Outstanding Students Elected To Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges

Mr. Farmer, the Director of Student Personnel, has announced the list of HPC Seniors who have been elected to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Those receiving the honor are Don Bryant, Eve Jones, John Kennedy, Tracy McCarthy, C. J. Neal, Elizabeth Oldham, Helen Paisley, Carol Parrish, Al Rauch, Betty Rogers, and Kirk Stewart.

Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges is a nationwide organization which each year allots a limited number of memberships to participating colleges and universities. Election is based on leadership, scholastic achievement, and participation. A committee composed of faculty and student members makes the selections.

Don Bryant is Vice President of the Student Government association, and was co-ordinator of the Orientation program for 1964. Don is a member of the Theta Chi Fraternity and served as president last year. In 1964 Don served on the Student Legislature. He has also been elected as a Top Ten Senior by the senior class.

Eve Jones has been involved with the Woman's Dorm Council for many years. Last year Eve served as vice president of the Dorm Council and this year has been serving as president. She has been active in the Methodist Student Fellowship, the Student Christian Association, and Alpha Delta Theta. This fall Eve served on the publicity committee during the Orientation program for freshmen. Eve is also a Top Ten Senior.

Throughout John Kennedy's college career, he has been active in the campus service fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega. John has been active in the Student Government Association by serving in the House of Representatives his freshman year, presiding as president of the interim council of the Student Congress, and participating in the Orientation program. He has also been active in Kappa Chi, the Methodist Student Fellowship, and Fellowship teams.

This year Tracy McCarthy has served as president of the Student Government Association, and as a Junior Marshal. Tracy has also been a member of the tennis team and the Physical Education Major's Club. Tracy is also one of the Top Ten Seniors.

C. J. Neal has been a cheerleader for the last four years. This year she has been head cheerleader. She is a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, the Hi-Po staff, and the Tower Players. C. J. has been elected to be Homecoming queen for this year. She has taken an active part in the annual talent show, Campus Capers. Another Top Ten Senior elected by her classmates.

Liz Oldham has been active in the Student Christian Association and served as president of that organization last year. She was a member of the Orientation Committee in 1963, and a Junior Marshal. Liz has been on the Dean's list frequently. In the Phi Mu fraternity she has served numerous offices. Liz is also a Top Ten Senior.

The Editor of the Apogee, Helen Paisley has been active in the English Club, and serves as head proctor of the Women's Dorm Council. Helen has also been on the Dean's List frequently, and served as a Junior Marshal. She was also elected as a Top Ten Senior.

Carol Parrish has been the editor of the Zenith for two years, and a member of the staff for three years. In 1963 Carol was a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta religious sorority. She has been honored by being chosen a Top Ten Senior by her classmates.

Al Rauch is now the editor of the Hi-Po and has worked on the staff for two years. Last year Al was a member of the Zenith Staff, serving as the Junior Class editor. He has been a member of the English Club and serves as program chairman this year.

Betty Rogers has been active in the Methodist Student Fellowship, Fellowship teams, the Student Christian Association, and Alpha Gamma Delta. Last year Betty was selected as a Junior Marshal.

Kirk Stewart has been active in the athletic program here at HPC by playing on both the basketball and baseball teams. Kirk has also been an active member of the Physical Education Major's Club.

Neal, Tracy McCarthy, Carol Parrish, Liz Oldham, Art Warren, Don Bryant, Helen Paisley, Brenda Symmes, and Eve Jones.

Mike Pierce has represented the senior class as its class president this year. C. J. Neal is also a senior class officer, and is head cheerleader. The president of the Student Government Association, Tracy McCarthy, as well as the vice president, Don Bryant, secretary, Brenda Symmes, and treasurer, Art Warren have also been selected as Top Ten Seniors.

The editors of the Zenith and the Apogee, Carol Parrish and Helen Paisley, respectively, have been honored as well as Liz Oldham, past president of the Student Christian Association. Eve Jones, president of the Women's Dorm Council has also received recognition from her classmates.

AAUW To Sponsor Tea For Girls

On March 27, the High Point chapter of the American Association of University Women will be hostesses at a tea from 3-4 p.m. in the Student Center in order to familiarize senior girls with the purposes of the organization.

Following HPC's affiliation with A.A.U.W., the High Point chapter, in order to arouse interest in their association, offered a gift of a free, one year membership in the organization to the senior girl who was selected as the most well rounded college girl. Betty Treece, who presently holds membership in the Greensboro chapter of A.A.U.W., was chosen.

Players Travel To Pfeiffer

On Monday, February 1, they traveled to Pfeiffer College to present Seneca's "Oedipus," a production which they performed here on December 14 and 15. This trip to Pfeiffer was in return to the Pfeiffer Playmakers' visit here on January 10, when they presented "Spoonriver Anthology." The students making this trip included: Jerry Proffitt, Anne Casstevens, John Swan, Ralph Hoar, Shirley Key, Fred Schraplau, Steve Seningen, David Dorsey, Sherry Snow, Kathy Ward, Barbara O'Connor, Kitty Hutchins, Gail Wilson, Mac Hoyt, and Mr. Don Drapeau, the director.

Future plans of the Players include the hope to present a musical this semester. The musical play being considered is "The Fantastics," taken from the book by Tom Jones. If all goes as planned, it should be ready for presentation either at the end of March or the beginning of April.

29 Graduate In January

Twenty-nine students have completed their requirements for graduation at the end of the fall semester.

They are: Hall Harris, David Bryant, Vaughn Antoinette, James Surratt, William Godwin, Carol Kaiser, Bobby Kenneth, James Ramsey, Kirt Christian, Alvin Willette, Richard Rackley, James Hodgins, Frank Lambeth, Bobby Crofts, and Gary Dennis.

Also completing their graduate requirements were: Marcia Wechter, Craven Young, Jessie Dupree, Bonnie Jo Saksa, Carleen Samuel, Willa Kennedy, Ralph Hall, Hugh Gentry, Jacquelyn Berebee, Roberta Hudson Kessler, Bonnie McKechnie, Rachel Yeats, Lewis Gore, and John Moody.

GO PANTHERS!

Congratulations and many thanks are in order for our fighting Panthers team for the fine job they are doing in competition this season. Their many hours of practice and time on the road make it possible for us to not only enjoy many evenings of generally exciting games, but spark a sense of pride and competition in our college life apart from the everyday routine. To most of us, our basketball team is our first line of representation to other colleges throughout the state, the district, and the nation. Triumphant wins and heart-breaking losses are very much felt by all of us, and the mounting pressure "stomached" by Coach Tom Quinn and his charges is shared almost as much by student and non-student Panther fans alike.

At this writing, the HPC cagers sport an admirable 16-2 record as they prepare to take on the Quakers of Guilford College at the Greensboro Coliseum, East Carolina at Alumni Gymnasium, and Catawba at Salisbury. With a rough road ahead, we wish you the best of luck in conference, district, and hopefully, national competition.

-D.S.

WHO'S WHAT? ... WHO?

HPC has no Phi Beta Kappa — we are not qualified academically to have one. To compensate for lack of national recognition we have instead several "locally based" organizations for acknowledging scholastic, service and character contributions to the student life of the campus. For contributions to campus life, above and beyond the call duty makes to the average student, we have the Order of the Lighted Lamp and the Top Ten Seniors. For academic excellence we have the National Honor Society, but paying a fee for such an honor and being allowed to put one's name in the "sacred book" are small remunerations for having the highest grade-point average on campus. And how many people know who is in the Honor Society? How many people know there are at present only two members?

But these organizations are not at the moment my primary concern. My reason for writing this is the Whosiz Whatzis?, more commonly known as Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. I understand Who's Who to be national recognition for outstanding student contribution. This esteemed body composed of our nation's college elite is HPC's last ditch stand for national requital for its outstanding students. It is the only really national body we have for this purpose; years from now one can go in any college library, look in a book and find our Who's Who, but the same is not true for those in the Honor Society. I call our group the Whosiz Whatzis? because with this thought in mind, and as I look over this and last year's selections to Who's Who, several questions come to mind. Who makes the selections, on what basis, and how does whoever it is go about it? Is the body that makes, what I feel, such an important decision so secretive the student body cannot be let in on the way it operates?

I realize that all students cannot receive the recognition they deserve, and there are certainly a number of deserving students who received the honor both this year and last. But, there have been several "gross oversights" both years. Perhaps, if I knew how they were selected, I might more willingly accept the choice.

-J.D.

WHY NOT ... ?

The suggestion for visiting privileges in the various dorms was posed during a bull session in the men's dorm. The idea seemed kind of wild at the time and it still does, but it is the intention of the HI-PO to poll the reaction of the student body, faculty, and administration to the idea. Perhaps problems would arise, but we would like to find out, from you readers, what these problems would be.

Fill in this questionnaire and place it in an envelope addressed to the HI-PO, Campus Mail. Submit comments by February 12.

Check one.

Down Al's Alley

Dean Cole in Assembly

Dean Cole has announced that he will appear in the February 10, assembly to answer any questions which members of the student body might have concerning academics on the High Point College campus. He has stipulated that faculty members are to be excluded so that students will be able to feel free to discuss any questions which they might have.

The suggestion was made that perhaps if the students would like Mr. Farmer to be present, he would be asked to do so. Perhaps timid students could be convinced to speak more freely when they learn that without their glasses these two men are not able to see the persons who ask questions.

This assembly was proposed by Dean Cole, and it is hoped that the students will take this opportunity to find out about their college community.

Cafeteria

Have you noticed the innovation in the cafeteria's lunch line? I feel sure that the entire student body would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Wright for creating a sandwich line as this not only eliminates the length of the regular dinner line, but also allows students who do not have time for a regular, full meal to be able to obtain good, nourishing food.

Artists To Appear In HPC Concerts

On February 20, the Federated Music Clubs Piano Contests will be held in the Rehearsal room in the Fine Arts Building at 12:00 noon. This event is sponsored by the Federated Music Club, and all students and interested individuals are invited to attend.

Daniel Ericourt, an artist in residence at UNC-C, will appear February 12. He is a specialist in impressionistic music, but the program he will present here will be one of variety. Tickets are two dollars and proceeds will go to the endowment fund of the YMCA which is sponsoring the concert. Dr. Lewis is selling tickets on campus.

March 1, marks another Community Concert. The Boston Pops Orchestra will make an appearance then.

The Winston-Salem Symphony will feature a duo piano team on March 26; the program has not been announced as yet.

Miss Sharon Lurratt will give a recital on March 28. In fact, every third Wednesday in the month a student recital will be held at 3:00 p.m. in the auditorium.

All these events will take place in Memorial Auditorium on the High Point College campus.

Letter To The Editor

January 4, 1965

Dear Editor:

In reply to a letter that appeared in the December 18 issue of the HI-PO, we would like to inform "we-boys" of HPC that there most certainly are "individuals" in the form of girls on this campus. Perhaps we are not turning summersaults to attract your attention, but we are here.

If you look far enough, or open your eyes wide enough, you might find a girl who was walking in the rain and feeding the ducks at city lake long before you ever came along. You might find a girl who prefers a "rose and a baby-ruth" to a little red sports car, or a date to the Castaways. If you crane your neck past the sorority "line-up" in the cafeteria, you might find a girl — a GDI — who is not only interesting, but interested as well. What is "interesting" anyway? Webster defines it as "engaging the attention, arousing interest." Is there something special we can do to engage your attention? Please let us know and we will hop to it.

One small closing thought: To be really interesting, a person must feel interesting, and what girl feels special when she is asked out for Saturday night Saturday afternoon at 4:32? Perhaps if the boys of HPC (who seem completely conformed on this count) would lower themselves to ask for a date at least a day in advance, they would find less "ticky-tacky" and more individuals.

-The Group.

Women's Corps Recruits Coeds

On February 18, 9:30-4:00 p.m., representatives of the Women's Marine Corps will be visiting in the Student Center in order to interest girls in their organization and to recruit interested seniors.

THANK YOU

A great big "Thank you" comes to students from your library for your contributions of Christmas decorating ideas. You cooperated, and we used your ideas. Result? Some of the most effective Christmas decorating we have had yet!

Community Theatre Prepares Evening of Entertainment

By Sandra Tate

A New England house that is a rendezvous for undiscovered jewels as well as a closet in which bodies keep appearing and disappearing, set the stage for "Exit the Body," by Fred Carmichael. This funny, slap-stick comedy of the Max Sennette variety will be presented by the Community Theatre in Memorial Auditorium on March 5 and 6, under the direction of Charles Austin of Greensboro.

An author, played by Janet Steineisen, buys a New England home in order to find solitude in which to write. In and out of the house (and closet) pass a charade of characters, each in search of hidden jewels. Bill Duke plays the role of Randolph who is such a "bad" crook that he must carry a manual of criminal instructions with him. Also adding to the fun and mystery of the play are such characters as friends of the author: one who loves to hang her husband in the closet, a sheriff who seems to come right out of an old almanac, and a real-estate lady whose "yoo-hoos" would deem her a better member of the Audobon Society.

Student tickets for the performance are seventy-five cents. Mrs. Arnie Halo, president of the Community Theatre, invites students to join the work crew of the play or to drop by Blair Park Clubhouse to watch rehearsals.

Beginning March 17-19, the Student Christian Association will present "The New Morality" for Religious Emphasis Week. Waldo Beach, author of Conscience on Campus, will address the student body at assembly on March 17. After Mr. Beach's presentation, the program will consist of the movie "La Dolce Vita," possible discussions of the Playboy Philosophy, discussion groups, and other activities to stimulate our thoughts.

What is "The New Morality"? Well, it is like this — ? ? ? To whom does it apply? WE — the students, the faculty, the administration, and the INDIVIDUAL. What is its purpose? The purpose of "The New Morality" is to establish a new Law, which really is not new at all. What is this new Law? Supposedly, it is the Law of Love, but unfortunately the Law of Love has a contender — the Law of Luv. What is the Law of Luv? Well, it is like this — ? ? ? (?) Sound like nonsense? Well — ? ? ? (??)

Library Sponsors Annual Contest

High Point College Library again is assuming the responsibility for participation in The Amy Loveman National Award. This award is sponsored by The Book of the Month Club, Saturday Review and Women's National Book Association. The award is $1,000.00 given annually to a senior for the best personal library collected by an undergraduate student at any 4-year college or university in the United States. A college may make one nomination for The National Amy Loveman Award. The senior nominee must be the senior winner of a local award for the best student personal library.

The local contest on the campus is open to freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors, and a local award will be given for the best personal library collected by any undergraduate student, regardless of classification. Freshmen will have the same opportunity as seniors to win the local award. Just what this local award shall be will be determined and announced a little later. The Library sponsors this national award each year, so that all students, when they become seniors, will be eligible to compete for The Amy Loveman National Award. By way of summary, note the following points:

1. All students are eligible to compete for the local award. Seniors are eligible to compete for The Amy Loveman National Award also.
2. Students to participate must have in their personal libraries: freshmen - 20 books; sophomores - 25 books; juniors - 30 books; seniors - 35 books. You may enter more books if you choose. The above is the minimum.

For more facts and specifics, see Miss Carter or Mrs. Hamilton at the Library.

Class To Attend Various Dramas

by P. Foy

By the end of the semester HPC may be responsible for the birth of eleven budding young drama critics — the students who are taking English 323, Modern Drama. Members of the class, Linda Brewer, Jenova Haines, Ellis Hodgin, Ruth Howey, Eve Jones, Shirley Key, Carol Pope, Al Rauch, George Roycroft, Eddie Sigmon, and Susan Cook, have elected this class in order to obtain a better understanding of the modern drama as a valid form of art as well as a source of pleasurable entertainment.

Objectives

According to Dr. Sam Underwood, head of the English Department, each member of the group will develop individual ideas not only through contact with the printed play, but also through the practical experience of seeing various plays staged and performed. He says that he is teaching the course with a threefold purpose in mind: (1) to give students a chance to see plays staged, produced and directed; (2) to enable students to be able to identify as many dramatic types as possible, such as melodrama, comedy, farce, etc.; and (3) to enable the student to gain experience in constructive criticism.

Field Trips

As a supplement to the classroom work, a series of field trips have been organized in co-ordination with theatrical groups of various North Carolina colleges and universities. On Thursday, January 27, several members of the class traveled to Agricultural and Technical College in Greensboro to see their production of "Teahouse of the August Moon," by John Patrick. The group received the play with unfavorable comments. As Shirley Key herself an actress in many Tower Player productions, said: "The acting, although very good in a few scenes, was, on the whole, bad. The cast failed to pick up cues on time, thus giving a very involved, moving plot a lagging effect." Al Rauch thought the lighting detracted not only from the players, but also from the sets, some of which were quite beautifully made.

Other groups which the class plans to visit are the Pfeiffer Playmakers who will produce an absurdity, "The House of Bernarda Alba," on February 10-12; UNC-G's productions, the melodrama, "East Lynne," March 18-20, and "Desire Under the Elms," May 6-8; and Elon's group who will present some original one act plays March 4-6, and "South Pacific," May 6-8. The class has also received a special invitation to see the Carolina Playmakers' (UNC) presentation, "Billy Budd," March 30-31, and to come backstage afterwards for a discussion of the acting, staging, etc., with the cast members.

Supplementary Work

The Modern Drama class is being offered in co-operation with Mr. Drapeau's directing course, Speech 304, this year. Many of the members of English 323 are also taking Directing; although this is not required, students taking both courses find that the experience gleaned from one course tends to supplement their performance in the other.

AXA To Attend Campus Capers

Once again Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity is presenting the people with talent on the High Point College campus on opportunity to express themselves in the annual production of Campus Capers, Opus V. This year the talent show will be held on Friday, February 19. The show will be directed by C. J. Neal and Fred Schraplau.

In its fifth year of production, this year's show promises to be the best show ever. Auditions for the show will be held Monday and Wednesday, February 8 and 10 at 4:30 p.m. in the bandroom of the Fine Arts Building. Rehearsals will begin on Wednesday, February 17, and Thursday, February 18, at 7:30 in the auditorium.

Anyone who is interested in trying out for the talent show and has any questions about it, please contact C. J. Neal, Fred Schraplau, Jim Surratt, or Dick McDowell. Tickets will go on sale next week, and they may be purchased from any member of the Lambda Chi Fraternity. The advance ticket price is 75¢ and $1.00 at the door.

Conrad Announces Summer Program

Dr. Harold E. Conrad, Director of the High Point College Summer sessions first term will begin June 7 and run through July 13 with the second term to begin July 14, ending August 21.

Dr. Conrad advises that courses offered during the summer sessions cover the majority of the curriculum areas offered during the regular session. He also states that any courses not offered in the Summer School Curriculum may be organized if no less than eight students request a particular course and a faculty is available to provide the instruction.

The High Point College summer session will offer courses in Art, Biology, Business Administration, Chemistry, Economics, Education, English, French, German, Geography, History and Political Science, Library Science, Mathematics, Music, Physical Education, Psychology, Religion, Sociology, Spanish, and Speech.

Editors

Dr. Sam Underwood, who is on the board of judges this year, will present a speech, "How To Earn A Medalist Rating for Your Newspaper," at the meeting of the press Advisors Association.

This conference was established a number of years ago in an attempt to evaluate college newspapers and yearbooks. Similarly, several members of the Piedmont University Center met at Pfeiffer College on November 20 and 21 for a small scale discussion of their problems and goals of small college publications. As a result of this meeting, the group drew up a proposal for the incorporation of a Committee of College Communications Media into the structure of the Piedmont University Center. The proposal was presented to Dr. Kepple, director of the center, on December 2 by several representatives of the Pfeiffer Conference: Jim Doxsey, editor of the Pfeiffer News; Hettie Fowler, from Queens College; All Willis, from Belmont Abbey; Bill Pruitt, from Catawba College; Jim Rice, from Lenoir Rhyne; and Phyllis Foy, from High Point College. Dr. Allen Thacker of Pfeiffer accompanied the group as advisor.

Intramurals

Pikas Reign In Frat Standings

The intramural competition has been very intense since the last issue of the HI-PO. Three different championships have been decided: volleyball, ping-pong, and badminton.

The volleyball championship was won by Pi Kappa Alpha when they defeated the independent league champions, the Royals. The final standings in the fraternity league were: Pi Kappa Alpha (5-1), Theta Chi (3-2), Delta Sigma Phi (2-2), Lambda Chi Alpha (2-2), and Alpha Phi Omega (0-4). In the independent league the final standings were: Royals (4-1), Pot Bellies (2-2), Hot Dogs (2-2), and Delta Sigma Phi No. 2 (1-3).

Panther Power Remains Threat To Conference

Tuesday night the High Point Panthers again demonstrated why they are ranked number two among small colleges in the nation. The 100 to 81 victory over Guilford was impressive. Played before a crowd of over 4,800, the Panthers came from behind in the first half to swamp the Quakers.

Four of the Panthers again scored in double figures. Kirk Stewart led the way with 22 points. Steve Tatgenhorst hit for 19 points while Barry Smith collected 18 and Dale Neel 13. Joe Forte and Larry Cheatham tallied 8 points each.

During the first half, High Point hit on 61.8 per cent of their shots from the floor. The final statistics showed that they had hit on 37 of 67 from the floor giving them a 55.2 per cent average for the game.

Substitutes Cheatham and Bill Green proved to be valuable when two of High Point's starters were in foul trouble.

The Associated Press poll rates High Point as the second best team among the small colleges in the United States. The High Point College team has received 135 points in the poll which includes two first-place votes. The results from this week's poll are not available as of the Hi-Po's deadline. High Point has been in the poll since the poll started this season, and has maintained second place behind Evansville for the last few weeks.

Zenith Completes Work For Year

It was with mixed feelings that we, the 1965 Zenith staff, put the annual publication to bed on the fifteenth of February. Some of the staff members had the privilege of delivering the final pages, the result of many long hours of thought and hard work, to the publishing company in Charlotte at which time we were given the opportunity to tour the publishing plant and to see our efforts begin to materialize as the pages found their way through the maze of departments leading to final publication.

Publication To Be Unique

The Zenith staff is a representative body, composed of members of each of the four classes, acting in behalf of the student body of High Point College. A wide variety of thoughts, ideas, and suggestions has contributed to the uniqueness of the 1965 Zenith, hopefully leading the way to better publications in years to follow.

Zenith Feature Academics

In the Zenith this year a great deal of emphasis has been placed on academics, this being the primary purpose of a college education. This is not to say that other activities have been excluded. We feel that organizations, social life, sports, and emphasis on spiritual growth are all an integral part of the life of a college; however, they should not be placed in a position of primary importance.

Co-operative Staff

The staff has worked hard to produce the kind of publication that you, the student body, can be proud of. Much cooperation and co-ordination of efforts is necessary in any undertaking of this sort. We, the Zenith staff, have been proud to represent you; however, now that the annual has been put to bed for 1965, plans must begin to take shape for next year. Your suggestions, opinions, and advice are invited but, most important, it is you who are needed. The Zenith is an annual publication of the student body of High Point College. Without your support and participation such a publication must be discarded.

S.G.A. Prepares For '65 Elections

The S.G.A. elections are approaching quickly. All petitions for offices in the Student Government must be turned into the secretary of the S.G.A., Brenda Symmes, by March 2, 1965.

On March 3 the various candidates for office will present their campaign speeches in assembly. The following Wednesday, March 10 the voting headquarters in the Student Center will be open from 11:00-5:00.

The installation of the new officers will then take place during the assembly Wednesday, March 17.

Qualifications for holding offices in the S.G.A. are as follows: The President shall be elected from the rising senior class. The Vice President shall be elected from the rising junior or senior class. The Secretary and Treasurer shall be elected from the rising junior or senior class.

Nominations for candidates for the officers of the Executive Council shall be made by petition signed by at least 100 students. No student may sign more than one petition for any single office. Petitions must be submitted three weeks prior to the date designated for elections.

All these qualifications have been stated in the Student Handbook, published by the Students of High Point College.

Brochures Donated For Chemistry Dept.

High Point College has received a gift of more than $1000 for brochures from Chemical Coatings manufacturers, who sponsor the High Point College Chemical Coatings Center.

Dr. E. O. Cummings, Professor of Chemistry at High Point College, and Director of the Chemical Coatings Center, received a sample brochure from Mr. Grant Arhart, Chairman of Literature and Publicity Committee of the Chemical Coating Center and Technical Director of the Desoto Chemical Coatings, Inc., at the Desoto plant, today.

These brochures, which describe the program of Chemical Coatings instruction at High Point College and indicate opportunities in the industry, will be sent to prospective students across the country.

The Chemical Coatings courses at High Point College provide the theoretical and practical foundation for a career in the protective coatings industries. Courses in this field are elected by the students who qualify and are an integral part of the curriculum leading to the B.S. degree in Chemistry. The laboratory work which is required for this course is carried on both in the laboratories of the college and in nearby plants.

Homecoming Review

Alumni Return for Festivities

More than 1500 alumni came back to H.P.C. to celebrate Homecoming. Over 500 came from out of town; some came from as far away as New York just for the weekend.

All seemed to enjoy the "Shirelles" Saturday afternoon, the displays on the lawn and the Greek pep rally. The trophies for the best sorority cheer and display went to Alpha Gamma Delta. Lambda Chi Alpha was the fraternity that won the trophy for the best fraternity display, while Theta Chi received the trophy for the best fraternity cheer.

C. J. Neal was crowned Homecoming Queen during half time of the basketball game Saturday night. The Homecoming court was also presented. The members of the court were: Sherry Snow, Delaine Jurney, Julie De Gooyer, Ann Greco, Nancy Briggs, Joy Hassel, Sharon Letherbury, Dianne Holt, Sandy Collins, Vickie Cole, and Jeanne McCollum.

Various comments were made by the students about the Homecoming Program. C. J. Neal thought the weekend was a big success. She felt that the half time of the basketball game was more effective than it had been because the lights were dimmed and people did not all jump up and leave the stands. She added that there is room for improvement, however. She pointed out that suits might have been more practical than gowns.

Jim Duggan thought Homecoming "came off well." He stated that there was a sufficient number of planned activities which were not overly done. Jim added that he was glad we did not have our usual weekend downpour for Homecoming.

Jim noted that the pep rally was well planned this year for the Greeks. As far as the displays went, he thought they were good. The audience participation in the half time activities was a good idea.

Wynne Austraw enjoyed the "Shirelles", but thought they did not perform long enough. Because they were a half hour late, they only performed for one and a half hours. She mentioned that "the guitar player was good."

Wynne also commented about the game. She said that the action kept one alert. She did not think that half time was as dramatic as it was built up to be, though.

Jim Walters also thought the concert was good once it started. He thought it was rather distracting, however, that half the band wasn't there, that the microphones were not working properly, and that the "Shirelles" were late.

When asked about the dance Friday night Jim answered, "The Fabulous Five can't help but be good." He did not think the time of the dance should have been changed, though. That was an inconvenience to many, he added. As a whole, he thought there was enough going on to keep most students occupied.

Faculty Organizes NEA Unit On Campus

High Point College faculty who are members of the North Carolina Education Association have organized a High Point College "unit" of that organization.

In a recent meeting, members of the association elected officers for the unit. Dr. Leopold M. Hays, Professor of Sociology, was elected president; Dr. L. B. Pope, Director of Counseling, was elected as vice president; and Miss Ruth L. Worthington, Assistant Professor of Education and Psychology, was elected secretary and treasurer.

The "unit" held a meeting February 22 to review the program and goals of this professional organization, elected delegates to the annual convention to be held in Asheville March 18-20, to vote for state officers of the NCEA and elect delegates to the National Education Association's Annual Convention to be held later in the year.

The organization of this unit of the NCEA at High Point College is another indication of the interest of the faculty in advancing the effectiveness of the teaching profession.

Campus Viewpoint

Cuts vs. the Acquisition of Knowledge

Admittedly cuts are an imposition to us all. For this reason, the present system should have more latitude. Why we as individuals seek a revision of this system, however, is the real issue. (At this point, it should be mentioned that this writing is not a re-statement of the somewhat encouraging, somewhat spotty talk administered to the student body by Dr. Cole.)

But while you are pondering over this issue, let us look at a related issue for a moment. This issue is (in the form of a re-statement) "why did we come to college?" Goals in life are as varied as grains of sand on a wind-swept beach. Many of us enter college with one set of goals and leave with others. Some of these changes are hopefully a step upward in the development of a human being.

In a special assembly last year, Dr. Walter Spearman of the University of North Carolina Journalism Department gave a vivid talk in praise of books. Wonderful, wonderful books! So much a part of life, so fulfilling are books! This was the essence of this man's message. Reflecting on that assembly, one realizes after having read for pleasure that books are the bridge to the acquisition of knowledge and in time, the love of knowledge. You don't have to be a genius or an odd-ball to develop this love, but truly it is something that must be developed with time. True Epicurians maintain that the only lasting pleasures are those of the mind. This sounds absurd in the light of those things we can hear (the Shirelles), feel (that good-night embrace[s]), and taste (that delightful beer and pizza at the "Rat"). It would seem, however, that social development is, but one phase of our total development. Have we really given ourselves the opportunity to taste the reward of having mastered the finer points of our elected fields and other fields in the completion of our "liberal" education?

Have you ever been really stimulated by a subject of discussion to do some outside reading about it on your own — to really get to the heart of the question through personal, rewarding research? This research does not always entail a great deal of time to obtain a satisfactory answer.

Have you ever wondered how rock and roll originated? The real answer is not Bill Haley and his Comets! Did you ever stop to think that other peoples in the world might make love differently than you? What about kissing in India? And where in the world do they drink beer that is cooled only a little below room temperature — and love it! And so it goes as the mind goes forth in its limitless, exciting journey.

Now back to our cut system. Time here at this institution is so short in the final analysis — why sweat cuts? It's true that even the most organized scholar could use some additional cuts. Perhaps this is in the realm of possibilities, but who really needs unlimited cuts? Many mornings we all feel like never getting up, but how many really would if they didn't have to? Is this an underestimation? We all like to travel, but how many would "travel" right out of school if they did not have to worry about that 8:20 on Monday morning? Of course much of this applies to a minority, but minorities have a way of affecting majorities. What do you think? Let's hear your opinion by the next publication of your freedom-loving, "un-cut" newspaper.

—D.S.

A Modest Proposal

In the last issue of the HI-PO a question was posed. The opinion of the student body at large was solicited on an idea which had arisen in a general bull session. For those students who read, and we trust there are some few, but have short memories, we will restate the issue: Opinions concerning mutual dormitory visiting permission were requested. Though the replies were not overwhelmingly abundant, we found that a formidable number of individuals replying favored the idea of mutual visiting permission.

Among the comments received were statements suggesting that not being able to entertain members of the opposite sex in one's own room was "against all the natural laws of a gregarious being." Others suggested that the idea wouldn't be feasible because of "the present dorm layout of community bathrooms, etc." (???). One young lady intimated that the mere proposal of such an issue proves that HPC men have no respect for HPC "girls." The disillusioned young lady went on to expound on her beliefs that morals should be raised not lowered. We fail to see any direct correlation between the question asked and morals, mother, or apple pie.

Realizing that rules and policies are not made by the students, we decided to consult individuals in the department of student personnel, including the student personnel office, and the resident counselors. We found that these individuals were unanimously, though amiably, opposed to "wholesale" open house. One enlightened lady suggested a bi-annual open house, perhaps around Christmas and again in the spring. This seems acceptable and perhaps should be pursued farther.

As for the prospect of regular visitations in the foreseeable future, "it seems to have as much chance as an Arab in Israel." —R.W.H.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Living in the Past, Present or Future?

The article about dorm visiting privileges and the "New Morality," I viewed with considerable interest. Do I detect a progressive element in the "conservative" South? Perhaps this is the "New South" just following along with the rest of the country, a step or two behind.

This, of course, isn't necessarily true, or it doesn't have to be.

This could be just part of the "New American Society," whether we call it the "Great Society," or "Equality for All" is of no concern.

The fact remains, that the archaic institutions are giving way to more realistic ones — ones which future generations will live in.

Old institutions have given way to new ones since time "in memoriam," and will until the bomb . . . it's later than you think!

Holding back social progress is like saying you believe in personal immortality as an article of faith, and denying it as a philosophical proposition.

Looking through my rose-colored glasses, I see future students living in accordance with the morality of society and not aloof from it; thus, enabling students to view life more realistically.

The future holds no double-standard. Upperclassmen will live in student apartments with wall to wall carpeting, swimming pools, and privacy.

Since the intellect will be the supreme value, prejudices regarding religion, race, sex, will disappear.

The period from "inorganic" to "organic" matter, to the "dematerialization" of matter, is too short a cycle to be concerned with Biblical justification of social injustices.

The restrictive American society has made the car a pent-house without modern conveniences.

The enlightened American invites a young couple into the "home" for a "root-beer." The others have theirs in a pent-house.

The "loco parental" policies of higher institutions are as outdated as laissez-faire government!

For some, the day of the realist is at hand, for others, a step or two behind; but, the gateway of reality has already shut behind us, as sure as the "ultra-conservatives" lost last November.

—Wayne Furman.

Dear Editor:

The tradition of "Sunday night at the movies" is not original to national television. It has been a tradition at H.P.C. for several years.

The program of regularly scheduled movies is sponsored by the S.G.A., and co-ordinated by the Tower Players. This year, in general, and this semester in particular, a concerted effort has been made to upgrade the quality of movies shown on campus. Movies such as "The World of Suzie Wong," "Hatari," and others have been scheduled.

In this attempt to bring better movies on campus, we have met with the problem of fi-

A Good Story

by P. Foy

I'm sure the headline must catch your eye, and I can just imagine what strange thoughts must be running through that curious little mind of yours. But rest assured that I will not leave you without explanation.

Several weeks ago a friend of mine complained, "Oh, I'm so sick and tired of reading editorials which are continually condemning the student, pointing up all the bad qualities and never mentioning that we are not really a terrible group of people; we have our bad qualities, sure; but we have our good qualities too."

My friend is absolutely correct, too. HPC and the people who attend are not really a decadent society. The greater majority of these people are active, interested, creative students. If at times they appear to be apathetic, it is because the doctrines of apathy are preached to them so often that they become inculcated into the individual just as the doctrines of Democracy, Communism, or Socialism have become an integrated part of those persons who live under their auspices.

If my fellow student really did not "care," I dare say that he would not be proud of the excellent record that the fightin' Panthers are making for his school; in fact, if the student really did not care, I rather doubt that the basketball team would have maintained such an excellent record. No matter how well a person or group can perform some feat, he will not continually perform well if no one is there to give him encouragement when the way looks gloomy and black.

Furthermore, would we have organizations like the Tower Players, fraternities and sororities, English clubs, Business clubs, SGA, SCA, or publications such as ZENITH, HI-PO, or APOGEE if students were not interested and creative?

Look around you students — we are a good group. We are not bound to our own little cliques — there is always a smile and friendly "hello" awaiting us at every corner. We are not bound to stand in awe of our faculty and administration members — we are expected to respect them, yes, but still we can discuss problems and present ideas to them as though they were personal friends.

I have heard from various sources that HPC students only give the community of High Point a bad impression. This may be true of a minority of students; I do not know. However, I do know of an instance where a young man who was seated on a crowded bus enroute to the college gave his seat to an elderly lady who did not have one. I am impressed that this deed was that of a HPC student, one of those supposedly terrible HPC people.

Okay, gang! I could go on all day, but it's like my friend pointed out — we are not really the lethargic mass we are often accused of being. Why don't you take a look around and just see how many attributes you can find prevalent in our college society?

—P.F.

New Morality Theme For Religion Week

By Sandy Tate

A leading exponent of the new morality is Playboy Magazine (with their own definition of the new morality). The "Playboy Philosophy" is in opposition to any tyranny over the freedom of man whether involved in the name of the state or in the name of God. Playboy is especially critical of organized religion which, they believe, has our present ethical code wrapped in puritanical and hindering garb. Playboy insists that religion must stop presenting a desexualized, sanitized, cellophane-wrapped society to us. It is a well known fact, they conclude, that in an age of automation and bombs that we profess one set of standards (religious) and live quite another. Logically, therefore, sexuality is not the problem, but anti-sexuality is.

The controversial figure of John A. T. Robinson does not fail to express his opinion of the new morality either. Writing in his book, Christian Morals Today, Bishop Robinson expresses the belief that the Christian, in searching for a set of ethics, is questioning the law. In fact, the individual is driven back to base his ethics, not upon law, but on love. All that is really required is a deep concern for persons as whole persons in their entire social context. To those who really care for persons as persons, sharing of sex and life at every level is an expression of love—of love beyond the law.

Upon what standards are these philosophies based? How far will they continue? To what extent will they go? Remember Religion in Life Week "The New Morality" on March 17-19.

Mr. J. Wilson Rogers, professor of business, is the present colonel of the local Bloodmobile unit. He hopes to organize a drive for blood at H.P.C. in April.

Don Bryant has his blood pressure checked by Mrs. Crow, the wife of Dr. Earl Crow, professor in the religion department.

Here Don is having a blood sample taken to see if he had enough iron in his blood.

Mrs. Goodwin, an instructor of English, is also a member of the Red Cross Bloodmobile and aids in the registration of donors.

Don is filling a plastic bag with his blood while another nurse looks on to make the process more enjoyable.

Fraternities Participate In Civic Projects

Fraternities are not all bad. In the past, college fraternities have been looked on as a group of semi-adult college delinquents.

High Point College fraternities disproved this opinion of them by becoming blood donors at the American Red Cross Bloodmobile Center recently.

Don G. Bryant, president of the Theta Chi from High Point, lead his brothers to the bloodmobile to go through with a line of blood donors from all over the city. Also taking part in the recent campaign for blood were brothers from the Pi Kappa Alpha and Delta Sigma Phi fraternities.

After receiving the necessary forms at the first table, Don had his temperature and blood pressure checked by a pretty nurse who is the wife of Dr. Crow.

A doctor listened to his heart to discover if he had a heart ailment.

Another nurse questioned him about any diseases he might have had and pierced his finger for a blood sample to find out if he had enough iron in his blood, and for typing purposes.

Going to another table, he was given a glass of water and handed a plastic bag, which he took to the donor's room where another nurse had him stretch out on a table. She injected a small needle in his arm and the bag began to fill. A few minutes was all it took, and Don was led to a refreshment bar where he had a coke and some cookies.

His blood was sealed off in the plastic bag and put into an iced container with several other pints of blood.

Don enjoyed his cake and asked if he would be able to give another pint saying, "I feel pretty good."

Mr. Rogers also wants to encourage the co-eds on campus to donate their blood if the Bloodmobile visits our campus in April.

These cases contain the blood which people have donated. They are refrigerated to keep the blood fresh until it can be processed.

Second semester really got off with a bang with the Homecoming activities providing a lot of campus spirit. The fraternities and sororities are to be congratulated for the fine presentation which they made during the pep rally and the building of the homecoming displays. The Alpha Gams and the Lambda Chis both received awards for their fine displays. Congratulations are also in order to the Alpha Gams and the Theta Chis for proving that they are the best cheerers on campus. On the whole everyone displayed fine campus spirit throughout the weekend.

So much for Homecoming. The Delta Sigs are again pulling their forces together to get off to a good start for the spring semester. Some of their plans include the "Sailor's Ball," the second semester party March 6 featuring the "Playboys." Incidentally, after the Homecoming dance Saturday night, I believe that the "Playboys" who are sensational could now give the "Fabulous Five" a run for their money. Delta Sig also has three new pledges, Jimmy Cook, Ron Sowenthal, and H. B. Thomas.

Tau Kappa Epsilon is enjoying its new lounge in Millis Dorm. TKE's have elected new officers recently. They are: Don Crossley, president; David Thomas, vice president; John Stumle, secretary; and Bob Thurston, treasurer. Their pledge class officers are president, Joe McNulty and secretary-treasurer, Gene Treants. Congratulations to Jim Moore who is a transfer student from U.N.C. and recently pledged TKE. On Saturday night February 6, the TKE's had a party in their lounge. Chaperones for the affairs were Mr. and Mrs. Dalby. Dr. Miller has recently been made an associate brother of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Lambda Chi Alpha has elected new officers for 1965-66. They are: President, Gray Macy; Vice President, Jeff Seaford; Secretary, Chip Copley; Treasurer, Wayne Eaton. Rush Chairman is Lennon Shipp while Steve Walker has been made pledge trainer. Ritualist is Bob St. John. Elected as the I.F.C. representative was Dave Mason. Art Smith has been elected to the post of Scholarship. Tom Christold has been made House Manager and Steve Deloppe has been appointed social chairman.

The Lambda Chis initiated six new brothers. They are: Charles Prestley, Art Smith, Earl Senger, Steve Sennigan, Bob St. John, and Dave Mason.

The Lambda Chi brothers and pledges had one of their "parties" at the New South Motel. Music was supplied by the "Untouchables." Needless to say fun was had by all. The fraternity is looking forward to the big events to come in the following months which include the "White Rose Ball" and a beach trip.

nances. Since the movies are of a higher quality, it naturally follows, that the price is also higher. This is being brought to the attention of the student body, in the hope that attendance will increase at our Sunday soirees, thereby enabling us to schedule even better movies next year. Better movies are available, but, they cannot be obtained without the support of the students.

Varied activities, including movies, group discussions, panels, and other group techniques, are planned to suggest some answers to these problems.

Students Lauded For Achievements

By Gina Venning

How often do you have someone else tell you what a good job you are doing? Better still, how often do you tell someone else how much you appreciate what they have done for you and the school?

Special thanks, I feel, are in order for many on campus—to those people who help to run our student government, Tracy McCarthy, Brenda Symmes, Art Warren, and Don Bryant; to Al Rauch, who works steadily for many hours in trying to bring us news and comments about what we want to hear; to Carol Parrish, who with her staff has just completed work on our annual; to the individual members of our basketball team, who devote many long hours regularly to make our team one of the best ever; to Eve Jones, who has gone beyond the call of duty as president of the Woman's Dorm Council.

Also deserving recognition are those people who get up early and stand up three times a day to serve us our meals; those people spending many long hours, both day and night in the infirmary; those people at our switchboard who must have many frustrating days; those people who put up the mail despite all the commotion outside; and those many people who hold other campus jobs.

Many more deserve a special word of thanks. There just is not enough space here to name them all. A smile and a kind word is all it takes to let people know you appreciate what they are doing. It takes many people to make a successful college community.

All rising juniors and seniors are urged to contact Miss Carol Parrish, Editor-in-Chief of the Zenith, to make application for the following staff positions for the 1965-66 Zenith. The positions open are: Editor-in-chief, Associate editor, Photographer, and Business Manager.

Worthy To Visit Scandinavia

C. M. Worthy, a sophomore High Point College student, has been selected by the Board of Education of the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church to take part in the Scandinavian Caravan this summer.

A tentative schedule is being prepared by the World Travel Agency for a week in England and Scotland, five weeks in Norway, Sweden, Finland, and Denmark, and three weeks touring in Europe.

The caravan will leave June 3, by ship and return to the United States in August by plane.

The purpose of the trip is to visit youth camps and visit Methodist churches in the Scandinavian countries where they are considered a minority group.

Four girls and four boys have been chosen to make the trip. They will be living in the homes of Methodists in these various countries.

This past summer C. M. Worthy worked at Camp Tekoa where visitors from the Scandinavian countries met him. C. M. became interested in the program and applied to make the exchange trip to their countries.

C. M. expressed the opinion that these people will probably be most interested in learning about the race problems which we are having in the United States.

This experience should provide valuable pre-ministerial training, as Mr. Worthy plans to enter the ministry upon graduation from High Point College.

Pictured above is C. M. Worthy who is making plans to tour the Scandinavian Countries this summer. His trip is being sponsored by the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church.

Taking a shot against Elon College (in the picture at the left) is the High Point College starting freshman, Steve Tatgenhorst. Steve has proven to be a very valuable player for the Panthers this year and has contributed much to the over-all performance of the team. In the center picture, Kirk Stewart was able to gain control of the ball in the contest against Western Carolina which the Panthers lost. However, at Western the Panthers demonstrated that they could not be held down long and defeated the Catamounts of their home court for the first time after 40 games. In the pictures to the right, The Guilford game in the Greensboro Coliseum was an exciting contest in more than one way. It was the first time High Point played in the Coliseum and an extra feature of the game was the fact that the Panthers defeated the Quakers 100-81.

Girls Sports 1965

Intramurals

The 1965 Intramural Basketball Season began on February 8 for all girl's teams. The six teams which are included in this intramural program are Alpha Gamma Delta, Day Students, Dorm Students, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, and Zeta Tau Alpha.

The first night of intramurals found the Dorm students successful over Phi Mu, Alpha Gam over Zeta, and the Day students over K.D. On Wednesday night, February 17, Day students triumphed over Zeta, Alpha Gam was successful over Phi Mu, and Dorm students victorious over K.D. This leaves the teams with the following record:

	Won	Lost
Alpha Gam	2	0
Day Students	2	0
Dorm Students	2	0
Kappa Delta	0	2
Phi Mu	0	2
Zeta	0	2

These teams are led by the following girls in scoring order:

Girl	No. of games	Average
Mary Hendricks	2	20
Emily Auman	1	16
Linda Perry	2	14.5
Kaye Moody	2	14.5
Janice Lewis	2	10.5

The next intramural games will be held on February 22, with Zeta playing Dorm students, Phi Mu playing K.D., and Alpha Gam playing Day students. The games will be scheduled for 6:15, 7:15, and 8:15, respectively.

Girls Teams Winners

The Girls' Basketball Team will officially end its season Saturday, February 20, with Guilford College. The game is scheduled for three o'clock in High Point College's Alumni Gymnasium. The last time High Point College met Guilford, the score was 56-40 in favor of High Point.

An 8-0 Record

At the present time, the Girls' Basketball team has a 8-0 record. Mary Hendricks, a graduate of Allen Jay, is high scorer for the team, averaging 22.9 points per game. Three other girls are averaging in the double figures and they are: Emily Auman—11.8, Gail Harris—11.3, and Linda Perry—10.1.

Well-rounded Team

Brenda Jo Thomas has been the "quarterback" of the team and has done well. Also, Kaye Moody and Wanda Joyce have done extremely well as stationary guards, pulling down many of the rebounds. Wanda Howlett is a reserve who has helped out both on offense and defense. Beverly Moody, Ann Wallace, Lorraine Reidida, and Sylvia Solar have also played well for the team.

The team has been very fortunate this year in having so many excellent players. They now have the following record:

Sporting an 8-0 record the members of the Girl's basketball team, (front row) Wanda Joyce, Brenda Jo Thomas, Ann Wallace, Linda Perry, and Sylvia Solar; (back row) Lorraine Reidida, Kaye Moody, Bev Moody, Wanda Howlett, Mary Hendricks, and Gail Harris, have proved that not only men can play basketball.

Panthers Finish Season With First Place Honors

This year High Point College has produced one of the best basketball teams in the school's history. What has made this a great year? There are many highlights which attribute to this year's greatness. This is the first year in the history of the Carolinas Conference that a team has been rated as high nationally as this team has. The Panthers were rated number two then dropped to number three. They still remain number three up to the time of the writing of this article. One of the highlights of the season was High Point's victory over Western Carolina at Western ending a forty homegame winning streak for the Catamounts. Perhaps the most impressive victory the Panthers registered this year was over Rockhurst College. Rockhurst is the defending national NAIA champion. To beat a team such as this is a feat in itself, but when they were beaten by thirty points it serves as a great tribute to the team and the coach. Not to be forgotten is Kirk Stewart's individual scoring record of 51 points against Belmont Abby.

Interviews Scheduled For Future Teachers

Recruitment visits for interviewing prospective teachers in all the teaching fields from elementary through high school are scheduled as follows:

Date	School	Hours
March 4	Board of Public Instruction Highlands County Sebring, Fla.	10:00 - 12:00 a.m.

All students interested in being interviewed should make arrangements with Mrs. Joyce at Dr. Dennis H. Cooke's office, room 19-A, Roberts Hall, for an appointment.

Coach Quinn stated that we are a much more versatile team than any other team in the conference. The new players have gained needed experience. Quinn said, "the team has gained maturity and played consistently." Many people tend to compare this year's team to last year's team. Quinn commenting on this said the two teams were of different types. Last year was a strong and fast team with excellent bench strength and experience. This year the team has better shooting and more poise.

Hopes For Kansas

The conference tournament is currently in the sights of the Panthers. Of course everyone has high hopes of "Going to Kansas City." According to Coach Quinn our chances of doing both are very good. He gave several factors for our chances. Finishing first in the conference has an advantage. The experience of four of the five starters is invaluable, especially if the team goes to Kansas City. They have played under many different circumstances. In the last six games one or more members have been sick. They played in two coliseums as well as small gyms. This year's team has been able to hold the lead or come from behind with great poise. Even though a place in the district playoffs has been assured the team continues to give all it has to win. If High Point has the best won and lost record the first playoff game will be home, a tremendous advantage.

Conference Action

Mr. Quinn believes the opening games of the conference tournament will be harder because the lower teams in league standings are stronger than last year. As Coach Quinn put it, "anyone of five or six teams could have three good nights and win the tournament." Physical conditioning will be a big factor for the Panthers. If the Panthers go all the way, there will be three games in a row at the conference tournament. At Kansas City they will have to play five games in one week. Coach Quinn concluded the interview by stating, "I could not say enough to show my respect for the group and how they showed up to the circumstances."

Joe Forte contributed to the success of the season, among other things, to the ability of the team to adjust to many variables and different circumstances under which they had to play. He stated, that he has never been on a team that has been able to adapt itself to such varying and often, hazardous conditions. "The team can adopt to the running or the slow-down game," Joe added. Joe believes that Coach Quinn has done an outstanding job. Joe feels that the participation and enthusiasm of both students and town people was excellent, and that the cheerleaders did an outstanding job.

Much Rivalry

The only freshman starter on the team, Steve Tatgenhorst, feels privileged to play with four outstanding seniors. He added that the senior starters give him an incentive to play even harder. He attributes the team's success to the "three horses, two good guards, and one of the best coaches in the United States." Steve believes that his best game was the first game against Atlantic Christian College, and that the best team game was against Rockhurst College. One thing that surprised him was the rivalry between teams, and how the other teams wanted to beat High Point so much.

It will make no difference what the results of the conference tournament are, or whether or not the team goes to Kansas City, this year's team will long be remembered. The school and the community owe a great deal to the Purple Panthers for the honor and glory they have brought to High Point College.

Lecturer To Speak About Peace Corps

On Tuesday, March 16, the International Students Club will present Mr. Bernard Thomas to speak on the Peace Corps. Mr. Thomas' speech will concern the actual accomplishments of various Peace Corps groups in foreign countries. His discussion will be supplemented by observations of foreign students from the club. The program will be open to the entire student body at 7:00 p.m. in the Band Room of the Fine Arts Building.

The International Students Club has also recently elected Roberto Vasquez as President for the Spring semester. Mr. Vasquez was so elected to fill the vacancy left by Dan Reyes who resigned at the conclusion of the Fall semester. Elected to fulfill the treasurer's duties, which had heretofore been conducted by Mr. Vasquez, was Lynn Simone.

Other officers of the ISC include Eliza Rodriguez, vice president; Phyllis Foy, secretary; and Pat Alvarez, historian. Megg McClaine and Claire Scott compose the program committee.

Ten Students Inducted Into The Order of The Lighted Lamp

During the assembly program, Wednesday, February 24, the Induction Ceremony of the Order of the Lighted Lamp was held. The Order of the Lighted Lamp is the oldest honor society on the High Point College campus.

To be recognized and admitted into this society is the greatest honor this college can bestow upon a student. Selection for membership is based on the scholarship, character, leadership, and service of a student to the campus community.

The nominations for membership are made by the current members of the society and are approved by a majority of the faculty. Present members of the society are: Betty Rogers, Eve Jones, C. J. Neal, and Liz Oldham.

Those students who qualified and were inducted this year were: Charles Kerr, Betts Davis, Kay DeMik, Ken Gilliam, Tracy McCarthy, Myra Morris, Helen Paisley, Mike Pierce, Ann Talley, and Betty White.

The induction ceremony was conducted by the current members of the organization. Dr. Patton formally inducted the students by having them repeat the pledge of the Order of the Lighted Lamp. An address was given by Dr. Russell Montfort, Associate Pastor of First Methodist Church of High Point.

Publications Make New York Trip

On Tuesday, March 9, ten students from the publications staffs accompanied by their advisor, Dr. Sam Underwood, will leave HPC enroute to the National Columbia Scholastic Press Association Conference to be held at Columbia University in New York City.

The group will arrive in the City early Wednesday morning in time to get settled in their hotel rooms and to get a little rest before the orientation meetings at the University begin late Wednesday afternoon.

The following three days will be filled with discussion meetings concerning various aspects of publication where problems usually arise. These meetings are usually conducted on the workshop plan so as to give the individual student some practical experience under valid leadership. The conference will be concluded with a banquet at the Americana Hotel Saturday evening where the speaker will be a figure prominent in the journalistic world.

Members of the ZENITH staff attending the conference are: Nancy Tabor, and Carol Pino, while Mac Hoyt, Barbara O'Connor, Al Rauch, Dick Stinson, Jean Allen, and Phyllis Foy represent the HI-PO staff.

Biologist Visits High Point Campus

Dr. J. W. Wilson, Biologist at U.N.C.-G., was the visiting seminar speaker in the High Point College Biology Department on Monday, March 8.

Dr. William Lazaruk, Chairman of the Biology Department at H.P.C., invited Dr. Wilson to the college to lecture to biology students on "Application of Micro-Surgical Techniques to the Study of Fungus Neurospora," which is one of Dr. Wilson's research and lecture specialties.

Dr. Wilson graduated from Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill., where he earned the B.S. Degree in Physiology. At Iowa State University, he earned the M.S. Degree in Bacteriology and studied in the field of Microbiology for his Ph.D. at Stanford University, Calif. At Stanford he worked under the Nobel Prize Winners, Dr. E. L. Tatum and Dr. G. Beadle, on the hypothesis that there was one gene to one enzyme.

Dr. Wilson came to U.N.C.-G. in February, 1964 from Hartnell College, Calif. He has conducted research in the effect of Pedatory Fungi on Worm Guayuli Rubber Plants, and Blood Fractionation.

The symbol of the "New Morality," theme of Religion in Life Week March 17-19, was designed by Mr. Raiford Porter. This picture contains fragments from PLAYBOY MAGAZINE which stimulate the imagination and suggest the theme for the entire program.

"New Morality" to be Featured During Religion in Life Week

"The New Morality" will be the theme of the Religion and Life week sponsored by the Student Christian Association of High Point College, which begins March 17 with a special assembly program, in the Memorial Auditorium.

The students at High Point College will have the opportunity to decide for themselves whether or not "The New Morality" of love should supersede the old morality, the laws of the ten commandments.

Members of the student Christian Association got interested in this particular topic after some of them heard a sermon preached by Rev. Russell Montfort, Associate Pastor of the First Methodist Church in High Point. In this sermon, Rev. Montfort asked "whether our morality today is based on Playboy Magazine or on the Bible".

After reading John A. T. Robinson's book HONEST TO GOD in which he refers to the new Morality of loves versus the law, the planning committees decided upon "The New Morality" as the theme for religion and life week.

Under the leadership of Henry Thompson, a senior from Graham, North Carolina, the mechanics of putting the program for the week into operation was begun.

Dr. Waldo Beach, author of CONSCIENCE ON CAMPUS, Professor of Christian Ethics at Duke Divinity School and Duke Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, will initiate the program on the New Morality in an Assembly Program on March 17.

An award winning film, "La Dolce Vita" (American translation - "The Sweet Life") will be shown three times, 7:30 p.m. March 17, 10:20 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. March 18. This is a very provocative film which portrays a self satisfying humanistic concept as well as a deeper spiritual expression of the law of love. Some of the scenes depict the baser experiences of life from which the Modern "Playboy" attitude and Philosophy has evolved.

High Point College Team Debates in Tournament

The High Point College Debating Team traveled to the Southern Atlantic Forensic Tournament at Lenoir Rhyne to compete in debates on March 4, 5, and 6.

The High Point College Team consisted of Bill Beane, Pat Cannon, Jan Samet and Barry Levy. Bill and Pat are members of the affirmative team, while Jan and Barry are members of the negative team. They debated the question, "Resolved: That the Federal Government should establish a National Program of Public Work for the Unemployed."

Miss Bev Albright competed in a Poetry reading contest at the tournament.

Carl Savage, Professor of Speech at High Point College, accompanied the team to Lenoir Rhyne and officiated as a judge.

Dr. Patton administers the oath of the Order of the Lighted Lamp to the new members of the organization. They are: (From left to right) Charles Kerr, Betty White, Mike Pierce, Ken Gilliam, Kay

New Morality or Bankruptcy

With an ever increasing pace of life it is quite apropos to reflect upon moral values. It is also in order to caution ourselves from treating values as mere art. Neither can we justify ourselves if we participate in such an inquiry out of a sophisticated curiosity. The question of the "New Morality" is a challenge for us to come to grips with our age as participants rather than as spectators.

One of the areas which directly involves the college student as well as the public at large is that of financing a college education. The very strength of our national morality is reflected by our attitudes in this growing enterprise. Also, it holds at stake the American people's reputation as highly ethical people. It was only last November that Congress shook Wall Street and the fiber of the educational and business world in its report on the collection of the National Defense Educational Act Student Loan Fund.

The report read in part "As an example of how the collection problem has suddenly burst on the colleges, in November, 1962, only 9,394 loans were due and not collected, while six months later the number had jumped to 22,007." The percent of those whose loans were overdue without repayment was 20% or approximately one-fifth of all loans at that time due.

Just recently, at the Southern Association of Student Financial Aid Administration Convention and The College Board Convention held in Atlanta, there was considerable discussion as to how a better percentage of repayments could be accomplished. There was a general attitude that the students were not alone at fault. The lack of moral responsibility in this case fell partly upon our politicians, educators and business men as well. There has not been adequate planning and proper follow ups of this federal program.

The cause of an air of irresponsibility is not simple. There are, however, some readily perceptible indications. It partially comes from the public's stigma toward the use of the tax dollar for social and educational programs. As a result, it is just possible that a good percentage of everyone involved has enjoyed the splendor of using tax money which after all comes from the citizens pocket. The thought of repayment and collection under such an atmosphere has, therefore, become delayed afterthoughts. Much of this way of thinking is a carry-over from the popular G.I. Bill. Thus, if we wish hard enough maybe Uncle Sam will pay us to be good citizens.

Miss Margaret Meade, by a further report in Atlanta, has come up with the idea recently that "the answer to High School drop outs would be to pay our youth to go to school." This further indicates that the ingrain of a socialistic educational system from top to bottom may be a much stronger force in the States today than we might like to think. A capitalistic loan may be forced out.

If this is the trend and the way a large segment of the people feel we have to act in order to motivate society then America has the "true blue" dilemma of Rome. A "new morality" may not be apropos after all. At any rate the dollar continues to carry the name of God. As to its meaning, our generation cannot help but fall under its judgment. It may be time to declare bankruptcy. Morally, that is. The new morality may slip through our fingers with the quick buck. Anyway, I will give the reader an opportunity to take heed by referring to the wisdom of an old but ageless proverb.

"The plans of the diligent lead surely to abundance, but every one who is hasty comes only to want. The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a fleeting vapor and a snare of death. The violence of the wicked will sweep them away because they refuse to do what is just. Proverbs 21:5-7.

WHAT NEW MORALITY? WHAT PROGRESS?

LA DOLCE VITA THE SWEET LIFE LA DOLCE VITA

Does this bore you, excite you, maybe disgust you a little, or make your imagination run wild? Well, chances are, the movie itself will do the very same thing to you!

Saturday Review describes "La Dolce Vita" as the "most fascinating hours of cinema turned out in recent years; a culmination of the Italian realistic approach, the most brilliant of the movies that have ever attempted to portray the modern temper."

Time Magazine says "La Dolce Vita" is a "decadent; and artistic failure." Who's right?

Frederico Fellini, author and director of "La Dolce Vita," follows Marcello Mastroianni, a reporter who stands for Everyman, through successive stages of degradation. The movie portrays contemporary Roman life, a parable of futility, a vista of spiritual decay, and a swirl of corrupt pleasure.

Is "La Dolce Vita" a faithful mirror of certain of society's ills? Does it matter?

—Ann Talley.

The Magic of The Theatre

By Shirley Key

As I walked onto the space known as a stage, I immediately got the feeling one feels as he enters a theatre — a feeling of awe and wonder. With the rising of a curtain, this space can become anyplace anytime and we as an audience are taken on long glorious adventures into the world of the theatre. For a few hours in the dark of the theatre, we let ourselves become uninhibited and we believe whatever the play asks us to believe.

On this particular day that I walked onto the stage, I was fascinated to find a group of eight people in a semi-circle being led by a lone man; the group was in a heated discussion. As I wandered nearer, I heard them discussing empathy and aesthetic distance in relation to proscenium and arena-style productions. I made myself unnoticed by remaining behind some curtains. I dared not breathe loudly. I did not wish to break the spell, for it seemed that this discussion could have been a production itself.

The lights were dim and harsh, the mood was tense, the lines came quick, the action rose to a culmination. Then as I began to agree with the big guy with wavy hair, the director called a halt to the discussion.

It was time to make more assignments. A bell rang and the mood was over. I remained behind the curtains until the last member of the class hurried by. I came out from hiding and confronted the teacher. In my eagerness to find out just what had been taking place, I flooded him with questions. He very quietly told me that his directing class met on the stage.

I replied, "What directing class?" and he continued by giving me a rundown of the class. I found out that the class consists of several English majors, a potential drama major, a biology major and a few miscellaneous characters.

For the first month of classes they studied the techniques of directing; for the rest of the semester they will be directing scenes from various plays. The first scenes will be dramatic; the second set will be more comic in nature. Actors for these scenes will be chosen from the directing class itself and from the student body in general. Scenes are presented twice a week at either the 9:20 or 10:20 hour on Mondays and Fridays.

I realized what an outlet this could be for those who like the theatre and for those who think there are no cultural events taking place on this campus.

My friend told me that after each scene a time for constructive criticism takes place. Then the student director learns the faults and the good points about his production. At the end of the semester, each student director will direct an entire one-act play.

I realized that what was going on here was very exciting for the students involved; it could be so to anyone else who attended the scenes. I made a promise to myself to attend the next scene, for I wanted to find out just what was taking place on this stage behind the curtains in the dim lights.

Down Al's Alley

It is with mixed emotions that after this issue of the HI-PO I relinquish my title as editor-in-chief of the campus newspaper. The experience has been rewarding, even though there have been some problems which would be nice to forget. But that is another story.

My successor will be chosen from the members of the staff who attend the New York conference at Columbia University this week. Upon our return, he or she will have the responsibility of publishing the newspaper until the end of this year and next. I wish luck to the person who is elected by the staff. They will need luck, but with a little courage they will be able to put up with the job and make a go of it.

This year we are sending the newspapers to be judged by the Columbia University Press Association so that next year's staff will be able to profit from the mistakes which we have made this year. There is much room for improvement, and with the co-operation of the present staff and new members of the staff the paper will become an even more important "Voice of the Students."

This all might sound very touching, but damn it I've tried to bring you more information that was not covered before. I have made errors, and wish to express my regrets to those who might have been disturbed because of them. But in the final analysis, "Them's the breaks."

Is Morality New or Old?

When 105 (or is it 109) cadets resign from the Air Force Academy because they are involved in cheating on examinations, something is wrong. What is wrong? Is it the Academy Honor Code? or the cadets? or their parents?

When reference books disappear from the shelves of the college Library and never come back. . . . When one volume of an encyclopedia, or one page of a book that students are using, turns up missing . . . something is wrong. What is wrong? Is it the Library rules? or the students? or social custom?

The accepted customs of right and wrong are what we call morality. Morality is constantly changing with changes in the way we work, play, and travel. Many people view with alarm the changes and the breakdown of old standards. Other people point with pride to new freedom that is achieved.

Preachers claim that the Ten Commandments set the standards of morality with clean-cut demands of "Thou shalt" and "Thou shalt not." But in the twentieth century, Mount Sinai and the Commandments seem a long way off.

Library Contest Rules Listed For Local and National Awards

The members of the Amy Loveman Library Contest Committee, Dean Conrad, Dr. Halladay, Miss Carter, Al Rauch and Mrs. Hamilton, met on March 1 and decided on the following points with regards to this year's contest.

1. March 27 is the deadline for entering the contest.

2. Fifty percent of the books entered in the contest may be paper bound.

Contest entry blanks may be secured from the Circulation Desk on First or at the Desk on the Ground Floor.

It is expected that some of you will have books at your homes which you will want to use in the contest. In case you will not be going home before Easter vacation so that you can pick your books up, the Contest Committee suggests that you have them sent to you. Easter comes late this year (April 18); students would have little time to prepare books for entry between April 22 and April 23, the date you will be asked to bring your collection to the Library to be judged on April 26. As was the case last year, April 30 is the deadline for us to enter the best senior collection in The Amy Loveman National Award. The National Award deadline sets the time limit within which your library must work, so please be guided by the dates given.

By way of summary, note the following points:

1. All students are eligible to compete for the local award. Seniors are eligible to compete for The Amy Loveman National Award.

2. Students who plan to enter the contest should turn in their entry blanks to the library by March 27.

3. The awards, local and national, will be made for general collections of books, special collections, or collections devoted primarily to students' special interests.

4. Students who participate must have in their personal libraries: freshmen—20 books; sophomores—25 books; juniors—30 books; seniors—35 books. You may enter more books if you choose; the above is the minimum.

5. Fifty percent of the books which a student enters may be paper bound. The other fifty percent should be hard bound volumes.

6. All books which students are using to compete for the awards, local or national, must be submitted to the judges for examination. All books presented must have the student's name in ink or a book plate inside.

7. To ready his book collection for the contest, a student should make an annotated bibliography of his books, describing each volume and its special value or interest. If a student's collection is large, not all books need to be annotated. (See the minimum for your classification in college. If you want to exceed the minimum, you may.) But all books in your library should be listed, and, at least, the minimum number annotated.

8. Contestants should answer the following questions in writing: I became interested in building my personal library—why, how, when? My ideals for a complete home library are _____ Ten books I hope to add to my library are _____.

9. Book collections entered should be brought to the Library by the end of the day, April 23.

10. Judges (yet to be selected) will judge the collections on Monday, April 26. On April 27, the library will send via air mail the entry to The Amy Loveman National Award.

Contestants will find it helpful to keep this listing of rules and directives. Watch for posters and bulletin board announcements about the contest.

Students Present Resolution To University Center

On Saturday, February 27, two college students, Al Willis of Belmont Abbey, and Phyllis Foy of HPC, appeared before the Deans Committee of the Piedmont University Center to present to them a proposal for the establishment of a Committee on College Communications under the auspices of the Center.

Although the proposal for formation of such a continuing association was recognized as a definite need among the small colleges in Piedmont North Carolina, action on the proposal will not be taken until later in the spring.

This proposal was formulated as a result of a Publications Conference composed of several small North Carolina schools held at Pfeiffer College on November 21, 1964. A committee selected by members of the conference appeared before Dr. Keppel, Executive Director of the Center, on December 2, to investigate the probabilities of establishing such an association under the auspices of the Center. Dr. Keppel, approving the idea from an idealistic viewpoint, referred the committee to the Deans Committee for further investigation.

Other members of the original committee from which Miss Foy and Mr. Willis were selected are Mr. Jim Dossy, Pfeiffer College; Mr. Bill Pruitt, Catawba College; Miss Hettie Fowler, Queens College; and Mr. Jim Rice, Lenoir Rhyne. Dr. Allen Thacker of Pfeiffer College is the advisor of the committee; however, because he was unable to appear before the Deans Committee on Saturday, Dr. Sam Underwood of HPC appeared in his place.

Equipment Added To Science Labs

The Biology Department of High Point College has received a Micro Photographic Microscope, another piece of scientific equipment, through the Undergraduated Equipment Grant from the National Science Foundation.

Under the instruction of Dr. William Lazaruk, Chairman of the Biology Department, biology students set up this new photographic microscope and began to take microscopic pictures of slides which they had prepared.

The new Photographic Microscope will enable the students to take pictures of materials which have been magnified 1000 times. Such equipment is invaluable in Biological Sciences since photographs of minute living organisms will preserve what the student sees in the microscope.

This modern piece of Scientific Equipment will be used very extensively in independent study and research. In addition it will allow the instructors the opportunity to make projection slides which can be used in classroom lectures. Aside from the advantage of film reproduction of materials, up-to-date equipment will allow the students to become skilled in the operation of such devices so they will be able to utilize similar equipment when they enter graduate schools or accept positions in scientific laboratories.

Dr. Lazaruk foresees a better-trained college student with this equipment and plans to secure additional equipment so as to provide the students at High Point College with an opportunity to excel in the biological sciences. Looking forward to the construction of a new science building at High Point College, Dr. Lazaruk states that his task of providing better instruction and additional equipment will be greatly enhanced.

The Biology Department received the funds for purchasing this equipment from a matching grant by the National Science Foundation of Washington, D. C.

BSU Members Meet At N.Y.C. Seminar

Billy Mann and Marizell Austin represented the High Point College Baptist Student Union at a seminar about "Social Christian Concerns" in New York City January 27-31.

They were of a select number of students from twelve different colleges and universities in North Carolina.

While in New York City some of the most interesting places they attended were: Judson Church in Greenwich Village, Manhattan Baptist Church, Riverside Church, East Harlem Protestant Parish, Union Theological Seminary, Columbia University, the United Nations Building and the Inter-Church Center.

Many noted speakers were heard on the tour. Bill Smith, the head of the Baptist student work in North Carolina, accompanied the group.

New Morality Featured March 17-19

This "Playboy" philosophy of lust and self satisfaction will be compared with the new morality during group discussion meetings between 7:30 and 9:00 p.m. on Thursday, the 18th, led by adult leaders from the community who have been trained to lead the discussions. Discussion leaders for this phase of the program will include William C. Berry, Director of Instruction of the High Point City Schools System; Mr. Herbert Hipps, Head Football Coach at High Point Central High School; Dr. Christopher L. Wilson, Professor of Chemistry at High Point College; Warren Day, Director of Youth at Wesley Memorial Methodist Church; Robert A. Culler, Vice President of National Upholstery Company, High Point; Dr. Sam J. Underwood, Professor of English at High Point College; William F. Cope, Instructor of Sociology at High Point College; Dr. A. P. Gratiot, Associate Professor of History at High Point College.

Reverend Russell Montfort will address the students on Friday night, March 19, at 7:30 p.m. on the topic "The Playboy Philosophy in relation to the New Morality".

At the conclusion of his talk, Rev. Montfort will lead the students in an open discussion of the topic.

Original Drama

An original drama written by Dr. Walt Hudgins, Former Professor of Theology at High Point College and presently in that position at Greensboro College, will be enacted on the stage of the Memorial Auditorium. Students from High Point College and G. C. will provide the talent for the drama under the direction of Donald Drapeau, Professor of Speech at High Point College.

The Program Chairman, Henry Thompson, states, "We are not going to enter the week with a preconceived answer to this problem of morality. We are going to present both sides of the problem and allow each individual to decide for himself which is the best for his particular needs." He went on to say that materials have been researched and collected for both sides of the question. Articles from Life, Look, Playboy Magazine, and books on the subject of morality have been secured and will be available in the discussion periods. He concluded by saying, "This should be a week of enlightening and helpfulness to all those who participate."

Printed Program

There will be a printed program with a more detailed description of the schedule for the "Week". The programs will be given out during assembly, March 17.

The symbol on the cover of the program was designed by Mr. Raiford Porter. Jim Picklesimer, working with the publicity committee, was responsible for the initial idea.

Publicity chairman, Rachel Little, and her committee will publicize the program here on campus. Regina Davis has been working with Mr. Savage in arranging radio and television programs. Doug Shepherd was responsible for arranging the discussion groups.

Recital Given By Music Majors

The High Point College Fine Arts Department presented students of the Music Department in a recital on Wednesday, February 24, at 3:30 P.M. in Memorial Auditorium on the College Campus. Students performing are students of the Music Department faculty.

The program included: organ students Wini Bristow and Susan Cooke; piano students Kitty Hutchins and Brenda Bruce; and voice students Linda Morgan, Carolyn Blackwell, Kitty Hutchins, and Betty Jo Vaughn. The piano and organ students are taught by Miss Ernestine Fields and the voice students are taught by Mr. Charles Lynam.

A meeting of the Musical Arts Club which is a club for Music Majors and Minors, was held after the recital. President of the newly organized club is Jim Martin.

Fiedler to Conduct Boston Pops Here

The High Point Community Concert Association will present the Boston Pops Tour Orchestra in concert at 8:15 P.M., March 11, in the Memorial Auditorium of High Point College. The Orchestra is making its ninth American Tour under the direction of Boston Symphony Orchestra conductor Arthur Fiedler.

The program contains musical works of all types, ranging from the serious classical to the lighter sounds of Broadway show music. An advance program release contains: Slavonic Dance No. 7, in C Major, Op. 72 by Dvorák; Overture, "Roman Carnival," Op. 9 by Berlioz; Piano Concerto No. 1 in F-sharp Minor, Op. 1 by Rachmaninoff; Suite From Ballet, "Swan Lake" by Tchaikovsky; Clair de Lune by Debussy; Selections from "MY Fair Lady" by Lerner and Loewe; More, from "Mondo Cane" by Ortolani and Oliviero; Chim-Chim-Cheree, from "Mary Poppins", by Richard and Robert Sherman; and Hello, Dolly, by Jerry Herman.

Bravo magazine says that Mr. Fiedler might be called "the serious musician with a smile." It is through Fiedler's direction that the Boston Pops Orchestra has become one of the finest in the world.

Students of the college will be admitted without charge if they have their Student Activity Card to present at the door.

Services Extended By Library

Wrenn Memorial Library has received a new 3M Brand Dry Photo-Copier which had been on order. This machine copies from originals of all colors and from most sizes and thicknesses. (And it does this without toners, chemicals or drums!) This photocopyier does a beautiful job — we can prove it. The machine is set up on the Ground Floor, conveniently near the periodicals and just one flight of stairs away from the Reference Area on First Floor. We anticipate receiving more requests for copies to be made from periodicals and reference books.

The charge is ten cents per page. It costs the Library approximately six cents to copy one page. The additional four cents will help pay for the new machine.

If you want a copy or copies of magazine or book materials, come to the Ground Floor of your Library between 8:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. Your copy will be made while you wait. It takes less than five minutes to make a copy. Copying is quick, inexpensive AND GOOD.

District Champion Panthers Travel To Kansas City For Tournament

The Purple Panthers are Kansas City bound! Second place was not good enough for our fighting Panthers and their two victories after the Carolinas Conference tournament pointed this fact out very well. Elon did not remain the nemesis it had been. Wofford tried valiantly to down them, but could not stem the tide of the Purple Panthers which overwhelmed them in the final minutes of the game Wednesday night, March 3.

The spectacular victory over Wofford made the trip to K.C. possible. The 68-64 win was a hard fought game all the way.

Decision Made on S.G.A. Election

As a result of the March 4 meeting of the Judiciary Council the Constitution of the Student Government Association of High Point College has been altered to make it possible for Art Warren to run of election in the up-coming elections.

The members of the Judiciary Council voted unanimously to reinterpret Article VI, section III A of the Constitution of the Student Government Association as follows:

That Article VI, section III A of the Constitution of the Student Government Association of High Point College — The President shall be elected from the rising senior class — refers to a student's classification for the semester following elections.

It is felt that the spirit of the Constitution was to allow more experienced upperclassmen to hold offices in the Student Government Association.

Also, the Judiciary Council recognizes the class standing of a student as recorded by the Registrar's Office of this College.

The members of the Judiciary Council who made the decision were: Jean Anderson, Judy Stone, Linda Roberts, John Swan, Jerry Profit, John Starling, Steve Pearson, and Chief Justice, Wayne Furman.

Enrollment Up For Fall Term

In an interview with Mr. Phillips, the director of admissions, it was revealed that there have been 265 students accepted so far for the 1965-66 school year.

Students from states all along the Eastern seaboard, as well as, one student from Alaska, one from California, and one from Texas have been accepted.

The current rate of acceptance is approximately 2½ times greater this year than that of last year.

Mr. Phillips contributes the increase in acceptances to the population boom, as well as, the current success of our basketball team. However, the alumni have also become more active in recruiting students for the college.

Off hand Mr. Phillips stated that the per cent of out of state students will probably increase as more dorm space is made available.

Not until the last five minutes of the game did the Panthers pull ahead, never to relinquish the lead again.

Barry Smith and Kirk Stewart pulled the game out of the air by hitting both from the floor and the foul line. Up until these two veteran players started to spark, the game was pretty much a one sided affair.

High Point was forced to pull ahead after the team realized that they had reservations on a plane bound for K.C.

Coach Quinn was elated with his team's victory and was also rather proud of his technical fouls. "It may not be a record, but it's a pretty good average," said Quinn.

This is the second year in a row that the Panthers have received the N.A.I.A. District 26 Championship.

The team left for Kansas Sunday with a send off at the airport. High Point College students as well as jubilant citizens from the city turned out to wish the team luck.

The games in Kansas City are to be broadcast back here in High Point for those who are not able to make the trip to see the games in person.

New or Old?

When we were children, our parents told us what to do. Their rules and regulations were our standards of morality. But as we grow up, we are no longer bound by the authority of our parents, and we have to make our own choices.

The standards which stood firm in the past are fallen or shaky. Does this mean that we have no standards? no morality? Or does it mean that we must look for new standards and a new morality?

We cannot have society without morality. When the old standards fall, we build up new ones. With what shall we build?

Holiday Atmosphere Prevailed After Panther Win Over Wofford

Who needs school spirit? High Point College has it for sale cheap.

After the win over Wofford all students poured out of their dorms to welcome back the conquering Panthers.

Toilet paper decorated the trees behind Roberts Hall like it was Christmas, and students were celebrating the second birth of the N.A.I.A. basketball champions.

As Coach Quinn was hoisted to the top of the Greenbrier he looked somewhat like a kid who just opened his Christmas present under the tree. Jaws moving at ninety miles an hour, the coach conveyed the general attitude that he was pretty well pleased.

Each one of the players was given a round of applause plus many cheers. The whole thing was more satisfying than a month of Christmases.

Dean Farmer plus the house-mothers, campus cops, and delighted faculty members are to be commended for maintaining cool heads throughout the entire madness.

Some party pooper, however, called the city cops to quell the merry making. Some people just don't know what satisfaction there is to welcoming back a victorious basketball team. Of course, the cops didn't have to wear down the batteries flashing their red lights for a change. Students were pretty well broken up about this fact.

HPC Mourns Death Of Dr. Dan Cooke

Dr. Cooke's purpose was to leave with his students some portion of his philosophy.

Dr. Dan Cooke

By W. M. Bigham

The High Point College faculty and student body suffered great loss at the death of Dr. Dan B. Cooke, Thursday, March 25.

Dr. Cooke was born in Sylva, North Carolina, July 4, 1917, a son of the Rev. W. M. and Mrs. Lyla Bean Cooke. He was educated at Western Carolina College, receiving a B.S. and Master's degrees from there. He received his Doctor's degree from the University of Tennessee. In 1940 he was married to Miss Laverne Israel. For several years, he was a teacher and later became principal of the Candler Schools. While in Candler, he was president of the Lions Club and was the church organist and choir director of the Mont Morenci Methodist Church. A veteran of W. W. II, he was a 1st Lieutenant in the United States Navy. Since 1959, he was a professor of Education and Psychology at High Point College. In 1962-1963, he was given the Jerome C. Smith Award for the most outstanding professor at High Point College. The College annual, The Zenith was dedicated to Dr. Cooke.

He held memberships in the following organizations: Phi Delta Kappa, National Society for the Study of Education, American Association for Student Teaching, American Association of University Professors, National Educational Association, North Carolina Education Association, Association for Childhood Education, and life membership in the P.T.A. He was a member of the High Point Lions Club and of Church Street Methodist Church of Knoxville, Tennessee.

His funeral was held Saturday, March 27, 1965, in the Wesley Memorial Methodist Church by Dr. James G. Huggins. He was assisted by Rev. Paschal Waugh and Rev. Paul Hamilton. Burial was at the Floral Garden Park Cemetery of High Point. Dr. Patton was one of the pallbearers with the remainder of the H.P.C. faculty and administration as honorary pallbearers.

Weatherly Honored By FFVF

Dr. Owen M. Weatherly, Associate Professor of Religion and Philosophy at High Point College, has been cited by the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge to receive "The George Washington Honor Medal Award for a 1964 sermon he delivered entitled "When Are We Free".

The Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge is dedicated to the promotion of the ideals of the American way of life. Each year they cite individuals nationally and locally for outstanding accomplishments in helping to achieve a better understanding of the American way of life.

Dr. Weatherly was selected by the National and School awards jury to receive the award because of his message, "When Are We Free," which emphasized the necessity for maintaining freedom as a nation and as individuals. "To do this we must accept the responsibility which goes along with freedom," quotes Dr. Weatherly.

Wildlife Expert To Speak

Lambda Chi Alpha will present Mr. Kenneth A. Wilson, superintendent of the North Carolina Wildlife Commission in a discussion of the wildlife of eastern coastal plain and Appalachian areas in the state. His discussion will be illustrated by kodaslide. The talk will take place in the band room of the Fine Arts Building on April 2, at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Wilson is a nationally known figure who is often asked to speak in various clubs across the state. His slides and lecture comprise many years of research and experience. A special feature of his discussion will center around the cottonmouth moccasin, a snake native to this area of the country, although rarely found.

The speaker will be entertained in the private dining room of Harrison Hall earlier in the evening by the Lambda Chi Fraternity along with their advisor, Mr. McMeekin-Kerr and Mr. Farmer, director of student personnel who will be master of ceremonies for the program.

Warren, Dignan, Clark, Gilliam To Lead Student Body In '65-'66

Art Warren

Newly elected S.G.A. president, Art Warren, advocates provocation of a more active, more representative Student Legislature for the forthcoming year as well as encouragement of more participation in other campus organizations from all students.

Art won the 1965-66 Executive Council election over his opponent, George Roycroft, by a 56.2 percent margin on Wednesday, March 17.

Mr. Warren, a native New Englander, says, "I believe there is no necessity to make any drastic or abrupt changes in the policies and program of the new S.G.A. Students have been moved to a certain amount of enthusiasm and interest on an active and progressive program. Rather than changes, we, as a college community need a continuation and growth of this support."

Tom Dignan defeated John Swan for the office of vice president by a 22 percent margin. Tom's primary concern for the new year will lie in the organization and undertaking of the Fall semester orientation program. He feels that the success of the program depends upon early, careful preparation as well as the support of the student body.

The "paper work" job was awarded to rising junior, Tillie Clark. She led the race for secretary against Karen Brower by 36 percent. Tillie says that the job of secretary calls for efficient methods and fair dealings between students and administration. "I will do my best to represent both factions in the fairest possible manner," she promises.

"I will need the avid support from all students to make my job possible," says newly elected SGA treasurer, Ken Gilliam. Ken, who won over Bill Carter by 34 percent, will tackle the most involved jobs of the Executive Council, that of spending and keeping track of student funds to their best advantage.

The officers were officially installed by Dr. Wendell Patton on Wednesday, March 31.

SNEA To Elect New Officers

The Student National Education Association of High Point College will hold its final meeting of the current school year on Tuesday, April 6 at 5:15 p.m. in the dining room of the cafeteria. At this meeting Anne Booth, the president, will preside over the nomination and election of officers for next year. The speaker for this meeting will be Mrs. Janet McCurry who is the guidance counselor at High Point Central High School. She will speak to the group on the topic "The Role of the High School Teacher in Guidance." We urge that all members be present for this very important meeting.

Stout To Head '65-66 Zenith

Members of the 1964-65 ZENITH staff have selected Ella Stout, a rising junior, as editor of the 1965-66 staff. Ella is an English major and has worked on the ZENITH staff for the past year in the capacity of lay-out editor. As of yet she has not organized her staff for the coming year but she hopes to have this organization complete before the Spring semester is over.

Nixon To Speak At YRC Conference

Richard M. Nixon, former Vice President of the United States will deliver the keynote address of the Young Republican Conference to be held in Winston-Salem on May 7, 8, and 9, at the Hotel Robert E. Lee.

The speech will be delivered on Saturday, May 8, at the Keynote Banquet which will begin at 11:30 a.m. in the ballroom of the hotel. More than four hundred convention delegates, Republican leaders, and guests are expected to be present.

The Junior-Senior Prom will be held Friday, April 30 from 8:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. at the Sedgefield Country Club. The music for the evening will be by the Eminons of Elon College. This eighteen-piece orchestra played at the New York World's Fair in 1964 and are to return this summer for a repeat performance.

The dress for the evening will be formal or semi-formal, either being proper, depending upon individual preference.

Special honors will be awarded to a Senior boy and girl who have been selected by the members of the Junior Class as "The Outstanding Seniors."

Apogee Awarded First Rating

HPC's literary magazine for 1963-64 won first place in competition with magazines of schools of similar size and purposes at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Conference. The judges announced their decision Friday, March 12, at the university.

Lazaruk, Morgan Receive Grants

Dr. William Lazaruk, Chairman of the HPC Biology Department, has received a grant to attend a summer conference on genetics teaching in colleges. The conference is sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the Genetics Institute of Colorado State University and will be held from August 2 through 20.

Dr. Lazaruk will also have the opportunity to do research and laboratory experiments during the conference in the "Germ Plasm Bank" of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's national seed storage laboratory located on the campus of the university.

Dr. Evan Morgan, Associate Professor of Chemistry at High Point College has been selected by the National Science Foundation to receive the College Research Participation Grant.

Under this research program, Dr. Morgan will work with Dr. Henri L. Rosano of City College in New York City during the summer. The research will be relegated to the study of Electro Analytical Chemistry through which Dr. Morgan will study the reactions of electrodes in various solutions to determine change and effect of these elements toward a specific problem.

Campus Viewpoint

Caravans are Educational and Enjoyable

This summer the third High Point College American History Caravan will retrace a portion of the Civil War. This caravan will pursue the same route the first caravan followed. Fort Monroe, Virginia to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania are the limits of the trip. Battlefields, museums, monuments, etc., pertaining to the Civil War are visited.

One of the most interesting portions of the caravan is the stay in Richmond, the capitol of the Confederacy. Last year our first day was spent in Richmond visiting the battlefields of the Seven Days Battle and the next day was spent visiting the Confederate Museum, the Civil War Centennial Museum, and other Civil War memorials.

Gettysburg, which was the highwater mark of the Confederacy, was the climax of the Caravan. The '63 Caravan was fortunate enough to be at Gettysburg when the Centennial Celebration was in process. We did everything from buying first issue stamps to watching a re-enactment of Pickett's charge.

The actual vividness of the Civil War is seen all along the trip; besides being educational, it is enjoyable.

I think that every History, Political Science, and Secondary Education Major should try to go on the Caravan and see the re-birth of American Civil War History.

—Bob Hislop, Jr.

Have YOU Decided?

Religion and Life Week is over. Have you decided what the New Morality is? — Or more important, have you decided what you believe is moral?

How many of us stopped thinking about these questions and other related ones on Friday, February 19, the day Religion and Life Week was over? Are these questions not important ones? Or are bases for living just not the thing to discuss?

Once I was told that the art of carrying on a conversation was lost. The explanation was that women through modern education became clever enough to show men that they were capable of talking intelligently. Men, horrified at the thought of losing superiority in this area, thus became passive during conversations. Women then lost the art because all the fun of verbalizing had disappeared after men were beaten into silence.

Has the New Morality not been discussed because we have lost the art of conversation?

—Cina Venning.

How Do You Classify?

On the dates of March 17, 18, and 19, the students of HPC had the opportunity to think, question, and seek answers to their questions in regard to the "New Morality."

Perhaps you saw a glimpse of yourself as the "operator," or the "puritan," about whom Dr. Waldo Beach spoke. Or could you be the person who left in the middle of the first showing of "La Dolce Vita?" Maybe the "playboy" that Dr. Russ Mont-fort was talking about just happens to be your best friend.

The interest and attendance during Religion and Life days indicates that the New Morality possible concerns each one of us. This was the aim of the Student Christian Association — to present all sides of a reality applicable to our lives today, and to give us something to think about — both now and perhaps again in a year or so from now.

—Ann Talley.

foy's fancies

Spring is the season of rebirth, the season when those who have fled Florida-ward for the winter return to give birth; the season when those who have been in hibernation for the cooler months stretch their limbs yawningly and once again grace the world with their presence.

Nor is HPC a stranger to the gifts of the rejuvenating season. She becomes conscious of new fragrances on the breeze, new blood in circulation, and new ideas taking effect.

Spring is the season in which the new HI-PO editor and staff are selected. This year she managed to be born on the very day of the season's beginning, and with such a dramatic beginning she will grow, learning as she does about the many facets of the job in which she has clothed herself.

Perhaps before another Spring has been born, our new editor and her staff will have created an embryo for a new and different type of student representation, a forceful, realized "voice of the students."

Letter To The Editor

Editor of the Hi-Po:

March 24, 1965

As a member of the freshman delegation to the student legislature, I have had some opportunity to observe the mechanics of our "student government." Since the expiration of my term is imminent, I feel that a report of my reflections on this legislative year is imperative, and just possibly of some consequence.

When I began my term this year, I was brimming with the idealistic expectation of true student government totally unlike the travesty of it that I had witnessed in high school. My feelings of Utopia were first challenged by the apathetic attitude of some upper class members of the body who were members of previous student legislatures. These legislators informed me that I would very quickly become as apathetic as they when I discovered the present state of affairs of our "self-government." Now, months of frustration later, I have discovered that they were entirely correct.

The student legislature, the law-making arm of the SGA, is an impotent farce, completely devoid of any real power. The High Point College student handbook states that, "The legislative powers of the student body shall be vested in a Unicameral Student Legislature," but in reality, this is not the case. As the system now stands, any bill passed by the legislature cannot be enacted until it has been through an unbelievable maze of red tape and bureaucratic nonsense. In fact, believe it or not, there is not even any way in which the legislature can force a decision on a bill by the administration. In other words, the administration can take a legislative measure and hold it as long as it wants without coming to a decision. This reality of our "self-government" explains the tendency of most bills to vanish into the labyrinth of the administration after student passage. Often, like the minnow into the gullet of the whale, they are never heard from again.

For example, and in documentation of my statements, I cite the current plight of four important bills that have not been approved or vetoed, but were passed before the Christmas holidays. These bills concern the present cut system, the readmission grade-point system, extended cuts for seniors, and a bill of extreme importance, judicial reform. The first three of these bills were referred to Dean Cole, and the fourth was sent to Dr. Patton for consideration. As far as I have been able to discover, and as far as anyone else in the legislature knows, both Dean Cole and Dr. Patton are still considering.

At the latest meeting of the legislature, the problem of what to do about these bills was discussed. The suggestion was made that perhaps we should pass a bill requiring that the student legislature be informed by the administration of the approval or veto of its bills within thirty days after passage. Even if this suggestion were made an approved bill, we would still have no idea how long this bill might take to win administration approval.

I personally feel that student government on this campus is very sick. This is not, I believe, the fault of its elected members. On the whole, they are talented, creative, and conscientious, but very low in spirit. The same statement applies to the student body whose spirit often approaches the depths of apathy. The reason for this loss of élan is the incapacity of the student legislature to act as a vibrant law-making body.

A Fantastik Rehearsal

By Shirley Key

After my last fascinating intrigue at the theatre, I decided to make another rendezvous with the space known as a stage. As I entered and took my seat, I observed a mad, frantic scramble involving several boys, a girl, a piano player and the lone man I had encountered once before. One guy in a derby hat was carrying a ladder around, another husky hulk of a guy was doing a dance on elephant-light feet. A boy and girl were in a passionate embrace. A tall, handsome, sexy-eyed boy was displaying his bedroom eyes to best advantage while reciting a soliloquy about love. A guy dressed like an Indian was dying on the floor. This chaos continued momentarily; then the director called for quiet. Silence prevailed. Only when the director gave the signal, did the actors take their places. The lights dimmed; the action began.

For the next two hours I saw more innovations and contradictions of what is called the traditional play than I have ever before observed. This play obviously is theatrical only in the sense that it is admittedly in a theatre, and on a stage, but with no pretense otherwise. At the outset the characters make their entrances from a box that is not even on stage. The characters bow ham-like to the audience, check the scenery and lights, and wave at people they know. Not before they have taken their own good time and not before they have set the stage, do they begin. Throughout the play the unexpected occurs. Anything from an Indian with a Cockney accent dying all over the space, to characters entering from the back of the auditorium and acting amidst the audience, to a rape of a girl by a bandit can happen — and does. Sword fights, dancing, singing, love and tears, watering plants, tossing of sun and moon, planting of radishes. All this and more happened during my two hour stay.

A girl with an exquisite voice enthralled me from the beginning; a director with an ingenious mind which never ceased thinking of new ideas that inevitably enhance the production; a cast of talented, hard-working people with enthusiasm and desire made me know that when production time of Fantasticks comes, High Point College will certainly be in for a delightfully entertaining, highly talented, brilliantly directed production.

SPRING

Winter's done, and April's in the skies.

Earth, look up with laughter in your eyes!

—Charles D. Roberts.

And so it is Spring once again. When the winter snows and chills disappear and the flowers start to bloom, our thoughts turn in many different directions. Let me tell you what Spring means to me.

Spring means flowers all out in bloom,

Gay colors, sweet odors filling the room;

Trees with buds all tiny and new,

Grass in the morning fresh with dew;

New-born creatures inspecting the land,

Nature at her finest, it really is grand;

Human spirits so light and so high,

Soft gentle clouds in a pale blue sky.

Babbling brooks and sweet-smelling air;

Lovers together with hardly a care;

Children at play, laughing and singing;

Birds in the air all Northward winging;

A soft golden sun warming the earth with its rays

Promising beautiful fun-filled days.

Lecture Reviewed

By Doug Shepherd

Dr. Robert Browning, renowned philosopher and Chairman of the Philosophy Department at Northwestern University, delivered a lecture to the student body concerning "Pragmatism and Morals" last March 24.

Dr. Browning stated that the popular interpretation of pragmatism is "anything I can get away with is okay." "In theory," Dr. Browning declared, "pragmatism has serious things to suggest." "Most of us are pragmatic, generically, in that we do have to act and choose. We test our beliefs."

With this introduction, Dr. Browning began to outline the essence of thought of the following four philosophers: William James, John Dewey, Charles Sanders Peirce, and C. I. Lewis.

In a rather brief description, Dr. Browning favored the latter of the philosophers, in that Lewis asserts that we must recognize the values of other persons.

The Social Picture

By Jim Dugan

The Social Column for the Hi-Po has new editors for next year, Christie Jensen and Jim Dugan. We hope our reporting will be thorough and with your help we are sure that it will be. Any information that you think is fit to print can be given either to Christie or myself. We promise equal coverage of all news that is given to us.

Our first big undertaking as social editors is the reporting of "Greek Week" activities. The festivities were heavily rained upon nearly all week, much to our chagrin.

The Greek Sing was the first event in the fraternity division. First place went to Delta Sigma Phi. This group of fellows showed much imagination and preparation in their presentation. In the sorority division Alpha Gamma Delta took first place and certainly deserved to do so.

On Tuesday night a talent show was held in the Auditorium. Much enthusiasm and originality was displayed which made the judges job all the more difficult. First place among the fraternities was taken by Theta Chi. So much talent in one round man! The Alpha Gams won again with a car load of girls, originality, and "Fred."

In the middle of the week a Co-Rec night was held in the gym and the Greeks displayed their prowess at relays, carnival games, and volleyball. The fraternities and sororities were paired and the winning team was Theta Chi and Alpha Gamma Delta. I don't believe all that rain dampened their spirits in the least.

Thursday was a day off and so was Friday, the day the chariot races were to be judged, thanks to—yes you guessed it—the rain.

On Saturday all Greeks invaded Tanglewood for an all day picnic and Combo party. That night an informal dance was held at the Reynolds building in Winston-Salem. The music provided by a real rockin' band was an appropriate finale to a wet, but successful Greek Week.

As I said before, any news of interest from greeks or independents should be turned into either Christie or myself, by being written up and deposited in our post office box on campus. Your cooperation will help make this column a success. Thank you.

Encyclopedias Are In Circulation

Wrenn Memorial Library has you, the student, in mind when buying books, when restricting volumes to library use, and when regulating the circulation of books. Therefore, as new sets of Encyclopedias are secured for Reference, the older sets will be shelved in the stacks and thereafter circulated for a two-weeks period, just as other books are. Students may call for them at the circulation desk. To date, older sets of the following Encyclopedias are in circulation: Americana, Britannica, Collier's, Compton's, and World Book.

This arrangement for circulating Encyclopedias plus the ease and speed with which students now can secure copies of pages from Reference books and magazines (thanks to the new photocopier on the Ground floor) should eliminate the temptation for that small minority of students to delete pages from Library materials.

Academic Honesty Is Grossly Underestimated

(I.P.) A nation-wide survey of hundreds of deans and thousands of students in 99 American colleges and universities has revealed that:

The amount of academic dishonesty in college is "grossly underestimated" by students, student body presidents and deans.

Only a small proportion of those who cheat are caught and punished.

Sources of college cheating can be traced to the high school experiences of students.

Schools with honor systems are less apt to have a high level of cheating than those with other arrangements for control.

Elements of school quality are associated with low levels of cheating.

The survey was conducted by William J. Bowers of Columbia University's Bureau of Applied Social Research. The work was supported by the Cooperative Research Program of the Office of Education, United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The findings are contained in a report titled "Student Dishonesty and its Control in College."

"Perhaps the most alarming finding of this study concerns the prevalence of academic dishonesty on American college campuses," says the report. "At least half the students in the sample have engaged in some form of academic dishonesty since coming to college. This is probably a conservative estimate.

"The magnitude of the problem is grossly underestimated by members of the campus community. Two and a half times as many students have cheated as student body presidents estimate, and more than three times as many have cheated as deans estimate.

"Large schools have higher levels of cheating than small ones, and coeducational schools have higher levels than either men's or women's colleges, the latter having the lowest rates. The advantage of the single-sex schools seems partly due to their higher academic quality on the average.

"The level of cheating is much lower at schools that place primary responsibility for dealing with cases of academic dishonesty in the hands of the students and their elected representatives, as under the honor system, than at schools that rely on faculty-centered control or have a form of mixed control, in which faculty and students jointly participate.

"Presumably, in return for the privileges and trust students are accorded under the honor system, they develop a stronger sense of commitment to norms of academic integrity and, thereby, a climate of peer disapproval of cheating emerges on the campus."

Although the publications staffs journeyed to New York for educational purposes, there were a few hours left free for entertainment. Here Dr. Underwood performs at the "Hawaiian Room" at the request of the performers and through the foresight of his advisees.

Davidson Expects Good Year For Track Team; Farlow Is Top Man

Hopes are running high for this year's track team. Coach Bob Davidson believes this year's team is much stronger than previous ones. A solid nucleus of lettermen returned to provide a backbone for the team. Among these is Tony Boyles, the top conference man in the 440 yard run and 220 yard sprint and anchorman on the mile relay team, Grif Balthis, the 880 yard run conference champion is another returning letterman. He also runs the mile. Steve Pearson, who runs the 440 yard dash and also a strong member of the mile relay team, and Bob Seaver, the third place javelin thrower in the conference, round out the strong returning lettermen. The team will have quite a few promising new men. Lewis Farlow, one of the best cross country runners in the state, will compete in the mile and 2 mile runs. Coach Davidson looks for him to set new conference records in both events. Steve Laney, a freshman, will run both the high and low hurdles. He was the state high school champion in the high hurdles last year. It is hoped that Steve will make the hurdles a strong point in track competition, a previously weak event. Mike Cantrell will compete in the shot put and discus, two other previously weak events. Roy Schumacker will be strong in the 880 yard run and the broadjump. Tom Blanciok will provide a lift in the 100 yard dash and 220 yard sprint. He will also be on the mile relay team. Hugh Alger and Larry Neal are two additional freshmen that will help the broadjump and the distance events, respectfully. Bob Medlin has made a great deal of improvement in the discus. Bob Bivens will have a good chance for the conference championship in the high jump, having jumped 6 foot 1 inch during past events. Other untried performers are: Ralph Goode in the hurdles, Neal Hornaday in the pole-vault, Don Plaster and Richard Stinson in the javelin, Tom Kiley in the high jump, Steve Buff in the discus and shot put, John Roberts in the discus and shot put and John Vicedello in the shot put.

The team will be strongest in the distance events beginning with the 440 yard run on up. We should have one of the best mile relay teams in the conference. Other strong points will be the discus, shot put, high jump, and hurdles. We will probably prove weakest in the sprints, javelin, broadjump, and pole vault. Although improvement of these events will make us show well in the conference. Coach Davidson stated that Lenior Rhyne will be the team to watch as well as Catawba and Appalachian State Teachers College who will provide strong competition. He hopes that as many students as possible will come out to see the meets providing the support the team needs to win.

Godwin Wins Trip To Washington, DC

'Twas a mid-December evening when Mr. Godwin, Professor of Psychology at High Point College happened to notice the special offer printed on the side of a box of Domino Sugar. The offer included copies of the Documents of Democracy for a special price as well as an entry blank for the Documents of Democracy Contest. The entry blank stated: "I would like to see the originals of the Documents of Democracy because (complete in less than 25 words)." "Hmm," thought the Psychology professor. "That sounds very interesting," and thus proceeded to jot down words that he never imagined would be destined to become a prize winning statement: "I fought to protect them; I'm sworn to defend them; I'm certified to teach them, but I've never seen them."

Then one day several weeks ago Mr. Godwin returned home after classes to discover a letter telling him that he had been selected as a semi-finalist out of 47,000 other entries. "How nice," he thought, and momentarily imagined the thrill of the possibility of he and his wife, also an H.P.C. faculty member, winning the prize, a trip to Washington, D. C.

One day during Easter vacation he received a letter materializing what he had believed to be utter fancy; he had been selected

New Junior Class Officers Move To Action With President Ralph Hoar

E. Landes, Susan Hood, Ralph Hoar, Jim Sloan, and Bill McInnis discuss plans for 65-66 in their first meeting.

April 12, 1965 marked the first meeting of the 1965-1966 Junior Class Executive Committee. Their purpose was to discuss plans for the coming year.

The newly elected president of the Junior Class, Ralph Hoar, is from Williamsburg, Virginia. He was vice president of the Sophomore Class. Ralph is a member of the Young Republican's Club, the English Club, managing editor of the Apogee, and president of Tower Players. He is a member of Theta Chi Fraternity.

and reading editor of the Apogee.

Emma Lou Landes, from Raleigh, North Carolina, was elected secretary. She has been a member of the Fellowship Teams and was a freshman representative on the Women's Dormitory Council. Emma Lou is a member of Phi Mu Fraternity.

Treasurer of the rising Junior Class is Kaye Moody from Greensboro, North Carolina. Kaye was a cheerleader and membership director of the Intramurals. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta Fraternity.

Bill McInnis, from Lakeview, North Carolina was elected judiciary representative. He is a member of the Young Democrat's Club.

Susan Hood and Angie Smith were elected Student Legislative representatives. Susan is from Quantico, Virginia. She is a member of the Tower Players, the Zenith staff, and a member of Phi Mu Fraternity.

Neal Jones Is Best Speaker; Speaker Ban Repeal, Best Bill Of 8th Annual Student Congress

Perhaps the most controversial discussion presented during the Eighth Annual Student Congress on April 8-9 was that concerning YRC's "Resolution For the Repeal of the North Carolina Speaker Ban Law." This law presently prohibits any known Communist or subversive character from speaking in a state-supported institution, regardless of the subject matter chosen.

YRC delegate, Richard Martin, began the discussion of the resolution by assuming the seal in the affirmative. Mr. Martin upheld his position by setting forth the ideals of Democracy — those stating that "Democracy is based upon the freedom of the human individual to attain whatever happiness possible for him, and to pursue after it as is his given right." The speaker then went on to elaborate as to how the Speaker Ban Law is a contradiction not only of the right of free speech, but also of the right of the individual to listen and to decide for himself, whether the information being transmitted to him is valid or not.

Speaker in the negative, Neal Jones of the senior class, disagreed with Mr. Martin on the basis that "Communists work on the volatile nature of the student through both popular and disturbing issues by using both sides of the picture — for instance, the N.A.A.C.P. vs. the K.K.K. Communists play up the shortcomings in our economic and political systems even to the point of seeming immorality, and fill a void left by an inadequate religion during this period."

After lengthy debate in which the capabilities of the individual to discern the differences between good and bad appeared to be the main issue, the resolution was passed by the Student Congress.

Other bills and resolutions all of which were passed after lively discussion included: A "Bill for the United States to Extend Active Agression into North Viet Nam," presented by the Phi Mu Sorority; a "Bill for Outdoor Recreational Services to be Administered Solely by the National Park Services," by Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity; a "Resolution for the Students of H.P.C. to uphold the Democratic Ideals of Equal Rights," by S.C.A.; a "Bill for the Availability of Sorority Lounges on the H.P.C. Campus," by Alpha Gamma Delta sorority; a "Resolution to Combine the Judiciary Branch of the Student Government with the Student Personnel Committee of the Administration," by Theta Chi Fraternity; and a "Resolution for Equal Voting Rights," by Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity.

This year three speakers of the House were elected — Mike Pierce, Don Bryant, and Chuck Richards. Tillie Clark was elected Secretary, and Ray Davis as Reading Clerk. The first Speaker of the House, Mike Pierce, selected Janice Bogue and Cathy Poindexter as Pages. Jan Samet was selected as Parliamentarian by President of the Interim Council, John Kennedy. During the second day of Congress, Barry Levy was chosen to be Sergeant-at-arms.

Officers for the 1965-66 Interim Council were elected in the last plenary session. Chuck Richards will be President; Jan Samet Vice President; and Tillie Clark Secretary.

Nixon To Keynote YRC Convention

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will deliver the keynote address of the Spring Convention of the Young Republican College Council of North Carolina to be held in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, on May 7, 8, 9, 1965, at the Hotel Robert E. Lee.

Mr. Nixon will deliver the address on Saturday, May 8, at the Keynote Banquet beginning at 11:30 a.m. in the ballroom of the hotel.

The convention's second seminar, "American Foreign Policy in Asia," will be held on Saturday, May 8, at 9:00 a.m. on the Balinese Roof of the hotel. The seminar's three speakers will be Dr. B. G. Gokhale, chairman of the South Eastern Regional Conference of the Association for Asian Studies; Dr. Khalid Sayeed, visiting professor of political science from Queens University, Canada, at Duke University; and Dr. George Yu, professor of political science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Dr. Khalid Sayeed is a noted authority on Pakistan and South Asia and will discuss American policy and America's enemies in Asia with emphasis on Communist China, and Dr. Gokhale will discuss the neutrals.

Following the Nixon Keynote Banquet, four special committee meetings will be held from 1:45-2:45 p.m. for the purpose of discussing basic areas for improvement in college council organization on the college club and state levels.

The convention business session will begin at 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 8, and will ratify a platform for the first time in the college council's history. The platform committee is expected to include a plank in the platform taking a strong position on the N. C. Speaker Ban Law.

Campus Viewpoint

JVDHZIPX

By Tillie Clark

If the present pace of alleged cheating continues, today's scholars should provide the business world of tomorrow with many amusing and alarming sidelights.

Consider the elementary school teacher who slid through college using all the modern "crib techniques." After calling the roll, she folds back her sleeve and finds a note: "History Lesson-1492, 1907, 1961." Any questions not pertaining to these dates are answered by a note on her bra strap: "Change Subject." By referring to notes in her oversized ear rings, written on the desk, or stuck in her garter, the teacher very smoothly completes another day of teaching.

An obvious answer to college cheating is the adoption of an Honor System. High Point College has no such system. Why? There are perhaps two major reasons why we haven't one. First, our college is too small for an Honor System to work effectively. We students know each other too well to even consider "telling" on each other. Secondly, as a student body we do not want an Honor System. In the past, the students have had a chance to vote for or against it. The results do not indicate a rejection of honesty or honor on our part. It merely indicates that the students feel that honesty is an individual matter. If a student wants to cheat his way through, that's his business. After all an Honor System would make us our brother's keeper.

If an Honor System could be devised to put honor on the individual scale, I'm all for it. At the present, however, the trend seems to lean toward the Law of the Playground—never tell on a buddy!

Read! Read! Read!

National Library Week observed this year, April 25 through May 1, climaxed a continuing, year-around program designed to help build a reading nation and to enhance the use of libraries of all kinds. High Point College Library joined in this Library emphasis week and stressed READING. Book displays and posters in the Library, Robert's Hall, Book Store, and Cafeteria kept us reminded of the LIBRARY and of National Library Week.

Wrenn Memorial Library continues to stress READING. As the hub of the wheel of our Educational Institution, as the heart of High Point College, your Library recommends, "READ, READ, READ."

READING builds minds and dreams and injects know-how. READING "Opens Your Future" in that it gives valuable personal returns—helps to enlarge your world, to give you perspective, to realize your potential excellence, to savor your leisure, and to find new meaning in work. Important as personal returns are, however, they are not the sum total. Just as lives of High Point College students are not limited to the college campus, READING is not limited to strictly personal returns. READING goes beyond and makes possible achievements of social, educational, cultural, and economic goals of the individual and society. In brief, READING is a means toward full pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness. High Point College Library's ultimate goal is to help to develop an informed, creative citizenry that is competent and willing to make the choices and decisions that free men and women must make. To this objective your Library continuously dedicates itself—we repeat the recommendation, "READ, READ, READ!"

foy's fancies . . .

The trees is green and the grass has ris; I wonder where the birdies is? Actually, I don't really wonder where they are; I hear all sorts of weird organisms scratching and cackling under my window at close up time every evening, and I simply take for granted that they are merely birds of the feather who have not yet realized that the place for our feathered friends is concealed in the shrubs rather than displayed in the wide open spaces, especially if this is, as they tell me, the "lov-dov" season.

But then let me ask you, have you become as numb as I while trying to become readjusted to the hectic schedule of campus life after that relaxing trip to the beach, the Virgin Islands, or even the reflective hours spent in the comfort of your own home during Easter vacation? It does take time, Yah?

You know, I'd even like to regress back before Easter so that I might brag upon how well our Easter meal in Harrison Hall compared with my own at home, but since I was not allowed to enjoy what seemed to be a very tempting steak because my meal ticket happened to be locked beyond reach in one of the Biology Department offices, I fear I shall have to forego comment.

However, I can comment on some of the newest additions on campus. For instance, there is now a laundry deluxe in the basement of Harrison Hall with three colorful new washing machines and two giant-size gas driers. Of course the entrance is marked "Men Only," but I feel sure you bright young ladies will figure out a logical way to allow your men friends to play domestic for you should the need arise.

Also, a Pepsi machine has been innovated in the basement of Robert's Hall at one of the entrances. Our maintenance men too have been infected by something in the Spring air as they seem to have developed a case of "green thumb". Have you noticed the cute little trees behind the Student Center? I do hope they remain small though, or we may soon have a forest with the density of a tropical jungle in the midst of our beloved campus.

Also, reeking with the smell of paint are the signs located behind Yarkin and North Hall. Perhaps it won't be too terribly long before the inhabitants of these dormitories can enjoy the benefits of a change machine and a piano equally as well.

At any rate, I do make a joyful noise unto the Lord that there is a source of initiative prevalent upon this campus. Is anyone willing to point out the fountain to me?

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

First of all, this letter is not meant for you. It is addressed to every person who was involved in the fine production of "The Fantasticks." From Don Drapeau to Tom Mair; from Sandra Ritchie to Nancy Taylor; from June Hill to Mrs. Frances Redding; from Loraine Reidda to Mike Cantrell—the list is far more numerous, but I hope you can understand what I am trying to say. Everyone who had any part in "The Fantasticks" did a superb job. I had never realized that this campus of ours was lucky enough to have such talented people. You are not only talented, but diligent as well—diligent in the sense that you worked long hours to present us with this most entertaining play. I really appreciate your hard work, and I am sure that I speak for many others. I wish you continued success in all of your productions.

Sincerely,
Ella Stout.

To Whom It May Concern

Be good, but not too good—a little naughty, but not too naughty. Say a prayer if you feel that way, say Damn if it gives you consolation.

Be kind to the world always, if possible—yet you must be unkind, smash right and left, get it over and forget it.

Smile, always smile, have a smile ready even though sometimes it hurts. Grab all the happiness you can—whenever you can and wherever you can. Don't let even a wee bit slip past you. Live above all things live, don't simply exist.

If you are blessed enough to know what real love is—love with all your heart, soul and body.

Live your life so that at any hour you will be able to shake hands with yourself and try to accomplish at least one thing worth while each day. Then when your nights come you will be able to pull up the covers and say to yourself—"I have done my best."

Phillips Explicates Admission Policy Concerning All Races At HPC

In a recent interview Mr. Robert Phillips, Director of Admissions, was questioned as to the college's policy in admitting students of all races. Mr. Phillips said: "Any person submitting an application to High Point College, who presents an acceptable high school record and College Entrance Examination score and who is of good character, may be accepted as a student without regard to race." When asked what was considered an "acceptable" high school record and college board score, his answers were a C average and 750 minimum, respectively.

It is reported that four Negro students are currently enrolled; however, a Negro has never graduated from this college. The reason that few Negroes have attended High Point College is not because of discrimination in admission procedures, but simply because few Negroes have made application, and of those who have applied, some have been rejected because they did not meet the college's scholastic requirements. Could it not be that the college has failed to make outstanding Negroes aware that they can be accepted in our academic environment?

Heretofore, Negro students have not roomed on campus and assuredly, when they are housed in our dormitories, problems may arise. Many a provincial Mom and Dad from prejudiced Pookton might yell and bellow if their precious child had to room with, be a suite-mate with, or even live on the hall with a Negro. They might even go so far as to remove Junior from this college because it faced him too squarely with the facts of a new era. It can be hoped that the situation of housing can be met with intelligently.

In the Carolinas Conference athletics we have seen racial bars fall with the Freshman basketball sensation from Western Carolina, Henry Logan. Seldom has there been an athlete any more talked about than this Negro star. Admitting the athletic prowess of many Negroes, let it be hoped that this college won't allow any superior athletes to be rejected solely because of race. Let's let it be known that a Negro athlete would be a welcomed addition to the Panther squad and as a representative of High Point College.

Certainly, this college being a "Christian institution" should seek to meet the needs of not only the white citizens, but also the Negro community—and there is a large, predominantly Negro neighborhood only two blocks from the campus. But then again, how can the college be expected to be very progressive when the Methodist church by which it is supported is divided into church conferences separated on the basis of race.

Seemingly, High Point and other church related colleges are falling behind the state tax-supported institutions in providing education for all the peoples. Would it not be well for the Church and its colleges to put into practice its preachings of brotherhood which now sound

The Social Lite...

On April 23 the S.G.A. sponsored a return-from-vacation dance in the cafeteria. The music was good and the admission was cheap. This could be a promise of things to come from our new slate of S.G.A. officers or perhaps a campaign promise at long last fulfilled.

Tau Kappa Epsilon has a new slate of officers for next year. They are as follows: President, John Steimle; Vice President, Bob Thurston; Secretary, Gene Treants; Treasurer, Don Crossley; and Pledge Trainer, John Chapis. The Tekes are having a combination dance and cook-out on May 15. They also proudly announce that Cmd. Earl C. Dalbey is a new associate brother in TKE. The brothers would also like it to be known that they have the coke concession at the home baseball games and wish your support.

Theta Chi fraternity is having its Dreamgirl Weekend the 7, 8, and 9 of May. A combo party will be held on Friday night at the Grange with music by the New Breed. A dinner and formal dance will be held on Saturday night, and a picnic on Sunday at Tanglewood. It is fairly safe to predict a fabulous time to be had by all.

Theta Chi's new officers are: President, Jim Brucki; Vice President, Kent Ripley; Secretary, Dick Olson; Treasurer, Al Thorburn; and Pledge Trainer, Bill Lea. The engagement of brother Dick Olson is also announced. With the closing of the year the Theta Chi's are highly anticipating their beach trip to Ocean Drive.

News from the Delta Sigs is diversified. They were seen collecting money for the Cancer Drive on April 11, and have been busy electing their new officers: President, Charles Kerr; Vice President, Hugh Cates; Secretary, Ray Davis; Treasurer, Joe Lorber; and Pledge Trainer, Chuck Richards. Brother Art Warren is the new president of the S.G.A. and Jim Foster is the I.F.C. Man of the Year. Congratulations are in store for Bob Jessup and Gene Kester for their recent engagement to Suzanne Mock (AGD) and Jane Rankin respectively. The Delta Sigs were the victors of the delayed chariot race.

Phi Mu and Zeta Tau Alpha sororities have already had their big weekends. Phi Mu held a banquet and formal dance followed by a mountain outing the next day.

Alpha Gamma Delta will hold its annual formal dance the weekend of May 1.

Kappa Delta will also find that weekend busy with a formal dance to be held at the Sheraton Hotel on May 1, and a picnic at Tanglewood the next day. The KD's have elected their new officers for next year: President, Delaine Jurney; Vice President, Jackie Brendle; Secretary, Fran Freeman; Treasurer, Sherry Snow. KD sister, Pat Young, is newly pinned to Bruce Swanson (Lambda Chi Alpha), and Diana Ferran is pinned to Pika, Art McKay. Speaking of the Pikas, Donna Peck was voted the Pika Sweater Girl.

At the Lambda Chi Alpha White Rose, KD Nancy Delaphe was crowned Crescent Girl, and her court consisted of KD sisters Jackie Brendle, Aileen Howe, Omegia Waldrep, and Sandy Hargrove.

Zeta Jan Stayer is now engaged to Eddie Phillips. KD, Joan Gale, was recently married to Theta Chi, Bob Torres, and Jane Logan is now Mrs. Larry Rogers, a Pika.

Columbia Pictures Sponsor Trip To Europe Contest

Columbia Pictures has acquired the film rights to Sir Winston Churchill's autobiography, "My Early Life: A Roving Commission," which is to be made into a motion picture by Carl Foreman.

Since they feel that the title of this exciting story of Sir Winston's youth and early manhood does not convey the scope and spirit of these extraordinary adventure-filled years when he was a student, cavalry officer and war correspondent, they are sponsoring a contest for college students to choose an appropriate title.

A prize of round trip transportation to Europe for two will go to the student whose title is selected for the film. In addition, a single round-trip to Europe will be awarded to the instructor, librarian or college newspaper editor who was instrumental in acquainting the winning student with the details of the title search.

As a basis for submission of titles, it should be remembered that Sir Winston's early years saw him as a student at Harrow and Sandhurst; a dashing cavalry officer in India and the Sudan; climaxed by his journalistic experiences in South Africa, where he was captured by the Boers, and eventually made a daring escape to safety. This could as well be the story of any adventurous and courageous young man thrust into the arena of heroic and splendid action.

OFFICIAL RULES

1. Print your title for the motion picture version of SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL'S autobiography, "MY EARLY LIFE: A ROVING COMMISSION," along with your full name, age, home address on the back of a standard four-cent post card and mail to: CHURCHILL, COLUMBIA PICTURES CORPORATION, 711 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 22, NEW YORK.

2. Anyone living in the United States or its possessions, may enter the contest except employees of Columbia Pictures Corporation and its advertising agencies or families of such employees. Also excluded are residents of any state or locality where such a contest is taxed, prohibited or otherwise restricted or contrary to law. This contest is subject to applicable federal, state and local laws and regulations.

3. Entrance into the contest is absolutely free and no conditions of purchase or payment of any kind are imposed upon the entrants. You may enter the contest as often as you like.

4. All entries become the property of Columbia Pictures Corporation to use as it sees fit and none will be returned.

5. To be eligible for consideration, entries must be postmarked prior to midnight, June 1, 1965.

6. If the title for the motion picture is selected from the entries submitted, its author will receive a round-trip air ticket (jet-tourist) from his home town to London for himself and a guest. If the winning entrant is not of legal age, he must be accompanied on the prize trip by his or her spouse, parent or legal guardian. The instructor, librarian or editor who acquainted the winning entrant with the contest will also receive one round-trip air ticket (jet-tourist) from his or her home town to London. The prize trips are not transferable or

A Fantastick Production

Do you remember your first response to those wierdly-clad characters in THE FANTASTICKS? Here they are preparing face, body and soul in makin's to delight any audience.

By Sandra Tate

The lights dimmed and the audience settled back for two hours of delightful enjoyment, but did not stay still long as the score from the "Fantasticks" proved to be livening as played by Nancy June Hill and Susan Cook, the jokes and lines hilarious (as well as leading), and the dancing so spirited that the audience itself was caught up into the light and colorful mood of the play. The audience, in fact, became friends with the actors, culprits, and even provided part of the stage.

The superb voice of Nancy Taylor as Luisa added a romantic charm to the already fun-loving atmosphere. She always seemed to be the center of attraction even when sitting quietly forlorn at the side of the stage. Doug Shepard played an excellent acting and singing counterpart. His role as Matt revealed the deeper implication of the play, and Doug's technique helped to catch and portray these aspects.

Never were there two more scheming fathers than Hucklebee and Pellamy, as played by Jerry Proffitt and Allen Thorburn respectively. Whether dancing, cursing, or cutting shrubbery, their lines and winsome schemes proved to be the hit of the production. When these two characters began conniving and scheming with Fred Schraplau and Ralph Hoar as Mortimer and Henry who were actors for hire, the action proved to be so rompish that the audience began to wonder if their lines were really copyrighted or original.

Al Rauch played the Mute. Silence and timing that never failed to be perfect guided his action. And not soon to be forgotten is Mike Cantrell who was both narrator and bandit — El Gallo. Using his provoking eyes and throaty voice to the best advantage he drew the audience into the show at the beginning and refused to release them until the actors disappeared into the prop box for the last time.

Thanks, Tower Players, for a superb and talented production! Our thanks, too, to the man whose brilliance helped make the production a success, Mr. Don Drapeau, to you we give an extra round of applause!

Women servicers! Yes, recently, Alpha Gamma Delta held a carwash, the proceeds of which went to charity.

Hartman Expects Panthers To Be Eligible For Tournament

By Judson Richardson

Although this year's HPC Panthers are having some trouble winning all baseball games, Coach Hartman believes the team will come through with the necessary wins to be eligible for the conference tournament. The tournament, May 13-15, will determine the Carolina's Conference champion.

The team had a slow start due to the bad weather conditions, but after the clouds had cleared, the Panthers moved to a top conference position with a record of 4-1.

During the Easter holidays the team took a long road-trip. According to Coach Hartman the team "just didn't play baseball. The defense and pitching went to pot," he said. The team does hope to recover from their troubles however, by winning as many of the remaining games as possible, nine of which will be played at home.

Panther pitchers include Forrest Dover (3-1), Kirk Stuart (2-3), Mowery (0-2), Richard Marshall (1-1), Jerry Lambert (1-0), and Holliday (1-0). Leading the team in RBI's (11) and batting average (.337) is freshman Bobby Robertson, 2nd baseman. Following Robertson (among regulars), batting averages are George Lare (.324), David Kemp (.303), and Roy Greenwood (.312).

The Panthers next home games were against Elon, Pfeiffer, and Lenoir Rhyne, April 23, 24, 27. As of this writing the team's record is 8-7, with a 4-4 conference record. The Panthers are tied for 5th place in the Carolina's Conference. They must place 4th in order to be able to play in the Conference tournament.

Hoar Again Leads Tower Players

Ralph Hoar was re-elected president of the Tower Players for the year '65-'66. Angelea Smith, rising Junior, was chosen to be vice president, while Sharon Harshberger received the office of secretary.

Other officers selected were: Anne Montague as publicity director, and Nancy Scales as historian.

The Tower Players plan to hold a banquet on May 7 during which time Tower Player awards will be presented.

Tryout dates for the television program, a play written by Herman Coble, Jr. will be announced at a date in the near future. Mr. Coble's play is entitled, "Statue in the Park."

redeemable in cash. The prize trips must be accepted during the time limits specified by Columbia Pictures Corporation.

7. In the event more than one entry with the winning title is received, entrants submitting said title will be required to write a fifty word statement setting forth their reasons for said title. The author of the best statement in the opinion of the judges will be chosen winner. Decision of the judges will be final.

8. In the event that a title is deleted for the film apart from the contest, but prior to the close of said contest, entries containing the same title will not be considered unless they are postmarked prior to the date of the official announcement by Columbia Pictures of the selection of the final title.

9. Any tax or liability on the prize trip will be the sole responsibility of the prize winner.

The Pin Topplers

By Just Jeb

Intramural bowling drew to a close Tuesday, April 27. With one week left the red Oxen looked like a shoo-in. One match behind Theta Chi was the independent Hot Dogs with Lambda Chi holding third place. The collegians have been setting the lanes on fire this year. Roy Greenwood held the high game, a fine 244. Roy also rolled this years high series — a 586. In the average department, Jim Brucki led with a 178. Final team standings are:

Theta Chi	5½
Hot Dogs	4½
Lambda Chi Alpha	4
Pot Bellies	3
Delta Sigma Phi No. 1	3
Pi Kappa Alpha	2
Delta Sigma Phi No. 2	1½
Alpha Phi Omega	½

Apogee Award Clarified

The HI-PO would like to clarify statements printed in the last issue concerning APOGEE's first place rating by the CSPA. A first place rating is not the top award offered by the CSPA. The Medalist rating is considered the top award.

However, since HPC has been moved into a class of larger schools and colleges since last year, and since it remains one of the smaller competitors, the staff feels that such a rating as first carries more weight than the 2nd rating received by the first edition of the literary magazine.

Track Team Breaks 5 School Records

By Mac Hoyt

Although the track team has yet to play a home meet, they have registered two impressive victories. In the first meet of the season High Point trounced Atlantic Christian College 100-31. HPC took first place in every event.

The second meet was a triangle meet between Davidson, Lenoir Rhyne, and High Point. Davidson compiled a score of 81, Lenoir Rhyne, 54½, and High Point 39½.

During the third meet of the season, also a triangle meet, High Point competed against Guilford and Elon. The Panthers emerged victorious with a score of 75½, while Elon scored 58½, leaving Guilford with 28 points.

In the last meet HPC lost to Washington and Lee 86-61.

Five school records have been broken thus far this year. Steve Laney broke the high hurdles, running it in 15.7 seconds. Tom Blanciak ran the 100 yard dash in 10.05 seconds. Hugh Alger set a broad-jump record of 21 feet 5 inches while Mike Cantrell did likewise with a shot-put throw of 42 feet 7 inches and Lewis Farlow ran a record breaking mile in 4.255 minutes.

Harrington Wins Tennis Singles

Dave Harrington of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity won the singles Intramurals Tennis championship. Steve Buff, also of Delta Sigma Phi, was the runner-up. Dave Combs and Ray Taylor of Lambda Chi Alpha captured first place in the doubles competition. Runners-up were Craig Furman and Jerry Williams.

Blood Mobile Drains Campus

"Does your blood type match your mate's?" asked Ellen Seiss, student co-ordinator of the Bloodmobile Drive on the HPC campus. When the Bloodmobile was on this campus May 14, from 10 until 4 o'clock, at Alumni Gymnasium many moseyed over to find out.

In fact, not only were they entertained by singers such as Nancy Taylor, Sara Greene and the Smothers twosome, but some were interviewed by the High Point radio or television station, or got pictures in the High Point ENTERPRISE.

Mr. J. Wilson Rogers, HPC representative of the High Point City Bloodmobile Program announces that prizes will be given to the sorority, the fraternity, and the independent group (boys, girls, or day students) who contributes the most blood.

Although only 130 donors were present last year, a record 300 are expected to contribute this year.

'64-'65 Is Memorable Year Orientation, Fine Arts Festival Homecoming, Panthers, Elections Graduation Hi-Lite Year

By Barbara O'Connor

During the course of every year there are events that make the headlines; national, community, and school. High Point College has experienced many such headline-making events in this past school year; let us pause now and take a look back at some of the more memorable events that have occurred here.

The first and possibly the biggest Hi-Lite of the year occurred in September when school began. For the Freshmen that may have been not only the Hi-Lite of the year but the Hi-Lite of their lives as well. Leaving home and coming to a strange place with new people is a big change requiring many new adjustments. To look at our class of 1968 today, one would hardly know them as the same "outstanding" creatures (to say the least) that marked our campus with purple and white beanies eight months ago. Congratulations, another bunch has made it through their first year with relatively few casualties. School also opened with a new dormitory for the girls and a new freezer for the cafeteria.

October was a busy month at H.P.C. The Freshmen elected class officers; Junior Marshals were chosen for the 1964-65 year; the annual Finch Lecturer was heard; HPC Day was held, once again rewarding many students with prizes from various city stores; and the tuition for 1965 was raised.

November followed October, as usual, and with it came the first Fine Arts Festival featuring Wm. Shakespeare. Dr. Lew Lewis' opera based on Shakespeare's play, "The Merchant of Venice" was seen during this week, as well as "The Caradines," a professional acting team from New York; the Hot Dogs captured the Intramural football championship. The biggest Hi-Lite of November was Thanksgiving vacation.

Trustees Accept Long Range Plan

(I.P.)—The Board of Trustees of High Point College recently accepted the $10,000,000 Long Range Plan for the growth and development of the College. Results of a survey by a professional organization revealed that the College is in an excellent position to raise the needed funds as indicated by interviews.

The objectives of the long range planning, formalized by a committee of faculty members, trustees, and alumni, indicated minimum requirements for the program through 1974. The plans set a minimum of $3,000,000 to be used for capital improvements.

The minimum endowment requirements were set at $6,800,000 which were based upon an average of $5,000 endowment per student plus the need for supplementary current needs which will amount to $1,838,000 in the next ten years. The college now has approximately $1,750,000 in endowment.

In order to make the income and cost projections presented above the long range planning was based on the assumption that the overall purposes, objectives, (Continued on Page 6, Column 3)

Students Test Smoker Slogans

High Point College students in experimental psychology, William David Rimmer, and John Wesley Roberts, Jr., decided to test cigarette slogans and the men and women who voice them. They secured 30 male and 20 female undergraduate students at H.P.C. by random selection. Each subject had smoked one brand of cigarette for at least a year.

Each subject was brought into the testing room blindfolded after he or she had given their age, brand of cigarette they smoke, and questioned as to whether they thought they could select their brand.

Once seated, a tape recorder provided additional instruction. One of the testers lit the six cigarettes, one at a time, and the subjects followed the instructions. His answers were recorded by another tester.

Rimmer and Roberts who devised the test, discovered that only 8 people out of 50 were able to identify their brand. With the law of chance factor, their conclusion was, "It is possible to say that not one smoker could identify his brand."

An additional test was run with an unlighted cigarette and 70 per cent of the smokers believed that the cigarette was lighted.

So the next time someone tells you — "If you show me a filter cigarette that delivers the flavor, I'll eat my hat," — hand him the salt shaker.

THE CAMPUS CRIER

HI-PO RATED SECOND

The HI-PO has been awarded a second place certificate for a second place rating by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

"As this is the first time the HI-PO has been rated by the Association in several years," says former Editor Al Rauch, "I think we can be very proud of this award."

The newspaper scored high in the second bracket with a score of 811 out of a possible 1000.

SAMET REPLACES PROFFIT

Jan Samet was elected to lead the English Club for the year 1965-66. Mr. Samet, a native High Pointian, is a rising junior, with a major in English and a minor in history.

Other officers elected were Phyllis Foy, secretary; Jerry Proffit, treasurer; and Ralph Hoar, as program chairman. Mrs. Sullivan has been appointed to be advisor for the following year. Dr. Halladay, the present advisor who is leaving High Point next year, was unanimously selected as the "First Charter Member of the Loyal Supporters of the English Club."

ASHE IS OUTSTANDING TARHEEL

High Point College Freshman Music Major, Dan Ashe of Winston-Salem has been notified by Governor Dan Moore that he has been selected one of the top five "outstanding tarheels of North Carolina."

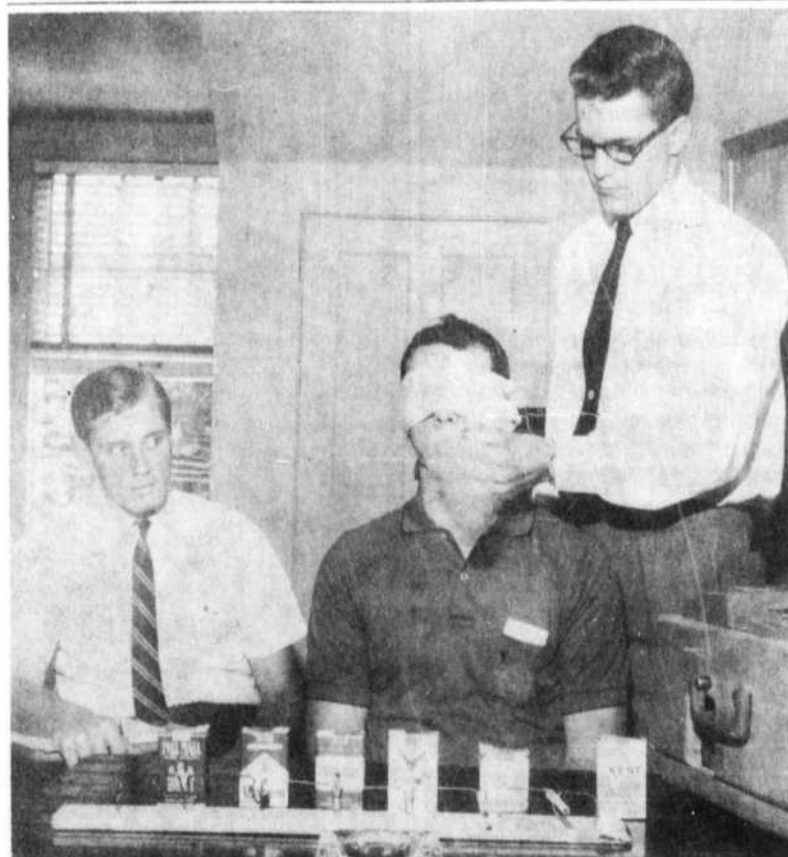

Governor Moore has invited Ashe to attend the awards program to be held in the Governor's mansion on May 26.

Dan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zeb V. Ashe of 3267 High Point Road, Winston-Salem. He is a member of the Winston-Salem symphony and has attended the Governor's school and Brevard Music camp.

USED BOOKS ARE WANTED

Each year the American Association of University Women sponsors a second-hand book sale in order to raise funds for Fellowships for advanced study which are awarded to deserving young persons.

Although the sale does not take place until fall, books (of all types) are collected and stored. All HPC students, faculty members, and administration members who wish to donate unused volumes to this cause may see Mrs. Elizabeth Conner, Assistant Professor of Biology.

Instigators Rimmer and Roberts test smoker Bill Hearndon's cigarette slogan in Student Center laboratory.

Campus Viewpoint

JVDHZIPX

By Tillie Clark

High Point College has on its campus many outstanding students. These students are exceptional as scholars, leaders, and athletes. It is good that we should commend these students for their achievements. This article shall be a commendation and "thank you" to Ellen Seiss, president of the Woman's Dormitory Council.

Few of us, even the other members of the Dorm Council, realize the time and effort that Ellen spends in the Student Personnel office presenting and arguing our point of view. After every effort has been disregarded and every idea presented by Ellen has been rejected, she comes back to the Council with "We'll try again and keep trying!" Her "try again" spirit is, to a great extent, responsible for the new rule changes which will go into effect next year.

As president, Ellen has fought to keep each case brought before the Dorm Council on the individual's level. Under Ellen, the Council has become much more lenient and much more pro-student. She is fostering, within the Council, the attitude that we are not baby sitters, that we deal with mature women who should be treated as such.

Ellen Seiss is one student that the Dormitory Council and the women students of High Point College will remember and be affected by her policies and ideas for a long time. Congratulations, Ellen, on such a fine beginning to an often, thankless job.

As I see the question kids, I feel that there is only one drawback to a relatively early spring and long summer in North Carolina, and that, as if you yourself could not have guessed it is the HEAT. Unfortunately, this physiological factor influences the life of the student in every field from eating to sleeping. Of course, I am sure that the administration realizes these problems as well as we, and I am also sure that they have future plans which will take care of things such as a humid and stuffy eating atmosphere, especially since they have recently accepted the $10,000,000 Long Range Plan for the growth and development of the college. Of course this does not mean that we the students should sit back and merely complain until such a necessary facility as air-conditioning for the cafeteria be added; rather, it be a feather in the hats of the students if some organizations of the school were to pool the remainder of their yearly funds which otherwise would merely go to the contingent fund, and purchase several fans to be placed at strategic points in the dining hall.

I do hope you people are as tickled as I about the 2nd place rating that your newspaper received. Although I am aware that there are many of you who feel that the HI-PO is not a good newspaper, you are the ones whom I challenge to add your two-cents and make it a better paper. Otherwise, I feel that I may speak for the entire student body in saying Thank you AL RAUCH for a job performed beyond the call of duty, and Thank you HI-PO staff for your contributions, your time, and your enthusiasm.

To you people who will be leaving High Point in May, I would say simply, "Follow your star!" We at High Point will miss you in the Fall, but if you feel your nose or your ears itch, you can bet we are thinking about you. Best of luck!

A Philosophical Analysis Of Candy In The Modern World (A Book Review?)

By Terry Martin

Into this very serious and anxiety-ridden century of ours, into this modern age where multitudes are screaming of needs and desires not fulfilled, into this very destitute world made all the more pessimistic by a predecessor-generation whose most outstanding spokesmen were contemporaries of Sartre and Camus, into this austere and schizoid culture which can boast only of starvation by mass-production on the one hand, and on the other of a generation lost in surface-materialism and rock-and-roll music - into all this chaos comes Candy.

Ah! Candy! To know Candy is to experience something strange and new - Candy who appears as a personification of something almost non-existent in our times. She is the personification of PURE INNOCENCE. I mean the sort of innocence which is void of any guilty or anxious psychological "weirdisms." Yes, Candy is a personality - a girl personality - one who is honest with herself. She acts as she does from pure conscience, without any prior scheme or underlying real motivation. There is nothing hidden or ulterior in Candy's response to any given stimuli (or stimulus)! Candy is then, a person, and a person who is innocent.

And more! This Candy tastes refreshing. She tastes not like the sweetest honey, nor like the bitingest bittersweet. Rather, she tastes like clean, fresh water, and her scent is the odor of fresh air, not over-scented perfumes, nor rank cheeses. She is fresh. To me, she is more yet. She comes to our times as a light cutting away at the forbidding black - that miserable thick which is seemingly too dense to cut, but which, nevertheless, gives way, if only for the moment, to her as she makes the attempt to sear through. Candy is a light then, attempting to diminish the psychological thick of our day and thereby giving us a brief glimpse at honesty. So, Candy is innocent and honest.

And more! all this that has been said is really not adequate at all, if it is indeed, even pertinent. For this "more" about Candy represents such a truer and more perfect picture of her that it overshadows all this previous gab. This "something more" is itself the real Candy, the Candy who comes to us from the book CANDY, a best-selling work from the combined imaginations of Terry Southern and Maxwell Kenton. In this book, the co-authors have finally succeeded in giving to our age a book which is truly, and simply, humorous, in fact, truly funny. Imagine this freely-loving and freely-giving young idealist turned loose on a society of depraved persons screaming with unfulfilled needs and desires and all that! That is exactly what CANDY and Candy are about. The book portrays our age perfectly; and the heroine is portrayed as the co-authors intended, perfectly given to the needs of others - which is of course the Christian way to be.

Candy, is therefore, a person who is innocent, honest, and refreshing. Candy is funny, above all; and I might add, Candy is sweet - just as her Daddy raised her to be. (And as for Daddy, he raises further questions, himself.)

Legislators Spur A New Beginning In First '65-66 Meeting

By Joe McNulty

The new student legislature for the academic year of 1965-66 held its first meeting at 6:30 P.M. on May 5. This meeting seemed to mark a new beginning for both the student legislature and student government on the High Point College Campus. This "new beginning" took the form of a bill entitled "ENACTMENT OF LEGISLATION" sponsored by the junior class. This bill, which was passed on its second reading, is meant to standardize the archaic machinery of the present system by which bills become school policy. When and if this bill is ever put into practice, it will insure either approval or a written, explanatory veto by the administration within a 30 day time limit. If a bill is not approved or vetoed within 30 days after it is received by the college administration, the legislature will consider it a school policy and act in accordance with it. This bill will be delivered to the college administrators immediately in the hope that they will be able to come to a decision by next fall.

Throughout this past year, the legislature has felt that the college administration has been very unreceptive to any ideas or bills coming from the SGA. In a recent letter to the Hi-Po, I attempted to explain the situation with regard to the inability of the legislature to keep track of its legislation after it had been sent to the college officials, and the apparent policy of the college to just smother any and all bills from the student legislature. As evidence of this, I cited the plight of four bills which were said to have been sent to the office of Dean Cole. Two days after my letter appeared in the Hi-Po, I had an opportunity to talk to Dean Cole who informed me that he could not approve bills he had never seen, and that he had never received or even heard of the said bills. I would like to take this opportunity to apologize to Dean Cole for unjustly inferring that he had stalled legislation when he had in fact not received any at all. But all this leads me to a conclusion, and I hope that Dean Cole will see my point and agree with it. My point is that we need to begin operating under this new bill as soon as possible to prevent any such problems in the future. The administration does not have to give its decision on this bill until next fall and I dare say that all summer is a long enough period for a consideration of this measure. If the administration really wants to be fair, as Dean Cole told me, the prompt passage by them of this bill next fall would be an excel-

Student Challenges Fellow Collegiates To Take Interest In SGA

Fellow Students of High Point College:

As I stand before you today, I find it necessary to say that the Student Government Association of High Point College is as weak as a Titan rocket being propelled by model airplane fuel. We the students are not the governing, but merely the governed. We are just playing government while the administration is the actual high supreme.

Two years ago a bill allowing students with a 1.75 average unlimited cuts went from the student government's legislative body to the administration of this school. The bill was not passed; however, it was not even vetoed. It was lost and has not been seen since. The wishes of the student body in this incident were so profoundly disregarded that the administration did not even show us the respect of vetoing the bill and sending it back for emendations.

It is not my purpose, however, to criticize the administration of High Point College; the problem does not lie with them. The problem, and this may come as a shock to our tender feelings, lies with us the students: me, you, you, and you; we are the problem.

The administration limits the power of the SGA and disregards student legislation because they do not feel that we students care about governing ourselves. To make it more clear and perhaps more painful, the administration feels that we show an immature attitude towards student government and this attitude does not merit power but only emphasizes the fact that we are disinterested pawns which need to be guided.

What I am saying to you and what is the essence of my speech is that the reason for the weakness of the Student Government Association is the disinterest, irresponsibility, and don't-care-attitude of the students of High Point College.

I proposed to you a plan in which I feel that we can remedy this "anemic power" situation and start on the trail towards self-government. My simple four-point plan of action is:

First, for us students to take an active part in campus elections. I do not mean that all should seek office, that all should campaign fervently for a candidate. I simply and earnestly am urging you to show enough enthusiasm and enough interest to go to the little trouble to vote. Show your maturity by exercising the most envious part of a democracy, the right to vote in a free election.

Second, I propose the students should take a more active and interested part in student legislation. Seek out your legislative representative, inform him of your desires, and urge him to bring your ideas before the legis-

Thirdly, to show interest in all campus affairs, not just to criticize but to give suggestions for aggrandizement of your school.

Lastly, after we students have shown that we can take a mature part in self-government, let us then and only then, step forward and assure the administration that we now are able to accept the responsibilities of self-government, and that we will aptly handle our affairs.

From my observations of the legislature's session last week, I can comment that the legislature, as is the High Point College Student Government as a whole, seems to be growing up. Instead

The Social Lite ...

By Jim Duggan and Christie Jensen

This issue is the last of the year for the HI-PO and the social column has plenty to report on. Everything seems to be coming to us in one felled swoop.

The JR-SR Prom was a success thanks to the tireless efforts of the JR. Class. Everyone present enjoyed the music supplied by the EMINON'S Orchestra.

Many fraternities have had their big end-of-the-year weekends. Theta Chi celebrated its Dreamgirl Ball the weekend of the 8th with a combo party Friday night, a banquet and dance Saturday night, and a trip to Tanglewood, Sunday. Betty White was selected as Theta Chi Dreamgirl with Kathy Hoecker, Jill Knucky, Kay Jackson, and Florell Kurtz, serving on her court. Theta Chi also had a serenade Wednesday, May 5th for Brother Jim Brucki and Marilyn Lund. Brother Len Whitt was elected president of the Intra-Fraternity Council for next year.

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity celebrated their Dreamgirl Ball Friday, May 7th. Kathy Ward was selected as the Pika Dreamgirl. Saturday, the Pika's enjoyed an informal combo party.

Lambda Chi Alpha went to the beach two weekends ago and despite a scare of rain, the trip was a success.

The Delta Sigma Phi's also took themselves, dates and high hopes to the beach last weekend. The occasion was the annual celebration of their "Sailor's Ball." This weekend was highlighted by the traditional shipwrecked Sailor's Banquet on Saturday night. On April 29, the Delta Sigs traveled to Woman's College to serenade the pining of Pamela Skinner to Chuck Richards. Following the serenade, refreshments were served in Coit Hall. Recently initiated into the fraternity were five new brothers: Bob Batten, Tim Bellinger, Bill Carter, Gary Chesson, and John Viccilio. Val Zumbro, from Hyattsville, Maryland, is a new pledge. Brother Mickey Russel recently announced plans for a June wedding with Miss Joyce Kirkman.

The annual Phi Mu spring weekend began on Friday, April 2, with a bon-fire at the Austin farm on Lindale Drive; Sisters, pledges and their dates attended. Saturday a formal banquet and dance was held. Following the meal, the Phi Mu's and their dates were entertained with a speech by Dr. Walter Hudgins and his wife, Patti. The following awards were presented: highest scholastic average, Anne Booth and Elizabeth Oldham; outstanding pledges, Connie Powell and Sylvia Teague; outstanding senior sister, Deanna Reed. Music for the dance was provided by Buck Wachae. The weekend was topped off on Sunday as Phi Mu's and their dates enjoyed picnicking, boating and dancing at Holton Unger's cabin at High Rock Lake.

Underclassman sisters honored their senior sisters with a picnic at the City Lake, on May 11. Gifts from the chapter were presented to each senior. Phi Mu's have also planned a beach trip during the week following graduation.

Alpha Gamma Delta announces the engagements of Karen Clodfelter to Phil Craven of N. C. State University and June Peoples to Joe Trageser. Linda Roberts is now pinned to Bob Anderson, a TKE at Alliance College.

The Kappa Delta White Rose Ball was a complete success with Omega Waldrep and Elinor Brading receiving awards for the highest scholastic averages. The outstanding sister award was given to past president, Sandra Hargrove. Vicki Boles was the outstanding pledge, while Jackie Brendle was presented with the activity award. Lambda Chi Jerry Friedle was elected the KD Sweetheart.

Kappa Delta announces the engagements of sisters Sandy Hargrove to Lennie Johnson, and Patsy McCormick to Jody Knuckles, an APO at Carolina.

194 Seniors to Graduate 132 A.B.'s, 62 B.S.'s Will Be Given

In September, 1961, approximately 400 wide-eyed, wondering young men and women set foot on this campus, some for the first time in their lives.

The 1961 Orientation Program, under the chairmanship of Allen Sharp, was conducted by means of a new approach. Members of the Freshman Class were divided into groups of 25 under the leadership of an upperclassman girl and boy who helped the frosh with schedules and registration.

During the four years since that eventful September, 206 members of this class have dropped out of school for one reason or another. On May 30, the remaining 194 Seniors will walk down the Memorial Auditorium aisle to claim their diplomas. One hundred and thirty two will receive Bachelor of Arts degrees while 62 will receive Bachelor of Science degrees.

Caravan To Take Modern Approach

In 1963, Dr. Wendell M. Patton, President of High Point College initiated a European approach to learning by organizing the "AMERICAN HISTORY CARAVAN". The purpose of this caravan was to provide classroom instruction in American History with the added advantage of traveling, looking, and listening to experts in the field explain more realistically what had transpired, at the place it happened. The first two AMERICAN HISTORY CARAVANS evolved around American history of the War between the states.

Again this year the Caravan will study and follow the Civil War battles of General McClellan's Peninsula Campaign, visiting the battle sites in Richmond, Virginia, area; then on to Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville; to Gettysburg where Lincoln made his famous speech; concluding the tour with a visit to Antietam Creek; and then motor back to High Point College to wrap up the expedition in words in the form of a research paper.

The first three weeks of the course begins with classroom study, with special emphasis upon the battles and campaigns to be visited on the tour. The tour consists of two weeks with another week back at the college for review of the material.

The first Caravan, in an effort to get a little more realism in their trip roughed it by camping out, preparing their own meals, and fighting off insects. Dean Cole states that this year the Caravan will go in style, riding in new Chevrolet station wagons and living in motel and college dormitory accommodations. Dr. Cole stated, "Since the 1963 Caravan's camping experiences, we have come to the conclusion that camping out is a little too rough, so we discontinued it. Camping out was fun, but you had to arise so early in the morning, cook breakfast, clean up the dishes, and break camp, so some of the students and faculty were tired out before we reached the area of study that day. Our battleground guides met us all fresh and anxious to march with us across the fields to points of interest, not wanting to let us miss a thing. Well! This was a little too much for novice campers who were accustomed to the modern conveniences of beauty-rest mattresses, breakfast without cooking, and maids to clean up after them."

Dean Cole hopes to have the same outstanding authorities pro-

Fine Arts Department Schedules Full Program

By William M. Bigham

The month of May has and will be an extremely busy month for the Fine Arts Department. Many programs have been scheduled for the benefit of the students and faculty.

The Music Department presented Al Collins in a senior recital on May 6, 1965. Among the pieces Al played were: Trumpet Concerto by Haydn, Concert Piece in Fugal Style by Ostrander, Prelude and Allegro by Donato, Antique Airs by Donato, and the "Berceuse" from Jocelyn by Godard. Al was accompanied on the piano by Wini Bristow.

The annual Commencement Recital by students of the Music faculty was held on May 12 at eight o'clock. Among the students appearing on the program were: Dan Ashe, french horn; Bill Bigham, bassoon; Al Collins, trumpet; Wini Bristow, piano; Brenda Bruce, piano; Mrs. Frances Redding, voice; Susan Cooke, organ; and Kitty Hutchins, piano.

Mr. Don Drapeau of the Drama Department will present the class in play directing in a series of seven one-act plays tonight and tomorrow night. Each of the seven members of the class will direct a play. All of the work for the plays, including the selection of cast members, was done by the students. The plays which will be presented tonight are: Happy Journey by Thornton Wilder directed by Jennie Haines, Talk to Me Like the Rain by Tennessee Williams directed by Shirley Key, and Louise by J. H. Speenhoff directed by Anne Casstevens. The plays for Saturday night include: Minnie Field by Ellsworth Conkle directed by Al Rauch, Hello Out There by William Saroyan directed by Susan Cooke, Sorry, Wrong Number by Fletcher directed by Bev Ring, and If Men Played Cards As Women Do by George S. Kaufman directed by Fred Schraplau. We strongly recommend attending at least one night of these performances and hope that you are able to attend both nights. Admission to the plays is free.

The Music Department is offering two programs next week that should be of great interest to all. On May 17, The High Point College Concert Band will present its final concert for this year. The Program will include: Second Suite for Military Band by Holst, Trumpets Ole by Coffield, and Music for a Ceremony by Morrissey.

The Department is also presenting one of its faculty members in recital on May 18. Mr. Charles Lynam, voice instructor and choir director, will present an eight o'clock program. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Nancy Ferrell, who will join the faculty next year as piano instructor for the Music Department.

The College Choir, Brass Ensemble, and Miss Ernestine Fields will also play a major part in the Commencement activities at the end of this month.

Lynam, an accomplished baritone, will be accompanied on the piano by Miss Nancy Ferrell when he sings "Pari Siamo" from Rigoletto by Verdi, selections from "Liederkreis, Opus 24" by Schumann, "Di Provenza IL Mar" from La Traviata by Verdi, "Apres Un Reve" by Faure, "Phydile" by Duparc, "Ouvre Tess Yeux Bleus" by Massenet, "Now sleeps the Crimson Petal" and "Love's Philosophy" by quilter, "The Lament of Ian the Proud" by Griffes, "Sure on this shining Night" and "I Hear an Army" by Barber.

The Art Department presented three of the senior art majors in a student art exhibition during the early part of this month. The three students were: Doc McCulloch, Michelle Schmidley, and Reanza Waldrep. The exhibition was held in the entrance foyer of Memorial Auditorium.

McDowell Conducts Scientific Study

Don Hevener

If you've seen Dick McDowell running around campus with dozens of eggs or trying to give away baby chicks which unexpectedly hatched at Easter, he's not quite as cracked as those eggs he's carrying. Dick has been working very hard to prepare a study on blood clotting in chick embryos.

He with his dog, Phoebe, has spent many long afternoons in lab, cracking dozens of eggs, making blood smears and thrombocyt counts from the chick embryo blood. Because of the minuteness of the very early embryos, Dick had to make micro-pipettes for withdrawing the blood. He also had to have a very small flame for making the pipettes, so he developed a substitute for the large Bunsen burner by using a hypodermic syringe and needle attached to a gas outlet.

Connor, Phillips Attend Summer Institutes In June

Two of our biology professors, Miss Kay Phillips, botany, and Mrs. Elizabeth Connor, zoology, will attend summer institutes to further their knowledge in fields of their interests.

Miss Kay Phillips is one of twenty-five applicants who has been selected to attend the fifth summer institute of the Botanical Society of America, Inc., to be held at Michigan State University from June 20 to July 31, 1965. The objectives of this institute are 1) to bring college teachers of botany into contact with outstanding botanical scholars; 2) to familiarize the applicants with the latest developments in botany; 3) to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas; 4) and to stimulate the participants to further inquiry through research. During the six weeks of the institute, Miss Phillips and other participants will attend eight lectures a week which will be supplemented by field trips or laboratory work. The participants will also visit local installations at the university, such as the cyclotron, museums, the million-volume library, the botanic gardens, and the greenhouse.

Mrs. Connor will attend the Institute for College Biology Teachers to be held at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro from June 14 to August 6, 1965. The topic of the institute is "Molecular and Developmental Biology." The purpose of the institute is to instruct college and university teachers in the newer areas of biology with special emphasis on developments within the past ten years. The five general areas of the curriculum will be 1) General chemical backgrounds in biology; 2) The organic chemistry of biology; 3) The cell — its structure and chemistry; 4) Microbial genetics; and 5) Morphogenesis.

Walker Will Lead Alpha Delta Theta

Prior to the Easter vacation, Alpha Delta Theta elected its officers for the coming year. They are: Barbara Walker, President; Gina Venning, Vice President; Wynne Austraw, Secretary; Linda Pulliam, Treasurer; Ruth Ann Sides and Betty Sanderford, S.C.A. Representative and Alternate; Joyce Wright, Publicity Chairman; Jennifer Kidd, Chaplain; Janice Bogue, Historian; Arty Spry, Projects Chairman; and Betty Jo Vaughn, Song Leader.

Their annual Spring trip to Mill Brook, which was held the weekend before the Easter holidays, was a tremendous success. Warren Day, from Wesley Memorial Methodist Church, spoke to the group on "The Security of a Thumb and a Blanket" from which all of us benefitted a great deal.

On May 4, 1965, Alpha Delta Theta is going to have a picnic at City Lake which will be its closing program of the year.

The legislature also completed another much needed task by forming a "steering committee" whose purpose it will be to keep track and lobby for needed bills, and to also act as a liaison between the legislature and the college. Charles Kerr was appointed to this very important committee as chairman.

After much vacillation, the legislature finally put some teeth into its operating rule on the absences of elected members. Heretofore, there has been no penalty for absences, but under the new rules, any member who is absent (and not represented by his alternate) will lose voting privileges for the next meeting. If this should happen three times in succession, the organization he represents may lose its representation and the representative may be expelled from the legislature.

The legislature also heard a report from the special election committee that is supervising the

Effectiveness Of Honor System Is Re-examined

By William And Mary Students

Editor's Note: Considering various conversations I have heard concerning the possibilities of adopting the Honor System on our own campus, I feel that comments made by students and faculty of renowned university might possibly clarify many of the controversial points of this possibility.

(I.P.) — Recent national attention to the question of the effectiveness of the honor system in American colleges and universities, makes especially timely the statement on the subject from the College of William and Mary, where the honor system was first introduced by an alumnus, Thomas Jefferson, in 1779.

At the college where it began, the honor system has been subjected to re-examination by students and faculty as a response to the current public interest in the subject. The 1962 brochure prepared by a committee of students and faculty on the subject. The Honor System of the College of William and Mary, has met with a wide interest among colleges and universities.

Dr. Davis Y. Paschall, president of William and Mary, in a recently released statement to the college community points out "that such a system as ours is free and strong only if it may be periodically examined and questioned. It behooves us to remember, however, that such questioning, as strong and arduous as it may be, can never change the meaning of honor, although it can, if undisciplined by self-restraint and unpruned by wisdom, subvert the respect given to it.

The effectiveness of the Honor System rests upon the high sense of inner morality of the student, and the high efficiency of the external control established as a form of self-government by the students and collectively imposed. These operational forces complement each other, and one cannot be substituted exclusively for the other.

Perhaps the requirement that a student report an infraction of which he has firsthand knowledge is the point of the Honor Code which is frequently least understood. Here there is a tendency for the student to feel that upholding this point requires "tattling." This feeling is rooted in the early education and family life of an individual where "tattling" is rightly frowned upon as causing unnecessary altercations. There are two points which should be remembered when comparing the childhood situations with that of the college community.

First, a child looks to adults for authority and discipline, while students at William and Mary govern themselves to a large extent, especially in matters of honor. They cannot continue to be self-governing, however, without the cooperation of peers as well as administration.

Secondly, "tattling," by implication, concerns trivial matters, whereas infractions of the Honor Code threaten the way of life of the College.

While an individual might hesitate to report a parking violation to the authorities, the same individual probably would not hesitate to report a robbery or act of violence, acts which threaten the welfare of the society as a whole.

The people who are concerned that a way of life be maintained must accept responsibility for maintaining it.

There is sometimes a tendency to feel that to report another's breach of honor is to deprive honor of its personal sanctity. For any code of rules or Honor System to be effective, however, there must exist two forms of social control: one is an individual, inner morality resulting from religion, education, and public opinion; and the other is an external control, law. Although distinct in their mode of operation, these two forms of control are supplementary.

For the vast majority of students, the Honor Code takes the first form, that of a set of personal ideals or code of conduct. In a group of persons with varied backgrounds and different moral standards, however, there are always some, who for a time at least, must be made to understand that dishonorable conduct has temporal penalties also, one of which may be a forced separation from the group whose integrity they have violated.

When students pledge to abide by the Honor code they are indicating publicly their acceptance of the System and their intention to live by certain principles. That anything but rare violations of these principles should occur is inconceivable, for frequent violations would mean that the spirit of honor, hence the Honor System, did not exist.

That a violation should never occur is equally inconceivable. The students resolve, however, that their ideals shall be maintained, whatever penalties must be imposed to maintain them. Whereupon the Honor System becomes more than a matter of individual morality alone, and emerges, in essence as a system of external control administered by one's peers as the constituted authority created by the students themselves.

In this continuing emergence of the System, care is exercised to insure that no violence be done the spirit of morality. On the contrary, morality is supplemented and reinforced: supplemented for those who lack the depth of inner sanctions of conduct, and reinforced for those whose conduct may be in need of that stimulus, enlargement, and support which come from subjection to discipline that is self-imposed.

In December HPC gave out two honorary degrees, one to an alumnus, Gov. John McKeithen of Louisiana, and one to Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina; the HPC concert band traveled to Virginia where it performed twice; the Tower Players presented a dramatic reading of Seneca's "Oedipus;" pierced ears came in strong; the Panthers were proudly holding a 6-0 record; and, once again, Christmas vacation took us away from the troubles and turmoils of college life (some of us a little earlier than others as a result of the flu epidemic).

Graduation was held for 29 Seniors in January as well as Final Exams for all. Also, 11 Seniors received the honor of being elected to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges; The Top Ten Seniors were chosen, and the Pikas won the Volleyball championship.

With February came Valentine's Day and Homecoming; the Zenith was completed for the year; Nancy Taylor made her debut on HPC campus when she took first place in the annual Campus Capers talent show. The Panthers took their annual first place in the Carolinas Conference; Alpha Gamma Delta won first place for their Homecoming display, The Victory Train, and for their cheer at the pep rally. The Fraternities that won were — Lambda Chi for their display, and Theta Chi for their cheer. C. J. Neal was chosen Homecoming Queen.

March was a busy month with Saint Patrick's Day and all. Ten students were inducted into The Order of the Lighted Lamp; Religion and Life week was held, featuring as its theme, "The New Morality," which was possibly one of the most controversial events of the year; the cast for "The Fantasticks" was chosen; a recital was given by the Music majors; SGA elections were held, with Art Warren, Tommy Dignan, Tillie Clark, and Ken Gilliam taking four firsts. Members of the Hi-Po, Zenith, and Apogee staffs went to a literary conference in New York, missing the first game our victorious Panthers played in Kansas City.

April brought the daffodils, and "The Fantasticks," as well as the 8th Annual Student Congress, SCA elections (Ann Tally was elected President); and the first issue of the Hi-Po under the leadership of her new Editor, Phyllis Foy. The Tower Players had elections, John Roberts and Bill Rimmer conducted a cigarette experiment, and Coach Hartman announced the hope for a successful season for the HPC baseball team.

And now we come to May. Already we have experienced Senior Investiture; Spring gatherings by all the Greeks and other organizations; and pre-registration. The three biggest events of May are yet to come—graduation, final exams, and summer vacation. Have fun and good luck in any or all.

Rachel Little Wins $500 Scholarship

Rachel Little, a sophomore, has won a scholarship to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Presently an English major, she is planning to transfer and continue her major through graduate school.

Rachel won the scholarship simply by applying for financial aid. She will receive $500 a year from the Escheat's Scholarship Fund. She also has a scholarship of $250 from the Pilot Club for businesswomen in her hometown of Lincolnton, North Carolina.

To say the least, Rachel is very excited. Since she has always wanted to go to a large university, she is really looking forward to attending Carolina, and having her boyfriend nearby at State is no handicap!

of talking of fall dances and such, the meeting was full of discussion about the place student government deserves on this campus. The members discussed a bill pertaining to reform of the student judiciary, and debated the right of students to disagree with established school policy and to make their disagreement known to the right people. This is a NEW student legislature and one of which I think this college will

Calloway Receives Foreign Student Affairs Grant

Reverend James Calloway, Student Aid Director at High Point College, has been awarded an "In-Service Study Grant" established by the National Association for Foreign Student Affairs.

He will begin his study at North Carolina State University at Raleigh on May 6 and 7 by joining the Student Advisors from Davidson and Eastern Carolina Colleges as guests of the Foreign Student Office on the Raleigh Campus.

The purpose of this grant is to acquaint new advisors with the programs on outstanding campuses in conjunction with the field service program of the National Association for Foreign Student Affairs.

Calloway is presently the Faculty advisor for the foreign students at High Point College.

High Point College Approves Academic Honors Program

High Point College, in an effort to serve the greatest number of students both of average ability and exceptional ability has approved an Academic Honors program for the exceptional students.

The Faculty at High Point College has approved an academic honors program which will offer students of proved ability and independence the opportunity of extending their competence in general education during their freshman and sophomore years and in their major fields during the junior and senior years of undergraduate work.

The exceptional student will, upon satisfactory completion of the honors program, receive his degree on which is embossed three possible categories: With honors in his major field, with high honors in his major field, and with highest honors in his major field.

The General Honors program will be open to freshmen, during their second semester at High Point College, and sophomores who have maintained a "B" average in all their academic work during the preceding semester to that in which the Honors Program is pursued.

During the General Honors program, students will participate in informal seminars in which selected books or topics are discussed and individual papers presented. These seminars will be organized so as to explore intellectual topics which the college curricula does not include.

The seminars will be led by two faculty members from each of the three disciplines leading to the Bachelor's degrees, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, and Bachelor of Arts in Teaching.

To be invited into the Departmental Honors program the student must have at least a "B" average in the completed college course and a "B" average in his major field. Those students who have successfully completed the underclass General Honors Program may be invited to participate in the Departmental program.

Dr. Harold Conrad, Dean of Academic Planning and Chairman of the Honors program at High Point College, stated, "the nature of the Departmental Honors work will differ from department to department, but the work will include independent work on the part of the student. This work may be in seminars, in tutorials, or private research under the supervision of departmental advisor."

The students in this program may be excused from certain academic requirements, such as tests, attendance in classes (up to 25%).

This program is very similar to graduate study in which the student must pass a written comprehensive and an oral examination at the end of the program. In many cases the students will be required to write a thesis on some topic in their major field.

Sarah Greene who has recently been selected to work with the North Carolina Volunteers this summer relaxes before exams.

new freshman class elections. These new elections were necessitated by many irregularities and inconsistencies which were found in the first election. The committee reported that the deadline for petitions was May 10, and that a class meeting took place on Friday, May 14, at 10:20, with voting immediately following.

be proud if it is allowed to grow and be independent.

This plan of action will not be completed within the remaining days of this semester, nor next semester, nor possibly in our stay here at High Point College, but, let us begin.

I am saying to you that there is a need for us to govern ourselves for we are the leaders of tomorrow, and for us to be capable and successful leaders of tomorrow, we have to lead today and lead vigorously. John Kennedy said, "We dare not forget that we are the heirs of that first Revolution. Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans — born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage — and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed, and to which we are committed . . . at home and around the world." I quote Lyndon Johnson when he said, "Our nation, like all nations, is possessed of certain resources — resources of nature — resources of position — and resources of the human mind. Without conquest or aggrandizement, we cannot add to these basics. Thus, whatever we are to be we must build from those things at our disposal, and to content ourselves with less than the ultimate potential is to deny our heritage and our duty."

Let us keep these words and ideas in mind and take a step forward towards increasing the power of the Student Government Association on this campus. May we join hands in this great consolidated effort and eye the obstacles ahead as symbols of our greatness. Let us be torch-bearers of the future.

Thank you

Track Tournament To Meet On HPC Campus May 15

The conference track tournament will be held here May 15. As an innovation, part of the meet will be held at night. This should prove to be a very interesting and enjoyable evening and will make possible a larger student audience.

The afternoon session will encompass the shot-put, javelin, and high jump finals as well as trials for other events.

High Point finished second in a tri-meet with Catawba and Lenoir Rhyne. Catawba finished first with 59½ points, High Point had 54½ points, and Lenoir Rhyne totaled 48 points. High Point took six first places: Lewis Farlow in the one mile and two mile runs, Steve Laney in the high and low hurdles and Tom Kiley in the high jump and the mile relay. Steve Laney broke the school's record in the low hurdles with a time of 25 minutes, 3 seconds. Mike Cantrell broke the shot put record with a put of 43 feet, 2½ inches.

Day-Dorm Girls Are Leading Ball Team

The women's softball intramural double elimination tournament is about to draw to a close as finals near. The Day and Dorm Students Team remains undefeated by winning over the Phi Mu's with a score of 19-10. The Phi Mu's must now face the Alpha Gam's again to determine the winners of the losers bracket. The winner of that game will go on to play the championship game with the Day and Dorm students. If the Day and Dorm students lose, another game must be played to determine the softball champion team since a team must have two losses to be eliminated from the tournament. The Zeta's and the KD's were eliminated by losing two games each.

Panthers Enter Carolinas Baseball Conference

The High Point College Panthers took the field Thursday, May 13, to play their first two games of the Conference held in Asheboro, North Carolina. The team, according to Coach Hartman, came through with the needed wins to qualify for the tournament: "I'm real proud of the boys. They came back to win the necessary games. They started their move with the win against Lenoir Rhyne." After winning that game on April 27 by the score of 13-1, the team went on to win 7 out of 9 conference games to finish up with an 11-7 conference record and an overall record of 15-11. The Panthers finished in second place only a half game behind the first place team, Pfeiffer.

Coach Hartman gave much of the credit to Gary Holland. Holland pitched the team to two clutch victories. "He came in there and won the games we needed to win," remarked Coach Hartman. "Another boost was the hitting streaks of Tom Dignan and Joe Forte.

Oxen Win Bowling

Intramural Teams Led By Delta Sig

By Just Jeb

This year the intramural standings are very close. I will not at this time give the point standings because I feel that it would place undue pressure on the top three teams. At present Delta Sigma Phi is in first place. Theta Chi is in second place. Third place is being held down by the Pika's. Lambda Chi Alpha is in fourth place and Alpha Phi Omega in last place.

First place is up for grabs. The top three teams are all very much in contention. The softball season will tell the tale. If they keep going at the present pace the Red Ox look like they could take the coveted crown. Let's all go out and watch these fine athletes in competition.
