Sig Eps Lose Frat House

Dr. Wendell M. Patton has issued the following statement concerning the moving of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity from Coble House to the Men's Dorm and also about the delay in the building of the new Men's dorm.

It was with sincere regret that we were forced to move the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity back into the dormitory this year. I would like to take this opportunity to make it clear to the students that this was caused by unavoidable circumstances and not due to any misconduct on the part of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Some of you may remember the controversy between the College and many of the citizens in this community relative to the location of our new men's dormitory. This involved not only hearings with the Planning and Zoning Commission, but required a rewriting of the City Ordinance so that this conflict could not occur again.

Up until this time it was our intent and our promise to Sigma Phi Epsilon that they would be given the house now occupied as the Home Economics Demonstration Home. In fact, the furniture had already been moved into the house and some minor decorating done for them. In order to allay the fears of members of the community and obtain the necessary majority of votes of the City Council to change the City Ordinance so that our dormitory could proceed as planned, the Board of Trustees was forced to promise that the College would not change the use of this property and that no men would be housed in this property. Consequently, we were forced to relinquish the house we had rented for the Home Economics Demonstration House and move them back into the property previously used. Since the former Sig Ep house had been converted to an office building, the Sig Eps were virtually left "without a home."

LATE BULLETIN BOX

The Executive Committee of the High Point College Young Republican Club announced this week that the Republican candidate for Congress from the Sixth District, Dr. Blackwell P. Robinson, is willing to debate his opponent, incumbent Horace Kornegay, at some date in the near future in the High Point College Auditorium.

After discussing the matter with Don Little, YRC president, Dr. Robinson released the following statement for the HI-PO: "I would be most delighted to debate current issues with my opponent, Mr. Kornegay, at some time in the near future in the High Point College Auditorium, providing Mr. Kornegay agrees and arrangements with the college can be made."

The YRC, having thus secured their candidate for a debate, announced their challenge to the YDC to secure the services of the Democratic candidate and to cooperate with the YRC in working out arrangements for the debate. The time and other details will be announced when and if they are agreed upon by the two parties.

Frosh Dies In Wreck

Francis Tucker Kimball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Kimball of 646 Roslyn Road, Winston-Salem, North Carolina was killed in an automobile accident outside Mexico City on July 22 of this year.

Francis T. Kimball

Francis, who was to enter High Point College as a freshman this month, was working near Mexico City with a youth group from Centenary Methodist Church, Winston-Salem. Two other youths from the church and the Director of Christian Activities were also killed in the crash.

Francis had graduated from R. J. Reynolds High School with an excellent record. He was Art Editor of the school newspaper and had also served in various offices in the youth work of the church. Francis intended to major in Art at High Point College.

Dean Controls Student Funds

Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of High Point College has announced that all student finances will be in control of the Dean of the Students for this coming year. This action was taken because of mismanagement of student funds during the past three years.

Dr. Patton stated, "that this is an attempt to preserve the identity of Student Activities funds." This action was taken because the auditors have refused to give a qualified audit during these three years. If these funds are not straightened out then all important student finances will go under control of the Bursar and thus, into the control of the college.

The big question is why wasn't $20,000 to $25,000 worth of student funds verified during the past three years?

Welcome Issued By Patton

As I extend an official welcome to all of our new students on the campus, I would like also to add my sincere personal greetings. We hope that you are as happy in being a part of High Point College as we are in your being here.

I am sure that you have already noticed the warm spirit of friendship that exists on our campus, but I would encourage you to maintain and nurture it. High Point College students are not strangers to each other. You need never feel any hesitancy in introducing yourself to other students that you may not have met.

You will find that students, as well as faculty and staff, will go out of their way to assist you and help you. As much as we would like to make your life with us perfect in every respect, we know this cannot be so. No doubt you will have some anxious and frustrating moments—you will encounter some problems. We sincerely hope they will be few and far between. But when they occur, remember that we are here to give you the best in an education. We are interested in you and anxious to help you in any way possible. Don't hesitate to call on us.

Yours for a better HPC.

Activities Highlight Busy First Week

This year approximately 325 freshmen and transfer students joined the returning upperclassmen for the 1962-63 school year. This is a far cry from the 132 students who entered the door of High Point College in 1924.

New Faculty Additions Made

Four new additions to the Faculty for the coming year have been announced by Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of the College.

Dr. Glenn A. Webb has been named as Assistant Professor of Biology. Dr. Webb received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Illinois and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Oklahoma. Dr. Webb comes to High Point College from the Florence and Conway branches of the University of South Carolina. He has had experience in research, as well as teaching.

Named as Instructor of Business Administration is Mr. David C. Anderson. Mr. Anderson received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from West Virginia University. Mr. Anderson comes to High Point College from St. Bonaventure University and he has had experience in the field of business, as well as in teaching.

The new Instructor of Psychology and Education is Mr. John D. Martin. Mr. Martin received his A.B. degree from Tennessee Temple College and his M.A. degree from Baylor University. He is currently working on his Ph.D. degree at the University of Miami. Mr. Martin has had experience in the fields of teaching and business.

Coming from the High Point City schools is Mrs. Verta I. Coe. Mrs. Coe received her B.S. degree at Woman's College and her A.B. degree from High Point College. She received her M.A. from the University of North Carolina and also did further graduate work at Woman's College. Mrs. Coe has been principal of Brentwood and Emma Blair schools and for the past few years has been Elementary School Supervisor.

The freshmen were greeted by an Orientation Committee headed by the Vice President of the Student Government Association, Harry Lilly. The highlights of the Orientation Program are the following:

On Monday, September 10, at 1:00 p.m., the freshmen were welcomed by the Mayor of High Point, Carson Stout, and introduced to the Student Government Officers; the Chairmen of the various Orientation Committees, and to the Presidents of the Greek organizations. At 8:00 Mr. Irving Carlyle, a Winston-Salem attorney, spoke to the freshmen on "The Image of the College and University."

On Tuesday, September 11, at 1:00 p.m. the freshmen met with their student counselors who familiarized them with the rules and policies of the Student Government Association. At 5:00 p.m. a Pep Rally and Wiener Roast was held on the baseball field and an informal sock-hop followed at 8:00 p.m. in Alumni Gymnasium.

On Wednesday, September 12, at 3:00 p.m., the freshmen met the ministers from High Point at a "Ministerial—Freshmen Tea" which was held in the Foyer of Memorial Auditorium.

On Thursday, September 13 at 8:00 p.m., a "Meet the Upperclassmen Party" was held in Alumni Gymnasium.

On Friday, September 14 at 10:20 a.m., the "Beanie Capping" Ceremony took place in Memorial Auditorium. Mike Rosenmarkle, President of the Sophomore class presided.

On Saturday, September 15, the annual student-faculty reception was held in Harrison Hall at 8:00 p.m.

Betty Treece, Secretary of the Student Government Association, and Harry Lilly, Vice President of the Student Government Association, introduced students to Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of the College, and Mrs. Patton; they

Across The Desk....

On behalf of the Hi-Po staff, I would like to welcome all the freshmen and transfer students to High Point College. By this time, of course, you are probably fairly well set in the routine of campus life. The confusion which you encountered during your first days of orientation should now be like the proverbial nightmare — gone but not forgotten.

By now, also, you should begin to realize your responsibilities as a college student. Of course, your first and biggest responsibility is academic. None of us will deny the importance of hard work and study — in fact, that should be our main purpose in coming to college.

In the next few weeks and months, however, many other important phases of college life in which there is a chance to develop and show your responsibility will present themselves. You will have the opportunity to join organizations, to attend teas, recitals, lectures, and dances on the campus. There will be Religious Emphasis Week, the first basketball game, the Christmas Dance, Sorority and Fraternity Rush, Homecoming. . . . One thing after another will demand your attention. You will start choosing your responsibility.

It is here that we would insert two words of caution. First, don't be afraid to accept responsibility. This is one point upon which college students have been criticized. Responsibility and the work that goes with it is a part of maturing, and shows you and others that you can and will do more than the basic required minimum. Don't be afraid to help on the committees that are needed to make an event successful. In fact, it might be a good idea to volunteer instead of waiting to be asked. On any committee, new ideas and a willing hand are always in demand.

Second, when you accept responsibility, don't fall back on your word. Many times students volunteer anxiously for a committee, then do little or no work. Success is built on work, not on promises of work. The successful completion of the job you promised to do is a good recommendation of your sense of responsibility.

We would urge your consideration of the many opportunities as they arise. Join those that you feel interested in — and perhaps you might help, too, with some which do not appear as interesting at first. These may be the very ones which will open up new ideas and experiences for you.

Freshmen and transfers, the challenge of responsibility is here. What will you do about accepting it? —H.A.B.

From The Wings

By George Beam Jr.

As I sit in my little practice room in the basement of the Fine Arts Building storming my weak little mind as to what to write for this column, I see, hear, and feel all the interest of everybody getting set for the year to come. High upstairs in the projection booth, a few students are muttering unintelligible words to themselves because a lense does not fit a projector. In another room the Tower Players are trying to decide on a constitution hard enough to understand so that the officers will be dictators. The art room is full of students, all members of the Art League, turning pictures at all different angles trying to find which end is up. Back downstairs, the professors are trying to tell a student to give them a copy of his schedule above the squeal of a soprano singing Z's up and down the scale. In the other practice rooms various instruments are being played at the same time, each trying to drown the other out. In the instrument room two students are engrossed in getting their lips back in shape after a long dateless summer, while the people interested in choir are running around trying to find out whether they made it. There are some students trying to find out what time and where the string ensemble is going to meet. In the midst of this cacaphony, I realize that this is another active year for the arts and sign up for all the groups using the building. Now I am once again a little cog in a big wheel, — High Point College.

CAMPUS COMMENT

By Charles Nesbitt

Beanies, Beanies, and more Beanies. Everywhere I go I seem to be addressing and running into the wonderful little creatures with purple and white tops. This year High Point College is indeed fortunate to have these creatures on campus. Many comments have been circulating concerning the new freshmen that have arrived. These comments have certainly been favorable and pleasing. I, too would like to say that this new breed seems to be a group that will indeed better our opinions of the college students. It has been a real pleasure for me, as a member of the orientation committee, to work with such an attentive and attractive collection of people.

Watching these new college students parade to the stage for a most impressive capping ceremony gave me a real thrill. So many things will happen during the first year in college. So many experiences, some sad and some ecstatically thrilling, will be found while groping with the new adjustments and new ideas discussed on this campus. Questions will arise and problems will have to be solved individually, with little help from the home front. For the first time in life for many, a new experience will be in store in the realm of the mind. THINKING will be an important asset gained. The ability to reason intelligently, rationally, objectively, and thoroughly is the most important skill I feel in an educated person. As Mr. Carlyle said the other evening, "We must develop our character, health and education."

Again let me express to you the feelings as I have observed them from the rest of the campus. You are a fine class and we wish all of you the best of luck as life is beginning to open up in a very different and wonderful way. College lectures, Basketball games, Rush, Teas, Concerts, Chapel, Bull Sessions, Chimes from the Bell Tower, Discouragement, and Encouragement are now a very vital part of life to us here. Let's make our stay a memorable one!

Locke, Lewis End Leaves

Two High Point College professors received Sabbatical Leaves last summer. They were Dr. William Locke, Chairman of the Religion Department, and Dr. Lew Lewis, Chairman of the Music Department.

Dr. Locke spent his leave in the Holy Land. Together with his wife, he visited a number of places of interest including the Church of the Holy Sepulchre and the Temple Area in Jerusalem; the Church of St. Peter in Gallicantu; and the village of Qumran; where the Dead Sea Scrolls were found.

The Lockes were impressed with what the people of Israel had been able to do in turning a barren desert into a fertile land by conserving the water resources and putting these resources to the best possible use through irrigation.

The Lockes were also impressed with the tragedy of a divided Holy Land and the restriction of travel between Jordan and Israel.

Dr. Lewis spent his summer working on an opera using as a libretto Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice. Dr. Lewis said, "that the opera is about one third completed and when it is finished it will be given its unveiling on the college campus."

Library Alters Regulations

Two changes in the operating rules of the Wrenn Memorial Library have been announced by Miss Marcella Carter, College Librarian.

First, the fine on two-week books and three-day reserve books has been increased from two to five cents for each day the book is overdue. The Library Committee passed the new fine amount after discussing various ways of getting more books back on time, thus permitting circulation of the same books among a greater number of students.

Second, Miss Carter announced that the regular closing hour of 9:00 p.m. for the Main Floor Reading Room has been extended. This room will now close at 9:30 p.m. However, the downstairs reading room (basement), which was kept open until 10:00 p.m. last year, will close at 9:00 p.m.

Miss Carter cited the lack of additional staff members as the cause for the re-scheduling of closing hours at the Library.

Callahan To Vie For YDC Office

Norman "Skip" Callahan, president of the High Point College Young Democrats Club, announced Saturday that he was running for treasurer of the State Y.D.C. He has been active in the college Y. D. C. since it was organized in 1960.

Skip has been active in debating and is now president of the Gavel Club at H. P. C. He has won honors in debating from Wake Forest College and in district bouts.

Born and raised in Nebraska, Skip came to High Point in 1959 where he graduated from high school. He entered H. P. C. in 1960.

Nurse Announces Infirmary Hours

Nurse will be on duty from 8:00 A.M. to 4:30 P.M. during which time any illness should be reported.

If an appointment with the doctor is desired, please report to the Infirmary not later than 2:00 P.M.

Georgianna Hardin or Louise Whiteley will be on duty from 4:30 P.M. to 10:00 P.M., during which time emergencies or other illness occurring after 4:30 P.M. should be reported.

SGA, Tower Players Announce Fine Feature Film Selections

The film, "A Song To Remember," starring Paul Muni, Merle Oberon, and Cornell Wilde began this season of Fine Feature Films on the High Point College campus. Curtain time for this feature was 7:30 P.M., September 20 in Memorial Auditorium. The films are sponsored by the Tower Players in conjunction with the Student Government Association.

Various types of films will be shown. For example, "The Thing," one of the very first horror films, will be shown later in the semester. "Les Miserables," starring Frederic March, also will be shown.

Others in the series without a playing date as yet are "All Quiet on the Western Front," "Northwest Passage," and "The Last Angry Man." There will also be a program of selected shorts.

These films, it is hoped, will give the students an opportunity to see some of the greatest acting, the most famous stars, and some of the best examples of American film-making both of the past and of the present. If the series is successful, as it was last year, it will continue through the spring semester.

The following schedule may be clipped and saved for future reference:

September 20, Thursday, 7:30 p.m.	"The Life of Emile Zola"	Paul Muni
October 7, Sunday, 8:00 p.m.	"The Prisoner"	Alex Guinness, Jack Hawkins
October 14, Sunday, 8:00 p.m.	"The Silent World"
October 21, Sunday, 8:00 p.m.	"Thief of Baghdad"	Sabu
October 28, Sunday, 8:00 p.m.	"The Thing"

Students postpone handshakes for refreshments at the student-faculty reception.

Leadership Study Course Offered

HPC is offering a new type of course in the psychology department this semester. The course, Psychology 306, is an experience in group dynamics. The introduction of this course to the curriculum appears to be the first tangible evidence of the much talked about Education for Leadership Program. The course represents an unusual concept in learning.

Dr. William P. Matthews will teach the course using information he gained from an eight-week National Leadership Training Laboratory in Maine this summer. There is no text book for the course, nor any set procedure for the class. Students will use books purchased for the library under the Leadership Program. The class is expected to be carried out like the leadership conference held at Roaring Gap some time ago.

This course is being offered under the connection of the National Leadership Training Laboratories, with offices in Washington, D. C. Similar programs are being carried out at Harvard and other Ivy League schools.

TACKLE FOOTBALL INTRAMURALS DELAYED

"Football intramurals at High Point College will be played on the same basis as last year," said HPC athletic director Dr. James Hamilton when asked about this year's football program. There had been plans for tackle football in the intramural program but no positive action will be taken this year.

The tentative plans had called for the interested male students of HPC to don uniforms, pads, and other equipment and participate against each other in intramural competition. The athletic department would buy the equipment and the results would lie with the enthusiasm of the student body. If enough interest could be aroused, HPC possibly could go into junior college competition and eventually field a team in the Carolinas Conference.

Dr. Hamilton continued, "We have some equipment ready for tackle intramurals, mostly pants and pads. However, if the school accepts the program, we will need jerseys, helmets, and additional new equipment. A very important problem is the condition of the fieldhouse. We will need new lockers and quite a bit of repair done to the fieldhouse if the program is executed properly."

"There is a good possibility that tackle intramurals will be a reality next September. I question just how many HPC students actually want tackle intramural football. If the students want the program, they should let it be known. I'm happy to say that the administration is in favor of it. Let's hope things work out for this program next fall."

DAVIDSON HEADS INTRAMURALS

The new intramurals director for the year 1962-63 will be Bob Davidson, replacing James Holleman. Mr. Davidson is a new addition to the HPC athletic department and is formerly from Ragsdale High School in Jamestown.

Mr. Davidson will be in charge of planning, supervising, and scheduling the High Point College intramural sports: football, volleyball, basketball, archery, free throw contest, horse shoes, tennis, badminton, golf, track, ping pong, and softball.

Dr. James Hamilton has this to say about the new director: "We hope to improve our intramural program under the new director. I'm happy to have him on the staff. Mr. Davidson is showing enthusiasm and incentive toward his new post."

Former Cager To Be Coach

By Larry Nolan

In 1950 a young man left high school to go to college, High Point to be exact. Now, 12 years later, this same gentleman is leaving the high school scene to return to college, High Point to be exact. But this time he returns as a coach and not as the young freshman basketball star of the past.

Mr. Robert Davidson originally came from Cambridge City, Ind., but now he makes his home in High Point. He has lived here for the past 12 years single elimination tournament. This was the last time a High Point College team has been represented at the finals in Kansas City.

In his junior year Davidson captained the cagers to the Conference championship and in his senior year served as the captain. That year the Panthers finished an unimpressive fourth.

Upon graduation, Mr. Davidson received a teaching and coaching job at Jamestown High School (now Lucy Ragsdale). He has served as head basketball coach and baseball coach for the past seven years since leaving the college. During his high school coaching career, his baseball teams won the Class 2A Championship four years and were runners-up twice. This past year Ragsdale posted a 16-0 diamond record under Coach Davidson's leadership. Unfortunately, he admits his basketball teams haven't been as successful as his baseball squads.

Now to 1962 and the present. Mr. Davidson is actually back where he started, but this time as a coach and not a player. His new position is teaching in the physical education department, director of the intramural program, and head coach of the track team. In reference to his new position, Mr. Davidson said, "I am glad to be back at High Point College and I feel this is a great opportunity for me."

He is 32, married, and has two children.

Coach Bob Davidson

ever since he entered the college as a freshman in 1950.

Being quite an outstanding high school star in basketball, baseball, and track, Davidson was given a basketball scholarship to High Point upon his graduation from high school. During his college career he compiled an outstanding record while playing four years of college basketball. He also participated in baseball his first two years.

In 1950, his freshman year with the Panthers, the squad won the North State Conference tournament (now the Carolina Conference), the N.A. I.A. District 26 playoffs, and gained a berth in the National finals at Kansas City. Meeting East Texas State in the first round High Point dropped a nip-and-tuck 67-64 decision and was eliminated from the MARRIED: Brother Larry Maxwell to Martha Wallace of High Point on August 12. Congratulations Larry and Martha!

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brother Harry Lilly Vice President of SGA and Orientation Committee Chairman for an excellent orientation program.

PANHELLENIC

Those of you who are new on our campus this year are probably in total confusion when your upperclassmen friends begin rattling in the strange unknown tongue of Greek letters. Well so that you can impress them with your knowledge of our Greek term remember that "Pan" means "all", and "Hellenic" means "Greek". Thus the Panhellenic Council, the "all-Greek," is the governing body for the four national sororities here at High Point College. It is not our entire responsibility to govern, however. The Panhellenic Council sponsors various social functions, scholarship awards, and philanthropic activities. All of the Greek women are looking forward to knowing each of you personally and to helping you in any way possible.

To you Greek women who are back again this year the Council would like to take this opportunity to welcome you and to pledge to you a year of hard work in helping us all maintain the highest ideals of our creeds and of our college.

(P.S. Don't forget that upperclassmen rush begins October 7.)

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

RETURNED: for another fine year all the sisters after an exciting summer vacation.

MISS SALISBURY: Clara Jane Neal.

GOOD LUCK: to Georgianna Hardin, President of Woman's Dorm, Joe Ann Taylor, and the rest of the Dorm Council in their work for this coming year.

MARRIED: Judy Lowder to Roy Mann, Faye Dean Page to Charles Watson.

ALUMS MARRIED: Judy Hall to Dave Howell, Eunice Young to Tony La Sala, Becky Jarvis to Henry Groome.

VISITING: Chris Pike is visiting all her sisters and friends before entering the University of Maryland.

TRANSFERRED: Joan Shockey to Kent State, Ohio; Kathie Sturm to Russell Sage College, New York; Carol Merick to University of Idaho.

WELCOME: To all Freshman and Transfer Students.

KAPPA DELTA

BEACH: The KD's enjoyed a wonderful week at Ocean Drive Beach after exams. Sun, sand, and sea plus the best food anywhere.

MISS NORTH CAROLINA CONTEST: All the sisters of Gamma Gamma Chapter were proud of Gail Geyer, High Point's representative in the Miss North Carolina Contest. Gail walked away with top honors in her division of the swim suit competition. Congratulations! Gail!

MARRIAGES: This summer found three of our sisters becoming brides. Eva Dell Smith became Mrs. J. P. Marsh on August 25. Martha Wallace became the bride of Larry Maxwell, of Theta Chi on August 18. Judy Lane became the bride of Lane Mashburn of Pi Kappa Alpha also this summer. Congratulations!

ENGAGEMENTS: Carrie Myrick became engaged to Leonard (Woody) Woodall former Pi Kappa Alpha pledge on September 1.

TRANSFERS: Gamma Gamma Chapter was very sorry to lose several of our sisters through their transferring to other schools; Linda Wood to the University of Georgia; Lynda Payne to the University of North Carolina; Bonnie Woodfield to the University of Maryland; and Judy Mills to American University.

ORIENTATION COMMITTEE: Three of our sisters returned a week early to help with the Orientation Program. Thanks to Norma Overby, Gail Geyer, and Maggie Damewood for helping out.

TRAVELING SISTERS: Carrie Myrick traveled to Rio De Janeiro, Brazil for a six weeks visit. Maggie Damewood spent a month in California and at the World's Fair. These sisters plan to share their travels with the entire chapter through slides taken during their trips.

WELCOME: The Sisters of Kappa Delta Sorority would like to give a cordial welcome to all freshmen and transfer students to High Point College and wish them the best of luck in the coming year.

PHI MU

ENGAGED: Louise Stokes and Len Lewin '62 (Theta Chi) became engaged on June 30. A December wedding is planned.

MARRIED: Pat Peterson became Mrs. Doug Brackett on May 26. Doug was a member of Delta Sigma Phi and graduated from High Point in 1961. Denise Brown married David Tolton on June 30. Denise and David are now residing in High Point. Nancy Boone exchanged vows with Bobby Yates on August 25. Bobby graduated from High Point in 1961 and was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity. Peggy Hill married Ensign Medford Taylor on Sunday, August 19. Medford was graduated from High Point in 1960 and was a member of Delta Sigma Phi. They are now residing in Long Beach, California. Glenda Brown became Mrs. George Sewell on Sunday, September 9. George attended High Point in 1960 and entered the Marines in 1961. Glenda and George are now living in Jacksonville, North Carolina.

CONVENTION: Phi Mu held its National Convention at the Fountainbleau Hotel in Miami Beach, Florida, in June. Gamma Zeta Chapter was given an award for outstanding scholarship for 60-62. Linda Ferran, our delegate, received this coveted honor for Gamma Zeta.

BEACH: Twenty Phi Mu's enjoyed fun and relaxation at Ocean Drive Beach the week following graduation.

TOGETHER AGAIN: Wednesday night Phi Mu's enjoyed supper at the Panhellenic House. Wedding pictures, songs, and chatter added to the atmosphere of companionship as the sisters, pledges, and alums enjoyed their hotdogs, cokes, and cupcakes.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

WELCOME: Zeta Tau Alpha extends a most sincere welcome to all freshman and transfer students.

CANDLELIGHTS: Held on September 11 for the following sisters: Elaine Greene going steady with Charles Walker, WCC; Linda Loven going steady with Ivan Sibley, Charlotte, North Carolina; Catherine Martin engaged to Bill McKinley, Theta Chi.

CONVENTION: "Scooter" Frye represented Delta Gamma Chapter at the International Convention of Zeta Tau Alpha in Hot Springs, Arkansas, in June. Viviane (Smiley) Lloyd, who is now working as a Chapter Counselor for Zeta Tau Alpha, also attended Convention.

SOCIALS: Zetas are making plans to continue the desserts this year. Also plans are being made for an informal party and some other "Surprises".

GRADUATE: Zetas are quite pleased that graduate Roverda Jarvis is teaching in High Point this year. "Rover" is head of the physical education department at Northeast Junior High.

Patton Gives Reasons For Home Ec Drop

Reasons for the recent announcement that the Home Economics major will be discontinued at HPC have been disclosed by Dr. Wendell Patton, President of the college.

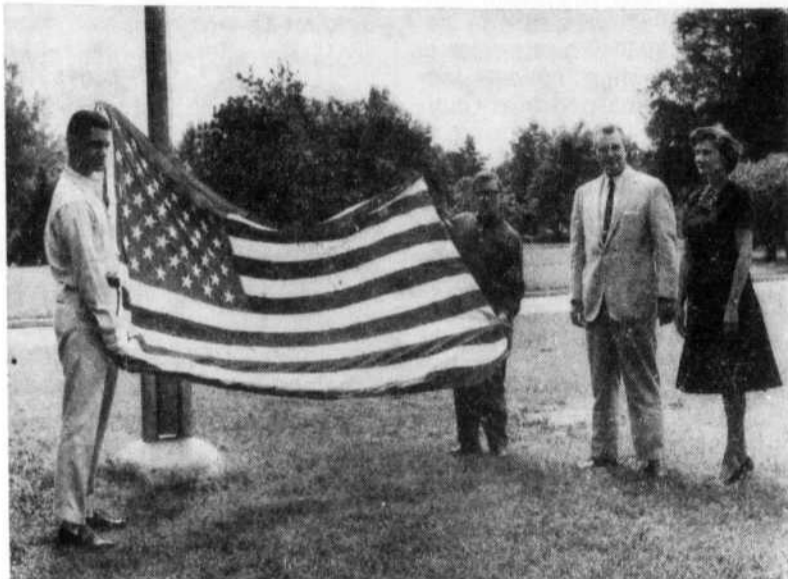

First among these reasons is the high unit cost of instruction in the department. Dr. Patton pointed out that, based on the number of students enrolled, Home Economics operation is almost double that of the average unit instructional cost.

Second, the Home Management House is entirely inadequate. To remedy this situation would involve a major expenditure, which would only increase the already out of proportion spending in this area.

In addition, Dr. Patton stated that Home Economics, like many other vocational majors, is fast disappearing from private liberal arts institutions. State-supported schools, able to expend large amounts of money to set up these departments effectively, have taken over these majors and can support them adequately.

Recommendations before the State Vocation Department also had some effect on the local decision. If passed, John Kennedy, President of Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity, and Robert Hartsell, Secretary, display the American Flag, which was given by the fraternity to the college. Looking on are Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of High Point College, and Mrs. Betty Stuart of the Women's Auxiliary which obtained the flag for the fraternity.

"Amos Wins Award"

The play "Amos" was presented an award by the National Association of Music Clubs to the Student Association, the Fine Arts Department, and the Religion Department. The award, which was adopted the title "The Amos Award", was sent to Dr. Lew Lewis, Head of the Fine Arts Department, during the summer. The award was given for services to American Music.

Dr. Walter Hudgins of the Religion Department wrote the play, which he adapted from the book of Amos. The music to the original score was adapted by Dr. Lewis.

Publications Advisors Named

Mr. Carrol Hormachea, Instructor of Sociology, has been named as Chairman of the Publications Committee. Mr. Hormachea resigned his duties as advisor of the HI-PO and the Zenith in order to assume the responsibilities of this office. Mr. Hormachea will be in charge of editing the High Point College Studies and he will also supervise and deal with all areas of general supervision and promotion of student and faculty publications.

Dr. Charles E. Mounts, Associate Professor in English, has been named as advisor to the Zenith and Mr. Jere Mitchum, Instructor of English, has been named as advisor to the HI-PO.

Sam Holds First Meeting

The Society for Advancement of Management held its first meeting in Room 36 of Roberts Hall on Wednesday, September 26, at 6:30 p.m. The meeting was called to order by Garland Kinney, president.

The following committees were formed: Publicity: John Lupton, Stan Kinney, Howard Barnes. Placement: Bob Braswell, Marion Suitt, Ron Yarborough, Larry Brown, Dot Barrick. Membership: Tom Butner, Kirt Christian, Ray Haga, Dot Barrick. Programs: Pete Moose, Kirt Christian, John Lupton. Refreshments: Frances Ingle, Mary Lee Coates, Suzanne Mock.

Pete Moose gave a resume of the tentative programs for the year.

The Personnel Manager of the Globe Furniture Company, in conjunction with two other personnel managers, will present a program on interviews at the October 10 meeting.

Garland announced that all SAM membership applications and fees are to be turned in before the next meeting (October 10.)

Prizes To Be Given Away In Assembly October 10

The second annual "High Point College Day" will be held on October 6, 1962. This day is sponsored by the Merchants' Association of High Point in cooperation with the SGA and the City-College Relations Committee.

SCA Outlines Plans For Year

The Student Christian Association of High Point College is striving to unite all campus religious efforts under the leadership of its 1962-63 officers. They are President, Patti Colliver; First Vice President, Pat Peele; Second Vice President, Karen Lanier; Secretary, Liz Oldam; and Treasurer, Fred Winters. The organization plans to continue the same active program this year that it has carried out in previous years.

Among the major activities scheduled for the first semester are Vesper Services. Beginning October 1, these services will be held from 6:00 to 6:15 p.m. each Monday through Friday evening in Lindley Chapel.

On October 24, Memorial Auditorium will serve as the setting for Ionesco's play, "The Leader." This drama is intended to point out to us how empty our concepts of a leader are.

The SCA will also sponsor Bishop Ensleyon, from Des Moines, Iowa, on November 7. He will present the Finch Lecture to the student body.

A Summer Service Opportunities Seminar will be held November 28, for the purpose of informing the college students about summer jobs. Special emphasis will be placed on opportunities in the field of religion.

In addition to these projects, the Association will sponsor their annual Thanksgiving and Christmas Caroling Services.

"The Student Christian Council is looking forward to an especially exciting year. The Council has last year's officers to thank for helping fabricate the program structure. It is strongly felt that all students can enrich their own college program by actively participating in and enjoying SCA activities," says Patti Colliver.

Players Hold Comedy Tryouts

Tryouts for "The Solid Gold Cadillac," the fall production of the Tower Players, were held Friday, September 28 at 3:00 in Room 3 of the Fine Arts Building. Approximately fifteen people were at the tryouts, which lasted from 3:00 until 4:30. From these fifteen, eleven will be chosen to fill the various parts of the comedy. They will be announced in the next issue. All students desiring to work on any of the crews connected with this production are asked to see Fred Schraplau or Doris Lyles.

Mr. Glenn Ward, Chairman of the High Point College Day Committee, has announced that the big prize will be a portable television set. Numerous other prizes will be given away by the members of the association, such as three transistor radios, a $29.95 radio and many gift certificates and gifts.

"High Point College Day" grew from an idea originated in the House of Representatives during the spring semester of 1960. A committee was appointed to contact the High Point Merchants' Association to discuss the possibility of such a day. The primary objective of this annual event was to acquaint the entering freshmen and transfer students with the various downtown merchants. The merchants, seeing the value of such a venture, worked with the college student committee and formulated plans for the first "High Point College Day."

Approximately 25 stores participated in the program last year, and the number will be nearly the same this year.

Charles Nesbitt, Chairman of the City-College Relations Committee, stated "All students and faculty members of High Point College are urged to make a special effort to go downtown and register at the various stores."

The drawing for all the prizes will take place during assembly on October 10. Present at the drawing will be Mr. Ward and Mr. Leo Palmer, plus various members of the Merchants Association. A son or a daughter of one of the faculty members is scheduled to draw the names for the winners of the various prizes.

Day Students Name Officers

On Monday, September 24, 1962, the Day Students held elections of their officers. Dave Culler, past president, presided until the election of the new President, Rudolph Gibbs. Al Motsinger was elected Vice President, and Kay Phillips was elected Secretary-Treasurer by acclamation. Tamsie Green and Charles Welch were elected to the Judiciary Council.

The topic taken up after the election of the officers was the great lack of interest the Day Students have shown in the meetings and other functions which have been held in their behalf. There were approximately 45 people present at the meeting, which should have had at least 400 to 500 persons in attendance.

President Gibbs stated, "It is very disturbing when a group this large does nothing. The Day Students can be the most persuasive group on campus if they will only wake up and get busy!"

Campus Profile

Larry Shallcross of Arlington, Virginia was recently elected President of the Freshman Class. Larry was very active in his home high school, which is Washington and Lee. He was President of his home-room; a member of the Student Council during his senior year and also a member of the Speakers Bureau. Larry loves music, and he also sings and plays the guitar.

Larry's vocational plans are to major in Political Science while at High Point College. After graduating from High Point College, he plans to enter law school.

Larry feels that the Class of 1966 has a great deal of potentiality and spirit. He hopes that through their cooperation and ideas he can make the Class of 1966 one of the best classes ever presented on the High Point College campus.

Across The Desk....

Saturday Classes

How wonderful an eight-day week would be! A whole extra day to take care of the pile-up of tasks put off during the first seven days would certainly be welcome.

Of course this is impossible — but there is a practical way to help alleviate the problem caused by the lack of an opportunity to get caught up with homework and to spend some un-interrupted time on those term papers, practice sets, etc. This would be to abolish Saturday classes. Tuesday and Thursday afternoons could be used to take care of the extra fifty minutes of classes ordinarily spent on Saturday, thus making better use of the weekdays to give a day off for larger jobs which require longer periods of working time.

Of course there would be problems, but this writer feels that they could be readily solved if work were begun immediately. Now is the time for the student body and legislature to act. We have a substantial percentage of the faculty in sympathy with our problem. They also see the need for an un-interrupted day for students and faculty alike; therefore we should go ahead and enact legislation and otherwise indicate our desire for abolition of Saturday classes before it is too late.

After the new catalog goes to the printer and all schedules are set up, it will be too late to act. If we want to abolish Saturday classes, then let's ACT NOW!

The Line Forms To The Rear

Patience is a valuable asset as well as a sign of maturity. HPC dorm students have been very conspicuous for their lack of patience in the cafeteria this year. There are those among us who have not yet been patient enough to await their turn in line.

Those who break line for reasons other than a 12:30 class are simply being rude and inconsiderate. There is no excuse for it. If students haven't learned the value of patience or respect for the rights of others by the time they come to college, then they don't need to be here.

This writer is puzzled by the fact that students constantly gripe about the food in the cafeteria, but yet these same students almost invariably are the ones who break in line in order to get there first.

If these people don't become mature enough to refrain from line breaking in the cafeteria, this writer for one advocates that measures be taken to protect the rest of us from them, even if this means giving demerits under the Dorm Council rules.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Editor:

"The line forms to the rear" is an expression that has been heard by many people. Why has this expression never reached the ears of the majority of the High Point College dormitory students?

Anyone who thinks this expression is the rule rather than the exception at the HPC cafeteria should stand in the lunch line some day and watch 40 or 50 students break line in front of him.

Do we as students have no respect for the rights of others? Or have we misinterpreted the college's theme of leadership to mean "My friends and I must lead the lunch line at all costs"?

Granted, some students have a legitimate excuse to break line, if they have only from 12:10 to 12:30 between classes in which to eat or else have to go to work early. Aside from this, line breaking is inexcusable.

As college students we are mature enough to take it on ourselves to correct this situation. No amount of policing by the college administration or the Student Government Association could be as effective as the will of the students in correcting this situation.

Dear Editor:

I think that it is time for all students on this campus to realize their immaturity. Most of the students here have come to college with only the thought of obtaining a diploma. They fail to realize that a college education is much more than a roll of parchment. Many cultural activities on campus are either ignored or sparsely attended. For example, many hours of rehearsal are put into the various student recitals given at intervals throughout the year. These performances are virtually ignored by students outside of the music department. Also, High Point College is one of the few colleges which furnish free Community Concert tickets for their students. It is needless to say that most of our student body lounges in the dormitory listening to rock and roll.

Another sign of immaturity is found on the academic level. There is none of the intellectual spark found on other campuses. Students are more interested in how much studying they can "finesse" rather than in trying to increase their knowledge. This trend, how-

From The Wings

By Jeff Johnson

A person who was well known left the Fine Arts Building on September 22, 1962. His name was Bishop Smith, but to everyone around the Fine Arts Building he was known as "Smitty". Ready to offer his opinions and/or offer his advice, he was a favorite among the students in the Department. Replacing Smitty is William O. VonCannon, who, we hope, will not have too much trouble getting used to the clanging and banging, the singing and attempted singing, and all else that contributes to the wonderful—but sometimes noisy—world of Fine Arts.

Classes have finally settled down, and the Department seems ready for a hard semester of plays, band rehearsals and classes. Speaking of band rehearsal, our new director, Mr. Clark, could use the talents of more musicians in his organization. Those of you who would be interested in playing in the band should see him in the Fine Arts Building.

Another thing we might mention here—to the delight of "Uncle J.", we hope—is the Men's Chorus. This group of dedicated souls will meet each Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the bandroom. Any men who can carry a tune in the shower are welcome to join!

ever, is not entirely due to the apathy of the students. There is an appalling disinterest in the quality of the faculty. Professors of the highest quality have left the premises one by one — Mountcastle, Bryden, Blackstock, Seidel, etc. Perhaps less emphasis could be put on planting daffodils and more emphasis put upon providing students with more of a challenge. Years from now the graduates of High Point College will not want their alma mater to have the "party school" reputation which it now holds. The administration is trying to put the school on the university level; however, I think it is more important to make this school into a college rather than an extension of High Point Senior High.

CAMPUS COMMENT

By Charles Nesbitt

This year, as every year, High Point College students are fortunate to have many opportunities to enjoy the many and varied cultural programs presented on the campus. Believe it or not, I have been listening closely to the attitudes and feelings expressed around me toward the different programs so far offered. Particularly I have been interested in the turn out at the campus films and the reaction of the ones there. The first film was "A Song To Remember." Seeing this movie myself, I can officially vouch for the fact that Chopin sounds a little better than ole "VAN NESBITT" himself—durn it. For those students who enjoy listening to good music and are interested in cultivating an appreciation for the good sounds that come from gifted musicians. "A Song To Remember" would have sent chills up and down the spine. Personally, I was in ecstasy during the whole movie. The second of the series was a film of the "Life of Emile Zola." Man, what an inspiration! Nothing inspires me more than a man who sincerely, and intelligently searches after the truth. Let me urge each of you who have endured this far through this article, to make special plans in the future to see some of these "great" movies. Even though some of them are rather old, don't let that bother you. Remember, Schweitzer isn't the youngest person alive.

Since "Culture" is the theme of this article, let us not forget that we are also having on this campus a group of singers. Of course by now most of the students know that the "Lettermen" are on their way. October the twenty-seventh, is the big date. Larger the number of students who come to this concert; the better concerts the SGA can provide in the future. Student support also holds true for all other worthwhile activities.

The SGA has distributed a complete social calendar which designates all of the activities of the year. Please obtain one of these printed calendars and keep it for future reference. There are many cultural opportunities available for students at little, if any cost. For example, we, the students, have already paid for the Community Concerts scheduled at various times during the year in Memorial Auditorium. Look for these concerts, and look for the other events which are worth-while. Fortunately, we are located in a very cultural area in North Carolina. With the Greensboro Coliseum just a few miles away and the neighboring colleges occasionally presenting interesting and educational programs, we can all learn to enjoy some of the "finer" things in life.

In conclusion, I sincerely believe that to fully enjoy life, one must not necessarily like everything he experiences, but learn to at least appreciate excellence in talent and intelligence. Our educational system should not only teach a person how to live in groups and organizations of all sorts, but should also teach him how to live himself in a way to appreciate and accept individuality.

Help Wanted

Mr. Duffy Paul, Director of Placement for the college, has announced that the following employment needs have been received in his office. Mr. Paul requests that any student interested in any of the jobs offered drop by his office, which is located at 901 Montlieu Avenue (former Coble House).

1. Receptionist-Typist (8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.); one woman.
2. Selling and Office Work (afternoons and week ends); one woman.
3. Secretarial Work (mornings or afternoons); one woman.
4. Office and Secretarial (afternoons); one woman.
5. Typist (afternoons); one man.
6. Church Choir Director (part time); one woman.
7. Furniture Salesmen (afternoons and nights); ten men.
8. In-plant Messenger (8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.); one man.
9. Insurance Agent (hours to be arranged); three men.

Throughout the year, as announcements are made for placement opportunities of this type, the HI-PO will publish the list.

17 Pledge A. P. O.

Mu Xi chapter of Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity held its fall stag rush party on September 26 at the First Methodist Church. Guests included our head advisor, Mr. James Dixon of the History Department, Dean Taylor, and SGA President, Bob Clark.

After the bids were returned, seventeen new pledges were recorded on the roll. They were: Charles Anglin, George Beam, Rick Bell, Mickey McDaniel, Tony Boyles, Jim Foster, Calvin Herndon, and Jack Marquis. Also Bill Maxwell, Ron McElhannon, Joe Nuckolls, Chuck Richards, Warren Romaine, Jim Ryon, Charles Sellers, Herb Thomas, and Tony White.

Future projects are conducting the raising and lowering of the American Flag, presenting a Taxi Dance in conjunction with the Girls' Dorm Council, assisting the Fine Arts Department in programming of coming events on campus, assisting the Athletic Department at home basketball games, decorating Roberts Hall tower at Christmas, cleaning up the picnic area behind North Hall, assisting the SGA Campus Improvement Program. Money-making projects to finance these and other ideas are the sale of stationery and doughnuts.

Gavel Club News

The Gavel Club, sponsored on the HPC campus by the Piedmont Toastmasters of High Point, is organized for the purpose of giving collegians a chance to improve their speaking ability. Both in public and in the classroom, student members gain good speaking ability by receiving evaluation and criticism of their speeches by their fellow "comrades in misery." There is no grading system as such, however.

Last year, the Piedmont Toastmasters sponsored a public speaking contest for members of the Gavel Club. A trophy was awarded to the best speaker of the event, Henry Thompson.

In addition to the discussion of the membership drive, elections of officers for the current year were held. Arthur Warren was elected President, while Carol Wood was named secretary-treasurer by acclamation. Nominations for the remaining offices are to be voted on at the next meeting which is scheduled for Thursday, October 11, at 6:30 p.m. in the Bandroom.

Clark Heads Concert Band

Mr. Robert Clark, the new director of the concert band, is busy with many ideas for this year's band. The instrumentation is not completed yet, and there is an urgent need for more players, particularly in the cornet and french horn sections. The band will give an assembly program before Thanksgiving, which will include such selections as "Prelude and Fugue" by Bach and several Dixieland jazz pieces. Also, there are plans for various appearances in nearby areas and an extended tour in the spring.

Mr. Clark is not a newcomer to this area. He received his degree in music at High Point College after attending Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore. He received his Master's degree from Appalachian State Teachers' College. Professionally he has played with the Army Band, North Carolina Symphony, and the Winston-Salem Symphony. Presently he is teaching private lessons in applied music and is also teaching in the public schools.

Fryhover Announce Choral Groups

Mr. Jay Fryhover has announced his plans for the College choral groups. The main choral group is the Chapel choir, which is composed of approximately fifty-six voices at the present time. The other choral organizations include the Concert Choir (or the touring choir,) which is composed of twenty-six selected voices. Most of the sections are filled; however, there is still a need for tenors and second basses. Anyone who is interested should contact Mr. Fryhover.

The choir will appear in various assembly programs, the highlight being the presentation of the opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors," by Gian Carlo Menotti. Professional soloists will be used in the opera, which will be presented throughout the state. Plans are underway for participation in the second Inter-collegiate Choral Festival to be held in Greensboro in the spring, and the Verdi "Requiem," which will be presented with the aid of neighboring choral groups and the Winston-Salem Symphony.

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER DOLLAR

With today's entry I begin my ninth year of writing columns in your school newspaper for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes.

Nine years, I believe you will agree, is a long time. In fact, it took only a little longer than nine years to dig the Suez Canal, and you know what a gigantic undertaking that was! To be sure, the work would have gone more rapidly had the shovel been invented at that time, but, as we all know, the shovel was not invented until 1946 by Walter R. Shovel of Cleveland, Ohio. Before Mr. Shovel's discovery in 1946, all digging was done with sugar tongs—a method unquestionably dainty but hardly what one would call rapid. There were, naturally, many efforts made to speed up digging before Mr. Shovel's breakthrough—notably an attempt in 1912 by the immortal Thomas Alva Edison to dig with the phonograph, but the only thing that happened was that he got his horn full of sand. This so depressed Mr. Edison that he fell into a fit of melancholy from which he did not emerge until two years later when his friend William Wordsworth, the eminent nature poet, cheered him up by imitating a duck for four and a half hours.

But I digress. For nine years, I say, I have been writing this column for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and for nine years they have been paying me money. You are shocked. You think that anyone who has tasted Marlboro's unparalleled flavor, who has enjoyed Marlboro's filter, who has revelled in Marlboro's jolly red and white pack or box should be more than willing to write about Marlboro without a penny's compensation. You are wrong.

Compensation is the very foundation stone of the American Way of Life. Whether you love your work or hate it, our system absolutely requires that you be paid for it. For example, I have a friend named Rex Glebe, a veterinarian by profession, who simply adores to worm dogs. I mean you can call him up and say, "Hey, Rex, let's go bowl a few lines," or "Hey, Rex, let's go flatten some pennies on the railroad tracks," and he will always reply, "No, thanks. I better stay here in case somebody wants a dog wormed." I mean there is not one thing in the whole world you can name that Rex likes better than worming a dog. But even so, Rex always sends a bill for worming your dog because in his wisdom he knows that to do otherwise would be to rend, possibly irreparably, the fabric of democracy.

It's the same with me and Marlboro Cigarettes. I think Marlboro's flavor represents the pinnacle of the tobaccoist's art. I think Marlboro's filter represents the pinnacle of the filter-maker's art. I think Marlboro's pack and box represent the pinnacle of the packager's art. I think Marlboro is a pleasure and a treasure, and I fairly burst with pride that I have been chosen to speak for Marlboro on your campus. All the same, I want my money every week. And the makers of Marlboro understand this full well. They don't like it, but they understand it.

In the columns which follow this opening installment, I will turn the hot white light of truth on the pressing problems of campus life—the many and varied dilemmas which beset the undergraduate—burning questions like "Should Chaucer classrooms be converted to parking garages?" and "Should proctors be given a saliva test?" and "Should foreign exchange students be held for ransom?"

And in these columns, while grappling with the crises that vex campus America, I will make occasional brief mention of Marlboro Cigarettes. If I do not, the makers will not give me any money.

© 1962 Max Shulman

The makers of Marlboro will bring you this uncensored, free-style column 26 times throughout the school year. During this period it is not unlikely that Old Max will step on some toes—principally ours—but we think it's all in fun and we hope you will too.

New Books In The Library

For the student who enjoys reading, the Wrenn Memorial Library offers a variety of the nation's best books this fall. Listed are a few of the newest selection in our library. They are included in TIME magazine's most recent best seller list.

SHIP OF FOOLS, by Porter.

DEARLY BELOVED, by Lindbergh.

UHURU, by Ruark.

FRANNY AND ZOOEY, by Salinger.

THE AGONY AND THE ECSTASY, by Stone.

THE ROTHSCHILDS, by Morton.

MY LIFE IN COURT, by Nizer.

TRAVELS WITH CHARLEY, by Steinbeck.

Looking quickly at some of the other new books, we see that they cover a wide scope of subjects. Faulkner develops the plot of THE REIVERS with such humor that it is agreed upon by the critics to be one of the funniest books in American literature. THROUGH THE VALLEY OF KWAI, by Gordon, relates the exciting story of prisoners of war at an infamous bridge, their survival, and their spiritual triumph. Also, there is something for the Sandburg lovers, namely, THE WORLD OF CARL SANDBURG, Norman Corwin's stage production in which Bette Davis starred.

"THE LETTERMEN"

The "Lettermen," the popular singing group, will be here on October 27 for a concert. Some of the records which they have made are: "When I Fall In Love," "I'll Be Seeing You," "Come Back Little Silly Girl," "In The Still Of The Night," and many other popular records. Tickets will be distributed to the students on Monday, October 8, through members of the Entertainment Committee of the SGA. Tickets will go on sale to the public on October 17. Price of the student tickets will be $1.00.

Evening School

The enrollment in the Evening School has surpassed the fondest expectations. In the fall of 1960, 111 townspeople or non-regular students registered. In the fall of 1962, 274 townspeople or non-regular students have enrolled. That indicates an enrollment this fall of almost two and one-half times as many town and non-regular college students as registered in 1960. The number of regular daytime college students has remained fairly constant since the beginning of the Evening School. So has the enrollment in the daytime.

In the fall of 1960, 12 different courses were taught in the Evening School. This year 25 different courses are being taught. In the fall of 1960, 12 people were teaching in the Evening School. This fall 19 people are teaching in the Evening School. These figures show significantly the rapid growth of the Evening School and confirms the opinion of the organizers of the Evening School that there is a definite need for such a school here at High Point College.

Other courses are added to the Evening School program when a sufficient demand or interest is shown in something new. During the past summer a number of requests were made for a course in library science. That course is now being offered with a splendid enrollment for such a technical course.

Courses are offered in the following departments: art, biology, business, English, geography, history, library science, math, physical education, political science, psychology, sociology, Spanish, speech.

The following people are teaching in the Evening School: Dr. Bartlett, Mr. Coble, Mr. Graham, Mrs. Graham, Dr. Gratiot, Mr. Grimes, Dr. Hobart, Mr. Holt, Miss Idol, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Morgan, Mr. Nicholson, Mr. Rogers, Mr. Taylor, Mr. VanAnda, Mr. Wendt, Mr. Whicker, Miss Doggett, and Mr. Kuhn.

the measures would require an additional faculty member to be placed in the HPC Home Economics Department, in order to maintain requirements in accordance with the State Teachers Certification program. Needless to say, this would cause additional expense to the college.

Finally, by State Law, certification for vocational Home Economics Teachers is not possible unless the applicant for certification has spent six semester hours of certified study on the Woman's College, University of North Carolina, campus.

"This situation has been under study for some time," stated Dr. Patton, "by both the Curriculum Committee of the Faculty and by the Board of Trustees. Finally, with Board of Trustees approval, the decision was made to discontinue the Home Economics major here."

Though the major itself has been discontinued, however, Home Economics courses will still be offered for those who would choose electives in this field.

Those who are now Home Economics majors in their junior year of study will definitely complete the Home Economics major, if they wish. Dr. Patton stated that studies are being made now to determine exactly when the major will be finally dropped, but a decision will not be announced until the study is completed.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

INTRAMURALS: The Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity captured the all-campus trophy for the second year in a row. The trophy was presented to Brother Ron Yarborough at a recent Assembly program. Football will be starting in a short time, and Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity will again be out to show their speed and skill.

RUSH PARTY: The fall rush party for upperclassmen and transfer students will be held Saturday, October 6, from 7:30 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. at Shrafft's Restaurant. Music will be provided by the Swingin' Five.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brother Joe Lorber, who has been elected Secretary of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity; to Brother Arthur Warren, who has been elected President of the Gavel Club; to Brother Dave Shaw, who has been appointed Business Manager of the HI-PO; and to Brother Bergie Hatcher, who has been selected for the part of Mr. Metcalfe in the play, soon to be presented by the Tower Players, "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

MARRIED: Brother Clayton Snyder to Miss Connie Wood; Brother James Boyles to Miss Wanda Kirkman. Our best of luck to you!

RETURNING BROTHER: We welcome back Brother Tom Gansman to High Point College.

PARTY: Our first party of the year was held on Saturday, September 22, at the home of Brother Claude Cline. Only six were brave enough to forget the cold and go into the pool.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

"NEW LOOK": There is a "new look" in front of the chapter section of Lambda Chi Alpha. The old "Cross and Crescent" that has hung so gallantly for many years has been replaced by another great artistic masterpiece—the Coat of Arms.

CROSS-COUNTRY TRIP: Brothers Dave Culler, Harry Smith, George Hendrix, and Jay Fryhaver are still talking about the wonderful trip they took in August to the Lambda Chi Alpha 28th General Assembly in California. The tour even included a trip to Disneyland, which everyone enjoyed.

ELECTED: Lambda Chis have once again hit headlines. Recently the Day Students elected Brother Rudolph Gibbs as their President, Brother Al Motsinger as Vice President, and Chilli Welch as representative to the Judiciary Council.

RE-ELECTED: Brother Jay Fryhaver, who is a member of the music department faculty, was recently re-elected by the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha as advisor to the local chapter.

CONGRATULATIONS: Congratulations are in order for Brother John Ward, who was recently awarded the Lindley Scholarship.

STAG RUSH PARTY: It was the Stag Rush Party time again at the Oakview Grange last week as the brothers and the rushees enjoyed an evening of fun together. There is still a question as to which was enjoyed the most—the food, "Uncle Jay's" movies of the beach trip and the California trip, or Brother Terk's speech!

RUSH DANCE: Last Saturday evening the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha and the upperclassmen rushees attended the first big dance of the year. The place was I. T. Mann's, and the music was provided by the Invictas Combo. Everyone admits that it was quite an evening!

PI KAPPA ALPHA

CONGRATULATIONS: Alumni Henry (Porky) Andrews and Glenda S. Andrews, Kappa Delta, had a baby girl on September 16. Brother Rodney Mills and his wife, the former Teddy Powers of Asheville, had a baby girl on September 1.

PARTIES: The brothers and pledges of Delta Omega will hold an informal stag rush party on Friday, October 5, for the upperclassmen and transfer students.

VISITATIONS: Several brothers and pledges have been making trips to other chapters throughout the state in order to better inter-chapter relations. Brother Gary Ern, S.M.C., attended the national convention of PI KAPPA ALPHA FRATERNITY in Louisville, Kentucky this past summer.

AWARDS: Delta Omega chapter received the annual PI KAPPA ALPHA Lynn Award again this year. The Lynn Award was given to the chapter in recognition of its promptness of records during the past school year.

WEDDING BELLS: Brother Dick Holt and Miss Pat Carmines of Hampton, Virginia are planning an April wedding.

PINNED: Alumni Brother Bob Lloyd pinned Miss Alice Ratliff, Phi Mu, of High Point, during this past summer.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

TRANSFERRED: Brother Ed Mitchell has transferred to East Carolina College.

PARTIES: The Sig Eps had a date rush party September 29. The party started with a wienner roast at City Lake Pavillion, and afterwards there was an informal dance in the clubroom of the YMCA. There was also a stag get together on September 28. The brothers and the rushees enjoyed an evening in which they ate barbecue at Casey's in Greensboro and also saw a movie at the Cinema Theatre. On Sunday, October 7, the annual Sig Ep mountain trip is planned. It will consist of a trip to the Blue Ridge Parkway and a picnic lunch which will be shared by our dates. On October 12 there will be an informal date rush party.

TRAVELING BROTHERS: Brothers Marion Suitt, Ted Brazzell, and Bob Carlough traveled westward this summer. Brother Suitt was in California and Nevada for two weeks; Brother Carlough was in California and at the World's Fair for one week; and Brother Brazzell was in Oregon and at the World's Fair for five weeks.

GRADUATE SCHOOL: Brother Jimmy Edwards is now at East Carolina College studying psychology.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brothers Ted Brazzell and Fletcher Nelson who served on the Orientation Committee.

GOOD LUCK: To Brothers Bill Steed who is Advertising Manager of the HI-PO; Ted Brazzell who is president of the I.F.C.; Fletcher Nelson, who is photographer of the HI-PO, Zenith, and News Bureau of the Public Relations Office; Steve Bower, who is the new I.F.C. representative; and Date Baughn, who is Publicity Chairman of the Junior-Senior Banquet.

THETA CHI

ALUMNI: Brother Haywood "Squat" Edmundson is presently attending Atlantic Christian College, where he is studying for a teaching certificate.

Brothers Walt Schenck and Gary Davis are doing post-graduate work. Walt is studying at Boston University, and Gary is attending Wake Forest Law School.

Brothers John Tuttle and Bill Davidson are in the service.

Brothers Len Lewin and Charles Carroll are employed here in High Point, and brother Jerry Kivett is working in Martinsville, Va.

TRANSFERRED: Brother Richard Hayes, who attended H.P.C. last year, is currently attending R.P.I. in Virginia.

SOCIAL: Theta Chi turned on its "Party Lights" Sept. 29 at the Oak View Grange with an informal dance party. Brothers, guests, and their dates attended.

A date rush party will be held October 13 at the High Point Elk's Lodge. The music will be furnished by the "Vibrators."

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

CONGRATULATIONS: We wish to extend our congratulations to the new Freshmen officers. We know that they will lead their class through a very eventful year.

CHOSEN: Congratulations to Sister Gayle Nichols and the other newly chosen cheerleaders.

SPEEDBALL: Good luck to the daring sisters that are going to play Intramural speedball!

PARTYTIME: Plans are now underway for a supper and informal dance to be held on October 12.

PHI MU

HONORS: Mary Lou Troutman represented Robbins at the Miss North Carolina Pageant this summer. We're proud of you, Mary Lou!

Kay Phillips was recently elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Day Students. Congratulations, Kay!

Joy Watkins, one of the new cheerleaders, was chosen as HPC's representative to the National Cheerleading Beauty Contest. Congratulations Joy, and the best of luck to you!

DUKE TRIP: On October 2 and 4, our chapter traveled to Duke to assist Gamma Epsilon Chapter in their rush.

CONGRATULATIONS: Dee Dee Decarion and Joy Watkins were chosen for the new cheerleading squad. We congratulate all of the new cheerleaders and hope the squad has a successful year.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

DESSERT: On Sunday, September 30, Zeta Tau Alpha gave a dessert for the brothers and pledges of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity. This, our first dessert of the year, was most enjoyable for all who attended.

SHOWER: Sister Kathy (Uhlmann) O'Bryant was recently honored at a miscellaneous shower given by her Sisters. Kathy is married to Norman O'Bryant, Lambda Chi Alpha.

VISITOR: Sister Nelda Murray delighted Zetas with a week-end visit on September 28. Nelda, one of Delta Gamma Chapter's May graduates, is now working in Eagle Springs, North Carolina.

WEDDING: Several Zetas are making plans to attend the October 6 wedding of Sister Becky Royer in Thurmont, Maryland. Becky will marry John Urian, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Sister Ann Organ for being appointed assistant Business Manager of the Zenith; and to Ann Ringley for being appointed Photography Editor of the Zenith.

TRIP: Sisters Dot Barrick and Elaine Greene were the guests of Keys Printing Corporation, Greenville, S. C., on September 28 and 29.

STUDENT INTRAMURAL SUPPORT DRAGGING

College football goes into its fourth big week-end this week-end. Players and coaches alike have been working hard for that weekly affair: the big Saturday game. It looks like Ohio State, Michigan State, Mississippi, Alabama, and Texas will be the big five in the nation this year. Duke, Maryland, and Clemson are the favorites in the ACC; and Lenoir Rhyne is off to another flying start in the Carolinas Conference. The Bears, led by Little All-American Richard Kemp of High Point, have a 3-0 record.

So what does the High Point College student do? He follows the teams in the sports pages, he watches them on television, he picks the games each week-end along with the sports-writers and "experts," and he attends as many of the games as is convenient. Now all this is fine. Just great!!! That's what makes football the number one spectator sport in the United States.

But what about the HPC student who doesn't read the sports pages of the local papers, who doesn't like to watch football on TV, who doesn't pick the winners each week, and who doesn't have the chance to visit other schools and watch their teams perform? Is he at a total loss? Granted, he cannot go out and watch High Point College play football, because High Point College doesn't have a varsity team. The least he can do is support intramurals, either as a player or spectator.

Intramurals mean a great deal to High Point College. The rivalry between fraternities and independent teams adds much to the sports spirit of the college. The more spectators at the games calls for even more intense competition. If enough interest is aroused this year, the intramural program will be improved next year. There is a good possibility that tackle football will be played next year. Also, plans are now being made for an INTRAMURAL BOWL this year between the all-star intramural squad of High Point College and an all-star intramural squad from Wake Forest College.

This year's intramural football program will consist of five fraternity teams and three independent teams. You won't

New Cheerleaders Announced

Ann Surratt, Head Cheerleader, has announced that the following students were chosen as cheerleaders on Wednesday, September 26. Regulars are Fran DeSiati, Freshman, from Oradell, New Jersey; Wynne MacGregor, Freshman, from Bethesda, Maryland; Joy Watkins, Sophomore, from High Point, North Carolina; Gayle Nichols, Sophomore, from Arlington, Virginia; and Dee Dee Decarion, Sophomore, from Freeport, New York. Chosen as alternates were Karen Clodfelter, Freshman, from Asheboro, North Carolina; and Linda Cabot, Sophomore, from High Point, North Carolina. These new cheerleaders will join the returning regulars: Captain, Ann Surratt; Nancy Yates; Carolyn McAllister; Linda Samuels; and Clara Jane Neal, to lead cheers at the Panther basketball games during the coming season.

see any pro scouts in the stands when these eight teams go out for their own version of touch football, but you will see some rough action. So don't spend your afternoon in the dorm twittling your fingers. Come on out and support intramurals!

BASKETBALL PRACTICE BEGINS

New High Point College basketball coach Tom Quinn is in the midst of conditioning procedures as sixteen boys are out for try-outs this year. The squad will consist of six returning lettermen and ten new hopefuls.

Returning lettermen include: Larry Nolan, senior forward who starred in reserve roles last season; Bill Fallin, junior forward and pivotman; Phil Garrison, MVP of tournament action two years in a row; Dale Neel, big center who has great potential; Barry Smith, sophomore guard with all the moves; and Richard Grimsley, a sophomore who saw limited action last year.

Heading the HPC hopefuls is Kirk Stewart, the YMCA star who was ineligible last year. Transfer students Al Trombetta and Sam Byers are expected to play important roles on the 1962-63 edition of the Purple Panthers. Also out for try-outs are Tracy McCarthy, Sonny Chisholm, Roger Herman, Richard Guiffredo, Richard McGreevey, and Wayne Eaton. Danny Lawing will serve as manager this year.

Intramural Preview

by richard stinson

As the brisk fall air hits the campus at High Point College, many a young man's interest turns to—football.

Under the able supervision of newly acquired coach, Bob Davidson, and Assistant Director, Jack Wagner, this fall intramural event, along with later events, promises to furnish plenty of action for all participants.

In addition to five fraternities entered in this competition, the challenge of three independent teams should increase the feeling of team spirit and rugged competition.

Representatives to the Intramural Council in this sport and in all intramural activity are the following team managers:

Harry Smith, Lambda Chi Alpha; Don Bryant, Theta Chi; Steve Bower, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Bergie Hatcher, Delta Sigma Phi; and Pete Hepler, Pi Kappa Alpha.

Representing the three independent teams entered are the following team managers:

Wayne Hazelwood, Patriots; Kenny Deal, Blue Devils; and Dick Hargett, Colts.

In the words of Coach Davidson, "The fraternities will all be vying for the Points Champions Trophy which is given by The Student Government. This year there will also be an individual award to a fraternity member for the highest single point total."

New Physical Education Director

by larry nolan

When the Panthers met Western Carolina in the championship game of the Carolinas Conference tournament last year, every faithful student was pulling for our boys. But, for Miss Betty Jo Clary, our new women's physical education instructor, there may have been mixed emotions, as a sense of loyalty extends to both sides.

Miss Betty Jo Clary

Miss Clary is a native High Pointer. Upon graduating from senior high school in 1955, she entered Western Carolina College to pursue her chosen field of physical education. In 1959 she left the mountains with a B.S. degree and received a teaching position at West Mecklenberg High School in Charlotte. For the next two years she instructed physical education classes and enjoyed her new-found profession a great deal.

At the end of her second year of teaching, however, Miss Clary decided to return to college and acquire a masters degree. She seemed to feel that still a great deal more was to be learned concerning teaching physical education, and that by obtaining such advanced knowledge, she would be able to do a greater justice to teaching. Her main goal was to qualify herself to train physical education teachers. In order to do this, she would need a master's degree to receive a teaching position on the college level. So in the fall of 1961 she entered Woman's College in Greensboro and received her master's the following spring. Three months later she became the women's physical education instructor at High Point College, thus earning a chance to fulfill her main objective.

While training her future instructors, Miss Clary will teach three theory courses, activity classes, and serve as director of the girls' intramural program. Senior physical education major, Louetta Bloucher, will aid her in intramurals. Also, a Woman's Athletic Association will be organized this year under the guidance of Miss Clary.

Needless to say, our new professor is thrilled and very pleased to be back working in her native city. She liked teaching high school students very much, but frankly admits that since this is her first experience in college teaching, she cannot yet draw an honest comparison between the two levels of teaching.

Hoping that she continues work on the college level, let's give "B. J." a warm welcome and keep her home to stay this time.

Trustees Meet; Procedures Announced Reveal Plans For Student Congress

Bids will be received Oct. 25 for construction of a new men's dormitory at High Point College.

Occupancy may be expected for the fall term in 1963, J. Harriss Covington, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee reported to the college board of trustees yesterday.

During their general meetings, trustees also recognized the college's need for a new science building and approved initial steps to investigate the possibility of construction of such a building.

The board also approved an organization plan presented by Dr. Wendell M. Patton, College President, in which four officers of the college are designated. They are Director of College Relations, Director of Student Personnel, Director of Academic Administration and Director of Finances and Fiscal Affairs.

Filling these offices are, respectively, W. Lawson Allen, Dean Jesse L. Taylor, Dean Harold E. Conrad and Arthur B. Williams.

In other action, the board re-elected Holt McPherson as its chairman for another year. Other officers re-elected were Horace S. Haworth, vice chairman; Elliott S. Wood, treasurer; and Dr. Patton, secretary.

Charles E. Hayworth, chairman of the endowment committee, reported on the status of the fellows program and outlined the work that would be accomplished this year.

Brief reports were also given by Haworth as chairman of the faculty committee, and Dr. Patton for the finance committee and the honorary degrees committee.

Little Addresses Science Majors

Dr. J. Maxwell Little, Head of the Pharmacology Section of Bowman Gray School of Medicine, spoke to the High Point College science students on "Medical Education in the Science Building," at 7:30 on Monday, October 15. Also on the program, Dr. Frank Farrell, who is currently serving an internship at Bowman Gray, discussed briefly the choice of a medical school from the student's viewpoint.

Dr. Little received his education at Emory University, the University of Michigan, Washington University, St. Louis University, and Vanderbilt University. Dr. Little is affiliated with Phi Beta Kappa and many professional organizations and is currently on the Board of Directors for the North Carolina Association of Friends and Parents of Men-

The annual Student Congress will be held in the bandroom on Tuesday, October 23. "The purpose of the Student Congress," said Allan Sharpe, president of the Interim Council, "is to offer the students a chance to examine the important issues, appropriate discussion at High Point College, and to act on these through intelligent debate, thereby acquainting the students with government procedures, public speaking, and parliamentary procedures. Another purpose of the Congress is to give the students experience in drafting and presenting legislative bills."

The Congress will start at 8:30 a.m. on October 23. At this time the members of the Student Congress will register. After the invocation and welcome, there will be an election of officers for the Congress. Next there will be a reading of the calendar and then, each organization will present its bill. The Congress will adjourn at 12:00 for lunch and resume again at 1:30 p.m. All the bills, which were not presented during the morning session, will be presented and debated. After all the bills have been presented and debated, the Best Bill Award will be presented to the organization presenting the best bill and the Best Speaker Award will be presented to the individual, who presents his bill the best. New officers for next year's Student Congress, Interim Council, will be elected and then the session will adjourn.

The other officer of the Interim Council is Marge Burns, secretary.

Military Advisor Chapel Speaker

George Fielding Eliot, one of America's leading military analysts, spoke at High Point College's assembly period on October 17.

Major Eliot's lecture, "Victory Without War," was a timely, accurate and unbiased account of the military posture of the United States and of how we stand currently in comparison to the Communist powers.

Major Eliot has been awarded the University of Missouri's Honor Medal for Distinguished Service in Journalism and has had published "Reserve Forces and the Kennedy Strategy," "Victory Without War," and "Sylvanus Thayer of West Point." He has another book to be published this fall.

A recognized and distinguished authority in his field, Major Eliot has written for many professional journals and has lectured extensively to both military and civilian audiences.

HPC Forensic Team Wins In Chapel Hill Debates

The High Point College Forensic Team took top honors at the 1962 Annual Tar Heel Invitational Debate Tournament at Chapel Hill on October 6. The team was presented with a Trophy Cup for winning the tournament, and Jerry Proffitt and Mike Pierce each received a trophy for the Best Individual Speaker award, since they tied for the honor.

Thus the recently formed HPC Forensic Team took top honors over such competition as Chowan College, the University of North Carolina and other such North Carolina schools.

Mike Pierce and Jerry Proffitt spoke for the affirmative while Bonnie Stilwell and Dave Young spoke for the negative. The team is co-directed by Mr. Phil Reines and Mrs. Jane S. Morgan; however, Mr. Reines said that Mrs. Morgan was primarily responsible for coaching the team.

This accomplishment is accentuated by the fact that before February of last year, HPC had had no debating team. On March 8, 9, and 10, about three weeks after the team was formed, this group went to the South Atlantic Forensic Debate Tournament at Lenoir Rhyne College where they were in competition with such schools as the U. S. Naval Academy, William and Mary, Davidson, Wake Forest, Carson University, Gardner Webb, Lenoir Rhyne and others. With only about three weeks of practice and notice, they won three debates, and brought home three first places and three second places. The other teams there had been practicing for at least six months.

The Forensic Team journeyed to Davidson October 19 for the Davidson Invitational Tournament. Results from that event are not yet known.

Mr. Reines stated that he was very proud of the new organization for having performed so well on such a short notice and with so little preparation. He feels that the team will be able to enjoy a bright future if it receives the proper support and consideration. He also made an appeal to the student body for more students to participate in this program.

McNamee and Alley Head Weekend Plans

With plans now completed, Fall Weekend will be held on October 26 and 27, with events planned for the College campus and City Lake Park. Highlights of the weekend will be appearances of the Lettermen and the Pat Dorn Orchestra.

Sunday Films Continue

On Sunday, October 21, "The Thief of Baghdad" starring Sabu and June Duprez, will be the feature film. The film depicts the story of a light-fingered urchin by the name of Abu. The movie is a winner of four Academy Awards and seven foreign awards. Also there will be a short starring Charles Chaplin, the master of comedy. Charlie will appear in a series of short comedies featuring the character he made most famous, the tramp.

"The Thing," one of the most famous science-fiction movies ever released, is the feature film on Sunday, October 28. This is a story of a group of scientists in the far North and their struggle to overcome a vegetable "thing." Shown before "The Thing," there will be a short titled, "Muscle Beach." This is a satirical story of the world's most famous beach — for muscle-men.

Peggy McNamee and Ray Aley, serving as co-chairmen of this first Fall Week End at HPC, have announced plans for several events during the two-day period.

On Friday, October 26, an informal dance will be held in the High Point College Gymnasium. Records will provide music for dancing from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served by a student committee under the chairmanship of Janie Koppers.

A two-hour concert by the Lettermen and the Pat Dorn Orchestra will begin at 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 27. The concert, which is the main event of the week end, will be open to the public as well as to students and faculty of the college. Tickets are $1.50, and may be purchased from Bob Hislop or from The Rathskellar, 1307 Montlieu Avenue. Student tickets should be purchased from Bob Hislop or any member of the student ticket committee, and will entitle the purchaser to attend all events of the week end, including the concert on Saturday evening.

Immediately after the concert, a semi-formal dance will be held for faculty and students in the gymnasium at City Lake Park. Identification cards will be required of all HPC students wishing to attend the dance. Music will be furnished by the Pat Dorn Orchestra, and will continue until the conclusion of the dance at 12:30.

The co-chairmen also listed the following student committees which have worked on various plans for the week end:

The Dance Committee: Janie Koppers, chairman.

The Staging Committee: Ray Davis, chairman.

The Publicity Committee: Suzanne Patterson and Nancy Perry, co-chairmen.

The Ticket Committee: Bob Hislop, chairman.

"Because of the large amount of planning that has gone into this event," stated SGA Entertainment Committee Chairman Fred Winters, "we hope that all members of the faculty and student body will participate in these activities. We have had such a week end in the Spring, and it has been successful; it is hoped by the SGA that this Fall Week End will be equally well received by the students."

HPC ON THE MOVE?

There is a strong feeling among some people that High Point College is beginning to move.

In the past week articles have appeared in the High Point Enterprise and the Greensboro Daily News stating that there are plans in the making for a new science building.

Also, for the first time in a long while the High Point College basketball team was previewed in one of the top major sports magazines.

Other statements have been heard from both students and professors that they feel that the name of High Point College is becoming more well-known.

This writer does not mean to say that the name or ideals of the college have been stagnant up till now. But it does seem good to hear that High Point College is beginning to become more known nationally. It also seems good to hear about plans of the building of a new science building on campus, a new men's dorm, and a new infirmary.

I believe that there seems to be a greater concern among the students about the welfare of the college. For example, the Student Government Association has set up several committees in order to better the college conditions. Some of these committees are: City-College Relations, Chairman, Charles Nesbitt; College Improvement, Chairman, Gail Geyer; Ideas, Chairman, Manuel Wortman; and the Publications Committee, Chairman, Carol Alexander. Some of the accomplishments of these committees are already self-evident on the campus; such as the recent "High Point College Days" and many others. In the future, there will be more signs of the ideas of these committees appearing on the campus.

In conclusion, I would like to say that the name and the ideals of the college are truly on the climb. But these ideals and the name will only keep climbing if High Point College keeps producing the best and most qualified students. If this is not accomplished then somebody in the near future will probably write a rebuttal to my column and say that the name of High Point College is going down the ladder of learning and not up it.

CAMPUS COMMENT

By Charles Nesbitt

This year the Student Government Association is functioning very effectively. The new unicameral legislature seems to be working fine. For the first time, we are actively participating in a new form of governing. Surprisingly, the members of the legislature are all doing their jobs efficiently. Requiring all committee chairmen to submit a report at each session instills within each chairman the necessity of work; and, being able to meet together allows much to be accomplished. The last meeting showed me that work can be done when absolutely necessary. The meeting I am referring to is the one held two weeks ago when the Penal Code was revised. The legislature met over two hours discussing and evaluating the changes to be made. Finally a decision was established which satisfied the majority.

Many decisions will be made this year, and many topics discussed. I feel very confident in the SGA and I hope we continue to have good functioning legislatures in the future. One way in which the students can assist the SGA is to help on the various committees. Committee work is not difficult and does not take up a great deal of time. There is a lot to learn by actively participating in student activities, and there is much we can do to better the situation on our campus. The Student Government is FOR THE STUDENT. For best results, we, the students, must do as much as possible to improve High Point College—not only for ourselves, but for future college students. What we decide NOW will determine many of the actions of future HPC students. Personally, I am proud of our college, and I want to be proud of it after I leave. For me, I MUST do something useful for my Alma Mater. I refuse to be a silent listener of campus failures and successes. Individual responsibility should be meaningful to each of us. Without fixedness of purpose and sincerity in action, singular endeavor will fail. Without singular endeavor, High Point College would fail.

In conclusion, I am thankful for the opportunities which our Student Government Association offers. Much time is spent by some to better our college. The legislature definitely needs encouragement and appreciation. So let's give a big hand of applause to our SGA workers!

—Charles Nesbitt.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Editor.

This reader is always glad when someone shows concern for HPC. The last issue of the HI-PO contained a letter that was a masterpiece of inept concern. Many of the statements advanced need to be re-trenched; and one prime example for the grave diggers is: "There is an appalling disinterest in the quality of the faculty." How can one find out on whom the burden of guilt this "disinterest" lies? At least the author could have recommended a spiritual medium who could answer all. Now the first proclamation "it is time for all students on this campus to realize their immaturity," has an amusing implication regarding its anonymous author. My basic knowledge of things electrical serves me to make one recommendation to one so sensitive to "intellectual spark": build a personal lightning rod to keep your pants (or skirt) from being singed.

—Joe Boyle.

'Gold Cadillac' Set Nov. 9, 10

The Solid Gold Cadillac will be the Tower Players' fall play, which will be given Friday and Saturday nights, November 9 and 10, at 8:00 p.m.

This uproarious comedy, written by Howard Teichmann and George S. Kaufman, tells of the complications that arise at a stockholder's meeting of a multi-million dollar organization when a young woman starts asking questions.

The heroine is Laura Partidge, played by Clara Jane Neal. She is backed up against the corporation directors by a big wheel in Washington, Ed McKeever, played by Fred Schraplau. Playing the "four ugly corporation directors" are Phil Kinsey, Jerry Proffit, Bergie Hatcher, and Mike Carrington.

This promises to be one of the funniest plays ever produced at High Point College! Tickets will be on sale by October 24. Make plans now to see Clara Jane Neal and Fred Schraplau starring in The Solid Gold Cadillac, November 9 or 10.

Lambda Chi, Phi Mu Win Scholarship Awards

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and Phi Mu sorority have received the first scholarship achievement plaques to be awarded by the HPC chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

Dr. William R. Locke presented the Alice Page White award to Linda Ferran, president of Phi Mu; and the Clifford Hinshaw award to Dave Culler, president of Lambda Chi Alpha, during assembly on Wednesday, October 3.

Because the AAUP feels that it is important to increase achievement among student groups, these awards will be made annually to the sorority and fraternity at HPC with the highest academic standing. Each year the name of the organization receiving the plaque will be engraved upon it, and the group will be allowed to keep the award for one year. If any organization should be awarded the plaque for three consecutive years, it may be kept permanently.

Computations for the academic standing of each group will be made in the Dean of Student's office.

The Clifford Hinshaw award was so named in honor of Dr. Clifford Hinshaw, former Dean of Instruction of HPC for many years and now Director of the Evening School.

The Alice Paige White award was named in honor of Mrs. White, member of the original HPC faculty, because she has made so many contributions in the interest of academic achievement.

HAPPINESS CAN'T BUY MONEY

Can education bring happiness?

This is a question that in recent years has caused much lively debate and several hundred stabbings among American college professors. Some contend that if a student's intellect is sufficiently aroused, happiness will automatically follow. Others say that to concentrate on the intellect and ignore the rest of the personality can only lead to misery.

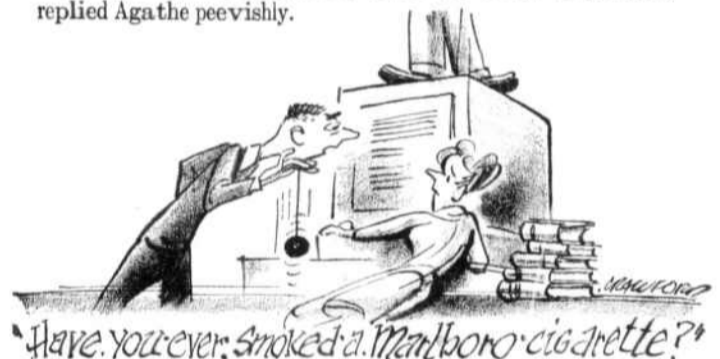

I myself favor the second view, and I offer in evidence the well-known case of Agathe Fusco.

Agathe, a forestry major, never got anything less than a straight "A", was awarded her B.T. (Bachelor of Trees) in only two years, her M.S.B. (Master of Sap and Bark) in only three, and her D.B.C. (Doctor of Blight and Cutworms) in only four.

Academic glory was hers. Her intellect was the envy of every intellect fan on campus. But was she happy? The answer, alas, was no. Agathe—she knew not why—was miserable, so miserable, in fact, that one day while walking across campus, she was suddenly so overcome with melancholy that she flung herself, weeping, upon the statue of the Founder.

By and by a liberal arts major named R. Twinkle Plenty came by with his yoyo. He noted Agathe's condition. "How come you're so unhappy, hey?" said R. Twinkle.

"Suppose you tell me, you dumb old liberal arts major," replied Agathe peevishly.

"All right, I will," said R. Twinkle. "You are unhappy for two reasons. First, because you have been so busy stuffing your intellect that you have gone and starved your psyche. I've got nothing against learning, mind you, but a person oughtn't to neglect the pleasant, gentle amenities of life—the fun things. Have you, for instance, ever been to a dance?"

Agathe shook her head.

"Have you ever watched a sunset? Written a poem? Smoked a Marlboro Cigarette?"

Agathe shook her head.

"Well, we'll fix that right now!" said R. Twinkle and gave her a Marlboro and struck a match.

She puffed, and then for the first time in twelve or fifteen years, she smiled. "Wow!" she cried. "Marl-boros are a fun thing! What flavor! What filter! What pack or box! What a lot to like! From now on I will smoke Marlboros, and never have another unhappy day!"

"Hold!" said R. Twinkle. "Marlboros alone will not solve your problem—only half of it. Remember I said there were two things making you unhappy?"

"Oh, yeah," said Agathe. "What's the other one?"

"How long have you had that bear trap on your foot?" said R. Twinkle.

"I stepped on it during a field trip in my freshman year," said Agathe. "I keep meaning to have it taken off."

"Allow me," said R. Twinkle and removed it.

"Land sakes, what a relief!" said Agathe, now totally happy, and took R. Twinkle's hand and led him to a Marlboro vendor's and then to a justice of the peace.

Today Agathe is a perfectly fulfilled woman, both intellect-wise and personality-wise. She lives in a darling split-level house with R. Twinkle and their 17 children, and she still keeps busy in the forestry game. Only last month, in fact, she became Consultant on Sawdust to the American Butchers Guild, she was named an Honorary Sequoia by the park commissioner of Las Vegas, and she published a best-selling book called I was a Slippery Elm for the FBI.

© 1962 Max Shulman

The makers of Marlboro are pleased that Agathe is finally out of the woods—and so will you be if your goal is smoking pleasure. Just try a Marlboro.

VESPER SERVICES DAILY

Beginning October 1, vesper services were conducted daily from 6:00 to 6:15 p.m. in Lindley Chapel. The Student Christian Association will direct the services and they will be conducted by various members of the association. The services will consist of hymns, scripture readings, meditation and prayer, and short spiritual readings.

The program has been coordinated by Miss Patti Colliver, President of the SCA. In addition to her SCA duties, Patti, a senior, has been active on the Fellowship teams and the M.S.F., of which she was president last year. She has also been treasurer of the freshman class, a member of the dorm council, a member of the student NEA, Layout Editor of the Zenith, a junior marshall, and a member of the Order of the Lighted Lamp. She was also voted Miss Congeniality in the Miss High Point College pageant last year.

News From Sam

The Society for the Advancement of Management held its second meeting on Wednesday, October 10, in the bandroom.

The program was based on the interview with the personnel manager, when one applies for a job. Serving as Personnel Managers were Mr. Ben Farthing, Personnel Manager of the Globe Furniture Company, and President of the High Point Personnel Managers Association; and Mr. Dewey York, Personnel Manager of the Marsh Furniture Company. Posing as interviewees were William McKinley and David Rose.

After the interviews, the personnel managers pointed out the following points to the students to remember when applying for a job. First, working your way through school is a great asset when looking for a job, provided that you have worked hard at both employment and your studies. Second, grades are important, but not as important as being able to apply the knowledge which you have gained from your books. Third, both personnel managers stated that they would probably offer a position to a person with a "C" average and extra-curricular activities; rather than to a person with an "A" average and no extracurricular activities. They stated this because the person with the "C" average has evidently been with people and would more than likely be a better person to work with than the "A" student. Fourth, they stated that a person should know as much as possible about a firm before they accept a job with them. One should also be prepared to work two or three years with the company and he must remember that they have a large investment in his training. Fifth, when one considers a salary, he must know the minimum amount that he can live on, taking into account the general living expenses for that particular part of the country. Sixth, above all, the person applying for a job must know his aims and goals of life.

The next day, several members of the organization toured the Heritage Furniture Plant.

IFC-PANHELL REPORT

The Interfraternity Council heartily welcomes all fraternity men back to High Point College. In addition, we would like to extend a special greeting to those new upperclassmen pledges of the five national fraternity chapters on campus. The experiences you are about to share with the men of your selected fraternity will certainly prove to be mutually beneficial.

Last year, the Interfraternity Council attempted to strengthen the Greek system. This year, the Council goals are set even higher. We plan to sponsor a Greek Sing and two dances. The first dance is scheduled for November 30. We are also looking forward to an IFC-sponsored study hall for freshmen. Each Greek organization membership in the Council consists of two representatives which has been changed from the single representative Council of last year. It is hoped that the additional members will contribute needed strength to carry out plans this year. Other activities and programs are under consideration, but we will need the ideas and assistance of all fraternity men to make this a successful year.

Cooperation among fraternities is essential to strengthen the entire system. Let's make this year not only beneficial to individual fraternities and to the overall organization, but let us sincerely strive to play an active part in working for the betterment of the college and community.

TEA: Held October 7 for all upperclassmen and transfer students.

BIDS ISSUED: October 11 proved to be a very hectic day for the rushees, as well as for the members of the four sororities on campus. Bids were picked up between 12:00 noon and 1:30 p.m.

NEW PLEDGES MEET THEIR CHOICE: Zetas and Alpha Gams met their newcomers at 4:00 o'clock. Kappa Delta and Phi Mu welcomed new pledges at 4:30.

Panhellenic congratulates all sororities on their new members.

GREEK NIGHT: The second Tuesday night in each month, all Greeks dress in heels and have dinner together. Each sorority is represented in each dinner group.

SNEA Makes Plans For The Year

The Calvin Wiley Chapter of the Student National Education Association held its first meeting on Monday, October 8. The purpose of the club is to prepare today's students for tomorrow's teaching profession.

Movies, group discussions concerning controversial subjects in schools, and field trips for observation of teaching techniques in today's classrooms are some of the activities on the agenda for the coming year. There are also plans underway for a joint meeting with the Woman's College chapter, a speaker, and a picnic at City Lake in the spring.

The club's 1962-63 officers are: President, Bettie Jones; Vice President, Nancy Gunter; Secretary, Katy DeMik; Treasurer, Gail Paxton; Publicity, Betty Krimminger and Barry Brown; Devotion Chairman, Janet Doss; and Advisor, Dr. Dan Cooke.

"We hope that this will be both an interesting and a beneficial year for our members," said Bettie Jones.

Among the young people being graduated from college in these times, there are some who think and feel—perhaps a little more deeply than the others—about the world we live in, the future we face. They ask, "How can I make my career really meaningful? More than just personally rewarding?"

And many of today's most successful young people are finding a fulfilling answer to these questions as officers on the Aerospace Team... the United States Air Force. They can tell you that no career could better combine the opportunity for achievement—and the deep inner satisfaction of knowing that they are helping preserve the very future of America.

How can you become an Air Force Officer?

If you are a college senior and not currently enrolled in ROTC, Air Force Officer Training School provides an opportunity to qualify for a wide variety of career fields. The graduate of this three-month course receives a commission as a second lieutenant. As the Air Force continues its technological advance, officers with college training will move into positions of increasing importance.

For full information—including the opportunity to earn graduate degrees at Air Force expense—see the Air Force Selection Team when it visits your college, visit your local Air Force Recruiting Office, or write: Air Force Officer Career Information, Dept. SC210, Box 805, New York 1, New York.

Hatcher Spotlights Coach Tom Quinn

by BERGIE HATCHER

The new head basketball coach at High Point College, Tom Quinn, brings an outstanding coaching record with him as he joins the HPC physical education department. Quinn, who coached last year at Newberry College, will be head tennis coach, physical education instructor, and head basketball coach.

Born in the mining town of Beckley, West Virginia, Coach Quinn attended high school at nearby Shady Springs High School, just outside Beckley. At Shady Springs High, he lettered in basketball, football, and track. Basketball, however, was his best sport. In the 1948-49 season, he led Shady Springs to a 19-1 record, one of the top teams in the state.

Coach Tom Quinn

Coach Quinn did his undergraduate work at Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va. He received his A.B. degree in English and Physical Education at Marshall. While at Marshall, Quinn participated in freshman football and was a member of the varsity basketball team for all four years there. He was initiated into Pi Kappa Alpha national social fraternity his sophomore year. Coach Quinn went to the University of Florida for his graduate work. He received his masters degree in Health and Physical Education in 1954.

In addition to being a member of the Pika fraternity at Marshall University and the University of Florida, Coach Quinn was inducted into the Phi Delta Kappa, the national honorary education fraternity, and Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity.

Coach Quinn actually began his coaching career at the University of Florida as a graduate assistant. His first real job came in 1955, when Quinn joined the coaching staff of Cocoa High School, in Cocoa, Fla. For three years Coach Quinn served as head basketball coach, head track coach, and assistant football coach. In addition to this, he taught English at Cocoa High. It was at Cocoa High School that Coach Quinn taught Danny Tharpe, who is a star guard for Western Carolina College at the present time.

In 1958 Coach Quinn took the job of head basketball coach and assistant professor of physical education at Newberry College in South Carolina. He inherited a big job: taking over a losing ball club. For the past three years preceding Coach Quinn's appointment, Newberry College had won a total of 11 games. Within two years, Newberry College was in the national NAIA tournament in Kansas City, Mo.

Coach Quinn had winning teams all three years at Newberry. His total coaching record at the school was 64 won and 46 lost. In 1960-61, Newberry was District 26 champs and Little Four champs. Newberry also won the Paris Island tournament in Paris Island, S. C. After winning the district championship, Newberry advanced to the quarter-finals of the National NAIA championship, losing to top-seeded Westminster College, 75-63. For his outstanding job in coaching, Quinn was named College Coach of the Year in South Carolina for 1960-61. Coach Quinn and Newberry College were honored by the South Carolina governor and house of representatives for outstanding performance. Carl Short, Newberry's top scorer, was named to the NAIA All-American team.

In addition to college, high school, and graduate coaching, Coach Quinn has coached in Puerto Rico; at Camp Play-Mor, S. C.; and at Camp All-America, in Cornwall, N. Y. His club in Puerto Rico, the San German "Athletics," reached the finals of the Puerto Rican semi-professional league last season. At Camp Play-Mor, Quinn worked under C. Virgil Yow, the man he succeeds as head basketball coach at High Point College. At Camp All-America, Coach Quinn worked under Clare Bee, outstanding coach at Long Island University in the 1950's.

Coach Quinn is married to the former Miss Doris Smith of Polkton, N. C. Mrs. Quinn is superintendent of the Woman's Health Club of High Point. They have no children.

Coach Quinn has this to say about High Point: "I like the town very much. I'm very happy to be in High Point. Although I've been here a short time, I feel right at home. I've already had the virus twice, I've been warned about jay-walking twice, and received two parking tickets."

In relation to High Point College and the basketball team Coach Quinn has this to say: "I'm impressed with the overall spirit and closeness of the student body. I believe that the students will support the basketball team as well as they have in the past."

"I believe that the athletes here are as fine as any in the conference. They are showing desire and eagerness to have a fine club. I feel that the Carolinas Conference is as strong and well-balanced as it has been in the past five years, but that our own Panthers can hold their own with any team in the conference."

A GLIMPSE AT INTRAMURALS

by Richard Stinson

Men's

It wasn't until Friday, October 12, when this reporter interviewed intramural director Davidson, that the realization of a great football season had been reached. Mr. Davidson said, "All the teams participating have shown tremendous enthusiasm and all of the ten games played to date have been hard fought ones."

October 2, marked the start of this intramural program. Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated Theta Chi, 7-6 on this date and the outstanding players for their respective teams were Steve Bower, Sig Ep, and Bill McKinley and Rick Benoit, Theta Chi. On this same date Lambda Chi beat the Patriots, 25-21. The game was an oddity in that Lambda Chi scored all of their points in the first half and the Pats scored all of theirs in the second half. Don Cashion was the outstanding star in the Lambda Chi line-up and Dave Fancher and Max Litten sparked the Pats.

On the next day the Blue Devils defeated Delta Sigma Phi, 13-6. Ron Berrier and Bob Brewer did a fine job of representing the Blue Devils and the Delta Sigs boasted Jim Waldon and Mike Rosenmarkle. On this same day the Colts led by Bill Harris and Craven Young upset Pi Kappa Alpha, led by Jerry Kyle and Rex Conner, 13-0.

The Colts were led by Craven Young and Tony Parsons again. They showed their teeth by defeating Delta Sigma Phi, which was led by Allen Sharpe and Wayne Lewis, 14-0, on October 9. On this same date it was Sigma Phi Epsilon over Pi Kappa Alpha, 13-0. Steve Bower and Marion Suitt of Sigma Phi Epsilon showed real ability as well as Bill Dobbins and J. R. Newton of Pi Kappa Alpha.

On October 10, the Lambda Chi's defeated the Blue Devils, 20-9. Lambda Chi was led by Tom Slaughter and Barney Burks. The Blue Devils can be proud of Kenny Deal and Larry Dunn. That day also marked the defeat of Pi Kappa Alpha by Theta Chi, 13-6. Micky Boles and Roy Greenwood were outstanding for Theta Chi and Stan Kinney and Kelly Phillips did their part by Pi Kappa Alpha.

On the next day Delta Sigma Phi beat Sigma Phi Epsilon, 12-0. Delta Sig was led by Dave Kennerley and Bob Clark. Sigma Phi Epsilon was led by Steve Bower and Marion Suitt. On this same day, the Patriots played an exciting game against the Colts. It was the Pats over the Colts, 6-0. The only score of the game was made when Bob Brennan returned the ball all the way for the T.D. on the opening kickoff. Jerry Williams was outstanding on the Patriot line-up as well as Tony Koogler and Bill Harris for the Colts.

Coach Davidson had this to say, "It is interesting to note that the independent teams are going to give the fraternities a real run for their money for the championship this season."

At this point in the season, it appears that Lambda Chi Alpha, spearheaded by the pin point passing of Don Cashion, will be the team to beat. They have a 2-0 record.

Good officiating is an important part of any football game and for their fine work the following must be credited: Sammy Taylor, Ralph Clements, Bergie Hatcher, Bob Brennan, Charles Wallace, Wayne Hazelwood, Pat Hedrick, Tom Slaughter, Jack Wagner, Stan Hedrick, Dave Baughn, Jerry Tertzajian, and Don Cashion.

Below are the standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Lambda Chi	2	0	1.000
Colts	2	1	.666
Sig Ep	2	1	.666
Blue Devils	1	1	.500
Theta Chi	1	1	.500
Patriots	1	1	.500
Delta Sig	1	2	.333
Pika	0	3	.000

C.; Riley Clinton Fields, Silver City, N. C.; Lloyd Harvey, Thomasville, N. C.; Robert Hiatt Jessup, Greensboro, N. C.; and Barrow Mullis, Myrtle Beach, S. C. Congratulations men!

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brother Winfred Lindley, who has been elected vice president of the IFC, and to Brother Mac Lambeth, who is our new representative to the IFC.

ENGAGED: Brother Ron Yarborough to Miss Jerri Hurst of Fort Mill, S. C. A Thanksgiving wedding is planned.

FACULTY ADVISOR: Dr. Cole, head of the History Department, has been elected the faculty advisor to Delta Sigma Phi by the brothers.

INTRAMURALS: Delta Sigs won their first fraternity league football game of the year by defeating the Sig Eps by a score of 12-0. Touchdowns were scored by Brothers Rosenmarkle and Kennerley.

MOUNTAIN TRIP: A mountain trip is planned for Sunday, October 21, for the brothers, pledges and dates of Delta Sigma Phi.

BANQUET: An Engineered Leadership Banquet will be held on Friday, November 2, at the High Point Lanes.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

NEW PLEDGES: Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity welcomes the following new pledges: Dick Reuman, Rick Grimsley, Wally Midkiff, Jim Suratt, Yogi Yarborough, Buddy Yarborough, Scott Barrow, Wayne Brewer, Dave Willard, Doug Jones, Bruce Swanson, Harold Moose, Ray York, and Jack Platt.

RUSH PARTY: The brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha, the upperclassmen rushees, and their dates danced to the swinging music of the Rhythm Kings Combo last Saturday night at the Jamestown American Legion Hut.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brother Harry Smith who was recently elected to represent the men's dorm on the Judiciary Council.

PINNED: Brother Tommy Smith was recently pinned to Miss Charlene Wyrick, a student at Woman's College.

CAR WASH: The brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha took advantage of the warm weather last week end by having another car wash.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

NEW PLEDGES: Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity welcomes the following new pledges: Richard Bulla, James Doolittle, Bob Gowen, Doug Hooker, and Sam Byers.

PARTIES: The Pikas held a very successful Stag Rush party last Friday night, Oct. 5. The party took place at the Oak View Grange. We were honored by a very large rushee turn out. We wish to thank our alumni for their support.

ALUMNI: The brothers of Delta Omega met with the High Point Alumni Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity on Monday night, Oct. 1. Many plans for the future were made and the meeting ended with a pledge from the alumni and active members to work closer together in the coming year.

FUTURE EVENTS: The Pikas will hold a barn party and mountain trip the week end of October 20.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

NEW PLEDGES: Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity welcomes the following new pledges: Jerry Frye, Stoneville, N. C.; Jerry McKnight, Thomasville, N. C.; Walter Carricker, Charlotte, N. C.; Benny Jenkins, High Point, N. C.; Charlie Sellers, Ruby, S. C.; and Jimmy Broos, Lexington, N. C.

MARRIED: Brother John Urian married Miss Becky Royer October 6, 1962. Both are graduates of High Point College.

LUCKY BROTHERS: At High Point College Day, two brothers won prizes. Brother Bob Carlough won a ladies' coat and a radio. Brother Fletcher Nelson won the big prize — the television set. Brothers Carlough and Nelson are roommates.

PARTIES: Sunday, Oct. 2, the Sig Eps and their dates, and the rushees and their dates had a wonderful mountain trip and picnic at Doughten Park. The Blue Ridge Parkway was at its height in color of the turning leaves. A few are still sore from the mountain climbing, but everyone had a good time. On Friday, Oct. 12, there will be a date rush party at the Mayor's Recreation Hut on Valley Drive in High Point. The party will be informal with door prizes being given away.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brother Bob Carlough who has been elected as the new IFC representative.

FOOTBALL: The Sig Eps are now in second place in the fraternity football league with a 2-1 won-lost record. We have scored victories over the Theta Chis 7-6, and the Pikas 13-0, and a loss to the Delta Sigs 12-0. The stars for our team have been brothers Suitt, Bower, Brazzell, Baughn, and McKechnie.

THETA CHI

PLEDGES: Theta Chi welcomes Steve Montague, Joel Silvers, and Wayne Webster. Glad to have you with us boys!

BROTHER - of - the - Month: Fred Winters has been selected Brother-of-the-Month by the chapter for his outstanding work in the fraternity during the month of September. Congratulations Fred!

INTRAMURALS: Theta Chi faced Pika last Wednesday in football. Theta Chi won the game 13-6.

PARTY: The chapter met at the Elk's Lodge last Saturday, October 13, where the brothers and their dates entertained rushees and their dates at a semi-formal dance. Music was furnished by the original Vibrators.

DESSERT: The sisters of ZTA Sorority held a dessert for the brothers of Theta Chi Sunday afternoon, Oct. 14. All the brothers wish to thank the Zetas for a most enjoyable afternoon.

ALUMNI: Ralph Helsabeck, a 1960 graduate of HPC, is our new Theta Chi Regional Counselor. Welcome back Ralph.

KAPPA DELTA

CONGRATULATIONS: Kappa Delta Sorority extends sincere congratulations to all fraternities and sororities on their new pledges.

WELCOME: Kappa Delta is very proud of their five new pledges. They are: Barbara Cacy, Woodbury, Conn.; Phyllis Huss, Bessemer City, N. C.; Suzanne Swindell, Albemarle, N. C.; Peggy Wiley, High Point, N. C.; and Anne Stalder, High Point, N. C.

TRIP: Sisters Bonnie Brooks and Cindy Craven visited Beta Chi Chapter of UNC last week end.

SPEEDBALL: The KDs are participating in intramural speedball games. So far we have won one out of two games.

FELLOWSHIP TEAMS: Sisters Carrie Myrick and Marilyn Floyd are taking part in fellowship team work again this year.

PROJECTS: The KDs newest project is selling candy for the Kathryn Beich Company. We are also continuing our Sunday morning breakfast service in the girls' dorm.

PHI MU

AWARD: Phi Mus are very proud to have won the Alice Paige White award for outstanding scholarship. We are especially proud as Mrs. White is the oldest living Phi Mu in the nation and a former student and teacher of High Point College.

NEW PROJECT: Mr. Grady Whicker, guidance counselor, has graciously consented to give us a series of personality and interest tests so that each Phi Mu may become more aware of her individual self. We feel quite fortunate in having Mr. Whicker and know that the results will be quite profitable . . . and interesting!

GREAT FOOD: On Friday, Oct. 5, Gamma Zeta Chapter enjoyed a wonderful dinner at the home of Joy Watkins. The occasion was Joy's birthday and we concluded the evening with singing and laughter.

NEW PLEDGE: Linda Casimus from Hunnington Station, N. Y., is now wearing the colors of rose and white. We welcome you Linda and congratulate all the new pledges of KD, Alpha Gam, and ZTA. We also welcome you to the Greek world.

DEAN'S LIST: Elizabeth Oldham, Katy Clements, and Denise Brown Tolton were on the Dean's List last semester. Congratulations GZs.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

CANDLELIGHTS: A double candlelight was held on October 5 for Sisters Carol Blake and Linda Loven. Carol is engaged to Bruce Menne, a June graduate of The Citadel, who is now a lieutenant in the United States Air Force. Carol and Bruce plan a July wedding. Linda is engaged to Ivan Sibley of Charlotte. Wedding bells will ring for Linda and Ivan on June 23. Congratulations, sisters!

HONORS: Dell McGinn was elected by the Tower Players as representative in the Miss HPC Contest. Dot Barrick has assumed duties as assistant editor of the "Projector," the new business newspaper. Janet Doss is devotion chairman for the Student National Education Association.

Seniors Pick Top Ten

The Senior Class of High Point College recently chose its top ten members on the basis of their contributions to the college and to the community.

Their choices were: Bob Clark-President of the Student Government Association, Patti Colliver-Student Christian Association President, Georgianna Hardin-President of the Women's Dormitory Council, Harry Lilly-Vice President of the Student Government Association, Allen Sharpe-Speaker of the Student Legislature, Ann Surratt-Chief Cheerleader and Co-Editor of the Zenith, Natalie Tunstall-Secretary of the Student Legislature, John Ward-Treasurer of the Student Government Association, and Manuel Wortman-President of the Senior Class.

Gloria Teague and Pat Peele will compete in a run-off for the tenth place.

Editors Attend News Conference

The thirty-eighth annual conference of the Associated Collegiate Press and the National Council of College Publication Advisors was held in Detroit, Michigan at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel on October 25-27. Attending the convention from High Point College were Ann Surratt, Co-Editor of the Zenith; Annette Young, Managing Editor of the Zenith; Howard Barnes, Editor of the Hi-Po; Don Little, Managing Editor of the Hi-Po; and Mr. Jere Mitchum, Advisor to the Hi-Po.

The purpose of the conference was to acquaint the delegates with the basic ideas of managing and editing a college publication and also to discuss the Freedom of the Collegiate Press.

The highlights of the convention were the following. On Thursday, October 25, the Convocation Banquet was held, which was sponsored by the Ford Motor Company. The speaker of the evening was Charles F. Moore, Jr., Vice President of Public Relations at the Ford Motor Company.

The Awards Banquet was held on Friday, October 26, and was sponsored by General Motors Company. The highlights of this banquet were the presentation of the Pacemaker college newspaper awards to the top newspaper and an address given by Harrison E. Salisbury, director of correspondence for the New York Times, on "A New Look at the Soviet Challenge".

On Saturday afternoon the convention visited the campus of Assumption University in Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Here the convention was addressed by J. Alphonse Ouimet, president of CBS-TV, After Mr. Ouimet's talk, the convention adjourned.

Teague Announces Plans For Literary Publication

Gloria Teague, the editor of the first student literary publication of High Point College, has announced her plans for the first issue of the magazine, which will be published in the spring. The purposes and origin of the publication were given in assembly on October 24. First originating in the Student Legislature, plans for the magazine became a reality with financial backing, faculty aid, and student interest.

The purpose of the magazine is to furnish an outlet for creative writing and art work of the High Point College student body. The magazine will be a student publication, written by and for the students. The formal content will consist of four actual parts—book review, art, fiction, and poetry.

The requirements for entries contribute no specific restrictions in the proposed edition in terms of length. The points of interest, however, are variety and selectivity.

The staff is hoping for much student participation, and all interested people are urged to turn in their contributions to BOX 3438 in the post office beginning November 15. It is hoped that the students will take advantage of this chance to demonstrate their unique individual creative expression.

The staff is under the advisorship of Dr. Mounts and Mr. Raiford Porter. The members of the staff are: Associate Editor, Linda Craven; Book Review Editors, Ann Swindell and Glenda Williams Reece; Art Editor, Ellen Johnston; Managing Editor, Harry Lilly; Business Manager, Charles Nesbitt; Exchange Editor, Nancy Moffett; and Reading Committee Chairman, Francis Dail. Other members working on the various committees are: Georgianna Hardin, Judy Richardson, Arlene Benter, Jenny Lynn Garner, Larry Shallcross, Betty Krimminger, Vera McInnis, and Tony Taylor.

First Fine Arts Recital Presented

The first student recital of the year was held on Wednesday, October 31, at 3:30 in Memorial Auditorium. Participants in the recital were students of the fine arts department.

The recital program contained the following selections:

Organ: Picardy (Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence) French Carol arr. Clokey
Susan Cooke

Violin: Sonata in A major (Adagio) Handel
Carlos Prado
Lou Richards, piano

Organ: Tallis' Canon (All Praise and Thanks to Thee) 1567 Psalter arr. Clokey
Nancy Moffett

Voice: Der Hirt auf dem Felsen Schubert
Ann Swindell, soprano
Richard Walker, clarinet
Thomas Gunn, piano

Organ: Chorale Preludes from the Liturgical Year Bach
See the Lord of Life and Light
I call the Thee, I Jesus Christ
On Earth has Dawned the Day of Days
Carol Sue Dickson

Piano: Sonata, Op. 90, No. 27, in E minor (First movement) Beethoven
Michael Carrington

Organ: Concerto, No. 4, in C major Bach
Thomas Gunn

It is planned to have other similar recitals during the year, with various students participating.

Piano and Flute Duet Perform

The Brian and Keys Piano and Flute Duo, a team whose programs have won acclaim on two continents, presented a program to the High Point College student body in Memorial Auditorium at 10:20 A.M. on Wednesday, October 31.

Miss Keys, at the piano, was trained at the Eastman School of Music and was awarded a United States Government grant for study in Paris, where she won her 'Licence de Concert' and made her debut.

Mr. Bryan is a graduate performer of the Eastman School of Music, where he studied under Joseph Mariano, William Kincaid, and George Laurent. He has performed at the Tanglewood and Passau Music Festivals.

Their program included the following: Sonata in D Major, Leonardo Vinci; Introduction and Variations on U. C. Blumen, Franz Schubert; Cing Histories, Jacques Ibert; and Sonata, Francis Poulenc.

Construction To Be Done By Gallimore Construction Co.

Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of High Point College, has announced that the construction of the new men's dorm will begin on November 1. The Gallimore Construction Company, from Greensboro, North Carolina, is in charge of construction of the new dorm.

Tower Players Tell Teichman Tale Nov. 9, 10

Once upon a time there lived a middle-aged Cinderella named Laura Partridge (Clara Jane Neal) a retired actress, who followed her fairy godmother (in this case her horoscope's) advice into business.

Upon arriving at the golden palace of General Products, Incorporated, she found herself anon in the middle of an uproar. All she knew was that it was a good day to look after financial matters. She could not see through the undermining plans of the Four Ugly Executives—J. John Blessington (Phil Kinsey), Chairman of the Board; Alfred Metcalf (Bergie Hatcher), President of the Company; Warren Gillie (Mike Carrington), Secretary of the Company; Clifford Snell (Jerry Proffit), Administrative Vice President and Treasurer of the Company. Given her own office, Cinderella went right to work, assisted by her secretary, Miss Shotgraven (Toni Rochelle) and the mail carrier, Mark Jenkins (Bill Rich.) She busies herself writing to stockholders while she waits for Prince Charming to sweep her off her feet. The very next day she is told of her chance by, of all people, the Four Uglies! This Prince Charming lives in Washington.

Cinderella rides to Washington, not in a golden coach drawn by six white horses, but on a train. Straightway, she was escorted to the office of Prince Charming, or Edward L. McKeever (Fred Schraplau) as he is called in this fairy tale.

What happens after this? Will Cinderella get her man? Does anyone catch the Four Ugly Executives? Does Cinderella ever ride in a golden coach? The laughs are many as the answers to these questions are told in the forthcoming Tower Players' production of The Solid Gold Cadillac, November 9 and 10. This fairy tale is written by Howard Teichman and George S. Kaufman and directed by Mr. Phil Reines.

The cost of the new dorm is $324,738.00. In order to start the construction, the college obtained a $200,000 loan from the Federal Government. The capacity of the dorm is to be that of 90 students and the construction is due to be completed by the fall semester of 1963.

"The Gallimore Construction Company was one of 17 contractors that sent bids on the job," said Dr. Patton. Doing the subcontracting are Thermal Equipment, Greensboro, North Carolina, heating; Powell Plumbing and Heating, Jamestown, North Carolina, plumbing; and Bray Electric Company, High Point, North Carolina, electrical.

"This new building is a start on the long-range expansion program for High Point College," explained Dr. Patton.

Callahan Elected State Treasurer

The Young Democrats Clubs held their State Convention in Greensboro on October 11-13. Attending from the High Point College Young Democrats Club were Skip Callahan, Lee Harvey, Lloyd Harvey, Vera McInnis, Robert Hartsell, and Margaret Smith.

Skip Callahan, president of the High Point College Club, was a candidate for the office of State Treasurer. Callahan's only announced opponent, Woodrow Dillingham, from Western Carolina, conceded the election before the vote was called, and Callahan was then elected by acclamation from the floor.

WORSHIP? WHERE?

Once again there has begun a movement at HPC to secure a new chapel for our campus. The Student Christian Association has embarked on another venture to try to obtain ample facilities for religious activity on campus.

Our present Lindley Chapel, aside from being outmoded and somewhat deteriorated, is not adequate to meet the religious needs of our school. There are religious organizations such as Alpha Delta Theta which, because of their size, cannot find a meeting place with proper surroundings. There is evidence that interest in religious activity on campus is dwindling, at least partly because there are inadequate facilities for the needs of these groups.

Since HPC is a church-affiliated school, the administration places great emphasis on the moral and religious aspects of our society on campus. The slogan, "A Christian College for Discriminating Students" has been used to advertise HPC as a place where religion is emphasized, and drinking, gambling, and other un-Christian practices are prohibited.

In the light of these facts, it is an enigma to this writer just why a college which, superficially at least, places such emphasis on religious activity does not even have a chapel adequate to meet its needs. When school officials are asked about the need for a new chapel, they extend their sympathy along with a polite reminder that such a project can only be undertaken after several other equally far-distant ones are completed, for funds are not available.

This writer would like to suggest that perhaps interested students and alumni might remind themselves and the administration that where there is a will, there is a way. Now is the time to begin work for a new chapel—not after a decade or so when perhaps three or four other projects have been contemplated and finally carried out. The Methodist Church or another such organization may be able and willing to aid students in this project. At any rate, this writer feels that if enough pressure is applied, and enough work is done, perhaps HPC can have a suitable chapel in the near future.

TACKLE OR TOUCH?

Many HPC students are probably unaware of the fact that a thousand dollars was taken from the SGA Student Activity Fund by the Administration of the college and placed in an intramural athletic fund, reportedly for use in a tackle football program. However, no such program has yet begun, and the money is still in the hands of the administration. This action was taken without the permission or authority of either the student body, legislature, or SGA officers.

This writer does not question the power of the administration to so manipulate student funds, but does question the ethics of such action. Granted, the administration does have the authority to do this, but it strongly offends this writer's sense of responsibility to his fellow students to see student funds appropriated for any purpose by the administration without consultation with or permission of the students or their representatives.

This writer feels that the majority of the student body will agree with this opinion, and that students are entitled to know what is happening to their funds.

CAMPUS COMMENT

By Charles Nesbitt

In today's society creativity is being thwarted. We as college students, we as individuals, and we as a searching generation must never cease to express ourselves truthfully. Whenever we cease to express our opinions, feelings, attitudes and talents, we lose a very important and significant part of our lives. Truly there is a difference between "existing" and "living." A street exists, a rock exists, and certainly some of us exist. But what I would like to believe is that few a people really "live." To live takes real effort. To do anything well takes effort. As I have said in another article, "without sincerity in action and fixedness of purpose, singular endeavor will fail. Without singular endeavor, High Point College will fail." I also feel that this is applicable to each of us as individuals. Without singular endeavor, you and I will fail. On any college campus there are POSSIBILITIES. These possibilities are prevalent in many forms. There are possibilities for intellectual pursuit, pleasurable fantasies, experimental uses of new ideologies, and a whole world of free thought.

Eventually, we will all experience leaving the formal world of education to enter into the world of un-obligatory learning. How we receive this future life may determine our living or dying. In other words, we will be determining our "existing" or "living". Personally, if I may interject an opinion, I feel that any college has much to offer. It is the OBLIGATION of the student to find meaning for his own life on the college campus while attending. This meaning may come in various forms. Possibly in fighting the administration, worshipping professors, attending athletic events, or being in a Greek society. But whatever the meaning may be, pursue it with all of the energy you have. However, I do believe that the individual must be extremely careful in choosing or creating his meaning. This is true not only on High Point's campus, but on life's campus.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Referring to the unknown author who called High Point College a "PARTY SCHOOL" in the Hi-Po issue on October 1962, I would like to answer you in the following manner:

Is High Point College really a "Party School"? Have you ever been to a college football game on Saturday afternoon and then come back to the stadium that same night to find students passed out in the stadium from an overdose of alcohol? Have you ever been to fraternity or sorority parties at big universities where there is really excessive drinking and girls are sometimes being seduced?

The person who wrote this article is evidently not in a fraternity or sorority. He or she is not socially active in the many parties or social gatherings in his or her environment. It is only evident to me that this person has never been to parties of the same class of a "party school". This person does not participate in discussions which take place on this campus concerning this type of party. At least 50 per cent of the students in this school have talked about this "party school" thing at one time or another in their discussions.

Has this person ever seen a party of this kind at any High Point College function? There has never been one here to the best of my knowledge. This school in my opinion is a "SUITCASE COLLEGE". Everyone who likes to attend parties of "Party School" nature goes to some other school or home every weekend to enjoy themselves. This campus is dead between 1 p.m. on Saturdays till 8:20 a.m. on Monday mornings. I have seen many, many students leave this school on Saturday or even on Friday going to Carolina, The University of Georgia, or home etc., for the weekend.

Many times you will hear people on Monday mornings talking about their weekends away from High Point, but only seldom do you hear students talking of the activities at High Point College during the past weekend. High Point College cannot be considered a "party school" with the penal code as strict as it is here because people would be kicked out of school every week, and before long it would not have 50 per cent of its students. If the rules of the penal code were enforced at "party schools" as they are enforced here, then there would be no "party schools". For this preceding information I hereby declare High Point College a "SUITCASE COLLEGE" and not a "PARTY SCHOOL"!

Respectfully yours,
P.H.

Miss Zenith Nominees Are Announced

Each year five outstanding girls from the senior class are selected as nominees for the title of "Miss Zenith." Their names are sent to a top personality who chooses one of them on the basis of a picture and a short synopsis of each girl's activities during her years at High Point College. This year the nominations are Margarette Damewood, Ellen Johnston, Ann Surratt, Gloria Teague, and Sue Williamson.

Margarette Damewood, who has been active socially and academically for the past three years, is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority and comes from Aiken, South Carolina. Ellen Johnston, from Chevy Chase, Maryland, is a representative to the Student Government Association and is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority and the Art League. She also participated in the Orientation program this year. Head-cheerleader, Ann Surratt, from Greensboro, Co-editor of the Zenith, and is recording secretary of Alpha Gamma Delta. Gloria Teague, a member of the Zenith staff and the Student National Education Association, is treasurer of the Senior Class and editor of the new literary magazine. Gloria's home is in Charlotte, North Carolina. Sue Williamson, from Raeford, is a sister in Alpha Delta Theta and Alpha Delta Gamma. She is also a member of the Zenith staff.

The title of "Miss Zenith", one of the greatest honors of the senior year, will not be disclosed until the Awards Assembly in May. The mystery personality who will act as judge of the contest will also be announced at this time. We wish the best of luck to these five girls.

5. Salesman to sell lamps in a restricted area of High Point; average weekly commission, $50.00; and must be 18 and have a car; one man.

EAT, SLEEP, AND MATRICULATE

The trouble with early morning classes is that you're too sleepy. At late morning classes you're too hungry. At early afternoon classes you're too logy. At late afternoon classes you're too hungry again. The fact is—and we might as well face it—there is no good time of day to take a class.

What shall we do then? Abandon our colleges to the ivy? I say no! I say America did not become the hope of mankind and the world's largest producer of butterfats and tallow by running away from a fight!

If you're always too hungry or too sleepy for class, then let's hold classes when you're not too hungry or sleepy: namely, when you're eating or sleeping.

Classes while eating are a simple matter. Just have a lecturer lecture while the eaters eat. But watch out for noisy food. I mean you can hear a lecturer lecture when everybody is crunching celery or matzo or like that? Serve quiet stuff—like anchovy paste on a doughnut, or steaming bowls of lamb fat.

And kindly observe silence while lighting your post-prandial Marlboro Cigarette. Don't be striking kitchen matches on your jeans. Instead carry an ember from the dormitory fireplace in your purse or pocket. Place the Marlboro against the ember. Light it quietly. Smoke it quietly. Oh, I know I ask a great deal! I know that one's natural instinct upon encountering Marlboro's fine flavor and filter is to throw back one's head and bellow great, rousing cries of joy. But you must not. You must contain your ecstasy, lest you disturb the lecturing lecturer. You can, if you like, permit yourself a few small shudders of pleasure as you smoke, but take care not to wear garments which will set up a clatter when you shudder—like taffeta, for example, or knee cymbals.

Let us turn now to the problem of learning while sleeping. First, can it be done?

Yes, it can. Psychologists have proved that the brain is definitely able to assimilate information during sleep. Take, for instance, a recent experiment conducted by a leading Eastern university (Stanford). A small tape recorder was placed under the pillow of the subject, a freshman named Glebe Sigafos. When Glebe was fast asleep, the recorder was turned on. Softly, all through the night, it repeated three statements in Glebe's slumbering ear:

1. Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109 and is called "The Founder of English Eclectic Philosophy."
2. The banana plant is not a tree but a large perennial herb.
3. The Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated in 1914 at Sarajevo by a young nationalist named Mjilas Cvetnic, who has been called "The Trigger of World War I."

When Glebe awoke in the morning, the psychologists said to him, "Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109. What is he called?"

Glebe promptly replied, "Perennial Herb."

Next they asked him, "What has Mjilas Cvetnic been called?"

Replied Glebe, "Perennial Serb."

Finally they said, "Is the banana plant a tree?"

But Glebe, exhausted from the long interrogation, had fallen back asleep, where he is to this day.

Glebe sleeps, but you, we trust, are up and about. Why not improve each waking hour with our fine product—Marlboro Cigarettes? You get a lot to like—filter, flavor, pack or box.

43 Assigned Student Duty

November 7 will be the highlight of the college career for 43 of our education majors. For the first six weeks of the semester these students have participated in daily block courses. This is a six hour credit course required of all education majors and minors. The student teachers have already met their supervising teachers and have received their school assignments. All of these will be under the same jurisdiction and will observe the same school hours as regular teachers of public schools. There are 24 student teachers in the elementary schools, 9 in the junior high schools, and 10 in the high schools.

Natalie Tunstall, Linda Loven, Ron Grubbs, and Ruby Harrison are assigned to Brentwood.

At Emma Blair are Bettie Grubbs and Sarannet Holland, while Caroline Peck and Judy Whitesell are at Kirkman Park.

Montlieu School has three student teachers, Carol Blake, Nancy Gunter, and Betty Regan. Margo Brewer is at Oakview and Gayle Paxton is at Cloverdale.

Marilyn Floyd, Judy Rollins, Marilyn Zoeller, and Kay Thompson are at Johnson Street, while Sonia Robertson, Nina Burris, and Annette Young are at Northwood.

Three student teachers are at Oak Hill School. They are Peggie Auman, Louise Stokes, and Donna Lawrence.

The junior high school assignments are at two schools. At Ferndale Junior High are Mrs. Leoma Benson, Chris Woodman, and Sammy Taylor. At Northeast Junior High School are Roger Roch, Glenda Reece, Ellen Johnston, Joan Bartlett, Judy Williams, Joan Caroline Prestwood.

At High Point Central High are Patti Colliver and Grace Seaver. Sidney Bailey, Jerry Haney, Cynthia Fletcher, Mrs. Charlotte Hallberg and Judy Ijames are at Lucy Ragsdale. At Glenn High School are Mrs. Menzette Donahue and Archie Glenn, Jr.

Good luck to all of you. Here's hoping that your teaching experience will be as rewarding as you have hoped it to be.

Three student teachers, Cynthia Fletcher, Grace Seader, and Joan Bartlett, relax in the Student Center after another hard day with their block courses.

Freshmen Mob Leaves Sophs "Up the Creek"

"Rip'm up, tear'm up, give'm hell, Freshmen!" As we heard this startling cheer getting louder and louder, we knew something was going to happen. Then as the whistle blew and as we Sophomores pulled on our end of the rope with our unsurpassable strength, we soon realized that we were being surpassed. Hardly had we begun pulling when we sensed we weren't making much ground; in fact, some of us on the front-end of the rope soon had the strange sensation of traveling through the air as if dangling from a highwire. We were shook out of our shock soon enough as we either slammed into the opposite bank and were dragged over the edge, or landed in the crystal-clear waters of Ferris Creek. Those of us who were dragged onto the opposite bank were fortunate, but "us'ns" who landed in the muddy water barely had time to recover from the shock before another sorry Sophomore would come crashing down on top of us. The tug was over before we knew it. After the victors' shouting had lessened, we wet Sophomores felt that our dry brothers and others on the opposite bank were missing something. A short free-for-all ensued until the D . . . well, never mind. When the contest was over, everyone, representing both the "dry" and "wet" state of things, seemed happy over the way the tug-of-war had turned out.

That same Friday night from 7:30 to 11:30, the victorious Freshmen and the subjugated Sophomores enjoyed a fine evening of dancing to the music of Juke-box Jones and his swirling singers. All said the tug-of-war was the ideal way for the Freshmen to take out their "pent-up aggressions" against the Sophomores, especially against a girl with the initials of D.D. who received an extra dip in the riled waters of Ferris Creek after the contest was over.

We, the Sophomore Class, wish to extend our thanks to the entire Freshmen Class for their fine cooperation in wearing the beanies. We are sure that this program had greatly facilitated in infusing a new body of students into our High Point College community. Congratulations—Freshmen! And best of success in your Beanie Program of 1963!

Salute To A Cager

By Bergie Hatcher

This week's Panther Profile is no stranger to High Point College or the basketball court. Larry Nolan is a big HPC senior who is preparing for his favorite and final year in the basketball wars. The Washington, D. C. native has been named co-captain, along with teammate Phil Garrison for this season. Larry, a 6 ft. 9 in. forward, will be a top reserve this year.

Larry is in a rather select group, being the only senior on this year's team. He earned a spot on the HPC starting line-up his freshman year and has been a valuable member to the Panthers ever since. As a sophomore, Larry made the play which sent HPC to the North State Championship. In the first tournament game at the Lexington YMCA, Elon College led High Point 82-80 with 12 seconds remaining. Larry stole the ball and tied the game, giving HPC a chance for an eventual win and, finally, the championship. Last year, his junior season, Larry led the team in field goal percentage, 50.1, and starred in a reserve role.

LARRY NOLAN

Larry Nolan was born in Washington, D. C. in 1940. He attended high school at Anacostia High, in the District of Columbia. Larry's basketball coach at Anacostia High was Russ Lombardy, former co-captain and All-American guard at HPC. Lombardy is still coaching at Anacostia and is helping recruit D. C. area players for HPC. However, Nolan credits Martin "UG" Littman, former HPC student and now basketball recruiter for influencing his decision to come here.

Larry played basketball and baseball in three years of high school. He was named All Inter-High League his senior year. He was the leading scorer in both his junior and senior years and served as co-captain his senior year.

Although Larry has a great sports record in basketball, he has an equal success in baseball. He began his career in the Boys Club, receiving the outstanding baseball player award in 1955. In high school, he was an All-Metropolitan third baseman. Nolan was Anacostia's leading hitter in both his junior and senior years, hitting well over .400 in both. Anacostia was Inter-High champs his junior year and Eastern Division champs his senior year. In addition to this, he had success in both American Legion and in softball.

At HPC, Larry made the team his freshman year as first string shortstop. Nolan didn't play baseball his sophomore year, but had a great season last year. Larry went to the mound last year and turned in a near perfect 8-1 record, good enough for recognition as All-District AIA 26.

The 200-pound athlete from the nation's capital is a conscientious and sincere person. He says that one of his top thrills was in making the Dean's list last semester. Larry is majoring in Physical Education and is minoring in history. He is a member of the PE Majors' Club, a lifetime member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, and a sports writer for the Hi-Po. He received the Bobby Badgett award from Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity as the school's top athlete last semester.

Larry believes that this year's edition of the Panthers will be a great cage team.

"I like the modern coaching techniques used by our new coach, Mr. Tom Quinn," says Larry. "I think that he will have us in top form for the opener. I believe Elon, Western Carolina, and Lenoir Rhyne will be our top rivals this season."

Larry Nolan is a personable young man with a great future in the teaching and coaching profession. He is a credit to High Point College as a student, person, and athlete.

A GLIMPSE AT INTRAMURALS

by Richard Stinson

Men's

With a small amount of observation, a visitor to High Point College would note that this school does not have a football team. But this observer would be sadly mistaken. High Point College has, in fact, eight fine teams!! The intramural football teams at this school have shown tremendous enthusiasm both on the field and off. All of the players on these teams are playing because they love the game and enjoy the feeling of team work. Every team has strived to do its best and, win or lose, every team is a winner. As this intramural football season draws to a close, it can only be hoped that such a fine season will repeat itself next year. To date the following results have been turned in:

On October 15, The Patriots led by Jerry Williams and Bob Brennen defeated The Blue Devils in a make-up game, 38-0. Also on this day Lambda Chi beat Theta Chi, 13-7. Harry Smith and Dick McDowell led the Lambda Chis and Bob Braswell and Roy Greenwood led the Theta Chis. On October 16 Pika led by Jim Dolittle and Brad Lomax fell to Lambda Chi led by Yogi Yarborough and Gerry Tertzagian. Also on the 16th, it was the Colts over the Blue Devils, 23-13. Bob Harris and Craven Young led the Colts and Jack Marquis and Barrow Mullis led the Blue Devils.

It was 7-0 October 17, The Patriots over Sigma Phi Epsilon. The Pats starred Wayne Hazelwood and Bob Brennen and Sig Ep had Steve Bower and Bob Sweat. October 18 saw a great game played between the Colts and Lambda Chi. The Colts, served well by Bill Harris and Craven Young, defeated Lambda Chi, 20-2. Lambda Chi was led by Ralph Clements and Barney Burks. Also on the 18, Delta Sigma Phi played Pi Kappa Alpha and defeated the Pikas 6 to 0. Delta Sig was served well by Howard Barnes and Don Phillips. Bill Dobbins and J. R. Newton led the Pikas.

On October 23, The Blue Devils forfeited a game to Sigma Phi Epsilon causing a score of 2-0. It was Theta Chi over The Patriots, 19-18, in a close game. Bill McKinley and Roy Greenwood sparked Theta Chi's win and Joe Gosnell and Dave Fancher exemplified the fact that the Pats are a team to deal with. The Colts proved victorious over Sigma Phi Epsilon on October 24. The score was 20-0. John Earnhardt and Craven Young helped carry their team and Bob Sweat and Ted Brazzell did well by the Sig Eps. Lambda Chi led by Rick Grimsley and Tom Slaughter defeated Delta Sigma Phi led by Larry Amick and Bob Jessup, 15-7. On October 25, a very exciting game was played between Theta Chi and The Blue Devils. It was Theta Chi over the Blue Devils, 13-7. Outstanding on the Theta Chi line-up were Roy Greenwood, Bill McKinley and Wayne Furman. The Blue Devils were led by Joe Cox, Bob Brewer, Jack Marquis and Ron Berrier. On that same day the Patriots defeated Pi Kappa Alpha, 14-0. Joe Gosnell and Max Litten led the Pats and Bill Dobbins and Pete Hepler led the Pikas.

The 20-2 defeat of Lambda Chi by the Colts put the Colts in a tie with Lambda Chi for first place. If at the end of the season the tie has not been broken, a championship play-off will be necessary.

Standings as of October 25 are as follows:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Lambda Chi Alpha	5	1	.833
Colts	5	1	.833
Theta Chi	4	2	.667
Patriots	4	2	.667
Sig Ep	3	3	.500
Delta Sig	2	4	.333
Blue Devils	1	5	.167
Pika	0	6	.000

APO Plans "Taxi Dance"

On November 2, 1962, Alpha Phi Omega, in conjunction with the Women's Dormitory Council, will sponsor a Taxi Dance. The purpose of the dance will be to raise money for the Women's Dormitory Council. The affair will be held in the Student Center from 8:00-11:30 P.M. There will be a plentiful number of "taxi dancers" provided from the Women's Dormitories. Tickets will be 5 cents apiece, 6 for 25 cents, 12 for 50 cents or 25 for $1.00. The three girls who at the end of the evening have the most tickets will be given a special one o'clock permission.

ADVISOR

The brothers and pledges of APO have elected Dr. Mounts of the English Department as a new advisor to the fraternity.

PROJECT

On Thursday, October 25, APO held a doughnut sale in order to raise money for the fraternity projects. Doughnuts were sold in the Men's and Women's Dormitories and in the city of High Point.

MISS HPC CONTEST

Miss Pat Bowden has been elected to represent APO in the Miss High Point College Contest. The new Miss Alpha Phi Omega is a sophomore.

AWARD

Mu Xi chapter has recently been informed that it is once again in the top ten chapters of Alpha Phi Omega in the nation, in relation to its quality programs, and its number of new pledges and initiates.

Plans For A Science Club

Ten HPC students, each of whom is majoring in science or math, met Wednesday, October 24 with the purpose of organizing a science club on this campus. The main purpose of this organization will be to further the student's knowledge in his own field; to broaden his knowledge in related fields; and to provide an outlet of communication in all fields.

Jerry Holden, a day student majoring in mathematics, was elected Chairman of the Organization Committee. After definite plans are completed, other officers will be elected. The second meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 7 at 3:30 P.M. in Room 3 of the Science Building. All interested science and mathematics majors are urged to come.

Report on Fall Weekend

By Fred Winters

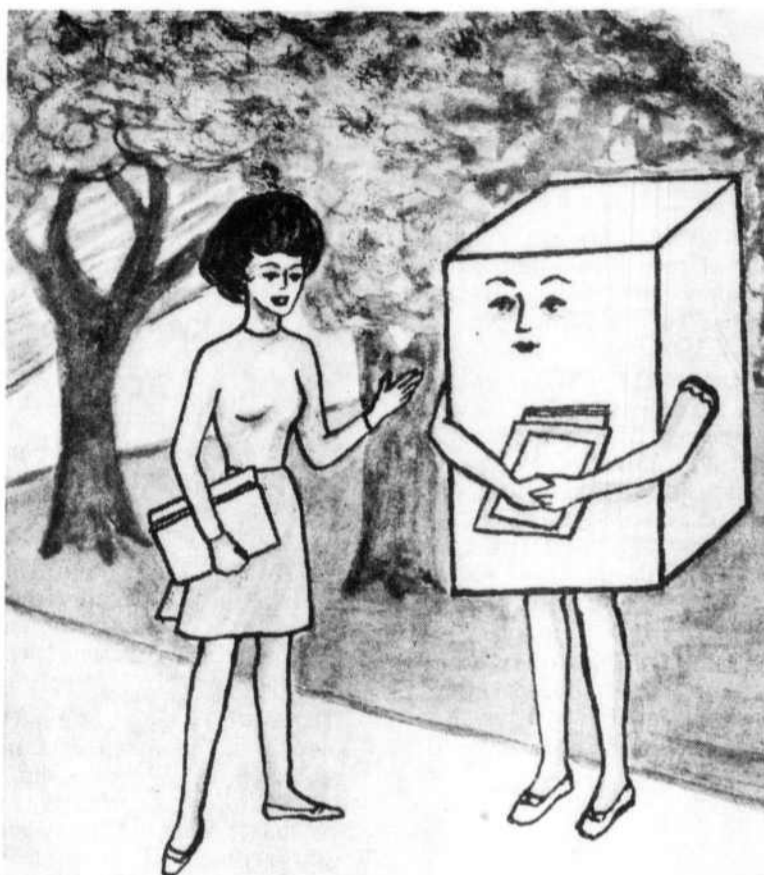

The entertainment committee is now able to lean back and catch a temporary rest after having planned and executed what turned out to be a highly successful fall weekend. The rest is short, however, since plans for Thanksgiving and Christmas festivities are well under way. The Christmas dance, incidentally, will serve a dual purpose in that it will be held to honor the new Miss HPC of 1963 as well as to celebrate the holidays.

Back to the fall weekend—it was high-lighted by the concert of Pat Dorn and his orchestra and "The Lettermen". Dorn very aptly set the mood for the appearance of "The Lettermen" by rousing the crowd into a finger-snapping, foot-tapping mood. "The Lettermen" could be described as none other than magnificent as they drew a good crowd of approximately 1200 eager students and captivated the crowd's enthusiasm with their terrific display of talent. "Versatility" was obviously the key word to describe the performance!

The other events of the weekend, moreover, proved equally successful as a large portion of the student body appeared at the sock hop Friday night to enjoy Cokes and a great deal of "twisting". Saturday night's dance was even more successful as a terrific number appeared at City-Lake to enjoy the friendly atmosphere; the full scenery and decorations; the delicious refreshments served and prepared by our smiling social director, Mrs. Warren; and dancing to the sounds of the Pat Dorn Orchestra.

For their willing assistance in helping to make the weekend a success, the entertainment committee would like to express a great deal of thanks to the administration and the maintenance crew. Thanks is also expressed to Dean Taylor for his great efforts, both in planning and actual physical assistance. Also worthy of praise was the job that was done by several students. Louise Whiteley, Susan Culbreth, and Lennon Shipp were largely responsible for the excellent decorations at the dance; George Beam was irreplaceable as he took charge of the sound and lighting for the concert; and Bob Hislop did an amazing job as the main promoter and ticket handler. The most credit, however, should be given to the student body for its excellent support of the weekend. Do remember, the more you support the SGA activities, the better they will be in the future!

Carol, I believe you've been taking your Block Courses too seriously!

Co-Rec Plans Announced

During the past month the Physical Education Majors Club, under the leadership of Don Cashion, President, has been making plans for the third annual co-rec night. The majors are now working on various committees to get this event underway. Co-rec night will be held on Thursday, November 15 at 7:00 P.M. It is open to all sorority, fraternity, and independent organizations who wish to enter a team. Letters have been sent out to these organizations explaining what is taking place and how to enter a team.

There will be various activities such as volleyball, ping pong, carnival games, and relays. Two trophies will be given, one to the winning girls organization and one to the winning boys' organization. There is no admission charge. Refreshments will be sold at the concession stand by the club.

WHO'S WHO HONORS RECORD NUMBER OF HPC SENIORS

This year a record number of HPC students have been elected to WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. Fifteen were elected this year in contrast to only eight last year. The announcement was made by Jesse Taylor, Dean of Students, and the recipients were presented awards in assembly Wednesday morning.

Those who received the awards were the following: Michael Moore Carrington, Robert Allen Clark, Patti Collier, Francis Dail, Thomas Hilton Gunn, Harry Glen Lilly, Larry Russell Nolan, Patricia Sue Peele, Allen Nelson Sharpe, Katherine Ann Surratt, Ann Crockett Swindell, Gloria Ruth Teague, Manuel David Wortman, Sandra Hooke Wall, and John Everett Ward, Jr.

WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES, a nation-wide organization, each year allots a limited number of memberships to each participating college and university. The selection is based on leadership, scholastic achievement, and participation, and is done through a student-faculty committee. The members of this committee were Charles Nesbitt, Bonnie Dennis, Betty Treece, Dr. Harold Conrad, Dean of the College; Dr. S. C. Deskins, Department of History; Mr. J. L. Nelson, Department of Business Administration; and Dean Taylor.

Mike Carrington has been active in the Tower Players and the Concert Choir. Robert Clark is President of the S.G.A. and has been Vice President of the S.G.A. and a member of the Fellowship Teams. Patti Collier is President of the S.C.A., Zenith Layout Editor, and has been active in ENEA, MSF, and is a member of the Fellowship Teams. Francis Dail is a member of Kappa Chi, the Order of the Lighted Lamp, and a Junior Marshall. Thomas Gunn is very active in the choir and also plays the organ in assemblies. Harry Lilly is Vice President of the S.G.A. and also is very active in the S.C.A. Larry Nolan is a member of the basketball and baseball teams and is also a sports writer for the HI-PO. Patricia Peele is Chief Justice of the Judiciary Council and is also a member of the Fellowship Teams. Allen Sharpe is Speaker of the Legislature and a member of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity. These finalists will compete in the Miss HPC pageant and the winner will be Miss HPC 1963.

Symposium Presented By Chamber Of Commerce

The first College-Business Symposium was presented by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in co-operation with the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce, on November 8, in the Greensboro Coliseum.

The purpose of the symposium was to have certain business leaders discuss some of the problems of the business world with the representatives from the colleges near Greensboro. The problems discussed were: The European Common Market, Economic Growth, Unemployment and Technology.

Representing the business point of view were: Mr. H. Ladd Plumley, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and Chairman of the Board and President of State Life Insurance Co., Worcester, Massachusetts; Mr.

Danvil L. Francis, Vice President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and President of Princess Coals, Inc., Huntington, West Virginia; Mr. Archie K. Davis, Director of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and Chairman of the Board of Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., Winston-Salem, North Carolina; Dr. Charles Stuart, Director of Economic Research for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D. C.; and Miles H. Wolff, President of the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce and Executive Editor of the Greensboro Daily News.

Participating colleges and universities were: Catawba College, Davidson College, Elon College, Greensboro College, Guilford College, High Point College, Lenoir Rhyne College,

Insley Explores Religious Theory And Activity

Francis Gerald Insley, Bishop of the Methodist Church, Iowa area, and Finch Lecturer for 1962, spoke to the High Point College students on Wednesday, November 7.

His first lecture, which was delivered in assembly, was titled "When the Hour Comes."

In his lecture Bishop Insley said, "God sets the limits of our life, and he makes the rules; within those rules, we exercise a measure of freedom in what we do in our lives."

He also emphasized that God's control over man is final as well as being flexible.

"If a man sows good he will reap good; if he sows wickedness he will reap wickedness," said the bishop.

He also stated, "To live every day as if it were your last is profound wisdom. Live every day so you have furthered rather than hindered God's purpose. In this way the mysterious powers and pressures of our day will not be able to fashion us as they see fit and we shall be able to face them with responsible courage."

Bishop Insley held an afternoon seminar in which he discussed, "Methodism and the Ecumenical Movement". At night he finished his lectures with a speech titled, "Christian Social Action: Its Justification and Strategy."

Prior Lecture Published

Dr. Hugh Anderson, one of the other Finch Lectures at High Point College, has an article in the fall issue of Religion in Life on "A Wistful Generation." The text of this article comes from a lecture that Dr. Anderson gave at High Point College on Wednesday, November 8, 1961.

Patton Tours Europe For Educational Research

Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of High Point College, left Wednesday, November 7, on a three-week tour of the educational institutions in Europe and Russia. The tour is sponsored by the Comparative Education Society, an international organization for the encouragement of international comparative educational studies, and is for the purpose of doing research on European school systems.

Dr. Patton is one of two North Carolinians who will make the trip. The tour will visit schools in Scotland, England, Holland, Germany, Austria, Russia, and Denmark.

"My particular interest will be in higher education," stated Dr. Patton. "I am especially interested in the methods of controls of colleges, for there is a drastic difference between the American and European systems."

In Russia, Dr. Patton stated that he had a variety of interests. "I want to learn the objectives and fundamental purposes of their education as opposed to ours," he stated, "as well as the balance they maintain between a liberal arts education as opposed to a vocational and a technical training." He also expressed a high interest in how the Russians determine the quality of performance and achievement, and the basis of admission to the schools.

Dr. Patton explained further that Russian travel has been restricted and that his airline schedule in the Soviet Union was still unconfirmed.

"We may or may not get to Russia," he added.

Dr. Patton expects to be back in his office sometime around December 1.

Craven Heads Junior Marshals

On November 14, the following people were named as Junior Marshals for the 1962-63 year. Linda Carol Craven, Chief Marshal; Joanne Draughn Atkins, Linda Ferran, Melvia Gay Bryant, Peggy Whitt, William F. Cope, Carrie Whitehurst, Thomas Pike, Judy Lambeth, Mary Lee Coates, Merle Suzanne Booth, David Alexander Gray, James Robert Sullivan, Robert Kornegay, Vera McInnis, Carolyn McMasters, Charlsie Abel, and Sandra Light.

In charge of the induction of these new marshalls was Bob Clark, Chief Marshal for the 1961-62 year. Helping him out in the program were Dr. Harold Conrad, Dean of the College, Francis Dail, and John Ward.

Marlboro TV Pledges Pika

Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity won the 19 inch Motorola Television Console in this semester's Phil Morris pack-saving contest on Tuesday, November 13. Pi Kappa Alpha won the contest with a total of 20,000 points. This is the third time that the Pika's have won this contest. In the previous two times, they have won two console stereophonic record players.

The judges of the contest stated that there would be a contest next semester. They also stated that there would probably be two prizes offered instead of one, because this method has not proven to be very successful this semester.

A Turn For The Better

In the past, it has been the policy of the paper to reserve a page totally for the Greeks. We feel that this page should be eliminated for the following reasons. First, the page concerns only one-fifth of the student body of the college. Second, to run the page in the past has been disastrous for the efforts of the previous editors of the newspaper because in the past when the paper has been judged by national reviewers, it has been turned down because of this page. Third, this page has been more or less a history of the activities of the Greeks and sometimes it has only amounted to a great excerpt of "bull."

This will not be an end of the Greek news in the paper. The paper still plans to bring the news of the activities of the Greeks to the eye of the reader. This will be done through a column written by the Greek Editor, Robin Reece. The purpose of this move is to eliminate such things as Theta Sigma Chi extends best wishes to John Blo and Jim Doe for their efforts in intramurals, when the very same news can be read on the sports page in the Intramural column. Examples such as this detract from the value of the newspaper and make it unnecessarily redundant.

I would like to suggest if the Greeks wish to publish this sort of repetitious news that they publish it through the IFC and the Panhellenic Council.

CAMPUS COMMENT

By Charles Nesbitt

Again we are approaching a joyous time of year for college and university students across the nation, for Thanksgiving means many things to us. Not only is it a wonderful short vacation that we look forward to, but a time of feasting and celebrating. Possibly we have stopped for a moment to wonder what all of this enthusiasm represents. Why the vacation? Why be happy? Why have a Thanksgiving at all? And possibly we have realized that all of this feasting and rejoicing is an outward expression of our inward feelings of thankfulness for the blessings we have. This, in a sense, is a more complex celebration than we can fully realize. Our situation was molded by many happenings—of suffering, defeats, rejoicing, and victories. It has taken many lives and generations to allow us to live in the most mechanized age in history. And at the same time, we are enjoying automation and freedom in one nation. Let us continue to be aware of the beautiful and the ugly, the good and the bad, while at the same time being fully appreciative of the many blessings we have and will receive.

The Aye's Have It

The officers for the Student Legislature are:

Speaker, Allen Sharpe; Speaker pro tempore, Harry Lilly; Recording Clerk, Natalie Tunstall; Reading Clerk, Fred Winters; Sergeant-at-arms, Dave Costas; Parliamentarian, Charles Nesbitt; and Chaplain, Ted Brazzell.

The Student Legislature began the year by setting up six standing committees. A seventh one has been added as the year has progressed. These committees and their chairmen are:

College-City Relations, Charles Nesbitt; Entertainment, Fred Winters; College Improvement, Gail Geyer; Ideas, Manuel Wortman; Publicity, Ellen Johnston; Student I. D. Card, Natalie Tunstall; Student Publication, Carol Alexander and Gloria Teague.

One of the most impressive bills passed thus far has been a bill to do away with Saturday classes on a trial basis for two semesters beginning with the spring semester of 1963. This bill has been sent to the Executive Committee of the Faculty for their approval.

Executive Brief Case

NOTE: This article is the first in a continued series of such articles in which principal business of the S.G.A. Executive Council will be printed.

The Executive Council meets each Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. Since we are representing you, the students, we want to share with you the problems and ideas that are discussed and the decisions that are made in the meetings.

Particular S.G.A. Business of Executive Council is brought up at the meetings of the Student Legislature for further endorsement by a representative student delegation.

On November 6, 1962, the Executive Council approved the recommendation from the Entertainment Committee that $300.00 be allotted for dances for the remainder of the '62 semester. The dances planned are as follows: November 20, a record hop; December 15, Miss HPC Ball; date to be announced, a record hop.

The Council approved the recommendation that lost and found articles will be kept in the Dean of Student's office for one semester. The articles that have not been claimed within this period of time will be sold at an auction with the proceeds to be deposited into the S.G.A. fund.

Looking into the future plans, the Council approved the chapel program of February 13 in which the administration and faculty panel will answer any questions the students have concerning the present policies of High Point College.

On February 28, the campaign speeches for the S.G.A. officers have been scheduled. Also, on March 14, the acceptance speeches of the S.G.A. will be presented. Remember to look for your S.G.A. news in the HI-PO.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Your editorial concerning the appropriation of a thousand dollars from the Student Activity Fund greatly disturbs me. That this money is being set aside for use in a tackle football program disturbs me even more. The setting up of such a program will take a great deal of time and money, . . . and it seems to me that a Christian school that cannot even afford to have a chapel on its campus can hardly be in a position to begin the building up of a new athletic activity.

It seems to me that the administration has been making too many decisions recently without regard for the feelings of the students involved (not only in this particular situation, but in several others also). Perhaps I am speaking out of turn, but is there nothing that can be done about these autocratic members of the administration who are so determined to press their will onto us . . . the students of High Point College?

Sincerely yours,
Florence Harris

University of North Carolina, Wake Forest College, and the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. Those representatives from High Point College were: Howard Barnes, Dot Barrick, Hugh Burchette, Dave Culler, Marvin Ferrebee, Wayne Hinkle, David Kennerley, John Lupton, Pete Moose, Bill Owens, Douglas Powell, Dick Reuman, David Rose, and Dr. Hislop, Head of the Business Department at High Point College.

After the morning session in which Mr. Plumley, Mr. Davis, and Dr. Stuart discussed the various problems, the session broke for lunch. After lunch the students formed groups to frame questions to the previous speakers in the morning session. After this discussion, President Plumley thanked the students for coming and the meeting adjourned at 3:30 P.M.

Profile Of A Panther

by Larry Nolan

For the past few years, thanks to the help of Mike Flemming and various members of the D.C. Chapter of the High Point College Alumni Association, the Panthers have been able to acquire a number of fine athletes from the metropolitan area of the Nation's capital. Last year High Point felt as if they secured a "real catch" when they obtained Barry Jerome Smith from De Matha High School.

BARRY SMITH

"Barney Bod," as he is frequently called, is a 6 feet 2 inches, 175 lbs. native Washingtonian, who comes to High Point with quite an outstanding high school basketball record. In his senior year at De Matha (Hyattsville, Maryland), Barry captained the team to a 25-1 record. The "Stags" were Catholic League champions, Knights of Columbus tournament winners, and were voted the No. 1 Catholic high school team in the country. The referred-to Knights of Columbus tournament is held annually at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., and consists of the finest Catholic teams in the nation. During this 1960-61 season the De Matha's only loss was a heart-breaker to public school champion, Spingain High School, (Elgin Baylor's alma mater) in the city championship game. For his efforts Smith was chosen to the All Catholic league and received a trophy as the outstanding member of his varsity squad.

Upon graduation Barry accepted a basketball scholarship to High Point. As a freshman last year, he earned a starting role and averaged 10 points per game. At the close of the season the Panthers finished second to Western Carolina in the Carolina Conference tournament at Lexington, and Barry was picked for the second all-tournament team.

"Barney," an easy going personable young man of twenty, is a business major. When asked what he thought the major difference in adjusting from high school to college ball, he answered, "It is quite a bit rougher and certainly a much more complex game." He thinks that Lenoir Rhyne's Bears will be the team to beat once again this year.

Smith, only a sophomore, has already established himself as one of the finest guards in the conference. Certainly High Point fans will see a lot of this lad for the next few years.

A GLIMPSE AT INTRAMURALS

Football

A fine season in football is over and the participation and sportsmanship may never be measured. In Coach Bob Davidson's view, "I feel it was a very successful season. Every team in there participated. Comments from the players have indicated a success. I hope that we will have the same kind of cooperation in the upcoming season of Volleyball and Bowling."

The last games played were on October 30, November 1, and the playoff game on November 5. On October 30, the Patriots, led by Joel Silver and Bob Seaver, defeated the Delta Sigs, led by Mac Lambeth and Allan Sharpe, 35-0. Also on that day, Lambda Chi beat Sigma Phi Epsilon, 6-0. Yogi Yarborough and Tom Slaughter led their team as did Ted Brazzel and Marion Suit. November 1 marked a clash between the Colts and Theta Chi. It was the Colts over Theta Chi, 31-0. Bob Harris and Bill Harris led the Colts and Don Bryant and Roy Greenwood led Theta Chi.

On November 5, the playoff game between the Colts and Lambda Chi was held. The Colts defeated Lambda Chi in a close game, 6-0, thus breaking a two-way tie for first place. Needless to say both teams played great ball, but the outstanding men on the field that day were: John Earnhardt and Bill Harris, Colts; and Barney Burkes and Dick McDowell, Lambda Chi. It was a very tight, defensive game and there were very few actual scoring threats. The lone score of the game came when Bill Harris made a touchdown pass to Craven Young making the first and final score, 6-0.

Through election by the respective team representatives, the All-Star Intramural football team was picked. Receiving the maximum number of seven votes was Bill Harris of the Colts. Below is the All-Star team roster and the honorable mentions.

ALL-STAR FOOTBALL TEAM

Bowling

Intramural Bowling teams have now been organized and this competition will be included in the Intramural Point system. Seventeen teams, consisting of five persons per team, have been formed and more are expected to enter. Actual team competition will begin in a few weeks.

In Volleyball nine teams have been formed with one or two more promised. The first game should be held Thursday, November 15. Under consideration is the entrance of a faculty team to this intramural event. The prospect of such a team should prove humorously interesting and challenging.

Panthers Prepare For Season Opener

by Bergie Hatcher

In less than two weeks the High Point Panthers open the 1962-63 season at Buies Creek, North Carolina, facing Campbell College. Coach Tom Quinn has the boys in top physical condition and is expecting a fine year. The High Pointers looked good in scrimmage games with Southern Conference teams, V.M.I. and the Citadel. The first home game will be on December 1 against Newberry's Indians.

Let's see how this year's squad stands up:

Larry Nolan: 6 feet 3 inches, 200 lbs., Washington, D. C. Larry is the only senior on the squad and is co-captain along with Phil Garrison. Nolan will be the top reserve forward this year. Larry's best shot is the jump shot, but he also likes to drive. Larry led the team in field goal percentage last year.

Phil Garrison: 6 feet 2 inches, 200 lbs., Rushville, Indiana. "Jug" is the junior co-captain of this year's Panthers. Phil led the Panthers to the conference championship two years ago and into last year's finals. Both times he was recognized as the tournament's Most Valuable Player. Garrison will be a starting forward. Jug's best shot is the jump shot and he also has a fine hook. A rugged rebounder, Jug shines on defense, as well as offense.

Bill Fallin: 6 feet 6 inches, 180 lbs., Washington, D. C., a big man who can work at either forward or center. Bill, a junior, has improved his shooting this year. A stalwart on defense and an excellent rebounder.

Al Trombetta: 5 feet 10 inches, 160 lbs., McKees Rock, Pennsylvania. Al is a starting guard who will replace Joe Keith. A transfer student from Shenandoah Junior college, where he averaged 20 points per game last year. Al is very quick and deceptive, handles the ball well, and should score in double figures.

Sam Byers: 6 feet 3 inches, 190 lbs., Concord, North Carolina. Sam is a transfer student from Wingate Junior College. He will be a reserve guard this season. He is smooth on defense, has a variety of shots, and will help the Panthers.

Dale Neel: 6 feet 9 inches, 220 lbs., Rockville, Maryland. The big sophomore has center all wrapped up. He is the finest rebounder on the team and should score much more this year. Everyone is looking for great things from Dale this season, as he is a vastly improved ball player.

Barry Smith: 6 feet 3 inches, 178 lbs., Washington, D. C., Barry has all the moves and the credentials of a great ball-player. He is a good shooter, fine playmaker, sharp passer, and a hustling rebounder.

Leonard Chisolm: 6 feet 1 inch, 175 lbs., Alexandria, Virginia. "Sonny" is a sophomore who will be eligible to play until second semester. Chisolm had an outstanding high school career and should help the Panthers. He has a large artillery of shots and has an excellent jump shot.

Kirk Stewart: 6 feet 5 inches, 195 lbs., Wheaton, Maryland.

Kirk was ineligible last year when he transferred to HPC from Furman University. Kirk has the finest offensive moves on the team, displaying fine jump shots and hooks. He should lead the team in scoring. Stewart, a sophomore, is also tough off the boards.

Richard Guiffredo: 6 feet, 175 lbs., Port Chester, New York, Rich is the cream of the freshmen crop and will be a top reserve at the guard position. Guiffredo has a fine shooting touch, especially on his push shot from outside.

Roger Herman: 6 feet 6 inches, 230 lbs., Pine Plains, New York. Roger, a freshman, is a fine rebounder who needs to work on his shooting. He has the size and potential, but lacks the speed. A Panther of the future.

Richard McGreevy: 6 feet 5 inches, 190 lbs., Pequannock, New Jersey. Rich is a freshman defensive wizard and has great potential. He is a hustler and has fine jumping ability.

It's All Greek

The time has arrived when mid term grades become the primary topic of discussion on campus. Many first year men students are aware of the fact that their work is deficient in at least one subject. To help correct this situation, the Interfraternity Council has initiated a study hall which meets in Robert's Hall on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7 until 9:30 on the third floor. Council members are present to help freshmen with specific subjects in which they feel help is needed.

Fraternity men, don't forget the IFC dance to be held on November 30 at Schafft's in downtown High Point from 8 until 12. Mark the occasion on your calendar now. The dance will be one of several events sponsored by the IFC during this college year and will be held strictly for you and your date. A Greek Sing is being planned for Spring activities. Also every fraternity member should have a copy of the recently revised IFC Constitution and By-Laws in his possession.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

CONGRATULATIONS: To Brothers Bob Clark, Allan Sharpe, and Manuel Wortman for being elected to the TOP TEN SENIORS and to WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN COLLEGES.

TROPHY CASE: Brother Ron Yarborough has done a fine job on the building of a trophy case in the Delta Sig section.

PARTY: Recently the Brothers of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity held a stag party at the home of Brother Robert Kornegay.

ESCAPE TO FREEDOM: Brother Don Phillips made a narrow escape to freedom after his recent serenade, but his safety is still a question.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Dena Pegram, the newly elected fraternity sponsor of Delta Sigma Phi. Dena also represents Delta Sigma Phi in the Miss H.P.C. contest.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

INTRAMURAL CHAMPS: The Lambda Chi's are the fraternity football champions; in our bid for the over-all Intramural Championship the Lambda Chi's were downed 6-0 by the independent Colts.

NEW PLEDGE: The Lambda Chi's welcomed a new pledge last week, Joe Gosnell of Washington, D. C. Joe is the 16th pledge of this semester.

PLEDGE OFFICERS: The newly elected officers of the pledge class are President, Dick Reuman; Vice President, Doug Jones; Secretary - Treasurer, Bruce Swanson; Rush Chairman, Yogi Yarborough; and Social Chairman, Harold Moose.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Miss Joy Watkins, the newly elected fraternity sponsor for Lambda Chi Alpha.

To Brother John Ward who was recently selected to "WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES."

GOOD LUCK: To Miss Lou Troutman as she represents Lambda Chi Alpha in her bid for the Miss H.P.C. of 1963 title. Congratulations also to Miss Lou Richards, the current Miss H.P.C., for representing Lambda Chi Alpha so well this past year.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

PARTIES: The Pika's will hold their annual Sweater Girl Ball on Saturday, November 17.

VISIT: Al Porter, president of our local district, visited us last week.

ELECTION: The pledge class elected their officers. They are as follows: Jimmy Doolittle, president, and Richard Bulla, secretary-treasurer.

ALUMNI: The brothers and alumni held their joint monthly meeting on Monday, November 5. New ideas were discussed and future plans were made.

CONVENTION: The District 6 Convention will be held at Wake Forest College this year. The Convention will be held the weekend of December 3 and all the brothers plan to attend.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

PARTY: There was an informal party held on November 3, 1962, at a private cabin, in Jamestown, North Carolina. There will be a stag party this Friday, November 9, 1962, in which all the brothers, pledges, and rushees, will go to Greensboro, North Carolina to eat supper and attend a movie at the Cinema Theater.

FOOTBALL: The Sig Ep's played their last game against Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. It was a hard fought game in which the Lambda Chi's won 6-0. There were four Sig Ep's making the all star football teams: Marion Suitt, Steve Bower, Ted Brazzell, and Dave Baughn. We ended the season with a 2-2 won-lost record in the fraternity league.

VISIT: We are expecting a visit from Brother Godfrey Bennett, the District governor of district 5. He will inspect our fraternity chapter.

ALUMNI THAT ARE STAYING WITH UNCLE SAM: Brothers Steve Hite, George Wigglesworth, and "Chuck" Miller will be starting training in the officers training corps Monday, November 12, 1962.

FRATERNITY SPONSOR: Mrs. Carol Hormachea has been elected as this year's fraternity sponsor for the Zenith. Mrs. Hormachea is the wife of our fraternity Advisor and also a member of the High Point College faculty.

THETA CHI

BROTHER-OF-THE-MONTH: Brother Bill McKinley has been selected Brother-of-the-Month by the fraternity for the month of October. Bill was selected on his outstanding contributions to the fraternity for that month. Congratulations Bill!

SOCIAL: A stag party was held in Winston-Salem on Saturday evening, November 10. The party was held with the Brothers of the Wake Forest Chapter.

SERENADE: The Brothers would like to express their appreciation to Alumni Brothers Jerry Kivett and Charles Carroll for their participation in the serenade for Brother Charles Nesbitt and Barbara Morgan. Jerry led the singing, and Charles sang with the group.

PARTY: An informal combo party will be held on November 17 for the Brothers and their dates.

SPONSOR: Theta Chi Fraternity has selected as its sponsor for this year Miss Nancy Warren, the school nurse.

KAPPA DELTA

JUNIOR MARSHAL: Sister Judy Lambeth has been chosen as a junior marshal. Congratulations Judy.

NEW CHAPTER: November 9, Gamma Psi, our 101 chapter, was installed at Delta State College, Cleveland, Mississippi.

DINNER: November 7, an informal dinner was held at the Panhellenic house in honor of the pledges and our national officer.

THANK YOU: A good time was had by all at the pot-luck dinner sponsored by the Phi Mu's. Thank you Phi Mu.

PHI MU

POT-LUCK: On November 6, Phi Mu held a pot-luck supper for the Greek Women in the Pan Hellenic House. Each group contributed something to the meal and each sorority entertained by singing a few of their own songs.

HONORS: Kay Thompson and Linda Cassimus are contestants for the Homecoming Queen.

Joy Watkins is the Zenith sponsor for Lambda Chi Alpha. Linda Ferran has been selected as Junior Marshal for this year.

Linda Cassimus will represent B.S.U. in the Miss H.P.C. contest. Congratulations and Best of Luck to all of these girls!

PARTY: November 3 was the night of our informal party which was held at The Grange. Fun and fellowship contributed to a successful evening!

NATIONAL VISITS: On November 15, Gamma Zeta welcomed Margie Wade back to our campus. Margie visited with us last year and is a graduate of University of Tennessee.

ALUM AUCTION: The High Point Alumni gave Gamma Zeta an auction on November 14 which included baked goods and novelty Christmas gifts. After the auction, Carolyn Lennen and Linda Ferran presented slides and a report on our National Convention which was held at the Fountainbleu Hotel, Miami, Florida this summer.

INITIATE: Joyce McIlvaine became a sister in the Bond of Phi Mu on November 12. We Welcome you Joyce, into Gamma Zeta Chapter of Phi Mu Fraternity.

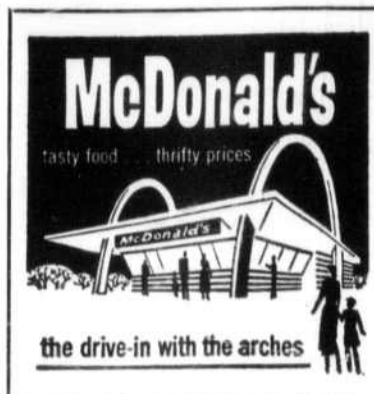

ZETA TAU ALPHA

CONVENTION: Bettie Jones and Janet Doss attended the North Carolina Education Association Convention on November 3, in Raleigh.

STUDENT TEACHERS: Five Zetas are now doing student teaching in the High Point Schools: Carol Blake, Ellen Johnston, Donna Lawrence, Linda Loven, and Gayle Paxton.

POT - LUCK: Zetas thoroughly enjoyed the fun and fellowship of the Pot-Luck Supper on November 6. Many thanks to Phi Mu for playing hostess to the Greek Women at HPC in such a delightful way!

CONTEST

DEC. 14

Miss HPC Contest On Dec. 14

On December 14 the Zenith will present its annual Miss High Point College Pageant. This Pageant is one of the oldest traditions on this campus.

The contestants for the pageant are nominated by the various organizations on campus. The semi-finalists are then selected by the students; of the twelve semi-finalists five will be selected as finalists.

The five finalists and the new Miss High Point College will be selected by a distinguished panel of judges. The contestants will be voted on Personality, Poise, Beauty, and Talent.

The pageant will get under way Thursday evening with a dinner. The purpose of this dinner is to allow the judges to meet the contestants informally. Friday afternoon there will be a tea at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Patton and the pageant will be held Friday evening. Miss High Point College and her court will reign at a dance on Saturday evening. The pageant will feature Miss Lou Richards Miss HPC 1962, Miss Gail Geyer Miss HPC 1961, The Collegians and Thad Lowrey as master of ceremonies.

There has been a large amount of work in preparing for the pageant. Annette Young and Don Bryant are the co-chairman for the pageant. Other students who are contributing much time and effort are: Mike Carrington, Talent Director; David Bryant, Production Director; Margaret Hunter, Set Design; Liz Odham, Publicity; Ray Haga, Stage Manager; Bob Bradley, Construction Manager; and numerous other students.

Capers To Be Held, Dec. 7

The third "Campus Capers" Talent Show, sponsored annually by Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, will be held this Friday, December 7, 1962, at 8:00 p.m. Place for the event is Memorial Auditorium.

The show will feature many types of talent, and students from all classes will participate. In addition to the dancing, singing, and other various acts, there will be non-competitive entertainment by three singing groups: The Consonants, The Collegians, and The Densmen.

John Ward is over-all chairman of the event, with Woody Woodall as his assistant. In charge of auditions were Louella Richards, Gary Kiger, and Mike Carrington, who is director of the show.

Bill Cain of High Point will serve as Master of Ceremonies. Judges are Ed Post, High Point Jaycees President and director of the Jaycee Jollies; Mrs. Bill Cain, who is a former Miss Albermarle and has had much experience in judging talent shows; and Mr. Bob Latta, State Jaycee Vice President.

Also expected to participate in the program are the Misses Clara Jane Neal and Dell McGinn, who are previous winners in the show. As has been the custom in the past,

Fine Arts Dept. Presents Menotti Opera

The Fine Arts Department will present the one act opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," by Gran Carlo Menotti on December 18 and 19. This work was the first opera written expressly for television; and the first performance was given by the NBC Television Theater in New York on Christmas Eve in 1951. The opera proved so popular that it has been presented every year on Christmas Eve by the network.

The opera is under the direction of Mr. J. Fryhover, and the cast is a mixture of townspeople and college students. The leading role of Amahl is to be played by Robin Lowe. Robin is the soloist in the St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Boy's Choir. Virginia Person will be seen as the mother. Mrs. Person has been a featured soloist with the Detroit Symphony and the North Carolina Symphony. She has sung leading roles in many operas and has a Master's degree in Music from the University of Michigan. Last year, she appeared as a recitalist in a joint program with the High Point College Choir.

The Three Wise Men are local businessmen, who are members of the Singer's Guild of High Point. They are John Krapels, Bill Drayer, who worked with the composer of the opera in New York, and Irving Silver, who appeared as soloist last year with the Concert Choir. The Page will be played by Tom Page, a student of the college. The chorus of Shepherds and villagers will be composed of the combined chapel and concert choirs.

Patton Returns To HPC Enthusiastic About Tour

Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of High Point College, recently returned from a tour of the educational institutions in Europe and Russia. The tour visited schools in England, Holland, Germany, Austria, Russia.

When asked what he felt was the main difference between the American and the European educational systems, Dr. Patton stated, "that he thought there was more enthusiasm on academic quality and individuality on the part of the students and that they also respected authority. He also stated that the teachers in Europe were less well paid."

On the question of the friendliness of the Russians toward Americans, he stated, "that the Russians were generally friendly toward the Americans except when the part organizer or interpreter was with them."

On his general impressions of Russia, Dr. Patton stated, "that there were no automobiles; there seemed to be no purchasing or buying done by the people; that the buildings of Russia were poorly constructed and that their housing projects were largely uncompleted."

When he was asked to compare the Russian and American educational systems, he said, "that theirs was superior to ours by efficiency; that there was an extreme dedication of purpose shown by the teachers and the students; that the schools were rigidly controlled; that there was no mental or psychological testing; and that labor after high school emphasized admittance to the university."

"However," Dr. Patton stated, "that if the American schools were working toward a simple goal in education as the Russians, that we would be more efficient than they are."

When asked what the Europeans felt about the Russo-American differences, Dr. Patton stated, "that he had asked this same question of an Austrian and that he had replied that he felt that in the next decade that American differences with Russia would not be so great because America was becoming increasingly Communist or Socialist and, on the other hand, Russia was beginning to try some of the capitalistic ideas."

Poetry Contest Invites HPC

The Inter-Collegiate Poetry Congress has announced that it is now preparing its 1962-63 poetry anthology, to be comprised of poems submitted from colleges and universities all over the country. High Point College students have been invited by the Congress to participate in the forthcoming anthology, mainly by submitting material for the publication.

Selections for the collection will be based on poetic merit, and chosen from the entire group of selections submitted. If a selection is chosen for printing, all future publishing rights will remain with the author. All contributors shall be notified of the editor's decision, and shall have the opportunity of obtaining the completed anthology.

Any High Point Student who wished to submit material for this work should see Howard Barnes, Louise Whiteley, or Don Little for further details and addresses for submitting work. One of these Hi-Po staff members should know of your intention for entering the competition by December 15, 1962.

Trustees Reaffirm Policy

EDITORS NOTE: The following is an explanation of a recent action by the Board of Trustees concerning which the office of development wishes to express to both students and faculty. We urge that this not be allowed to interfere with the drive for a new chapel, but rather that the rules be followed by anyone soliciting money in the name of the college so that no one will have a legitimate gripe against any such drive.

One of the biggest problems the Administration has in its current operations is duplication in the solicitation of funds, a practice which more often than not works to the detriment of the college.

The Board of Trustees, recently reaffirmed its policy that the responsibility of fund-raising rests in the Office of the Director of Development, with some few exceptions, in order to eliminate any duplication. Solicitation of ads for the Zenith and the Hi-Po have been named as exceptions, and, under certain restrictions, the Panther Club. The Trustees have emphasized that all other fund-raising efforts must be cleared through the Development Office.

Such a policy is not meant to stifle the good intentions of any person, group, or department, but is for the purpose of safeguarding the college from embarrassment, and individuals and corporations from solicitations for every project, however small.

The Director of Development and the Endowment Committee of the Board of Trustees are anxious to discuss any fund-raising effort with groups or individuals and to help in any way possible. Interested students and faculty are the most efficient and effective fund-raisers which a college has. But any effort must be in keeping with the policies of the college. It is only through complete cooperation and coordination of effort that the maximum good for the college can be attained. More goals may be reached in this way than if each group goes its way alone, unaided by the professional service which the college provides.

Campus Workers Receive Wage Increase

Arthur B. Williams Business Manager of High Point College, has announced that the wage rate for student labor at the college has been raised 10 cents per hour. The increase will be retroactive to November 1.

"The raise is in keeping with the thoughts of the Board of Trustees, who, feeling responsibility as a church-related college, want no student deserving of an education to be deprived of the opportunity to learn," explained Mr. Williams.

The wage increase is also designed to help students defray the cost of a recent raise in tuition rates," he explained.

Graham to be Honored at YDC Meeting

A meeting of the College Federation of Young Democrats will be held at the Sheraton Hotel in downtown High Point on Saturday, December 8, 1962. The meeting is being called to:

1. Honor outgoing State YDC President William E. "Dub" Graham, Jr. of Charlotte, a man well known to College YDC personnel for his outstanding leadership and keen interest in College YDC. A banquet will be held in the evening at 8:00 honoring "Dub" with the Honorable Terry Sanford, Governor of North Carolina, as the guest speaker.
2. Elect a College Federation Secretary and a Federation Treasurer for the coming year at 5:00 in the afternoon.
3. Provide guidance, workshops and discussion groups on pertinent political issues and topics beginning at 2:00.

The registration desk in the Sheraton lobby will be open from 12:00 to 3:00.

The discussion groups will be led by Mr. Joel Fleishman, Governor Sanford's Legal Aide, speaking on "Duties and Goals of our Generation," Dr. Gordon Cleveland, Professor of Political Science at the University of North Carolina, speaking on "Democratic Philosophy," and Mr. Al House, attorney from Roanoke Rapids and National Committeeman for the North Carolina YDC, speaking on the "History of the Democratic Party and its Future."

A reception will be held at 6:30 honoring "Dub" Graham and other visiting Party officials from throughout North Carolina.

Expected to attend along with Governor Sanford are members of the Council of State and the North Carolina General Assembly, state YDC leaders, and College Young Democrats from many North Carolina colleges.

This last State-wide College Federation rally of the current year is sponsored by the North Carolina Federation of College Young Democrats headed by Fred Ricci of the University of North Carolina and hosted by the High Point College YDC.

The members of the local College club are looking forward to this event. It will mark the first time that a State-wide rally or event has ever been held in High Point. Lee Harvey, President of the High Point College YDC, states that this event is "recognition of the past accomplishments of the local club in our efforts to help promote good government in North Carolina through the Democratic Party. We expect at least 200 at the rally and invite any High Point College student interested in politics to join us at the Sheraton."

Homecoming Events Announced

Mr. Duffy Paul, High Point College Alumni Secretary, has announced the tentative schedule to be followed at Homecoming, which is February 8 and 9.

"There will be several new innovations to the program this year," said Mr. Paul. "Among these will be a concert given on Friday night, February 8; An Alumni visit to the various organizations in which they were active on the campus is Saturday afternoon, February 9; and an Alumni basketball game to be held prior to the regularly scheduled basketball game between High Point and Appalachian," stated Mr. Paul.

Other highlights of this year's Homecoming will be the Campus guided tours, the reception for the Alumni at President Patton's, the crowning of the Homecoming Queen during the half-time of the High Point - Appalachian game, and the Alumni-student dance, which will be held in Harrison Hall.

Across The Desk....

Who's Cutting Whose Throat?

Seniors no longer have unlimited cuts! Why? On September 16, 1962, the Faculty Attendance Committee, with Dean Taylor as chairman, voted on the subject of unlimited cuts for Seniors. All of the members present voted to "recommend to the Faculty that Seniors be allowed unlimited cuts for the 1962-63 year on a trial basis". The Executive Committee of the Faculty proceeded to make such an allowance.

Now on Wednesday, November 14, this privilege was abruptly revoked. The reason? Students allegedly have "abused" their privilege. Since "unlimited" supposedly means "without limit", we shall not attempt to define the word "abuse". We simply ask how one can abuse or otherwise misuse a privilege to take an unlimited number of cuts. Therefore, we conclude this argument which never really existed.

The real point in question is this: should students have the responsibility of deciding which classes they should attend? The Faculty has decided not. This writer disagrees. A review of Senior attendance cards and grade averages with Dean Taylor revealed that those who could least afford to cut classes actually cut much more than those who could afford to cut frequently and not be in jeopardy of flunking out. Thus chief argument of the faculty is that students must be forcibly protected from flunking out and wasting their parents' money, and that the faculty must be protected from preparing lectures for presentation to a few students and more empty seats.

Why should students be forcibly protected from flunking out? If one is not interested enough in school to attend class often enough to pass, why force him to do so. Our educational system is too crowded to force people to remain in school. Even if this were not true, the argument would not be valid simply because if enough students flunk out because of poor class attendance, others will eventually realize that the same fate will be theirs unless they attend classes at least occasionally. Let experience, not authority, be the dear teacher.

If professors have to be protected from lecturing to empty seats, perhaps their lectures are neither stimulating nor interesting enough to begin with. Most people do what they really want to do. If students are given reason to want to attend classes, they will. If they don't think it is necessary or worthy of their time, why should they attend?

Dean Taylor and the Attendance Committee recommended unlimited cuts for Seniors. The Executive Committee of the Faculty agreed. Then in midstream the Faculty reversed the decision. We feel that this latest action was not justifiable. After all, if a student wants to cut his own throat, why not let him go ahead and make room for someone who will appreciate the opportunity to further his education.

Who Is Who?

This year a record number of HPC students were elected to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. To get to the point immediately, we feel that either this number was too great, or else it should have been much larger. If some of the people elected were qualified, we feel that at least fifteen more Seniors were equally well qualified. Obviously it would cheapen the honor if it were so easy to attain, therefore, we feel that the group should have been more select. Now that this year's selection is history, may we suggest that in the future the committee which nominates students for the honor be more discriminate in its selection. To be elected to Who's Who is a great honor. We do not feel that those who really deserve such an honor should have it cheapened by being joined by the masses in their place of honor.

HPC Streams

Once again the monsoon season has hit HPC. With the rains normally come the floods. Now everyone down in elementary school realizes that water flows down hill and stands in the lowest available place. It seems that whoever designed the system of walkways and storm sewers at HPC forgot about this simple law of nature, or else they were being conservative with our money by consolidating the two systems into one.

Whatever the reason, we find that whenever it rains (and that has been frequently this semester), we have to walk to class, the post office, etc., on what turns out to be an inland waterway rather than a decent walking place. Then after we get to Robert's Hall, we wonder if it has been turned into a castle, since it is surrounded by a moat.

CAMPUS COMMENT

By Charles Nesbitt

Someone has said that dreams are the seedlings for realities. The males at High Point College are definitely thrilled that the dream of a new dormitory has finally become a reality. It is certainly a pleasure to watch the foundation being placed for the new Mens Dormitory. For many years men students have been requesting a more suitable residence hall. Even the partial renovation of McCulloch Hall had added much to the morale. I am sure that I speak for the entire mass of resident men when I congratulate and thank the administration and Board of Trustees for helping to make plans for this much needed building.

Speaking of Campus appearances, ALL of the physical improvements have been noticeable and appreciable. The laying of new walks as well as the remodeling in Robert's Hall has added much to the general appearance and has surely added to the atmosphere for constructive work.

At this time I feel as if it would be appropriate to play "boy scout" and make a suggestion. With the beautiful campus we have, it is unfortunate that we as students litter it up. Cleanliness on a college campus makes it appear to be much prettier than we realize. I myself will try to find a can when in the littering mood... won't you join me?

Summit Meet Requested By SGA

The Executive Council of the Student Government Association met on November 20 and 27 at four o'clock. The following items were discussed:

1. The Executive Council requests a meeting with Dr. Wendell Patton and Dean Jesse Taylor to discuss (a) the Intramural Fund (b) Senior unlimited cuts (c) possibility of purchasing a poster-making machine, and other problems.

2. The Literary Magazine plans are very definitely materializing. The administration has agreed to give $500.00 toward the cost and the S.G.A. will pay the remainder if it does not exceed another $500.00.

3. Brian McIntosh has been appointed by the President to coordinate for the S.G.A. and the Foreign Student Organization in order to assist the development of the Foreign Student Organization.

4. The Executive Council is discussing the validity of the assembly program which is held weekly.

5. The S.G.A. will work with the Alumni Association to promote Homecoming Week-end. Definite plans will be released later.

Harvey Elected President Of Dems Club

A new slate of officers for the High Point College YDC was elected in October. On October 12, Norman "Skip" Sallahan, past President of the State YDC Convention in Greensboro. Callahan, realizing the extra work required of him as a state officer, choice to relinquish his local post.

Lee Harvey, the First Vice President, was elected to head the college organization. The other officers are as follows: Robert Hartsell, First Vice President, Vera McGinnis, Second Vice President, Barbara Kinlaw, Secretary and Margaret Smith, Treasurer.

Harvey, in assuming the Presidency, pledged to continue the work started by Callahan, notably the presentation of outstanding state and national government leaders to the students of High Point College and the people of High Point and the surrounding area.

Plans For Junior-Senior Announced

The Junior Class, under the guidance of Bob Kornegay, is now on its way to making the Junior-Senior prom for 1963, the best prom that High Point College has ever had. Committees have been chosen to begin work on all the different phases that make up a Junior-Senior. The chairmen and their respective committees are: Over-all chairman — Harry Smith, Invitation Committee Chairman — Norma Overby, Orchestra Committee Chairman — Lou Richards, Entertainment Committee Chairman — Mary Lou Troutman, Food and Decorations Committee Chairman — Bonnie Dennis, Publicity Committee Chairman — Dave Baughn, Projects Committee Chairman — Riley Fields, Date Regulations and Chaperone Committee Chairman — Linda Ferran. Those interested in working on any of these committees are asked to contact the chairman of the committee he wishes to join.

The Junior Class chose two girls to represent the class in the May Court. These girls are: Diane Westermoreland and Linda Ferran.

The Junior Class is planning several projects for the year. Riley Fields has been elected as the chairman of the projects committee. With the entire class giving its support the students should see some worthwhile projects under way on the High Point College campus.

A Yuletide Message

The Gift

It was all there—everything I wanted—the sweater, the blouses, the stem of crystal, the check for my school ring, the coat, and even more albums for my stereo. All had been received with joy.

Yet, one minute, rather shabby package remained. Surely it would amount to nothing. Such a tiny box could not hold anything which would make my Christmas any more fulfilled.

And I was right. I suppose the giver was even ashamed to include a card saying from whom the gift came. In the little box was only a quote from some book—"I have come that ye might have life, and have it more abundantly."

In Hope

Ah yes, once again the stockings are hung by the chimney with care in hope that—in hope of what? Peace? Brotherhood? Justice? In hope that this Christ-child will become the resurrection of all men? In hope that the men of the free world will not take their blessings for granted?

In hope that we white Americans will realize that we are not the "chosen people"? In hope that some man, somewhere, some time, will again believe in himself and his God enough to live his faith? OR in hope that Saint Nick will soon be there?

What hope ye this Christmas???

Journalism In Short

The journalism professor always drilled his students in the importance of making a news story appeal to all types of people, and at the same time making it as brief as possible. His philosophy was that in order to be of interest to most people, a news story must have the following qualities: Religion, Royalty, Sex, and Mystery. The first paper turned in to him embodying these qualities read as follows: My God, the Queen is pregnant. Who does it?

NEW RECORD SET

Returning from a scrimmage game with Fredrick College, (Portsmouth, Virginia), the second string Panthers were very elated over their performance. The second team, it seems had inflicted a more impressive scoring attack over Frederick than the first team had. This enthusiasm led "Quinn's Clowns" to the composition of this poem, with the help of manager Danny Lawing:

"When the first team fumbles and can't do a thing, And Neel and Stewart are playing the wrong wing; The crowd isn't yelling—they're not making the sounds The coach gets ready to send in the clowns."

"When Smith and Trombetta can't take control

They look for Garrison, who is behind the goal.

When they choke against the press and run out of bounds Here comes the boys known as "Quinn's Clowns".

"When Danny gets mad and throws down the book

Here comes the coach, giving us all the look;

Now we run and hustle and raise the score

And the crowd goes wild as we run them off the floor."

"Well, we don't play much, but when we do

We always make sure we're a hustling crew."

The second team, HPC Panthers.

Sung to the tune of
BIG BAD JOHN

When Byers goal made the score an even 100 points, the High Point fans gave the team a standing ovation.

When the Greensboro Daily News and the Winston-Salem Journal picked the final standing of the Carolinas Conference this year, High Point was regarded as a "darkhorse", along with Catawba College. Lenoir Rhyne, Western Carolina, and Elon were picked by both papers as the dominating three in the Carolinas Conference. High Point was considered a darkhorse because of the departure of Joe Keith and Dave Wickham. Although the Panthers miss Keith's fine shooting ability and Wickham's aggressive style of play, this reporter feels that Kirk Stewart and Al Trombetta are more than adequate replacements.

Trombetta proved his worth in the season's opener at Campbell. Al took over as the take charge guy in the tense contest, slowing the Panthers down when they committed mistakes or were too anxious for a shot. The Panthers didn't have a good take charge guy last year, and have not had a good take charge guy since Joe Guzinski.

Stewart opened up with 26 big points as High Point slaughtered Newberry. Kirk showed fine shooting ability from outside and inside, hitting on jumpers, hooks, and drives. Stewart is also one of the Panthers finest rebounders.

This reporter maintains that the Carolinas Conference this year will be a big four between Lenoir Rhyne, Western Carolina, Elon, and High Point. If the Panthers keep up their fine hustle and spirit, they will be among the top come tournament time.

Forensic Team Debates In New York This Weekend

Do you want to know about debate? What is it like to be on the team? What must you do?

During this weekend, several HPC students are representing the school at the National Forensic Team Tournament being held at New York University. Each of them have behind them the necessary experience of several debates.

This being one of the largest forensic tournaments in the country (it includes forty of the United States' better known colleges such as, Columbia, New York University, Duke University, the University of North Carolina, and Brooklyn College) Mrs. Morgan and Mr. Reines are quite anxious for HPC to make a showing that will be a credit to the institution.

At the beginning of the year, the Forensic Association formulated debate topics from a list of suggestions submitted by various teams throughout the nation. These topics were then voted upon. One was chosen as the topic of discussion by all forensic teams at all forensic contests during this school year — resolved: that the non-Communist nations of the world should establish an economic community. Magazines, pamphlets, and such literature were then drawn up and published by the association for research purposes.

Since the same topic is debated upon at each contest, Jerry Proffitt and his partner, Mike Pierce, debating on the affirmative view of the question, have found the trial and error method of learning the good and bad aspects of each debate to be of most use. Not only have they been able to change their method of debate if it seems awkward but also increase their knowledge about the subject by gaining new viewpoints introduced.

As the negative team members (Bonnie Stillwell and Dave Young,) have learned, the necessary way to begin research upon the subject, is to determine a need for the proposal and a plan to solve the need. Besides research from magazines and pamphlets, professors and prominent townspeople are interviewed, as well as important leaders in the nation.

GREEK NEWS

By Robin Reese

Parties, pledges, and an ancient art called "pinning" highlight the news from the Greeks.

Delta Sigma Phi will have a party at the Jamestown American Legion Hut, December 18. A Christmas party for the Thomasville Children's Orphanage, December 16, and a dance at the Oak View Grange, December 17 are planned by Sigma Phi Epsilon. The party at Thomasville, incidentally, will be covered by WSJS-TV of Winston-Salem. The Theta Chis will hold their annual Ox Stampede at the Oak View Grange, December 8, music will be provided by the "Ascots". Zeta Tau Alpha will hold a Christmas dance at the Elks Lodge, December 8.

The Pikas held their annual "Sweater Girl Ball" last November 17; the "Casuals" provided the music. Miss Callie Bailey, Kappa Delta, was crowned "Sweater Girl of 1962". A surprise birthday party was given Nina Burris by the sisters of Kappa Delta on November 26.

Sigma Phi Epsilon now has three new pledges, Bruce Idol, of High Point, N. C.; Dave Whitlock, of Coco, Fla.; and Ken Lawson, of High Point. The pledge officers for the Sig Eps are as follows: Jerry McKnight, president; Jim Broos, secretary; Ken Lawson, chaplain; Charles Sellers, project chairman; and Dave Whitlock, athletic chairman. Zeta Tau Alpha announces two new pledges, Jean McCollum, of McLeansville, N. C., and Joyce Kirkman, of Greensboro, N. C.

Romantically speaking, the Greeks have been busy indeed! Harry Smith, Lambda Chi Alpha, pinned Joy Watkins of Phi Mu sorority; Dick McDowell, also a Lambda Chi, pinned Ruth Moriarty of Penn State University; Tony Taylor, Theta Chi, pinned Betty White of Alpha Gamma Delta; and Roy Greenwood, Theta Chi, recently pinned Sandra McDaniels; Sue Williamson, Alpha Gamma Delta, is engaged to Francis Bradshaw of Duke University; and Betty Neale, president of Alpha Gamma Delta, is engaged to Ron Wachs. The Lambda Chis serenaded Rodolph Gibbs and Nancy Chandler at Greensboro College, and Marvin Ferbee and Jackie Peace, of Duke University, here at High Point. They also plan another serenade for Tommy Smith and Charlene Wyrick at Womans College in Greensboro. Ron Yarborough, Delta Sigma Phi, recently married Jerri Hurst, and George Coppedge II married Judy Rogers, Zeta Tau Alpha, November 17.

The District 6 convention of Pi Kappa Alpha was held December 1 and 2 at Wake Forest College.

The Zetas, Phi Mus, KDs, Alpha Gamms, and Lambda Chis were all recently honored by visitors from their national fraternity offices.

APO Sectional 22 Conference To Be March 1,2,3

On November 18, Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity held its planning session in Raleigh for the Section 22 Conference. Brothers Hal Cohen, Robert Hartsell, John Kennedy, and Pledges Calvin Herndon, and Ron McElhannon, and Chuck Richards attended the conference. It was decided at the session that this year's Sectional Conference will be hosted by High Point's Mu Xi Chapter on March 1, 2, and 3 of 1963. Attending the conference will be the National President, the National Executive Secretary, and delegates from the Chapters in Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

An informal smoker was held on November 29 at the First Methodist Church, at which time Dr. Cole, head of the History Department, spoke. The topic of the evening was, "Citizenship on the Community and National Level."

On December 6, the Mu Xi Chapter initiated 13 pledges into brotherhood. They were: Charles Anglin, Tony Boyles, Jim Foster, Calvin Herndon, Jack Marquis, Mickey McDaniels, Ron McElhannon, Joe Nuckolls, Chuck Richards, Warren Romaine, Jim Ryon, Herb Thomas, and Tony White. Edward Andrews, the Sectional Vice President, was our special guest.

Intramural Bowling The Alley Report

By Ray Alley

With a fanfare of both satisfaction and smothered cusses, intramural bowling began for the first time at HPC. There were many satisfying scores that brought victories, but there was also the familiar cry of "if I hadn't left that ten pin..." that leads one to believe that everyone didn't bowl 200.

However, there were 3 men who hit the two hundred column. Kenny Deal, Hal Cohen, and Rex Connor turned in performances of two hundred pins or better. While Dave Fancher with a 199 game missed by a single pin. Cohen took top individual honors with games of 205 and 222, and a 574 series.

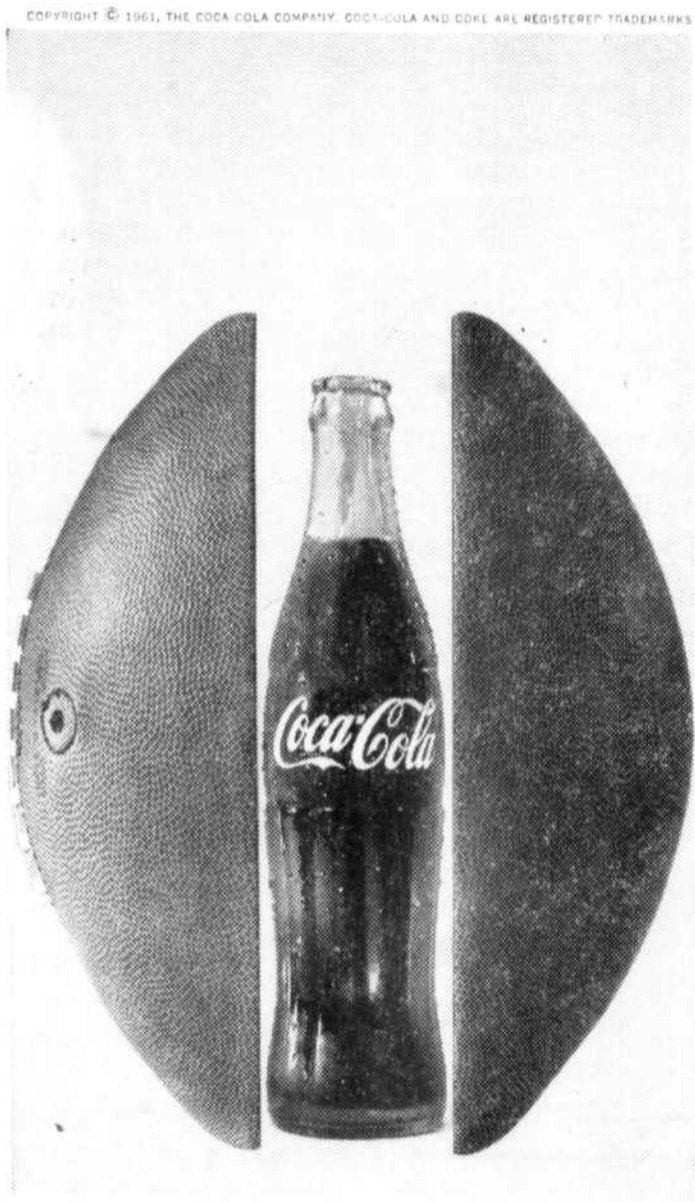

Individual honors are important, but as far as team success you have to be consistent. Consistency was the key word as Delta Sigma Phi scored the most decisive win of the day. Led by Ken Deal, the Delta Sig's defeated the Sig Eps by 243 pins. With three men bowling series over 450, they were never behind. Top men for the Sig Eps were Steve Bowers and Robert Medlin.

The closest game of the afternoon was between the Pika's and the Lambda Chi's with the Lambda Chi's on top by a mere 17 pins. Joe Gosnell led the winning quartet with a 489 series and also top game honors with games of 179 and 180. Rex Connor with a 200 and a 514 series took high honors for both teams and led a good Pika team to a near victory.

In the other interfraternity contest the APO's defeated Theta Chi by a margin of 93 pins. Rick Benoit led the losing Theta Chi's with a two game average of 189. He had good help from Don Bryant and Roy Greenwood, and you can bet your life the Theta Chi's will improve as they progress. The man-of-the-hour honors in this game go to Hal Cohen, who led the charge with a 191 average which after the first week is tops in the league. The general opinion is that if Cohen receives good support the APO's will be tough.

In the last contest of the afternoon the independent teams were involved. The Pin-Busters led by Bob Brewer and Dave Young defeated the Comets led by Bergie Hatcher and Winfred Lindley. Another independent team, the Spartans, did not bowl in competition, but were led by Dave Fancher and Bob Harris as they totaled 1889 pins for the afternoon. This was the second highest total pin count of the day.

After only one week it is impossible to pick a winner, but you can count on for the Delta Sig's, Theta Chi's and APO's to be tough. Add the Lambda Chi's and Spartan as sleepers, but don't count anyone out. As far as individual performances go the cream of the crop seems to settle on Cohen, Deal, and Benoit, best men like Gosnell, Connor, and Fancher could turn this writer's cream into buttermilk.

DECK THE HALLS

When you think of Christmas gifts you naturally think of Marlboro cigarettes, leading seller in flip-top box in all fifty states—and if we annex Wales, in all fifty-one—and if we annex Lapland—in all fifty-two. This talk about annexing Wales and Lapland is, incidentally, not just idle speculation. Great Britain wants to trade Wales to the United States for a desert. Great Britain needs a desert desperately on account of the tourist trade. Tourists are always coming up to the Prime Minister or the Lord Privy Seal or like that and saying, "I'm not knocking your country, mind you. It's very quaint and picturesque, etc. what with Buckingham Palace and Bovril and Scotland Yard, etc., but where's your desert?" (Before I forget, let me point out that Scotland Yard, Britain's plain-clothes police branch, was named after Wally Scotland and Fred Yard who invented plain clothes. The American plain-clothes force is called the FBI after Frank B. Inchcliff, who invented fingerprints. Before Mr. Inchcliff's invention, everybody's fingers were absolutely glassy smooth. This, as you may imagine, played hob with the identification of newborn babies in hospitals. From 1791 until 1904 no American parent

...Some of them well over eighty ever brought home the right baby from the hospital. This later became known as the Black Tom Explosion.)

But I digress. England, I was saying, wants to trade Wales for a desert. Sweden wants to trade Lapland for Frank B. Inchcliff. The reason is that Swedes to this day still don't have fingerprints. As a result, identification of babies in Swedish hospitals is so haphazard that Swedes flatly refuse to bring their babies home. There are, at present, nearly a half-billion unclaimed babies in Swedish hospitals—some of them well over eighty years old.

But I digress. We were speaking of Christmas gifts which naturally put us in mind of Marlboro cigarettes. What could be more welcome at Christmas time than Marlboro's flavor, Marlboro's soft pack, Marlboro's flip-top box? What indeed would be more welcome at any time of year—winter or summer, rain or shine, night or day? Any time, any season, when you light a Marlboro you can always be certain that you will get the same mild, flavorful, completely comfortable smoke.

There are, of course, other things you can give for Christmas besides Marlboro cigarettes. If, for example, you are looking for something to give a music lover, let me call to your attention a revolutionary new development in phonographs—the Low-fi phonograph. The Low-fi, product of years of patient research, has so little fidelity to the record you put on it that if, for instance, you put "Stardust" on the turntable, "Melancholy Baby" will come out. This is an especially welcome gift for people who have grown tired of "Stardust".

Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night.

Co-Rec Night

Theta Chi Independents Win Honors

By Kenny Deal

The third annual Co-recreational night was held in Alumni Gymnasium on Thursday, November 15. An exciting time was had by all who participated, especially the Theta Chi-Independent team which walked off with top honors.

The champion team won a hard fought battle over a stubborn, hard playing Alpha Gamma-Delta Sig team by a victory margin of only two points. The teams that participated and their total points follows:

Theta Chi-Independents	24
Alpha Gamma-Delta Sigs	22
Kappa Delta-Pika	19
Phi Mu-Lambda Chi	15
Zetas-Sig Eps	10

To make the night extra exciting each team won at least one first place in an event. The events and the winners of each are as follows:

Badminton—Zetas-Sig Eps
Shuffleboard—Alpha Gamma-Independents
Table Tennis—Theta Chi-Independents

Volleyball—Kappa Delta-Pika

Carnaval Games—Phi Mu-Lambda Chi

Broom Relay—Theta Chi-Independents

Orange Relay—Theta Chi-Independents

Folding Chairs Relay—Alpha Gamma-Delta Sig tie—Theta Chi-Independents

Ballon Burst Relay—Alpha Gamma-Delta Sig

There were many highlights of the annual event which could be watched in the gym or received on Channel 12, WSJS TV in Winston-Salem, which covered the event. Among these were: the Organ, Relay, Judy Raykes driving nails; and Rick Benoit and Jo Ann Taylor hula-hooping.

The Physical Education Majors Club under the leadership of President, Don Cashion would like to thank all the teams that participated for their support which made the night such a success.

Profile Of A Panther

by Larry Nolan

In 1960 one of the finest all-around high school basketball players in the Washington, D. C., Metropolitan area graduated from Northwood High School. (Wheaton, Md.) Upon concluding his high school career many colleges approached him with scholarship offers, one of which was High Point. But, he chose to attend Furman University in South Carolina on a full basketball scholarship. He lasted no less than a semester, and dropped out of school second semester to work. The following summer he was enrolled in summer school at High Point gaining the necessary credits for admittance as a full time student for the coming year. Last year he was "red shirted" in order to gain eligibility for this year. In short this is how Kirk "High School" Stewart became a Purple Panther.

While at Northwood, Kirk had quite an outstanding career. He was an All-Bi-County first team selection his junior and senior year and an All-Metropolitan second team choice his senior year. At present he holds two major scoring records of his alma mater. Those being the most points scored in one year—490, and most points scored in a three year career—1,098. Probably both are destined to stand for quite some time to come.

In addition to playing basketball, Kirk pitched and played first base for the basketball nine. It may very well be that in addition to securing an outstanding career, the "Panthers" have "snagged" a promising addition to the pitching staff.

Kirk is a 6 foot 5 inch, 200 lbs., sophomore from Wheaton, Md. Last year, while ineligible for college athletics, he, along with former HPC All-American, Danny Sewell, led the High Point Y.M.C.A. to the North-South Carolina state Y.M.C.A. Championship. In another past season affair the "Y" also won the annual Gold Medal Tournament. Stewart was chosen All-Tournament first team in both events. For the season he carried a 30 point scoring average and accounted for more than 50 points in three different contests.

At present Kirk is once again enrolled in college. He, along with Co-captain Phil Garrison will be the starting forwards for the Panthers for the 1962-63 campaign. Oh yes, one cadded note—"High School" plans to stay at High Point a little longer than he did at Furman.

Intramural Volleyball

By Richard Stinson

"Spike the ball down their throats" was the savage-like cry heard frequently at the High Point College Gymnasium on Tuesday night, November 20. That night marked the beginning of the intramural volleyball season. It was an evening enjoyed by all, young and "old". At seven o'clock the Bavarians, a by-product of Delta Sigma Phi plus various independents, faced defeat at the hands of the faculty, a mature, but effective group of players. The score of this contest was 2-1 in favor of the faculty. It was a very interesting game and the result came as a surprise to some individuals, although it was presupposed by one Bavarian after the game that the faculty might spend the rest of the season rubbing themselves down with liniment. Since the faculty appears to have a good team, only time can tell! Also at seven o'clock, Delta Sigma Phi defeated Sigma Phi Epsilon, 2-1. It was a well played game. At eight o'clock that same evening, it was the Iota fights of Lambda Chi Alpha over the Delta Sig's second team. The score of that game was 2-0. Also at eight o'clock, Theta Cho defeated Lambda Chi Alpha by the score of 2-1.

On November 27 at seven o'clock, the Bavarians defeated the Iota fights. On a different court, Pi Kappa Alpha outplayed Alpha Phi Omega for the win. At eight o'clock the same evening, the Faculty defeated the Delta Sigma Phi, team 2, and Sigma Phi Epsilon was defeated by Theta Chi.

A third set of games was played on Thursday, November 29. At seven o'clock, the Bavarians defeated Delta Sigma Phi, Team 2, by a score of 2-1. Also at seven, Delta Sigma Phi played a game with Alpha Phi Omega. It was the Delta Sig's over APO, by the score of 2-0. The Faculty, showing fine ability, defeated the Iota fights by the score of 2 to 1. This game was played at eight o'clock. Also at eight o'clock, Pi Kappa Alpha defeated Lambda Chi Alpha by the score of 2-0.

All the games played so far have been hard played and enthusiastic. The evenings have been successful ones and the future season looks successful.

Carolinas Conference Preview

Conference Looks For Best Year

By Bergie Hatcher

Carolina Conference teams are off to a running start as the season goes into its third week. It looks as if Lenoir Rhyne, Elon, and High Point are the cream of the crop in the ten-team conference. Newberry and Catawba, head the list of dark horses, with Atlantic Christian, Appalachian, Guilford, and Pfeiffer clearly out of contention.

Lenoir Rhyne has the credentials of the top team in the conference. Four starters on last year's 12-4 squad are returning: Jerry Wells, Jim Wiles, Tommy Burton, and Eddie Deehan. Wells was the top center in the conference last year, averaging 18.3 points per game and 13.8 rebounds. The Bears have a prize in Ed Miastowski, a 6 foot 3 inch forward transfer from Wilmington Junior College. Added to this are 6 foot 7 inch Emil Dixon, 6 foot 7 inch freshmen, Roger Kinsey, Don Sehley, Bill McGeachery, and Jim Ehlers. As an example of the L-R depth, Coach Billy Wells started the season with Dixon and Deehan on the bench.

High Point has the five returning lettermen, two transfer students, and the eligibility of a YMCA star to help Coach Tom Quinn in his quest for the top spot in the conference. Pated by the most writers as second-rate darkhorses, the Panthers have the material and the coach to push Lenoir Rhyne for the top spot. Returning starters are 6 foot 9 inch center Dale Neel, 6 foot 3 inch guard Barry Smith, and 6 foot 2 inch forward Phil Garrison. The other returning lettermen, 6 foot 6 inch Bill Fallin and 6 foot 4 inch Larry Nolan, will add bench strength. Al Trombetta, transfer student from Shenandoah Junior College will take over Joe Keith's guard position and Kirk Stewart is now eligible to fill Dave Wickham's shoes. Coach Quinn has depth at guard with Sam Byers and freshmen standouts Richard Guiffredo, Richard McGreevey and Roger Herman add depth.

Western Carolina has the starting five returning from last year's defending champions. They are 6 foot 5 inch forward Darrell Murray, 6 foot 4 inch forward Gaston Seal, 6 foot 9 inch center Tom Lavelle, 6 foot 1 inch guard Danny Tharpe, and 6 foot guard Mel Gibson, who was second in conference scoring last year with a 21.1 average. Coach Jim Gudgen has depth in 6 foot 8 inch Bill Gustafson, 6 foot 1 inch Bruce Peterson, and 6 foot 2 inch Bill Horn. Western Carolina will definitely be in the conference fight all the way.

Elon College's Christians have two of the conference's top big men returning, 6 foot 6 inch center Dewey Andrews and 6 foot 7 inch forward Jesse Brandon. Dewey's younger brother, 6 foot 7 inch Howard Andrews, probably will start at the other forward post over Lamar Smith and Arthur Davis. Dave Winfrey and Bill Morningstar will start at guard, with Roland Miller the number three guard. Coach Bill Miller will have a strong contending team, but will lack depth.

Newberry College has its starting five returning under new coach, Charles Ward. Returning are 6 foot 3 inch forward, Phil Musgrave, 6 foot 3 inch Joel Derketch, 6 foot 5 inch center Dave Hawks, 5 foot 11 inch guard Bill Scarry, and 6 foot 3 inch Tom Crump. The Indians lack height and depth for serious contention.

Catawba's Indians are always a team to reckon with. Coach Sam Moir has Bucky Pope and Al Johnson averaging double figures, but has little scoring depth. John Garrison, 6 foot 6 inch center and guards Jim Sessoms and Tommy Childress complete the starting team. Catawba doesn't have the height, scoring potential, or bench strength to be considered serious contenders.

Appalachian, coach Bob Light, has two of the leagues most consistent scorers and rebounders in 6 foot 3 inch Jim Richardson and 6 foot 4 inch Wayne Duncan. But 6 foot 8 inch sophomore center John Dobbs must improve at center position. Guards will be Jack Lytton and Doug Wall. The Mountaineers lack bench strength and are weak at the guard position.

Pfeiffer coach, Francis Essic has good shooters in Harold McManus, Dennis Hottinger, and Larry Lenz, but 6 foot 5 inch freshman, Calvin Lawson will never fill Bobby Frank's shoes. 6 foot 9 inch forward Ted Blake completes the starters. The Falcons are hurting in all departments, especially rebounding.

Atlantic Christian College has nine new players, but none of them figures on being CC All-stars. 6 foot 4 inch forward Toni Parham, 6 foot 4 inch forward John Eshew, 6 foot 4 inch Ray Smith, 6 foot 2 inch guard Garry Johnson, and 5 foot 10 inch guard Jerry Ashworth are the starters. Freshmen Alton Hill and Jerry Lawson are Quakers of the future. Atlantic Christian has the worst offense in the league.

Guilford College has a new coach in former Wake Forest player, Jerry Steele, but Steele, himself, could play and the Quakers would not have a winning season. Steele, however, did a fine job in promoting team spirit at Wake Forest and should get the most out of the Quakers. Junior forward, Don Kuzma is the only serious scoring threat and center Bill Curran is the only player on the team over 6 foot 3 inch Mike Allred, Paul Undergraff, and Lloyd Turlington will start. Coach Steele will have to build a tremendous fire if the team finishes above eighth.
