Women's Dorm Rules Changed

The Women's Dormitory Council had several rules approved for the residence students of High Point College.

The major change is that all upperclassmen are allowed to date, except freshmen.

Fresmen girls may date on Saturday (12:00) and Sunday (11:15). All must return to dorm by 12:00.

Upperclass girls may date any time except during the last three weeks of the school year, or any time during the semester before spring break.

Freshmen may go at 0:30, and all upperclassmen may go to the bookstore.

Seniors must be back at 9:00. Juniors must be back at 10:30. Freshmen must be back at 11:15. No one is allowed to date off campus.

The President's election will undoubtedly go down in history as one of the most important and decisive elections ever held. Therefore every eligible voter should feel that the responsibility of studying and understanding the candidates before voting is an obligation to him. Our next president will be undertaking a position with more problems than any other president before him. It will be his responsibility to lead, not the second best country in the world, but to new and greater heights economically as well as in foreign relations. In order to achieve this, a man must be equipped not with a certain religion or great wealth, but experience. Democrats, as well as Republicans, will have to agree that there is no substitute for experience no matter what field or vocation is considered. If we are going to build our own homes and have to choose between a carpenter who has had experience and practice, and a sidewalk superintendent, I'm sure that we would choose the superintendent. This is true in this instance, where it would not be true also for the selection of a president, the person who is going to be building our nation.

The controversial religious question in this election is not being used against Senator Kennedy by Vice-President Nixon but by Senator Kennedy by Senator Kennedy. This issue is being exploited by the Democratic presidential candidate as a vote-getting device. He, not Vice-President Nixon, is constantly referring to it, playing on the sympathy of the American people. Three people who do not wish to be called preachers and will prove to their friends that they are not preachers, by voting for Senator Kennedy, for his own protection. If he had not built up such an issue of his religion, it would not be playing such an important role in this election as it is today. Senator Kennedy has a side-walk superintendent, and I'm sure that he will subscribe to other important facts such as the failure of support to Senator Kennedy by his own Jewish people.

With that grade with which Edna Rose Duncan, High Point College, was graduated, in the English honor society, it was most evident that the fact would be able to retain her charm and intelligence, which, using Cesare Pavese's words, "is the secret of winning, and also because she will have a sincere attitude were as much a part of campus. Her refreshing smile and a very illuminating feature of our fresh new class is special. Her efficient leadership was instrumental in making the Pulpit Club and one of our main activities today, and her service with the Hi-Point and Student Council, I refer to some of her advice and ideas.

Edna was also distinguished by being elected president of kappa Delta Pi. Her work was so successful that when thought is given to the recent $1.25 minimum working fee bill, introduced by Senator Kennedy was dashed by his own party in Congress.

The Kennedy Johnson friction is also another good example of this. Anyone watching the Democratic national convention was well aware of "screwing in the ranks". Congressional records also show the disregard of these two men in their voting, especially on civil rights actions.

Senator Kennedy may be running for the presidential position of the "second best" country in the world, but we hope to have him running for the office of President of the best country in the world, the United States of America. —Don Drapac.

NEW CLASS IS SPECIAL

I would like to personally congratulate the new "beanie-beavers" on their outstanding attitudes, manners, and enthusiasm.

One cannot help but be impressed by the number of freshmen and sophomores who had the time and energy to attend at morning devotional and vespers, their appearance in the cafeteria, their intelligence in class discussion, and their consideration of others.

This is a superior group of people... and we're happy to have them here at High Point College. —B.G.G.

Letters

THURSDAY!

Dear Editor:

Have you ever been tired, tried, or not plain-stayed? Nothing seems to work on you. But, one day, this teacher's heart was so tired that felt as if it would break. Two days later, and I was back to life, energized and ready to face another day. You see, I feel as though I am on the edge of a cliff, ready to fall over and out of sight.

Don't you think that it's about time the new students in this class learned that if they are going to be successful, they must show not only a growing heart, but also a growing mind.

Registration at High Point College

Registration at High Point College, the students who have the ability of this composition, hectic, and frustrating episdemic of registration fever, was a factor in the student's ability to face the fact that registration can be a great deal more than just filling out a form.

Don't you think that it's about time those students who are going to be successful in this college learned that if they are going to be successful, they must show not only a growing heart, but also a growing mind.

Pennant Race Looms

By BEVERLY HATCHER

As the major league baseball season draws to a close, fans will be eagerly watching the pennant race. The New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox, and Pittsburgh Pirates appear to have the best chance of capturing the American League East. The Yankees and Red Sox have been dominant for much of the season, while the Pirates have made a significant surge in recent weeks. Fans can look forward to an exciting race to the finish line.

The Athletic Department is now headed by Jim Hamilton of Pittsburg, Kansas. He attended Pittsburgh State College, the University of North Carolina, and George Peabody College. As a newcomer to the High Point area, he has expressed his intention to build a strong athletic program that will benefit students for years to come.

UP GOES THE CURTAIN

Once again they have squared off in thunderous scrimmage runs, in front of an enthusiastic crowd. This year the curtain is being raised on the athletic season.

North Carolinians' college football appetites were whetted Saturday when Herman Galbreath and company of N.C. State triumphed over Virginia Tech 21-14. Headlining this week's event will be the annual rivalry game against the University of North Carolina, whose first team will see many newcomers this season, which will be matched against South Carolina at Columbia.

HPC INTRAMURAL SPORTS

As the curtain rises on ACC football, so it also rises on HPC intramural football. Since High Point College is without a varsity football squad, much interest is shown by students in the intramural league.

Last year's champions, the TKES are expected to be the team to beat once again this season. Also in strong contention for the championship will be the Theta Chi and Delta Sigma.

WATCHING THE WORLD SERIES ON TV?

Thanks to TV, millions of baseball fans will be watching the World Series in October. Watching baseball on TV is different from watching it in the flesh, but with a few simple, practical tips on which side of your TV to sit, and how much you'll find to see, understand, and enjoy. Baseball fans often look for the big things and lose a great deal of fun by overlooking the small details. For example, when a game begins and the first batter moves into position, you'll often see him brushing his ear, rubbing it with his glove. This is a cover for an unfinished look at the field, to see how they are playing him. When the pitcher steps into the windmill, the catcher walks out to the pitcher for a conference. He may be querying the umpire if a ball was hit; hitting peculiarities of the batter, or he may be trying to set up a play.

Watch for signals, which are continuously being flashed by the managers, coaches, and even the players. If there is a runner on first base and the catcher has it, a stop and start at second base are indicated. If the runner leaves the bag and has it, the whole bases are covered. If the catcher makes a slide gesture, the runner is being congratulated. If the catcher puts his arm over his face before each pitch, the Pirate's third baseman, Bill Rigney, is signaling to the pitcher that he is using a new ball. The pitcher's time keeps running while this is happening, and the batter must be ready to go on the first pitch. Sometimes the pitcher will throw a ball over the catcher's glove for a fake look. This is a cover for an unpredictable pitch, to see how they are playing him. Sometimes the catcher will throw the ball over the pitcher's head to the pitcher in the windmill, as a sign that he is ready to go. This is a cover for an unpredictable pitch, to see how they are playing him.

The Bucs success this year has been a team effort all the way. It took a lot of talent and hard work and only God is perfect. The Pirates are not, they don't have the players, but they have the people. The players are the best there is in the majors, but the fans are the only ones that make it work. The fans are the ones that make the difference. They are the ones that make the Bucs win. They are the ones that make the Bucs lose. They are the ones that make the Bucs great. They are the ones that make the Bucs a team. They are the ones that make the Bucs a family. They are the ones that make the Bucs a force in the majors. They are the ones that make the Bucs a dynasty. They are the ones that make the Bucs a legend. They are the ones that make the Bucs a legend. They are the ones that make the Bucs a legend. They are the ones that make the Bucs a legend. They are the ones that make the Bucs a legend. They are the ones that make the Bucs a legend. They are the ones that make the Bucs a legend. They are the ones that make the Bucs a legend. They are the ones that make the Bucs a legend. They are the ones that make the Bucs a legend.

Thoughts After First Week Here
I LIKE IT!

by Ronny Covey

Now that much of the dust has settled from all the habits of first week邪恶, I am sure that most freshmen have formed an opinion of the High Point College campus.

In choosing a college, I had an opportunity to visit some colleges and universities in both the South and North. A good many persons wonder why I, having lived in North Carolina so far to college. In my terms, the one main factor for final choice is the appearance of the campus and its occupants make on the freshmen.

The campus of this college isn't the last or biggest, even the cheapest of those I encountered. However, what it lacks in size and color, High Point makes up in its own important things. Here exists a friendly atmosphere between all the student body. The upperclassmen seem to be right there, in both administration and teaching. I believe the feeling here is far greater in quality and character, which is rare found in such institutions of learning.

Although we haven't had much of chance actually to encounter the long time of the school, both administration and teaching. I believe the feeling here is far greater in quality and character, which is rare found in such institutions of learning.

Looking over this article, I believe as well as the rest of the freshmen, that this is a successful year on the High Point campus.

The thoughtless Road is a popular route, and most folks start that way. But it's steep down grade; if you don't watch out You will land in Falsehood Bay.

You glide through the Valley of Vicious Talk, and into the tunnel of Hate.

The principal street is called "They Say," and "I've Heard," is the public wall. And the breeze that blows from Falsehood Bay are laden with "Don't you tell."

In the midst of the town is "Tell-Tale Park." For its owner is Madame "Suspicious Remark." Who lives on the street "Don't Care."

Just back of the park is Slander Row; Twice the that Good Name did

MASS CONFUSION DESCRIBES IT ALL

by HAN-EUGRIN

A. Get up too early but found we had better fare calisthenics since we didn't exercise outside due to the calisthenics.
B. Auditorium — gives welcome and spends time giving a short address to the audience on time. This is a place that we considered a correct answer — we could spend at least the number of black marks placed by the professors on us.
C. English classroom not at all affectionate. All much confusion shot up hands and pencils, we found we had seven sections to complete by making four marks over numbers correctly to what we considered correct answer — we would have a large number of black marks placed by the professors besides the students.
D. Soda Shop — dullness and coldness.
E. Library not much help and good ways to meet people. Realized we only had to make it once and then we'd never come back.
F. English-English taught — told many changes and rules regulating the students.
G. Psychological test never taken. Several questions on account of asked words, numbers, squares and words.
H. French and Spanish placements — feeling pretty adrift from brothers.

THE FRESHMAN STORY

By BROOKS CARNETT

This story begins when a high school senior scrambles through his mail and comes across a letter from High Point College.

"Dear Sir, We are happy to inform you that you have been accepted for the 1960-61 academic year. From then on, that student has the security of knowing where he'll be the next year, and the spirit of "Look out, HPC, I'm coming" goes there.

During the summer months, freshmen became a steady correspondent with the college administration. He finds on the back of the room how many times he has been punctured with booster shots, how much money his father would have to borrow from the bank to make expenses, and how many clubs welcomed him—green or pink room—as well as the number of windows, who the lucky person was who would have to look into the calendar, and time for the "drudgery tasks" begin. Mothers become the "name-tag sewers-on." Fathers become the "But, Daddy-O, dear. I don't have a thing to wear!" For girls, the modest wardrobe complete with above-the-knee-length uniforms, shoes with pointed toes (with which someone could stab an enemy by kicking him), and fuzzy fur jackets (no home-grown products allowed). Last minute bustling for toothpaste, medicine, a wash-bucket that looks collegiate, "unreadable to the opposite sex" shaving lotion coat-opposite side, and other minute but necessary details are rounded up in early September.

With mothers having all hopes for any organization in packing and feeling sure that her darling will come home without all his belongings, and fathers mentally swearing in anguish for the need of a two-ton transfer truck, his "car-cramming process" begins.

Arriving on campus, usually after three or four wrong turns, the "entrails of the car trunk" are piled out. Mustering up all masculine strength, propped paper trudge up and down the narrow steps in Woman's Hall with wide trousers, while other fathers (and sons) try to figure out where all "the stuff" is going to be put in the McCallbod Hall "cubby-holes.

Boys brandishing orientation tags on their sharp Ivy-League clothes politely welcome all the bewildered new arrivals with the college administration. Mothers stutter confused orders to their offspring such as "Now remember what I told you about these college room, dear."" Walls abhor solitude running around in circles. Heaps of clothes, boxes, luggage, book baskets, shoe trees, plastic bags, and other garments are unboxed along with the hangers and mugs and bedspreads.

For several days, a continuous search goes on for the blue shirt that was in the wastebasket or the note-book paper in the cosmetic kit. Being a freshman takes stamina, strength, and money. Registration lives, dormitory trails after eleven o'clock in the evening, having purple and white beards (which cover everything except once completed after thinking his first face is all an original... but isn't it too?)

18 HPC Senators Named Who's Who

Eighteen members of the senior class at High Point College have been selected for the Who's Who in American Colleges.

These seniors were selected by a committee composed of the President and Vice President of the Student Government Association, and President of the Day Student Senate and three members of faculty:

Wesley Dale Brown: President
Fredrick C. Remington: Student Senate Vice President
William S. Beck: Head Student for the Who's Who

President Wendell Patterson chairs with (l. to r.) Pat Yelkley, Ann Beeman, and Betty Johnson, representatives of Alpha Delta Theta Service Sorority. This organization was the first one to give their approval to the new leadership trainings, and is planning a demonstration or "brainstorming" session with Dr. Patterson to benefit all HPC students. This session is to help students understand this phase of leadership training.

HPC Excited About Leadership Plans

After months of study and research, Dr. Wendell Patterson, president of the college, suggested that HPC should take a thematic approach by initiating an educational focus on this year's leadership contests.

"Leadership has been the basis for making HPC the solid institution it is today," he said in a letter to the students. "We are committed to providing an educational focus on this area in order to foster excellence and motivation among our students for the years to come."

The Board of Trustees, the executive branch of the Student Government, is sponsoring a new program for student leaders at High Point College.

Nixon & Gavvin Win in HPC Poll

After an informal debate between six High Point students in assembly, the HPC Poll sponsored a poll among students which talked with some of the leaders to have won Nixon and Gavvin the top honors.

The students were represented in the debate by Nancy Gers, Jerry K, and Don Drummond, students of the HPC Poll.

The students were presented by A. Al. Allen, Dean of Students and a member of the HPC Poll.

The HPC students gave Nixon a 95 vote lead with 300.00 for Nixon and Gavvin 195 lead with 300.00 for Gavvin.

Winning promises will be made by the HPC Poll.

Psychology Tests To Aid Guidance

This year marks the first year that the High Point College has given a test to those students who have been identified as needing counseling by the Counseling and Guidance Department.

As part of the counseling program, the test is designed to aid guidance counselors in determining the needs of students.

The test consists of several parts which include:

1. The depression scale
2. The anxiety scale
3. The self-esteem scale

The students will be disqualified if they score more than 10 on any of the above scales.

With the exception of the English and French placement tests, this will be the first test given for the presentation of free psychology tests.

The results will be used for the identification of students who are in need of counseling, and for the identification of students who are at risk for personal development.

The test will be administered to all students in the counseling program.

Tins sort of thing has got to stop. If everyone were to put an extra minute or two to go from the side door to the door on the main floor, the result would be a better, more harmonious campus. It seems that every time I go through the side door, there are so many people coming in and out that at least 10 minutes are spent trying to get through the door just before I get there.

Dear Editors:

The students I am referring to are those who make an extra effort to come to the main door of the College. I feel that these students are to be commended, and that there should be more of them.

Sincerely,

Wellesley K. Schenck

A TIME
To everything there is a season;
A time to love and a time to hate;
A time to laugh, and a time to cry;
A time to die, and a time to live;
A time to have and to hold;
A time to keep, and a time to throw away;
A time to build, and a time to destroy;
A time to go on, and a time to rest.

MRS. JAMES WARREN

New Social Director Already Busy

Above you see one of the new faces in our campus. Mrs. James Warren, new North Hall housemother and Campus Social Chairman, comes to us from Woman's College in Greensboro, N. C.

One needs only to become aware of her giving, speaking voice, and sincere and sensitive nature to know she is already busy. But, what a welcome surprise to find that she would relate to the girls who participated and exceeded in, and then gave a true, well-organized and well-thought-out speech on this subject. She is, in connection with the girls, to be noticed for her sincere and sensitive nature. And she will be relating to the boys, and people to volunteer with her to help the boys.

She is also impressed with our school project.

"It thing it is excellent," she said.

Surely we all will be looking forward to seeing Mrs. Warren's plans become reality.

Roving Around

Well, here's the last of our series on "The Hi-Po of October." Yes, there are always some of the girls who are "getting away" during October. But, just this past week, here are some of the girls who were out and about and having fun.

Attention Friends: The Judiciary Council gets a yearling for fulfilling its duty at this time of year! If you don't find out what's going on in your mind, before your head is on its way for the game room... We hope you enjoy the fun and games this weekend!

If you can't find out what Mrs. Warren's plans are for the upcoming week, you can ask her. She will be more than glad to tell you what's going on at the house. And she will be more than happy to help you with any questions you may have about the house or the school.

Butler, Palace, and the Sheraton Hotel. Their program included all the usual features of a formal party, such as the ice-breaker parties on Tuesday night, the White Rose formal party on Tuesday night, and the "Old South Ball" presented by Zeta Phi Beta sorority life. During this time, the Phi Mu and Alpha Delta Theta sisters enjoyed their "First Night" and "Second Night" parties, respectively. In the next issue, a feature will be devoted to the various parties that were held. There were also many other social events that took place during this time, such as the "Phi Mu Tea" and the "Alpha Delta Theta Tea." The college chapels were also filled with music and dance, and the Phi Mu and Alpha Delta Theta sisters enjoyed their "First Night" and "Second Night" parties, respectively. In the next issue, a feature will be devoted to the various parties that were held.
THE SPORTS SHOP

ALL-SEASON SPORTS PROGRAM
What has happened to cross-country and wrestling at High Point College? Why has the sport in the college could probably be traced back to the first intercollegiate Conference which was held in the spring of 1956. Presidents of the institutions of the questions posed and aimed to be answered in this article.

TAKE DOWN!
Wrestling was new to High Point last year and met with limited success. A football team was formed which interscholastically and intramurally under some of the auspices of the basketball games. It is, therefore, to some degree understandable that cross-country and wrestling were dropped. The reasoning could also include lack of funds. It does, though, seem funny that this new sport at the college hasn't gotten a better break.

DISTANCE, DISTANCE, AND MORE DISTANCE
Cross-country is a highly competitive sport which is similar to Track and Field. It challenges its participants to hard endurance activities in the time, distance, and work spent in training. Last year's cross-country and track team were second only to Duke in the state meet. This is truly a tremendous effort on the part of our boys. High Point is the only small college which could compete on their achievements. The possibilities of even excelling in this year's track meet are slim because of the lack of participation in the basketball games. To my knowledge the only wrestling seen was a demonstration during the December competition, and the lack of this will no doubt affect the interest in future years. The interest in cross-country is the activity. The area has been dropped as part of HPC's athletic program. Granted there hasn't been a great deal of interest in the sport, but whose fault is that?

IN THIS SPACE ENDS
In conclusion, it seems fairly obvious that the viewpoint of the administration on the items which have been discussed so far. The only way to no way condemning or trying to dispose of the sports. It feels that the athletic department is at present heavily over-worked, and they feel it would be unfair to ask one of its members to assume the added responsibility of coaching both wrestling and cross-country. Another factor contributing to the expulsion of these sports is basically financial. The college feels that wrestling and cross-country would distribute poorly the possibly participation in sports activities by members of the student body. In other words, the college feels that student participation should be placed on an area of greater concentration within a minimal number of sports activities. The reasoning which this editor would like to present is not basically concerned with the dropping of these two sports. He feels, however, that a balanced sports program should be maintained at the college. It is prevalent that the school does not have the opportunity of viewing a fall sport, whether be football, wrestling, or cross-country. I can accept with much respect the feelings of the college administration on these points. Henceforward, I would like for the administration to take into consideration that the dropping of a fall sport would sacrifice one of the many needed activities on campus to keep the students at college over the week end. It would be greatly appreciated if we could hear from both the administration and students on their ideas concerning this subject. It is evident that as there is no fall sport the college administration has no alternative but to say that there is no need for a fall sport. If there are any suggestions as to the solution of some of these problems, please send them to the sports editor for the HI-PO.

One last point for those of you who take time to read this and think about this, it will not affect this year's and the wrestling last year. Before condemning the administration for dropping them, think of yourselves how many times you came to see them. This is our school and we should love it and support it. If we can't think about it, High Point had cross-country and wrestling last year. It is evident that as long as there is no possibility of participating in sports activities by members of the student body, the administration on the items which have been discussed so far. The only way to no way condemning or trying to dispose of the sports. It feels that the athletic department is at present heavily over-worked, and they feel it would be unfair to ask one of its members to assume the added responsibility of coaching both wrestling and cross-country. NUMBER NINE RETIRES
Last week the last of the super-star dynasty who could capture a huge crowd solely by personal magnetism and might ended an unprecedented playing career with a dramatic home run and then announced that he was retiring. Yes—this was Ted Williams, famed outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, who has finally hung up his uniform—so, 9—for good. Williams will be remembered as the "hardest man in baseball to pitch to", as a man who has mastered the bat but not his temper, and as a man whose name vags the record book with such feats as 521 home runs and a lifetime batting average of .344. Although it is hard to believe, the "Pride of the Red Sox" is now history.

SYRACUSE LABLED AS TEAM TO BEAT
Which will be the nation's top football team in 1960? This is indeed a hard question to answer some time since some of the top teams—Texas, USC, and Pittsburg have already suffered surprising losses. Syracuse, unbeaten and top of the offense and defense last year is expected to repeat at the national champion. Coach Ben Schwartzwalder has plenty of manpower this season. Washington, which has all eleven starters returning from 1959 Rose Bowl Champions: and Auburn which will post one of the nation's top defensive teams, are expected to give Syracuse a battle this season.

ORIOLE OR COLT FAN?
A few weeks ago after the New York Yankees had swept a double-header from the Baltimore Orioles and therefore assuring themselves of another American League pennant, a Baltimore reporter was overheard making the following comment: "Let's go home and root for the Colts. In baseball, we've had it."
It seems as though he made a good choice as the Baltimore Colts are undefeated thus far in the regular season.

WANTED AT HPC: A FAIRY GODMOTHER!
Dr. Patton, HPC president, has been quoted as saying that they would have to find a fairy godmother in order to get a football team at High Point College. I've been wondering what he meant by that statement. I suppose we need to find one that is wealthy because I don't think he was wanting to use the godmother as a football player. If anyone knows the whereabouts of a fairy godmother who is interested in sponsoring a varsity football team, please don't hesitate to inform us—especially if she is related to the fairy godmother that seems to be so helpful to our good friends in Hickory, N.C.
Note: A more sensible explanation of this problem is given elsewhere in this paper, so please don't panic.

Campus Profile
Dr. Liston Pope of Yale Divinity School addresses the High Point College student body in the first of his Lectures. His topic was "Christian Faith and Higher Education."

Dean From Yale Visits Campus

With an abstract version of the secular world as its theme, Dr. Liston Pope opened the First Finch Lecture.

Don Daspean, President of the Student Christian Council, welcomed persons from A and T College, Woman's College, Greensboro College, and the High Point and Pinehurst School for Boys. Ten-Greek Fraternities and the Inter-Fraternity Council. Proceeds will be used toward payment of Panhellenic furniture.

The ten Greek Fraternities will have ten-minutes of stage time each. The judges for the event will be Mr. Henry Whipple, organist of the First Presbyterian Church; Dr. Lew Lewis, of the High Point College faculty; Mr. Howard Cole, director of Wesley Memorial Methodist Church; and Mr. Cole, choir director at Green Street United Methodist Church. Criteria for judging will be based on designing, presentation, pronunciation, quality of voices, and selection. Trophies will be awarded to the winning fraternity and sorority. The entrant fee of $5.00 is due on December 28. While the judges are deciding upon winners, entertainment will be provided.

Tickets go on sale Monday, November 1, with a $1.00 each and children under 12 are being accompanied by paying adults admitted free. It is the intention of the High Point College Panhellenic to make this so successful that we as a student body will enjoy this event so much that we will plan another one again next year. We will appreciate your co-operation.

Forum: To Be Held At HPC

At the request of the students, the Library Committee has voted to have this forum with the help of the group and the addition of four students, has worked out plans for the forum. The forum will be held on the campus of High Point College.

Faculty members working with the Library Committee are Mr. Dr. Bystedt, Mr. Porter, Mr. Burcham, and Dr. Moore. Mr. Dr. Moore has written to the Committee to suggest Brock C. Kent, University of California, Berkeley.

J. Blackstock and Mr. Dennis met with the President's Advisory Committee on the forum to discuss what they wanted the forum to mean. The students made the following modifications on the Forum.

1. That such a panel should be set up and start functioning as soon as possible. The guiding purpose would be to provide opportunities for students, faculty, and townspeople of High Point College to make informed and thoughtful use of the library.

2. That the forum will function in the hopes of providing an audience which is to be a demonstration of good library practices and which will be planned in such a way as to provide a meaningful forum for student, faculty and town participation.

Boy's Dorm Rules Listed

The following rules are being enforced in the Men's Dorm this year:

Freshmen are required to serve on the President's Counsel.

Designated members of the Faculty and Administration may enter the Residence Hall at any time during the week.

Freshmen may not bring any furniture from home into any dormitory room without the permission of the President, or the authorization of replacement of any furniture or items of the room will be changed as the student occupying the room.

No resident is allowed to permit any person not duly accepted for occupancy, or accepted by the President, to enter the dormitory or any room in the dormitory.

The College has invested in student dormitory and will have ten-minutes of stage time each. The judges for the event will be Mr. Henry Whipple, organist of the First Presbyterian Church; Dr. Lew Lewis, of the High Point College faculty; Mr. Howard Cole, director of Wesley Memorial Methodist Church; and Mr. Cole, choir director at Green Street United Methodist Church. "Teahouse of August Moon" Presented Here

"The Teahouse of the August Moon" is the twenty-ninth comedy that scored one of the biggest hits of the mid-1950's in New York, was presented by the Tower Players of High Point College, November 18 and 19. The play was presented in Memorial Auditorium and performances began at 8:00 P.M.

Adapted by John Patrick from a best-selling novel by Ben Johnson, the play tells of an American Army minister a tiny village on Okinawa in the occupation of the little Pacific Island.

The play is about the current Captain Foster who is to apply to the President of the island, a warrant of marriage for the daughter of a peasant. Foster arrives with an army physician, an army nurse and two army men. The local mayor runs up for the purpose by the local mayor. In order to win the mayor's daughter, Foster has to outwit the local mayor and the other army man. The play is a fast-paced drama with the characters being very well developed.
A DEFINITION OF UNITY

One of the most unique aspects of the American Political Science is the so-called closing of the ranks. Though partisan policies at times conflict, the public displays of support at times is so strong that the results become apparent the objective becomes common. The cohesion of diverse attitudes and ideas is a factor which establishes a majority. To disregard this requisite institutions would produce anarchy at best and despotism at worst.

The underlying theme of our political system is majority rule with basic regard for indivisible minority rights and with specific respect for the national law. To disregard such requisites would produce anarchy at best and despotism at worst. Therefore, it is the duty of the American to protect his way of life by supporting that which is best for America, regardless of political affiliation the American is expected to be critical, honest, and before any attempt to support an elected administration sincerely but not blindly. The drums of discontent may forever beat but the good ship U.S.A. should be placed in the highest esteem always.

In this, an interlude of violent world tensions, the backbone of the nation must be preserved over the economically and strongly. The problem America faces now is a problem which must be met and solved by all Americans, not just by Republicans or Democrats. For parties alone are nothing short of powerful in meeting the bold challenges of the day. The call has been sounded to all Americans to lay down their verbal weapons and to unite in the work of the nation. Therefore, it is the duty of the American to protect his way of life by supporting that which is best for America, regardless of political affiliation the American is expected to be critical, honest, and before any attempt to support an elected administration sincerely but not blindly. Administration
Busy with Projects

Are you aware of the vast amount of projects that are part of the Office of Endowment and Development? Up to date, Mr. R. H. H. Patterson has either completed or is presently working on thirteen projects for the betterment of High Point College.

First of the year was the Book of Remembrance which is placed in the Werner Memorial Library. Already four North Carolina people have been remembered through that project, and this has been made to the High Point College Book of Remembrance. The Book was dedicated on the morning of the President's Day, welcoming everyone connected closely with the college.

Second, a growing project for Annuity Giving, and this is basically an Alumna project which a never completed. This plan is now being used in other institutions. This is an effort to solicit the help of those who are now past their prime, to form a "sustaining" membership. It provides an opportunity for the college to have a source of income which will provide a yearly amount of money to be used in the development of the college.

Third, the Capital Fund, which is the most important project of all. In addition to the campus planning for the erection of a number of buildings, the Project seeks to raise $2,000,000.

Fourth, the Social Service theme nation-wide, but also on a national and international scale. These include volunteer work and donations, as well as fellowship and scholarship services. The college is planning to make a contribution of five per cent on a thousand dollars. Besides this, there is a special hope for an infant and new Home Economics facility. In the City of High Point, the old, gracious southern homes are being taken down to make room for new construction. The acquiring of one of these homes for the use of the High Point Women's Club, and the building of a new library would provide Dr. Patton with the money for his Management Development Program. It would make possible the establishment of a guidance center for the Methodist students of high schools of North Carolina. It could be used by Dr. Whicker and Mr. Broadway, and other guidance personnel for testing, and for discussing student problems with prospective college students. This would be a fine step for such work, because there would be a minimum of distractions.

Fifth, on the list of projects is the Fellowship Program. A fellowship can share with another in official dignity, or in the performance of work. He usually receives no employment and has no part in the governing of the college. As a matter of fact, the college, in this particular program, gives a fellowship of $500 a year, in the field of education. During the biennium, five fellowships have been given to students; the last fellowship was given to George H. Reynolds.

Sixth, the Life Income was discussed in the last issue of this paper. The eighth, ninth, and tenth are projects for Life Insurance for Seniors. The college needs a member of the Alumni class to receive the value of this plan is now being used by other institutions. This is an effort to solicit the help of those who are now past their prime, to form a "sustaining" membership. It provides an opportunity for the college to have a source of income which will provide a yearly amount of money to be used in the development of the college.

Seventh, the Ten Alpha has continued its support of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. It has been sent to clinics in this country and all around the world. Two other projects were financed by Zeta Tau Alpha and completed last year. They are: (1) $1,000 for the Presbyterian Children's Home in Richmond, Virginia. (2) $1,000 for the Hospital for the Jewish Community, in New York City. These two projects are expected to assist in the field of education.

Eighth, the Kappa Delta has contributed to the support of the national Philanthropy, by purchasing Christmas cards designed by a Kappa Delta. Many college chapters and alumni associations assist in local social service projects, in addition to giving these national projects.

These projects, in order to contribute to the financial stability of the college, need the cooperation of the Alumni class. The college is interested in acquiring new members for the purpose of helping the college. The college has no part in the governing of the college, but it does make possible the establishment of a guidance center for the Methodist students of high schools of North Carolina. It could be used by Dr. Whicker and Mr. Broadway, and other guidance personnel for testing, and for discussing student problems with prospective college students. This would be a fine step for such work, because there would be a minimum of distractions.

Ninth, the Zeta Tau Alpha Foundation offers fellowships for undergraduates in the field of education. During the biennium, five fellowships have been given to students; the last fellowship was given to George H. Reynolds.

This would be a fine step for such work, because there would be a minimum of distractions.

Finally, there are some pledges to the college still outstanding. Some of these were made as far back as March, 1945. Although it appears that the college is not in a position to make pledges, it is a matter of many projects, including the Social Service theme. It is a matter of giving and receiving, and it is a matter of giving of itself. It is a matter of giving to those in need, and it is a matter of giving to those who are able to give.

Berkis Has Article Published

Dr. Berkis has an article published in The Social Service theme. The title of the article is "The Social Service theme in the Development of the Social Worker," and it has been published in the Journal of Social Service. The article discusses the role of social work in the development of the social worker, and it emphasizes the need for the social worker to be aware of the social service theme.

Dear Diary...

As I take my pen in hand, I take my bottle of Coke in the other hand! Yes, dear diary, in this world, I can't live without Coca-Cola! Just a social outcast. Why, everybody drinks Coke! John and Bill and Barry and Charley. Hooray for the working and drinking! I think I'll have another bottle of Coke.
Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Honors HPC

Robert L. McLeod, the exec-"Charlie" McCorkleutive of Pi Kappa Alpha, recently presented the rectangular, one-year terminal scholarship for the Phi Kappa Alpha Memorial Honors HPC. The main objective of the organization is to improve scholarship throughout all fraternities and to assist needy students. Out of 117 institutions in 38 states that competed for this honor, Oklahoma was among the 12 chosen for this honor and was appro-

The recipient must meet the following qualifications: he must be a member of the fraternity, and Christian character, must display friendship, be of financial need, and must also maintain a C average.

Each fraternity on campus will submit the names of two of its brothers who meet the qualifications. The recipient will be selected from among those by the college committee on student aid and will be notified in the near future.

Leadership Stressed At West, Maryland

Westminster, Md. (P.T.)—Designed to study the basic problems which confront campuses today, Western Maryland's third annual symposium on leadership dealt with two primary objectives.

The first objective, released here recently, the first objective was to narrow the gap between more people into leadership positions by

1. Encouraging campus organizations to engage more leaders in all their leadership potential.

2. Informing leaders of campus objectives, thus enabling them to

3. Encouraging more enthusiasm for, and participation in class activ-

4. Acquiring new leaders in the faculty.

5. Acquiring new leadership for the college as a whole.

6. Assisting these leaders in the college objectives, thus enabling them to provide leadership and the staff to evaluate and keep our objectives.

I found a list titled "The Education for All American Youth" that I had clipped out of a magazine. I do not have the author's name, but the purpose or needs listed are worthy of sharing:

1. To develop skillful adult.
2. Good health and physical fitness.
3. To understand the duties and rights of citizenship.
4. To understand the significance of the family and individual and society.
5. To know how to obey laws and services intelligently.
6. To understand the influence of science on human life.
7. An appreciation of literature, art, music, and nature.
8. To be able to use leisure time well and budget it wisely.
9. To grow in the ability to think rationally.

Women's Intramurals in Full Swing Now!
The girls intramural program at High Point College is in a state of exploration. Program changes have already resulted in a wider variety of activities and are emphasizing informal participation as well as organized participation.
This year the girls intramural program is being directed by Mrs.
McCull of the Physical Education Department. Recently the Women's Athletic Association of High Point
College elected the following officers:
President, Nancy Campbell; Vice President, Janet Shaw; Secretary-
Louise Slovak; Treasurer, Nelda
Price; Publicity Chairman, Adena
Lamarcque. The Intramural Council comprises of Dot Am Jepson, Betty Beachamp, Louise Slovak, Arlene
Lamarcque, and Nancy Campbell.
Several of the girls attended the State convention of the Athletic and Recreation Federation of College
Women, held November 6 at Wake Forest College. Most of the program was of the discussion type with topics such as: Awards for Intramural Program, Recent Trends in the Intramural Program, and Intramural Tournaments.
At the present the activities of the program include ping pong and badmineton. The play-offs will be held November 14,1960, and 21. They will be of the single elimination type.
Flam for volleyball have also been made with the playoffs coming on December 7, 12, and 14. It will be double eliminations. Plan for activities after Christmas are incomplete.
Six points are allotted for each victory.
For minor sports, the points are given out in this way: 10 points for scoring; 20 for first place in singles, and 10 for first place in doubles; 10 for second place in singles, and and eight for second place in doubles; 12 points for third place in singles, and six for third in doubles;
seven points for fourth in singles,
and four points for fourth in doubles.
It is hoped that interest in intramurals will improve. The intramural program can only be what the students make it.

Now that football is over, the men's intramural program continues with badminton. The Odd-Balls are 19 boys playing in the singles tournament and 20 in the doubles. Last year Theta
Chi took the overall fraternity cham-

After Thanksgiving, volleyball will begin. Anyone wishing to enter a team should turn their entry in to Mr. Haskell before the Thanksgiving holidays. The fraternity title last year was also won by the Theta Chi's. The Intramural basketball tournament will begin after Christmas, but a definite time for the start has not yet been set.
The point distributions for men's intramurals is as follows: For football, volleyball, basketball, and softball: 30 points for entering a team, 30 points for first place, 30 points for second place, 15 points for third, place and 10 points for fourth place.

Gail Geyer Receives Miss HPC Crown

Jerri Martin, 1961 Miss HPC, crowns Gail Geyer, freshman from Lexington, New Jersey, as the 1961 Queen—complete with trophy, robe, and bouquet.

Baltimore Orch. to Participate in Course

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, directed by George Settle, will present Gail Geyer's farewell address while the judges picked the new Miss HPC 1961. When she had finished, Frank Smith announced the queen and her court. The contest was followed by the talent portion of the pageant, each girl was given a certain high school activity in which she was to demonstrate. The pageant opened at 8:00 p.m.

Pageant Held by Judy Rogers

Tuesday night saw the presentation of the annual Miss High Point College Pageant. The event was the climax of much hard work on the part of contestants and all the other people connected with the pageant. The chairman of the pageant was Charles Carroll, in charge of the pageant was Margo Brewer; Nelda Varner was responsible for the tea and dinner for the contestants; Anne Wilhite headed the committee which obtained the gifts for Miss HPC; Joyce Coursey coached the contestants and Judy Fisher directed the best portion of the pageant; Jerri Martin was in charge of publicity; John Hallock was chairman of the ticket committee; Diane Leiter headed the stage crew; Bill Pettit was responsible for the scenery; June West headed the crew that worked on lights; and Dot Barrick obtained the floor.

The judges were Mrs. Edna Legg, owner of Tobias; Mr. Ralphe Dingman, principal of Northeast Junior High and formerly of the Pointer; Mr. Ishmael Schwartz, manager of Bonanz, they were followed by banquet dinner and dinner for the five contestants. At this time the judges had a chance to meet the girls and judge on personality. The tea and dinner were preceded by the parade which presented the contestants to the general public.

The pageant opened at 8:00 p.m., with Charles Carrell welcoming the audience and introducing the Master of Ceremonies, Frank Smith. Smith introduced Jerri Martin, Miss HPC of 1960, who did a baton dance. This was followed by a presentation of the contestants.

The general presentation of the contestants was followed by the talent portion of the pageant, each girl was given a certain high school activity in which she was to demonstrate. The pageant opened with a modern jive number about a country girl coming to town, she was followed by June West, who did a medley of Al Jolson songs in a song and dance routine. Libby Graham presented a song skit about three types of girls who try for a Broadway production. Margaret Bester did a modern dance. Judy Benge presented a dramatic monologue, Louella, Richard's, a modern dance. Joyce sang "Buttons and Bows," Mary Lou Trautman sang "Alice Blue Girl," Gail Geyer did a modern dance to "Near You." Sue Williams did a pantomime to "I want to be Free!" Viola Smith sang "The Always True to you in your Fashion." Annette Young did a humorous monologue, and Doris Armstrong sang "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

During the intermission the Four Pointers sang in a barbershop quartet and the M.C. presented Miss North Carolina of 1961, Ann Farrington Herring. After the intermission the contestants were again presented, this time in evening dresses. Then Miss North Carolina talked about her experiences in Atlantic City during the Miss America Pageant while the judges decided upon the new queen.

With much excitement and suspense the five finalists were announced: Libby Graham, Louella Richards, Linda Ferrar, Gail Geyer, and Vi- anne Lloyd. While the five finalists were all on stage, the wardrobe for the Miss HPC was presented by Lorna Dickens, Sandra Hooks, Miss Mollie, Betty Neal, and Vivian Zooker.

Then Miss Congeniality was announced, Jean Thomas, who was presented a skirt and sweater.

New Plans for Education Program

Something exciting is happening on our campus. This "something" is the planning which is now going on for the new program of Education for Leadership. This project is something entirely new and different. The whole project is so abstract that one almost has to experience it to comprehend it. Education for Leadership is to affect the principle of emotional as well as intellectual learning.

It is believed that emotional learning and training is necessary for true intellectual learning to be possible, to make a real impression on the students' mind, to be applied successfully in everyday life. This program is designed to create an atmosphere and co-related thought. Perhaps this program will be of a certain value to others who have the opportunity to see the components of leadership at work, he is better able to be a leader in the world.

Now as to what activity is going on to get this actual curriculum at High Point College, let me just say, "Plenty." Dr. W. Dennis Patton spent four weeks in New York this past summer in just such a program as the one described above.

More specifically, he made arrangements with the University of Chicago to talk with various people who could in some way aid HPC in obtaining the desired program. A few were the Education Editor of the New York Times, Mr. Hayden, the Director of Education for Life and Fortune, Mrs. Mary Johnson Tweedie; a prominent public relations officer who works with the National Training Laboratory, Dr. Lee Bradford; and the Ford Foundation.

Another person with whom our President met was May Wilson Payson. Mr. Payson is an outstanding authority in the field of creating corporate images with which the public can relate certain articles or products. It is hoped he will do a public image study of the theme of High Point College's new plan and, also, a fund raising brochure. Some of the methods we might use to get the ball rolling in Education for Leadership are as follows:

1. The setting up of an advisory committee on leadership which would be composed of national leaders in the fields of government, business, education, etc.
2. Putting the new program in the catalog. It is the hope of the administration that such a program will be put in the catalog as an option on leadership in our library.
3. Efforts are now being made to contract one of the few persons in the country who are capable of directing such a program. At the present time, Dr. Patton is considering scholarships to qualified students who will be possible. It is the hope that the program will be highly selective and demanding of the students who wish to enter it. Those participate will probably have to pay no extra tuition charge, but it is likely that they will be asked to take part in related extra-curricular activities, preferably in positions of leadership.

Christmas on Campus

by KATHY STERN

Jerry Ramseur is busy putting up cedar branches to decorate the Lambda Chi section of Fraternity Row. Each fraternity decorated its section of the boys' dorm.

Delta Sigs plug in the lights for their "Christmas Tree on the Wall." This tree is an annual part of Christmas decor on campus.

"Rudolfe, the Red-Nosed Rein-deer"... does the tune sound familiar? Every time the main door to Woman's Hall is opened one chorus of the famous Christmas song tinkles out. But this wasn't the only song heard in the past week.

A tingle in the air... a carol on the lips... merriment in the heart... Christmas.

High Point College completely redressed to celebrate the occasion. Fraternity Row put pledges to work on adorning the outsides of each section. With creations including everything from the Nativity Scene to a tremendous Christmas tree around a door; red, green, and silver decorations along with electric lights soon illuminated this part of the campus until it looked like a Christmas Wonderland.

Atop Roberts Hall, everyone could see the new idea on campus—our own "stained glass windows." With sheets of cellophane on the windows and lights behind them, the Tower was aglow with Christmas tidings, complete with carols from the chimes.

The girls' dorms were a confusion of ribbons and bells and tin foil. Most girls decorated the door to their rooms bringing out many original ideas. One door had a large "kissing ring" made of coat hangers with a tiny figurine couple placed inside, brightly obliging the mistletoe rule.

Another girl completely reconstructed a fireplace with stockings and mantle decorations to put on her door. Yet two ingenious girls plastered a sign on their door declaring "We can't afford any decorations, but Merry Christmas to everyone but Khruschev!"

And who can forget the parties? With all the yuletide spirit the fraternity and sorority parties couldn't help but be successes. The girls celebrated with their own party Tuesday night in the clubrooms of Woman's Hall. They had skits, a Christmas story (a visit from a Santa called "Frosty"), and a report on money that the girls had given to a needy family.

The Poinsettia Ball Thursday night attracted a big crowd. With a band providing the music, everyone donned in their best party outfit, enjoyed an evening of holiday fun.

Everyone is trying to finish up decorating details. Hammers, nails, ladders, tape, wire, and lights get entangled in the confusion.

Vesper services and Wednesday assemblies complied with the Christmas theme. The choir left Wednesday for their annual Christmas tour.

"It's just about finished." A large cedar Christmas tree in Woman's Dorm is getting final baubles, icicles, and trinkets placed by (l. to r.) Pat Clark, Judy Mills, and Kay Thompson.

Bright paper, holly, buying gifts, getting bus tickets, packing for home... yes, it's beginning to look a lot like Christmas!
Dear Friends:

Holiday greetings to you wherever you may be. Through the busy months of the Christmas season, you have been in my thoughts many times. Let me take this opportunity to thank you for the many blessings that you have brought into my life. I want you to know that I am teaching in English Conversational courses at the college level. I am also teaching Religious Instruction and Bible in the Lower Primary school. My business talent has been put to good use by my employer in this capacity. I have been able to make many new friends whose faces and names I will never forget. I have also been able to share with them the joy of my faith and the hope that I have for the future.

Christmas is different.

Hot kitchens with spicy smells, frozen fingers tucked in woolen mittens, a fading green tree leaning with the weight of bubbly ornaments, lights that dazzle and twinkle like unending rolls of tickertape. People rush and work and save to make this time of year "happy." But something is wrong!

Gifted gifts in expensive gold paper, engraved Christmas greetings, "To those who think this Gospel is too dull...". According to the writer, Christmas cheer confuses us.

To those who think this Gospel is too dull... Well, little Laura began, "My Christmas is different to me. I have been taught to feel. The boisterous applause of the world, the silly songs, the mad haste of the streets of Kampar to witness but the most important event of the year, the birthday of the Lord, is going on all around me. It is true; the world is going on, and I am not asking you to stop it. But I am asking you to ask the question, "Am I content to be a part of this world's hurly-burly, or shall I try to bring about a change in the world?"

I wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Elsie Hall

For Christmas comes the "real" party of the year. I have never felt so much at home. My real moment before my only comment is God bless all of you who have never even heard of the Anglo-Chinese School in Tokyo.
National College Queen Contest Offers Large Prizes

New York, New York—The National College Queen Contest, to list and honor an outstanding American college girl, is again underway. This year, the National Finals will be held in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, with more than $5,000 in prizes to the new winner.

The competition will include a colorful Pageant in April. It will be a highlight of the Easter holiday celebration which annually attracts thousands of college students to Fort Lauderdale. The National College Queen Contest Committee is planning the event in cooperation with leading beachfront hotels and the City of Fort Lauderdale.

It will be the 7th annual contest, open to all undergraduate college girls between the ages of 17 and 22. Free entry blanks and complete details can be obtained by writing to National College Queen Contest Committee, Paramount Building, Suite 1606, 1501 Broadway, New York, New York.

The competition is a search to find a truly typical college girl who deserves the national crown. This is not necessarily a beauty contest although the judging will be based on attractiveness, personality, charm, and poise.

The new National College Queen need not be a "Marylin Monroe," nor does she have to be a "Pfi Bette Kappa." The Board of Judges seek someone who is a "happy medium" between these standards.

The prizewinners in the next National College Queen Contest will include a trip to Europe, visiting famous cities in England, France and Italy. She will also receive a complete head-to-toe wardrobe of high fashion apparel and many other souvenirs of European awards. If she is interested in the theater, the winner will also receive a $1,000 scholarship to the famous Dramatic Workshop in New York City to study with Dr. Saul Cohen, who coached such stars as Marlon Brando, Shelly Winters, Geraldine Page, etc.

The National College Queen will also enjoy modeling assignments, network television interviews and a personal appearance tour. These activities will bring her added exposure and will be arranged so that they will not interfere with her academic studies.

College girls in this area are now eligible, and may find themselves a Regional Winner. The regional prize is an all-expense-paid trip to Florida to compete in the National Finals. The finalists receive round-trip transportation, accommodations and meals at leading beachfront hotels in Fort Lauderdale, and are guests of the Pageant.

A committee of hostesses and alumni of women's colleges will direct all activities while the contestants are in Fort Lauderdale.

A coast-to-coast television program is now being planned to cover the Coronation of the new National College Queen. The program will feature each candidate and offer girls a chance to contribute to her college and community. The Pageant will also receive a Criticism Scroll, presented to her and her college. The result of her accomplishments, Judges will include a panel of high school educators to score academic and current events questions. . . . while other experts consider attractiveness, good personality and poise.

In previous years, among the national judges were such well-known personalities as Col. Clarence E. Lowery, education counselor and author; Bess Myerson of TV fame; photographer Bruce of Hollywood, etc. Upon entering this year's contest, college girls will receive a questionnaire. They will be asked to describe themselves, their campus activities and their post-graduate aims and goals.

The current National College Queen is Carole D. Reinhart, of High Point College in the autumn of 1961. Since that time she has been more aptly referred to as "Smiley" and to friends by acquaintance this is no small wonder.

Her unique personality and over- glowing radiance are often imitated but somehow never equaled, and her sincere efforts to add to the strength of High Point College have not by any means gone unrewarded. Smiley was to be rewarded the genuine "Evening Star" engagement ring. And to friend or acquaintance this is very beginning. She was one of two girls from the Freshman class elected as cheerleader in 1955 and ever since her lanky voice and natural spirit have been almost an earmark of her enthusiasm. Aside of her athletic interests and academic quest Smiley donates most of her time to Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority in which she is a sister and the ever-enterprising Tower Flowers. A born actress, Smiley, according to Miss Jane De

The ball is way up in the air, but the matter has long since been decided. Panther men Carrion Buchanan, Sewell, and Daniel drive the final nail home as the Panthers romp to a 30-point-plus victory over a game but outmaneuvered Pfeiffer club.

Meet The Panthers

by HARRY C. SMITH and BERGIE HATCHER

The basketball season is underway. Here is a list of the Panthers who we will be watching this season.

Jack Short; Guard; 6'0" 155; Jack a center is and captian of the team. Last year averaged 13 points a game. He comes from William, Indiana. Wally Unger; Center; 6'7" 195. Wally, a point, has one of the best shooting eyes in the conference. Last year, led the North State in free-throw percentages. His home is in Fletcher, N. C.

Bill Fallis; Center; 6'4" 180. Freshman this year, has good spring and a real soft touch. From Oxen Hill, Md.

Larry Nolan; Forward; 6'7" 190. Sophomore from Washington, D. C. Played a lot last year and should add experience to the team for the next few years.

“Pappy” - The Student’s Friend

by JOHN WARD, JR.

“Pappy” Leftor Teakles to Victory was probably the headlines of the Daily Tarheel in the winter of 1964. That year “Pappy” was co-captain of the University of North Carolina’s basketball team. He was so named because as the UNC cast would go onto the court, his rather snappy coat of hair gave him the appearance of being the “Pappy” of them all according to a Daily Tarheel reporter.

“Pappy” is none other than our own Dr. Jess Hamilton, Director of the Health and Physical Education Department of High Point College. Since his arrival in September, Hamilton has already become very close to the students, and all who know him have already come to love him, to admire him, and to respect him.

Dr. Hamilton was born in Wey, Alabama. It was in this small town of people that he first discovered his early education. He graduated in Independence Junior College and later transferred to Pittsburg State in Pittsburg, Kan., where he was named to the NAIA (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics) All-American basketball team and the All-Southern basketball team.

In 1942 he entered the Armed Services of the United States. While in service, he attended the Columbus University Midshipmen School and the N. C. State Diesel Engineering School. After his discharge, Hamilton attended UNC and received his A.B. degree in 1949 and his M.A. in 1950. While at Carolina, he served as freshman basketball coach for three years.

After graduation he became basketball coach at LeMoyne College. He served in this capacity for seven years. “Pappy” left LeMoyne in 1957 to attend George Peabody College in Nashville. He returned to LeMoyne College as head of the Athletic Department in 1959. In 1959 Hamilton went to Europe on a grant from the International Education Exchange Service of the State Department. While in Europe he be-

Joel Polski; 6'5" 175. Freshman with good potential. Joel’s home is in Baltimore, Md.

Gene Bushman; Guard; 6'0" 190. Played two years of Junior College basketball before coming to High Point last year. From Saint Ferdinand, N. C., is a good shooter and a real hustler. From Indiana; 6'3" 180. Freshman from Kokomo, Indiana. Is the younger brother of Danny Sewell who was an All-American here last year.

Phil Garriem; Forward; 6'7" 190. Freshman with amazing rebounding ability. Can shoot very well in close with hands on. Hard worker.

Carrie; Guard; 6'0" 200. Both, a freshman with game. In the final year of the season, last year. Both has a great shooting percentage.

Joe Gottecki; Forward; 6'7" 170. A hoisting junior from Sussex, Pennsylvania. Regarded as a leader and is very reliable in a clutch. Played first string for last year’s team and averaged over ten points per game.

Chalmon Seabolt; Guard; 6'3" 190. Enters to the Panthers as a starter after a year-and-half layout. Head of the conference. Last Sophomore from Washington, D. C.

Larry Nolan; Forward; 6'7" 190. Regarded by Coach Van first of his first five reserve. Senior from Forsyth, N. C.

Len Chisholm; Forward; 6'0" 197. Although Len will not be seeing much action this year, he is expected to do big things. Product of Alexandria, Virginia.

George Hampton; Forward; 6'7" 190. Portsmouth native from Lake Hill, N. C.

George Upham; Guard; 6'4" 200. Senior reserve from Asheville, N. C. Will use his size to the best advantage.

The answer's easy—Coca-Cola of course. No puzzle about why it's so popular... no other sparkling drink gives you so much good taste, so much satisfaction. Yes, when you're looking for refreshment, the answer's always Coca!

CHRISTMAS CAROLING: The Alpha Gammas went Christmas caroling with the Sig Ep's on December 14. They went to the Presbyterian Home where they sang carols and had a worship program.

HONORS: Contestants for Miss HPC: Jackie Creech, Sue Williams, Annene Young, and Doris Ann Geyer. Congratulations to pledge Joyce Montgomery, son, Annettee Young, and Doris Ann Geyer. Congratulations to pledges Mary Dawn Swann, Judy Benge, Jean Thomas and Gail Geyer. Congratulations to Miss HPC for 1961 who was crowned by Sister Jerry Martin. The crown was pinned to Tom Ferguson, who will be the annual Greek Sing chairman for the 1960-61 school year.

NEW PLEDGE: Darlene Tauvatera, a daughter of Mrs. Polly Tauvatera, has recently been pledged.

NEW PLEDGE: Sig Eps wish to extend a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to the entire Fraternity family. We wish to express every good fortune and wish that the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity may be blessed with new members and prosperity for many years to come.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

NEW OFFICERS: Jerry Murdock, president; Bob Shillinglaw, vice-president; Dave Warrick, secretary; and George Stapp, treasurer.

SEASON'S GREETINGS: The Sigma Phi Epsilon chapter extends their warmest wishes for a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all of its friends and members.

It's All Greek

PARTIES: The Delta Sigs held a "way out," "wall climbing" Beatnik party at the Thiche brothers' house on November 19 in honor of the new pledges. An open house is planned for brothers, pledges, and their dates on December 10 at the home of Major and Mrs. Howard Vouch.

SPECIAL THANKS: To the Phi Mics for their help in making this occasion a success.

ATHLETICS: Delta Sigma Phi's volleyball team is currently in second place, having won two of its first two games. The team looks like a good one this year. Delta Sigma Phi will give a Christmas party in honor of the gods.

CONGRATULATIONS: To brothers Joe Venn, Joe Swaim, and brother John Young on their Christmas party this year. They are proving to be a very good shooting team.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

EVENTS: On Sunday, December 4, 1960, the Pikas played their last game of the season against the Lambda Zetas at High Point College. All of the brothers and pledges said that the Pikas were the type of activities that bring the fraternities and sororities closer together. All of us really enjoyed working on the Pikas this year.

COMING EVENTS: The next attraction for all of the Pikas is the annual Christmas Holiday Ball. We are looking forward to this event and will be a time of happiness for both old and new members.

THE WIND: The Pikas are also looking forward to the annual Christmas Holiday Ball to be held in the month of January.
