Outstanding Students Elected To Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges

Each year the members of the senior class select the Top Ten members of their class who they feel represent the class best. This year's election took place February 1, in the auditorium of the Fine Arts Building. The people selected as the Top Ten Seniors were: Mike Pierce, C. J. Neal, Tracy McCarthy, Carol Parrish, Liz Oldham, Art Warren, Don Bryant, Helen Paisley, Brenda Simmons, and Eve Jones.

The editors of the Apogee, Helen Paisley, have been active in the English Department and have served as head proctor of the Women's Dorm Council. Helen has also been on the Dean's List frequently. In the Phi Mu fraternity she has served numerous offices. Liz is also a Top Ten Senior.

The editors of the Apogee, Carol Parrish and Helen Paisley, respectively, have been honored as well as Liz Oldham, past president of the Student Christian Association. Eve Jones, president of the Women's Dorm Council has also received recognition from her classmates.

Players Travel To Pfeiffer

On Monday, February 1, they traveled to Pfeiffer College to present Seneca's "Oedipus," a production which they performed here on December 14 and 15. This trip to Pfeiffer was in return to the Pfeiffer Playmakers visit here on January 19, when they presented "Suspenseful Anthology." The students making this trip included: Jerry Proffitt, Anne Castoreno, John Swan, Ralph Hoor, Shirley Key, Fred Schrazi, Steve Seasing, David Dorsey, Sherry Inman, Kathy Ward, Barbara O'Connor, Kitty Hutchins, Gail Wilson, Mac Hort, and Mr. Don Drapeau, the director.

Future plans of the Players include the hope to present a musical this semester. The musical to be presented is "The Fantastics," taken from the book by Tom Jones. If all goes as planned, it should be ready for presentation either at the end of March or the beginning of April.
Congratulations and many thanks are in order for our fighting Panthers team for the fine job they are doing in competition this season. Their many hours of practice and time on the road make it possible for us not only enjoy many evenings of generally exciting life, but spark a sense of pride and competition in our college life. Our basketball team is our first line of representation to other colleges throughout the state, the district, and the nation. Triumphs and heart-breaking losses are very much felt by all of us, and the mounting pressure "stomached" by Coach Tom Quinn and his charges is well known.

At this writing, the HPC cagers expect an admirable 16-2 record as they prepare to take on the Quakers of Guilford College at the High Point College campus. He has said that faculty members are to be enshrouded in their college community. Catsie.

Have you noticed the innovation in the cafeteria's lunch line? I feel sure that the entire student body would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Wright for creating this new service. The idea behind the "ticket" student body cannot be lost in the way it operates.

I realize that all students cannot receive the recognition they deserve, and there are certainly a number of deserving students who received the honor both this year and last. But, they have been selected. If I knew how they were selected, I might more willingly accept the choice.

The suggestion for visiting privileges in the various dorms was made to the student body last semester. The ideal beyond kind of wild at the time and it still does, but it is the intention of the Hi-PO to poll the reaction of the student body, faculty, and administration to the idea. Perhaps problems would arise, but we would like to find out, from you readers, what these problems would be.

Please fill in this questionnaire and place it in an envelope addressed to the Hi-PO, Campus Mail, and return it by February 12. Check one.

□ I am in favor of allowing women into the rooms of the men's dorm.
□ I am in favor of allowing men into rooms of the women's dorm.
□ I am in favor of allowing men and women to share dorm rooms.
□ I am not in favor of allowing men or women into the rooms of either dorm.

Artists To Appear In HPC Concerts

On February 20, the Federated Music Club, in cooperation with the Fine Arts Building, will present "The New Morality" as the program for the evening at 8:00 p.m. The program will feature the Winston-Salem Symphony Orchestra, which was created by the Federated Music Club for this purpose. The orchestra will be composed of talented musicians from High Point College and other institutions in the area. The program will include selections from classical music as well as modern works. Tickets for the concert will be available at the door.

In addition, the Federated Music Club will sponsor a recital on March 26; the program has not yet been announced. Student tickets for the performance will be sold at $2.00 and proceeds will go to the endowment fund of the YMCA which is sponsoring the concert. Dr. Lewis is selling tickets on campus.

Mark 1, marks another Community Concert. The Boston Pops Orchestra will make an appearance then.

The Winston-Salem Symphony will feature a duo piano team on March 17, to be announced at a later date. The program will include a selection from "The New Morality" as well as other classical pieces. Tickets for the concert will be available at the door.

Missi Southard will give a recital on March 28. In every way, music occupies a place of honor in the month a student recital will be held at 3:00 p.m. in the auditorium of the Fine Arts Building.

All these events will take place in the Fine Arts Building and we hope you will come and enjoy them.

Dear Editor:

In reply to a letter that appeared in the December 15 issue of the HPC, we would like to inform "we-boys" of HPC that there must certainly be "individuals" in the form of girls on this campus. Perhaps we are not turning summarems to attract your attention, but we are here.

If we seek an answer, we open your eyes wide enough, you might find a girl who was selected in the rain and mud or the rocks at city lake long before you ever came along. You might find a girl who prefers a "row and a half seat" to a little red sports car, or a date to the Canteens.

If you cringe your neck at the "opportunity" to sit in the cafeteria, you might find a girl - a GDI - who is not only interesting, but interested as well. What is "interesting" anyway? Webster defines it as "enjoying the attention, amusing interest." Is there something special we can do to engage your attention? Speak! Let us know and we will help you.

One small closing thought: To be really interesting, a person must feel interesting, and what girl feels special when she is asked out for Saturday night Saturday afternoon at 4:32? Perhaps if the boys of HPC were completely confirmed on this event, would lower them themselves to ask for a date at least. Some of us are in advance, they do not find less "ticky-tacky," and more individuals.

Conrad Announces Summer Program

Dr. Harold E. Conrad, Director of the High Point College Summer Work Program, has announced that the program will begin June 17 and run through July 15, with the expenses designed to begin July 18, ending August 21.

Dr. Conrad advises that courses offered during the summer sessions cover the majority of the curriculum areas offered during the regular session. However, some courses are not offered in the Summer Session, and it is advisable that students interested in taking these courses make plans to attend the Spring or Fall semesters.

Zenith Completes Work For Year

It was with mixed feelings that we, the 1965 Zenith staff, put the annual publication to bed. Some of the staff members had the privilege of delivering it to the printing company in Charlotte at which time we were given the opportunity to tour the publishing plant and to see our efforts begin to materialize as the pages found their way through the maze of departments leading to final publication.

Publication To Be Unique

The Zenith staff is a representative body, composed of members of each of the four classes, acting in behalf of the student body of High Point College. A wide variety of thoughts, ideas, and suggestions has contributed to the uniqueness of the 1965 Zenith. Hopefully leading the way to better publications in years to follow.

Zenith Feature Academics

In the Zenith year a great deal of emphasis has been placed on academics, this being the primary purpose of a college education. This is not to say that other activities have been excluded. We feel that organizations, social life, sports, and emphasis on spiritual growth are all an integral part of the college life; however, they should not be placed in a position of primary importance.

Co-operative Staff

The staff worked hard to produce the kind of publication that you, the student body, can be proud of. Much cooperation and co-ordination of efforts is necessary in any undertaking of this sort. We, the Zenith staff, have been proud to represent you; however, now that the annual has been put to bed, 1965 plans must begin to take shape for next year. Your suggestions and advice are invited but, most important, it is your support we need. The Zenith is an annual publication of the student body of High Point College. Without your support and participation such a publication must be discarded.

S.G.A. Prepares For '65 Elections

The S.G.A. elections are approaching quickly. All petitions for officers in the Student Government must be turned into the secretary of the S.G.A., Brenda Symer, by March 2, 1965. On March 3 the various candidates for office will present their campaign speeches in assembly. The following, Wednesday, March 10 the voting headquarters in the Student Center will be open from 11:00-5:00.

The installation of the new officers will then take place during the assembly Wednesday, March 17.

Qualifications for holding offices in the S.G.A. are as follows: The President shall be elected from the rising senior class. The Vice President shall be elected from the rising junior or senior class. The Secretary and Treasurer shall be elected from the rising junior or senior class.

Nomination for candidates for the officers of the Executive Council shall be made by petition signed by at least 100 students. No student may sign more than one petition for any single office. Petitions must be submitted within three weeks prior to the date designated for elections.

All these qualifications have been stated in the Student Handbook, published by the Students of High Point College.

Brochures Donated For Chemistry Dept.

High Point College has received a gift of more than $1000 for brochures from Chemical Coatings manufacturers, who sponsor the High Point College Chemical Coatings Center.

Dr. E. O. Cummings, Professor of Chemistry at High Point College, and Director of the Chemical Coatings Center, received a sample brochure from Mr. Grant Arhart, Chairman of Literature and Publicity Committee of the Chemical Coating Center and Technical Director of the Desoto Chemical Coatings, Inc., at the Desoto plant, today.

These brochures, which describe the program of Chemical Coatings instruction at High Point College and indicate opportunities in the industry, will be sent to prospective students across the country.

The Chemical Coatings courses at High Point College provide the theoretical and practical foundation for a career in the protective coatings industries. Courses in this field are offered by the students who qualify and are an integral part of the curriculum leading to the B.S. degree in Chemistry. The laboratory work which is required for this course is carried on both in the laboratories of the college and in nearby plants.

Homecoming Review

More than 1500 alumni came back to H.P.C. to celebrate Homecoming. Over 200 came out from out of town, some came from as far away as New York just for the weekend.

All seemed to enjoy the Greek pep rally Saturday afternoon. The displays on the lawn and the Greek positively. The trophies for the best sorority cheer and display went to Alpha Gamma Delta. Lambda Chi Alpha was the fraternity that won the trophy for the best fraternity display, while Theta Chi received the trophy for the best fraternity cheer.

C. J. Neal was crowned Homecoming Queen during half time of the basketball game Saturday night. The Homecoming court was presented.

The members of the court were: Sherry Snow, Delaine James, Julie Delaine, Patricia Willis, and Michelle Atkinson.

Faculty Organizes NEA Unit On Campus

High Point College faculty who are members of the North Carolina Education Association have organized a High Point College "unit" of that organization.

In a recent meeting, members of the association elected officers for the unit. Dr. Leopold M. Hays, Professor of Sociology, was president; Dr. L. B. Pogo, Director of Counseling, was elected as vice president; and Miss Ruth L. Worthington, Assistant Professor of Education and Psychology, was elected secretary and treasurer.

The "unit" held a meeting February 22 to review the program and goals of this professional organization, elected delegates to the annual convention to be held in Asheville March 18-20, to vote for state officers of the NCEA and elect delegates to the North Carolina Education Association's Annual Convention to be held later in the year.

The organization of this unit of the NCEA at High Point College is another indication of the interest of the faculty in advancing the effectiveness of the teaching profession.

Alumni Return for Festivities

Various comments were made by the students about the Homecoming. Jim Eagle thought the weekend was a big success. She felt that the half time of the basketball game was more effective than it had been because the lights were dimmed and people did not all jump up and leave the stands. She added that there is room for improvement, however. She pointed out that suits might have been more practical than gowns.

Jim Douglas thought Homecoming "came off well". He stated that there was a sufficient number of planned activities which were not overly done. Jim Eagle also thought we did not have our usual weekend downpour for Homecoming.

Jim noted that the pep rally was well planned this year for the Greeks. As far as the final went, he thought they were good. The audience participated in the half time activities was a good sign.

Wayne Auzena enjoyed the "Shinelle", but thought they did not perform long enough, because they were a half hour late, they only performed for one and a half hours. She mentioned that "the gopher plier was good."

Wayne also commented about the game. She said that the action kept one alert. She did not think that half time was as dramatic as it was built up to be, though.

Jim Walters also thought the concert was good once it started. He thought it was rather distracting, however, that half the band wasn't there, that the microphones were not working properly, and that the "Shinelles" were late.

When asked about the dance the following night, Steve said "The Fabulous Five can't help but be good." He did not think the time of the dance should have been changed, though. That was an inconvenience. As a whole, he thought there was enough going on to keep most students occupied.

Worthy To Visit Scandinavia

C. M. Worthy, a sophomore High Point College student, has been selected by the Board of Education of the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church to take part in the Scandinavian Caravan this summer. A tentative schedule is being prepared by the World Travel Agency for a week in England and Scotland, five weeks in Norway, Sweden, Finland, and Denmark, and three weeks touring in Italy. The caravan will arrive June 3, by ship and return to the United States in August by plane.

The purpose of the trip is to visit youth camps and visit Methodist churches in the Scandinavian countries where they are considered a minority group. Four of C. M. Worthy's four boys have been chosen to make the trip. They will be living in the homes of Methodist in these various countries.

This past summer C. M. Worthy worked at Camp Tekoa where visitors from the Scandinavian countries met him. C. M. Worthy is interested in the program and applied to make the exchange trip to their countries. C. M. Worthy plans to use the money to help people who have a goal. The trip will take place in June.

Girls Teams Winners

The Girls Basketball Team will officially end its season Saturday, February 20, with Guilford College. The game is scheduled for three o'clock in High Point College's Alumni Gymnasium. The last time High Point College met Guilford, the score was 56-49 in favor of High Point.

An 8-0 Record

At the present time, the Girls basketball team has an 8-0 record. Mary Hendricks, a graduate of Allen Jay, is high scorer for the team, averaging 22.9 points per game. Three other girls are averaging in the double figures and they are: Emily Asman—11.8, Gail Harris—11.3, and Linda Perry—10.1.

Re�ounded

Brenda Jo Thomas has been the "quarterback" of the team and has done well. Also, Kaye Moody and Wanda Joyce have done extremely well as stationary guards, pulling down many of the rebounds. Wanda Howlett is a reserve who has helped out both on offense and defense. Beverly Moody, Ann Wallace, Lorraine Beddil, and Sylvia Soler have also played well for the team.

This year High Point College has produced one of the best basketball teams in the school's history. What has made this a great year? There are many highlights which attribute to this year's greatness. This is the first year in the history of the Carolina Conference that a team has been rated as high nationally as this team has. The Panthers were rated number two then dropped to number three. They then regained number three up to the time of the writing of this article. One of the highlights of the season was High Point's victory over Western Carolina at Western ending a forty homegame winning streak for the Catamounts. Perhaps the most impressive victory the Panthers registered this year was over Rockhurst College. Rockhurst is the defending national NAIA champion. To beat a team such as this is a feat in itself, but when they were beaten by thirty points it serves as a great tribute to the team and the coach. The not to be forgotten is Kirk Stewart's traditional scoring record of 36 points against Belmont Abbey.

Coach Quinn

Coach Quinn stated that we are a much more versatile team than any other team in the conference. The new players have gained needed experience. Quinn said, "the team has gained maturity and played consistently." Many people tend to compare this year's team with last year's team. Quinn commenting on this said the two teams were of different types. Last year's team was a strong and fast team with excellent bench strength and experience. This year the team has better shooting and more poise.

Hopes For Kansas

The conference tournament is currently in the sights of the Panthers. Of course everyone has high hopes of "Going to Kansas City," According to Coach Quinn our chances of doing both are very good. He gave several factors for our chances. Finishing first in the conference has an advantage. The experience of four of the five starters is invaluable especially if the team goes to Kansas City. They have played under many different situations. In the last six games one or more starters has been absent. They played in two crossovers as well as conference. This year's team has been able to hold the lead or come from behind with great poise. Even through a place in the district playoffs has been assured the team continues to give all it has to win. If High Point has the best won and lost record the first playoff game will be home, a tremendous advantage.

Conference Action

Mr. Quinn believes the opening games of the conference tournament will be harder because the newer teams in league standings are stronger than last year. As Coach Quinn put it, "everyone of five or six teams could have three good nights and win the tournament." High Point, in order to be a big factor for the Panthers, if the Panthers go all the way, there will be three games in a row at the conference tournament. At Kansas City they will have to play five games in one week. Coach Quinn concludes the interview by stating, "I could not say enough to show my respect for the group and how they showed up to the circumstances. Joe Forte contributed to the success of the season, among other things, to the ability of the team to adjust to many variables and different circumstances under which they had to play. He stated that he has never been on an army team which was able to adapt itself to such varying and often, hazardous conditions. "The team can adapt to the running or the slow-down game," Joe added. Joe believes that Coach Quinn has done an outstanding job. Joe feels that the participation and enthusiasm of both students and town people was excellent, and that the cheerleaders did an outstanding job.

Much Rivalry

On the opening shot, the starter on the team, Steve Tatgenhorst, feels privileged to play with four outstanding seniors. He added that the senior starters have been even harder. He attributes the team's success to the "three horses, two good guards, and one of the best coaches in the United States." Steve believes that his best game was the first game against Atlantic Christian College. It will make no difference what the results of the conference tournament are, or whether or not the team goes to Kansas City, this year's team will long be remembered. The school and the community owe a great deal to Coach Quinn for the team's success, honor and glory they have brought to High Point College.

Ten Students Inducted into The Order of The Lighted Lamp

During the assembly program, Wednesday, February 24, the induction ceremony of the Order of the Lighted Lamp was held.

The Order of the Lighted Lamp is the oldest honor society on the High Point College campus.

To be recognized and admitted into this society is the greatest honor this college can bestow upon a student. Selection for membership is based on the scholarship, character, leadership, and service of a student to the campus community.

The nominations for membership are made by the current members of the society and are approved by a majority of the faculty. Present members of the society are Betty Rogers, Jim Jones, C. J. Neal, and Liz Oldham.

These students who were qualified and were inducted this year were: Charles Kerr, Bert Davis, Sue Aikens, DeMik, Ken Gilliam, Tracy McCarthy, Myra Morris, Helen Paldoc, Mike Pierce, Ann Tailey, and Betty White.

The induction ceremony was conducted by the current members of the organization. Dr. Patton formally inducted the students by having them repeat the pledge of the Order of the Lighted Lamp. An address was given by Dr. Russell Montfort, Associate Pastor of the First Methodist Church of High Point.

The symbol of the "New Morality," theme of Religion in Life Week March 17-19, was designed by Mr. Ralford Porter. This picture contains fragments from PLAYBOY MAGAZINE which stimulate the imagination and suggest the theme for the entire program.

"New Morality" to be Featured During Religion in Life Week

"The New Morality" will be the theme for the Religion and Life week sponsored by the Student Christian Association of High Point College, which begins March 17 with a special assembly program, in the Memorial Auditorium.

The students at High Point College will have the opportunity to decide for themselves whether or not "The New Morality" of love should supersede the old morality, the laws of the ten commandments.

Members of the student Christian association get interested in this particular topic after some of them heard a sermon preached by Rev. Russell Montfort, Associate Pastor of the First Methodist Church in High Point. In this sermon, Rev. Montfort asked "whether our morality today is based on experience or on the Bible?"

After reading John A. T. Robinson's book HONEST TO GOD in which he refers to the new morality of loving versus the law, the planning committee decided upon "The New Morality" as the theme for religion and life week.

Under the leadership of Henry Thompson, a senior from Graham, North Carolina, the mechanics of putting the program for the week into operation was begun.

Dr. Wally Beach, author of CONSCIENCE ON CAMPUS, professor of Christian Ethics at Duke Divinity School and Duke Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, will initiate the program on the New Morality in an Assembly Program on March 17.

An award winning film, "La Dolce Vita," American translation - "The Sweet Life," will be shown three times, 7:30 p.m., March 17, 10:30 a.m. and 2:00 p.m., March 18. This is a very provocative film which portrays a well satisfying humanistic concept as well as a deeper spiritual expression of the laws of love. Some of the scenes depict the basic experiences of life from which the Modern "Playboy" attitude and philosophy has evolved.

New Morality or Bankruptcy

With an ever increasing pace of life it is quite apropos to reflect upon moral values. It is also in order to caution ourselves from treating values as mere art. Neither can we justify ourselves if we participate in such an inquiry out of a sophisticated curiosity. The question of the “New Morality” is a challenge for us to come to grips with our age as participants rather than as spectators.

One of the areas which directly involves the college student as well as the public at large is that of financing a college education. Our age as participants rather than as spectators.

The cause of an air of irresponsibility is not simple. There are, however, some readily perceivable indications. It is possible that the problems that are likely to arise from the dollar for social and educational programs. As a result, it is quite justifiable that the problems are expected to run up with the unemployment and educational needs. Much of this way of thinking is a carry-over from the popular G.I. Bill. Thus, if we wish hard moral responsibility in this ease fell partly upon our politicians, educational programs. As a result, it is just possible that a good percentage of repayments could be accomplished. There was a general agreement among students that the student himself had enjoyed more than his share of the sunshine tax money which after all comes from the citizen's pocket. The thought was expressed that the system under such a policy, therefore, becomes delayed afterthoughts. Much of this way of thinking is a carry-over from the popular G.I. Bill. If so, this wish had enough. Even Uncle Sam will pay us to be good citizens.

Miss Margaret Meade, by a further report in Atlanta, has come up with the idea recently that “the answer to High School drop outs is a cany-over from the popular G.I. Bill. Thus, if we wish hard moral responsibility in this ease fell partly upon our politicians, educational programs. As a result, it is just possible that a good percentage of repayments could be accomplished. The Magic of The Theatre

By Shirley Key

As I walked onto the stage known as a stage, I immediately got the feeling one feels as he enters a theatre— a feeling of awe and wonder. With the rising of a curtain, this space can become anything anytime and we as an audience are taken on long glorious adventures into the world of the theatre. For a few hours in the dark of the theatre, we let ourselves become uninhibited and we believe what we play asks us to believe.

On this particular day that I walked onto the stage, I was fascinated to find a group of eight people in a semi-circle being led by a lone man; the group was in a heated discussion. As I wandered nearer, I heard them discussing empathy and aesthetic distance in relation to prosenium and arena-style productions. I made myself unnoticed by remaining behind some curtains. I dared not breathe loudly. I did not wish to break the spell, for it seemed that this discussion could have been a production itself.

The lights were dim and harsh, the mood was tense, the lines came quick, the action rose to a culmination. Then I began to agree with the big guy with wavy hair, the director called a halt to the discussion. It was time to make more assignments. A bell rang and the mood was over. I remained behind the curtains until the last member of the class hurried by. I came out from hiding and confronted my teacher. In my eagerness to find out just what had taken place, I bowed him with questions. He very quietly told me that his directing class consisted of several English majors, a potential drama major, a biology major and a few miscellaneous characters.

For the first month of classes they studied the techniques of directing; for the rest of the semester they will be directing scenes from various plays. The first scenes will be dramatic; the second set will be more comic in nature. Actors for these scenes will be chosen from the directing class itself and from the student body in general. The experience has been rewarding, even though there have been some problems which would be nice to forget. But that is another story.

My successor will be chosen from the members of the staff who attend the New York conference at Columbia University Press Association so that next year's staff will be able to use the mistakes which we have made this year. There is much room for improvement, and the operation of the present staff and its members of the editorial department. The paper will become an even more important “Voice of the Students.”

This all might sound very touching, but if I've tried to bring you more information that was not covered before. I have made errors, and wish to express my regrets to those who might have been disturbed because of them. In the final analysis, "Them's the breaks."

Students Present Resolution To University Center

At a recent meeting of the two college students, Al Willis of Belmont Abbey, and Phyllis Fry of Western Carolina, offered a resolution to the University Council present to them a proposal for the establishment of a Communication Center under the auspices of the Center.

The purpose of the formation of such a continuing association was recognized as a need among the students in the Department of Communication in North Carolina. Such a center could not be taken until later in the spring.

This proposal was formulated as a result of a Conferences Course through several small North Carolina schools held at Pfeiffer College on November 20-21. A committee selected by members of the conference appeared before Dr. Keppel, Executive Director of the University Center, and Dr. Keppel, the idea and an admirable viewpoint, referred the committee to the Council for further investigation.

Other members of the original committee involved with the project and Mr. Willis were selected are Mr. DeLoach, Pfeiffer College; Mr. Korn, Catawba College; Ms. Hitte Fowler, Queens College, and Mr. Jim Rice, Lutheran Hayes. Dr. Allen Thacker of Dr. Lazaruk states that his task of providing better instruction and adding equipment will be greatly enhanced.

The Biology Department received funds for purchasing this equipment from a matching grant by the National Science Foundation of Washington, D.C.

BSU Members Meet At N.Y. Seminar

Billy Manns and Mattzell Aus- tin represented the High Point College BSU at a seminar about “Social Christian Concerns in New York City.”

They were a select number of students from twelve different colleges and universities in North Carolina.

While in New York City some of the most interesting places they attended were Yeshen Church, Greenwich Village, Manhattan Baptist Church, Riv- erhead Center and a Dominican Priests Office. Dr. Christopher L. Martin, who represented the High Point College BSU, addressed the students on Fri- day night, March 10 at 7:30 p.m. on the topic, “The Playboy Philos- ophy in relation to the New Morality.”

Equipment Added To Science Labs

The Biology Department of High Point College has received a Micro- scope, another piece of scientific equipment. This equipment is Undergraduate Equipment Grant from the National Science Foun- dation.

Under the instruction of Dr. William J. Keppel, biology students set up this new photographic microscope and began to take microscopic pictures of slides which they had prepared.

The new Photographic Micro- scope will enable the students to take pictures of materials which have been magnified (1000 times) and are not available in Biological Sciences since photographs of minute living organisms will show what the student sees in the microscope.

This new piece of Scientific Equipment will be used very ex- tensively in independent study and research. In addition it will allow the instructors the opportu- nity to have slides and negatives which can be used in classroom lecture. The equipment is an advantage to Halton, 1964. A committee approved the idea of a photography microscope and began to set up the programs.

All books which students presented are primarily to students' special inter- ests. If a student's collection of his books, describing each book he has read, or collections devoted to his hobby, his work, or collections that he has formed for the exclusive purpose of his books, describing each book he has read, or collections devoted to his hobby, his work, or collections that he has formed for the exclusive purpose of his small North Carolina schools

Dr. Lazaruk foresees a better train college student with this equipment. The BSU has plans to see additional equipment, such as the students at High Point College, William F. Cope, Instructor of Sociology at High Point College, Dr. A. F. P. Thompson of the University of Halifax College, College of Holy Cross, and Dr. Lazaruk states that his task of improving instruction and adding equipment will be greatly enhanced.

The Biology Department re- ceived funds for purchasing this equipment from a matching grant by the National Science Foundation of Washington, D.C.

The Program Chairman, Henry Thompson, states, "We are not going to enter the week with a preconceived answer to this problem of morality. We are going to present both sides of the problem and allow each individ- ual to decide for himself which is the best for his particular needs." He went on to say that moral issues have been researched and collected for both sides of the dilemma by the National Catholic Conference. Look, Playboy Magazine, and books on the subject of morality have been secured and will be available in the discussion per- son, Rev. Monfort, states, "This should be a week of en- lightenment and helpfulness to all those who participate."

Decision Made on S.G.A. Election

As a result of the March 4 meeting of the Judiciary Council of the Student Government Association of High Point College, the Student Government Association has been altered to make it possible for Art Warren to run for election in the upcoming elections.

The members of the Judiciary Council unanimously voted to restructure Article VI, section III A of the Constitution of the Student Government Association as follows:

That Article VI, section III A of the Constitution of the Student Government Association of High Point College, The President shall be elected from the rising senior class -- refers to a Student's classification for the semester following elections. It is felt that the spirit of the Constitution was to allow more free choice of student to hold offices in the Student Government.

Also, the Judiciary Council recognizes the class standing of a student as recorded by the Registrar's Office of this College.

The members of the Judiciary Council who made the decision were: Jean Anderson, Judy More, Linda Bolen, John Swain, Jerry Profit, John Starling, Steve Pearson, and Chief Justice, Wayne Furman.

Enrollment Up for Fall Term

In an interview with Mr. Phillips, the director of admissions, it was revealed that there have been 265 students accepted so far for the 1965-66 school year. Students from states all along the Eastern seaboard, as well as one student from Alaska, one from California, and one from Texas have been accepted.

The current rate of acceptance is approximately 2.5 times greater than that of last year. Mr. Phillips contributes the increase in acceptances to a more diversified student body, as well as the current success of our basketball team. However, the admission process also has become more active in recruiting students for the college.

Mr. Phillips stated that the percent of out of state students will probably increase as more dorm space is made available.

Services Extended By Library

Wrenn Memorial Library has received a new 3M Brand Day Photocopier which had been on loan. The machine is set up on the Ground Floor, conveniently near the periodicals and reference area. Any student may receive copies to be made from periodicals and reference materials.

The charge is ten cents per page. In addition, the Library will pay for the new machine, if you want a copy or copies of a magazine or newspaper, come to the Ground Floor of your Library between 8:00 am and 6:00 pm. Your copy will be made while you wait. It takes less than five minutes to make a copy. Copying is quick, inexpensive, AND GOOD!

District Champion Panthers Travel To Kansas City For Tournament

The Purple Panthers are Kansas City bound!

Second place was not good enough for our fighting Panthers and Clinton Coach tournament pointed this fact out very well. Ellen was not the nemesis it had to be. Wofford tried valiantly to down them, but could not stem their attack.

In the first quarter, the Panthers scored 14 points. The 68-64 win was a hard fought game all the way.

Decision Made on S.G.A. Election

As a result of the March 4 meeting of the Judiciary Council the Constitution of the Student Government Association of High Point College has been altered to make it possible for Art Warren to run for election in the upcoming elections.

The members of the Judiciary Council unanimously voted to restructure Article VI, section III A of the Constitution of the Student Government Association as follows:

That Article VI, section III A of the Constitution of the Student Government Association of High Point College, The President shall be elected from the rising senior class--refers to a Student's classification for the semester following elections. It is felt that the spirit of the Constitution was to allow more free choice of student to hold offices in the Student Government.

Also, the Judiciary Council recognizes the class standing of a student as recorded by the Registrar's Office of this College.

New or Old?

When we were children, our parents told us what to do. Their rules and regulations were our standards of morality. But as we grow older, we are no longer bound by the authority of our parents, and we have to make our own choices.

The standards which stood firm in the past are fading or shirk. Does this mean that we have no standards? No morality? Or does it mean that we must look for new standards and a new morality?

We cannot have society without morality. When the old standards fall, we build up new ones. With what shall we build?

Caravans are Educational and Enjoyable

This summer the third High Point College American History Caravan will retrace a portion of the Civil War. This caravan will pursue the same original idea as the previous two. Fort Monroe, Virginia to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania are the limits of the trip. Bath houses, museums, monuments, etc., pertaining to the Civil War are visited.

One of the most interesting portions of the caravan is the stay in Richmond. A visit to the Capitol and the State House, now Chief Justice Burger of the Supreme Court, is a highlight of the trip. Fort Monroe, Virginia to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania are the limits of the trip. Bath houses, museums, monuments, etc., pertaining to the Civil War are visited.

The actual vividness of the Civil War is seen all along the trip; the excitement, the atmosphere, the tension. But perhaps the most interesting portion of the caravan is the stay in Richmond. A visit to the Capitol and the State House, now Chief Justice Burger of the Supreme Court, is a highlight of the trip. Fort Monroe, Virginia to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania are the limits of the trip. Academic Honesty Is Grossly Underestimated

(EP) A nation-wide survey of hundreds of deans and thousands of students in 88 American colleges and universities has revealed that:

1. The amount of academic dishonesty in college is "grossly underestimated" by students, student body presidents and deans.
2. Only a small proportion of those who cheat are caught and punished.
3. Sources of college cheating can be traced to the high school experiences of students, and their selection into college.
4. Schools with honor systems are less apt to have a high level of cheating than those with other arrangements for control.
5. Elements of school quality are associated with low levels of cheating.
6. The survey was conducted by William J. Bowers of Columbia University's Bureau of Applied Social Research. The work was supported by the Cooperative Research Program of the Office of Education, United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The findings are contained in a report titled "Student Dishonesty and Its Control in College."

Perhaps the most alarming finding of this study concerns the prevalence of academic dishonesty on American college campuses, says the report. "At least half the students in the sample have engaged in some form of academic dishonesty since coming to college. This is probably a conservative estimate."

The magnitude of the problem is grossly underestimated by members of the campus community. Two and a half times as many students have cheated as student body presidents estimate, and more than three times as many have cheated as dean estimate.

Large schools have higher levels of cheating than small ones, and coeducational schools have higher levels than either men's or women's colleges, the latter having the lowest rates. The advantage of the single-sex schools seems partly due to their higher academic equality on the average.

"The level of cheating is much lower at schools that place primary responsibility for dealing with cases of academic dishonesty in the hands of the students and their elected representatives, as under the honor system, than at schools that rely on faculty-centered control or have a form of mixed control in which faculty and students jointly participate."
Pi Kappa Alpha remains in first place in the intramural point standings. In second 66 points behind is Theta Chi. Delta Sigma Phi is in third place 3 of a point behind Theta Chi with Lambda Chi Alpha in fourth place and Alpha Phi Omega in fifth place. In last place is Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Army Retires LeVeY

Dr. Arthur E. LeVeY, chairman of the Modern and Classical Languages Department at High Point College, has received his official retirement discharge from the U.S. Army. Dr. LeVeY began his Army service in 1941 and served until 1957. He came to High Point College in 1955 from Berlin School of Languages in Southern California where he had been teaching after his active duty tour with the Army.
In a recent interview, Mr. Robert Phillips, Director of Admissions, was questioned as to the college’s policy in admitting students of all races. Mr. Phillips said: “Any person who applies to High Point College is not discriminated against on the basis of race.”

Phillips Explicates Admission Policy Concerning All Races at HPC

If the present rule of alleged cheating continues, today’s scholars may be prevented from joining the business world of tomorrow with many amusing fantasies. Perhaps two major reasons why we haven’t one. First, our college is too small for an Honor System to work effectively. We students know that an Honor System would make us our brother’s keeper. It merely indicates a rejection of honesty or honor on our part. It merely tells us that we want to cheat our way through, that’s his business. After all,作弊 is not by being taught to make our brother’s business. If an Honor System could be devised to put honor on the individual scale, I find all of it present, however, the trend seems to be toward the Low of the Fightmaster—you never tell on a buddy!

Read! Read! Read!

National Library Week observed this year, April 25 through May 1, climaxed a continuing, year-around program designed to help build a reading nation and to increase the use of libraries of all kinds. High Point College Library joined in this Library emphasis week and stressed, “Reading,” displays and posters in the lobby. Robert’s Hall, Book Store, and Cafeteria kept us reminded of the library’s ultimate goal is to help to develop an informed, creative, and thinking individual. READING builds minds and dreams and boosts know-how. READING opens your Future.” In that it gives valuable personal returns—helps to enlarge your world, to give you perspective, to realize your potential excellence, to open your horizons, to build new meaning in new work. Important as personal returns are, however, they are not the sum total. Just as lives of High Point College College students are not limited to the college campus, READING is not limited to strictly personal returns. READING goes beyond and makes possible achievements of social, cultural, educational, and economic goods of the individual and society. In brief, READING is a means toward full pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness for all.

Philip M. Phillips, Director of Admission, recently announced that this college has had a chance to vote for or against it. The results do not indicate a rejection of honesty or honor on our part. It merely tells us that we don’t want to cheat our way through, that’s his business. After all, cheating is not by being taught to make our brother’s business. If an Honor System could be devised to put honor on the individual scale, I find all of it present, however, the trend seems to be toward the Low of the Fightmaster—you never tell on a buddy!

The trees are green and the grass has ris, I wonder where the bedsit is. Actually, I don’t really wonder where they are; I hear all sorts of weird organisms scratching and cackling under my window at night. Those that have not fled the halls rather than displayed in the wide open spaces, especially if this is, as they tell me, “the low season.”

But let me ask you, have you become as nimble as a mule while trying to become readjusted to the hectic schedule of campus life after that relaxing trip to the beach, the Virgin Islands, or even the off-road jaunts spent in the comfort of your home during Easter vacation? It does take time, Yah!

You know, I’d even like to regress back before Easter so that I might have upon how well our Easter meal in Hamilton Hall compared with my own at home, but since I was not allowed to enjoy what seemed to be a very tempting steak because my meal ticket had been locked beyond reach in one of the Biology Department offices, I fear I shall have to forego comment.

However, I can comment on some of the newest additions on campus. For instance, there is now a laundry deluxe’ in the basement of Harrison Hall with three colorful new washing machines and two giant-size gas dryers. Of course the entrance is marked “Men Only,” but I feel may young ladies will figure out a logical way to allow your men friends to play domestic for you should the need arise.

Also, a spisus machine has been installed in the basement of Robert’s Hall at one of the entrances. Our maintenance men too have the inhabitants of these dormitories can enjoy the benefits of a change machine and a piano equally as well.

At any rate, I do make a pifal point. We all look to the Lord that there is a source of initiative prevalent upon this campus. Is anyone willing to point out the fountain to me?
COLUMBIA Pictures Sponsor Trip To Europe Contest

COLUMBIA Pictures has acquired the film rights to Sir Winston Churchill's autobiography, "My Early Life: A Roving Commission," which is to be made into a motion picture by Carl Foreman, director.

Since they feel that the title of this exciting story of Sir Winston's youth and early manhood does not convey the scope and importance of its extraordinary adventure-filled years when he was a student, cavalry officer and war correspondent, they have announced that they will be sponsoring a contest for college students to choose an appropriate title.

A prize of email transport to Europe for two school students whose lines will be selected for the film. In addition, a single round trip to Europe will be awarded to the student with the details of the title chosen.

As a basis for submission of titles, it is requested that Sir Winston's early years be seen as a student at Harrow, as an officer in India and the Sudan, and as a man of his own experience in World War I. The contest will end on May 19, and entries must be postmarked prior to midnight, June 5.

Hartman Expects Panthers To Be Eligible For Tournament

Although this year's HPC Panthers are having some trouble winning all baseball games, Coach Hartman believes the team will come through with the necessary wins to be eligible for the conference tournament. The tournament, May 15-17, will determine the Carolina's Conference champion.

The team has a slow start due to the bad weather conditions, but after the weather had cleared the Panthers moved to a top conference position with a record of 4-1.

During the Easter holidays the team took a long road-trip. According to Coach Hartman the team "just didn't play baseball. The defense and pitching went to pot," he said. The team does hope to recover from their troubles however, by winning as many of the remaining games as possible, nine of which will be played at home.

Panther pitchers include Forrest Dover (3-1), Kirk Stuart (2-3), Mowery (8-2), Richard Marshall (1-0), Jerry Lambert (1-8) and Holliday (1-9). Leading the team in RBIs (11) and batting average (.307) is freshman Bobby Rolsertson, 2nd baseman. Following Robertson is junior Bobby Bose, centerfield, hitting average (.307), batting average (.324), George Lare (3rd baseman, hitting average .324), David Nalle (1st baseman) and Roy Greenwood (.322).

The Panthers next home games are against Elon, Pfeiffer, and Lenoir Rhyne, April 23, 29, 27. As of this writing the team's record is 8-7, with a 4-4 conference record. The Panthers are tied for 5th place in the Carolina's Conference. They must place 4th in order to be able to play in the conference tournament.

Apogee Award Clarified

The Hi-PO would like to clarify statements printed in the last issue concerning Apogee's first place rating is not the top award offered by the CSA. The Modal rating is considered the top award.

However, since HPC has been moved into a class of larger schools and colleges since last year, and since it remains one of the smaller competitors, the staff feels that such a rating as top first place carries more weight than the 5th rating received by the first edition of the literary magazine.

Blood Mobile Drains Campus

"Does your blood type match your mate's?" asked Ellen Seiss, student-coordinator of the Bloodmobile Drive on the HPC campus May 14. From 10 until 4 o'clock at Alumni Gymnasium many moseyed over to see if they could contribute.

In fact, not only were they entertained by singers such as Nancy Taylor, Sara Creene and the Smothers twosome, but some were interviewed by the High Point radio or television station, or got pictures in the High Point Enterprise.

Mr. J. Wilson Rogers, HPC representative of the High Point City Bloodmobile Program assures that prizes will be given to the student, the fraternity, and the independent group (boys, girls, or day student) who contributes the most blood.

Although only 130 donors were present last year, a record 300 are expected to contribute this year.

64-'65 Is Memorable Year

Graduation Hi-Lite Year

By Barbara O'Connor

During the course of every year there are events that make the headlines, national, community, and school. High Point College has experienced many such headline-making events in this past school year, let us pause now and take a look back at some of the more memorable events of the year.

The first and possibly the biggest Hi-Lite of the year occurred in September when school began. For the Freshmen that may have been the not only the Hi-Lite of the year but the Hi-Lite of their lives as well.

Leaving home and coming to a strange place with new people is a big change requiring many new adjustments. To look at our class of 1968 today, one would hardly know them as the same "outstanding" creatures (to say the least) that marked our campus with purple and gold; HPC Day was held, once again rewarding many students, with prizes from various city stores, and the tuition for 1965 was raised.

November followed October, as usual, and with it came the first Fine Arts Festival featuring Win Shakespeare. Dr. Les Lewis' opera based on Shakespeare's play, "The Merchant of Venice" was seen during this week, as well as "The Carambles," a professional acting team from New York; the Hot Dog captured the intramural football championship. The biggest Hi-Lite of November was Thanksgiving vacation.

Students Test Smoker Slogans

High Point College students in experimental psychology, with the assistance of John Wesley Roberts, Jr., decided to test cigarette slogans on the men and women who voice them. Each subject from a total of 20 female undergraduate students at H.P.C. by random selection, picked the brand of cigarette they smoke.

Once set, a tape recorder provided additional instruction. One of the subjects was given their usual brand of cigarette they smoke, and questioned as to whether they thought they could select their brand.

Each subject was brought into the testing room blindfolded after he or she had given them their usual brand of cigarette they smoke, and questioned as to whether they thought they could select their brand.

SMAM REPORTS PROFIT

Jan Sauer was elected to lead the English Club for the year 1965-66. Mr. Sauer, a native High Pointian, is a rising junior with a major in English.

Other officers elected were Phyllis Foy, secretary; Jerry Proffitt, treasurer, and Hallie Hour, as program chairman. Mrs. Sullivan has been appointed to advise the following for the year: Dr. Halladay, the present advisor who will remain in the organization until next year, was unanimously selected as the "First Charter Member of the Loyalty Supporters of the English Club."

THE CAMPUS CRIER

High Point College Freshman Music Major, Dan Ashe of Winston-Salem has been notified by Governor Dauw Moore that he has been selected one of the top five "outstanding tarheels of North Carolina."

Governor Moore has invited Ashe to attend the awards program to be held in the Governor's mansion on May 26.

The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Zeb V. Ashe of 3267 High Point Road, Winston-Salem, is a member of the Winston-Salem symphony and has attended the Governor's school and Bandwagon music camp.

(L.P.)-The Board of Trustees of High Point College recently accepted the $10,000,000 Long Range Plan for the growth and development of the College. Results of a survey by a professional organization revealed that the College is in an excellent position to raise the needed funds as indicated by the survey.

By Barbara O'Connor

The objectives of this plan are to provide for an increased number of faculty members, dormitories for female students, and additional minimum requirements for the program through 1974. The plan has set a minimum of $3,000,000 to be used for capital improvements.

The minimum endowment requirements were set at $8,000,000 which were based upon an average of $5,000,000 per endowment plus the need for supplementary current needs which will amount to $1,850,000 in the next ten years. The college now has approximately $1,750,000 in endowment.

In order to make the income and cost projections presented above the long range planning was based on the assumption that the overall program, objectives, (Continued on Page 5, Column 1)

USING BOOKS ARE WANTED

Each year the American Association of University Women sponsors a second-hand book sale in order to raise funds for fellowships of advanced study which are awarded to deserving graduate students.

Although the sale does not take place until fall, books (of all types) are collected and stored. All HPC students, faculty members, and administration members who wish to donate unused columns to this cause may see Mrs. Elizabeth Connor, Assistant Professor of Biology.

Fellow Students of High Point College

I stand before you today, I find it necessary to say that the Student Government Association (SGA) at High Point College is as weak as a willow being tossed about by model airplane wind. We the students are not the governing, but we are supposed to be just playing government while the administration is on high supreme.

I am one of the bill allowing students with a 1.75 average unlimited cuts went from the student legislature to the body to the administration of this school. The bill was not passed; however, it was not even voted. It was lost and has been seen since. The wishes of the student body in this incident were so pronouncedly disregarded that the administration did not even show up in this regard. The (Continued on Page 4, Column 3)
Caravan To Take Modern Approach

In 1963, Dr. Wendell M. Pattton, President of High Point College initiated a European approach to learning by organizing the "High Point CARAVAN." The purpose of this caravan was to provide classroom instruction in American History with the added advantage of having experts in the field explain more realistically what had transpired, at the place it happened. The first two American HIS-TORY CARAVANS evolved around American history of the War between the States. Again this year the Caravan will study and follow the Civil War battles in Tennessee as well as the battles in Virginia.

The first three weeks of the course begins with classroom study, with special emphasis upon the battles and campaigns to be visited on the tour. The tour concludes with our arrival at Antietam Creek, and then motor back to High Point College to wrap up the expedition in words of a research paper.

The first week activities included a visit to Martin's Little Round Top and a trip to Tanglewood, Sunday. Betty White was selected as the chairman of a combo party Friday night, a banquet and dance Saturda night, followed by the social gathering of Pamela Skinner to Chuck Richards Following the serenade, the freshmen were served in Oak Hall. Recently initiated into the fraternity were five new brothers: Bob Bittum, Tim Bellinger, Bill Carter, Gary Chetson, and John Veviezzo Val Zamborzo from Hattsv-ille, Marylce at DJs Chetson's fraternity leader Mickey Aread recently anounced plans for a June wedding with Miss Joyce Kirkman.

Attend Summer Institutes In June

Two of our biology professors, Miss Kay Phillips, botany, and Mrs. Elizabeth Connor, zoology, will attend summer institutes to further their knowledge in fields of their interests.

Miss Kay Phillips is one of twenty-five applicants who has been selected to attend the fifth summer institute of the Botanical Society of America, Inc., to be held at Michigan State University from June 30 to July 31, 1965. The objectives of this institute are: 1) to bring college teachers of botany into contact with outstanding botanical scholars; 2) to familiarize the applicants with the latest developments in botany; 3) to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas; 4) to stimulate the participants to further inquiry through research. During the six weeks of the institute, Miss Phillips and other participants will attend eight lectures a week which will be supplemented by field trips or laboratory work. The participants will also visit zoological laboratories at the university, such as the cyclostome, ctenophoran, invertebrate, and vertebrate zoology laboratories, the botanical gardens, and the greenhouse.

Mrs. Connor will attend the institute for College Biology Teachers, which is held at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro from June 14 to Aug. 6, 1965. The topic of the institute is "Molecular and Developmental Biology." The purpose of the institute is to bring college and university teachers in the newer areas of biology with special emphasis on developments within the past ten years. The major goal of the curriculum will be: 1) General chemical backgrounds in biology; 2) The organic chemistry of biology; 3) The cell - its structure and chemistry; 4) Molecular genetics; and 5) Morphogenesis.

Walker Will Lead Alpha Delta Theta

Prior to the Easter vacation, Alpha Delta Theta elected its officers for the coming year. They are: Barbara Walker, President; Gina Venning, Vice President;3, Anne Antworth, Secretary; Linda Pulliam, Treasurer; Ruth Ann Sides and Betty Jo Vaugn, Alternate; Joyce Wright, Publicity Chairman; Jennifer Kidd, Chap- pain; Janice Bogue, Historian. Arts, Sports, Projects Chairman; and Betty Jo Young, Song Leader.

Their annual Spring trip to Mill Brook, which was held the weekend before the Easter holidays, was a tremendous success. Warren Day, from Wesley Methodist Church, spoke to the girls' section and the organization representative addressed the boys' section. If this should happen three times in succession, the organization representative may lose its representation and the representative may be expelled from the legislature.

The legislature also heard a report from the special election committee that is supervising the election of officers for the summer.

Effective Honors System Re-examined

By William and Mary Students

Editor's Note: Considering various conversations I have heard concerning the possibilities of adopting the Honors System on our campus, I feel that comments made by students and faculty of re-nowned university might possibly clarify many of the controversial aspects of this possibility.

(F.P.) - Recent national attention to the question of the effectiveness of the honor system in American colleges and universities, makes it important to subject the College of William and Mary, where the honor system was first introduced by an alarm, to a thorough and critical examination. Thomas Jefferson, in 1775

At the college where it began, the system has been so subjected to re-examination by students and faculty as a response to the current public interest in the subject. The 1962 brochure prepared by the administration and faculty on the subject. The Honor System of the College of William and Mary, has met with a wide measure among colleges and universities.

Dr. Davis V. Paschall, president of William and Mary, recently released statement to the college community points out that a system as ours is free and strong only if it may be properly examined and questioned. It behoves us to remember, however, that such strength and soundness as it may be, can never change the meaning of honor, although it can, if undisguised by self-re-straint and sustained by wisdom, subvert the respect given to it.

The effectiveness of the Honor System rests upon the sense of inner morality of the student, and the high efficiency of the college authorities in establishing it as a form of self-government by the students themselves. These operational forces cannot be separated, each by itself, and cannot be substituted for the other.

The legislature finally put some teeth into its operating rule on the absences of elected members. Therefore, there has been no penalty for absences, but under the new rules, any member who is absent (and not represented by an alternate) will lose voting privileges for the next meeting. If this should happen three times in succession, the organization representative may lose its representation and the representative may be expelled from the legislature.

The legislature also heard a report from the special election committee that is supervising the election of officers for the summer.

In December HPC gave out two honorary degrees, one to an alumnus, Gw. John McKenzie of Louisiana, and one to Gov. Terri Sanford of North Carolina; the HPC concert band traveled to Virginia where it performed twice, the Tower Players pre- sented a dramatic reading of Seneca's Oroonoko, and the all-male locomotive came in strong; the Panthers were proudly holding a 6-0 record; and, once again, Christmas vacation took us away from the troubles and tumults of college life (some of us a little earlier than others as a result of the flu epidemic).

Graduation was held for 39 Seniors in January as well as for Final Exams for all. Also, 11 Sen- sors received the honor of being elected to Whos Who in Amer- ican Universities and Colleges. The Top Ten Seniors were chosen, and the Pikas won the Volleyball championship.

February saw Valentine's Day and Homecoming; the Zenith was completed for the year. Nancy Taylor made her debut on HPC campus when she took first place in the annual Campus Caper talent show. The Panthers took their annual first place in the Carolinas Confer- ence. Other events of Gamma Delta won first place for their Homecoming display. The Victory Train, and for their cheer at the pep rally. The seniors in the Senior Class were — Lambda Chi for their display, and Theta Chi for their cheer. C. T. Neel was chosen Home- coming Queen.

March was a busy month with Saint Patrick's Day and all. Ten students were inducted into The Order of the Lighted Lamp. Religion and Life week was held, featuring as its theme, "The American Morality," which was possibly one of the most controversial events of the year, as the cost for "The Fantasticks" was chosen; a recital was given by the Music majors. SCA elections were held, with Art Warren, Tommy Diga- man, Tillie Clark, and Ken Gil- liott taking four firsts. Members of the Hi-Po, Zenith, and Apegee stu- dent organizations went to a literary conference in New York, missing their first game our victorious Panthers played in Kansas City.

April saw spring break, and "The Fantasticks," as well as the 8th Annual Student Congress, SCA elections (Ann Tally was elected President), and the first issue of the Hi-Po under the lead- ership of her new Editor, Phyllis Fri. The Tower Players had elections, John Roberts and Bill Binn- er conducted a cigarette expedi- tion, and Coach Hartman an- nounced the hope for a successful season for the HPC baseball team.

And now we come to May. Al- ready we have experienced Sen- ior literature. Spring gatherings by all the Greeks and other- organizations and pre-registra- tion. The biggest events of May are yet to come—graduation, final exams, and summer vaca- tion. Have fun and good luck in any or all.

Rachel Little Wins $500 Scholarship

Rachel Little, a sophomore, has won a scholarship to the Universi- ties of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Presently an English minor, she is planning to transfer and continue her major through graduate school.

Rachel won the scholarship simply by applying for financial aid. She will receive $500 a year from the Exchequer's School Fund. She also has a scholarship for membership in the Pilot Club for businesswomen in her hometown of Lincolnton, North Carolina.

To say the least, Rachel is very excited. Since she has always wanted to go to a large univer- sity, she is really looking forward to attending Carolina, and hav- ing her boyfriend nearby at State's law school.

Student Challenges of talking of full dances and such, the meeting was full of discus- sion about the place student gov- ernment deserves on this campus. The members discussed a bill pertaining to reform of the stud- ent judiciary, and debated the right of students to disagree with established school policy and to make their disagreement known to the right people. This is a new student legislature and one of which I think this college will be proud if it is allowed to grow and be independent. Possibly, some driv- ing, too. As you take to the road, re- member: common courtesy rules of society. I have a good time, whenever you drive. That's why I wish you from the careful driver company. State Farm

High Point College Approves Academic Honors Program

High Point College, in an effort to serve the greatest number of students both of average ability and exceptional ability has ap- proved an Academic Honors pro- gram for the exceptional stu- dents.

The Faculty at High Point Col- lege has approved an honors academic program which will offer students of proved ability and independence the opportunity of extending their competence in general education during their freshman and sophomore years and in their major fields during the junior and senior years of un- dergraduate work.

The exceptional student will have satisfaction upon completion of the honors program, receive his degree on which is embossed three possible categories: With honors in his major field, with high honors in his major field, and with highest honors in his major field.

The General Honors program will be open to freshmen, during their second semester at High Point College, and sopho- more students who have maintained a "B" average in all their academic work during the preceding sem- ester to that in which the Honors Program is pursued.

During the General Honors program, students will partici- pate in informal seminars in which selected books or topics are discussed and individual papers presented. These semi- nars will be organized so as to explore intellectual topics which the college curricula does not in- clude.

The seminars will be led by two faculty members from each of the five disciplines leading to the Bachelor's degrees, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, and Bachelor of Arts in Teaching.

To be invited into the Depart- mental Honors program the stu- dents must have at least a "B" average in the completed college course and a "B" average in his major field. These students who have successfully completed the underclass General Honors Pro- gram may be invited to partici- pate in the Departmental pro- gram.

Dr. Harold Conrad, Dean of Academic Planning and Chair- man of the Honors program at High Point College, stated, "the nature of the Departmental Honors work will differ from de- partment to department, but the work will include independent work on the part of the student. The work will be done in small, informal seminars, tutorials, or private research under the supervision of depart- mental advisors."

The students in this program may be excused from certain academic requirements, such as tests, attendance in classes (up to 35%).

This program is very similar to graduate study in which the stu- dent must pass a written com- prehensive examination at the completion of the program. In many cases the students will be requested to do independent reading for a specified topic in their major field.
