't become infatuated with any girl yet. What do you girls think of that? Tony's about the only boy on the basketball team that just "leaves the women alone." Duncan Redditt has turned his affections around "Tommy" at W. C. and Sammy Cole is REALLY snowed!!!!

Well everybody, when you read this, exams will be over, but while I'm writing this, they've just begun, so better sign off till next time with congratulations to all the January graduates and ————— "Bye Shug"

High-Flying Panthers Grounded by Elon, Lenoir Rhyne

"Goose" Waiz points out to "Ace" Cartwright just a few disadvantages of being out of the Panther basketball line-up. "Ace" is sorely missed; "Goose" has returned to action with the team.

Purple Panther Cage Team Loses Conference Lead to Lenoir Rhyne

The Purple Panthers of High Point College dropped from first place in the North State Conference race, to a three way tie for the number two spot. This rating was released after the H. P. C., Lenoir Rhyne game. There was little activity in the conference this past week, yet the few games that did take place will affect the team standings.

Ben Kendall, sophomore Elon guard, dropped in a field goal with 10 seconds left in an overtime period to give the Christians a thrilling 68-66 Conference victory over the Panthers.

Kendall tie dup the game for Elon with a long one-handed push shot with a minute and 15 seconds left in regulation time to force the game into an overtime.

Sueta and Draper racked up 16 points each for High Point while Kendall and Gaither had 14 points each for Elon.

This was the first Conference blemish to appear on the Panther record this year. It was the Elon Christians that grounded the high-flying boys from High Point last year 74-69.

Before the Purple Panthers could pull themselves together after the loss to Elon, Lenoir Rhyne caged the Panthers with a stunning 58-56 victory.

This was the first time in many a day that a High Point cage team has lost two Conference games in a row.

Jim Lyerly and Willard Neighbors were the heroes as Lenoir Rhyne made a successful uphill battle pay off with a Conference victory that put them in the number one spot in the North State race.

It was a tough game for High Point to lose, after leading most of the way. Ed Sueta was the game's high man with 22 points. Bill Waiz racked up 19 points.

WHAT'S NEW IN SPORTS?

BY JIM HARDIE

A brief telephone conversation with Conrad West, former member of the Panther cage squad, revealed nothing as to his plans for the future. Shortly after Christmas, West quit school to join the Air Force, but technical difficulties prevented him from joining. From the tone of Conrad's conversation, I assume that if he is going to return to school, he will do so in time to start the second semester. Up until the time West quit the Panthers, he played the role of a substitute. His return would surely mean a great deal to the Panther squad.

Tuesday night, North Carolina State College defeated the Virginia Tech Gobblers 114-66 to set a new high record in total points scored in a single game by a N. C. State team. State's previous high basket-making spree came in 1948 when the Wolfpack battered the High Point Panthers, 110-50. Sammy Ranzino, State's great forward, set a new Southern Conference record for individual point-producing. He dumped in 47 markers. The total point bag broke the 45 figure North Carolina's George Glamack stacked up against Clemson in 1941.

Russell Jones, former end on the Panther football squad, joined the Navy recently. Jones is taking his boot training at Great Lakes, Mich.

At a recent banquet in Greensboro, in honor of outstanding athletes in the state, Coach Smith commented that he was probably the only coach present that wasn't scouting football material. Coach Smith added that he was interested in basketball prospects.

In 15 games, the Panthers have racked up a total of 1092 points against 1011 for opponents. This gives the High Pointers an average of 72 points per game to 67 for the opponents. The highest score racked up by the Panthers thus far is 101 points against Western Carolina Teachers College. The lowest score for the Panthers so far was against Murray, Kentucky. The High Point team was held to 39 points. The highest score racked up against the Panthers was in the Midwest Tournament. Muskingum College of New Concord, Ohio, racked up 92 points against High Point. Erskin scored the least points against the Panthers. The boys from Erskin were held to 39 points.

This week has seen very little action in the North State Conference. Most schools in the Conference were taking exams this week and stayed off the courts.

The Panthers have eight games remaining on this season's schedule. They have played 15 games thus far. At the end of regular season play, the three day Conference Tournament will be held in Statesville. The position of the Panthers in Conference standings will determine if they take part in the tournament. The tournament will start Feb. 22 and will run through the 24. Five of the eight remaining games will be played here at High Point.

Sports World Faces Uncertain Future

This could be the last great season in the world of sports for years to come. In recent week, the world situation has caused a stir among the sports circles in our country. There is great speculation as to the effect the present world situation will have on the caliber of sports to be had in our country in the future years. At the end of this school year, the draft will take its toll in man power from colleges and professional organizations.

In a recent speech by Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee sharp criticism was aimed at the 4-F athletes in professional sports who were not physically able to aid the army, yet they could earn $10,000 a year doing all the hard work of an athlete. In view of the fact that the draft will strike college sports a knockout blow, and increased Congressional pressure is putting an anchor on professional sports, the future is anything but bright.

During the past war the man power situation at most of our colleges was at a low ebb in history. Now after some five years after World War II, the caliber of college athletics has reached a high peak. It is hard to tell just how hard the present situation will hit the sports world.

Here at home, we have already seen the beginning of what may be the knockout blow. Probably one of the reasons High Point College discontinued football was because the draft would prevent us from having enough men to field a team. Already the threat of draft has hit the Panther cage squad.

The cloud of war hangs over the future of sports. We can only wait and see what happens.

"I'm only a little pebble in your life."

"Why not be a little bolder?"

Fashions On Parade

By LIB GILBERT

A new idea for chilly outdoors is this handypak combination of a Lumite woven fabric case which includes an all wool, plaid-fringed blanket to keep you warm.

There is an abundance of silk in all of its wonderful varieties textures, prints and colors. Silk is one of the leading and most popular fabrics this year.

For every item in your wardrobe there is a silk — from fine shirtings for blouses to linen like shantungs for spring-into-summer suits.

The wise shopper will take a special note, first of the shirtings that are stripped — broad or narrow — to be used for blouses, sportswear, and casual dresses. Secondly, of special interest and used dramatically in delicately etched florals and geometrics will be hand-stenciled prints on shantung for dresses and blouses. Last, but not least, sheer organdies in a neat pin check for blouses, soft day or evening dresses will catch your eye.

As you walk in the '51 fashion parade — parade in silks.

"Etiquette for Weddings" and "Cooking to Save Vitamins" were discussed when Mrs. Ovid Kearns O'Daniel, a recent bride and home economics major at High Point College, discussed with Miss Ada Johnson, head of the department, the problems of a new bride and how she found her training in home economics had helped her home to be a happy one.

BROWSING THROUGH . . .

 Killed a sacred cow in India! The high spot of his journey was reached when he had led a small expedition through lofty Himalayan passes to the central plateau of Tibet, where he photographed the holy peak, Chomo Lhari, thereby realizing a life-long ambition. "Fabulous Destinations" is a book for all who feel the lure of distant places. It is now in the College Library for your enjoyment.

On a windy day in downtown Chicago recently, I saw a woman holding her hat with both hands while her skirt blew higher and higher about her knees. In response to the frankly curious glances of 2 men lounging at a corner, she just as frankly commented, without loosening the double grip on her hat:

"Gentlemen, what you are looking at is 40 years old. What I am holding onto is brand-new!"—True.
