

The Hi-Po

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF HIGH POINT COLLEGE

Vol. XXXV; No. 1

High Point, N. C.

September 23, 1960

—Photo by Medford Taylor.

In what appeared to be an all-out attempt to crush surprising Republican sympathy in North Carolina, Senator John F. Kennedy, Democratic standard bearer, roared into the Tar Heel state this past Saturday. Beseeching North Carolinians to remain true to the cause of the Democratic Party, the senator lashed out against the farm policies of the Eisenhower administration under the auspices of Ezra T. Benson.

In what might well have been an unprecedented venture for a presidential candidate, Mr. Kennedy skipped over North Carolina from West to East, shaking hands and smiling gingerly. The senator was well supported on his jaunt by Governor Hodges, Governor-elect Sanford, and Senators Jordan and Ervin. After stopping off at Greenville, Greensboro, and Charlotte, the candidate ended his day of campaigning at the Raleigh Coliseum. State Democratic leaders affirmed the success of the Kennedy visit and pledges 100% support for the ticket.

Women's Dorm Rules Changed

The Woman's Dormitory Council has had several rules approved for the women residents of High Point College.

The major change is that all upper-class girls are allowed to date every night.

Freshmen girls may date on Saturday (12:00) and Sunday (11:15) nights during the first semester. Provided their averages don't fall, they will be permitted to date on Friday nights (11:15), commencing with the second semester. This rule may be subject to revision, however.

Another of the more prominent innovations is the rule that all lights must be out at 12:00 p.m. with the exception of Saturday night, when the blackout time is 12:30, exam time, and those times when a girl has obtained special permission from the Dormitory Counselor. According to the old system, only freshmen girls were required to have lights out at 12:00. Upperclass lights were under no restrictions.

A few changes have also been made in the times the girls are allowed to go to the bookstore. Seniors may go at 9:30, and all other girls may go between 9:45 and 10:30. All must return to the dorm by 10:30.

The demerit system has undergone a small modification concerning the number of demerits incurred for certain offenses.

This year, for the first time, all Freshmen girls are grouped together in Woman's Hall.

1050 Enrolled

On September 11, 310 Freshmen began to stream onto the HPC campus. Besides the freshmen, 90 transfer students brought the total of new students to approximately 400.

For the new plan of night classes, about 120 students have enrolled for college credit courses.

The Registrar's Office reports that the total enrollment is about 1050. This total includes representatives of about 25 states and five foreign countries.

SGA Begins New Year

The first task of the Student Government Association officers was to help with the orientation of freshmen. A copy of the Student Handbook, which was completely rewritten, was presented to each student.

On September 17, the SGA sponsored the annual Student-Faculty Reception which was concluded by a dance. Music for the dance was furnished by the Casuals.

On September 26, the SGA will hold a meeting of freshmen and transfer students in the auditorium. At this meeting the SGA will explain its work on the High Point Campus.

The House and the Senate of the SGA will hold their first meetings within the next few weeks.

Minimum Wage May Hurt the Working Student

Washington—The housewife working to supplement her husband's earnings and the student working to help pay his way through school would be among those hardest hit by changes in the minimum wage law now being considered by Congress, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reports.

The National Chamber, which speaks for businessmen, says that if Congress extends the minimum wage law to cover retail stores and if it raises the minimum above the current $1.00 an hour, then inexperienced housewives and students would have much greater difficulties finding jobs.

Retail stores as a whole operate on a margin of profit that is but one per cent of sales, the National Chamber points out. Since wages are well as being income are costs, merchants faced with an increase in costs would turn to labor saving devices and streamlined operations.

It is the inexperienced and the low productive workers who would be most vulnerable to such changes, the National Chamber states.

Results Listed of SGA Poll

1. 59% of the students would choose High Point College again.
22% of the students would not choose High Point College again.
19% of the students were undecided as to whether they would choose High Point College again.

2. 62% of the students are made to feel welcome and at home.
22% of the students are made to feel unwelcome.
16% of the students are undecided.

3. 23% of the students feel that the college watches personal progress.
46% of the students feel that the college does not watch personal progress.

30% of the students were undecided. Most of these were freshmen.

4. 71% of the students found High Point College a stimulating intellectual experience.

19% of the students did not find High Point College to be a stimulating intellectual experience.

10% were undecided.

5. 28% of the students feel that the college operates efficiently and smoothly.

36% of the students do not feel that the college operates efficiently and smoothly.

36% of the students are undecided.

6. 18% of the students feel that changes are made without regard to welfare of the students.

70% of the students feel that this is not true.

12% of the students are undecided.

7. 19% of the students feel that abilities are not challenged.

70% of the students feel that they are challenged.

11% of the students are undecided.

8. 75% of the students feel that there is good school spirit.

16% of the students feel that there is not.

9% of the students are undecided.

9. 61% of the students have confidence in the fairness and honesty of the college administration.

23% of the students disagree.

16% of the students are undecided.

10. 34% of the students feel that it is difficult to get advice about courses or other matters from the administration.

57% of the students disagree.

10% of the students are undecided.

11. 45% of the students feel that it is sometimes difficult to get in to see and talk with some of the administrators.

46% of the students disagree.

9% of the students are undecided.

12. 91% of the students feel that they should be allowed to check cuts in the office of the Dean of Students.

6% of the students feel that they should not be allowed to do this.

3% of the students are undecided.

13. 15% of the students feel that they have been badly treated by one of the administration.

78% of the students said they had not.

7% of the students were undecided.

14. 76% of the students said that most of the administration wants to help them.

11% of the students said they did not.

13% of the students were undecided.

15. 33% of the students think that the faculty and staff work together as a team.

30% of the students think they do not work together as a team.

37% of the students are undecided.

16. 80% of the students feel that most of the teachers want to help.

9% of the students said they did not want to help.

11% of the students are undecided.

17. 89% of the students feel that most of the faculty are friendly toward students.

4% of the students said they were not.

7% of the students were undecided.

18. 20% of the students feel that they are not respected by some of the teachers.

68% of the students said they were.

12% of the students were undecided.

19. 61% of the students feel the teachers are well prepared.

26% of the students feel they are not prepared.

13% of the students were undecided.

20. 22% of the students feel that teachers expect too much.

60% of the students feel they do not expect too much.

18% of the students are undecided.

21. 87% of the students feel that the students should be given an opportunity to evaluate their teachers.

5% of the students feel they should not.

8% of the students are undecided.

22. 48% of the students feel that teacher evaluation should be made optional.

27% of the students said they should not.

25% of the students were undecided.

23. 43% of the students feel High Point College has high academic standards.

29% of the students feel High Point College does not.

28% of the students were undecided.

24. 74% of the students feel there has been an increase in academic standards during the past two years.

2% of the students feel there has not been.

24% of the students are undecided about the issue.

25. 66% of the students agree that grading standards vary too much between teachers and that they should be made uniform.

26% of the students feel there is little difference in the grading.

8% of the students are undecided.

26. 25% of the students feel there are too many required courses.

36% of the students feel this is not true.

12% of the students are undecided.

(See POLL, Page 3)

President Writes Class of '64

It is a real pleasure to extend a very special welcome to our freshmen. We are to be congratulated for having selected you and you are to be congratulated for having chosen High Point College as "your college."

You are beginning one of the most exciting adventures of your life. Many opportunities will be provided for you—but only you can make the decision and the effort to accept them. College work is hard and more demanding than high school. It will require more preparation and no doubt you will hit frustrating and discouraging snags. But we don't want your life with us to be nothing but work and drudgery. Accept your responsibilities, but live each day to the utmost. College is fun for those who put forth the effort. So have a good time and build joyous memories that will last a lifetime.

The faculty and staff are here to help you. There are people trained to assist you with every type problem. Make use of them. And if ever you feel that you need assistance that you aren't getting, I hope you will come by to see me. My office will always be open to you.

With best wishes for a happy and successful year, I am

Sincerely yours,

WENDELL M. PATTON
President

Be on lookout for
FRESHMEN TALENT SHOW

Across The Desk

STUDENT IS PRO-NIXON

The 1961 presidential election will undoubtedly go down in history as one of the most important and decisive elections ever held, therefore every eligible voter should feel the obligation to study the policies and beliefs of both candidates before issuing his ballot in November. Our next president will be undertaking a position with more problems and difficulties than any other president before him. It will be his responsibility to lead, not the second best country in the world, but the best, to new and greater heights economically as well as scientifically. In order to achieve this, a man must be equipped not with a certain religion or great wealth, but experience. Democrats, as well as Republicans, will have to agree that there is no substitute for experience no matter what field or vocation is considered. If we are going to build our own home and had to choose between a carpenter's apprentice, who has had experience and practice, and a side-walk superintendent, I'm sure that we would choose the apprentice. If this is true in this instance, why would it not also be true for the selection of a president, the person who is going to be building our nation.

The controversial religious question in this election is not being used against Senator Kennedy by Vice-President Nixon but for Senator Kennedy by Senator Kennedy. This issue is being used by the Democratic presidential candidate as a vote-getting device. He, not Vice-President Nixon, is constantly referring to it, playing on the sympathy of the American people, those people who do not wish to be called prejudiced and will prove to their friends that they are not prejudiced by voting for Senator Kennedy, and for no other reason. If he had not built up such an issue of his religion, it would not be playing such an important role in this election. The religious question is also being used to subordinate other more important facts: such as the failure of strong support to Senator Kennedy by his own party. Proof enough of this fact is found when thought is given to the recent $1.25 minimum working fee bill, introduced by Senator Kennedy was dumped by his own party in Congress.

The Kennedy-Johnson friction is also another good example of this. Anyone watching the Democratic national convention was well aware of "decension in the ranks" displayed there. Congressional records also show the disagreement of these two men in their voting, especially on civil-rights actions.

In such an important election as this year's presidential race, I could not feel justified in voting for a person who is in constant disagreement with his running mate and does not have the full support of his party.

Senator Kennedy may be running for the presidential position of the "second-best" country in the world, but my vote goes to Vice-President Richard Nixon, the qualified and experienced man running for the office of President of the best country in the world, the United States of America.

—Don Drapeau.

NEW CLASS IS SPECIAL

I would like to personally congratulate the new "beanie-bearers" on their outstanding attitudes, manners, and enthusiasm.

One cannot help but be impressed by the number of freshmen offering their services in extra-curricular functions, their attendance at morning devotionals and vespers, their appearances in the cafeteria, their intelligence in classes and discussions.

This is a superior group of people . . . and we're happy to have them here at High Point College.

—B.G.G.

Alumnus of Month

Edna Rose Duncan

One of the most difficult tasks of this autumn semester will be to carry on the energetic school spirit and enthusiasm that graduation forced Edna Rose Duncan to leave behind.

Edna Rose came to High Point College as a freshman from Hope Mills, North Carolina and became a very illuminating feature of our campus. Her refreshing smile and sincere attitude were as much a part of our daily routine as the chimes atop Roberts Hall.

Her efficient leadership was instrumental in making the Panhellenic Council the organization it is today and her service with the Hi-Po is still remembered when we refer to some of her advice and ideas. Edna Rose was also distinguished by being elected president of Kappa Delta Sorority for two years consecutively.

It is with pride that we salute Edna Rose Duncan, High Point '60, as our alumnus of the month. We are consoled by the fact that she will be able to retain her charm and intelligence as a teacher at Northeast Junior High where she is now employed and also because she will be back with us visiting a pretty good Guy.

Letters

THIRSTY!

Dear Editors,

Have you ever been thirsty, tired, or just plain study-worn? Nothing seems to pep you up like a soft drink. But if one lives on third floor North Hall and one has to walk way over to the basement of Woman's Hall, one could pretty soon die of thirst.

Don't you think that it's about time that North Hall had a soft drink machine installed for the benefit of those po'ole upperclassmen? Each trip to that soft drink machine in Woman's Hall means one year lost!

—A "Po' Ole" Upperclass Woman.

REGISTRATION—A CURSE ON ALL.

Thursday marked, for the majority of High Point College students, the temporary finish of one of the confusing, hectic, and frustrating episodes faced by college students. This thoroughly dreaded, unwanted but necessary experience is known as registration. For freshman and transfer students it can be quite a harrowing event.

Registration at High Point College may be likened to a lumbering, prehistoric dinosaur. Just as the extinct reptile vanished because it could not adapt, so too must the present system of registration vanish. Under existing conditions, a student must often stand in line for two or three hours—just to pay fees and get approval for the courses he has selected. This is ridiculous and positively unnecessary.

With a large college or university, it is not inconceivable, in fact it is quite common, to find students waiting in lines for hours on end just to register. However, in a small college whose enrollment numbers only slightly more than a thousand students, such procedures are entirely uncalled for and should be discontinued. It is time that the situation at High Point College is revised, and the sooner the better. No longer should a student be forced to stand in a scarcely moving line for several hours, he should not have to wait longer than an hour at the most.

Dr. Patton, since your recent inauguration as president of this col-

—Judy Rogers.

READING LIST

Editor's Note: This article is a reprint of "Twenty College Books for the Pre-College Student" by Matthew I. Malloy which was issued in the September, 1960, issue of McCall's Magazine.

Any student going through college is likely to encounter certain great books. Even if literature is not his field of interest, he'll read many of the classics for his required English or humanities courses—and he'll have a head start if he's already read the books.

Some of them are difficult and require interpretation; but even they can be understood to some degree by the student reading for himself, and preliminary acquaintance will make the books more meaningful and alive when they're reread under a professor's guidance.

With this in mind, we took a poll of colleges and universities across the country, to compile this list of 20 books a college student is likely to read. These are the books most commonly mentioned as part of freshman reading requirements, though most of them probably will be found at more advanced levels as well.

Naturally, not all schools require all 20. Some, in their freshman English courses, require the study of composition and grammar rather than literature; others use different authors or different works by the same authors. Still, the student about to enter college can be pretty sure he'll find some of these works (and often all) in his courses.

And for him, or for anyone, reading all 20 will provide about as good an introduction to the world's great writing as one can get. (Other editions are available, so browse around and consult your book dealer before you buy.)

1. HOMER: The Odyssey. The Greek epic poem (often found in prose translations) by "the first European poet." One of the great adventure stories of all time.

2. SOPHOCLES: Oedipus Rex. A play over 2,000 years old and just as moving and provocative now as it was when Sophocles wrote it. Considered by many critics, from Aristotle to the present, the greatest play ever written.

3. PLATO: The Republic. A philosophical discussion, in dialogue form, illustrating the nature of justice through a depiction of the "ideal state." Be sure to read Book VII, with the famous "Parable of the Cave."

4. GEOFFREY CHAUCER: The Canterbury Tales. Stories, funny and serious, told by a group of pilgrims on their way to Canterbury Cathedral. "The Prologue," "The Knight's Tale," "The Miller's Tale," "The Prioress' Tale," "The Pardoner's Tale" are among the best known.

5. NICCOLO MACHIAVELLI: The Prince. A realistic look at political immorality, which, using Cesare Borgia as its model, defines the attributes of the "ideal" ruler. Reputedly, Machiavelli's book was an inspiration to both Hitler and Mussolini.

6. WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE: Hamlet. The student might also read King Lear, Othello, Macbeth, and Henry IV, Part I.

7. JOHN DONNE: Poems. Early in his life, Donne was a playboy; later, he became a profound religious thinker. Both aspects are presented in his poems with unexcelled power and wit. Representative poems: "Song" ("Go and catch a falling star"), "Valediction: Forbidding Mourning," "Good Friday, 1613," "Riding Westward," the "Holy Sonnets," and "Hymn to God, my God, in my sickness."

8. JOHN MILTON: Paradise Lost. Perhaps the greatest epic poem in the English language, a monumental work concerning Satan's rebellion against God and the story of Adam and Eve. As a start, read Books I through IV.

9. JONATHAN SWIFT: Gulliver's Travels. This is hardly the children's book many people think it is. Rather, it is a brutal and profound satire on 18th century England in particular and human nature in general.

10. ALEXANDER POPE: An Essay on Man. A long poem, epitomizing 18th-century philosophical speculation on the nature of man and the order of the universe.

11. JOHN KEATS: Poems. The other romantic poets, notably Coleridge, Shelley, and Byron, might also be read; but Keats is surely an ideal representative of the romantic movement. Be sure to read "On First Looking into Chapman's Homer," "When I Have Fears That I May Cease to Be," "The Eve of St. Agnes," "La Belle Dame sans Merci," "Ode on a Grecian Urn," and "Ode to a Nightingale."

12. CHARLES DICKENS: Great Expectations. Illustrates the morality inherent in many 19th-century English novels and is filled with the usual magnificent Dickensian characters, both comic and tragic.

13. FYODOR DOSTOEVSKY: Crime and Punishment. Considered one of the five or six greatest novels. A profound look at the nature of sin, redemption, and God.

14. SAMUEL CLEMENS: (Mark Twain): The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. Some critics believe this is the finest novel by an American. Like Gulliver's Travels, it is not just a children's book, but a revelation of human nature.

15. GEORGE BERNARD SHAW: Saint Joan. A serious work — with flashes of brilliant wit — by the great Irish playwright. Many think it his best play. Don't fail to read the preface.

16. WILLIAM BUTLER YEATS: Poems. Most critics call Yeats the greatest lyric poet of the 20th (and late 19th) century. Some of his best poems are "The Lake Isle of Innisfree," "Who Goes with Fergus?" "The Song of Wandering Aengus," "The Wild Swans at Coole," "Easter 1916," "Sailing to Byzantium," and "Under Ben Bulbin."

17. THOMAS STEARNS ELIOT: The Waste Land. The exceedingly difficult long poem has explanatory notes by the author, which by no means clear up the complexities. Nevertheless, it is modern poetry at its best.

18. WILLIAM FAULKNER: Light in August. The obscurities of Faulkner's style are less difficult in this novel than in some of his others. A model of construction, as well as one of Faulkner's most searing studies of the South.

19. ERNEST HEMINGWAY: A Farewell to Arms. Hemingway is one of the most influential writers of the 20th century, and this novel, in both style and theme, shows why.

20. ARTHUR MILLER: Death of a Salesman. A tragedy of contemporary American life, full of anger and compassion.

SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE

Only two months remain to apply for some 800 Fulbright scholarships for graduate study or research in 30 countries, the Institute of International Education reminded prospective applicants today. Applications are being accepted until November 1.

Inter-American Cultural Convention awards for study in 17 Latin American countries have the same filing deadline.

Recipients of Fulbright awards for study in Europe, Latin America, and the Asia-Pacific area will receive tuition, maintenance and round-trip travel. IACC scholarships cover transportation, tuition, and partial maintenance costs. IIE administers both of these student programs for the U.S. Department of State.

General eligibility requirements for both categories of awards are: 1) U. S. citizenship at time of application; 2) a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by 1961; 3) knowledge of the language of the host country; and 4) good health. A demonstrated capacity for independent study and a good academic record are also expected. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age who have not previously lived or studied abroad.

Applicants will be required to submit a plan of proposed study that can be carried out probably within the year abroad. Successful candidates are required to be affiliated with approved institutions of higher learning abroad.

The Institute of International Education, founded in 1919, seeks to foster international understanding through exchange of students and scholars, and to further the exchange of ideas and knowledge among all nations. It administers two-way scholarship programs between the United States and 83 foreign countries and is an information center on all aspects of international education.

The Hi-Po

"VOICE OF THE STUDENTS"

The Official Newspaper of High Point College, High Point, N. C.
Published Tri-Weekly Except During Holiday Periods

Entered as third class matter on October 19, 1950, at the Post Office at High Point, N. C., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC.

College Publisher's Representatives
420 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y.
Chicago - Boston - Los Angeles - San Francisco

Subscription and Advertising Rates Upon Request

Editors-in-Chief _____ Tony Lasala and Brooks Garnett
Business Manager _____ Bill Kester
Assistant Business Manager _____ Louise Whiteley
Circulation Manager _____ Tommy Butner
Sports Editor _____ Charles Watson
Photographer _____ Medford Taylor
Layout Editor _____ Dora Jeffreys
Assistants _____ Betty Treece, "Bunny" Young, Judy Benson, Mary Sides, Sally Anger, and Betty Krimminger.
Typists _____ Sue Williamson, Diane Lanier, Marty Green, and Frances Ingle.
General Staff _____ Thelma Mitchell, Len Lewin, Howard Barnes, Becky Jarvis, Dawn Wilson, Peggy McNamee, Eunice Young, Cynthia Fletcher, Sandra Hooks, Ken Crutchfield, Pat Peterson, Gayle Paxton, Sarah Harbison, John Ward, Pat Peele, Harry Smith, Janet Sedell, Judy Rogers, Lois Campbell, Linda Wood, Janiece Courrie, Ronny Covey, Joan Shockey, Bergie Hatcher, Stacy Story, James Wilmot, and Kathy Stern.

THE SPORTS SHOP

By JOHN WARD, JR.

UP GOES THE CURTAIN

Once again they have squared off in thunderous scrimmage, run countless miles, and spilled rivers of sweat. The tang of Autumn is in the air, the playing fields lie green in the September sun.

As football's first big weekend approaches, a vast audience waits, impatient to hail its victors and fling laurels to its conquering heroes—or hang losing coaches in effigy.

North Carolinians' college football appetites were whetted Saturday when Roman Gabriel and company of N. C. State triumphed over Virginia Tech 29 to 14. Headlining this week's action will be the clash between Clemson and Wake Forest. Two of the nation's top quarterbacks, Clemson's Shingler and Wake Forest's Snead, will be matched in that contest.

Carolina, who piled up a total of 91 points to 0 in the final two games of the '59 season will go against N. C. State. Duke, whose first team will see many newcomers this season, will be matched against South Carolina at Columbia.

HPC INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

As the curtain arises on ACC football, so it also rises on HPC intramural football. Since High Point College is without a varsity football squad, much interest is shown by students in the intramural football league.

Last year's champions, the TKES are expected to be the team to beat once again this season. Also in strong contention for the championship will be the Theta Chi and Delta Sigs.

WATCHING THE WORLD SERIES ON TV?

Thanks to TV, millions of baseball fans will be watching the World Series in October. Watching baseball on TV is different from watching it in the flesh; but with a few simple, practical tips on what to look for, you'll be surprised at how much more you'll find to see, understand, and enjoy.

Fans often look for the big things and lose a great deal of fun by overlooking the small details. For example, when a game begins and the first batter moves into position, you'll often see him stop to knock dirt from his cleats. This is often a cover for an unobtrusive look at the fields, to see how they are playing him.

Quite often you'll see the catcher walk out to the pitcher for a conference. He may be reminding the pitcher of some special hitting peculiarities of the batter, or he may be just trying to settle the pitcher down.

Watch for signals, which are continuously being flashed by the managers, coaches, and even the players. If there is a runner on first, you may get a TV close-up of the short stop and second baseman bringing their gloves over their faces before each pitch. This is no idle gesture: they're probably hiding a signal—mouth open or closed—to indicate which of them will cover second base on a particular pitch.

You will soon discover that baseball is an intricate game, filled with many strategic moves. But you must be alert for the most subtle details that can mean the difference between a pleasant viewing experience and a really exciting one.

And thus it is...

Arthur Mail, of England, has been quoted as saying after running 100 miles non-stop: "I must be crazy."

New Coach

By HARRY C. SMITH

A new addition to our coaching staff this year is Mr. Frank Hassell. He will be head track coach and will help with basketball.

Mr. Hassell is a native of High Point. He graduated from Lenoir Rhyne where he played basketball. For the past five years he taught in N. C. public high schools. He now lives here in High Point with his wife, two sons, and a daughter.

When asked what he thought about the prospects of this year's track team he said, "I don't know too much about the track squad here, but I understand we had a good team last year." Mr. Hassell also said, "We want to run a track program which will give an opportunity for more students to participate."

Athletic Head Likes New HPC Post

The Athletic Department is now headed by Jim Hamilton of Pittsburgh, Kansas.

He attended Pittsburgh State College, the University of North Carolina, and George Peabody College. As a newcomer to the High Point area, he comments that his new job at HPC "is a good place to work."

This semester he is teaching the following physical education courses: 211, 217, 304, 436, 313, and 107.

He, his wife, and two children, ages ten and seven, are residing at 911 West College Drive.

Pennant Race Looms

By BERGIE HATCHER

As the major league baseball season heads into its final two weeks, the players on all the contending clubs are casting their eyes on World Series' checks.

The American League has a three-way race between the Yankees, Orioles and White Sox. The Pittsburgh Pirates appear to have the flag all wrapped up from the Cardinals and Braves in the National.

Pittsburg is quite a noisy place these days, with the entire city steamed up over the play of the Bucs. "Beam 'em, Bucs" is a slogan found on bumper stickers in the steel city. The Bucs fight song blares day and night over Pittsburg's TV and radio stations. World Series tickets are selling like hot cakes. Sermons are preached and editorials written on the wonderful Pirates. There are railroad and steel strikes in the city, but who cares? The Pirates are on their way to their first pennant since 1927.

The Bucs success this year has been a team effort all the way. It took comebacks by Bob Friend, Bill Mageroski, Bob Skinner, Bill Virdon, and Roberto Clemente. It took some smart trading by General Manager Joe E. Brown. Brown acquired Wilmer Mizell and Gino Cimoli from the Tigers, and Hall Smith from the A's. Mizell has joined with Vernon Law, Bob Friend, and Harvey Haddix to give the Bucs four outstanding starting pitchers. Labine has done a wonderful job in the bull pen behind Ray Face and Fred Green. Smith has aided Smokey Burgess with the catching and has a particular knack for hitting the ball over the Los Angeles' "Chinese Wall." Cimoli has been outstanding as an utility outfielder.

Dick Stuart has been the club's top home run threat, with Rocky Nelson backing him up on first base. Don Hoek is the team's sparkplug and a fierce competitor. But the captain and shortstop of the club, Dick Groat, probably has done more than any other individual in the Pirates' drive.

Dick is a team player all the way and very adept at the hit and run play. Groat was a candidate for MVP award and way leading the league in hits when he suffered a broken wrist against Milwaukee, September 6. He was replaced by Dick Schofield and may miss the series.

The credit for molding the team together and getting the best out of every player goes to the Irish skipper, Don Martaugo. He has shown the harshest critics that the Pirates mean business.

Meanwhile, the Yankees, Orioles, and White Sox are prepared to go right down to the wire. The Orioles, a young team, are really tearing down the stretch. Chuck Estrada, Milt Pappas, Jack Fisher, Skinny Brown (from Winston-Salem, N. C.), Steve Barber, and Hoyt Wilhelm are the pitching heroes. Jim Gentile, Ron Hanson, and big Gus Triunlos give the club power to go with one of the best defensive clubs in baseball.

The big bat of Ray Sievera has played a big part in the White Sox's drive. The come-back of Herb Score has taken some of the pitching burden of Early Wynn, Billy Pierce, and Bob Show. Newcomers Gene Freeze and Minnie Minoso have also helped.

Whitey Ford, Bob Furley, Jim Coates, and Art Ditman must do a yeoman's job of pitching if the Yankees are to win this year. The big bars of Roger More, Mickey Mantel, Bill Showson, and Yogi Bena are the Yanks' best asset.

POLL

(Continued from Page 1)

27. 47% of the students feel that in many courses little effort is required to get by.
46% of the students disagree.
6% of the students were undecided.

28. 93% of the students feel that there should be at least two reading days between and end of classes and the beginning of exams.
4% of the students said there should not be.
3% of the students were undecided.

29. 67% of the students feel that sororities are good influence.
10% of the students said they were not.
23% of the students were undecided.

30. 62% of the students feel that fraternities are a good influence.
15% of the students said they were not.
23% of the students were undecided.

31. 60% of the students feel that there is insufficient opportunity for social activities, especially on week ends.
21% of the students disagree.
19% of the students are undecided.

32. 26% of the students feel that the cafeteria serves good, well balanced meals.
36% of the students feel they do not.
38% of the students are undecided.

33. 16% of the students feel that the college medical facilities are adequate.
48% of the students feel they are not.
36% of the students are undecided.

34. 30% of the students feel there is insufficient emphasis on religion.
58% of the students disagree.
13% of the students are undecided.

35. 73% of the students favor the bookstore staying open more hours.
8% of the students were not in favor of doing this.
13% of the students were undecided.

36. 50% of the student body feel that the college should have no jurisdiction over the off-campus activities.
39% of the student body said they should.
11% of the students were undecided.

37. 36% of the students feel the dormitory in which they live is run adequately.
27% of the students feel it is not.
33% of the students were undecided.

38. 74% of the student body feel that men's dormitory should be given top priority in future campus expansion.
7% of the students disagree.

HAVE YOU NOTICED?

Paving of parking lot.
New drive by Woman's Hall.
Paving of West College Drive.
Repairing of towers.
Remodeling and refurbishing of A and B sections of men's dorm.
New house mothers.
New assistant nurse.
Change in cafeteria serving lines.
New locks on room doors in Woman's Hall.
Silence of sorority women in the presence of freshmen girls.

19% of the students were undecided.

39. 34% of the student body feel the religious center should be given top priority.
48% of the students disagree.
decided.

18% of the students were undecided.

40. 80% of the students feel that classroom facilities in Robert's Hall are inadequate and should be improved.
10% of the students feel they are adequate.
10% of the students were undecided.

41. 48% of the students feel the science lab facilities are adequate.
25% of the students disagree.
27% of the students are undecided.

42. 80% of the students feel the gym is adequate.
14% of the students feel the gym is inadequate.
6% of the students were undecided.

43. 76% of the students feel that the library staff is helpful and cooperative.
14% of the students feel that it is not.
10% of the students were undecided.

44. 72% of the students feel that the library is a good place to study.
18% of the students feel it is not.
10% of the students were undecided.

45. 76% of the students think that the library stacks should be open to students.
14% of the students think they should not.
10% of the students were undecided.

46. 16% of the students feel that weekly assembly programs are challenging and helpful.
69% of the students said they were not.
15% of the students were undecided.

47. 57% of the students are in favor of receiving credit for assembly.
30% of the students were not.
13% of the students were undecided.

48. 88% of the students agree that assembly program should be more varied.
6% of the students said no.
6% of the students were undecided.

49. 64% of the students are in favor of the honor system.
20% of the students do not favor the honor system.
16% of the students were undecided.

50. 13% of the students would cheat on an exam if given a chance.
72% of the students would not.
15% of the students were undecided.

51. 2.5% of the students would cheat on an exam with the honor system.
90% of the students would not cheat.
7.5% of the students were undecided.

CANNON-FETZER
MEN'S CLOTHING
158 South Main

Look Familiar?

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"NO YOU CAN'T TAKE ENGLISH AS FULFILLMENT OF YOUR FOREIGN LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT!"

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"WHEN I SAID GET YOUR CARDS—I MEANT YOUR CLASS CARDS!"

Frosh Write Thoughts After First Week Here I LIKE IT!

By RONNY COVEY

Now that much of the dust has settled from all the hubbub of first week riddles, I am sure that most freshmen have formed an opinion of the High Point College campus.

In choosing a college, I had an opportunity to visit numerous colleges and universities in both the North and South. A great many persons wonder why I, hauling from Md., came so far to college. In simple terms, the one main factor for final choice is the impression the campus and its occupants make on the freshmen to be.

The campus of this college isn't the largest or possibly even the prettiest of those I encountered. However, what it lacks in size and exterior qualities, High Point makes it up in other more important things. There exists a friendly atmosphere between all the student body. The upperclassmen seem to be right there, delighted and willing to help in any way possible. This, I might add, really assists we freshmen in becoming adjusted to college life and taking us out of the category of "green horns."

Another point I recognized and one which I sometimes take for granted, is the food. I feel sure the food here is far superior in quality and choice; something which is rarely found in such institutions of learning.

Although we haven't had much of a chance actually to encounter the long arm of the law, in both administration and teaching, I believe I am safe in saying that the majority of instructors impressed me as being very experienced and proficient in their respective fields.

Now I come to a part upon which you may or may not agree. I am speaking of the appearance of the campus itself. As I said before, it isn't the most elaborate one in the world, however, it has a quality that outshines an elaborate scheme. High Point has simplicity. I don't mean the college was founded by some rustic, artless-minded professor offering degrees in simpleness. What I am implicating is merely that the campus has plain but eye catching beauty.

After looking over this article, I believe I as well as the rest of the freshmen will have a very enjoyable and successful year on the High Point campus.

MASS CONFUSION DESCRIBES IT ALL

By HAN-ER GRIFFIN

September 12, 1960

A. Got up too early but figured we had better find cafeteria since we missed evening meal the day before.

B. Auditorium — given welcomes and speeches.

C. English placements not as pleasing — After much confusion about lap boards and pencils, we found we had seven sections to complete by making cross marks over numbers corresponding to what we considered correct answers — we could just imagine the number of red marks placed by the professors beside our answers.

D. Soda Shop — doughnuts and cokes.

E. Lunch — not hungry but good way to meet people. Realized we only recognized faces — didn't remember names.

F. Assembly — auditorium — told many changes and rules regulating the beans.

G. Psychological test — never knew how many questions can be asked words, numbers, squares, and circles.

H. French and Spanish placements — feeling pretty jolly from tiredness.

I. Back to rooms to discuss pencil marks and cross marks.

J. Night more pleasure — street dance in front of Robert's Hall.

K. Now, however, we are beginning to laugh at our stupid moves but certainly we deserved the remarks we often heard while passing upperclassmen, "Oh well, they are just 'Green Frosh'."

"GOSSIP TOWN"

Have you ever heard of Gossip Town,
On the shores of Falsehood Bay,
Where old Dame Rumor, with rustling gown,
Is going the livelong day?

It isn't far to Gossip Town,
For people who want to go;
The Idleness Train will take you down
In just an hour or so.

The Thoughtless Road is a popular route,
And most folks start that way,
But it's steep down grade; if you don't watch out
You will land in Falsehood Bay.

You glide through the Valley of Vicious Talk,
And into the tunnel of Hate,
Then crossing the Add-to Bridge you walk
Right into the city gate.

The principal street is called "They Say,"
And "I've Heard" is the public well,
And the breezes that blow from Falsehood Bay
Are laden with "Don't you tell."

In the midst of the town is "Tell-Tale Park;"
You're never quite safe while there.
For its owner is Madame "Suspicious Remark,"
Who lives on the street "Don't Care."

Just back of the park is Slander Row;
'Twas there that Good Name died,
Pierced by a dart from Jealousy's bow,
In the hands of Envious Pride,

From Gossip Town peace long since fled,
But envy and strife and woe,
And sorrow and care you'll find instead
If there ever you chance to go.

—Selected.

CLUB CAPERS

FELLOWSHIP TEAMS SCHEDULE FALL PROGRAM

The High Point College Fellowship Teams, which each year travel to many towns in North Carolina, have announced their fall schedule. There will be five training sessions, followed by a service of dedication and Holy Communion on October 25.

The schedule is as follows:

September 23 (Friday)—Fellowship Team Retreat. This year the retreat will be held at the Main Street Methodist Church from four to eight o'clock. Everyone interested in joining a fellowship team is invited to attend this evening of fellowship. A bus will leave Roberts Hall at 3:45 for the church, where supper will be served, followed by recreation and worship.

October 4. First training session. Theme: Recreation Planning. Speaker will be Rev. Troy Barrett.

October 6. Second training session. Theme: Unit Planning. Speaker will be Miss Lena Davis, Director of Religious Education at the Main Street Methodist Church in High Point.

October 11. An evening with emphasis on Hymn Singing and Long-Range Planning. Dr. William R. Locke of the college staff will lead the group in the use of Hymns in Fellowship Teams, while the speaker on the Long-Range Planning will be Miss Martha Turnipseed, Director of Religious Education at Burkhead Methodist Church in Winston-Salem.

October 13. A former fellowship team chairman at High Point College, Miss Betty Gray Dorman, will speak on the value of Fellowship Singing, and will lead the group in the singing of several fellowship team songs.

October 18. For the final session in the training period series, Willie Lou Hodges, former fellowship teams chairman and now a Director of Religious Education, will come from Chapel Hill to speak on the Use and Planning of Worship.

The announcement of team chairmen and members will be made on October 25, followed immediately by the Dedication Service for the fellowship teams, which includes a service of Holy Communion. Performing the latter service will be the Rev. Bill Buckley, Associate Minister of Wesley Memorial Methodist Church in High Point. He will be assisted by Dr. Locke and Dr. Walter Hudgins.

The Fellowship Team Planning Committee, which has planned the above schedule, is looking forward to a successful year, and hopes that everyone interested in serving on one of the teams will attend the retreat on September 25.

Serving on this committee are the following students: Betty Lou Williams, chairman; Patti Colliver, Pat Yokley, Karan Carpenter, Larry Maxwell, Sherwood Nance, and Pat Peterson. Faculty Advisors are Miss Clarice Bowman and Dr. Locke.

METHODIST STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

Centered around the theme "The Church's Mission in the Academic Community," the Methodist Student Fellowship has completed its program plans for the first semester.

The theme involves the nature and task of the college and the calling of the church. Programs are designed not only to provide a well-rounded religious program for the student, but also to challenge him and to provoke his thinking. The Methodist Student Fellowship is excited about its new theme, and it encourages all students to take part in the development of the theme which promises to be unusually interesting.

The following programs have been planned: September 21—Fellowship, food, and worship at City Lake; September 28—Tommy Langford of Duke University to speak about the nature and the tasks of the college.

October 5—Study groups centered around the theme with Don Drapeau, Dale Brown, and Brooks Garnett as group leaders; October 12—Study groups continued; October 19—Guest speaker to further elaborate on the theme; October 26—Dr. Patton and members of the Board of Trustees to come and give ideas about what they believe to be the purpose of a college.

November 2—Fellowship party; November 9—Plan for Fall Retreat; November 12-13—Fall Retreat; November 16—Program to be given by the Wesley Foundation from A & T College in Greensboro; November 30—Guest speaker to give views about the calling of the church.

December 7—Study groups centered around the second part of the theme, "The Calling of the Church;" December 14—Study groups continued followed by a Christmas worship service.

SNEA

Thursday afternoon the SNEA (Student National Education Association) entertained all members and interested persons at a tea in the Student Center from 3:30 - 5:00 P.M.

The table was spread with fruit punch and party sandwiches. Displays of interest about the SNEA and coming programs were placed throughout the room. Dr. Dennis Cook, head of the Education Department, and Dr. Dan Cooke mingled among those present. Miss Ruth Worthington and Gaye Wall, President of SNEA, alternated at the punch bowl.

The next meeting of the SNEA will be Monday, October 10.

THE FRESHMAN STORY

By BROOKS GARNETT

This story begins when a high school senior scrambles through his mail and comes across a letter from High Point College.

"Dear Sir: We are happy to inform you that you have been accepted for the 1960-61 academic year . . ."

From then on, that student has the security of knowing where he'll be the next year, and the spirit of "Look out, HPC, I'm coming!" soon stirs.

During the summer months, freshmen becomes a steady correspondent with the college administration. He finds out such details as how many times he has to be punctured with booster shots, how much money his father would have to borrow from the bank to make expenses meet for tuition, whether he lived in a green or pink room—as well as the number of windows, who the lucky person was who would have to look at his messy housekeeping all year, and how many clubs welcomed him and wanted his membership (along with his membership fees, "magic marker talent," and cooperation on dirty work.)

The month of August flips up on the calendar, and time for the "drudgery tasks" begin. Mothers become automatic "name-tag sewers-on." "Should I put name tags on my socks? My shower cap? My laundry bag?" queries the future freshman.

Fathers become the cronic hearers of "But, Daddy-O, dear, I don't have a thing to wear!" For girls, a modish wardrobe complete with above-the-knee-dimple hemlines, shoes with pointed toes (with which someone could stab an enemy by kicking him), and fuzzy fur jackets (no home-grown products allowed).

Last minute bustling for toothpaste, no-doze, a waste-basket that looks collegiate, "irresistible to the opposite sex" shaving lotion, coat-hangers, and other minute but necessary details are rounded up in early September.

With mothers loosing all hopes for any organization in packing and feeling sure that her darling will come home without all his belongings, and fathers mentally swearing in anguish for the need of a two-ton transfer truck, his "car-cramming process" begins.

Arriving on campus, usually after three or four wrong turns, the "entrails of the car trunk" are piled out. Mustering up all masculine strength, pooped papas trudge up and down the narrow steps in Woman's Hall with wide trunks, while other fathers (and sons) try to figure out where all "the mess" is going to be put in the McCulloch Hall "cubby-holes."

Boys brandishing orientation tags on their sharp Ivy-League clothes politely welcome all the bewildered but excited families in the right direction. Mothers stutter confused orders to their off-spring such as "Now be yourself" or "Now remember what I told you about these college men, dear." While absent mindly running around in circles.

Heaps of clothes, boxes, luggage, food baskets, shoe trees, plastic bags, and other apparatus is unfolded along with the lamps and rugs and bedspreads.

For several days, a continuous search goes on for the blue shirt that was in the wastebasket or the notebook paper in the cosmetic kit.

Being a freshman takes stamina, strength, (and money). Registration lines, dormitory tirades after eleven o'clock in the evening, bearing purple and white beanies (which never match anything except one's complexion after flunking his first exam), is all an ordeal . . . but ain't it fun?

OKAY-WORDS

ORIENTATION AND RUSH WEEK

WELL-ROUNDED PERSON — What your college catalogue says they hope to make of you, and orientation speakers keep exhorting you to be.

DO YOU KNOW?—The most popular collegiate opening gambit, used either to ask, "Are you like us, our kind?" or simply to use up the time until the next person appears.

WHAT'S YOUR MAJOR — Like above, or a way of determining how seriously one is going to take his studies, whether he is going to be an egg-head, a grind, or a goof off.

SHARP—A catch-all expression defying precise definition but indicating approval.

WE'LL SEE YOU AROUND — A polite farewell meaning "no need to come back."

CUT SESSION—The grubby process of weeding out unwanted rush-ees, usually by not too flattering means; also used to describe any conversation or bull session containing extensive personal criticism.

HATCHET MAN — That friendly, congenial guy assigned to escort "undesirable" rush-ees out the side door.

"Back to the grindstone!" Gail browses through the library book shelves for parallel reading for freshman history.

A Yankee (Gail is from New Jersey) and a Rebel (Bobby Bracken is from Raleigh) forget the Civil War and attend HPC's first big affair.

Ann Bowman, an orientation member, reaches out to help Gail Geyer on the long trek to her new room for the year.

Three new members of the "Mickey Mouse Fan Club"—(l. to r.) Butch Bartlett, Ronnie Seawell, and Gail, converse around the steps of Roberts Hall. Could they be counting the days to Thanksgiving?

"Oh, me, where do I start?" ponders Gail after a hard and busy day during orientation week. The books, clothes, and stuffed animals seem to pile up—like homework soon will be doing.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

PINNED: Zane Daniel to Sandra Parnell; Tommy Skidmore to Diane Hicks; Ray Sheppard to Becky Hedgecock; Jim Hightower to Meriam Smith.

MARRIED: Joe Morris to Barbara Blackwell; Ken Foddrell to Nancy Bost; George Smith to Margaret Smith on October 15.

BEACH PARTY: Delta Kappa Chapter held its summer beach party immediately following school.

NEW CHAPTER: Theta Beta Chapter at Belmont Abbey College rounds out 167 active chapters in National TKE.

DEATH: National Fraternity mourns the death of founder Clarence E. Mayer.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

CONGRATULATIONS: To brothers Danny Sewell, Steve Bowers, and Beauford Overstreet on their summer weddings.

WELCOME: To Bill Trevaro, the new Sig Ep from the University of Connecticut.

CAMPUS OFFICERS: Vance Davis, President of the SGA; Jimmy Edwards, Vice President of the SGA; Chuck Miller, President of the Band; and Charlie Price, President of the Choir.

BEST WISHES: To Charlie Holcombe who is returning to seminary at Emory University in Atlanta, Ga.

THETA CHI

ELECTED: Joseph Ross of Ashboro, National President of OX.

PINNED: Don Schmitt to Terry Harrison who is a Sophomore at Lynchburg College at Lynchburg, Va. Miss Harrison was one of those selected by the Brothers to be part of OX Dream-girl Court of Honor.

ENGAGED: Ross Smith to Grace Jensen, who graduated from High Point College this past spring. Miss Jensen is also a Sister of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

WEDDING BELLS: For alumnae Delbert Kirkman who has married Cila Williford on the 25th of September. Congratulations, Delbert!

PARTIES: Following the close of school this past spring, the Brothers and Pledges of Theta Chi and their dates spent a few days at Myrtle Beach "convalescing." Pledge Cox gave a birthday party, celebrating his 21st, for OX and "friends."

INITIATION: Gary Davis and Walter Schenck were initiated into the brotherhood recently.

MASON-DIXON JUBILEE: Will be held at Wake Forest this year.

WELCOME: Is extended to all new students and faculty members. Theta Chi hopes that each of you will enjoy High Point College and have a successful year. Good Luck!

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

PINNED: Brother Carroll Hawkins to Miss Anne Seidel; brother Jerry Humble to Miss Joan Jansen.

MARRIED: Brother Charles Johnson to Miss Kathy Traywick; brother Bill Thompson to Miss LaRae Mosely.

TO BE INITIATED: Pledges Don Cashion, Johnny Long, Jim Grant, Eugene Blake and Marvin Ferebee.

RETURNED: Brother Paul Murphy after a long absence.

PLANNED: The annual autumn steak fry at the farm of brother Fred Cox. Brother Gene Buchanan to act as toastmaster.

NOTES AND MUSINGS: Brother Dale Brown awarded Dalton scholarship; brother Jack Short shines in Indiana Summer League.

ELECTED: Brother Norman Stephens Rush chairman; brother Tony Lasala secretary.

It's All Greek

DELTA SIGMA PHI

RETURNED: The brothers and pledges of the Delta Sigma Phi have returned and anticipate another fine year.

MARRIED: Kirk Rich to Rhonda Malpass; Ronald Black to Ramona Phillips; Dick Vert to Peggy Tally; Max Cox to Frances Sanders; Charlie Riddle to Carolyn Gibbs.

PINNED: Tom Ferguson pinned Judy Fisher.

PARTIES: Informal date party will be held at Mareitta Club House Saturday, September 24, at 7:30.

SERENADES: Delta Sigs serenaded Ramona Phillips, Rhonda Malpass, and Frances Sanders who were recently married to Ron Black, Kirk Rich, and Max Cox.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

CONVENTION: This summer Pi Kappa Alpha members of the world gathered in Miami Beach, Florida for National Convention. The High Point chapter was represented by Bill Guy and Harold McDaniels.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES: On Saturday evening, the 17 of September, many High Point pikas traveled to Wake Forest College to attend open house which was given as welcome back party for the pikas of this area.

PINNED: Tony Benge pinned Betty Beauchamp; Fred Handy pinned Jane Crowson.

MARRIED: Ed Venable married Miss Laura Jane Malpass; Jack Zimmerman married Miss Carol Overstreet.

PHI MU

BEACH TRIP: Twenty sisters and pledges enjoyed a week at Myrtle Beach at the close of school.

MARRIAGES THIS SUMMER: Shelby Williams to Danny Sewell; Sylvia Deaton to Bobby Sims; Doris Tally to Ronald Lucas; Peggy Talley to Dick Vert.

NATIONAL CONVENTION: Held in St. Louis, Mo. in June. High Point chapter chosen one of top three chapters in nation; received award (a silver bowl) for the best financial improvement during past year. Gamma Zeta's delegate Libby Graham in top five of Carnation Queen contest. Brenda Dellinger initiated at the convention.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

BEACH TRIP: This summer twenty Alpha Gams attended Myrtle Beach home party.

VISITOR: Dotti Ehrhart from Wheaton, Ill. nois, Second Grand vice president of the National Fraternity, will be visiting High Point College Alpha Gams September 28.

HONORS: Jackie Creech secretary of student government. Becky Jarvis president of Panhellenic council. Gloria Teague secretary of Women's Dormitory council. Yvonne Vaughan head cheerleader, vice-president of Baptist student union; and secretary of junior class. Gave Wall president of the National Educational association. Eunice Young elected Activity Girl of Province II, her picture was featured in quarterly. Eunice is also editor of the Zenith.

MARRIAGES: Jenny Patton married to Lou Wagoner in July. Jennie Currie and Billy Covington announced their marriage.

OTHER SUMMER BRIDES: Peggy Davis, Helen Mounce, and Eleanor Davis.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

CONVENTION: Lorna Dixon delegate at Zeta Tau Alpha Convention in Quebec, Canada this June.

MYRTLE BEACH: Eighteen Zetas spent the first week of summer vacation at Myrtle Beach.

MARRIAGES: Pat Wycoff to Bill Baker, August 27 in Salem, Ohio. Frances Ann Lewis to Bobby Franklin Scott, August 6.

ENGAGED: Grace Jensen to Ross Smith. Helen Clay, last year's president, also engaged and plans an October wedding.

MISSIONARY: Pat Olmstead, June graduate of High Point College, left August for three years of missionary work in Japan. She will teach English in Tokyo Woman's Christian College.

TRANSFERS: Marie Powell to Maryland University. Barbara Perry to University of North Carolina Nursing School.

VISITOR: Mrs. Helms, province president, to visit Delta Gamma chapter in October.

Women's Rush Announced

The High Point College Panhellenic Council has announced that formal rush for women will begin on Sunday, September 25, at a tea at the Panhellenic House, which is located at 905 Montlieu Avenue.

A pre-rush discussion will be held Friday night, September 23, in the Student Center for all freshmen, transfer, and other students who are interested in rush. At this time each sorority president will inform interested rushees of her sorority. Panhellenic wishes to urge all non-Greek women to attend this meeting in order that they may learn more about Greek life; therefore have a more informed background to enable them to decide whether or not to enter rush.

CONTESTS SCHEDULED

MAID OF COTTON

A college campus is a good place to look for Maid of Cotton candidates.

That's the belief of the National Cotton Council, which conducts an annual search for a young beauty to represent a great agricultural industry on an international fashion and good will tour.

The contest is now officially open, the council announces, for the 1961 Maid of Cotton, who will be the American cotton industry's 22nd representative. Of the 21 former Maids, all but one have been college coeds or recent graduates at the time of their selection.

It's also a widely accepted fact that the majority of college coeds rate high in personality, intelligence, beauty, and background. These are the qualities the cotton industry looks for in its Maid of Cotton.

Twenty finalists will be named to compete in Memphis, Tennessee, December 28 and 29. Four state Maid of Cotton winners from Alabama, California, New Mexico, and the South Plains area of Texas will automatically be included in the group. Other finalists will be selected from individual applications mailed to the Council's Memphis office.

To be eligible to enter the contest, a girl must have been born in one of the 18 cotton-producing states, must be between 18 and 25 years old, must be at least five feet, five inches tall, and must never have been married.

The girl who wins the 1961 Maid of Cotton title will succeed Candra Lee Jennings of Riverside, California. Sandra has returned to her studies as a sophomore at the University of California. She plans to follow a career in fashion designing.

The 1961 Maid of Cotton will travel coast to coast in the United States and also will visit key Canadian and European cities. Everywhere she goes, she'll meet high government officials, cotton industry leaders, and other dignitaries. Wearing the latest cotton fashions, she'll pose for newspaper and magazine photographers and appear on radio and television.

Official entry blanks may be obtained from the National Cotton Council, Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tennessee.

MADEMOISELLE

Mademoiselle magazine announces that its 1960-61 College Board Contest is now open to women undergraduates under 26 years old who are regularly enrolled in an accredited college or junior college. The contest offers a chance at winning one of 20 Guest Editorships—a month on the staff of MADEMOISELLE.

To try out for membership on the College Board a girl may write a criticism (1,200 words or more) of the editorial section of a current issue of MADEMOISELLE or depict in words or drawings the follies of her campus. (For other suggestions write to the magazine.) You will be notified by January 1, 1961, whether your tryout has been accepted.

Each college board member will do one assignment for MADEMOISELLE. The list of assignments to choose from will appear in the January issue of MADEMOISELLE. There will be a variety of selections, so a girl will be able to pick one that best suits her interests. (Prizes will be given for both tryouts and assignments.)

College board members who come out among the top twenty on the tryout and assignment win a salaried month (June) in New York as Guest Editors on the staff of MADEMOISELLE.

Campus Profile:

BELLE FROM MOUNT AIRY

Legend has it that the hills of North Carolina hold much for the anticipating tourist in terms of adventure, mystery, and beauty. We shall choose the latter to first identify Miss Yvonne Vaughn, but indeed that is only the beginning for a wealth of personality, poise, and amiability take over immediately.

It was just three years ago that "Von" came down from the hills to the grasslands to major in English, and since that time our girl has done better than par for the course. From her very first days on campus Von has been one of our most vibrant personalities. Her freshman year saw her elected a class senator and a cheerleader. As a sophomore she continued to spell bind our most eligible bachelors and still found time to take an active part in sophomore class functions and the Baptist Student Union. This, her junior year finds Von secretary of the junior class, chief cheerleader, and vice-president of B.S.U.

And yet we must once more bet for a beauty contest on or off our campus. Since her first days at High Point, our girl has been elected to virtually every beauty pageant held, serving in the May and Miss High Point Courts and highlighted by her selection as Homecoming Queen and North State Conference Queen in 1959.

This past summer, "Von" worked in her older brother's restaurant in California. She was featured as a singer in several of the surrounding nightclubs during her stay in California. Even though she held a busy working schedule, Von found time to go to Camp Playmore, founded by Coach Yow, where she worked with the cheerleaders.

Ironically enough, autumn found a somewhat homesick young lady eager and waiting for school to open. Now that she is here, Von lists studies and sorority work in Alpha Gamma Delta to be her two most consuming interests, but we are sure she will find room for a date or two. If you happen to be one of those many unfortunates who called too late, you can always head for the hills of North Carolina, only to find that her sister is married.

YVONNE VAUGHN

Attend the Harvest Bonfire
TONIGHT

The Hi-PO

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF HIGH POINT COLLEGE

Vol. XXXV, No. 2

High Point, N. C.

October 29, 1960

Look
For the Coming of a Student Faculty
Basketball Game!!

18 HPC Seniors Named Who's Who

Eighteen members of the senior class at High Point College have been selected for national recognition in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

These seniors were selected by a committee composed of three students (President and Vice President of the Student Government Association, and President of the Day Students) and three members of the faculty.

William Dale Brown: President Freshman Class; Treasurer SGA; 3, 4; Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity; IFC President 4; Order Lighted Lamp; Junior Marshal.

Lillian Jacqueline Creech: Order Lighted Lamp; House of Representatives; Secretary SGA; Alpha Delta Theta; Student NEA; Student Congress; Alpha Gamma Delta Activity Chairman; Miss Zenith finalist; Canterbury Club; Treasurer of Dorm; Alpha Gamma Delta.

Edwin Vance Davis: President SGA; Student Legislature Speaker Pro-Tem; Student Congress 1, 2, Junior Marshal; Treasurer Sophomore Class; Order Lighted Lamp; Kappa Chi; Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity Chaplain.

Donald Alexander Drapeau: Choir, Vice-President, Business Manager; Tower Players 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President SGA; House of Representatives, Parliamentarian, Speaker Pro Tem, Speaker; President Senate, Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity, Social Chairman, Rush Chairman, Vice-President Student Christian Association; Vice-President Senior Class; Vice-President Sophomore Class; President's Advisory Council; Orientation Committee 2, 3, 4; High Point College Chief Delegate to North State SGA; Chief Junior Marshal; MSF 1, 2, 3, 4.

Doris Elizabeth Graham: House of Representatives; Secretary of Phi Mu Pledge Class; Outstanding Phi Mu Pledge; Secretary Sophomore Class; Secretary Student Congress; Fellowship teams; Westminister Fellowship; Junior Marshal; President Tower Players; Treasurer Phi Mu; President Phi Mu; Delegate to National Phi Mu Convention; Miss Zenith Contestant; May Queen Contestant; Choir; Orientation Committee; Panhellenic Council; Future Teachers of America; Miss HPC Contestant; Phi Mu Carnation Queen Contestant; Jr.-Sr. Prom Committee; Phi Mu Activity Chairman.

Rebecca Imogene Jarvis: President Panhellenic; Alpha Gamma Delta Social Chairman, Rush Chairman; Student NEA; House of Representatives; Student Congress; MSF; Secretary of Junior Class; Fellowship Team; Alpha Delta Theta.

Ruby Ellen Julian: MSF; Student Congress; Alt. Student Legislature; Intramurals, Co-Manager; Contribution to Intramural Award; Physical Ed. Majors Club, Secretary, President; Fellowship Team; National Methodist Scholarship; Alpha Delta Theta; Junior Marshal; Dean's List; Donitory Council, Head Proctor.

(Continued on Page 4)

President Wendell Patton chats with (l. to r.) Pat Yokley, Ann Bowman, and Betty Johnson, representatives of Alpha Delta Theta Service Sorority. This organization was the first one on campus to give their approval of "Education for Leadership," and is planning a demonstration "brainstorming" session with Dr. Patton to be open to all HPC students. This session is to help students understand this phase of leadership training.

HPC Excited About Leadership Plans

After months of study and research, Dr. Wendell Patton, president of the college, suggested that HPC develop its potentials by integrating "Education for Leadership" in its program.

This program for leadership is just beginning development. Only a few graduate schools have any programs available in this area.

Psychologists have just scratched the surfaces on new ideas in leadership including sensitivity training, group dynamics, decision making, leadership principles, brainstorming, and creativity.

The Board of Trustees, the Faculty, and the Student Government Association at High Point College have given their unanimous support of this program. Ideas are sparking about possible steps that HPC may take.

Suggestions have been made that HPC can build the best library on leadership in the country within two years time.

With appropriate funds, HPC could hire top experts in this field to come to the campus and co-ordinate the program.

Voluntary leadership training sessions may be made available to students for their personal development.

Patton is planning a November visit to New York to include interviews with representatives of Ford Foundation, Norman Vincent Peale, Zeckendorf and other top officials in varying fields to discuss this new idea for HPC.

A pamphlet about the Education for Leadership program states: "Any college—old or young, large or small—must have a living personality separate and distinct from all others. This is what makes it worthy of its name. This personality, this individuality should be deeply rooted in its philosophy and objectives, and revealed through its actions. We want our public to know what we are and what we believe . . . by accepting the fundamental task of 'Educating the Students of Today to be the Leaders of Tomorrow.'"

Nixon & Gavin Win in HPC Poll

After an informal debate between six High Point students in assembly, the HI-PO sponsored a poll among students which tallied with Nixon and Gavin having the top numbers of votes.

Nixon was represented in the debate by Nancy Gillespie, Jerry Kyle, and Don Drapeau. Kennedy's point of view was presented by Al Neal, Allen Sharpe, and Daryl McQuire.

HPC students gave Nixon a 35 vote lead with 369 votes for Nixon, 334 for Kennedy.

Gavin won a larger majority of student votes with a total of 359 over Sanford's 250. Only N. C. students voted in the gubernatorial selection.

New Organ Arrives in Fine Arts Dept.

Wednesday September 28, saw the arrival of a new organ for the Fine Arts Departments and auditorium. The new organ will replace the three rank M. P. Moller organ which has served the auditorium and Fine Arts Department inadequately since 1956. The new organ is an Allen transistor organ-which means that the tone is produced electrically. There are five speakers for the organ and four of these speakers will be placed in the wall on both sides of the stage, but the fifth speaker will be transportable on the stage. The new Allen has quite a variety of tonal qualities ranging from a 1' Flute to a 32' Resonant.

The Moller will be moved downstairs to the choir room where it will serve as a practice organ for organ students. The consoles of the Allen as well as that of the Moller will be set upon "dolloes" to enable them to be in convenient places at all times.

The new Allen will be especially beneficial to the Music Department in its presentation of student recitals.

All students are urged to attend these student recitals which are given periodically.

Psychology Tests To Aid Guidance

This year marks the first year that High Point College has had a separate counselling department. This job had been tackled previously by the Dean of Students.

The first step in counselling is to understand and know the student in general; his likes, dislikes, and strong and weak points. In so doing, Mr. Whicker, the new guidance counselor, administered a battery of tests to all freshmen and transfer students during Orientation week.

The general purpose of these exams was to find out something about each person in order that the guidance director and the students could form a sound foundation for the future.

With the exception of the English and French placement exams, this will be the first year for the presentation of four psychology tests. The tests include: (1) The California Study Methods Survey, which measures organization and planning, mechanics of study and the attitude toward academic endeavor, (2) the California Personal Inventory, which checks social and personal adjustment, (3) The Kuder Preference Record, which shows interests, (4) The American Council on Education Psychological Examination, which reveals general abilities.

After the assembling of the information is completed, Whicker plans to give each person an evaluation of his or her abilities and interests. He hopes that this information will aid the student. However, Whicker made clear that no one test indicates what a person can or cannot do. A test is only an indication of what a person does on that particular test, at that particular time, and under those particular conditions.

BULLETIN! HPC'S Fees Increased

The High Point College Board of Trustees has approved a recommendation for an increase in student tuition and fees for 1961-62.

The Board declared their action in favor of the increase as a necessity because of the rising costs of living, wages, food, maintenance, and repairs. The approximate costs for one student per two-semester year is $1400, of which the student only pays 80 per cent. The remainder is paid by contributions to the College.

For the first time, part of the students' fees will be placed in scholarship and financial aid funds.

Other colleges are finding the same problem of balancing actual college costs with the funds received. Comparisons composed of tentative tuition changes for next year (which have not yet been fully approved by their Boards) are as follows:

Ten Four-Year Co-Educational North Carolina Church-Related Colleges

College	Total 58-59	Total 59-60	Total 60-61
Duke	$1,475	$1,675	$ ?
Wake Forest	1,200	1,300	1,390
Catawba (Est.)	959	1,078	1,140
Lenoir Rhyne	873	973	1,075
Greensboro*	935	1,140	1,140
Atlantic Christian*	881	929	1,015
Guilford	857	907	1,068
Elon	885	980	1,010
Pfeiffer	920	995	1,198
High Point	895	980	1,062

*Must fill new men's dorm first. Next year. Will increase each year in small increments.

**Concerned over downward trend of commuting students.

According to this chart, High Point is higher only than Elon and Atlantic Christian Colleges.

A list of the actual changes in fees for the HPC student is as follows:

	60-61	61-62
Tuition	$375.00	$ 400.00
General Fee	105.00	120.00
Student Activity Fee	15.00	15.00
Day Student	495.00	535.00
Room and Board	475.00	510.00
Health Fee	8.00	15.00
Post Office	2.00	2.00
Board Student	980.00	1,062.00

Jr. Class Gives Party for Frosh

Dick Holt, president of the Junior Class, and a committee from that class made elaborate plans for a "real nice clambake" given by the Juniors in honor of the Freshmen.

The clambake took place at City Lake in High Point. Hot dogs and soft drinks got the evening under way with plenty of dancing on the patio following.

This is the first time that any activity of this nature has ever occurred on this campus in recent years. The Junior Class hopes to make this an annual event.

Peterson Completes Financial Brochure

by STACY STORY

Colleges cannot run without money. The money derived from tuition fees is not sufficient, so other means of raising funds must be applied. Dr. Herbert H. Peterson, Director of Endowment and Development, is the man to whom the task falls at High Point College.

Dr. Peterson has worked out a plan for the College whereby both donor and the college will benefit from contributions to the college. His plan is judged valid, and has been passed upon by two tax lawyers in High Point. A brochure delineating this idea is now being printed.

This pamphlet demonstrates how a donor is enabled to reduce considerably or to avoid entirely certain taxes.

Endowments to High Point College may be made in a number of various ways. A few are restricted or unrestricted bequests, mutual fund plans, outright gifts from income or capital, and gifts of property.

There are two basic forms of endowment. These are living endowments, or specific sums donated to the college annually, and memorial gifts, consisting of sums donated in securities, cash, or property in memory of a particular individual or for a designed purpose. All endowments may be either restricted or unrestricted according to the wish of the donor. This means that the donations may be specified for a certain purpose if desired.

Living endowments can be made from a current income. These gifts could reduce the donor's income taxes by placing him in a lower tax bracket. For example, if a person earned $5002 per year, and gave even a small gift to High Point College, he might fall into a lower bracket, and thereby substantially reduce his taxes. This is illustrated clearly in the new High Point College booklet.

Sums donated in cash, securities, or other properties are invested in tax-exempt securities by the college, and the donor receives an income from such securities which are not taxed.

(Continued on Page 4)

Dr. Herbert Peterson

Across The Desk

English Dept. Rated "A"

There is a small but important crop of intellectuals who master-minded an "A" Class Department from the English classes of Roberts Hall. The average student or sightseer does not always get an opportunity to see this small organization function as a unit yet the curricula and framework accomplished by their combined efforts will one day bring merit upon High Point College.

Blackstock, Sowder, and Company have succeeded in polishing up a pretty dusty apple, and the future promises an even brighter glow. The newly arrived freshman can rest completely assured that he is getting the "best" in terms of his English curricula.

Whether individually liberal or conservative, these gentlemen possess the wealth of experience and knowledge which their credentials show.

The English Department of High Point College represents a dynamic advantage toward a better institution and diploma. It has accepted the "Patton Challenge" and is approaching it with fervor. This is obvious because there is not one clock-puncher in the club.

-T.L.

Yell A-Little Louder . . .

YOU are the school, and the school is YOU and what YOU make it.

School spirit is not just a slogan. It's more than yelling your head off at a game or pep meeting; more than backing your team in defeat. It's more than collecting clothes for the clothes drive or getting ads for the yearbook. It's more than buying tickets to and attending basketball games and school plays. It's more than putting an entry in the door decoration contest. These are just externals; they are not, of themselves, school spirit.

School spirit is the force behind all these externals.

School spirit goes still deeper.

School spirit is joining the athletic teams and playing your heart out win or lose.

School spirit is joining and participating actively in the extra-curriculum.

School spirit is the basketball player who does not laugh at the cultural side of school — and the honor society student who does not turn his nose up at athletics.

School spirit is going to church and living your religion, while not thinking you're less of a man for it.

School spirit is studying adequate time to make good grades and not regarding scholarships as a weakness.

And why? School spirit is its own answer, because school spirit, when you get down to it, is love—a love for High Point College, and all it represents. A love that should make everyone of us want to do everything in his power to make the whole world recognize High Point College, at all times and in everything as the best.

-Lois Campbell.

Alumna of Month

Shirley Yokley

Former Campus Beauty Becomes English Head

In her four years at High Point College, Shirley was very outstanding. Everyone held this tiny, black-headed girl called "Yokley" in great respect.

She was known by everyone on campus. During her few years here she was president and pledge director of Phi Mu Fraternity, president of Panhellenic. She was also head cheerleader for two years, program chairman in Baptist Student Union, and on the Zenith staff.

Shirley was also honored to be selected to Who's Who and one of the ten top seniors. Along with her many scholastic honors, Shirley was Homecoming Queen, Miss High Point College contestant and in the May Court.

After graduation in 1959, Shirley received her masters at Appalachian College in Boone, N. C. While she was there she was counselor to a freshman dorm.

Shirley is now very happy as being Head of the English Department at Mitchell College in Statesville. She is loved by her students and held in high respect by the faculty. The only hard thing about Shirley's job is—she is not able to cut classes anymore!

Review of New Books By English Professors

by JUDY ROGERS

This past spring saw the publication of two books on poetry which should be of interest to the students and faculty of High Point College. These two new books, Miracle of Flesh and Quest of Dawn, were written by Dr. Walter Blackstock, head of the English Department; and Dr. Lincoln Lorenz, also of the English Department, respectively.

For Dr. Blackstock, a native of Atlanta, Georgia, Miracle of Flesh is the eighth book on poetry that he has published. In this volume his poetry cannot be strictly classified as traditional or contemporary. Rather it is a mixture of both.

While reading this particular volume of poetry, I was struck by the beauty of the writing, especially the figures of speech. Exquisite epithets are scattered throughout the poems. Dr. Blackstock writes of "the pearl-gray monotones of ice-bound ponds," "the iris-ooze of spring," "like sheet white-starred in ancient pastorals of bliss," "moonlight pours its golden lava down a windowpane," "final daylight stabs the hour with flames of saffron fire," and "the spidery spinning of frost."

In addition to Miracle of Flesh, Dr. Blackstock has edited a book of poems by James Larkin Pearson, the Poet Laureate of North Carolina. The book, entitled Selected Poems of James Larkin Pearson, will be published around the middle of October.

Dr. Lincoln Lorenz has published his first book of poetry, Quest of Dawn. However, he has written three other books, The Life of Sidney Lanier; John Paul Jones, Fighter for Freedom and Glory; The Admiral and the Empress: John Paul Jones and Catherine the Great. Quest of Dawn is prefaced by a discussion on the values of poetry from the time of the Greeks to the present day.

Letters to the Editors

WHAT'S WRONG WITH TRUE-FALSE TESTS?

In my first three years of college, I was given a variety of tests or examinations, but the one test that I found unnecessary and difficult to pass was the true-false test. I do not wish to imply that it is wrong to give true-false tests because they are hard to pass, but for the following reasons, I am stating why it's wrong for a college professor to give his students a true-false test.

1. A true-false test does not give a student adequate opportunity to express what he knows about the subject.

2. If it is a variegated subject, the teacher and student may have affinities for different aspects of the subject—this would limit the student's opportunity to express himself adequately.

3. True-false tests are beneath the intellectual level of college students and tend to efficate an attitude of triteness toward the subject.

4. Frequently, when the professor consistently gives true-false tests, non-serious students learn to "spot" the professor, thus they make good grades, but acquire little or no knowledge.

5. True-false tests are over-simplification.

-Abel Dillard Hiatt.

PROFESSOR QUESTIONS STUDENT COMPOSITIONS

Dear Editors:

I sit down to grade a set of freshman themes. One is fair, one poor, one rather good, one hopeless—and one theme is admirable. What do I do? Write down an A and commend the student? No; I ask myself, "Who wrote it?"

Give me an excellent freshman theme, and I will set off on the track of its source. I know that some students are clever; that is, I know that some students can find a really good article in an old Collier's magazine and adapt it to the assignment I give. Sooner or later, I'll find the article.

Now a teacher should not be a cynic, and I try to combat my habit of mind. But I recollect that this my mental tendency is not innate: I developed it by reading themes. Every student in my past who copied from a book or magazine contributed to my present frame of mind. And every time I impugn the writing of a genuinely first-rate student, I am passing on to him the legacy of my past crooks.

Some of our students are honest but slow, and some are honest and intelligent. On behalf of such students I would gladly expel every petty cheater that has reached our portals. As for the bold plagiarist, the examination thief, the grade robber—I sometimes think his offense against all honest students should be punishable by death.

Associate Professor of English
By: Rossiter R. Bellinger

CAFETERIA LINES DECLARED UNFAIR

Dear Editors:

A few days ago I hurried to the cafeteria so that I could eat lunch and get some studying done before I went to work. The line was back to the side entrance which, in itself, wasn't bad. Normally the line moves right along. On this particular day, however, I wondered why I was standing in the same spot for ten minutes or more. Come to find out, so many people were cutting in line ahead of me that I wasn't moving at all. When I first got in line, there was one freshman girl in front of me. By the time I got through, there were seven of them. This was not all of it. There was a lot more cutting in farther on up the line. It took me 35 minutes to go from the side door to the ticket puncher.

This sort of thing has got to stop. It's bad enough when we have to stand in line, but when we have to stand there twice as long so that some of these very inconsiderate people can eat first—that's going a little too far.

I'm appealing to the students who eat in the cafeteria. Please be considerate of those who have been standing in line longer than you. The line would actually move faster if everyone went to the end. Besides—you can't be that hungry.

-A Disgusted Student.

BOYS DORM RULE HAMPER CONDITIONS

Dear Editors:

During this past week I have noticed that the men living at H.P.C. have been given many rights and privileges, never accorded them before. Imagine, for the first time the men are allowed to have a bed in their room and in a short time will be able to bring books into their rooms to study from. Soon students will be able to bring more than one set of underwear to use.

Yes, there is finally going to be a bureau placed in each and every room. Oh, the pleasures and comforts, unheard of and unknown until now, for the men living at High Point College.

I realize that one can't have all the pleasures in life; but certain things, those that make the little eight by 14-foot cell one's home for nine months out of the year have now been taken away from the men living on campus. Simple things that keep one happy and content away from home such as a rug on the floor, a picture on the wall, a bureau large enough to hold a week's supply of clothes, a book case, and hot water at 10:30 at night (and 10:30 in the morning for that matter) have been taken away from the men living on this campus.

The place to hold the student's tools, his books, have been disallowed in some sections of the men's dorm. It would seem to me that if one is to do any kind of work in college that is to gain any merit, he should have the use of as many reference books as possible in his room. This would include encyclopedias. One person was mocked for having a set in his room. Does this foster scholarship?

I also cannot understand how a person can live for a little over a week out of one and a half drawers in his dresser and a pipe rack in his closet (if he is lucky enough to have either). For myself, an out of state student, it seems ridiculous to even consider such a proposal. Even when one does offer to provide for an extra dresser, paid for out of his own pocket, he is refused because, "It will take up too much floor space."

At any rate, I am waiting impatiently for the allowance of the simple things that make one happy living here at High Point College. I also wonder if certain rules were made for the sake of making rules.

Sincerely,
Walter H. Schenck

10/19/60

HPC Student Writes About a Friend . . . Taylor Caldwell

by BETH LEBERMAN

Janet Taylor Caldwell, the noted author of such popular novels as Dynasty of Death, This Side of Innocence, Never Victorious, Never Defeated, and her most recent best-seller, Dear and Glorious Physician has now had published another novel called The Listener.

Miss Caldwell, or as I know her better, Mrs. Marcus Rebeck, was born in Manchester, England, on September 7, 1900, came to this country in 1907, is a graduate of the University of Buffalo, and now resides in Eggertsville, New York, a suburb of Buffalo. During the year or so that I have known Miss Caldwell I have found her to be a wonderfully warm and genuine person. Because of the fact that my mother works for her, I have had occasion to be a guest in her home, and feel very fortunate to have her for a friend, for she has made me feel truly welcome in her home.

"The Listener" is a modern religious novel wherein Miss Caldwell has revealed in part her convictions concerning the nature and needs of modern man. It is the story of 15 people who have a problem, but have no one to whom they can turn in their dilemma. It is not until these 15 people have had a mysterious experience with "the listener" that they are able to find an inner peace, understanding, or a solution to their problems.

In the last chapter of her book Miss Caldwell relates the story of a scientist who, through an important scientific discovery, could either help destroy the world, or help cure many of its material ills. It is in this chapter that the author finally reveals the mystery of "The Listener."

The Hi-Po

"VOICE OF THE STUDENTS"

The Official Newspaper of High Point College, High Point, N. C.
Published Tri-Weekly Except During Holiday Periods

Entered as third class matter on October 19, 1950, at the Post Office at High Point, N. C., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC.

College Publisher's Representatives
420 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y.
Chicago - Boston - Los Angeles - San Francisco

Subscription and Advertising Rates Upon Request

Editors-in-Chief _____ Tony Lasala and Brooks Garnett
Business Manager _____ Bill Kester
Assistant Business Manager _____ Louise Whiteley
Circulation Manager _____ Tommy Butner
Sports Editor _____ Charles Watson
Photographer _____ Medford Taylor
Layout Editor _____ Dora Jeffreys
Assistants _____ Betty Treece, "Bunny" Young, Judy Benson, Mary Sides, Sally Anger, and Betty Krimminger.
Typists _____ Sue Williamson, Diane Lanier, Marty Green, and Frances Ingle.
General Staff _____ Thelma Mitchell, Len Lewin, Howard Barnes, Becky Jarvis, Dawn Wilson, Peggy McNamee, Eunice Young, Cynthia Fletcher, Sandra Hooks, Ken Crutchfield, Pat Peterson, Gayle Paxton, Sarah Harbison, John Ward, Pat Peele, Harry Smith, Janet Sedell, Judy Rogers, Lois Campbell, Linda Wood, Janiece Courrie, Ronny Covey, Joan Shockey, Bergie Hatcher, Stacy Story, James Wilmot, and Kathy Stern.

New Faculty Come From All Over U.S.

Mrs. Christine G. McCall is teaching physical education. Mrs. McCall was born in Winnsboro, South Carolina. She graduated in 1953 from the University of South Carolina where she received her A.B. She received her Masters in Phy. Ed. from the University of Arkansas in 1956. Prior to her coming to High Point this year, Mrs. McCall had taught at Florida Southern College, Pembroke State College and Duke University. Mrs. McCall has one son who is three years old.

Dr. Carleton Cook is the Assistant Professor of Mathematics and is also acting Head of the Department of Mathematics. Dr. Cook was born in Binghamton. He graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He served in World War II from 1940-46 as a Colonial of the Army. In 1958, he received his Masters from Harpers College and this June, Dr. Cook received his Ph.D. in mathematics from Purdue. Dr. Cook is married and has two children.

L. Hugh Cox is teaching at HPC as an Assistant Professor of Religion and Psychology. Mr. Cox was born in Columbus, Indiana. He graduated from Wabash College where he received his A.B. Degree in Philosophy. In 1956 he received his B.S. from Boston University. He later received his Masters from Yale and is now working on his Ph.D. from Yale.

Dr. Harry E. Seidel is teaching at High Point College this year as an Associate Professor of Psychology and Education. Dr. Seidel was born in Baltimore, Maryland. He graduated from the Naval Academy with a B.S. degree in 1931. He served in the Navy for a number of years and then retired. After retiring from the Navy, he attended the University of Maryland where he received his Masters and Ph.D. in Human Development. Dr. Seidel prior to coming to HPC had taught at the Naval Academy and has done graduate teaching at the University of Maryland. Dr. Seidel is married and has one son.

Dr. Frank Bain is teaching at High Point College as a professor of Business Administration. Dr. Bain was born in North Dakota and received his B.S. in Accounting from the University of North Dakota in 1929. He received his Ph.D. in economics from the University of California in 1933. Prior to coming to High Point College, Dr. Bain has worked for the government for 15 years, and has taught at Mississippi State University, University of Kansas and Troy State College.

Frank A. Williams is teaching French and Spanish at HPC this year and served as an instructor of Modern Languages in the Department of Modern Language. Mr. Williams was born in Troy, Alabama, and attended Troy State College. He graduated from the University of Georgia, where he received an A.B. degree in Modern Languages. After graduating from the University of Georgia, Mr. Williams studied abroad at the University of Grenoble in France on a Fulbright Scholarship. On his return to America in 1956 he entered the University of Georgia. He graduated the following year with a M.A. in the Romance Languages. Prior to coming to HPC, Mr. Williams had taught at the University of Georgia and Troy State College. Mr. Williams is married.

WHO'S WHO

(Continued from Page 1)

Ernest Randall Lanier: Judiciary Council 1; Student Christian Council, Vice-President; Fellowship Teams; Kappa Chi; 1 year in Japan; Treasurer Freshman Class; Senate.

Lloyd Daryl McGuire: Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity, President; Judiciary Council, Chief Justice; Junior Marshal; Vice-President Freshman Class.

Sherwood Arnold Nance: Fellowship Teams 1, 2, 3, 4; MSF 1, 2, 3, 4; Fellowship Team Planning Committee; House of Representatives.

Emma Louise Noell: Fellowship Team; Fellowship Team Planning Committee; Choir; Tower Players; MSF; Student NEA; Dormitory Representative; Managing Editor Zenith; Alpha Delta Theta; Junior Marshal; Student Legislature; Orientation Committee; Dean's list.

Charles Fred Price: Junior Marshal; Choir, President; Men's Ensemble; Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, Historian, President; Zenith Staff, Art Director; Student Congress, 2, 3; Student Christian Council; Orientation Committee.

Donald William Reber: NEA 1, 2, 3, 4; Westminster Fellowship, Attended Spring Convention; Secretary; Awarded Freshman Mathematics Award; Alpha Phi Omega, Corresponding Secretary, Secretary; Senate; Student Congress; House of Representatives; Junior Marshal; Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, All Star Guard, Historian.

Jackie Dean Short: Basketball four years; Junior Marshal; Order Lighted Lamp; Judiciary Council.

Kenneth David Sullivan: Lees McRae Transfer; Treasurer Freshman Class; Demosthenean Leadership Council, Vice-President; Freshman Fraternity, President; Christian Council, Chairman Growth Committee; Member and Captain of Conference Track; Recipient of Sullivan foundation Scholarship; Received Banner Elk Bank Citizenship Award; Marshal; Vice-President Student Body; Dormitory Monitor; Phi Theta Kappa, National Honor Society; Named outstanding trackman; Named outstanding Senior Athlete; Named most Valuable Trackman; Senior Superlative, Best All Around; Honor Graduate; Awarded Fidelity Award; Won Orators Medal; Represented Lees McRae in applying for Morehead Scholarship; High Point College; Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, President Pledge Class; Vice-President; Secretary of IFC; Member of undefeated NAIA Champion Cross Country team.

Jean Arthur Thomas: Fellowship Team; Judiciary Council; Vice-President Kappa Delta; MSF; Tower Players; Student Congress; Editor Kappa Delta; Executive Council; Order Lighted Lamp; President of Dorm; Junior Marshal; Finalist in Miss HPC Contest; Alpha Delta Theta.

Bobby Ray Yates: Judiciary Council; Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, Secretary, President; Student Congress; Sophomore Class President; Hi-Po Staff; SGA Constitution Committee; Junior Marshal; Senate; Order Lighted Lamp; President Senior Class.

Eunice Marie Young: Secretary Freshman Class; Secretary Student NEA; Order Lighted Lamp; Miss HPC Contestant finalist; Assistant Editor Zenith; Editor Zenith; Alpha Gamma Delta 2nd Vice-President; Hi-Po Staff; Alpha Delta Theta; House of Representatives; Scholastic Honor Society; Dean's List; Westminster Fellowship, Secretary, Historian; Secretary Panhellenic; Secretary State Legislature; Secretary International Council.

Medford's Models

Miss Beth Winstead, a junior transfer from York, Pennsylvania, enjoys the crisp autumn days on HPC's "southern" campus.

A TIME
To everything there is a season;
For every deed and word, a reason.
There's a time to give, a time to keep;
A time to wake and a time to sleep.
There's a time to laugh, a time to cry;
A time to live and a time to die.
The secret is not what, but when
A thing's a right or a a thing's a sin.
He hath made everything in His time;
Everything with a side divine.
A time to sew and a time to rend;
A time to start and a time to end.

—D.D.
(Sophomore)

Lindley Given W.E. Scholarship

Winfred E. Lindley of Pittsboro, N. C., was recently named as the recipient of the Western Electric Fund Scholarship at High Point College for the academic year 1960-61. Lindley is a sophomore at High Point College this year and is majoring in chemistry with a minor in math. After completing his four years of undergraduate work at this college, Lindley plans to enter the field of research chemistry and further his preparation by obtaining the master's degree in chemistry.

The Western Electric Fund Scholarship granted to Lindley is one of more than 150 such scholarships granted to institutions of higher learning over the nation. This scholarship covers the cost of tuition, books and fees for a full academic year of study for the recipient.

Lindley was also the recipient of this scholarship during his freshman year at High Point College in 1959-60. To further his knowledge in the field of chemistry, Lindley was employed this past summer at the Western Electric plant in Burlington, N. C., where he received in training experience with the company.

Winfred Lindley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lindley of Pittsboro, N. C.

DR. PETERSON

(Continued from Page 1)

Perhaps a man wishes to present a gift to High Point College in the form of an irrevocable trust. In this case the college would act as trustee of the estate, investing the gift in mutual funds, which the donor could select. The person would then receive an interest for life from the fund.

There are other forms of donations which are equally effective and mutually beneficial. All are contained within the explanatory pamphlet.

It is a great privilege to have the opportunity to aid in the molding of the embryonic minds of youth. Only the deepest satisfaction comes from giving for such a worthy cause. The right to give belongs to everyone, not simply the well-to-do, a contribution need not be vast to be appreciated.

Dr. Peterson has been working on this project since September, 1959. Copies are available to interested persons.

NOTICE: This edition of the Hi-Po is late because of various difficulties which could not be helped. The Hi-Po staff asks for the continuance of student participation, interests, ideas, and enthusiasm, for with these, "The Voice of the Students" becomes stronger and clearer each issue.

Subscribe Now at Half Price*

You can read this world-famous daily newspaper for the next six months for $5, just half the regular subscription rate. Get top news coverage. Enjoy special features. Clip for reference work. Send your order today. Enclose check or money order. Use coupon below.

The Christian Science Monitor P-CN
One Norway St., Boston 15, Mass.

Send your newspaper for the time checked.
☐ 6 months $5 ☐ 1 year $10
☐ College Student ☐ Faculty Member

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ Zone _____ State _____

*This special offer available ONLY to college students, faculty members, and college libraries.

Wear Your Colors — BMOC Blazers

Authentic Embroidered Emblems
For All National Fraternities
Only $28.50 (Less to Groups)

Custom Tailored Suits from $48.50

Pants from $13.50

H-B CUSTOM TAILORS

464 South Main Street
Phone 2-8740

Hazel's Beauty Center

Expert Beauty Service Personality Styling and Hair Cutting at Five Points Shopping Center

HIGH POINT NEWS STAND

Christmas Records
216 North Main Street

FIVE POINT LAUNDROMAT

1232 Montlieu
We Wash, Dry and Fold

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

MODEL BARBER SHOP

125 North Wrenn

BROWN'S SHOE REPAIR

Since 1924
Phone 4313
208 East Washington

GRACE FLOWER SHOP

CLUB CAPERS

METHODIST STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

by SHERWOOD NANCE

This year the Methodist Student Movement has undertaken a very timely emphasis on a national level . . . The Mission of the Church in the Academic Community. Last year complete plans were made on the state and local levels for participation and involvement in this emphasis which will lead up to the National Methodist Student Conference in August.

The following quotation comments on this emphasis on the state level: "The Church in the Academic Community. . . Notice the word 'in' because we as Christian students are called to witness within the college situation, not 'to it,' as if it were a faraway object. The excitement and challenge of Dr. Albert Outler at Regional at Lake Junaluska drove home the fact that we as Christians are called to the books, called to be scholars (even unflinching eggheads, to use Dr. Outler's word).

Too often in trying to minister to the University we try to turn it into a church — too often we do not even know what it means for us to be a church. This will be the year to begin to find out who we are and what we must witness to in a situation that is God-given."—from Macroscopic, N. C. Methodist student publication. The state conference will be geared to this Life and Mission emphasis, with Dr. James Thomas, member of the Methodist Board of Education. The conference will be at Duke University, January 27, 28, and 29.

Our own local MSF is already involved in this emphasis. On the first Wednesday night, Dr. Thomas Langford, from the Duke University department of religion, spoke on the Nature and Task of the college. This address is to be followed up by discussion groups on the following Wednesday nights.

Dr. Langford gave us some points to ponder in discussion. He made it clear that he would try to give his conception of what an academic community should be, that it, all institutions of higher learning, church related, private, state-owned or otherwise; and then that he would relate this to his conception of what a church related academic community should be. To summarize a few of his remarks:

A college or university must be a community of scholars, old and new, committed to the search for truth or the meaning of existence—not just a place where the students feed back facts to the professors. Instead of a place where the old inculcate their prejudices in the young, the college or university should be dedicated to the search for truth and should be a community that serves a critical function. The academic community should reflect upon society instead of reflecting society.

The Christian college or university should heighten and bring into sharper focus the true purpose of all academic communities. The so-called Christian college often provides a very narrow atmosphere; however, regardless of what kind of college one attends, narrow view points and conformity to society may be found. The true church on campus is a redemptive community where isolation is overcome and a person knows that he is received — a place where vital issues can be dealt with openly.

WHAT IS ALPHA DELTA THETA?

by PAT CLARK

When a young person begins a college career, there are many clubs and organizations competing for his attention. It is the wise student who is able to distinguish between the organizations worthy of his time and talents and those which have no worth while purpose.

In my opinion one of the best organizations on this campus is Alpha Delta Theta. This organization is a religious sorority for girls from any denomination who are interested in Christian living and service.

The purposes of the organization are:

1. To enrich the spiritual life of the young women of High Point College.
2. To encourage Christian stewardship.
3. To provide Christian fellowship.
4. To offer opportunities in experience and training in avenues of practical Christian service.
5. To promote exchange of idea and experiences among members of the organization.
6. To correlate Christian living with vocational plans.

When a young woman becomes a member of this organization, she is a sister in the service of God. Being a sister, I would like to express what Alpha Delta Theta means to me.

I enjoy being a sister because of the closeness, sincerity, and friendliness of the girls who compose its membership. There is a deep tie between the girls socially and spiritually. Being in this group has brought me closer to God and to serve Him and other people.

Just to cite one example of serving God and other people, I would like to tell you of a project that this organization did last year. Knowing how lonely and how much in need of friendship older people can be, the Alpha Delta Theta sisters visited the Presbyterian Home. Here they presented for the residents a program of songs, and skits, and sang numbers which those at the home requested. After this period of fellowship, a worship service was held.

The warm, friendly smiles, the glowing faces of those people at the Home—these told more of their thanks than hundreds of words.

This is just one example. There are many others. Each one gives an Alpha Delta Theta sister a privilege—a high privilege.

That privilege is to be a true "Sister in the Service of God."

Freshman Tells of Fun & Flurry in Sorority Rush

by KATHY STURM

"Mind come back" . . . I've just got to get this studying done. If I flunk the history test, I'm doomed! Now the Stone Age was divided into two parts, the Paleolithic and Neolithic. . . . I wonder what the girls thought when I spilled the tea at our first formal rush party that Sunday afternoon. Why did that have to happen at the first party? Everyone looked so sophisticated in their cocktail dresses, and then, there I was, with a wet skirt.

The ice-breaker parties on Tuesday and Wednesday were so confusing. With only 20 minutes to get acquainted, I just couldn't remember all the names and felt so conspicuous as my eyes searched for that familiar name tag whenever I greeted someone. The displays were arranged so we could tell what activities the girls participated and excelled in, and they gave us a chance to see the jewelry, crests and sorority souvenirs. At the Wednesday night ice-breaker, faces and names began to connect, and it was so much easier to talk.

Back in the dorm that night, all our conversation centered around the parties. The rushees were not only glad to talk to the upperclassmen, but overjoyed with their sincere friendliness. Very few of the girls had formed definite opinions; the majority decided to wait until after the parties.

The test—I've got to study for the test! Once more, the Egyptian and Mesopotamians were the first civilization and they started in. . . . I never thought I'd get my courage up on Thursday morning. Finally I took a deep breath, put my rushee tag on and stepped into Mrs. Warren's office to ask for my invitations. In one moment some envelopes were placed in my hand and I let out a sigh. While walking back to the room, I bumped into some other girls who were beaming with pride at their invitations. These did not require answers, so I started planning what I would wear, for the Phi Mu and Kappa Delta parties were being held that night.

Dressed in our best party dresses, we convened at the auditorium that night, and divided up into two groups.

The "Old South Ball" presented by Kappa Delta gave the rushees an opportunity to see the sisters at their best. Some of the talents displayed were twirling, tap dancing, and singing. A panorama of a typical showboat scene covered one wall and acted as the backdrop for the show. "Phi Mu Heaven," decorated with greens, stars, and angel hair, created a mystic atmosphere for the serious program that followed. Each girl was presented a pink carnation, key, and candle which symbolize the ideals of the sorority.

The following night, we again met in the auditorium and divided into two groups. The Zeta Tau's, dressed in pajamas and looking comfortable, made us feel very much at home at the "Pajama Game." They presented a skit characterizing a typical dorm scene after the rush parties, and how true it was! Each major holiday was depicted with some form of talent at the "Holiday Inn," given by the Alpha Gams. Mrs. Christmas, herself, conducted the impressive ceremony that followed, and told us what her sorority stood for.

After the parties, the dormitories were buzzing with varied opinions of the sororities. We all wondered if we had made a good impression or not. Also, we noticed everyone went around with a wide smile, but worried about what was going on in the mind behind the smile. Did they like us? . . . Will I be accepted? Our questions were to be answered Saturday morning.

The invitations to the preferential parties were in Mrs. Warren's office by ten o'clock. All we had to do was go for them. Being a coward at heart, I sent my roommate after them (or it). I trembled as I heard her come back, but jumped for joy when she appeared smiling. This set of invitations required answers. Since a rushee is allowed to accept only two, the girls who received three or four, had the problem of deciding which ones. Others had no problem at all, as their minds were made up for them.

Adorned in the traditional rose and white, Phi Mu's treated their rushees to a circus Monday night in the Woodmen of the World building. The girls viewed the show under a realistic tent as they munched popcorn and snow cones. The two clowns kept the peanut gallery in stitches the entire night. The party came to a

MRS. JAMES WARREN

New Social Director Already Busy

Above you see one of the new faces on our campus. Mrs. James Warren, new North Hall housemother and Campus Social Chairman, comes to us from Woman's College in Greensboro.

One needs only to be with Mrs. Warren a short time to become aware of her gay, sparkling personality, her warmth and sincerity, and her seemingly endless store of energy.

She has already begun to formulate plans for improvement in the Student Center. She is, in connection with these plans, hoping to get and iron for the fireplace, draperies for the windows in the game room, and more equipment for the kitchenette.

"In time, I hope that we can get new furniture for the game room, too!" she said.

Also—and this will be good news to the bridge players—new card tables close with the singing of the familiar Phi Mu songs.

The Emerywood Country Club was the setting for Kappa Delta's "White Rose" formal party on Tuesday night. They presented a skit bringing to reality a pledge's dream of the true KD spirit. In this dream, the spirit explained the qualities all sisters possess. Each rushee present received a white rose in the ceremony that followed.

Wine (just pretend), women, and song was to be drunk, seen, and heard, respectively, at the Cafe d'Alpha Gam Wednesday. The bandroom was converted into a typical cafe, including the cigarette girls and artists. A French review was presented and highlighted by the mock appearance of a Brigitte B.

With the exception of the president, all Zeta Tau's were dressed in black at their semi-formal party in the Sheraton Hotel. Their program placed emphasis on all the aspects of Zeta sorority life. During the night, the rushees were given a carnation and satin pillow in the sorority's color, turquoise.

Party going is over now. By now most bids have gone out causing much joy and a few tears. Whether the rushees decided to join or not, they all returned from the parties holding a true idea of sorority life. Most knew which one they wanted membership in. Me? I think I'll go . . . study!

"GOING STEADY" IS DRAB PROCESS?

(from Readers Digest)

Francis T. P. Plimpton, New York lawyer and trustee of several colleges, in informal remarks at Amherst College chapel:

The drab process known as "going steady" is a clear violation not only of English grammar but also of the most elementary principles of biology. Where is natural selection? Where is the survival of the fittest? Where is the evolution of the race if you young males meekly submit to the inexorably monogamous possessiveness of the first female who deigns to notice you?

Such a sad state of monotonous monogamy has not always prevailed. In my college days, a man who brought the same girl to every dance was rightfully regarded as a man without resources, without imagination, without elan vital. We did not shrink from fair competition, the life of trade.

are on the way for the game room. Mrs. Warren is "very much impressed" with our campus. She finds the campus friendly—from students to administration.

"And I'll put a plug in for the cafeteria—I think the food is excellent!"

She is encouraged that a number of people have volunteered to help with some projects she has in mind.

I was also very pleased to see that the boys followed so well my suggestion of 'dressing up' for Sunday dinner. I hope that this will continue."

And she is also impressed with our school paper.

"I think it is excellent," she said.

Surely we will all be looking forward to seeing Mrs. Warren's plans become realities.

Roving Around

by FOOTLOOSE

Well, here we are, back for another year at HPC. Just rovin' around, here are some of the main strains of campus comment:

From the starving Armenians, "Wouldn't it be lovely if 12:20 classes were 12:45 classes?" Or, translated: Why must lunch be a luxury?

It used to be that we could set watches by the 12:10 and 6:00 music from Roberts Hall. Seems funny only to have heard music three times this year — and "Beautiful Dreamer" all three times in the wrong key!

And while on the subject of Roberts Hall Tower—we will pass this on for what it's worth—Sears and Roebuck proudly announces its new line of spotlight bulbs. . . .

Several people have commented on the good attendance at Vespers. Two Sundays the attendance reached a peak of 91. Let's encourage more people to take advantage of this worthwhile hour.

Noticed something new in the cafeteria lately? If you can't find out, just ask Mrs. Wright. She'll be more than glad to point it out to you.

Attention Frosh: The Judiciary Council gets a yearning for dollars at this time of year! If someone asks you what's on your mind, it better be your beanies!

Hear that the entire girls dorm says "Muchas Gracias" to the Delta Sigs for a wonderful serenade.

Was nice to see even the non-church-going males in coats and ties at dinner on Sunday.

Quotable Quote from the Readers Digest. "One man talking politics with friend: 'We've had a piano player and a golfer. You know who I'd like to see get in now? A bowler.'"

Well, could write more, but you know how it is, Dean Nelson—Lights out at 12!

The American spirit of free enterprise had free play, and play it did. The lordly stag, now, alas, almost extinct, was then monarch of all he surveyed, as he enjoyed what should be the inalienable rights of every young American male—the rights of life, liberty and the happiness of pursuit.

Yes, those were great days, and I commend to you, gentlemen, the lessons of that glorious past. Undergraduates of the world, arise—you have nothing to lose but your silk and nylon chains!

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"NUTHIN TO DO ON A LOUSY DAY LIKE THIS—WHADDA YA SAY WE GO TO CLASS?"

THE SPORTS SHOP

by Charles Watson

ALL-SEASONS SPORTS PROGRAM?

What has happened to cross-country and wrestling at High Point College? Why has the sport in which the college could probably take the District, Conference, and State championships been cast from the ranks of High Point College's intercollegiate activities? These are some of the questions posed and aimed to be answered in this article.

TAKE DOWN!

Wrestling was new to High Point last year and met with limited results. It is a certain factor that the student body did not give its support to the wrestling team. However, there are good reasons to support the non-support. Probably the most important of these reasons is lack of publicity. Another contributing factor is the lack of matches held by the team, especially at home. To my knowledge the only wrestling seen was a demonstration during half-time at one of the basketball games. It is, therefore, to some degree understandable that wrestling is being dropped. The reasoning could also include lack of funds. It does, though, seem funny that this new sport at the college hasn't gotten a better break.

DISTANCE, DISTANCE, AND MORE DISTANCE

Cross-country is a highly competitive sport which is similar to Track and Field. It challenges its participants to hard endurance and provides them with the chance to excel in the time and work spent in training. Last year's cross-country and track team were second only to Duke University. This is truly a tremendous effort on the part of our boys and they should be commended on their achievements. The possibilities of even excelling in this year's competition is now only a mere "dream of the past" as far as cross-country team is concerned. The activity has been dropped as a part of HPC's athletic program. Granted there hasn't been a great deal of interest in the sport, but whose fault is that!

IS THIS THE END?

In conclusion, it seems only fair to express the viewpoint of the administration on the items which have been discussed so far. The college is in no way condemning or trying to dispose of the sports. It feels that the athletic staff is at present heavily overworked, and they feel it would be unfair to ask one of its members to assume the extra responsibilities of coaching both wrestling and cross-country. Another factor contributing to the expulsion of these sports is basically financial. The college feels that wrestling and cross-country would distribute too finely the possible participation in sports activities by members of the student body. In other words, the college feels that student participation should be placed on an area of greater concentration within a minimized number of sports activities.

The main question which this editor would like to present is not basically concerned with the dropping of these two sports. He does, however, feel that a balanced sports program should be maintained at the college. It is prevalent that the school does not have the opportunity of viewing a fall sport, whether this be football, wrestling, or cross-country. I can accept with much respect the feelings of the college administration on these points. However, I would like for the administration to take into consideration the possibility that a fall sport would provide one of the many needed activities on campus to keep the students at college over the week end. It would be greatly appreciated if we could hear from both the administration and students on their ideas concerning this subject. It is evident that as long as there is no student interest in a fall sport the college administration has no alternative but to say that there is no need for a fall sport. If there are any suggestions as to the solution of some of these problems, please send them to the sports editor for the HI-PO.

One last point for those of you who take time to read this and think about it, High Point had cross-country and wrestling last year. Before condemning the administration for dropping them, think and ask yourselves how many times you came to see them. This is our school and we should love it and support it. If we can't do this we shouldn't be here. Let's really get behind our college.

Varsity Football at HPC?

by JOHN WARD, JR.

The rumor is out once again: "High Point College is going to have a football team." And once again this rumor is very untrue. At the present a varsity football team is impossible at HPC according to Dr. Wendell Patton, president of the college.

Dr. Patton is very enthusiastic about the idea as is also the case with most of the students. (In a small poll taken by the writer the students were found to be almost 100% for the idea of having a varsity football team.) Dr. Patton said, "It's not that I'm not interested in getting a football team here at High Point College, but unless we find a fairy godmother, the idea seems impossible." He also gave a reason for this statement. In the first place, it would take between "30 and 50 thousand dollars per year to operate and much more than that amount to get started."

In conferring with other small college presidents, namely of North State Conference schools, Dr. Patton has found that several of our neighboring small colleges are contemplating changes which will inevitably result in discontinuing football as a major sport at these institutions. The reason is that with larger ACC schools playing games nearby, the smaller colleges cannot compete with the great drawing attraction that the larger schools are able to display. Schools such as Lenoir Rhyne, A.S.T.C., and Western Carolina in the west are in a much better location as they are out of reach of the great opposition from the ACC schools.

The writer hopes that this will clear up any misunderstanding that any student might have. Dr. Patton added that he would "welcome any suggestion that anyone might have and if there is ever a possibility of High Point College getting a varsity football team, we will immediately take advantage of it; but at the present there is no possibility in sight for such action."

CANNON-FETZER
MEN'S CLOTHING
158 South Main

Hamilton Named NAIA Chairman

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 17—Committee appointments announced by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) shows nine staff members from colleges in NAIA District 26 (North and South Carolina), will serve during the 1960-61 college year.

The NAIA has, in addition to its ruling body, the Executive Committee, 28 committees. Ten of these committees deal with the sports in which NAIA sponsors national championship events for its 460 member colleges. The other 18 standing committees deal with other fields in which the association is concerned. The NAIA membership is divided into 32 geographic districts for local administrative control and the conduct and supervision of district events. Chairman for NAIA District 26, is James Hamilton, of High Point College.

The appointees from District 26 announced from NAIA National headquarters here are: Dr. Francis Hoover, Appalachian State College, is president of NAIA and supervisor of Public Relations and Statistics Committee; Clarence Stasovich, Lenoir Rhyne College, chairman, Football Committee; Conley Snidow, Wofford College, Football Committee; Ray Martinez, East Carolina College, vice-chairman, Swimming Committee; Buddy Chandler, Appalachian State College, Wrestling Committee; C. Virgil Yow, High Point College, Special Awards Committee; E. G. Purdom, Guilford College, vice-chairman, Faculty Athletic Representatives Committee; James Hamilton, High Point College, Research Committee; and James Jones, Appalachian State College, Public Relations and Statistics Committee.

One of the outstanding parts of High Point College is Intramural Sports.

Attend . . .
Participate . . .
Encourage . . .!

MERCURY BARBER SHOP

Open All Day Wednesday
Closed Saturday

We Specialize in Flat Tops

Wade — Frank — Harvey

Phone 7956

THE SWEET SHOPPE

113 North Main Street
Phone 3745

College Village Shopping
Center — Phone 2-8026

For the Best in Baked Foods:
Call Our Address to the Attention
of Your Parents for Special Occasion Cakes

North
State
Telephone Company

Local and Long Distance Service

High Point
Thomasville Randleman

Natural Shoulder Clothing
SHERATON
MEN'S SHOP
In the Sheraton Hotel

Johnny's Scribblings

by John Ward, Jr.

NUMBER NINE RETIRES

Last week the last of the super-star dynasty who could capture a huge crowd solely by personal magnetism and might ended an unprecedented playing career with a dramatic home run and then announced that he was retiring. Yes—this was Ted Williams, famed outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, who has finally hung up his uniform—no. 9—for good. Williams will be remembered as the "hardest man in baseball to pitch to," as a man who has mastered the bat but not his temper, and as a man whose name clogs the record book with such feats as 521 home runs and a lifetime batting average of .344. Although it is hard to believe, the "Pride of the Red Sox" is now history.

SYRACUSE LABELED AS TEAM TO BEAT

Which will be the nation's top football team in 1960? This is indeed a hard question to answer since some of the top teams—Texas, USC, and Pittsburg—have already suffered surprising losses. Syracuse, unbeaten and tops in offense and defense last year is expected to repeat as the national champion. Coach Ben Schwartzwalder has plenty of manpower this season. Washington, which has all eleven starters returning from 1960 Rose Bowl Champions: and Auburn, which will post one of the nation's best defensive teams; are expected to give Syracuse a battle this season.

ORIOLE OR COLT FAN?

A few weeks ago after the New York Yankees had swept a double-header from the Baltimore Orioles and therefore assuring themselves of another American League pennant, a Baltimore reporter was overheard making the following comment: "Let's go home and root for the Colts. In baseball, we've had it."

It seems as though he made a good choice as the Baltimore Colts are undefeated thus far in the regular season.

WANTED AT HPC: A FAIRY GODMOTHER!

Dr. Patton, HPC president, has been quoted as saying that we would have to find a fairy godmother in order to get a football team at High Point College. I've been wondering what he meant by that statement. I suppose we need to find one that is wealthy because I don't think he was wanting to use the godmother as a football player. If anyone knows the whereabouts of a fairy godmother who is interested in sponsoring a varsity football team, please don't hesitate to inform us,—especially if she is related to the fairy godmother that seems to be so helpful to our good friends in Hickory, N. C.

Note: A more sensible explanation of this problem is given elsewhere in this paper, so please don't panic.

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1960 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

BMOC*

*Big Man On Campus—yea man! He treats the gals to Coke. Who can compete with charm like that. So if you're 5'0" and a little underweight, remember—you don't have to be a football hero to be popular. Just rely on the good taste of Coke. Put in a big supply today!

BE REALLY REFRESHED

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
HIGH POINT COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., HIGH POINT, N. C.

It's All Greek

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

MARRIAGES: Hallie Sumpter married Max Reynolds.

INITIATION: On Sunday, October 23, for four girls: Judy Longwith, Frances Ingle, Jackie Creech, Dee Hutchins.

PARTY: The Alpha Gams and their dates had a spaghetti supper Saturday night, October 22, at the Panhellenic house.

HONORS: Fraternity sponsors in the Zenith: Eunice Young—sponsoring Lambda Chi Alpha; Debbie Calloway—sponsoring Sigma Phi Epsilon; Von Vaughn—sponsoring Delta Sigma Phi, junior class representative in May Court.

KAPPA DELTA

ENGAGED: Vicki Smith to Sanders Dallas; Edna Rose Duncan to Bill Guy.

PINNED: Judy Benge to Chip Anderson; Betty Beauchamp to Tony Benge; Jane Crowson to Fred Handy.

MARRIED: Laura Jean Malpass to Ed Venable; Mary Wray Mitchell to John Hamrick; Glenda Sprinkle to Henry Andrews.

BEACH TRIP: Twenty-six pledges and sisters attended Myrtle Beach trip after examinations.

ALUMNAE: Anne Starr and Edna Rose Duncan teaching in High Point; Betty Gray Dorman teaching in Ft. Bragg, N. C.

HONORS: Vicki Smith, vice-president of Day Students; Maggie Hester, secretary of Day Students; Brenda Liner, Representative to the House for Day Students.

PHI MU

NEW PLEDGES: Gamma Zeta pledged 11 girls: Suzanne Bullard, Mary Brooks, June Collins, Hanner Griffin, Michelle Hope, Sandra Inman, Beth Parks, Jinny Pollack, Katy Puckett, Marsha Row, and Linda Stevens.

MARRIED: Jane Lloyd to Bill Van Aiken on September 25.

HONORS: Michelle Hope, elected to House of Representatives from freshman class; Libby Graham, Sylvia Teague, "Miss Zenith Contestants," Peggy Creasy, Ann Gandy, Jane Van Aiken, Libby Graham, Sylvia Teague, May Queen contestants; Jinny Pollack, Westminster Fellowship Representative to SCA; Linda Samuels, president of Day Students; Beth Parks, secretary of freshman class; Linda Samuels, Brenda Dellinger in May Court.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

INITIATED: Pat Peele initiated into sisterhood September 23.

VISITORS: Mrs. Helms, president of Providence II, and Linda Black, chapter counselor.

HONORS: Smiley Lloyd elected secretary of Tower Players.

PLEDGES: Zetas proud of new pledges: Marlene Brinley, Mary Lou Beacham, Mary Sue Covington, Jane Elliott, Carolyn Frye, Rayma Lee, Catherine Martin, Judy Rogers, and Betty Wycoff.

CANDLELIGHT: First candlelight service held for Mary Sue Covington, going steady with Bill Pritchard.

FOUNDERS' DAY: Tea held Saturday, October 15, in honor of founders. Zeta Tau Alpha was founded in 1898 at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

OFFICERS: Don Drapeau, Speaker of the House of Representatives; Medford Taylor, Sergeant-at-Arms in the Senate; and Allen Sharpe, Sergeant-at-Arms in the House.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS: A "Western" party October 15. Maverick boys were at the card tables and took part in a realistic gunfight. Cowboys, cowgirls and Indians dominated a party given in honor of visiting Alumni.

SERENADES: Annual serenade presented to the girls' dorms on October 4, and presented flowers to Mrs. McClure, Mrs. Warren, and Miss Beaver.

ATHLETICS: Delta Sigma Phi has played two football games so far, losing first to Sigma Phi Epsilon by a 6-0 count, and winning second by the same score over Pi Kappa Alpha.

Miss Ruby Sludder . . . smiling brightly after being crowned the "Sig Ep Sweetheart" of 1960. She is a Thomasville native attending Greensboro College. Ruby is pinned to Brother Don Nesbitt.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

INTRAMURALS: Brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon proudly announce their unscored upon, undefeated, first place in HPC intramural football. Victories were over Delta Sig, Teke, and Theta Chi.

PARTIES: N. C. Eta began its big season of parties with Sunday tour of Great Smokies. Following Saturday night, brothers gathered for enjoyable informal party. Plans for the next few weeks include a weekend cabin party in Appalachians, stag rush party on November 1, and a drag rush party on November 5.

ROMANCE CORNER: Brothers congratulate alumni brothers: Bob Scott on his recent marriage to Frances Lewis; Don Nesbitt who pinned Ruby Sludder; and Brother Bill McKechnie who pinned Mickie Kalaian. Brother Steve Bower is now father of healthy 7-lb., 3-oz. baby girl.

BEAUTY: Sig Eps wish to announce that Miss Debbie Calloway will be their fraternity Zenith sponsor.

MEN IN SGA: Sigma Phi Epsilon represented in the House of Representatives by Ralph Lewis, Chuck Miller, Bill Trevor, and Mark Raby. Reading Clerk, Jimmy Edwards serves as president of the Senate.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

MARRIED: Brother Bill Van Aiken to the former Miss Jane Lloyd.

ENGAGED: Brother Jack Short to Miss Barbara Bex of Williams, Ind.

PLANNED: The annual Rush Dance at the Furniture City Exposition Hall in High Point in November.

ELECTED: Miss Eunice Young to be the 1960 Lambda Chi Alpha sponsor in the Zenith.

ELECTED: Brother Carrol Hawkins as Lambda Chi Alpha representative to the Student Legislature.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brother Dale Brown on the fine job he is doing as IFC president and to Brother Frank Phillips who is fraternity editor of the Zenith.

BEST OF LUCK: To Brothers Jack Short and Gene Buchanan as they embark on the 1960 basketball season.

CHOSEN: Brothers Tony Lasala and Dale Brown to serve on the president's Advisory Council.

A KEEP-IT-UP: To Brothers Mike Flangan and Hague Bowman who are really working hard toward graduation.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

NEW BROTHERS: Congratulations extended to six new TKE brothers: Larry Rudisill, Sammy Taylor, Bob Michael, Jerry Murdock, Bill Zalles, and associate brother Donn Workman.

MARRIAGE: Brother George Smith and Miss Margaret Smith were wed in Asheville Saturday, October 15. Delta Kappa Chapter was well represented.

ENGAGEMENT: Harold Dickinson presented diamond to Kay Phillips of Phi Mu Sorority on October 3. Tekes extend warmest wishes on this happy occasion.

FORMAL MEETING: Teke brothers held monthly formal dinner meeting October 3 at the American Legion on High St. Steak supper was followed by a business meeting.

SWEETHEART: Miss Sandy Parnell, Sweetheart of the Red Carnation Ball is also Teke Fraternity Sweetheart for the Zenith.

TEKE GRADS: Two Honor Society Tekes for the year 59-60: Gilbert Beeson and Keith Dodson are attending Vanderbilt Seminary and Brooklyn Polytechnical Institute respectively.

SOCIETY: On Sunday, October 23, Teke Fraternity had a picnic-hayride. Teke dance will be held November 5 at the new Elk's Club in High Point.

JEAN KNOWN FOR SMILES

by LINDA WOOD

Working seriously toward a college degree, participating in a full schedule of extracurricular activities, and yet always finding time for a sweet smile and friendly hello, is a large order for any co-ed.

Even though she holds one of the most responsible offices on campus, (women's dormitory president), Jean Thomas manages to do all three. Her secret is that she "loves working with people," as evidenced by the fact that she is majoring in Social Studies and plans to teach.

Jean, who is a Jackson Springs beauty, came to HPC three years ago. As a freshman and sophomore, her activities were Alpha Delta Theta and the fellowship teams. While serving on the judiciary council and dormitory council as a junior, she found time to be in the "Miss HPC Contest." This year, as a senior, Jean is a junior marshall, belongs to the Order of the Lighted Lamp, is vice president of Kappa Delta sorority, and Women's Dormitory president. She says her main interests (besides Mac) are her job as dorm president and work in Kappa Delta sorority.

Perhaps she doesn't realize it, but Jean's biggest activity is helping to maintain that friendly atmosphere for which High Point College is known.

THETA CHI

RUSH: "It is our sincere desire that all men interested in fraternity life go out for rush. Fraternity life is certainly a definite and important part of a man's college years. We, the brothers at Theta Chi, would urge that all students not affiliated with a fraternity at present, go out for rush and pledge the fraternity of his choice."

RUSH PARTIES: Stag Rush Party, for those rushees invited on 28th of October at the Yarrowburgh Restaurant in Lexington. Rush Drag will be held on November 4 at the Hotel Sheraton here in High Point for those rushees invited and their dates.

OX'S SPONSOR FOR MISS HPC: Miss Linda Ferean, a freshman from Ustice, Florida.

OX'S SPONSOR FOR THE 60-61 ZENITH: Miss Margaret Burns, a freshman from Charlotte.

ALUMNAE WEDDING: Charles Williams, OX class of 1959, married to Carolyn Kay Nail on October 1, 1960, in Winston.

ALL SPORTS TROPHY: Presented to Theta Chi Fraternity on October 12 for obtaining the most points in the intramural sports program of the 59-60 year.

FOOTBALL COACH: New football coach was chosen to be Gary Davis.

SERENADE: Last May, Brother Don Schmitt pinned Miss Terri Martin of Lynchburg College and Deland, Florida. On November 4 Miss Martin will be visiting High Point College and at this time the brothers of Theta Chi will serenade her.

PARTY: Haywood "Squatlo" Edmundson, social chairman of the fraternity, has planned special dance for 22nd of October. It is so "special" that he will not tell the brothers where it will be held or what kind of a dance it will be.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

EVENTS: On Sunday, October 23, 1960, the Pikas traveled to the mountains of North Carolina for their annual mountain trip.

NEW BROTHERS: On Monday, October 31, 1960, Thad Lowery will be initiated into the brotherhood.

PERMANENTLY PINNED: John Wood to Barbara Taylor; John Hamrick to Mary Wray Mitchell.

HONOR: Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Fund has presented HPC with a special scholarship.

Campus Profile

Attend
"Miss HPC Contest"

The Hi-Point

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF HIGH POINT COLLEGE

Vol. XXXV; No. 3

High Point, N. C.

November 19, 1960

Thanksgiving Holidays
Nov. 24-26

Dr. Liston Pope of Yale Divinity School addresses the High Point College student body in the first of the Finch Lectures. His topic was "Christian Faith and Higher Education."

Dean From Yale Visits Campus

With an abstract version of the school seal as the center piece in the November 1, Dr. Liston Pope opened the first Finch Lecture.

Don Drapeau, President of the Student Christian Council, welcomed persons from A and T College, Woman's College, Greensboro College, residences of Thomasville and High Point, and faculty and students of High Point College.

Greek Sing Coming Soon

High Point College's first Greek Sing will be held in Memorial Auditorium, Friday, December 2 at 7:30 p.m. The event is being sponsored by the Panhellenic Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council. Proceeds will be used toward payment of Panhellenic furniture.

The ten Greek Fraternities will have ten-minutes of stage time each. The judges for the event will be Mr. Henry Whipple, organist at the First Presbyterian Church; Dr. Lew Lewis, of the High Point College faculty; Mr. Howard Coble, choir director of Wesley Memorial Methodist Church; and Mr. Cole, choir director at Green Street Baptist Church. Criteria for judging will be based on harmony, presentation, pronunciation, quality of voices, and selections. Trophies will be awarded to the winning fraternity and sorority. The entrance fee of $5.00 is due on Monday, November 28. While the judges are deciding upon winners, entertainment will be provided.

Tickets go on sale Monday, November 28 costing $1.00 each with children under 12 who are accompanied by paying adults admitted free. It is the aim of the High Point College Panhellenic to make this so successful that we as a student body will enjoy this event so much we may eagerly await another one again next year. We will appreciate your co-operation.

Forums To Be Held At HPC

At the request of the students, the Library Committee, with the help of four other faculty members and four students, has worked out plans for a series of forums or panel discussions to be held through out the year.

Faculty members working with the Library Committee on this are Dr. Bryden, Mr. Porter, Mr. Burhans, and Dr. Le Vey. Students serving on the Committee are Brooks Garnett, Vance Davis, Dale Brown, and Pat Peele.

Dr. Blackstock and Mr. Dixon met with the President's Advisory Committee to get the student's suggestions as to how they want the forums set up.

The students made the following recommendations and suggestions:

1. That such a panel should be set up and started functioning as soon as possible. The guiding purpose would be to stimulate interest among students, faculty, and towns people—in the long run, a public-relations effort, which would help raise the estimate of HPC and improve the picture of the college in a multiple way.

2. Each panel should consist of not more than four to six persons per discussion.

3. That there should be a permanent moderator of such a panel.

4. Panel should be made up of students, faculty, and townspeople.

5. That the meetings or discussions should last no longer than one and half hours.

6. Open to community, professors, students, and that the affairs be publicized as widely as possible.

7. Topics selected for each occasion be as varied as possible and that "special guest" as expert be invited each time.

The first forum, "Morality in the Arts", is to be held Wednesday, November 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center. Dr. Locke will be the moderator, and the panel will be composed of faculty members Dr. Hudgins and Dr. Sowder, students—Emma Lou Noell and Mike Carrington, and townspeople—Mrs. Lew Lewis and Mr. Gilbert Gray.

Whether or not these forums continue will depend upon the interest and response of the students.

Watch bulletin boards and the assembly bulletins for further publicity.

Boy's Dorm Rules Listed

The following rules are being enforced on the Men's Dorm this year:

Freshmen are required to serve on phone duty.

Designated members of the Faculty or Administration may enter and inspect the rooms of a student at any time during the year.

No student is allowed to move college furniture from or into any room, or personal property into any room without the permission of the Resident Counselor. The cost of replacement of any college furniture or damage of the rooms will be charged to the student occupying the room.

No resident is allowed to permit any person not duly accepted for dormitory residence by the Dean of Students to use dormitory rooms or beds without first obtaining permission from the President or Vice-President of the Dormitory Council. An infraction of this regulation may result in a fine of $5.00.

No student shall change rooms without first applying for permission from the Secretary-Treasurer. Violation of this regulation is punishment by a fine of $5.00.

All trays or dishes taken from the cafeteria must be returned to the cafeteria within 24 hours. A fine of $2.50 will be required for violation of this regulation.

Gambling in all forms, drunkenness, and disorderly conduct on the part of any man, or his guest, are prohibited. Men failing to abide by this regulation will be brought before the Dorm Council for disciplinary action.

Infractions of any of these regulations are brought before the Dorm Council. Residents of the dorms shall perform duties assigned by the Dorm Council, reporting to places at times designated. Anyone who cannot report for duty is responsible for providing an appropriate replacement. Violation of this rule will be punished as determined by the Dorm Council, with written report thereon made to the President Counselor.

Further rules and additions to the above are in the student handbook and college catalogue.

The Dorm Council for this school year is made up of president, Roby Walls; vice president, Haywood Edmundson; Secretary - treasurer, Dick Holt; head proctor, Charlie McCorkle. The hall proctors are Mark Baby, Neil Stallings, John Tuttle, Gene Clements, Tony Benge, Sammy Taylor, Bob Yates, Ron Neal, Greg Mills, "Buddy" Lanier, Harvey Shaw, Bob Clark, Frank Lewis, and Tony LaSala.

Dream House Being Planned

The Home Economics Department and the Housing Class are working on a project of designing a new Home Management House for High Point College.

The Home Management House now being used is a home which was converted in 1940. It is a ten-room, two-and-a-half story house, located at 909 West College Drive. This house is part of the home economics curriculum in which all home economics students must live for six weeks in order to receive their degree.

The plans made thus far for the new home management house, consist of three bedrooms, one large and two small baths, a formal living room, a formal dining room, a kitchen with dining area, a utility room, adequate storage space, and an apartment for the instructor which will include office, bedroom, livingroom, and bath.

The housing class plans to give these plans as soon as they are finished to the board of trustees.

May Court Chosen

The results of the elections for May Court this year are as follows:

Freshman Class Representatives—Gail Geyer and Kay Tinsman.

Sophomore Class Representatives—Brenda Dellinger and Jerri Martin.

Junior Class Representatives—Von Vaughn and Linda Samuels.

Senior Class Representatives—Libby Graham and Eunice Young.

Queen—Sandra Parnell; Maid of Honor—Eunice Young.

According to reliable sources, plans are now in process for organizing big May Day festivities along with this year's May Court.

Beauties To Appear in Contest

On December 6, Miss HPC of 1960 will be chosen from among these finalists. Judy Benge, Suzanne Bullard, Jackie Creech, Linda Ferran, Gail Geyer, Margaret Hester, Doris Ann Joyce, Vivian "Smily" Lloyd, Beth Parks, Louella Richards, Mary Lou Troutman, Jean Thomas, Sue Williamson, Annette Young.

Others who were in the preliminary judging are Betty Beauchamp, Carole Chilton, Jane Crowson, Brenda Dellinger, Brooks Garnett, Sandra Hooks, Dottie McLaurine, Mimi Modlin, Mary Lou Perryman, Kay Phillips, Grace Seaver, Martha Rae Simmons, Deanna Sink, and Dianne Watley.

Eunice Young, editor of the Zenith, says that the 1960 Miss HPC Contest will be "bigger and better than ever." Miss North Carolina and other celebrities will be present at the judging. Contestants will be judged on personality, poise, beauty, and talent. Plans are being made for a walkway out over the audience, and it is hoped that the judges will be able to meet contestants at a tea before the formal judging. The theme will be "Somewhere over the Rainbow."

Accreditation Team Visits High Point

During the first week of November, a visiting team composed of five outstanding members of the National Council for Accreditation for Teachers were touring our campus for three days in view of national accreditation of High Point College's Teacher Education Program.

Dean Louis Smith of Berea College in Kentucky was chairman of the team, the other members being Professor William P. Sloan of Manchester College in Indiana, Dean Robert J. Young of Radford College in Virginia, Dr. J. P. Freeman, Director of Professional Services, State Department of Public Instruction, Raleigh, North Carolina, and Dr. A. K. King, Director of Summer School, University of North Carolina.

High Point College has already been accredited by the North Carolina State Board of Education, North Carolina State Department Public Instruction, North Carolina College Conference, University Senate of Methodist Church, and the Southern Association of Colleges.

Before the committee came to our campus, they were presented with a one hundred page report on High Point's Teacher Education program. During their visit the team spent every day on campus interviewing the faculty, administration of the teacher's program, and many students who are participating in the Student Teaching Program.

Dr. Dennis Cooke, Director of Teacher Education at High Point, said it would be between six and eight months before the college will receive a report as to what action the team has taken.

HPC'S First Home Basketball Game - - - Dec. 3!

Across The Desk

A DEFINITION OF UNITY

One of the most unique aspects of the American Political Science is the so-called closing of the ranks. Though partisan politics at times become intensive, forthright, and even dirty, once the results become apparent the objective becomes common. The cohesion of diverse attitudes and ideas is a factor which establishes rather than falsifies American Democracy.

The underlying theme of our political system is majority rule with basic regard for inalienable minority rights and with specific respect to constitutional law. To disregard such requisite institutions would produce anarchy at best and despotism at worst. Therefore, it is the duty of the American to protect his way of life by supporting that which is best for America, regardless of political affiliation the American is expected to at least give honest appraisal to each administration and to support an elected administration sincerely but not blindly. The drums of discontent may forever beat but the good ship U.S.A. should be placed in the highest esteem always.

In this, an interlude of violent world tensions, the backbone of the nation must be preserved ever so emphatically and strongly. The problem America faces now is a problem which must be met and solved by all Americans, not by just Republicans or Democrats. For parties alone are nothing short of powerless in meeting the bold challenges of the day. The call has been sounded to all Americans to lay down their verbal weapons and to unite in the common and most important cause—the good of America and the good of universal freedom through peace.

—T.L.

"WHAT'M I DOIN' HERE?"

The college year is passing. What are we receiving for our $495.55?

Have we learned anything? Have we developed any skills? Have we read any books? Have we used our full abilities? Have we been stimulated to do "our best"? Do we know any more about our chosen profession? Are we more socially poised? Have we helped someone else?

Few of us can say anything but No . . . No . . . No! Why?

Everyone has his own theory about what is wrong with High Point College . . . "The professors don't care;" or "The students lack interest;" or "There is no intellectual charge;" and on and on and on.

But an important factor that most of us forget as students is the tremendous lack of purpose. For example, most girls are either planning to major in education or business—to be teachers or secretaries. But in reality, most girls dream of marrying an ivy-league businessman, living on Country Club Lane, and enjoying a life of leisure (with a maid included). Few of us realize that not only do men spend all of their lives working, but very few women get through life without a profession. (Femininity may be going "out-of-style," but so is the man-of-the-house's salary.)

College men know that they, as future bread-winners, will have to have the skill and knowledge to hold down a good-paying job in today's inflation-flushed world. Yet, grades are dropping lower than morale or stick-to-it-ness. A college diploma does not represent knowledge mastered but perfection at memorizing in most cases.

Something must motivate us to achieve higher learning. Something must stir our energies.

Dr. Wendell Patton recently described college as "an OPPORTUNITY." College should not be a "fact-factory" or an "egghead-heaven." It should not be a prohibition center or a party parade. It is "an opportunity."

(Continued on Page 4)

Roving Around

by FOOTLOOSE

Well, after the weeks of excitement and the election . . . here we go again.

It's surely nice to see Roberts Hall tower all aglow again. The downtown merchant who sold enough spotlights to replace those burned out really made a good haul, I'd say . . .

Seems that we have some mighty strong ping-pong players on campus! Evidence: the chipped and/or cracked ping-pong paddles in the Student Center. Let's take it easy . . . PLEASE . . .

Here's one from the finely-defined department: Elephant. An animal occurring in one of three forms, depending on whether you are on a safari, working on a church bazaar committee, or attending a weekend party! . . .

And from the "In-Case-You-Might-Forget-It" Department: The exhibits in the library are planned to be interesting and informative to the student body. Let's give these exhibits, many of which are done by our fellow students, more of the attention they deserve . . .

November ninth will long remain a memorable night to our fraternities on campus. A word of congratulations to all on their new pledges . . .

And speaking of dates, we know that the Frosh won't forget November ninth, when they were allowed to remove those infamous sun-up to sun-down rain-streaked purple and white menaces—their beanies, of course. Congratulations, gang, you came through the ordeal fine! . . .

Congratulations also to the fifteen finalists in the Miss HPC contest, and good luck to all of them . . .

Well, not to dash off, but just remembered that I received a little message from the Dean of Students THREE DAYS AGO which I better attend to . . . I'd just love a ten-day vacation, but Siberia is kind of cold at this time of year . . .

BETTER CITY-COLLEGE RELATIONS

by DAN EARNHARDT

Editor's Note: First in a series of articles on the progress of student efforts to bring about a better relationship between the city and the college.

After a great deal of planning and deliberation, the Senate branch of the Student Legislature of High Point College has organized a program to foster better city-college relations. The action is headed by Jimmy Edwards, president of the Senate, and this reporter. All actions are under the counselled guidance of President Patton at the college and leading men of the city. Following are the directions of advancement that the program has taken thus far:

A conference was held with the president of HPC where suggestions were voiced concerning the desires of both the president and the students for better town relations, and the following points were taken as immediate objectives, with the understanding of future modification:

Teams of students will approach the leading business and civic leaders in High Point with the proposals herein stated, with the desire of obtaining their suggestions and advice on carrying them out to the fullest extent.

These teams of students will offer suggestions concerning the possible increase in advertising the college, by signs being placed at strategic points around town, directing people to the college.

Ideas will be heard concerning the possible installation of a personal counselling service for High Point residents. A service of this type was successfully initiated at Hickory, N. C., by the board of trustees at Lenoir Rhyne College. (President Patton was an active member of this board.)

Beautification and improvement of the college campus by interested students working with the science department and civic organizations, in particular, garden clubs, will be another facet of the program.

Possible arrangements concerning reduced theatre rates and better merchant relations in general are other factors being investigated.

The results of such a program will be made public as they occur. It is the feeling of this reporter and all concerned that relations between the school and the city are progressing, but we want to make certain that the students of the college do more than their part in bringing this about. We are always open to constructive suggestions about items that HPC students feel should be included and emphasized.

Letters to the Editors

THE RETIREMENT OF A BEANIE

Dear Editors:

November 9 will be remembered as "B-Day" at High Point College. The Student Government Association has finally given the word that freshmen will no longer be required to wear beanies on campus.

Just ask any freshman what he thinks of his beanie. Of course you will get different responses, (some of them not so nice), but that is understandable. However, there is a mutual feeling of one thing—nobody can see the point in wearing them.

Pershaps some day we can look at our dusty beanies and think of our experiences during our first year of college life. These beanies may bring back memories that will never be forgotten.

Personally, my feelings are like that of the young child leaving the dentist's office. It was rough for a while, but now it's all over with.

Sincerely,
Bergie Hatcher

MY HEART CRIES OUT

Stars,
Moon,
Darkness finds its wayward path
Into the night of blissful solitude.
Mountains punctuated from the darkness
Seem to be thrilled that night
Has come too soon.

Stars,
Moon,
Drapes of black are spread across the Evening skies,
And silence is beckoned into rest—
But yet my heart cries out with pain for that which I left undone,
When all my expectations could have brought me peace!
I left it undone and now it is too late!
Why must darkness come too soon?
—Abel Dillard Hiatt (Senior).

Professor Defends Essay Examinations

Dear Editors:

Discussion-questions on English examinations in literature are not popular among today's college students, who, like non-students and others about them, have blossomed (or wilted) in an age of comic-books and television. Contemporary English usage is incredibly thin and unimaginative.

Our culture, alas, lives in pictures, not in words. In 1960 we write with a blurred vagueness and an illiterate nonchalance. A professor can acquiesce in the low levels of present-day communication—in the widespread, intellectually sub-standard responses—if he eyes only a high rating in a popularity-poll among his students.

He can fill his classes with plus-and-minus markers; he can choose the easy way out for himself and the correspondingly no-way-out for his students—meaning a passing grade for sloth, ignorance, and incompetence. In this respect, I do not choose to barter my professional ideals for a soothing mess of ephemeral pottage.

—Walter Blackstock
Department of English

Epsilon Sigma Omicron News

Christmas Bazaar

Have you been undecided as to what you will give for Christmas gifts? If you have been, here is a chance of a life time. The Epsilon Sigma Omicron girls have been working hard to make things which they think you would like to give as gifts. These gifts will be displayed at a bazaar in the Student Center all day December 6. We hope that you will do your Christmas shopping with us this year.

Louise Feng, Vice President of the North Carolina Home Economic Association, attended the State Convention in Charlotte, North Carolina on Saturday, November 12.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

The Hi-PO

"VOICE OF THE STUDENTS"

The Official Newspaper of High Point College, High Point, N. C.
Published Tri-Weekly Except During Holiday Periods

Entered as third class matter on October 19, 1950, at the Post Office at High Point, N. C., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC.

College Publisher's Representatives
420 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y.
Chicago - Boston - Los Angeles - San Francisco

Subscription and Advertising Rates Upon Request

Editors-in-Chief: Tony Lasala and Brooks Garnett
Business Manager: Bill Kester
Assistant Business Manager: Louise Whiteley
Circulation Manager: Tommy Butner
Sports Editor: Charles Watson
Photographer: Medford Taylor
Layout Editor: Dora Jeffreys
Assistants: Betty Treece, "Bunny" Young, Judy Benson, Mary Sides, Sally Anger, and Betty Krimminger.
Typists: Sue Williamson, Diane Lanier, Marty Green, and Frances Ingle.
General Staff: Thelma Mitchell, Len Lewin, Howard Barnes, Becky Jarvis, Dawn Wilson, Peggy McNamee, Eunice Young, Cynthia Fletcher, Sandra Hooks, Ken Crutchfield, Pat Peterson, Gayle Paxton, Sarah Harbison, John Ward, Pat Peele, Harry Smith, Janet Sedell, Judy Rogers, Lois Campbell, Linda Wood, Janiece Courrie, Ronny Covey, Joan Shockey, Bergie Hatcher, Stacy Story, James Wilmot, and Kathy Stern.

The Wooden Eye

by MEDFORD TAYLOR

Beth Parks, a freshman from High Point, admires the autumnal beauty around campus. Fall days are almost over.

Fraternity Philanthropies and Projects

In an effort to make us aware of the services which fraternities render, the Panhellenic Council is attempting to point these out.

The Council has compiled a list of the local services which include the following: making Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets, sending clothes abroad, supplying money to the needy for school lunches, visiting the homes for the aged, and helping any civic organizations with drives. Each fraternity, in co-operation with the social committee of the college, is planning an activity which is aimed toward raising the cultural level of our school. One fraternity has started placing centerpieces on the tables in the cafeteria for Sunday lunch while another fraternity has planned a tea for Sunday, December 4. This tea, which is to be held in the Panhellenic House, is opened to the entire student body.

Not only are activities participated in and services rendered locally, but also on a national and international scale.

Working for the cerebral palsied is the over-all philanthropy of the Alpha Gamma Delta Fraternity. The international fraternity makes its contribution of $6,000 annually through the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The fund provides fellowships for trainees in a counselor training program and is a pioneer venture. In this program, job counselors and job placement specialists learn special techniques for meeting the work needs of the handicapped. In the local service work phase of the project, the members have the privilege of giving service, equipment and supplies in their communities.

Founders Memorial Fund for Scholarships. Scholarship loan fund for members. The Louise Leonard Fund is for confidential emergency aid to alumnae in financial need.

Kappa Delta contributes $6,000 annually toward the support of six beds at the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond, Virginia. At its 1959 Convention, the Sorority gave $15,000 to the Hospital, for the purchase and installation of two boilers, and for new dental equipment. The proceeds from the Convention Sunshine Box will be used to provide parties for the children at Halloween. Since 1925, college and alumnae members have contributed to the support of the national philanthropy, by purchasing Christmas Seals designed by a Kappa Delta.

Many college chapters and alumnae associations assist with local social service projects, in addition to supporting the national philanthropy.

These include volunteer work and contributions for muscular dystrophy, cerebral palsy, mentally retarded children, etc. An Orthopedic Award, in the amount of $1,000 is made annually for outstanding research in orthopedics. This award is administered by the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

The Phi Mu Foundation was chartered in 1957 to expand their philanthropic program. Many of our chapters and clubs and individuals are responding with donations as a social service project for their group. The Foundation has established name grants and scholarships to graduates and undergraduates, scholarships for seniors in the field of education, Eskimo and Indian scholarships, as well as continuing the International Study Grant that Phi Mu has annually given to a foreign student since 1946. The Alpha Memorial Fund provides several types of loans and scholarships to graduates and undergraduates within the fraternity.

The Social Service theme nationally is: "Service to Children" and they had over 106 toy carts in operation this year throughout the United States and one in Nepal. Several collegiate chapters have "adopted" children through such organizations as "The Foster Parent's Plan"; and the majority give parties for chil-

Administration Busy with Projects

Are you aware of the vast amount of work that goes on in the office of Endowment and Development? Up to date, Dr. Herbert H. Peterson has either completed or is presently working on thirteen projects for the betterment of High Point College.

The first of these was the Book of Remembrance which is placed in the Wrenn Memorial Library. Already four North Carolina people have been remembered by friends of the college, and this has been inscribed in the High Point College Book of Remembrance. The Book was donated in the memory of parents of someone connected closely with the college.

Second, is a growing plan for Annual Giving, and this is basically an Alumni program which is never completed. This plan is now being used in colleges and universities all over the USA. It constitutes trying to get Alumni and friends of HPC to give at least a small amount each year.

Another proposal that will be instituted soon is the Associates Program, a plan to bring outstanding men and women of the community into closer contact with the college. The purpose of the associates is not only to help develop the college, but also to develop better understanding and cooperation between distinguished leaders of High Point, and High Point College.

Capital Fund Raising, another project, constitutes raising money for additional building on the campus. At the present time plans are under way for the erection of a number of new buildings on the campus. Plans include our hopes for a new dormitory for a hundred men, and a new physical science building at the estimated cost of a million two hundred dren at hospitals. Individual groups are encouraged to select programs best suited to their interests and abilities, and all projects are not limited to children; but all are trying to live up to our Creed, "To lend to those less fortunate a helping hand..."

Zeta Tau Alpha has continued its support to the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, making possible additions to the Equipment Manual for Cerebral Palsied Children. Copies of the Manual have been sent to clinics in this country and all around the world.

Two other projects were financed by Zeta Tau Alpha and completed this biennium under the auspices of the National Society, namely,

Parent Education Visual Aid Series: a set of five film strips with accompanying explanatory scripts designed to help and inform parents of cerebral palsied children about some areas in which parents need to help their handicapped youngsters in order to make everyday living and its problems easier for them.

Parent Education Booklet: dealing with the problem of cerebral palsy as it must be faced by the parents of a handicapped child.

Zeta Tau Alpha Foundation offers annually scholarships to worthy students primarily on the undergraduate level with special emphasis on the field of education. During the biennium about 40 such scholarships were made available.

thousand dollars. Besides this, there are high hopes for an infirmary and new Home Economics facilities.

In the City of High Point, the old, gracious southern homes are being torn down to make room for new construction. The acquiring of one of these homes for the use of the college is another project on hand. The building would provide Dr. Patton with suitable quarters for his Management Development Program. It would make possible the establishment of a guidance center for the Methodist students of high schools of North Carolina. It could be used by Mr. Whicker and Mr. Broadway, and other guidance personnel for testing, and for discussing plans and problems with prospective college students. This would be a fine place for such work, because there would be a minimum of distraction.

Sixth on the list of projects is the Fellow Program. A Fellow is one who shares with another in official dignity, or in the performance of work. He usually receives no emolument and has no part in the governing of the School. As matters now stand, there are ten men or women who qualify as a Fellow of High Point College for the current year.

The next, Life Income, was discussed in the last issue of this paper. The eighth, then, is a program of Life Insurance for Seniors. The college made available to the members of the Senior class the services of the vice-president of the Alumni Association of High Point College. Through him, a policy was made available at an unusually low rate. While it was not mandatory, it did make possible that a student could designate High Point College as part beneficiary.

Living Endowment, the ninth plan, has been in effect for some time. In this particular plan, for instance, anyone who gives the college even $50 a year, is giving the equivalent of five per cent on a thousand dollars. This kind of endowment is not put into a fund, but "lives," because you still have the basic money to operate your business on.

There is a Parental Campaign, too. As its name signifies, this would be directed toward parents of students. Since a High Point College student pays only about 74% of the cost of his education, the other 26% must come from somewhere. In this plan, parents who can afford it, and who can profit tax-wise on a contribution, may do so through gifts to High Point College, through this Parental Campaign.

The college is interested in acquiring pieces of property that border on the campus.

The college needs room to expand, and this could be one way for expansion. In the thinking now are some suggestions on this particular piece of work.

Dr. Peterson put as his first task when he was appointed Director of Endowment and Development, the obtaining of wills for the benefit of the college. In the month of October alone, he was able to locate three wills naming High Point College as beneficiary.

Finally, there are some pledges to the college still outstanding. Some date from as far back as March, 1953. Dr. Peterson has pledged to Dr. Patton that he will collect $5,000.00 of these outstanding pledges between July 1, 1960 and June 30, 1961.

Although it is apparent that the director of Endowment and Development is busy with many projects, this is not the entire story. He has just finished five lectures in Greensboro; he broadcasts every Sunday morning from 10 to 10:30 on WHPE, and Thanksgiving week he is doing five morning devotions from 8:40 to 8:50 over Station WMFR. Certainly we commend Dr. Peterson for his fine work on our campus and in the community.

Berkis Has Article Published

Dr. Alexander V. Berkis, Associate Professor of History at High Point College, had an article entitled "The Reign of Ernst Biron in Russia and Courland" published in the September, 1960 issue of the Latvian educational journal Akademiska Dzive (Academic Life).

Dr. Berkis is a native of Latvia having once been a lawyer in that country before it was completely taken over by Russia. Dr. Berkis has been in the United States since the early 1950s and studied at the University of Wisconsin prior to his appointment to the History Department of High Point College in 1958.

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1960 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Dear Diary...

As I take my pen in hand, I take my bottle of Coke in the other hand! Yes, dear diary, where would I be without Coca-Cola? Just a social outcast. Why, everybody drinks Coke! John and Bill and Barry and Charley. Horace too. Confidentially, I think I'll have another bottle of Coke.

BE REALLY REFRESHED

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
HIGH POINT COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., HIGH POINT, N. C.

Wise Sayings From Poor Richard's Almanac

Keep your eyes wide open before marriage, half shut afterwards. Three may keep a secret if two of them are Dead. Proof of gold is fire; the proof of a woman, gold; the proof of a man, a woman. To err is human, to repent divine; to persist devilish. He that falls in love with himself will have no rivals.

MERCURY BARBER SHOP

Open All Day Wednesday
Closed Saturday

We Specialize in Flat Tops

Wade — Frank — Harvey

Phone 7956

THE SWEET SHOPPE

113 North Main Street
Phone 3745

College Village Shopping Center — Phone 2-8026

For the Best in Baked Foods:
Call Our Address to the Attention
of Your Parents for Special
Occasion Cakes

The Significance Of Leadership

Editor's note: The following is the list of beliefs concerning leadership of High Point College. They are printed in a brochure titled "The Philosophy of a College" available to all interested persons.

This we believe:

1. That the need for true leadership in our schools, churches, industries, communities — in all areas of human relations — is greater than in any previous period of history. That the very existence of our world may well depend upon the quality of this leadership.
2. That our world has become one of technology and rapid change. In this nuclear age we are in danger of being hypnotized by the awesome prowess of the physical sciences and the incantations of digital computers, rather than guided by the pulse of the social sciences, the heartbeat of the humanities and the wisdom of religion.
3. That the true leaders of tomorrow will be called upon to supply the morality and ethics for our brave new world of technology; that there exists, therefore, a tremendous responsibility for the preparation of these leaders.
4. That no greater purpose or more difficult task lies ahead than that of preparing men and women for the roles of leadership and equipping them to add the spiritual and moral dimensions to tomorrow's world of limitless horizons.
5. That leaders are made—not born. That with the great body of knowledge developing in group dynamics, decision making, and leadership principles, colleges can not only supply this knowledge but can provide laboratories in applied leadership where these skills can be practiced under the watchful eye of trained leaders.
6. That education for nothing more than an immediate vocation is a costly waste; that those who will rise to strategic positions of leadership and responsibility will be those who are capable of producing through other people rather than through technical skills alone.
7. That a small, church-related liberal arts institution is best equipped to provide a quality education for leadership . . . that the small college where moral and ethical values are emphasized can offer more opportunities for the actual practice of leadership.

Believing These Things High Point College accepts as its fundamental purpose the task of preparing leaders for our exciting tomorrow and dedicates itself to this end. You are cordially invited to join us in this great venture:

Educating the Students of Today to be the Leaders of Tomorrow.

"TEA HOUSE"

(Continued from Page 1)

cally. The villagers are enthusiastic as he explains that they are free now to practice democracy — the rule of the majority. The interpretations of the meaning of democracy by these delightful Okinawans are odd, to say the least!

The Captain finds, however, that the East is not so easily converted to western way of life as he hoped. The villagers do not want the school house he is supposed to build for them under Plan B, but want a tea-house instead a club for leisured enjoyment.

They reason that the majority of the citizens is too old to go to school. The majority wish a tea-house. And under democracy shouldn't they have what the majority desires?

Cast:
Colonel Perdy III—Harvey Shaw.
Sakini—Mike Carrington.
Gregovich—Chris Woodman.
Fisby—Ed Stafford.
Seiko—Phil Kinsey.
McLean—Walt Hudgins.
Oahira—Don Oglesby.
Sumeta—Bill Trevarrow.
Hokaida—Tom Dean.
Omara—Bill Webb.
Keera—Benney Jenkins.
Sumata's Father—Charles Watson.
Lotus Blossom—Selma Hozemey.
Higa Jiga—Vivian Lloyd.
Old Woman's Daughter—Judy Fisher.
Old Woman—Arlene Lanzieri.
Ladies League—Anne Emory, Kate Puckett, Sandra Brady.

"WHAT'M I DOIN' HERE?"

(Continued from Page 2)

I found a list titled "The Education for All American Youth" that I had clipped out of a magazine. I do not have the author's name, but the purposes or needs listed are worthy of sharing:

All youth need—

1. To develop salable skill.
2. Good health and physical fitness.
3. To understand the duties and rights of citizenship.
4. To understand the significance of the family for the individual and society.
5. To know how to obey goods and services intelligently.
6. To understand the influence of science on human life.
7. An appreciation of literature, art, music, and nature.
8. To be able to use leisure time well and budget it wisely.
9. To develop respect for other persons.
10. To grow in the ability to think rationally.

The college year is passing. What are we receiving for our $495.55? . . . opportunity, perhaps. —B.C.

Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation Honors HPC

Robert L. McLeod, Jr., the executive vice president of the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation, recently announced the presentation of a one-year terminal scholarship for the 1960-61 academic year.

The foundation is part of the Pi Kappa Alpha National Fraternity. The main objective of the organization is to improve scholarship throughout all fraternities and to assist needy students.

Out of 117 institutions in 38 states in consideration, HPC was among the 12 chosen for this honor and opportunity.

The recipient must meet the following qualifications: he must be a worthy fraternity sophomore of fine Christian character, must display leadership, be of financial need, and must also maintain a C average.

Each fraternity on campus will submit the names of two of its brothers who meet the qualifications. The recipient will be selected from among these by the college committee on student aid and will be notified in the near future.

Leadership Stressed At West. Maryland

Westminster, Md. (I.P.)—Designed to study the basic problems which confront campus student leaders, Western Maryland's third annual Leadership Conference this year dealt with two primary objectives. According to a conference report, released here recently, the first objective noted the necessity to draw more people into leadership positions by:

1. Encouraging campus organizations to explore and utilize all their leadership potential.
2. Expanding the interest in, and membership of the Student Government Association and its committees.
3. Encouraging more enthusiasm for, and participation in class activities.

The second objective was to better equip the present leaders for the positions they now occupy by:

1. Teaching them to delegate responsibility.
2. Informing leaders of campus problems, telling them what is being done, and encouraging them to suggest possible solutions.
3. Acquainting them with the faculty.
4. Acquainting them with the college objectives, thus enabling them to compare and evaluate their own objectives.

Kappa Delta Pledge SLAVE AUCTION

Monday, November 28, 1960

6:00 P.M.

Student Center

Natural Shoulder Clothing
SHERATON
MEN'S SHOP
In the Sheraton Hotel

"Charlie" McCorkle

Campus Profile Baseball Captain Is Versatile

For those of you who have spent only a short amount of time on our campus and still do not recognize Charlie McCorkle we offer you a curt "Where have you been?" Because indeed you have overlooked one of our top personalities and sharpest men.

Whether you are looking for a 1943 copper penny or a good dentist in town, just look up Charlie and if he cannot help you he will introduce you to someone who can.

Born in the metropolis of Denver, North Carolina (one caution light and mail when the postman gets through) Charlie has never claimed to be anything more than just a wholesome country boy. And yet we can find this hard to believe when we examine his merits: captain of the Purple Panthers baseball team, past president of the Physical Education Majors Club, and Head Proctor at McCullough Hall. When we add these distinctions to a top-flight friend of all and notice that he manages to keep quite a healthy academic average, we realize we have quite a young man, "Chaz," as he is commonly referred to, is a great exponent of common horse sense and his ability to utilize this asset has carried him a long way and will continue to do so.

Rumor has it that if the Baptists and the Methodists ever had an all out conflict on our campus that "Chaz" would most certainly be asked to head the peace delegation. In closing, we would like to remind all that if in need of a favor, advice, or just a good anecdote, see Charles because we guarantee help. And when you next see him, say hello because though he may be going in all different ways at once, he is never too busy to return the greeting and adlib a few lines.

Fraternities Hold Fall Rush Parties

October 21, was the long awaited moment in the lives of non-fraternity boys on the campus of High Point College. This was the date that began fraternity rush. Fraternities are one of the main phases of campus life.

Rush began with a meeting in the auditorium. This meeting was held for the purpose of acquainting the boys with the ideals and standards upheld by our six fraternities. One hundred and 45 boys were present. A roll was made of these boys and sent to each fraternity. This aided the brothers in selecting prospective pledges.

The first parties were informal and stag. Each fraternity took a night and entertained the boys in various ways at points near and around High Point. The parties were given in this order: Wednesday, October 26, Delta Sigs; Thursday, October 27, TKE; Friday, October 28, Theta Chi; Monday, October 31, Lambda Chi; Tuesday, November 1, Sig Eps; Wednesday, November 2, Pikas.

These parties were given so that the brothers and rushees could meet each other and ask unanswered questions. After the parties the brothers met and made a list of rushees that they wanted to invite to their drag parties.

The drag parties were all given Saturday, November 5. The boys could attend as many parties as they received invitations from; however, the invitations were imperative. The object was to be narrowing their choice to one or two. These parties were held in various clubs around High Point. They were decorated by the brothers in decorations pertaining to this season. The music was provided by various combos. The girls attending were very impressed by the thoughtfulness of each of the fraternities.

After the drag parties, the fraternities met and cut their lists to the number of pledges they could take.

Formal rush began Sunday at noon. Silence was the main object of formal rush. This extended until 6:00 p.m. Monday night.

Each boy having made his choice was greeted warmly by his chosen fraternity. Much whooping and noise making blending with the fraternity songs brought the formal rush season to a close.

—As told to Betty Treece by Dale Brown.

Captured BY ESCAPED CONVICTS!

Campers Bob and Pete have just turned on their radio . . .

2 CONVICTS HAVE ESCAPED FROM STATE PRISON AND ARE HEADING FOR . . .

SHUT DAT T'ING OFF!

AN'RUSTLE US UP SOME GRUB!

SURE, I'LL GET A COUPLE OF ROCKS FROM THE LAKE TO COOK ON

I'LL GO WITH YA-AN' NO FUNNY BUSINESS!

A short time later . . .

Pete puts a rock at each side of the fire . . .

CRACK! CRACK!

SHOTS!

Note: Bob and Pete knew that rocks in a stream often take up water; when these rocks are heated, the water turns to steam — and the rocks explode!

When the state troopers arrive . . .

EXPLODING ROCKS . . . YOU SURE THINK FOR YOURSELVES! I'LL BET THAT'S WHY YOU'RE VICEROY SMOKERS!

RIGHT! VICEROY'S GOT IT . . . AT BOTH ENDS! GOT THE FILTER, GOT THE BLEND!

THE RIGHT TASTE BECAUSE Viceroy's got it... at both ends

GOT THE FILTER... GOT THE BLEND!

VICEROY FilterTip CIGARETTES

© 1960, BROWN & WILLIAMSON TOBACCO CORP.

THE SPORTS SHOP

by CHARLES WATSON
SABINO COPS TITLE

Mike Sabino won the NAIA District 26 cross-country meet at Catawba College. There were fine schools taking part in the meet, with about 30 boys running. Mike's time for the grueling four-mile course was 22 minutes and four seconds. The previous district record, for the course, in competition is 22 minutes and 11 seconds. This means that Mike broke the record by seven seconds. The meet was held on November first.

On November 7, the State cross-country meet was held at State College in Raleigh. There were two divisions in this meet. The freshmen runners competed in a two-mile race and then the upper-classmen endured a four-mile test. The freshmen and upper-class first places were taken by runners from U.N.C. Mike Sabino took third place in this meet. His time for this four miles was 21 minutes and 56 seconds.

PHI MU'S VICTORIOUS

The Phi Mu sorority took an impressive(?) victory away from the KD's. The only game score came in the first half on a touch-down run by Mary Brooks. The attempt for the extra point was no good and the 6 to 0 score held true through the remainder of the game.

Both teams provided a lot of fun and entertainment for those who attended as spectators. These girls put in a lot of hard work in their attempt to master the game of football. They are certainly due recognition for their efforts. Congratulations to the victors.

BASKETBALL SEASON CLOSE

The first HPC basketball game will be played within the next three weeks. The team is going to need a lot of support from the students. Everyone please do your share in contributing to the needed school spirit. The next edition of the HI-PO will feature the basketball team on its sports page.

Student vs. Faculty Men's Intramurals Basketball Game Continue at HPC

Friday night the Student Christian Association sponsored a basketball game between the faculty of the college and Dick Shackelford's All-Star Student Team.

Featured on the faculty team were the following members of the college faculty: Mr. Tadlock, Dr. Hudgins, Mr. Cox, Dr. Hamilton, Coach Hassell, Coach Hartman, Mrs. McCall, Sandy Beaver, and Mr. Wicker. This team was coached by Dr. Lorenz.

The faculty also had a cheerleader in squad headed by Miss Bowman, with Dr. Locke and Mrs. Warren assisting.

Dick Shackelford's All-Star Team was composed of the following students: Jim Boyles, Bill Cook, Bill Norris, Ken Crutchfield, George Scower, George Williams, Aubrey Strother, Charles McCorkle, George Sewell, and Harold Dickerson.

by HARRY C. SMITH

Now that football is over, the men's intramural program continues with badminton. There are 19 boys playing in the singles tournament and 30 in the doubles. Last year Theta Chi took the overall fraternity championship in badminton.

After Thanksgiving, volleyball will begin. Anyone wishing to enter a team should turn their entry in to Mr. Hassell before the Thanksgiving holidays. The fraternity title last year was also won by the Theta Chi's. Intramural basketball will begin after Christmas, but a definite time for the start has not yet been set.

The point distribution for men's intramurals is as follows: For football, volleyball, basketball, and softball: 20 points for entering a team, 50 points for first place, 30 points for second place, 15 points for third place, and 10 points for fourth place.

Sports Slant

by BERGIE HATCHER

ODD-BALLS ARE PIGSKIN CHAMPS—INTRAMURALS

Intramural director Frank Hassell announced that the Odd-Balls are the new champs of intramural football. The Odd-Balls went undefeated, nosing out the Sig Eps and Delta Sigs for the championship.

The standings (final):

Odd-Balls	6	0	0	1.000
Sigma Phi Epsilon	4	2	0	.667
Delta Sigma Phi	3	2	1	.600
Pi Kappa Alpha	2	4	0	.333
Lambda Chi Alpha	2	4	0	.333
Tau Kappa Epsilon	1	3	2	.250
Theta Chi	1	4	1	.200

Director Hassell also announced the All-Sar football squad, picked from all seven teams. They were chosen by playing ability and sportsmanship.

All-star football team:

Mickey Dean	Sigma Phi Epsilon
Hal Snyder	Odd-Balls
Haywood Edmunson	Theta Chi
Don Reber	Tau Kappa Epsilon
George Srour	Odd-Balls
Don Cashion	Lambda Chi Alpha
Jerry Koontz	Delta Sigma Phi
Don Schmitt	Theta Chi
Gary Thornburg	Pi Kappa Alpha

On November 8 the champion Odd-Balls played a team of all-stars selected from the fraternities. The two teams battled to a 0-0 deadlock. The All-Stars made three first downs, and the Odd-Balls were a warded one on a penalty. Quarterback Don Cashion completed two passes to Mickey Dean and one to Carroll Hawkins. Cashion missed his big chance for victory by firing over Mickey Dean's head with 26 seconds to go.

PRO CAGE NEWS—BASKETBALL

The St. Louis Hawks and Boston Celtics are again favored to win the titles in the National Basketball Association. Minneapolis has moved its franchise to Los Angeles and will seek its fortunes on the West Coast. Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals and Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers seem to have made the switch from college ball to the pros quite successfully. Veteran stars Charlie Share, George Yardley, and Slater Martin will not be playing this year.

Women's Intramurals In Full Swing Now!

The girls intramural program at High Point College is in a state of expansion. Program changes have already resulted in a wider variety of activities, and are emphasizing informal participation as well as organized competition.

This year the girls intramural program is being directed by Mrs. McCall of the Physical Education Department. Recently the Women's Athletic Association of High Point College elected the following officers: President, Nancy Campbell; Vice President, Janet Stone; Secretary, Louise Stokes; Treasurer, Nelda Price; Publicity Chairman, Arlene Lanzere. The Intramural Council consists of Doris Ann Joyce, Betty Beachamp, Louise Stokes, Arlene Lanzere, and Nancy Campbell.

Several of the girls attended the state convention of the Athletic and Recreation Federation of College Women, held November 4 at Wake Forest College. Most of the program was of the discussion type with topics such as: Awards for Intramural Program, Recent Trends in the Intramural Program, and Intramural Tournaments.

At the present the activities of the group include pingpong and badminton. The play-offs will be held November 14, 16, and 21. They will be of the single elimination type.

Plans for volleyball have also been made with the playoffs coming on December 5, 7, 12, and 14. It will be double eliminations. Plans for activities after Christmas are incomplete.

Six points are allotted for each victory.

For minor sports, the points are given out in this way: 10 points for entering; 20 for first place in singles, and 10 for first place in doubles; 16 points for second place in singles, and eight for second place in doubles; 12 points for third place in singles, and six for third in doubles; eight points for fourth in singles, and four points for fourth place in doubles.

It is hoped that interest in intramurals will improve. The intramural program can only be what the students make it.

GRACE
FLOWER
SHOP

Scholar dollars travel farther
with SHERATON HOTELS

STUDENT-FACULTY DISCOUNTS

Save on the going prices of going places at Sheraton Hotels.

Your Sheraton card gets you special save-money rates on singles and greater savings per person when you share a room with one, two or three friends. Generous group rates arranged for athletic teams, clubs and college clans on-the-go.

Send for your Sheraton Student I.D. Card or Faculty Guest Card with credit privileges. Please tell us where you are a student or full-time faculty member when you write to:

MR. PAT GREEN
College Relations Dept.
Sheraton Corporation
470 Atlantic Avenue
Boston 10, Mass.

Mike Sabino, of New Jersey, brought recognition to HPC campus by winning the NAIA District 26 cross-country meet at Catawba College.

it's easy
as
P.V.P. to recognize true diamond
value

Even the boldest can become a bit bewildered when choosing a diamond engagement ring. Decisions, decisions, decisions! How can you be sure of the right ring, the wise choice? Elementary—look to Artcarved! Only Artcarved offers P.V.P. . . . the exclusive Permanent Value Plan that gives guaranteed proof of the enduring value of any Artcarved diamond ring you choose. Only with Artcarved do you have this lifetime protection—in writing! You know the ring you choose will always be just as beautiful, just as valuable . . . anywhere in the U. S. A.

Interested in knowing more about Artcarved rings and the unique Permanent Value Plan? See your Artcarved jeweler, or... Write to:

J. R. Wood & Sons, Inc., Dept. CP-70, 216 E. 45th St., N. Y. 17, N. Y. for valuable tips on ring buying.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ Zone _____ State _____

Artcarved
DIAMOND AND WEDDING RINGS

Beloved by brides for more than 100 years (1850-1960)

It's All Greek

ZETA TAU ALPHA

PLEDGES OFFICERS: Carolyn Frye, president; Mary Lou Beacham, vice president; Mary Sue Covington, secretary; and Marlene Brinley, treasurer.

HONORS: Nancy Campbell elected president of Women's Athletic Association; Pat Peele elected recording secretary of House of Representatives.

CANDLELIGHTS: Held for Martha Greene going steady with Cadet Jack C. Packard, who attends the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y.

NEW SISTER: Donna Lawrence initiated into sisterhood, November 13.

DANCE: "Hawaiian Luau" theme of dance on November 12 for pledges. Zetas dressed in brightly colored sarongs and leis; Hulas and Hawaiian music for entertainment.

CONGRATULATIONS: Zetas congratulate all new fraternity pledges.

PHI MU

MISS HIGH POINT COLLEGE CONTESTANTS: Libby Graham representing Delta Sigma Phi, Dotti McLaurine representing Sophomore Class, Beth Parks representing Alpha Phi Omega, Suzanne Bullard representing Freshman Class, Brenda Dellinger representing Phi Mu, Kay Phillips representing the Band.

CHEERLEADERS CHOSEN: Nancy Boone, regular cheerleader; Linda Samuels, first alternate; Brenda Dellinger, second alternate.

PLEDGE CLASS OFFICERS: Marsha Row, President, Sandra Inman vice-president, Michele Hope, Secretary, Mary Brooks, Treasurer.

POWDER-PUFF FOOTBALL GAME: Phi Mu Pledges vs. Kappa Delta Pledges. November 14 at 4 P.M.

WHO'S WHO AND TEN TOP SENIORS: Libby Graham.

ENGAGED: Kay Phillips to Harold Dickinson.

ANNUAL PLEDGE DANCE: Held at the American Legion on November 12, Music by Mello-Tones.

KAPPA DELTA

NATIONAL PHILANTHROPY PROJECT: Entire chapter planning trip to Presbyterian Home. Pledges took a good cheer basket to the Montlieu Home for Aged and entertained.

MISS HPC CONTESTANTS Betty Beauchamp, Judy Benge, Carole Chilton, Jane Crowson, Gail Geyer, Maggie Hester, Mimi Modlin, Martha Raye Simmons, Jean Thomas.

MAY QUEEN ATTENDANTS: Gail Geyer and Jerri Martin.

MISS ZENITH CONTESTANT: Sandra Parnell.

JR. MARSHALL: Mimi Modlin.

TEN TOP SENIORS AND WHO'S WHO: Jean Thomas.
November 5, 1960: Kappa Delta Slumber Party held at Mrs. J. E. Millis (an alumni of Kappa Delta.)

PLEDGE OFFICERS: Carole Chilton, President, Martha Raye Simmons, vice president, Nina Burris, secretary, Janiece Courie, treasurer, Beverly Davidson, Gail Geyer, Judy Lambeth, Brenda Liner, Audry McDowell, Judy Mills, Norma Overby, Lynda Payne, Suzy Pearson, Judie Rollins, Rilla Williams, Linda Wood.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

NEW PLEDGES: Alpha Gamma Delta pledged seven girls on November 7, 1960. These pledges are: Judy Benson, Karan Carpenter, Georgianna Hardin, Betty Neal, Susan Tilley, Beth Winstead, and Sue Williamson. Pledge service held on November 9, 1960.

SPECIAL OCCASION: Alpha Gamma Delta Fraternity celebrated its fifth birthday on Saturday, November 5, 1960.

PINNED: Dee Hutchins to Bill Gladstone on November 5, 1960.

SERENADE: Debbie Calloway and Pete Sturm serenaded by the Sig Eps on November 16, 1960.

HONORS: Ten Top Seniors: Eunice Young and Jackie Creech.

WHO'S WHO: Becky Jarvis, Jackie Creech and Eunice Young.

CONTESTANTS IN MISS HPC CONTEST: Annette Young, Jackie Creech, Doris Ann Joyce, Sue Williamson.

PARTY: Alpha Gams and dates enjoyed a spaghetti supper at Panhellenic House on October 22, 1960. Red and white checked tablecloths and candles provided Italian atmosphere.

CANDLELIGHT: Held for Frances Ingle going steady with Allan McLean.

THETA CHI

PLEDGES: Epsilon Alpha congratulates all pledges of all fraternities and wishes them a successful pledge period. We give our heartiest congratulations to those rushees who pledged Theta Chi Fraternity. Our new pledges are: John "Buck" Adams Sanford, N. C., Thomas Arnette of Saxpaw, N. C., Don Berrier of Lexington, N. C., Thomas Bivens of Greensboro, N. C., Bobby Braswell of Pine Level, N. C., David Bryant of Marlboro, Massachusetts, Norman "Skip" Callahan of High Point, N. C., David Holmes of Charlotte, N. C., Kep Kepley of Lexington, N. C., Thomas Myers of Cantonville, Maryland, Bill Pritchard of Allentown, Pennsylvania, Al Rierison, of Summerfield, N. C., Bill Reynolds of High Point, N. C., Bobby Stafford of Kernersville, N. C., John Sykes of Moore Haven, Florida, Edgar "Eddie" Taylor, of Gastonia, N. C., and Ronald "Rondalu" Williams of Liberty, N. C. Again, Congratulations Pledges of Theta Chi! Special congratulations to Bill Davidson, Rush chairman, for his outstanding work!

SERENADE: The men of Theta Chi serenaded Miss Terri Harrison, who is pinned to Don Schmitt, on November 4. Special thanks to the photographers.

PINNED: Brother Bill Gladstone pinned Miss Dee Hutchins, a sister of Alpha Gamma Delta, after the Rush Drag Dance November 5. A swimming party is planned for late November.

DANCES, PARTIES, STUFF: Our Rush Stag Party was a huge success with more than 100 attending at the Yarnborough Restaurant in Lexington.

Another big success was the Rush Drag November fifth with over 150 attending at the Sheraton Hotel Ball room which was turned temporarily into the "Red OX Cafe".

A dance in honor of our new pledges will be held on Tuesday November 22. Squat is working on another "blast"!

A football game with Wake-Forest Chapter of Theta Chi is planned. A staggering stag party will be held following the game, compliments of the defeated team.

CONGRATULATIONS: Theta Chi's entry for Miss HPC Contest, Miss Linda Ferran, was one of the top 15 girls elected at the November 8 Chapel program. Congratulations to Linda from the Brothers of Theta Chi!

Last but not least, congratulations to Haywood "Squatlo" Edmundson and Don Schmitt for being selected to play on the Fraternity All Star Football Team!

HONORS: Brother Charles Carroll was one of those selected as a Junior Marshall. Congratulations Charlie!

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

NEW PLEDGES: Delta Kappa Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity proudly pledges the following nineteen men: Roy Bartlett; George M. Beam, Jr., Leonard Chisholm; Jim Davis; Richard Doty; Ray Fralley; Phil Garrison; Buddy Hampton; Robert Doty; Olin Haynes; James Holleman; Steve Jarlette; Fred Liedke; Louis Neal; Larry Nolan; Sonny Tudor; Robert Voyles; Noel Waechter; Preston Williams. The fields of study range from music to engineering. This is fine evidence of the ever growing Tau Kappa Epsilon.

RUSH PARTIES: The rushees must have enjoyed themselves as is obvious. They were treated to comedy acts by Zane Daniel and Harold Dickinson and to a fine program headed by master of ceremonies Joe Guzinski.

NEW BROTHERS: Tekes welcome into the brotherhood of the fraternity as associate brother Dell Taylor.

STUDENT TEACHING: Brother Donald Reber is taking his "pot luck" with todays youth. The fraternity hopes that High Point Senior High can stand throughout this semester.

INTERMURAL: The TEKES started off slow in football but have really come back strong in badminton. Keep up the good work, team!

ALL STARS: Again, as in years past, the TEKES get selections to the All Star Football Team. Placed on the first team was Donald Reber, repeating his position as All Star Guard. Receiving honorable mention were Harold Dickinson, Tommy Myers, and David Workman.

MISS HPC CONTEST: TEKES sponsored Miss Sandra Hooks in the Miss HPC Contest.

HPC BASKETBALL TEAM: We are proud of our team. Besides last years stars Joe Guzinski, Zane Daniel, and Tommy Skidmore, we have eight more TEKES to help the cause: Roy Bartlett, Leonard Chisholm, Ray Fralley, Phil Garrison, Olin Haynes, James Holleman, Larry Nolan, and Chalmous Sechrest. Also, Wayne Hazelwood is team manager and Bill Zalles is game manager. Good luck TEKES!

TALENT: New pledge George M. Beam, Jr. played a string bass solo in the student recital and also participates in the Women's College Concert Band.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

PLEDGES: Sigma Phi Epsilon heartily congratulates the following men on pledging its fraternity: Dave Baughn, Jay Brumbley, Steve Hite, Ron Covey, Ken Gunn, George Elkins, Roger Crowford, Larry Warner, Bob Wilson, George Wigglesworth, Tom Ray, John Urian, Ron Sewell, Don Dwiggin, Al Onrato, Ed Mitchell, Claude Cline, Bill Harris, and Harold Burton.

BIG MEN ON CAMPUS: Three Sig Ep brothers, Vance Davis, Charles Price, and Ken Sullivan were elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Brother Vance Davis was also elected to Top 10 Seniors. Pledge Ed Mitchell was elected as vice-president of the freshman class, and Pledge Ron Covey represents the freshman class in the House of Representatives.

SCHOLARSHIP: The administration of the college has recently released the news that the Brothers of North Carolina Eta of Sigma Phi Epsilon ranks first in scholarship on our campus.

FOOTBALL: The Sig Eps completed their intramural football season with a 4-2 record to take the big first place in the fraternity football division. Victories were over TEKE, Delta Sig, Lambda Chi, and Theta Chi. The Brothers were also victorious over the Pledges in the annual Sig Ep Pledge-Brother football game.

PARTIES: Recent parties consisted of a hayride, stag and drag rush parties, and a stag party at the Rathskeller in honor of the new Sig Ep Pledges. Shorty pajamas were given as favors to all the girls at the drag rush party. The Sig Eps are making plans to have these favors modeled by having a drag pajama party in the near future.

CONGRATULATIONS: The Brothers of North Carolina Eta congratulate Brother Bill McKechnie who is engaged to Mickie Kalajian; and Pledge Larry Warner who is engaged to Miss Dottie Fleetwood of Shepherd College.

SERENADE: Miss Debbie Calloway was recently serenaded by the Brothers.

BEAUTY: The Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity wishes the best of luck to lovely Miss Gail Guyer on her endeavor to become Miss High Point College.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

PARTIES: The Pikas held their stag party on November 2, 1960, at the W.O.W. club here in High Point. On November 5, 1960, the Pikas held their annual drag rush party dance at the I.T. Mann American Legion Club in High Point. Music was by Sherman Williams.

PLEDGES: The Pikas pledged 25 new men on November 10, 1960, in their formal pledge initiation. The twenty-five new men are: George Sewell, Bill Abernathy, Larry Slaughter, Hal Snyder, Woody Woodall, Kelly Phillips Bil Dobbins, Lynwood Sattlewhite, Norman Simson, Dan Hammon, Hugh Gentry, Sandy Crowell, George Michaels, Charlie Wiliard, Tom Dickerson, Charlie Robbins, Stan Kinney, Barton Lanier, J. R. Newton, Tom Kester, Ellis Baker, Ken Crutchfield, Mickey Bradford, Thurman Hogan, and George Welch.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

HONORS: Credit to themselves and to their fraternity was brought by Don Drapeau and Daryl McGuire, who represented Delta Sigma Phi in "Who's Who", and "The Top Ten Seniors".

ADULTS: The High Point Bowling Lanes Conference Room was the scene of a supper meeting of the alumni and their dates, and/or wives, on Saturday, November 5, 1960.

RUSH RESULTS: Delta Sigma Phi proudly shook the hands of twenty-one new pledges as the fraternity welcomed them on Monday night, November 7. Congratulations are in order for Rush Chairman Don Drapeau for a most successful rush.

NEW PLEDGES: Delta Zeta of Delta Sigma Phi was happy to pledge the following men in a formal pledge ceremony Wednesday night, November 9: Howard Barnes, Joe Black Bob Coltrane, Larry Craver, Carlton Davis, Dan Earnhardt, Jimmy Foley, Alton Jones, Billy Koontz, Bob Kornegay, Bergie Hatcher, Jerry Hawkins, Leroy Hill, Wayne Lewis, Marvin Manuel, Fred Schneider, David Shaw, Harold Smith, Henry Tonn, and Roy Wilson.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

SELECTED: Brothers Dale Brown, Bob Yates, and Jack Short to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

ENGAGED: Brother Mike Flanagan to Miss Anne Starr and Brother Johnny Long to Miss Becky Marley.

ELECTED: Brothers Dale Brown and Bob Yates to Ten Top Seniors.

SELECTED: Pledge Dick Shackelford to captain the Student team in the Clown Faculty Basketball Game.

TO BE INITIATED: Pledges Dick Shackelford, Charles Welch and Jack Davis.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brother Jim Grant who will graduate in January.

PLEDGED: Fourteen of the finest - Mike Stutts, Gary Walker, Jim Lambeth, Jerry Ramsaur, Richard Spake, Jim Chris, Jim Peltola, Harry Smith, Dave Young, Larry Wilson, Bill Fallin, Joel Polinsky, David Howell, and Dave Culler.

CANNON-FETZER
MEN'S CLOTHING
158 South Main

North State Telephone Company
Local and Long Distance Service

High Point
Thomasville Randleman

Gail Geyer Receives Miss HPC Crown

Jerri Martin, 1960 Miss HPC, crowns Gail Geyer, freshman from Irvington, New Jersey, as the 1961 Queen—complete with trophy, robe, and bouquet.

The Queen and her Royal Court (front row, l. to r): Linda Ferran, Louella Richards, Libby Graham; (seated) Smiley Lloyd; (back row) Former Queen Jerri Martin; Queen Gail Geyer; Miss North Carolina, Ann Herring.

Pageant Held

by JUDY ROGERS

Tuesday night saw the presentation of the annual Miss High Point College Pageant. The event was the climax of much hard work on the part of contestants and all the other people connected with the pageant. The chairman of the pageant was Charles Carroll, in charge of the parade was Margo Brewer; Nelda Murray was responsible for the tea and dinner for the contestants; Anne Welborn headed the committee which obtained the gifts for Miss HPC; Janice Courie coached the contestants and Judy Fisher directed the talent portion of the pageant; Joan Bartlette was in charge of publicity; Dave Holmes was chairman of the ticket committee; Diane Lanier headed the stage crew; Bill Pritchard was responsible for the scenery; June Lee headed the crew that worked on lights; and Dot Barrick obtained the judges.

The judges were Mrs. Edwin Liepman, owner of Tobias; Mr. Raleigh Dingman, principal of Northeast Junior High; and Mr. Norman Schwartz, manager of Rosaine. They were present at the tea and dinner for the five contestants. At this time the judges had a chance to meet the girls and judge on personality. The tea and dinner were preceded by the parade which presented the contestants to the general public.

The pageant opened at 8:00 p.m. with Charles Carroll welcoming the audience and introducing the Master of Ceremonies, Frank Smith. Mr. Smith in turn introduced Jerri Martin, Miss HPC of 1960, who did a baton dance. This was followed by a presentation of the contestants.

The general presentation of contestants was followed by the talent portion of the pageant, each girl being allowed four minutes. Beth Parks opened with a modern jazz comedy about a country girl coming to town; she was followed by Jean Thomas, who did a medley of Al Jolson songs in a song and dance routine; Libby Graham presented a song skit about three types of girls who try out for a Broadway Production; Margaret Hester did a modern dance; Judy Benge presented a dramatic monologue; Louella Richards sang "I can't say No" from OKLAHOMA; Suzanne Bullard demonstrated in a dance how not to study on a dismal Sunday afternoon; Linda Ferran presented a fashion show of clothes she had made; Jackie Creech sang "Buttons and Bows"; Mary Lou Troutman sang "Alice Blue Gown"; Gail Geyer did a modern dance to "Near You"; Sue Williamson did a pantomime to "I want to be Evil"; Vivianne "Smiley" Lloyd sang "I'm Always True to you in my Fashion"; Annette Young did a humorous monologue; and Doris Ann Joyce sang "Take Me out to the Ball Game."

During the intermission the Four Pointers sang in a barbershop quartet and the M. C. presented Miss North Carolina of 1961, Ann Farrington Herring. After the intermission the contestants were again presented, this time in evening dresses. Then Miss North Carolina talked about her experiences in Atlantic City during the Miss America Pageant while the judges decided upon the five finalists.

With much excitement and suspense the five finalists were announced: Libby Graham, Louella Richards, Linda Ferran, Gail Geyer, and Vivianne Lloyd. While the five finalists were all on stage, the wardrobe for the Miss HPC was presented by Lorna Dickson, Sandra Hooks, Mimi Modlin, Betty Neal, and Marilyn Zoeller.

Then Miss Congeniality was announced: Jean Thomas, who was presented a skirt and sweater.

Miss HPC-1960, Miss Jerri Martin gave her farewell address while the judges picked the new Miss HPC 1961. When she had finished, Frank Smith announced the queen and her court. Fourth runner-up was Vivianne Lloyd, Linda Ferran was third runner-up, Libby Graham was second runner-up, and Lou Richards was first runner-up. The new queen, Miss High Point College 1961, is Miss Gail Geyer, a freshman. Miss North Carolina placed a sash around her shoulders, and Jerri Martin crowned the new queen.

Dynamics Course To Be Offered

HIGH POINT COLLEGE—A new course of study will be offered at High Point College beginning with the spring semester in January, 1961. The title of the course will be Group Dynamics Practicum and will be an inter-departmental as well as college-community effort. The course will fall within the realm of study offered by the Sociology and Psychology departments of the college and will deal with domestic relations. The course will include regular classroom work in area of group dynamics, and seminar sessions in conjunction with field work. Each student will work with an individual delinquent. Part of the course will be devoted to a presentation of the basic principles of small group dynamics being made to working with juvenile delinquents and his family, under court supervision, ad participation in regular group sessions which would include several juvenile delinquents and members of their families, one or more court representatives, and one or more faculty representatives.

College faculty members who will participate in the course include Mr. Benjamin Lucas, Jr., Assistant Professor of Sociology; Mr. Grady H. Whicker, Director of Guidance and Counseling; and Dr. H. E. Seidel, Associate Professor of Psychology and Education. Also working on this project will be Judge R. Gorion Gentry of the Guilford County Domestic Relations Court.

This course will offer practical experience to students majoring in sociology or psychology. It is also another step being taken by the college in connection with the community of High Point in offering the services of the college to the citizens of the community.

Kappa Delta and Theta Chi Win Greek Sing

On December 2, Memorial Auditorium was the scene of HPC's first Greek Sing. The ten Greek organizations on campus entertained the audience with a wide variety of musical selections. The winning sorority, Kappa Delta captured the trophy with a beautiful love song "There Are Such Things" and a rousing folk tune "Lollytoodum." Theta Chi Fraternity won with "Dreamgirl of Theta Chi" and "White Christmas." Judges for the occasion were: Mr. Roger Cole, Henry Whipple, and Dr. Lew Lewis. The sing, which was sponsored by the Panhellenic and Inter-fraternity councils, will be held again next fall.

Baltimore Orch. Gives Concert

The first Community Concert for this year was the performance of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, directed by Peter Herman Adler, with soloists, Frances Yeend and Charles O'Neill.

The Orchestra presented La Forza del Destino: Overture, Siegfried's Rhine Journey from "Die Gotterdammerung"; and Prelude to "Die Meistersinger" by Wagner.

The Symphony accompanied Miss Yeend and Charles O'Neill who sang a duet from Verdi's "Aida"; Nile Scene from Act III, Tomb Scene and Finale from Act IV; and a duet from Lohengrin; Bridal Chamber Scene from Act III.

O'Neill sang Wagner's Lohengrin Prelude and Aria: "In Distant Land" from Act III.

Miss Yeend sang the aria from La Forza del Destino "Pace, pace mio Dio" from Act IV.

Community concerts will continue second semester with varied presentations for the cultural benefit of the College and the Community.

Tar Heel Governor Tapped

The appointment of Luther Hartwell Hodges as Secretary of Commerce was announced jointly by the North Carolina Governor and President-Elect Kennedy at a news conference several weeks ago.

The move came as no great surprise to political analysts who had predicted the Tar Heel Governor's reserved cabinet seat soon after Kennedy's victory. Kennedy described Hodges as a man of great competence who shall bring a wealth of experience and esteem to the office.

Hodges grew up as a meager farm boy who learned at an early age the value of an honest and intelligent livelihood. On his own merits he worked his way through the University of North Carolina and was later on to be awarded an honorary doctorate from High Point College.

His alert business mind picked up the idea of an industrialized South long before Wall Street financiers could swallow the notion. For 17 years he worked with Marshall Field and Company and succeeded in moulding this organization into a textile empire.

Luther Hodges became Vice-President of Marshall Field before he decided in 1952 to enter the political arena. With only a short breath of political experience, Luther Hodges was elected Lieutenant Governor in 1952. Two years later when Governor William Umstead died, the gray-haired, but game Lieutenant Governor stepped into the driver's seat and rapidly set out to make his dream come true.

In six years Luther Hodges has carried North Carolina up the ladder of Southern Leadership. In short, he has wooed the Northern Industrialist South to the tune of 1 billion dollars and carried some oppressed North Carolina farmers into high paying industry.

His ability as a businessman and his constant goal of perfection in business and politics alike will bring new energy to an always competitive International Market.

Republicans and Democrats alike acknowledge the Hodges Appointment as a strong move in terms of the National Interest. As a middle-of-the-road Conservative, Hodges will do much to promote Liberal and Conservative cohesion within Kennedy's Cabinet.

Across The Desk

New Plans for Education Program

Something exciting is happening on our campus. This "something" is the planning which is now going on for the new program for Education for Leadership, scheduled for christening in the 1961 Fall Semester.

Perhaps there are many of you who don't understand exactly what this program will consist of, or who don't realize that much has been and is being done to translate this intangible dream into active reality.

For your benefit then, I'll try as best I can to define the program. One reason why this is so difficult is because this program is something entirely new and different. The whole project is so abstract that one almost has to experience it to comprehend it. Education for Leadership has as its main objective the principle of emotional as well as intellectual learning.

It is believed that emotional learning and training is necessary for true intellectual learning to be possible, to make a real impression on the students' mind, to be applied successfully in expedient to this end is a form of group psycho-therapy, and sensitivity training in which the person involved can actually feel what happens in a group, then relate it to life.

Well, what does happen when a number of people are combined into one body? Clear definition of this process is almost impossible, but the closest I can come is to say that those people lose their individual personalities and strive together to sublimate their own ideas and thoughts into a single personality which is superior to their former independent personalities.

There is a pressure exerted upon each member by the fact of his knowledge of his duty to the group. This tension is then diverted into interaction and co-related thought. Perhaps this process could best be described as a sort of current running from one mind to another. This program is designed to create an atmosphere conducive to application of the "current" process in the daily lives of the participants, so that they are enabled to better their lives and those of their fellows. When one is made to see the components of leadership at work, he is better able to be a leader in any field.

Now as to what activity is going on to get this actual curriculum at High Point College, let me just say, "Plenty." Dr. Wendell Patton spent four weeks in New York this past summer in just such a program as the one described above.

More recently, he made another trip to New York to talk with various people who could in some way aid HPC in obtaining the desired program. A few were the Education Editor of the New York Times, Mr. Heekinger; the Director of Education for Time, Life and Fortune, Mrs. Mary Johnson Tweedie; a prominent public relations firm; the Director of the National Training Laboratory, Dr. Lee Bradford; and the Ford Foundation.

Another person with whom our President met was May William Payson. Mr. Payson is an outstanding authority in the field of creating corporate images with which the public can relate certain articles or products. It is hoped he will do a public image of the theme of High Point College's new plan and, also, a fund raising brochure. Some of the methods we might use to get the ball rolling in Education for Leadership are as follows:

1. The setting up of an advisory committee on leadership which would be composed of national leaders in the fields of religion, government, etc.
2. Putting the new program in the catalogue.
3. Formation of a special section on leadership in our library.

Efforts are now being made to contract one of the few persons in the country who are capable of directing such a program. Dr. Patton feels that offering scholarships to qualified students will be possible.

The program will be highly selective and demanding of the students who wish to enter it. Those participate will probably have to pay no extra tuition charge, but it is likely that they will be asked to take part in related extra-curricular activities, preferably in positions of leadership.

—Stacy Story.

The Hi-Po

"VOICE OF THE STUDENTS"

The Official Newspaper of High Point College, High Point, N. C.
Published Tri-Weekly Except During Holiday Periods

Entered as third class matter on October 19, 1950, at the Post Office at High Point, N. C., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC.

College Publisher's Representatives
420 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y.
Chicago - Boston - Los Angeles - San Francisco

Subscription and Advertising Rates Upon Request

Editors-in-Chief ..... Tony Lasala and Brooks Garnett
Business Manager ..... Bill Kester
Assistant Business Manager ..... Louise Whiteley
Circulation Manager ..... Tommy Butner
Sports Editor ..... Charles Watson
Photographer ..... Medford Taylor
Layout Editor ..... Dora Jeffreys
Assistants ..... Betty Treece, "Bunny" Young, Judy Benson, Mary Sides, Sally Anger, and Betty Krimminger.
Typists ..... Sue Williamson, Diane Lanier, Marty Green, and Frances Ingle.
General Staff ..... Thelma Mitchell, Len Lewin, Howard Barnes, Becky Jarvis, Dawn Wilson, Peggy McNamee, Eunice Young, Cynthia Fletcher, Sandra Hooks, Ken Crutchfield, Pat Peterson, Gayle Paxton, Sarah Harbison, John Ward, Pat Peele, Harry Smith, Janet Sedell, Judy Rogers, Lois Campbell, Linda Wood, Janiece Courrie, Ronny Covey, Joan Shockey, Bergie Hatcher, Stacy Story, James Wilmot, and Kathy Stern.

Letters to the Editors

Christmas Thoughts

Just Look

For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son.

Just think! Only two more weeks till we go home for Christmas. What do you first think of when you think of Christmas?

—a rest from school!

—having a big time!

—worrying about the thousands of cards and gifts you will have to buy!

Well, most of us have the wrong idea. Christmas is the giving, not of receiving. Have you ever thought of what the world would be like if there hadn't been a Christmas? We would have to make one. Otherwise the world couldn't have stood the strain. Christmas is a time of goodwill, a time when we give of ourselves to others, a time when we forget ourselves. If we could only have the spirit of Christmas all year the selfish love of the Saviour would exemplify the lives of His followers.

This is the day of the Prince of Peace. It is the time to cast aside all our worries and all our anxieties and to hear the message: "Glory to God in the Highest . . . Peace on Earth."

One day a mother was standing with her youngsters in a department store. Dressed in simple but very neat clothes, they obviously did not have enough money to buy presents. They were not as fortunate as many of us who have our trees loaded with gifts. They were going to the department store to see the beautiful gifts that others were going to get.

Let us resolve to give thanks not only in word but also in deed. As God has given us, let us resolve to give to our fellow men. Let us never lose sight of the very heart of Christmas. The tinsel and the commercialism of the season try to cover the message that God would have us see as He gives His Son to the world. As God gave love to the world, let us, too, practice it.

Think of all the things for which we have to be thankful. Think of how good God has been to us. How fortunate we are to be able to think clearly. So often we forget about the many who are mentally ill and who have not had the opportunity to be a part of their family circle and to enjoy the things of Christmas as we have. We who have the power to see have we thanked God that we have been able to enjoy the candle light and the beautiful flowers and the looks of anticipation and the smiles of joy on the faces of children?

As you prepare for the season ahead remember this—Christmas is

Spirit of Christmas?

To the Editors of the Hi-Po

The decorated Christmas trees, the wrapped gifts, the carols, the snow, the "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year," and Christmas cards are all component parts of the Spirit of Christmas. But these are only external resemblances of the true spirit of Christmas.

An underlying truth of the Spirit of Christmas is revealed through intangible objects. Thoughts that drive us back many centuries to an inn in Bethlehem should help us to visualize what Christmas really is. There should be an unending joy in our hearts for the great event which took place on that cold winter's night.

Then, if we possess this joy, we should transmit it to our neighbor and let him taste the Spirit of Christmas. Whittier says that the joy that you give to others is the joy that comes back to you.

Christmas should be a good time, a kind, forgiving, generous, pleasant time, a time when men and women want to open their hearts freely, both to man and to God.

To feel the Spirit of Christmas, we ought not first seek happiness, but bestow it, for it will always come to us.

Next, we should be willing to forget what we have done for others, and think what others have done for us. We need to sow a few seeds of happiness, and to see that other people are human beings, too.

If we are willing to stop and consider the needs and desires of the unfortunate, give to them that which we have, then the brightened faces we see will be our reward of a true Spirit of Christmas.

As Christmas approaches, let us have a keen outlook for those we can help. Believe that love is the strongest thing in the world—stronger than hate, stronger than evil, then we can keep Christmas.

The "Spirit of Christmas" will shine as a symbol of life, joy, and peace on earth—everlasting.

Abel Dillard Hiatt.

the time not of receiving but of giving.

Pat Clarke.

Why Leadership

Leadership is necessary in any institution, administration, or organization. A blind man must have a dog or guide to be his leader. A trained animal must have a leader or trainer to guide his acts. So is the case of a college—a college without leadership is a college without a purpose. Leaders influence, guide, and correct our manner of living. Our purpose is not to wander aimlessly without a purpose.

The question may arise, "Who should be leaders?" This question may bring debate and conflict. Everyone cannot be a leader, but by participating in a leadership program one can make a program effective. A leader without followers accomplishes very little. With leadership our college will soar to new heights, bring honor and integrity to each student and the college. Leadership promotes purpose, and purpose promotes better life.

Jerry D. Koontz
Journalism Class

Alumnus of the Month

Rev. R. Harold Hipps

Former Hi-Po Editor Now DRE

by JOAN SHOCKEY

While attending High Point College where he received his A. B. degree in 1946, Rev. Hipps took an active part in campus life.

During his four years here he was editor of the Hi-Po for two years, editor of the college yearbook, and a member of the student council to mention only a few honors. He was also president of the following: Ministerial Fraternity, Methodist Student Fellowship, Student Religious Council, Pan Hellenic Council and Delta Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

After graduation from High Point, he went on to the Divinity School of Duke University where he received his B.D. degree in 1949, majoring in Christian Ethics. He received many honors here too numerous to mention, including the following interesting items. Upon graduation from the Divinity School of Duke, the faculty awarded an Honorary Degree of Doctor of Christian Rhythms—in recognition of his leadership in recreation, especially folk dancing, during his student years at Duke. Of course, this was all in fun.

In 1959, he was co-author of A World of Fun—Manual of Instruction for World of Fun Records. Since 1949, Rev. Hipps has been the Minister of Education at the West Market Street Methodist Church in Greensboro and is a popular speaker, teacher, and counsellor to youth.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"YES, I FIND IT'S A LOT EASIER TO GET DATES NOW THAT I HAVE A CAR!"

Mrs. McClure

New Housemother is Well-liked on Campus

"Hello, I just thought I'd drop by to see that you are getting along all right" is a common nicety of the New Resident Dormitory Counselor for Woman's Hall . . . Mrs. McClure. She comes to High Point College from Spindale, N. C., where she was connected with a wholesale and retail flower business.

Mrs. McClure was born in Manchester, Georgia, but has lived in the Tar Heel State for over 25 years. She is the mother of three grown children who are all married and living in different parts of the state.

She attended Piedmont College in Demerese, Georgia.

Her hobbies include collecting coins and antique amethyst glassware. Another "hobby" is taking care of over 200 girls.

Since her job at HPC began, she has been busy making Woman's Hall. Mrs. McClure planted a bed of pansies for springtime. She put the Music box on the front door and worked on all the Christmas decorations for the dorm. She is always amiable and willing to do all that she can for "my girls."

When asked how she likes her job, she smiled, "I love it. I can't solve all the girls' problems, but at least, I can listen."

Jest 'Fore Christmas

by EUGENE FIELD

Father calls me William, sister calls me Will,
Mother calls me Willie, but the fellers call me Bill!
Mighty glad I ain't a girl—rather be a boy,
Without them sashes, curls, an' things that's worn by Fauntleroy!
Love to chawnk green apples an' go swimmin' in the lake—
Hate to take the castor-ile they give for belly-ache!
Most all the time, the whole year round, there ain't no flies on me,
But jest 'fore Christmas I'm as good as I kin be!

Got a yeller dog named Sport, sick him on the cat;
First thing she knows she doesn't know where she is at!
'Long comes the grocery cart, an' we all hook a ride!
But sometimes when the grocery man is worried an' cross,
He reaches at us with his whip, an' larrups us his hoss,
An' then I laff an' holler, "Oh, ye never teched me!"
But jest 'fore Christmas I'm as good as I kin be!

Gran'ma says she hope that when I git to be a man,
I'll be a missionarier like her oldest brother, Dan,
As was et up by the cannibals that live in Ceylon's Isle,
Where every prospeck pleases, an' only man is vile!
But gran'ma she has never been to see a Wild West show,
Nor read the like of Daniel Boone, or else I guess she'd know
That Buff'lo Bill an' cowboys is good enough for me!
Excep' jest 'fore Christmas, when I'm as good as I kin be!

And then old Sport he hangs around, so solemn-like an' still,
His eyes they seem a-sayin': "What's the matter, little Bill?"
The old cat sneaks down off her perch an' wonders what's become
Of them two enemies of hern that used to make things hum!
But I am so perlit an' tend so earnestly to biz,
That mother says to father: "How improved our Willie is!"
But father havin' been a boy hisself, suspicious me
When, jest 'fore Christmas, I'm as good as I kin be!

For Christmas, with its lots an' lots of canides, cakes an' toys,
Was made, they say, for proper kids an; not for naughty boys;
So wash yor face an' bresh yer hair, an' mind yer p's and q's,
And don't bust out yer pantaloons, and don't wear our yer shoes;
Say "Yessum" to the ladies, an' "Yessur" to the men,
An' when they's company, don't pass yer plate for pie again;
But, thinkin' of the things yer'd like to see upon that tree,
Jest 'fore Christmas be as good as yer kin be!

Everyone is Creative

Editors Note: This article is reprinted to acquaint HPC students with another phase of the "Education for Leadership" Program . . . creativity. It appeared in the October issue of Readers Digest.

This talent doesn't have to be the secret of the happy, successful few. Its seemingly mysterious workings have been taken apart so that anybody can see how constructive ideas are produced.

by BLAKE CLARK

"Who, me? Why, I couldn't think of an idea if I tried." This is a typical response when anyone is asked to attempt something original most of us completely lack confidence in our ability to create. We cling to the belief that we are born creative or non-creative, and that nothing can be done about it.

This notion has recently been proved false. Courses conducted in colleges and industry over the past ten years have shown that creativity can be developed. For example, in one research project graduates of creative problem-solving classes at the University of Buffalo were pitted against comparable students who had not had the classes. The course-takers averaged 94 percent better than the others in ability to produce fresh and useful ideas.

With the same creative-development methods, men of industry are designing machines and manufacturers are finding more uses for their products. Some 150,000 persons have now taken such courses, and are getting demonstrable results. General Electrical Company gives a two-year course designed to make its engineers more creative. The 375 who took it between 1937 and 1955 averaged many more patents than others with the same educational background who did not take it. Some 100 leading industrial firms now give some form of creative problem-solving courses to managers, supervisors and other employees.

At General Motors' AC Spark Plug Division in Flint, Mich., A. L. Simberg, supervisor of personnel research and development, selected two groups of hourly employees. One group had a high record of good suggestions for plant improvement; the other's was low. Both received a ten-hour course in creative thinking. During the following year, the high achievers increased their number of usable suggestions by 40 percent. The others upped theirs by 47 percent.

This does not mean that you can take "ten easy lessons" and become a creative genius. But knowing the principles of creative thinking is a big step toward developing creativity. The rest, says psychologist J. P. Guilford, of the University of Southern California, depends upon "practice, practice, practice."

You learn to think more creatively just as you learn to write, paint or play ball, say the experts—by doing it. So course-work consists of solving problem after problem. Classes usually begin with a few mental limbering-up exercises. For example, "How would you arrange four 9's to add up to 100?" the instructor may ask. About one person in ten gets this after wrestling with it five minutes. Try it. The answer is at the end of the article.

How many uses can you think of for a brick, other than for building? Beginners usually come up in five minutes with six or eight ideas, including doorstop, weapon, a weight to hold things down. At the end of a course, after practicing the principles and techniques of creative thinking, they average 15 to 20, including such ideas as a block for ratholes, a whetstone, a stage for a flea circus, and "paint it gold as a Christmas gift for a bricklayer or a gold bricking sergeant."

Alex F. Osborn, a leader in the field of creative thinking, has studied the principles used, perhaps unconsciously, by the great naturalborn creators and shown how to use them. His book, Applied Imagination, is the text used in most creative-thinking courses.

What are these principles?

First: Clearly define the problem. This sounds obvious, but even seemingly simple problems may not be precisely put.

A young mother in a class given by LeRoy Schneider of Roanoke, Va., asked, "How can I get my boy to eat his eggs at breakfast?" Others complained of the same difficulty with their youngsters. "Why do you want them to eat eggs?" demanded the teacher. "For the body-building protein," was the reply. Correctly stated, then, the problem became: How can I help my child to get enough protein? Soon, instead rebelling against eggs, the youngsters whose parents were in this class were getting their protein from food they liked better, such as hamburger or peanut butter.

Second: Think of all possible solutions. Good decisions come from a choice of many alternatives. The fertile innovator approaches his problem from every point of view and lets the thoughts come tumbling. Most of us just don't have this fluency, so Osborn has found ways to help us achieve it.

If you want to have lots of ideas, says Osborn, postpone criticism. This is the basis on which Osborn initiated "brainstorming," the scheme whereby a group of 10 or 12 people suggests as many solutions as possible to a single problem.* One person's thoughts stimulate another's to such an extent that a brief, well-conducted brainstorming session can produce an astonishing number of good ideas. The one strict rule is that all criticism must be suspended; no one is to make fun of another's idea.

For example, a group was asked what might be done to save a destroyer at anchor toward which a mine had already floated so close that there was no time to start up the engines and get away. After many suggestions, one person said laughingly, "Get everybody on deck and blow the mine away!" This patently impractical proposal led another participant to say, "Turn the fire hoses on it and push it back." And this was actually what the crew of one destroyer did when they found themselves in this very dilemma off the coast of Wonsan during the Korean War!

Teachers point out that you can brainstorm problems by yourself, by self-quizzing. Prof. John Arnold, of Stanford's mechanical-engineering department, has devised a useful list of "spur" questions, divided into these nine categories:

Other Uses? Major question in this area: "Is there a new way to use as is?"

Borrow or Adapt? Under this heading, we can prime our imaginations with questions like this: "What other ideas might be adaptable?" (Rudolf Diesel got the idea for his engine from a cigar-lighter.)

New Twist? A typical question along this line: "What other shape?" (Like the buggy-maker who tapered the roller-bearing that Leonardo da Vinci had invented 400 years before.)

More So? The questions under this heading include: "Increase strength?" (Such as reinforced heels and toes in hoisery.)

Less So? One such question: "Eliminate?" (Example: tubeless tires.)

Substitues? A typical question under this head: "What replaces?" (Like synthetic rubber during World War II.)

Rearrange? One such question: "Transpose cause and effect?" (As doctors do in diagnoses.)

Reverse? Sample question: "Do the opposite?" (Elias Howe perfected his sewing machine by designing a needle with the hole at the bottom instead of at the top.)

Combine? Most ideas are combinations of other ideas. A typical brainstorm along this line: "Combine purposes?" (Benjamin Franklin, to avoid changing from one pair of spectacles to another, cut the lenses of each in half and stuck the halves together, with the reading lenses below. Thus he invented bifocals.)

Third: Forget the problem for a while. Teachers encourage students after a long period of seemingly fruitless work to turn the problem over to the subconscious. Here our infinitely complex computers make mysterious calculations and then, suddenly, in a day or a week or a month, an answer may pop into the mind.

George Westinghouse worried for years over ways to bring a long string of railway cars to a simultaneous stop. The answer came in a flash the moment he read that com pressed air was being piped to drillers in mountains miles away: he would pipe it along his line of cars and stop them with an air brake. But such inspirations come after long preparation and thought. Other things being equal, the person with the most knowledge in his field will be the most creative in it.

Fourth: Evaluate the ideas; select the best; act upon it.

The problems thrown at students vary with the subject matter of the course. Men in Dr. Harry Hansen's class in Creative Marketing Strategy at Harvard Business School attack actual problems troubling specific firms, study them for a term and present suggested solutions to company heads.

Some 40,000 college youths all over the country have taken Creative Thinking in connection with their Air Force ROTC training. They tackle difficult situations faced by officers during, for example, the Korean War. "You're a lieutenant in command of the maintenance squadron at Pusan," says the instructor. "Your job is to keep 75 planes in repair for repeated missions. How would you organize your mechanics to keep the greatest number of planes in the air?" One trainee suggested an assembly-line system, with each mechanic checking the same parts every time. The instructor passed the idea on to a maintenance officer, who tried it, liked it and now uses it at his base.

Teachers and students agree that the most important benefit from a course in creative thinking is the change in one's mental attitude. Solving poser after poser, week after week, students stop fearing problems, gain confidence in their ability to solve them and even come to welcome them. They take on some of the spirit of the late Charles F. "Boss" Kettering of General Motors, who said that problems are the price of progress. Don't bring me anything trouble," he instructed his aides. "Good news weaken me."

Courses are stimulating, but many inventive minds never had one. A homeowner, surprised that he handyman had fixed a complicated machine, said, "Did you read the manual?" No, I can't read," was the reply. "And when you can't read, you have to think." You don't have to register and sit in a class to think. Anyone can follow the principles Alex Osborn has revealed.

If you have a problem, think it through carefully until you can state it clearly. Then, alone or with the help of family, friends or business associates, invent all possible means of solving it, postponing criticism. When you run dry, apply the check list of "spur" questions and start the stream again. Write down all your ideas and, after a day or two, select the best. You may have the answer you're looking for.

*See "Brainstorming for Ideas," The Reader's Digest, March '56.

Christmas on Campus

by KATHY STERM
and BROOKS GARNETT

"Rudolfe, the Red-Nosed Reindeer" . . . does the tune sound familiar? Every time the main door to Woman's Hall is opened one chorus of the famous Christmas song tinkles out. But this wasn't the only song heard in the past week.

The girls were serenaded by the Delta Sigs early Tuesday night; and in turn, they, themselves, serenaded the boys dorm later on. Also one can hardly walk through the dorm without hearing either Johnny Mathis or some friends singing the Season's songs.

A tingle in the air . . . a carol on the lips . . . merriment in the heart . . . Christmas.

High Point College completely redressed to celebrate the occasion. Fraternity Row put pledges to work on adorning the outsides of each section. With creations including everything from the Nativity Scene to a tremendous Christmas tree around a door; red, green, and silver decorations along with electric lights soon illuminated this part of the campus until it looked like a Christmas Wonderland.

Atop Roberts Hall, everyone could see the new idea on campus—our own "stained glass windows." With sheets of cellophane on the windows and lights behind them, the Tower was aglow with Christmas tidings, complete with carols from the chimes.

The girls' dorms were a confusion of ribbons and bells and tin foil. Most girls decorated the door to their rooms bringing out many original ideas. One door had a large "kissing ring" made of coat hangers with a tiny figurine couple placed inside, brightly obliging the mistletoe rule.

Another girl completely reconstructed a fireplace with stockings and mantle decorations to put on her door. Yet two ingenious girls plastered a sign on their door declaring "We can't afford any decorations, but Merry Christmas to everyone but Khrushchev!"

And who can forget the parties? With all the yuletide spirit the fraternity and sorority parties couldn't help but be successes. The girls celebrated with their own party Tuesday night in the clubrooms of Woman's Hall. They had skits, a Christmas story, a visit from a Santa called "Frosty," and a report on money that the girls had given to a needy family.

The Poinsettia Ball Thursday night attracted a big crowd. With a band providing the music, everyone donned in their best party outfit, enjoyed an evening of holiday fun.

Vesper services and Wednesday assemblies complied with the Christmas theme. The choir left Wednesday for their annual Christmas tour.

Bright paper, holly, buying gifts, getting bus tickets, packing for home, . . . yes, it's beginning to look a lot like Christmas!

"It's just about finished." A large cedar Christmas tree in Woman's Dorm is getting final baubles, icicles, and trinkets placed by (l. to r.) Pat Clark, Judy Mills, and Kay Thompson.

Al Thompson glues colored cellophane on the glass panes on top of Roberts Hall Tower. Alpha Phi Omega worked on this project which gives these windows a "stained glass" effect at night.

Jerry Ramseur is busy putting up cedar branches to decorate the Lambda Chi section of Fraternity Row. Each fraternity decorated its section of the boys' dorm.

Delta Sigs plug in the lights for their "Christmas Tree on the Wall." This tree is an annual part of Christmas decor on campus.

Everyone is trying to finish up decorating details. Hammers, nails, ladders, tape, wire, and lights get entangled in the confusion.

John Wine, Ronnie Sewell, and Tommy Ray unrolled aluminum foil to be used in making the Sig Ep decorations. Pledges are "given the honor" of designing and making the "Christmas attire."

HPC Gets Yule Greetings from Around World

Former Hi-Po Editor Describes Christmas in Malaya

Anglo-Chinese School
Kampar, Perak, Malaya
October, 1960

Dear Friends:

Holiday greetings to you wherever you are from Malaya. We are already getting into the Christmas spirit as we begin rehearsing the carols and planning all the other activities that go into a Malayan Christmas. Everyone here celebrates Christmas but for most it is a time for no school, no work and plenty of parties. Many who have never even heard of the spirit of Christmas know all too well of other spirits during the Holy Days. We will be working hard to put Christ central in our Asian Christmas.

It is frightening to realize how quickly this first year has passed. I wonder if as much has happened to you as has happened to me during these 12 months in Kampar, if so you have had an exciting and wonderful year!

The first year on the mission field is really, to borrow Malaya's Han Suyin's phrase, "a many splendored thing." It has been as paradoxical as Barth, as depressing as Ecclesiastes, as crazy as Charlie Brown and as inspiring as a tropic sunset. For a "three" the first year is a settling in period. It is at least at first a very awkward year of learning through experience.

Who could ever forget all those blunders which now bring a grin but then brought a flush of embarrassment. The new language which never sounded the same from one person to another, the new food which smelled like an Arabic spice shop but tasted like live coals (I'm sure I used to drink half a gallon of water to "put out" those curries I like so well now,) and all those new friends whose faces and names which just would not stay connected, all played a part in my "breaking in" days. But like adolescence, the awkward days soon disappeared leaving only memories that never fail to bring a chuckle. Now the chopsticks really work better than a fork, the strange phrases are as familiar as "Y'all come," and those impossible syllables have become the names of my closest friends. Though my digestive system fought a prolonged delaying action against Malayization it too finally adjusted. Be it curry, fried rice, bird's nest soup or shark's fins, I now thrive on all.

The first impressions have been replaced by continuing experience of common work, play and worship. Malaya and I are strangers no longer.

Perhaps you may be interested in some of the high points of my specific work during the year. By far the most challenging of my several duties here in Kampar has been serving as teacher-chaplain to our Methodist Anglo Chinese School. Getting used to the British-oriented texts, spelling and educational theory presented an unexpected obstacle, but now my "lunch" is "tiffin," my "trucks" are "lorries" and my "elevators" are "lifts." After teaching Religious Knowledge and English to over 300 students who are neither English speaking or from Christian homes, my only comment is God bless all teachers and give us an extra dose of courage, love and patience.

The RK classes are especially challenging as in the educational system of the mission schools the teaching of religion is on a par with the other subjects such as English, History or Geography. Of course this is only partly true in my RK classes for faith in Christ is something to be caught, not taught. All too often the classes have been too academic and they ended up making Christianity ideas to be learned or verses to be memorized. Consequently, we have in Malaya hundreds of men and women who know a great deal about the Bible but have no idea of the Christian life or connection with Christ's church. By means of new curriculum and teacher training retreats we are now trying to guide each toward their own personal encounter with the love of God we know in Christ Jesus. With over 50,000 students in our Methodist schools there is an opportunity for educational evangelism that is unique in world Methodism.

The classroom then is the marketplace where I must preach Christ. With a non-Christian state religion in control we cannot go into the real streets of Kampar to witness but the school certainly presents a field ripe and ready for the harvest. The spark of insight or interest struck into young minds can be fanned into a flame of commitment in our Methodist Youth Fellowship meetings. From dedicated MYF'ers come the nucleus of our church membership. There is no greater thrill than seeing one of my students stand before the altar of the church dedicating himself to the challenge of discipleship in twentieth century Malaya.

I wish you could know the four young Christians who are pictured in this letter. Each first heard of Christ through our school and each met and chose to follow Him in our youth fellowship. Two were baptized last May and two are still waiting hoping to receive parental approval. Already they are leaders in their own right and one is considering full-time Christian service. Soon they will be leading the Malayan Church into days that will contain great danger that is equally balanced by great opportunity. They are able. We need have no fear of their witness.

Yes, the first year is over. Some of you are probably wondering if I'm glad I came here. Isn't it tough, lonely, disappointing, you ask? And without hesitation I say yes, sometimes it is; but isn't everybody's? There are also all those wonderful incidents and lives which compensate abundantly for everything else. Am I glad I'm here? You bet I am! I only wish more Christian colleagues knew of the great need and the tremendous challenge awaiting anyone who is willing to "come over into Asia" and serve.

In closing may I share with you these meditations on the deck of a Malayan riverboat:

I stand in a great tradition—
In the tradition of those who have stood on the deck
And heard the sound of waves,
And have seen the moon filter its rays through the warm evening mist
And headed for a distant city to preach the Word of God.

This is the tradition of those who dare to think they have seen The heavenly vision, however dimly and intermittently,
And who are content with nothing less than a determined effort To obey it, however feebly and falteringly.

And when the cynic,
Whether without or within, taunts: "What is this vision glorious?" Words fail.
But such as they are, the vision means a growing conviction That God must really be like Jesus Christ,
That the knowledge and realization of this is the most potent Seed-for-good which can be sown; Therefore worth any expenditure I am able to make,
And that in the spending of self in this task
Even my modest gestures can be energized
By the might of the Eternal Spirit.

This is the tradition to which I belong,
Not a sect of the perfect,
The always loyal, the never doubting,
But to the fellowship of the restless and the questing,
To those who think this Gospel is true,
To those who risk all to test that thesis with a life. . . .

May all the Joy of Bethlehem be yours this Christmas. Please don't forget to write for I covet every letter. Remember us in your prayers.

Sincerely yours,
Elmer Hall

Patt Olmsted Sends Message From Japan . . .

124 Iogi, 3-Chome
Suginami-ku
Tokyo, Japan
November, 1960

Dear Friends:

I am writing now even though I have not been in Japan long and I am not yet really settled in my work. I am doing so because I want to share my impressions with you while they are still fresh.

Tokyo is an unimaginably large city with nine million people, so my first impression of it was confused and a bit frightening. However, I have now become accustomed to the trains and how to get around, and feel quite at home. My real moment of triumph came when some Australians asked me for directions and I was able to help!

I am teaching English Conversation and Composition to freshmen and sophomores at Tokyo Woman's Christian College. Teachers in Japan are held in high esteem, regardless of their capabilities, and the formality of the girls in class is strange to me. They never admit they don't understand, for that would be an insult to me. So I must check over their homework often to know if I'm getting across my points.

Another of their customs is not to leave class until the teacher has gone. This I learned the hard way. As I have two successive classes in one room, I sat down to await the second class, only to realize that the first class was not leaving. They just sat there looking at me and I wondered if it was a sit-down strike or some such demonstration! Not knowing what to do, I left the room in search of another English teacher. No sooner did I leave than the girls got up and left also! It was a relief to find this is a custom and that they weren't about to begin cries of "Go Home, Yank!"

I'm very lucky in that I am near the age of these students and so they are more free in their associations with me than with the older teachers. Already they are beginning to relax and I hope to use this advantage in getting to know them as the other teachers are unable to do.

This is a Christian college, but not all the girls are Christian. The morning after the recent assassination of the Socialist leader, our communist students had the campus covered with posters and handbills urging all Japanese students to participate in the demonstrations. This was quite a new experience for me. It served to emphasize the struggle going on in Japan. In a recent homework assignment one of my freshmen wrote: "Now the Soviet Union and the US take charge of our peace!" Whether atheism or Christianity wins in taking charge of the peace of the world depends to a great extent on which wins in taking charge of the students of the world. This comes to me when I stand before a class, knowing that in that very room there may be communist students as well as Christian ones. What I do and say as a representative of the so-called Christian, capitalistic, and democratic way of life can have a tremendous bearing upon these students. I don't mind telling you how inadequate I feel, and yet how hopeful that God will use me in some way.

I hope you each have a very happy and spiritually rewarding Christmas, and that the new year brings you many blessings.

Sincerely yours,
Patt Olmsted
Editor of The HI-PO
1959-60

Christmas Cheer Confused

Once there was a man named John Smith who looked forward to the Christmas season all year long. John was a college graduate in his middle thirties who knew most of the answers most of the time.

He led what is considered a pretty good life. He had a lovely wife, three lovely children, and a fine business which paid off in handsome dividends—especially after the Christmas season. What's more he and his family had just been given the green light to join the Country Club in their upper-bourgeois community and John Smith could not help but believe that he had scored an all important "touchdown plus" in his still early climb up the magic ladder of success. Yes, he and his wife could now sip champagne with the best of them.

In short he was the living profile of the bold young businessman who is so often featured on the pages of Esquire and Playboy. John Smith loved this image of himself and he sincerely believed that all he had to do to protect this image was to keep his small business functioning at its lively rate.

On the day of one Christmas Eve after leaving the office party which he was so kind enough to give his employees, John embarked for home. He had made his usual financial haul for the Christmas season and he was now prepared to leave the big city for a few precious days in which he could bathe in his glory. As John waited for his usual commuter train he saw that now constant image in a most colorful way.

John's normal Christmas Eve usually consisted of the party at the Country Club followed by a leisurely day of relaxation. After all he had worked hard for the last few weeks and he was entitled to some relaxation.

The commuter train club car was, as usual, a smoke-filled congested area where loquacious chatter and the tinkles of cocktail glasses formed the tempo. It was the usual crowd with the usual shop talk, the usual bad jokes, and the usual boasts. Christmas Eve was no exception. Yes, John Smith likes this atmosphere. It was all part of his image.

In the course of the conversation John got into a rather heated argument with one of his friends over John's capabilities as a craftsman. Now John had taken a crisp course while in college in which he was supposed to learn something about hammers, wood, and nails and how to use them. However, the knowledge of this art or hobby had long since past. Yet, he had a few drinks under his belt and he was determined to vouch for his own integrity in this field. The argument was settled with a $100 bet which bound John to do some woodwork over two rudders and make of these rudders a sled for his daughter. The finished product would be attested the following evening at the Club's Christmas party for children. It was a gentleman's bet supposedly with few rigid stipulations.

John made it home a little bit intoxicated but a whole lot more obsessed. He quickly informed his wife that they were spending the evening at home to the delight of his children. After making several rather unusual phone calls and several short trips John somehow managed to gather his materials. His business talent proved beneficial.

At 9:30 a.m. Christmas Eve of 1960 John set about to do the impossible. All through the night he hammered, sawed, and read through a book of directions intermittently. The dawn of Christmas Day saw him just about finished with his chore and he gleed with satisfaction.

He felt so esteemed and assured that he even consented to attend church with his children. He was too happy to sleep anyway and though he was not a frequent churchgoer he decided to go for the children's sake. This usual Christmas morning was spent trying to sleep out a hangover. But somehow this Christmas would be different.

When the Smith family returned from church and the children saw what Santa Claus had brought them it was a scene of almost uncontrollable excitement. Yet when John presented the now almost famous sled to his daughter as a gift from Santa Claus she accepted it strongly and stared at him with small tears in her big blue eyes. At six years old little Laura Smith was an unusually bright child and John somehow feared she might have knowledge of his bet which now for the first time looked like a bad venture.

Later, on that Christmas afternoon the Smith family gathered with their friends at the Club's Children Christmas Party. John snickeringly made some frail excuses for not being pres-

I Wish You . . .

Christmas is different.

Hot kitchens with spicy smells, frozen fingers tucked in woolen mittens, a fading green tree leaning with the weight of bubbly lights and silver icicles, are all part of this magnificent season.

Yet, I watch the different ways of celebrating this holiday. Stores plan months ahead of time for elaborate window displays which would be marvels to any shopper. Shopping lists look like unending rolls of tickertape. People rush and work and save to make this time of year "happy."

But something is wrong!

Gilted gifts in expensive gold paper, engraved Christmas greetings, over-stuffed Santa Clauses with different faces, laden dinner tables with ravishing delicacies, "I have to get Lou a gift because she got me one," . . . how do these things remind us of the Christ-child?

Have the words "have a Merry Christmas" come to mean "be sure to rack up on the gifts, man" or "get a plenty of sleep over the holidays?" What does "Merry Christmas" mean really? . . . Just something to say? The proper salutation?

What would make the "Christ-child merry"? Isn't that an integral part of the holly-and-mistletoe season?

If I were Korean, what would a "Merry Christmas" be?

—B. G.

ent at the "real" party the night before.

Now part of the program at this party was for each of the tots, if they chose, to tell what was their favorite Christmas present and why. After several of the children did just this and their parents beamed with delight, little Laura Smith raised her hand.

John suddenly felt cold all over and took a brisque swallow of his cocktail to reassure himself.

"Well," little Laura began, "My favorite Christmas gift was a sled. Daddy said Santa Claus brought it, but I know it wasn't Santa Claus who brought it. I just know he could not have, because Daddy's hammering down in the cellar kept me awake all night. So, I know that if Santa Claus did come I surely would have seen him. Besides during the night I peeked in on Daddy and saw him working away on the sled.

"Even though Santa Claus did not come, my Daddy made me the nicest present in the world all by himself. And it was such a nice Christmas because last night we didn't have our mean old baby-sitter. Mommy read us Christmas stories while Daddy was working away and later when Daddy came up stairs for a while we all sung Christmas Carols and this morning we all went to church together. It was so nice. I think this is a wonderful Christmas and I will always take good care of my sled which Daddy worked so hard on. The funny thing is that I never asked for a sled."

At that instant John Smith felt about as wretched as any one man could feel. The boisterous applause which Laura received for her story only added to John's feeling.

He could hardly make his way to the washroom to shed the tears of his awakening. Later, when his crony-pal came in with the $100 bill John took it only to roll it up and stuff it in the man's cocktail.

Regaining his composure he left the washroom and gathered his family to return home for the conclusion of a fine Christmas.

—T. L.
2K

At Christmas play and make good cheer, For Christmas comes but once a year.

National College Queen Contest Offers Large Prizes

New York, New York—The National College Queen Contest, to select and honor an outstanding American college girl, is again underway. This year, the National Finals will be held in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, with more than $5,000 in prizes to the new winner.

The competition will include a colorful Pageant in April of 1961. It will be a highlight of the Easter holiday celebration which annually attracts thousands of college students to Fort Lauderdale. The National College Queen Contest Committee is planning the event in cooperation with leading beachfront hotels and the City of Fort Lauderdale.

This will be the 7th annual contest, open to all undergraduate college girls between the ages of 17 and 22. Free entry blanks and complete details can be obtained by writing to: National College Queen Contest Committee, Paramount Building, Suite 1606, 1501 Broadway, New York, 36, New York.

The competition is a search to find a truly typical college girl who deserves the national crown. This is not just a "beauty contest." Only 50% of the judging will be based on attractiveness, personality, charm and appearance. Equally important will be scholastic accomplishments, campus activities, hobbies and interest in community affairs.

The new National College Queen need not be a "Marilyn Monroe," nor does she have to be a "Phi Beta Kappa." The Board of Judges seek someone who is a "happy medium" between these standards.

The prizes to the next National College Queen will include a two-week tour of Europe, visiting famous cities in England, France and Italy. She will also receive a complete head-to-toe wardrobe of high fashion apparel and many other merchandise awards. If she is interested in the theater, the winner will also receive a $1,600 scholarship to the famous Dramatic Workshop in New York City—to study with Dr. Saul Colin, who coached such as Marlon Brando, Shelly Winters, Geraldine Page, etc.

The National College Queen will also enjoy modeling assignments, network television interviews and a personal appearance tour. These activities will bring her added earnings, and will be arranged so that they will not interfere with her academic schedule.

College girls in this area are now eligible, and may first become a Regional Winner. The regional prize is an all-expense-paid trip to Florida to compete in the National Finals. The finalists receive round-trip transportation, accommodations and meals at leading beachfront hotels in Fort Lauderdale, and are guests of the Pageant.

A committee of hostesses and alumni of women's colleges will direct all activities while the contestants are in Fort Lauderdale.

A coast-to-coast television program is now being planned to cover the Coronation of the new National College Queen. The program will feature each candidate and will pay tribute to her college and community.

Each Regional Winner will also receive a Citation Scroll, presented to her and her college in recognition of her accomplishments. Judges will include a panel of distinguished educators to score academic and current events questions... while other experts consider attractiveness, good grooming and personality.

In previous years, among the national judges were such well-known personalities as Col. Clarence E. Lovejoy, education counselor and author; Bess Myerson of TV fame; photographer Bruno of Hollywood, etc.

Upon entering this year's contest, college girls will receive a questionnaire. They will be asked to describe themselves, their campus activities and their post-graduate aims and goals.

The current National College Queen is Carole D. Reinhart, 19-year-old sophomore at the University of Miami. She is an honor student, attending college on a scholarship. During her freshman year, her campus newspaper recognized her attractiveness and personality by naming her a "Hurricane Honey" in their local competition.

Second place in the 1960 National College Queen Contest was awarded to Patricia Merrill of Hood College in Fredericks, Maryland. Third place was earned by Judy McGuire of Vassar College.

Any college girl, who is officially registered at this school and in good standing, can enter the new contest. Classmates (young men or young women) can also nominate a girl to be an entrant. Mail the name of a nominee to the National College Queen Contest Committee in New York.

Entries are now being accepted, and college girls in this area have a new opportunity to win fame for themselves and acclaim for their college.

Campus Profile

Vivianne Lloyd

"Smiley" Shows Stage Talent

Vivianne Lloyd matriculated to High Point College in the autumn of 1958. Since that time she has been more aptly referred to as "Smiley" and to friend or acquaintance this is no small wonder.

Her unique personality and ever-glowing radiance are often imitated but somehow never equalled, and her sincere efforts to add to the strength of High Point College have not by any means gone unrewarded.

Smiley was born in Ohio some twenty years ago but like many other enterprising young Americans she embarked for the Sunshine State of Florida at an early age. Tampa, Florida is now the place that Miss Lloyd calls home, but fate was to play another role in suggesting Smiley's surroundings, and, therefore High Point College is now proud to claim her.

Smiley started her tenure as a popular campus figure from almost the very beginning. She was one of two girls from the Freshman Class elected as cheerleader in 1958 and ever since her lusty voice and school spirit have been almost an earmark for Panther enthusiasts. Aside of her athletic interests and academic quests Smiley donates most of her time to Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority in which she is a sister, and the ever-enterprising Tower Players. A born actress, Smiley, according to Miss Jane DeSpain, can play the lead role or character role with a wealth of ease and talent. Will we ever forget "Teahouse of the August Moon" or the scope of Smiley's fine performance in the Miss HPC contest of this year when she personified the typical "Broadway Babe" in her rendition of "I'm Always True to You in My Fashion." Smiley was to be rewarded for this performance by being selected as a finalist.

And so it is with a gratifying smile that we salute "Smiley" as our Personality of the Month. It is truly a privilege to do so.

Christmas Goodies

from the Readers Digest.

PARDON, YOUR SLIP IS SHOWING

From a restaurant ad: "Good Food Takes Time, Yours Will be Ready in a Second."

Club notice: "The Skyland Garden Club will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. at the country club. Shady subjects will be discussed."

Newspaper headline: "Public Asked to Meet on Light Poles."

Newspaper article about a local resident: "He operates a farm, engages in civic activities and keeps an occasional sneaking date."

Small boy to mother: "Daddy took me to the zoo. One animal came in and paid $33.80 across the board."

One policeman to another: "Ever get one of those days when nothing seems to go wrong?"

Small son to parents bringing home quadruplets: "We'd better start calling folks. They're gonna be harder to get rid of than kittens."

Woman complaining to receptionist in doctor's office: "All he does is make an appointment for me to see another specialist! Is he really a doctor, or just a booking agent?"

It's not the "real thing," unless it's the genuine Artcarved Evening Star

Now an engagement ring design so distinctive—it is protected by a U. S. design patent*! This exclusive Artcarved "Evening Star" design dramatizes the diamond as other rings can't do. Even a modest diamond appears impressively radiant and rich. Isn't this what you want for your love? Then accept no less. Look for the name Artcarved stamped in each ring. It is your only assurance of the genuine "Evening Star" engagement ring. And only with Artcarved® do you receive a written guarantee for diamond quality—plus the protection of the nationwide Permanent Value Plan.

*U. S. DESIGN PATENT NO. 188,805

Discover more about this exciting ring and other valuable tips on diamond ring buying. Write to:

J. R. Wood & Sons, Inc., Dept. CP-90, 216 E. 45th St., N. Y. 17, N. Y.

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY _____ ZONE _____ STATE _____

Artcarved
DIAMOND AND WEDDING RINGS

Beloved by brides for more than 100 years (1850-1960)

Wear Your Colors — BMOC Blazers

Authentic Embroidered Emblems

For All National Fraternities

Only $28.50 (Less to Groups)

Custom Tailored Suits from $48.50

Pants from $13.50

H-B CUSTOM TAILORS

464 South Main Street

Phone 2-8740

HIGH POINT NEWS STAND

Christmas Records
216 North Main Street

MODEL BARBER SHOP

125 North Wrenn

FIVE POINT LAUNDROMAT

1232 Montlieu
We Wash, Dry and Fold

BROWN'S SHOE REPAIR

Since 1924
Phone 4313
208 East Washington

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

The ball is way up in the air; but the matter has long since been decided. Panther men Garrison, Buchanan, Sewell, and Daniel drive the final nail home as the Panthers romp to a 30-point-plus victory over a game but outmaneuvered Pfeiffer club.

Meet The Panthers

by HARRY C. SMITH and BERCIE HATCHER

The basketball season is underway. Here is a list of the Panthers who we will be watching this season.
 Jack Short: Guard; 6' 0"; 155. Jack is a senior and is captain of the team. Last year, averaged 13 points a game. He comes from William, Indiana.
 Wolfy Unger: Center; 6' 5"; 195. Wolfy, a junior, has one of the best shooting eyes in the conference. Last year, led the North State in foul-shooting percentage. His home is in Fletcher, N. C.

 Bill Fallin: Center; 6' 6"; 180. Freshman this year, has good spring and a real soft touch. From Oxen Hill, Md.
 Larry Nolan: Forward; 6' 1"; 190.

Sophomore from Washington, D. C. Played a lot last year and should add experience to the team for the next few years.

Joel Polinski: 6' 5"; 175. Freshman with good potential. Joel's home is in Baltimore, Md.
 Gene Buchanan: Guard; 6' 0"; 180. Played two years of Junior College ball before coming to High Point last year. Gene, from Sanford, N. C., is a good shooter and a real hustler.
 Ron Sewell: Forward; 6' 3"; 160. Freshman from Kokomo, Indiana. Is the younger brother of Danny Sewell who was an All-American here last year.
 Phil Garrison: Forward; 6' 1"; 195. Freshman with amazing rebounding ability. Can shoot very well in close with either hand.
 Butch Bartlette: Guard; 6' 0"; 205. Butch, a freshman, played with Garrison in Rushwell, Indiana, last year. Butch has a great shooting eye.
 Joe Guzinski: Forward; 6' 2"; 190. A hustling junior from Tunkekanock, Pennsylvania. Regarded as a leader and is very reliable in the clutch. Played first string on last year's team and averaged over ten points per game.
 Chalmous Sechrist: Guard; 6' 2"; 185. Returns to the Panthers as a starter after a year-and-a-half layout from school. Will start in the back-court along with Jack Short. From Thomasville, North Carolina.
 Tom Skidmore: Forward; 6' 3"; 175. Regarded by Coach Yow as one of his finest reserves. Senior from Norwood, N. C.
 Len Chishalm: Forward; 6' 0"; 167. Although Len will not be seeing much action this year, he is regarded as a comer. Product of Alexandria, Virginia.
 George Hampton: Forward; 6' 1"; 165. Freshman prospect from Laurel Hill, N. C.
 George Smith: Forward; 6' 4"; 200. Senior reserve from Asheville, N. C. Will use his size to the best

RESULTS OF BADMINTON

Tau Kappa Epsilon took first place in intramural badminton, with Sigma Phi Epsilon coming in second.
 Teke Joe Guzinski was the singles champion and Fred Sigmon and Marion Suitt were the champions of double sets.

Final Standing	Point Distribution
Tau Kappa Epsilon	44
Sigma Phi Epsilon	36
Delta Sigma Phi	18
Theta Chi	10
Pi Kappa Alpha	2
Lambda Chi Alpha	-38

Singles

First: Joe Guzinski, Tau Kappa Epsilon.
 Second: Phil Coghill, Independent.
 Third: Mickey Dean, Sigma Phi Epsilon.
 Fourth: Jerry Koontz, Delta Sigma Phi.
 Fifth: Chris Woodman, Delta Sigma Phi.

Doubles

First: Fred Sigmon and Marion Suitt, Sigma Phi Epsilon.
 Second: Tom Myers and Dave Workman, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

advantage.
 Zane Daniel: Guard; 5' 10"; 160. Hard worker who shoots well from outside. Probably will see plenty of action this year. Junior from Rutledge, Tennessee.
 Jim Holleman: Forward; 6' 1"; 195. Transfer student from Jonesville, N. C. Has lots of potential and a good shooting eye.
 Olin Haynes: Guard; 5' 11"; 170. Good-looking freshman from Johnson City, Tennessee. Here is one to watch in the future.

"Pappy" - The Student's Friend

by JOHN WARD, JR.

"Pappy" Leads Tarheels to Victory" was probably the headlines of the Daily Tarheel in the winter of 1948. That year "Pappy" was co-captain of the University of North Carolina's basketball team. He was so named because as the UNC cagers would go onto the court, his rather scanty crop of hair gave him the appearance of being the "daddy of them all" according to a Daily Tarheel reporter.

"Pappy" is none other than our own Dr. Jim Hamilton, Director of the Health and Physical Education Department of High Point College. Since his arrival in September, Dr. Hamilton has already become very close to the students, and all who know him have already come to love him, to admire him, and to respect him.

Dr. Hamilton was born in Weir, Kansas. It was in this small town of 800 that he received his early education. He enrolled in Independence Junior College and later transferred to Pittsburg State in Pittsburg, Kan., where he was named to the NAIA (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics) All-American basketball team and the All-Southern baseball team.

In 1942 he entered the Armed Services of the United States. While in service, he attended the Columbia University Midshipmen School and the N. C. State Diesel Engineering School. After his discharge, Hamilton attended UNC and received his A.B. degree in 1948 and his M.A. in 1950. While at Carolina, he served as freshman basketball coach for three years. After graduation he became basketball coach of Lenoir Rhyne College. He served in this capacity for seven years. "Pappy" left Lenoir Rhyne in 1957 to attend George Peabody College in Nashville. He returned to Lenoir Rhyne College as head of the Athletic Department in 1958. In 1959 Hamilton went to Europe on a grant from the International Education Exchange Service of the State Department. While in Europe he lectured—primarily on basketball—and served as coach for the Turkish Olympic Team for the National Basketball Federation.

Hamilton received his Ed.D. degree from George Peabody College in the summer of 1960. He assumed his duties at High Point College in September of 1960. Dr. Hamilton has made many other accomplishments including membership to the Helms

Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame, which is one of basketball's most cherished awards; but perhaps his greatest accomplishment is his fine family. He was married to "Bill" Lloyd at Chapel Hill in 1949. They have two children—Bill, age 10, and Beth, age 7. The Hamilton family resides on West College Drive. "Pappy," who is District 26 Chairman of NAIA (which includes North and South Carolina), enjoys such hobbies as fishing, golf, and "just about any other activity that is not concerned with sitting behind a desk."

Dr. Hamilton is already known to High Point College students as a friend of the students and as one who has the ability and willingness to help students in any way possible. His warmth toward the students and his friendly personality have already made him scores of friends since he arrived on the HPC campus. Coach Hamilton said, "We have a great opportunity and a possibility of building a very outstanding athletic program here and with a lot of hard work we can have such a program. We are well on our way and the students are doing a tremendous job with their co-operation and help." Dr. Hamilton seems very impressed with the student body of High Point. And it is very evident that the student body is likewise impressed with its newly found friend—Dr. "Pappy" Hamilton.

GRACE FLOWER
SHOP

Natural Shoulder Clothing
SHERATON
MEN'S SHOP
In the Sheraton Hotel

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Know the answer?

What's an eight-letter word which reminds you of good taste, sparkle, lift? The answer's easy—Coca-Cola of course. No puzzle about why it's so popular . . . no other sparkling drink gives you so much good taste, so much satisfaction. Yes, when you're looking for refreshment, the answer's always Coke!

BE REALLY REFRESHED

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
HIGH POINT COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., HIGH POINT, N. C.

THE SWEET SHOPPE
 113 North Main Street
 Phone 3745
 College Village Shopping
 Center — Phone 2-8026
 For the Best in Baked Foods:
 Call Our Address to the Attention
 of Your Parents for Special
 Occasion Cakes

CANNON-FETZER
MEN'S CLOTHING
 158 South Main

North
State
Telephone Company
 Local and Long Distance Service
 High Point
 Thomasville Randleman

ALPHA GAMA DELTA

VISITOR: Mary Jane Grimes Flimmer who is Executive Secretary of the Alpha Gamma Delta Fraternity. She spent Wednesday, December 7, with us.

CHRISTMAS PROJECT: For a Christmas project, the sorority is collecting food and clothes for a needy family.

PARTY: The Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority had a buffet dinner and Christmas Dance on December 10 at the American Legion Building in High Point.

CHRISTMAS CAROLING: The Alpha Gams went Christmas caroling with the Sig Eps on December 14. They went to the Presbyterian Home where they sang carols and had a worship program.

HONORS: Contestants for Miss HPC: Jackie Creech, Sue Williamson, Annette Young, and Doris Ann Joyce.

HOMCOMING COURT: Eunice Young, Sue Williamson, Betty Neal.

KAPPA DELTA

GREEK SING: KD's sang "Lollytoodum" and "There Are Such Things" to win the first Greek Sing Trophy.

HOMCOMING CONTESTANTS: Dee Stone sponsored by Zane Daniel, Judy Lambeth sponsored by Phil Garrison, Gail Geyer sponsored by Ronnie Sewell.

MISS HPC: Appearing for Kappa Kappa Delta were Maggie Hester, Judy Benge, Jean Thomas and Gail Geyer. Congratulations to pledge Gail Geyer, Miss HPC for 1961 who was crowned by Sister Jerry Martin-Miss HPC for 1960, and to Jean Thomas, elected by the contestants as Miss Congeniality.

KAPPA DELTA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF HIGH POINT: gave a tea at the home of Mrs. Frank Dalton on December 7, 1960, to Gamma Gamma Chapter in honor of the pledges.

SLAVE MARKET: Successful event was staged by KD pledges.

BEATNIK PARTY: enjoyed by KD's and their dates on December 22 at the Emerywood Country Club.

ROMANCE: December 17, 1960 wedding bells will chime for Miss Martha Cheevis and Carson Powers; and on December 26, 1960 for Miss Anne Starr and Mike Flanagan.

PHI MU

MISS HPC CONTEST: Libby Graham second runner-up and Lou Richards first runner-up.

SHOWER: Sisters and pledges gave a baby shower for Mrs. "Pert" Gratham at the Panhellenic House on December 8.

SPAGHETTI SUPPER: Enjoyed by pledges and sister at Panhellenic house on Friday night, December 9.

NEW INITIATES: Marilyn Zoeller, "Booky" Kearns, and Kay Phillips were initiated on November 19.

NEW PLEDGE: Lou Richards has recently been pledged.

CHRISTMAS CAROLING: On December 14 the Phi Mu's went Christmas Caroling with Theta Chi Fraternity.

THANKS: To Peggy Hill for doing a great job in the "Greek Sing."

MEETING: Sisters have been invited to Mrs. "Pert" Gratham's house for sorority meeting this week.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

HONORS: Vivianne, "Smiley" Lloyd was chosen fourth runner-up in the 1961 Miss HPC contest.

NEW PLEDGE: Elaine Green, freshman from Ruffin, N. C. pledged November 23.

PROJECTS: Pledges gave party for KD pledges after one of their meetings. They plan to give a program for the Rehabilitation Center in Greensboro as a Christmas Project. The sister are planning to send Christmas cards to the Presbyterian Home.

DANCE: The annual White Violet Ball is planned for January 7. A special feature will be a buffet supper in the Panhellenic House the night before the dance for Zetas and their dates.

WEDDINGS: Angie Robbins to David Floyd on December 18, Henry Ellen Atkinson to Atlas Warwick on December 23, and Helen Clay, last year's president, to Robert Reed.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

DANCES: The annual Christmas Dance will be held at the American Legion on High Street on Friday, December 9, 1960. The way things are going it will top last years blast. The program and refreshments are being handled by the pledges. Our annual Founder's Day Ball will be held at North Carolina State on January 14, 1961. Delta Kappa chapter will be on hand for this feature occasion.

GOING STEADY: Brother David Workman with Dawn Wilson.

PLEDGE PROJECT: Tau Kappa Epsilon pledges are selling candy for their service project and will take care of the section's Christmas decorations.

NEW OFFICERS: Jerry Murdock elected secretary and Bill Zalles and Bob Michael as co-social chairmen.

WINNERS: Joe Guzinski pulled us closer to first place in the intramural program with a first place, smashing victory in badminton. Supporting him in badminton were: second place in doubles Tommy Myers and David Workman, and third place George Smith and Sammy Taylor.

WHO'S WHO: Representing TEKE, Donald Reber.

VOLLEYBALL: TEKES are going strong, planning to gain more ground in the intramural program. So far the team dominated by pledges is demonstrating fine play. Good luck.

VARSITY BASKETBALL: Of the starting five, three are TEKES: Joe Guzinski, Larry Nolan, and Chalmous Sechrest.

TO ALL: TEKES would like to extend to the students and faculty their warmest wishes for a Merry Christmas and a full and prosperous New Year.

THETA CHI

PLEDGED: Charles Nesbit of Asheville, North Carolina pledged Theta Chi Fraternity on November 28. Congratulations to Charlie from the brothers of Theta Chi.

DANCES: The brothers gave a dance in honor of the pledges on November 22 at the Oak View Grange.

A dance is planned for the 16 of December which will be held with a Christmas theme in mind.

GREEK SING: Theta Chi won top honors for fraternities at the first of an annual Greek Sing sponsored by the Panhellenic Council. Under the direction of Jerry Kivett the brothers sang the following selections: "White Christmas" with piano accompaniment by Brother Helsabeck's wife, Kay Helsabeck; and "Dreamgirl of Theta Chi" which included a solo by Brother Jerry Kivett.

FOOTBALL: November 20 the brothers and pledges of Theta Chi played against each other at the Stadium. After two grueling halves the score remained 0-0.

On December 3 brothers and pledges of Epsilon Alpha of High Point College met the Wake Forest chapter, Gamma Omicron. On account of the brilliant maneuvering of coach Gary "Hickey" Davis, Snappy plays by Bill Davidson and "glory-boy" Len Lewin the Alpha's triumphed a 26-7 victory.

CAROLING: The brothers of Theta Chi will join together with the sisters of Phi Mu and go caroling through the town of High Point and the Campus of High Point College.

SERENADE: The brothers will serenade Miss Dee Hutchins who is pinned to brother Bill Gladstone.

SPECIAL THANKS: To the Phi Mu's who invited the brothers and the campus to a very enjoyable Tea at the Panhellenic House.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

NEW ADVISOR: November 19 was a highpoint for Delta Zeta chapter, as Dr. Seidel, Professor of Psychology, accepted the bid to become our chapter advisor. His formal initiation is soon to take place.

ALUMNI: Major Howard Veach, U.S.M.C., who has returned to HPC for completion of his degree, has accepted a bid and will soon be initiated as an Alumni Affiliate.

The Delta Zeta Alumni chapter had a supper meeting Saturday night December 3.

It's All Greek

PARTIES: The Delta Sigs held a "way out", "wall climbing" Beatnik Party at the Thomasville American Legion Hut on November 19 in honor of the new pledges.

An open house is planned for brothers, pledges, and their dates on December 16 at the home of Major and Mrs. Howard Veach.

SERENADES: Judy Fisher, who is pinned to Tom Ferguson, will be serenaded by the Fraternity on December 12. Tom will then be the guest soloist at an old fashioned midnight swim. The following night the Delta Sigs will give a Christmas serenade for the girls' dorms.

ATHLETICS: Delta Sigma Phi's volleyball team in the Fraternity League is unbeaten in its first two starts, having beaten Theta Chi and Pi Kappa Alpha. The team looks like the team to beat. Delta Sig is second in total points for all-campus trophy and with a first place in volleyball they could be well in first place.

In the Independent league, Delta Sig is sponsoring three teams; two are unbeaten and the other has lost but one.

BAD GRAD: Don Drapeau received his acceptance to the University of Connecticut graduate school of Speech and Drama.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brother Mike Flanagan and Brother Johnny Long on their Christmas weddings.

SERANADED: Brother Carroll Hawkins and Miss Anne Seidel.

PLEDGED: Bill Ferrazano, junior, from Wycoff, New Jersey.

PRACTICE TEACHING: Brothers C. T. Fulk and Dale Brown at High Point Senior High School.

PRESENTED: Lambda Chi Alpha's annual Christmas Party at the Marietta Clubhouse.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brothers Jack Short and Gene Buchannan and Pledge Bill Fallin on their fine contributions to this year's Purple Panther's Basketball Team.

SEASONS GREETINGS: The Brothers and Pledges of Lambda Chi Alpha would like to take this opportunity to wish all of High Point College a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

CHAMPIONS: Fred Sigmon and Marion Suitt teamed up in the badminton doubles to win first place. Mickey Dean took third place in the singles.

PARTIES: Sig Eps will have their Christmas party on December 16.

GOOD SHOOTING: Sig Eps wish very good shooting to freshman pledge Ronnie Sewell during this year's basketball season.

OFFICERS: This year's pledge officers are: John Urian, president; George Wigglesworth, vice-president; Jay Brumbley, secretary; Bob Wilson, treasurer; Guard; Bill Harris, projects chairman; Dave Baughn; social chairman; Ed Mitchell.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

EVENTS: On Sunday, December 4, 1960, the Pikas played the Lambda Chis for the fraternity rock on highway 68 on the road to Greensboro. The ball game was won by the Pikas. This means that the Lambda Chis will paint the rock for the Pikas with the Pi KAGreek letters.

The week-end of December 10 is full of happy memories for the pledges of Pika. For it is on this week-end that the pledges took their annual pledge trips to the various colleges and universities in this area.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Bob Lloyd who has been nominated as one of the Junior Marshalls of High Point College.

EVENTS (cont.): The Pikas, like all the other Greeks on the campus were in the first annual Greek Sing of High Point College. All of the brothers and pledges said that this was the type of activities that bring the fraternities and sororities closer together. All of us really enjoyed working in the preparation of this event.

COMING EVENTS: The next attraction for all of the Pikas is the annual Christmas Holidays. This will be a time of parties for both old and present members of the fraternity.

The Pikas are also looking forward to the annual International Ball to be held in the month of January.

The Wooden Eye

by MEDFORD TAYLOR

The sphinx has reason to smile! When visiting the campus recently, Miss North Carolina, Ann Herring, obligingly posed on the Delta Sig sphinx. Ann didn't let her long gown and big hoop hinder her fun!