From North Carolina to the Middle East and back

In an effort to expose students to the real world, the National News column will continue to elucidate on the pressing issues of our times that our children will be reading in history books. Those who believe in life after college will need basic knowledge of not only one of the history of the Romans, but also of the modern conflicts in the Middle East and Washington, D.C.

The Economy

Economic indicators showed a 7% rise to start off the new year, inferring that this growth will continue throughout the year. Also, the latest unemployment figures show a continual drop, solidifying the position that the economy is nursing itself back to health. The appointment of a new Chairman of the Federal Reserve has brought some subdued confidence from the business community.

Sadat-Begin

Talks between Egypt's Sadat and Israel's Begin have been slowed in recent weeks by an abundance of rhetoric, calling each other names. In an effort to keep from throwing stones, both sides have offered to discuss the problems and not the personalities. Tensions are beginning to ease although an actual peace settlement is far from the drawing boards.

The First Year

President Jimmy Carter's first year in office is over and the jury has returned with a mixed verdict. His problems with Bert Lance and the Marston firing have created scents of scandal. His decision concerning the cruise missile and his tax, education, social security and energy reforms have been met with success and failure, good feeling and ill will. All in all Carter's first year can be described best multiple choice answer.

North Carolina

Several newsworthy events have occurred in the Tar Heel State over the last month. HEW last week refused to accept the UNC desegregation plan. The main disagreement is over the proper location of new programs and degrees at predominately black colleges. Their unacceptance could mean the withdrawal of 100 million in federal funds to the university system.

Joan Little, of the famed jailer-murder case, escaped the North Carolina Women's prison to New York and was captured after a high speed chase. North Carolina officials have tried to get her to returned to N.C. but have thus far failed. Her lawyer, William Kunstler opposed her return saying "her treatment in North Carolina would be totally different from fellow prisoners because she, a black woman had killed a white man."

Governor Hunt, under pressure from the White House, civil libertarians and foreign governments, ruled on the case of the Wilmington Ten. These black defendents were ruled guilty of firebombing and shooting at police and firemen during racial unrest in Wilmington N.C. Governor Hunt, refusing to yield to the pressure for their pardon, merely reduced their sentences. Many will be eligible for parole this summer.

Job placement can help

The Student Personnel Office can help students find part-time jobs, according to the Dean of Students.

Dean Hanson said the Job Placement Program's main objective is finding jobs for students. According to the Dean, she uses the students major and special interests as a guide.

The program offers practical experience for students. If a student is majoring in English the individual may get a job with another newspaper. Another example is a Business major working with a company in the sales, purchasing or advertising department, according to Dean Hanson.

There are other opportunities available to the students by the Job Placement Program. It has presented two seminars concerning interviewing techniques and the development of resumes according to Dean Hanson.

Dean Hanson said the program helps the students become aware of career options, interviewing skills, resume writing and setting up interviews with perspective businesses.

For the student who is unable to decide where his interest lies, the Occupational Outlook Handbook is available and may help, according to Dean Hanson.

Term Paper Bus. Reviving

by Robert Gillis

In the past few years, there has been a resurgence of the mail order term paper bus. The Postal Service is in the process of gathering evidence against several companies that sell term papers nationally through the mail.

Pre-written term papers possibly originated with fraternity house files, but not until the early 1970's did they become a federal concern. That was when some businessmen hired researchers to write term papers on hundreds of subjects. These papers were advertised in college newspapers throughout the country.

Several years ago a federal appeals court ruled that the term paper bus business was illegal because money was obtained "through the mail by means of false representation."

In this situation, however, the buyer of the paper is not the object of the misrepresentation. The college professor is.

Several cases were tried and the Postal Service overwhelmingly won the battle. But in the last several years, there have been no new cases and the term paper mail order business is once again picking up.

Manpower expects slower hiring pace

by Robert Gillis

Manpower, Inc. quarterly conducts an employment outlook survey as a service to the public. Mitchell S. Fromstein, President of Manpower, notes that "since 1976, Manpower's quarterly forecasts of hiring expectations have been in step with actual increases in the number of people at work. Manpower's hiring predictions last year materialized even when conditions made such forecasts appear exceedingly optimisti

The employment outlook survey for the first quarter of 1978 indicates that hiring confidence among U.S. businessmen continues to be positive even though seasonal factors will result in a slower hiring pace. This drop in hiring is expected due to lower activity in the wholesale-retail fields and the influence of winter weather on Mideast and Northeast construction areas.

Nationally, the employment outlook is slightly more optimistic than the Manpower survey taken a year ago. 25.6% of employers interviewed, as compared to 24% last year, anticipate adding more workers.

The South continues to lead the country in optimism, with 28% of the area's employers planning to increase hiring. Finance, insurance, real estate, and public and private education sector are expected to grow at a rapid pace.

However, the results of this survey simply reflect the intentions of the sample of employers interviewed. Some of these intentions may possibly change unexpectedly.
High school grading said to be 'too easy'

by Robert Gillis

Recently a national survey of college freshmen was taken and some of the results were quite surprising. The most astonishing fact shown by the survey was that 61% of the freshmen surveyed feel that "grading in high schools has become too easy."

The survey, conducted by Mr. Alexander Astin, professor of education at UCLA, shows that the number of students receiving high grades increased slightly and that 'A' students outnumber 'C' students for the first time in the survey's history. The survey also indicated that students are becoming more and more unsatisfied with the academic preparation they receive in high school. Over 42% listed improving their reading and study skills as a very important reason for deciding to go to college, up from 35% in 1976. Astin states that "the students are aware that they are ill-prepared when they start college to deal with college material." They believe that "they need more than ever to sharpen their study skills."

According to the survey, this year's freshmen lack some of the knowledge previously held by college freshmen. Only 29.7%, compared to 46.8% in 1967, say they can describe the personal freedoms guaranteed by the Bill of Rights. Similarly, the percentage of those able to describe the difference between stocks and bonds fell from 40.4% to 22.2%.

Star Cast Set for Angel Street

by Robin Henson

On February 15, an 8:15 class will call opening night of Angel Street, the Tower Players winter production, in Memorial Auditorium.

Directed by Nan Stephens and set in Victorian England, Angel Street is a murder mystery thriller. It will run Wednesday Through Saturday, February 15-18. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students to this cultural credit event.

Angel Street's cast features not only the normal student actors, but a professor also. Roles and their actors are: Mrs. Manningham -- Myra Williams, Mr. Manningham -- Don Wright, Inspector Rough -- Dr. E. Roy Epperson, Elizabeth -- Robin Henson, Nancy -- Melissa Patton and the two policemen -- Ken Clair and Gene Richardson.

"The setting for Angel Street is probably the finest ever put together at HPC," says Ms. Stephens. The show will be presented in pseudo-thrust form, and the setting will be beautifully filled with period Victorian furniture.

Dr. Epperson, alias Inspector Rough, acted in Angel Street some 20 years ago in the part of Mr. Manningham. Evidently he liked the show so well as to try for a second time and this time in a different role.

The Tower Players urge all who wish to see the show to check on seats and tickets early, as seating will be limited.

Presidential Scholar Nominees at H.P.C.

On Saturday, Feb. 11, some 70 prospective students will arrive at High Point College to compete for academic scholarships. Registration begins at 9:30 in the High Point College cafeteria and is followed by a general meeting of scholarship nominees, parents, faculty, and Presidential Scholars. Dean Cole and Dr. Orson will preside. The interviews for the prospective scholarship recipients begin at 10:30 a.m. and continue until a lunch break at noon. The interviews resume at 1:00 p.m. and conclude at 2:30 p.m. Each prospective student is assigned an interview and location. Two faculty members and at least two presidential scholars comprise each interviewing group.

A general meeting with President Patton will occur in the conference room in the campus center at 2:45 p.m. Here, Dr. Patton will give a brief greeting and will make himself available to parents and students.

Following this meeting a tea will be held in the private dining room of the campus center. This tea provides an opportunity for parents and scholarship nominees to meet faculty and present presidential scholars.

Coffee House review...

by Lisa Mickey

Comedian, Tom Parks, out of Atlanta, dropped in for a High Point College Coffee house performance to entertain with what was billed as "educated comedy". His topics were easily relative to the audience because they concerned some of the more comical aspects of college life and growing up. Parks amused an almost filled room of students with his jokes about cafe teria food, the infirmary, freshmen and encounters of every kind faced by students.

He quipped, "When you go to the cafeteria and you find a 3 x 5 card that you put your name and class on. Then, in the third blank, you give them a hint as to what you are going to put in it." Parks continued discussing the odd of producing term papers, "When I was at the University of Florida, you'd see me the night before the paper was due in the library learning how to use the card catalogs. I spent a lot of time figuring out how to set the margins so that they were small enough not to have to write too much but big enough to fool the professor." The resulting laughter proved that some of the audience had knowledge of Parks' techniques.

Parks continued his library jokes exhibiting one half of the fingers' victory sign and complaining, "You can never use the 6 machines when you need them. There's always some fool standing there copying his hand five hundred times."

He continued discussing football, soap operas, contraceptives, Kansas, advertisements and acne. "Kansas is a very bizarre folk. Thank Dorothy and Toto land..." In 1964, my face was listed in the world almanac as one of the world's leading oil producers... Aren't there some crazy advertisements on T.V.? Hello, I want to talk to you about diarrhea... And how about those Ronco Rheinestone and Stud Setter kits? They turn ten dollar jeans into ten dollar pieces of shit... Drugs? Yeah, a lot of my friends tripped every day for years and now they're got good steady jobs. Some of them are doorstops..."

Tom Parks kept the laughter rolling with his material. He stated, "You know, I've found that the world has two kinds of people -- those that have been on the Carson show and those that haven't. Whether Patton had or hadn't was unimportant to this phase of his comical career because his two years of performing on the college circuit showed his interest and ability in conveying the funny side of campus life. Witness Tom Parks' educated comedy was time well spent.

Jim VanHorn to take over

Allen Carter resigns

SGA President, Allen Carter, has officially sent a letter of resignation from the position to President Patton. Carter turned in his resignation late yesterday afternoon and it is effective immediately.

Carter, a senior accounting major, said he had just obtained a job as an accountant at Forsyth Hospital in Winston-Salem and since he would be working 37 to 40 hours a week he felt "he would be neglecting his duties as president."

The job is part of an independent study program at the college, but Carter said in May he would be hired full time and he thought it was a good opportunity to get ahead of the push for jobs at graduation time.

With his resignation from the presidency SGA vice-president, Jim Van Horn, will take over duties as president once sworn in according to the Constitution. The vice-presidency position will then remain vacant until elections for next year's officers. No information was available as to the date of the swearing in of Van Horn as president.

President Patton was out of town and thus unavailable for comment.

Chapel at 11:30 a.m. The Rev. Floyd L. Berrier, class of 1965, will be the guest speaker.

Bill Deal and the Rhondells and Richie Lecea will close the weekend with a concert in Memorial Auditorium, Sunday at 8:00 p.m. Alumni will be admitted without charge.

These are the services the college offers its alumni. Why? Because of the generous donations, recruiting efforts, and support from the alumni.

During the 1976-77 fiscal year ending May 31, 1977, 1,315 High Point College Alumni contributed $83,082.70 in “Endowment Gifts”. This is a total of 22% where, in comparison, the National average is but 17.5%. Not including the 1977 graduating class some 7,994 alumni will give in excess an average of $103.04 per alumnus, well in excess of the National average. The goal of the alumni in the 1977-78 fiscal year is $78,000 and, as of Jan. 2, 1978, 633 alumni have already contributed $65,226.60, a total of 83.6% of the goal. This is prior to the major solicitation of the college which goes on during February. These gifts go into the four areas of: Alumni Chair of Higher Learning, The Golden Decade, Scholarships, and other specified gifts.

Alumni gifts total around 9.5% of the total contributions to the college each year. This is why the college supports, serves, and wishes to say THANK YOU, ALUMNI! For your support throughout the year in your gifts and donations of talents we say Thank you.

Throughout the Hi-Po readers will notice clippings from old Hi-Po’s particularly pertaining to the Alumni. At the end of each reprint appears the approximate date of publication. Happy Homecoming!

Dave Bobbitt
Once again High Point College has established itself as the team to beat in the Carolina Conference...but rarely done, as they literally swept the soccer and volleyball titles and finished second in the state in field hockey.

Only volleyball looked like it was going to repeat as conference champions as it opened its season with 7 straight wins before losing a split decision to South Carolina's #1 team, College OF Charleston. A second place finish to the University of Maryland in the prestigious UNC-G Invitational Carolina Conference title in a row seemed to be indication enough that this year's team was again destined for bigger and better things. High Point showed why they were the number one seed in both State and Regional Tournament as they literally waltzed to the championship, dropping a mere two sets in each competition. High Point ended its season with a 1-2 record in National Competition (Illinois) and 41-10 record overall.

On paper the HPC Soccer team looked pretty fair, a little slack on depth, but definitely in shape to defend their Conference title. A 2-0 victory over UNC-G in the season opener was really nothing to get excited about, especially since the Panthers outshot the Spartans almost 3 to 1, yet scored only twice. It was then that the whole world seemed to cave in as the Panthers lost their next 5 games including a 3-0 loss to NC State, who the Panthers have beaten the last three years, and 2-1 to "apparent pushover," NC Wesleyan. Employing a sort of "Back to Basics" approach, the Panthers did a complete turnaround as they shutout their next 7 opponents and clinched their second straight title over bitter-rival, Guilford College, 2-1. For the second straight year, the Panthers went undefeated in regular season conference play in route to their 3rd title in 4 years and third trip to the district playoffs.

After last year's record year, few thought or expected that the 1977 Field Hockey Team would dominate the state hockey scene as it did. An opening game loss to Pfeiffer only seemed to make the Lady Panthers work harder as they proceeded to knock one opponent off after another. In fact, High Point eventually broke its old school record by posting a 14-2-1 record which included 10 shutouts and 3 big wins over such hockey heavyweights as UNC-G, Duke, and Carolina. In recognition of their outstanding achievement and overall excellence, 12 Panthers were honored on the district-conference-division or state level.

Editors Note: Due to the lack of space, the following all conf., div., district or state performers were left out: (Soccer) Jeff Potter, Todd Miller, and Coach Ken Chartier, (Volleyball) Roberta Riley, Gracie Simmons.
Lady Panthers Losing Players; Still Post Winning Record

By Scoti Hance

The Lady Panthers began their season in December with 14 players and a tough schedule ahead of them. With a good part of the season behind them, the team is now down to just 10 members and posts a record of 10-8.

The Panthers finished second in the Carolinas Christian Classic as they were victors over The College of Charleston and UNC in the first two rounds. They were defeated in the finals by N.C. State 90-64.

High Point then faced State again before heading to Norfolk, Va. for the Optimist Classic. State again came out on top by a 104-77 margin.

The Monarchs of fourth-ranked Old Dominion University downed HPC in the first round of the classic by an 83-69 tally. In the consolation contest, the Panthers squared off against number one ranked Wayland Baptist and lost by a score of 77-69. "We played very well in the tournament," said Coach Wanda Briley. "We faced some very good teams and played well against them."

By this point in the season, Andrea Blanchard had replaced the departed Gracie Simmons and was averaging over 11 points per game. "I guess Gracie was just burned out. She's been playing basketball since sixth or seventh grade and now she has other things to do. After college, there is no basketball for women."

After the tournament in Norfolk, the Lady Panthers came back to win three in a row as they put together three high offensive games of at least 90 points. HPC started the streak with a 90-58 win over UNC-G and then went on to best A&T State 93-56. In a conference match, the women of High Point crushed Catawba 101-30. Elon College then took revenge against the Panthers with a 71-68 win. Earlier in the year, High Point downed Elon 81-61 when Germaine McCauley poured in 26 points. Appalachian State then fell 97-71 to the Panthers before Pfeiffer stopped the women 82-68. "I didn't expect our record to be what it was last year," said Briley before the weekend doubleheader of February 9 and 4. "We are now playing as a team and are playing good team defense."

However, the Panthers were reduced in number by two when Roberta Riley and Andrea Blanchard were lost due to grades. Briley now looks for Marie Riley to take up some of the slack. Marie is now averaging close to 14 points per game while Ethel White leads the squad with almost a 16 points per game mark.

In the weekend games, HPC downed Mars Hill as Jody Westmoreland hit for 18 points and Ethel White added 17. The Panthers then were edged by Western Carolina 75-71. Marie Riley led all scorers with 21 points and Sylvia Chambers connected for 12.

The Lady Panthers have seven more contests left before heading for the State Tournament and the Conference Tournament the end of the month.

CINDERMAN FINISH THIRD AT LYNCHBURG INVITATIONAL

By Mike Wallace

The High Point track team finished with 34 points in the Lynchburg Invitational on Feb. 2, at Lynchburg, Va. Although it was not an exceptional performance, third out of three teams participating, the day was not totally without bright spots. Newcomer Bill Mc-

Cowan opened his career at High Point in fine style, finishing first in the 60-yard hurdles in 7.8 seconds and placing second in the high jump with a 6 feet, 2 inch effort. Other Panther placewinners included Mark Hamlet winning the mile run and Tracy Lyons placing second in the pole vault.

COACH BOB DAVIDSON said that the performance wasn't all that good but he looks for improvement as well as help from Dennis West and Rick Calliutt, who are presently involved with basketball.

The next meet is an indoor contest, the North Carolina State Invitational, Feb. 11, in Raleigh, N.C.

HPC "STUMBLES" into 2nd Place

With various shifts in the line-ups due to illness, injuries, and loss of personnel, the HPC men's basketball team has had a difficult time playing the consistent type game they are capable of to win. High Point is currently ranked fourth in conference standings, has the league's best free throw shooting team, and one of the most versatile players in Charlie Floyd, yet they continue to play inconsistently. Part of HPC's problem has been getting to the free throw line, which would have proved to be the difference in winning and losing in several games. The Panther's record since the first of January includes wins over Barber-Scotia and conference foes Elon (81-68), ACC (85-63), and Pembroke (71-57). They have been handed losses by Winston-Salem State (70-57), Gardner Web (69-97), Lenoir-Rhyne (83-76), and conference foes Catawba (75-70) and Pfeiffer (69-58).

One of High Point's best games of the season came against nationally ranked (4th) Gardner-Webb. The hot hand of junior transfer Charlie Floyd and overall team play by the Panthers kept them in control of the game for most of the evening. At the end of regulation play the score was knotted at 92-92. Despite the loss of forward Charlie Floyd and center John O'Brien due to personal fouls at the onset of the overtime period, the Panthers bench played with G-W down to the wire. A last second shot by G-W proved to be the winning margin as they walked away with a disappointing 99-97 overtime win. Floyd led all scorers with 42 points.

The game against ACC proved to be a most crucial game for High Point. It was the first of four home games in a row for the Panthers and an opportunity to regain some much needed confidence. The first half was all "purple" as the men romped to a 43-26 halftime lead. Charlie Floyd got back on top of his game after a bout with the flu. "I had the flu before the Pfeiffer game, but tonight I felt like (this usual game) was there," stated Floyd. Coach Steele started Dennis West in the backcourt to help contain the ACC offense. "We wanted to try to get a couple of fouls on (Speedy) Gainer, ACC's top scorer, near the beginning, and we were fortunate in doing that. The defense held Gainer to a meager nine points. The second half was more of the same with the Panthers occasionally employing full court presses, zone traps, and a delay game. Floyd collected 28 points while team mates John O'Brien and Danny Anderson chipped in 18 and 12, respectively. Coach Steele cleared the bench with three minutes to go on the way to an 85-63 slaughter of the Bulldogs.

Charlie Floyd, a junior business administration transfer from Wake Forest is averaging 20.6 points per game which is seventh in the district and leads the district in free throws hitting better than 90%. The addition of Floyd into the line-up has allowed Coach Steele to move junior Dennis West back to point guard. Floyd plays forward and gets shots when the defense sags on O'Brien and Hovey. "We don't set the shot for me," Floyd said. "If the defense is on the guys inside, I have a chance for the outside shot. If they come to guard me, we go inside. It's a case of everybody helping the other people." Speculations forward Boy Hovey has been one of the big surprises for the Panthers this season. After a sluggish start, he has made his presence known as a valuable big man with each game. Hovey now leads the district in field goal percentages.

Coach Steele feels that the team must consistently "play well and get things going." High Point's next game is against Pembroke on Feb. 8. Pembroke is fifth in the conference with a 4-4 season. On Feb. 11, High Point will host conference rival Catawba in a crucial game for both teams. High Point lost a close game at Catawba earlier in the season (75-70). High Point will be seeking revenge in what should be a very heated and highly contested homecoming game.

The Oreo's Intramural Basketball team led by senior point Sam (Dalton) and another undefeated season in route to the Oreo's championship. With every other team gunning for the defending champs, remaining unbeaten was not always an easy task. Narrow victories over the AAA (63-60 O.T.), Theta Chi's and Sig "A" during the regular season indicated that on a good day any of the top 4 teams were capable of detroning the champs, but it seems that the good days weren't to happen... this season anyway. With an 11-0 record and a #1 seeding, the Oreo's thrashed the Garnets (Pika's) by 96 points (120-24) in the first round of the playoffs. In the semifinals, the Oreo's had a surprisingly easy time against the usually potent Theta Chi's as they won by a 80-58 margin. The 1977-78 Intramural Finals pitched upset Gas House Gang "B", who surprised the GHG 'A' 89-70 in the other semifinal, against the defending champs. First half action was definitely an offensive battle as the lead seesawed constantly between the two teams, with the Oreo's holding a slim 1-point (3-4) lead at the half. When the second half opened, the Oreo's went off and running, but minor disputes as the Oreo's slowly pulled away with a hard earned 79-59 victory. Sam Dalton (Oreo's) again led all scorers with 29 points, followed by John Hollis (GHG) with 19, Christian (Oreo's) with 18, Geohole (GHG)-13, and Allesio (Oreo's) with 12.

A recap of the Fall Intramural season sees the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity leading the overall team competition with 90 points, by virtue of their second place finished in "B" softball, track and volleyball, and third place finishes in "A" softball and "B" volleyball. Hot on their heels is the Gas House Gang (75 points), who has won the overall team title the last two years. The Gas House Gang took first place, second in "b" basketball, and fourth in both "A" and "B" volleyball. The Annihilators, who captured the softball team title and the Oreo's basketball champs, each share third with 50 points. The Delta Sig's (36 points) finished fourth from fourth to third with 30 and 10 points respectively.

Due to inclement weather and court conflicts with the varsity tennis teams, intramural tennis still remains to be completed. One way or another, the results of the tennis competition will have a marked effect on the team standing as defending champions, Steve Moss/ Dave Horton (Lambda Chi) and Mitch Sears/Wayne Schneider (GHG) in the doubles and Brad Beatty (Oreo's) in singles, will walk away with the field with 20 and 10 points respectively.
Coffeehouse Performers

Michael Marlin, juggler, comedian and entertainer, will make two free appearances on Wednesday, February 8, at High Point College. He will be featured as half-time entertainment during the High Point College-Pembroke basketball game in Alumni Gymnasium.

After the game, he will give an additional performance in the Old Student Union from 9-11 pm.

The performance in the Old Student Union after the game is open to the public without charge.

"Sounds" Advice with Patterson

Listening to music is a popular form of leisure time entertainment at High Point College. For most, listening to records is the more familiar form of listening pleasure. Proper maintenance of your disc is important. Dust collects on records whether they are covered or playing on a turntable. For instance, as a record is being played (turning at a constant speed), its centrifugal force (the continuous motion set up by a rotating object) creates a static electrical field. This static electricity attracts dust particles much like magnets attract metal bits. Dust protectors over your turntables will cut down on the dust problem, but some dust will still get to the record. What is the solution? Invest in a complete record care kit to clean and prolong the life of your records. It makes sense to spend a few extra dollars to keep your records dust free, rather than listening to dusty disc's that will only last half a life time.

Products such as, WATTS, DISC PREENER, DIC WASHER and SOUND GUARD, will almost double the life of your records (not to mention the needle of your turntable). The moral of this story is... Give your records a break... not literally; just give 'em a bath.

Carter, Congress move to aid middle income students

Both the Carter Administration and Congress have set up proposals in the past week to help middle income students pay the rising cost of education.

And with tuition increasing at High Point College on the average of $280 next year, either one would serve as good news and offer a welcome relief to students.

Carter’s proposal entails providing aid to middle income college students by adding one billion to the $2.2 billion Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program, under the title of the Middle Income College Assistance Act.

Under this act, a college student from a poor family, with income of $5,000 per year and average assets, will receive the maximum grant of $1,600 this fall and a maximum grant of $1,800 in 1979.

A student from what the government calls a low-middle income family, earning $12,000 would get $716 this fall and $830 in the fall of 1979.

A student from a family of four with income of $16,000 would get no basic grant this year, since the cutoff is roughly $1,500; however, all students from families of incomes between $16,000 and $25,000 would get grants of $250 for the 1979-80 school year.

Congress on the other hand has the same idea, but a different method in the workings. Under a proposal by Senator Bob Packwood of Oregon and Patrick Moynihan of New York, educational tax credits of $250 to $500 per student would be given to middle income families. The Packwood-Moynihan version includes tax credits of $500 not only for each dependent in colleges and universities, but also to those in elementary, vocational, and secondary schools. The total cost would be $4.7 billion.

A less comprehensive version has been proposed by Delaware Senator, John Roth, which suggests only $250 per dependent attending vocational of higher education, but not secondary schools. His plan is estimated to cost $1.2 billion.

Both proposals were brought up amidst deep concern that college was becoming affordable only to the very wealthy, the very poor, and the very bright.

White House stats estimate college costs increase by 71 percent between 1966 and 1975. Officials say higher increases have posed relatively few problems for the very wealthy, and an abundance of federal aid programs have helped the poor.

The battle is now to see which proposal wins out. Roth’s proposal has passed the Senate three times in the past three years, but has never gotten past the House. It is also by no means clear as to whether Roth’s proposal violates the Constitutionally of Separation of Church and State since the bill entails aid to church-related schools.

However, the Supreme Court in 1971 indicated governed aid to church-related colleges provides far less risk of excessive government entanglement with religion, than if aid were flowing to an elementary school.

There is no question, however, as to the Packwood-Moynihan bill facing a Constitutional problem as all sides agree the bill would certainly require a Supreme Court test.

Carter’s bill on the other hand, has been said to probably face no such Constitutional problem as it simply expands an existing program. However, a Carter campaign promise to define what limits aid could be given to private colleges may yet force a Supreme Court decision on the matter.

Van Horn takes over SGA presidency

The new SGA president, Jim Van Horn, outlined a plan for action for the campus center stair-case, made two appointments, and then set some goals for spring semester when he attended the Feb. 14 meeting of the student legislature.

Van Horn, in his Executive Council Report said that the SGA paper drive, which was started this fall to raise money for a staircase at the back of the student center, has been cancelled because the drive was not raising money.

The president pointed out, for the staircase, which range from $4,600 for an iron railing to $40,000 for a brick staircase.

"The project to get a staircase will not be dropped," stressed Van Horn. A survey will soon go out to all students to be followed by meetings with the Alumni Association to gain their support and then the project will be presented to Dr. Patton for his approval.

In the meeting, Van Horn appointed Jorge Lagurela to fill the now open post of SGA Vice-President. Lagurela accepted the post and was approved by the legislature. Lagurela did, however, have to resign his post as Junior class president to accept the position.

Parents invited on campus, March 4

Parents have been cordially invited to meet faculty and administrators Saturday, March 4. Parents who have shipped their children off to school may come to HPC to find out how well or poorly they are doing.

In the morning College President Wendell Patton will address parents on the College of the relationship between the program and excellent shape the college is in. Later in the Campus Center parents will be able to meet faculty members to discuss their child’s progress or why there is a lack thereof.

After a $2.90 lunch in the cafeteria, parents may attend a faculty, student panel discussion in Hayworth Hall on How HPC treats Religion and Science. Cultural credit is not available. Later President Patton will hold a coffee reception for those who attended the panel discussion.

At 8:00 in the Chapel the Fine Arts Department will have a presentation. Parents are urged to attend all of these functions and take some time to see their children. In order to attend any of Saturday’s festivities those parents who wish to stay overnight should have hotel reservations, because of the ACC Basketball Tournament, which is also March 4.
Pour some more Lord

Homecoming squeeze

I have been to Homecoming for three years now, and have yet been able to find a seat. Or rather, HPC has yet to find me room to sit. Admittedly, most any large school has a hard time finding a location to hold a dance, but with only 1,000 students and 8,000 alumni, of which approximately 500 came to the dance, it seems that those who do such things could find a location large enough to accommodate everyone. It would appear that enough money could be found to acquire this dance spot, although that is the first excuse anyone will give for poor accommodations. If anyone finds ANYPLACE large enough to accommodate 500 dancing people, let us know.

All those lights

And how about those annoying flashcubes. I had to drink extra to be able to take those. Next year I’d like to see a section for camera bearers and one for camera cube phobias.

Where did they go

It is quite possible that someday the basketball game for conference championship will be played at High Point. And then we (HPC) can send Guilford 76 tickets for their ENTIRE student body. We’ll see how many fans they have then. It’s terribly unfair for the High Point squad to be limited to the number of fans they can have at the game. Mr. Osborne, Carolina Conference Commissioner, sir, can they do this to us?

In case of ‘sic’

"Sic" is an editor’s mark in a column or letter to the editor which signifies that misspelled words and poor grammar are the exact words (writing) of the author, whose name appears after the article. Add a “k” to this word and one comes up with an adjective for people who misspell words and use poor grammar.

LIFE WITH A CAPITAL L

Thinking, Mans Responsibilities

Do we dare to think?

By Malon Baucon

The tragedy of the twentieth century is the lackadaisical progress in the acceptance of the human mind as relevant resource in evaluating human potential and confronting the problems and questions of human life. Human beings set up their personal value systems in many cases by the mere swaying of human emotion or that which appeals to the emotions. The reluctance to take a clear-cut stand on social issues such as abortion, equal rights amendment, and other social issues reflects our fielded mentality to be swayed with brands of emotionalism. We live in a society in which we are taught not merely to think but to believe hearsay or opinions.

Human living can become a routine of boredom if we do not seek the quality of living that we so desire. We live in a single world of Planet Earth but our understanding of the world is separated into many worlds of thought. This is good in one sense that we have varied interests as human beings as well as the various fields or disciplines of study. The tragedy is that we perpetuate the myth that we cannot relate human life by its various fields of study.

Fundamentalism, a religious movement began in the early 1920’s, thrives on putting down science for its teachings of evolution. Another myth is that scientists dont believe in God. Some of the most religious persons I know are in the field of science who are awed by the wonder of the creation of the Universe and see the wonder of it all when scientific knowledge advances our understanding of the Universe.

The alarm must be sounded. Dear Editor:
The Czar and the Mol. What a crazy world this is indeed, when a writer can’t call black things black and white things white. It is certainly nice to know that there is reason in all this madness.

Yes, here at HPC we can gain the insight that will no doubt save us from the pity of ignorance. The industrious student has the power within himself to seek “the garden of truth.”

You don’t have to look around very much to see the Sherlock Holmes’ of High Point. They meet you at every corner, with books in hand. They are on the road that will one day lead them to the pot of gold that lies at the end of the academic rainbow.

But, alas... these students are threatened by a worm which eats away counselors. It robs them of souls. It comes to them in white things white. It is indeed, when a writer can’t call black things black and white things white. It is doubt save us from the pity of ignorance. The industrious student has the power within himself to seek “the garden of truth,”

Souls destroyed by worm

Student legislature spent most of February working on two new bills, one to change the SGA elections procedures, and the other to change the parking regulations.

The elections procedures bill, proposed by Speaker Norris Woody, is designed to eliminate the problems which entangled the Franklin class election this fall. The bill sets exact times during the election day(s) when the polls will be open.

The fall run-off elections were thrown out by the Student Court, and re-held because they were not held at the publicized times. The bill also sets up a precise, short channel through which a student can file a complaint about an election. The lack of such a channel further complicated the fall elections.

Woody reported at the most recent meeting, that the bill, which legislature passed, had been approved by the SGA President and by Dr. Patton and will be in use at the Spring SGA elections.

The second bill, sponsored by Rhonda Banther, Day Student Representative, will remove two passages from the parking regulations. These passages currently not in use. This is a first section that says parking is permitted on East and on West College Driveway. It is outdated because of recent city laws which now forbid parking on these roads.

NATIONAL NEWS

by Robyn Marley

In an effort to expose students to the real world, the National News column will continue to elucidate on the pressing issues of our times that our children will be reading in history books.

Those who believe in life after college will need basic knowledge not only of the history of the Romans, but also of the modern conflicts in the Middle East and Washington, D.C.

Miner's strike

The Eastern coal miner's union is once again on strike in an attempt to gain higher pay and more benefits. These miners have been out of work for more than 90 days in an attempt to outhead the industrial complex of the East. Arnold Miller, the United Mine Workers President, worked out a settlement with management, but the miners in general told him to put the new contract in his personal mine.

In the meantime, power companies in the Northeast and Midwest are cutting back power to homes and industry. The miners on strike continue to disrupt with force mines that are functioning and to attempt to stop shipments of coal from the west. Ohio is in a state of emergency and some have suggested that soldiers man the mines to get production started again. This small group of laborers have a strange hold over the entire Eastern United States.

Mother nature

One lady continues to have America by the neck too — Mother Nature. Deep snows in the Midwest stranded people in their very tracks while in New England oil companies can’t even get tankers trucks into the snow locked cities. In Boston banks couldn’t open because tellers couldn’t get to work. Even if they had money stuffed in their socks, there were no groceries to buy since no trucks could get into town. In Minnesota, people froze to death in their snow-bound cars.

Inspite of all this there was rejoicing from farmers who suffered through several storms of drought. The underground water table has been replenished. Still, knowing there will be plenty of food this summer is small comfort to those who are hungry now in Boston As long as the snow is going to freeze or starve you, at least, thanks to the miners strike, you’ll be in the dark.

Arabian riches

Things certainly look warm and bright in Saudi Arabia. While the miner strike costs us 100 million dollars a day, the Saudis are making 100 million a day in oil sales. With all the money they’ve earned, some economists (those that theorize about money but never have any) have come up with some startling statistics.

At the rate of 100 million a day, the Saudis could buy General Motors Corporation in 4 months, Exxon Corporation in 5 months, and Columbia Broadcasting in 7 days. They could buy all the professional football teams (even Tony Dorsett) in 4 days and Tiffany’s in 5 hours.

There is a joke that the Saudis could buy enough cigarettes to put a jockey in in every state in the nation. But most people don’t think that it’s realistic because parts of it you couldn’t even give away. Don’t think that because there’s enough to smoke in tents with camels that they’d buy High Point College as part of the package deal.

In other news North Carolina surrendered from the Civil War over 110 years ago. It has been impossible to surrender from the Reconstruction process.

The presentation of "Angel Street" by the High Point College Tower Players ran for four successful nights of entertainment in the memorial auditorium. The play, a pre-Broadway touring mystery set in London, was directed by Nan L. Stephens.

The mystery involved a man, Mr. Manningham (played by Don Wright), who continued his search for some precious jewels that belonged to the woman he killed. The woman previously owned the house that he and his wife occupy after changing his name, Manningham married and moved into the house before her death. Mrs. Manningham (played by Myra A. Williams), totally unaware of her husband's plot, was slowly being convinced that she was insane by her husband. He, upon different occasions, locked Mrs. Manningham in her room, accusing her of kleptomania and failure to recall where she had hidden the stolen articles. During the time Mrs. Manningham was locked up, her husband proceeded to thoroughly search the house. This continued until a surprise visit from Detective Rough (played by Dr. E. Roy Epperson) brought the whole plot together before Mrs. Manningham's eyes, showing her that she was not, in fact, crazy, but that it was her husband's own evil doings. Together, Mrs. Manningham and Investigator Rough uncovered the evidence and had the husband apprehended.

All of the characters displayed skill in capturing the mood of the mystery. Nancy, a servant to the Manningham household (played by Melissa Patton), exhibited exceptional proficiency in maintaining the difficult British accent. Epperson, as Detective Rough, was the humorist in the play.

Much praise is due to Lynne Lockrow, who designed and set and served as Technical Director. The setting of the entire play took place in a house on Angel Street and in the room, complete with silver muffin warmer ties to a wooden staircase banister. The audience that was actually seated on the stage. Although the seating was limited and close, and it was effective in placing the audience where much of the evidence was kept, no one else had been missed elsewhere.

Future features of the Theatre Department include Brent Bouldin's One Man Show, February 23 at 8:15 p.m., in the Old Student Center and the Theatre Department's Spring Production, "Prisoner of Second Avenue."

Dr. Leakey to speak at UNC-G

Dr. Mary D. Leakey, a world-renowned anthropologist who has devoted her life to studying the origins of man, will deliver the annual Harriet Elliott Lecture on Feb. 27 at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Dr. Leakey, originally from England, now lives in Tanzania in East Africa. She will speak at 8:15 p.m. in Cone Ballroom of Elliott University Center at UNC-G. Her topic will be "Recent Discoveries in Human Anthropology." The lecture is free and open to the public.

Dr. Leakey is a member and individuals/groups are accepted on a first come, first served basis. Full information can be obtained by writing Dr. Adam Savage, UH CCECS (CHS), 2530 Dole Street, Honolulu, Hawaii 96822.

University of Hawaii's College of Continuing Education and Community Service is a non-profit organization providing credit and non-credit programs to adults who desire to pursue life-long learning and enrich their lives. We greatly appreciate any free articles or announcements which provide a community service but are unable to pay for advertising. Latest program information can be obtained by calling Dr. Adam Savage at (808) 951-7662 between 6-8 AM (Hawaiian Time) most mornings--sorry, he cannot accept collect calls.

Dr. Leakey will be coming to Washington, D.C. to confer with associates at the National Geographic Magazine immediately before coming to UNC-G. For many years, Dr. Leakey worked with her husband, the famed anthropologist Dr. Louis S.B. Leakey, in searching for evidence of the origin of man at Olduvai Gorge. The two pursued their work together for more than three decades before Dr. Leakey's death in 1972.

One of their most important discoveries came in 1959, when Mrs. Leaky found the 1.78 million-year-old primate skull, known as Zinjanthropus, in Olduvai Gorge. This discovery pushed back by nearly one million years the accepted date of man's evolution.

In connection with the Elliott Lecture, a screening of the film, "The Dawn of Man," will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Jouney Lounger of Elliott Center. The film is free and open to the public.

Through the years, many nationally-known figures have delivered the Harriet Elliott Lecture. Past Lecturers include Dr. Milton Friedman, Sen. George McGovern, Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith, Dr. Edwin Reischauer, Arthur Goldberg, Prof. Max Lerner and Dr. Daniel Bell, among others.

For many years, Dr. Leakey served as chairman of the board of the National Geographic Society, an institution to which she devoted much of her energy and time. She was a member of the board of trustees of the American Museum of Natural History and a fellow of the American Philosophical Society. She was also a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a fellow of the Royal Society of London.

Dr. Leakey is a recipient of many awards and honors, including the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the highest civilian honor given by the United States. She was also awarded the Order of the British Empire and the Order of Australia. She was the first woman to receive the degree of Doctor of Science from the University of Cambridge, and she was the first woman to receive the degree of Doctor of Letters from the University of Oxford.

Dr. Leakey was a woman of immense talent and drive. She dedicated her life to the study of human evolution, and her work has had a profound impact on our understanding of our place in the world. She will be greatly missed, and we will continue to honor her memory and her legacy of scientific discovery.
‘Real’ world rude awakening for many job seekers
College grads find transition difficult

By Nell Lee
Staff Writer

“It’s a whole different world,” said Laura Hackney. “From the moment you get out of school, you’re supposed to be a full-fledged adult. Suddenly, there are real bills to pay, your boss doesn’t care about your progress like your teachers did, and you can’t cut your job like you could your classes.”

Laura Hackney is just one of 2,789 UNC students who graduated last year, just one who is finding a ruder awakening from the ivory tower than she anticipated.

For most graduates, after college comes a “real” job. And there are also social adjustments to make.

“The first year out is often a testing ground for many,” said Sandy Ward, assistant director of the University’s Career Planning & Placement office. “Many times a grad really lucks up and hits a testing ground for many.”

According to Ward, UNC graduates end up mainly in education, industry, hospitals and health services, banking and financial institutions, and state and local government.

“Most people have a job offer, and this is partially due to their being without any job at all. But the prospective job holder should be as inquisitive about the job as the employers are about him.”

Questions he can ask include:

• Is it along the lines of what he thought he’d be doing?
• Will he be working with people his own age or older ones?

“When we encourage students to take interest and skills tests early in their college career and to explore all types of fields they might be happy in,” she said. “This saves them in the long run.”

In addition, seniors should take into consideration the location. A person who grew up in Chicago may have somewhat of a culture shock if his new job is in Creedmoor.

According to Ward, more of the graduates last spring are venturing out where the jobs are, regardless of leaving family and friends and moving to distant places. But the majority are still provincial.

Seventy-eight percent of the in-state graduates who went through the placement office last spring preferred employment in the state. Of the out-of-state registrants, 69 percent sought employment in other than North Carolina.

“I think the main thing is that jobs kids on their first year out is that their support system changes,” she said. “They are spending the majority of their time on jobs during the week. They usually find friends at work, but often there are cliques that are hard to break into. And many times the new graduate finds himself dealing with persons of many generations and cultures.”

Single grads may have to make real efforts on the social side of their lives. Something most have never had to do before.

Hackney, a 1977 graduate who majored in chemistry, is now a nuclear radiation testing control technician for Carolina Power & Light in Raleigh.

“Returning to my hometown was a sudden thing,” she said. “I guess I had it in my mind all along.”

He said the biggest adjustments he had to make were social.

“Being in a wild social town like Chapel Hill, well it was quite a change coming back to a small town like King’s Mountain.”

Lowdermilk’s many responsibilities include helping students for interviews

by Art Hellebusch

Do you know your chaplain? Are you aware of what he has to offer you?

Robert Elbert Lowdermilk III, known among students and faculty as Bob, is the Chaplain and Assistant Dean of Students at High Point College.

His responsibilities are mainly the oversight of religious life activities. He provides the weekly worship, counseling, guidance for pre-ministerial, and the arranging of the annual “Seminary Day” program for persons interested in church-related vocations.

Bob Lowdermilk’s duties as Assistant Dean of Students include interpretation of campus life guidelines, disciplinary matters, administrative work, teaching, and counseling.

If a student needs counseling in preparing for an interview the Assistant Dean can help.

When asked what kind of dress a person should wear? The Chaplain said, “attire related to academia, if you wanted to work part-time at McDonalds you would not wear a three-piece suit.”

“How important is the interview in Lowdermilk’s opinion? He said, “I think it is extremely important, because you can question a resume. In economic terms the interview is an opportunity where you sell your features.”

According to his personal experience the interview was the most important tool. The Chaplain said a person must demonstrate a vibrant, good nature attitude.”

The interview can balance with the lack of credentials if there is a good personality, or visa versa, according to the Assistant Dean.

When the Chaplain was asked if a person is going to be required to take an interview before entering Heaven? he smiled and said no.

Bob Lowdermilk is a native of Greensboro. He attended Page High School and is a graduate of Guilford College.

While at Guilford College he worked part-time at WQMG Radio Station, Greensboro. He was an Announcer (dis-jockey) and Production Assistant.

In what had to be the most exciting game of the season, the High Point Panthers finally captured the elusive Carolinas Conference Basketball Title over arch rival Guilford College in an overtime thriller in the ‘spacious and plush’ confines of the Guilford College COLISEUM.

The road to the ’78 title was far from being an easy one as the Panthers were continually plagued by injuries, personnel problems, and inconsistent court performance. Beginning February 1, High Point opened a critical 5 game home stand with a much needed thrashing of ACC after losing 8 of the last 11 games. The Panthers then hosted Lenoir Rhyne. The game proved to be just the opposite of the previous game as the team, which obliterated ACC just three days earlier seemed to come totally unglued. Coach Steele refused to blame any single player for the game as the Pointers seemed to be playing in five directions at one time. Danny Anderson kept the game close in the first half with nine points. Scott Richardson, the newest addition to the starting five in the three-guard line-up, paced the Panthers with 17 points in the 84-70 set-back.

The Panther team took another turn around against Pembroke. Steele’s three-guard offense featuring Scott Richardson, Danny Anderson, and Johnny McQueen proved to be too much to handle while teammates John O’Brien, Charlie Floyd and Earl Ayres controlled the boards. High Point never trailed and with the score 41-38, the Panthers outscored the Pembroke team 26-6 to take a 67-44 lead. Anderson scored 19 points, second only to Floyd’s 28, on the way to a 75-54 slaughter.

High Point went into Saturday’s homecoming game with a chance to share the conference lead. The game stayed close most of the first half as High Point ran off to a six point lead before the Indians got back in the game to collect a 34-32 halftime lead. The second half started with a basket-for-basket shoot out until High Point ran off eight straight points to seal the 74-63 victory. Floyd was again high man with 24 points while reserve center Steve Wheless collected 14.

High Point’s next victim was conference foe Pfeiffer. The Panthers led by as much as 12 points in the first half before the Falcons came back to within two points. Dennis West came off the bench to make a bid to reclaim his starting position and led the Panthers to a 42-31 halftime lead. West ended with 18 while Floyd scored 16, O’Brien 15, and McQueen 12 as High Point swept to a 88-71 win.

Saturday’s game against Guilford was for all the marbles as a packed house watched Guilford and High Point square off for the regular season title, a first round playoff bye, and a berth in the District playoffs. The Panthers found the going rough in the first five minutes as the Quakers pulled to a 10-2 lead. But this was temporarily only as the ‘hot hand of Danny Anderson turned into a guided missile launcher hitting from everywhere on the floor. Anderson hit five for six in a heated spurt which saw the Panthers pull to within two points of the Quakers. The teams traded baskets in a scoring spree until Guilford began another slow spurt.

Steele substituted player after player in hopes of quelling the Quaker scoring attack. The lead reached 12 points before the Panthers put a stop to the Quakers surge by moving back to within seven points as the buzzer sounded ending the half at 48-41. West proved to be the man for the second half as he scored 14 of his 18 points on 6 for 7 performance in the half and 8 for 9 overall. Guilford led all the way before Floyd hit two free throws for an 82-81 lead. The Panthers lost the resources of Floyd in the last of the second half due to fouls. The team then moved into a four corners offense in order to make up for the loss. More trouble followed in the form of three technicals, two on Steele and one on O’Brien, which gave Guilford a five point lead. Not even that could stop the title hungry Panthers. Both teams missed several one-and-ones as the overflow crowd rose for the last few seconds. Center John O’Brien converted the first of two free throws to tie the game at 83-83 with 16 seconds left. The Quakers missed two attempts to win the game. In overtime, the Panthers gained the tip-off and reached a six point lead with clutch free throwing. High Point held off a late rally to take a 95-89 overtime win. “This meant so much to us,” quoted Steele. “We’ve struggled hard for the six years I’ve been here and we’ve never really had anything to show for it. It seems like one thing or another has always hurt us. The fans, players, everyone was hungry. This is the first time our players have really done anything in our conference and we needed it.”

High Point has two regular season games left, at ASU and nationally ranked Gardner-Webb. Have the Panthers finally found a winning form? Next week should give the key to that problem as the Panthers travel to Lexington to prove their mettle in the conference play-offs.
Lambda Chis Lead Race

by Scott Hance

The High Point women boosted their season record to 16-8 the past two weeks as they easily swept past six opponents, including two conference victories over Pembroke State and Catawba. The Panthers averaged 92 points per game on offense during the six games despite the six game streak and held their opponents to an average of 46 points per game. The ladies have one more regular season contest remaining before entering tournament competition.

The hot streak started when HPC traveled to Raleigh to take on the women from Shaw University and came home with a 76-50 win. Ethel White led the Panthers with 22 points followed by Germaine McCauley with 17. HPC shot 43 percent from the floor and had a 35-17 margin by halftime. Marie Riley contributed 11 points before fouling out.

The next night saw the Panthers entertain Pembroke State at home and take a 96-59 decision. White again led the women with 22 points while Riley and Sylvia Chambers chipped in 16 points each. HPC took a 37-16 lead at the half and went on to take the win. Jody Westmoreland netted 12 to aid in the victory.

Catawba came to High Point for Homecoming and HPC rose to the special occasion with a 102-33 romp over the Lady Indians. Marie Riley paced the victors with 22 points and Ethel White followed with 21. Robyn Cooper hit for 9 baskets for 18 points. Earlier in the season, HPC downed Catawba 101-30.

Wake Forest then squared off against the Panthers and fell 82-52 as High Point broke open a close game midway through the first half. Marie Riley led HPC with 12 points and 10 rebounds. Ethel White, Germaine McCauley, and Vickie McLean all hit for 10 points as the Panthers used a balanced scoring attack for the win. White pulled down 10 rebounds as the winners out rebounded the Deacons 41-18.

Another balanced scoring attack helped the Panthers to pummel North Carolina Central 105-41 at home. HPC scored the first ten points of the game to take an insurmountable 50-20 halftime lead and again led the women with 20 points, followed by Riley and Westmoreland with 16 each, and Cooper with 15. McLean also broke double figures with 13 points.

Saturday night, as the men were busy winning the Carolina Conference, the High Point women were taking a 90-64 triumph over N.C.A&T. Riley and Cooper each connected for 18 points and White assisted in the win with 15 points. Westmoreland and Henline each had 14.

Ethel White now leads the team with an average of 17.3 points per game and Marie Riley is averaging 14.5 points per game. The Lady Panthers seem to have gotten their offense together and should continue to do well entering the post-season tournaments.

Baseball to begin

by George Phillips

The Panthers, coached by Chuck Hartman, are looking for another 30 or more wins, for the eighth consecutive season, and their seventh Conference Title in nine years.

This year’s baseball team has a 42 game schedule, 27 of which are at home. In an effort to get more students to back the Panthers, there will be refreshment stands and T-shirts on sale at all home games.

High Point will have a 24 man roster, 12 of which are returning lettermen. The outstanding returnees are shortstop Jim Mugele, a senior who was All-District last year; First Baseman, Tony Waite, who hit .374 and was an All-State performer last year; Center Fielder, Joe Garbarino who stole 44 bases in 46 attempts; and Second Baseman, Jay Schwamberger, a highly recruited left hander, and Phillip Cherry, Jason Crump, and James Purcell, all right handers.

Job opportunities for summer look excellent

Summer Job Research Analyst for the national Opportunity Research Program indicates that summer job opportunities for the summer of 1978 look excellent.

Prospects look good for National Parks, State Parks, Private Summer Camps and resort areas. Many new job opportunities exist in support industries adjacent to Parks and recreation areas. High School graduates and College students will find many opportunities in the recreation areas. Some National Parks hire as many as 3,000 summer employees.

Several hundred private camps throughout the nation will be seeking summer employees in varied capacities as counselors, swimming instructors, music directors, and general activities such as cooking, maintenance, etc. Individuals with special talents and abilities in the area of entertainment, live stock handling, etc. should investigate these opportunities.

Dude ranches and guest resorts are also good opportunities for those who like the out-of-doors, and are willing to work on an operating ranch.

Students interested in obtaining additional information may request a FREE brochure by sending a self-addressed STAMPED envelope to Opportunity Research, Summer Job Dept. SJO, Lock Box 730, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho 83814.

Parents interviewed

Parents fond of HPC atmosphere

by Lisa Mickey

Parents' weekend at High Point College provided approximately 110 parents the opportunity to visit the campus and become acquainted with the faculty and administration. Different activities were scheduled for the parents throughout the day, including with the Theta Chi bong show entertainment.

Parents were asked about their fears concerning the size of their children off to college. Mr. Joseph Kelley, from Laurinburg, North Carolina, stated, “It’s almost a necessity to send a child to college today with the competition for jobs. They’re exposed to a lot of things, but as long as my daughter stays conservative and level-headed, she’ll be all right.”

Other concerns were loneliness, educational validity, and sheer exposure to the world. Still, other parents contended that they had no concern at all.

Mr. William Taylor stated, “We felt our son was able to handle himself. I think if students pick the college well, things will take care of themselves. We’re not concerned because we feel this school is well-run.”

Mrs. Crane said, “I figure if my daughter’s not raised by now, it’s too late to worry about it.”

The price of college education was a concern of all the parents interviewed, but all agreed it is worth the money in most cases.

Mrs. Hance said, “I think it depends on the individual student. College is very good for the individual student College is well worth the money but some make it and some don’t.”

Mr. David Norton, from Westfield, New Jersey, stated, “Yes, I think college is worth the cost because as technology becomes more and more a part of our country, there’s going to be a great deal more of leisure time. We’re going to have more free time to spend inside our own heads and there there be something to look at. The life of the intellect is a very enriching and rewarding kind of life and only those who have been to college stand much more of a chance to participate.”

Mrs. Harold Hill, from Yadkinville, North Carolina, agreed, saying, “College prepares a person for all the challenges they’ll meet later in life. College in itself, besides the academic subjects, is a learning experience.”

Parents' views concerning the size of the college campus, to take the College campus, to take Saturday night's Bong Show winners. [The crowd was another winner because of the success of the show]. These performers received perfect scores from the judges -- The Delta Sigma Phi Band, Germaine McAuley, Matt Rogers, Zeke Reutel, Greg Clark and Ron Byrne. Bob O'Brien with the microphone was master of ceremonies. See page 4.

Job Placement budget cut creates controversy

By Art Heliebusch

At the beginning of the year, Dean Hanson requested a $3000 budget for the Job Placement Program. This request was denied by the Financial Affairs Office, which cut the request to $1500.

The Job Placement Programs main objective is finding jobs for students, according to Dean Hanson.

According to Dalbey, Vice President of Financial Affairs, the request for $3000 budget was unnecessary. Dalbey said that if the budget request was granted it would have helped. “The program is a little worse this year because Dean Hanson is over worked.” Even with $3000 she would not have time to use the money, Dalbey said.

Dean Hanson has two positions. She is Dean of Students and is responsible for the Job Placement Program. Dalbey said Dean Hanson took over the program after other administration personnel refused the position.

Dalbey said that the department heads should participate in the program and offer assistance to the Dean.

The Dean said she was pleased with the cooperation from department heads.

According to Dean Hanson, the increase in the budget she requested is needed to represent the college at Job Placement meetings. The Southern College Placement Association and North Carolina Placement Association Meetings help perspective business and Job Placement Programs become acquainted.

Dean Hanson said businesses are not coming to colleges such as High Point College to interview students, “Recruiters for business are going to universities to interview students individually,” according to the Dean.

Eighteen students named to junior marshals roll

by James Warren Sweeney

James Warren Sweeney, son of the Rev. and Mrs. James J. Sweeney, Route 1, Greensboro, and Karen Denise Green, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, have been elected co-chief junior marshals at High Point College. Selection for the honor students was based on academic achievement.

Duties of the marshals include ushering for programs open to the general public and student body on the College campus, to take up students' cultural credit cards at college-wide cultural programs, and to usher and direct the ceremonies for the commencement baccalaureate service and the graduation exercise.

The remaining marshals are Garland Vestal Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Y. Greene Jr., Hampton Drive, High Point; Kenneth Howel Hedgecock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hedgecock, Route 1, High Point; and Ricky Christopher.
The opinions herein are not necessarily those of the college or the majority of the student body, rather, those of the writers. The "Editorial We" is the expressed opinion of the Editors of the Hi-Po.

Campus organization viability

Judging by a recent survey, student government presidents and student newspaper editors have a cool opinion of each other's performance.

The survey, done by National on-Campus Report, stated fully 34% of the student editors consider their student government "poor," 12% regard it as good or excellent, and fully 34% of the student editors consider their student government as serving a three levels—students, faculty, and administration.

The student government on the other hand has very little to show for itself this year and the dropping of the staircase project didn't help matters very much at all.

Yes, the student government has kept regular meetings and passed some bills, but these meetings and bills have dealt mainly with correcting inconsistencies in its own constitution and bylaws.

Mr. Woody, we do appreciate the dorm hours being increased and M. Van Horn we do hope you are able to give us a badly deserved efficient job placement office. However, the project which would have lent viability to your organization— the staircase behind the campus center—has eluded you and it's a project of perhaps the greatest use to students.

We have heard of administration wants for the higher price staircase and this is indeed a roadblock for getting a new staircase unless the trustees decide to put some capital into the matter. Yet, maybe practicality will prevail if students show they can raise at least a few thousand.

"The only thing the SGA has done this year is tell us how to spend our money, which is very limited. We didn't even have enough funds to cover our transportation costs—this resulted in our being unable to attend some games," she said.

Norris Woody, speaker of the legislature, once told us the Hi-Po serves a viable function on campus in circulating news and offering a forum for opinion, whether it be on the student government activities or any other activities. We of the Hi-Po also see the student government as serving a viable function on campus in working as a bargaining agent for students whether it be for student rights or wants.

However, there comes a time for all student organizations to "lay their cards on the table" and show what they have done in their so-called service positions. It is seldom realized no service job is easy because hours are long and the stigma of the responsibilities as an academic student come first.

We believe, the Hi-Po has accounted for its viability by the fact our paper comes out every two weeks and is there for all students.

Editor's Note: Although the following article is on the editorial page, it was originally intended as a feature story, since its opinion statements are attributed.

By Cindy Briggs

What is the purpose of the Student Government Association? Why don’t they assist organizations that want to serve the student population of HPC? Why don’t they prove their worth instead of questioning everyone else’s?

These are the questions asked by a certain organization on campus that feels the SGA not only likes to pass the buck, but that it also likes to send fellow students through a lot of red tape.

An example of this attitude was made a week ago when a cheerleader was referred to Jim Van Horn, SGA president, by Murphy Osborne in an effort to secure a bus to the conference tournament games in Winston-Salem.

Van Horn sent her to Chris Ware, Student Union president, who said the Student Union did not have the funds to sponsor a bus. Even after it was made clear to him that students riding the bus would be charged, and only $25 needed to be soaked-up, half of which the cheerleaders were willing to pay, he still denied the request.

From these reactions, the girl assumed that these governmental organizations weren’t willing to accept the responsibility, and that they had taken a position of “don’t bother me with your problems...tell the other guy to do it.”

This student stated that the cheerleaders haven’t had any support from these groups throughout the year.

"The only thing the SGA has done this year is tell us how to spend our money, which is very limited. We didn’t even have enough funds to cover our transportation costs—this resulted in our being unable to attend some games, " she said.

Earlier in the year, a member of the squad and a sponsor tried to get financial help from the SGA executive members. The attempt was a lost cause according to the cheerleader.

"We cut corners left and right. New uniforms were a necessity. Anyone could tell that the other ones were ancient. New skirts would have cost $40 each and a sweater $25. Out of our pockets we forked out the money to make jumpers and buy blouses which totalled $11 for one uniform. We also felt that new pom poms were needed. There were enough pom poms for four girls but no record of where they were purchased, so we weren’t able to order more for the rest of the squad. The SGA suggested we make our pom poms—which was ridiculous in the sense that the method would have been time-consuming, expensive and sloppy.

We also paid for our shoes out of our pockets; each pair ranged between $25-30. And still the SGA saw no reason to help us, " she said.

During this meeting, the SGA asked why it was necessary for cheerleaders to go to away games.

"The girl said, "For one thing, team support is important. If a crowd is unable to be there, eight enthusiastic cheerleaders can help keep the incentive going and let the teams know that somebody cares. Team members have personally told me how much they appreciate all that we have done for them.

The SGA asked why the cheerleaders didn’t cheer for other sports.

The sponsor answered, "They tried to cheer for soccer, but the coach didn’t want them to. Besides, their funds don’t allow them to do much for baseball, tennis, track, etc."

As the cheerleader represented, said, "There has been more support from students than from the SGA and SU put together. Even after a successful season consisting of homecoming activities, spirit awards, plaques, a bonfire, a pep-rally, pom pom routines, and other events, the SGA and SU won’t credit the cheerleaders for trying, won’t give them recognition or won’t aid them in a small task such as getting a bus to the tournament—an event that hasn’t occurred in several years."

"We realize that in the past ‘cheerleading’ did not have high standards at High Point College, but we feel that we have been successful in greatly improving those standards. Yet we still are treated in an unworthy fashion by the SGA and SU, " the cheerleader said.

When asked about her overall impression of the year, she replied, "This year has been one continuous battle of the cheerleaders trying to boost school spirit and the SGA saying "NO" to the funds. Anyone can see that this is a discouraging cycle of events.

She concluded by quoting a familiar question that constantly circulates through squad members, "SGA, what are you here for?"

SGA treat cheerleaders unworthy
Students ripped-off by Jessica Mitford speech

Brent Johnson
Tuesday, February 21, 1978

A notice was placed in many of the mail boxes on campus. It stated that Jessica Mitford was being brought to HPC for the students "intellectual stimulation."

It followed that the student had paid for the lecture and implied that he should get his money's worth by going to see her. All this is well and good except for the fact that this little notice, as well as bulletins all over campus said she was to speak on her latest book, "The American Way of Death.

Aside from the fact that many people might resent an Englishwoman criticizing their unique burial system, she clouded her points in humor. She began by telling the audience that she had no education; she need not have stated it, for it became obvious as she went along. Her knowledge of the subject was rippled-off. Her speech was ripping-off students, paid. The speech she did was ripping-off the audience that she had no idea of the mass appeal she was paid. Yet, what has mass appeal is not a good judge of what is intellectually stimulating, the Roman "games," for example.

In the future it is hoped that speakers will address the issue and that students will have the right to know what their money is being spent on, before they waste their time.

LIFE WITH A CAPITAL L

Which is the real world

By Malon Baucom

Let's talk about life— we live it every day. There are people who tell me that I really have no idea what life is and that I am about to be taken away and take it for granted.

My life is all of it. I've lived it all. In my own short life of twenty plus years has convinced me that my personal experience with life is valid. My life and all of its experiences is no farce or joke to laugh about. I'm not bragging or asking for sympathy when I talk about my life. I just want to challenge those who think that young people have not lived life just because they are young in their age.

My mother died when I was five and my father died when I became nineteen years old. I don't understand these experiences in life, but I do know that I have developed a greater capacity in caring for people since these experiences. Perhaps this is the reason I am becoming a minister— I care about people.

When someone says I'm really not involved in life, I question their reasoning. Isn't it being involved in life when you hold the hand of your loved one when he's dying of cancer. Isn't it involvement in life when you work with juvenile kids by being their friend in hope of setting a good example?

Yes, this is life— happiness, sadness, frustration, growth, pain, suffering, healing, friendship. I know I wouldn't be where I am today were it not for the grace of God and my friends and family.

If you really want to get involved with life, there is plenty of involvement. The question is: "Do you really care about people enough to go through struggle and frustration as you look for the golden horizon to break through the darkness of humanity?"

Chantal says: "The greatest gift one can give to another person is a deeper understanding of life and the ability to love and believe in self."

Live life while you have life. As Helen Keller reflects on life: "Use your eyes as if tomorrow you would be struck blind; hear the music of voices, the song of a bird, as if you would be struck deaf. Touch each object as if tomorrow your sense of touch would fail. Smell the perfume of flowers, taste with relish each morsel, as if tomorrow you could never smell or taste again."

Life is a priceless possession. Don't waste your life away and take it for granted.

The Common Man

Liberty doesn't always mean freedom to publish

Brent Johnson

Much truth in justice. At Appalachian State University in 1976 a yearbook was published. It may well have been the first year book published in the history of printing.

The inspiration came from a creative staff and was based on the format of several magazines. Of these Playboy, Playgirl, People, and Southern Living were no doubt the most literally copied.

There were interviews with Burgess Meredith, Gene Roddenberry, and a fat Linda Ronstadt; for those who don't remember her in that state.

The section with ASU Women had a foldout of the elderly librarian. The section with ASU Men had a foldout of the campus doctor. The librarian had mice at her feet and the doctor was clad only in Superman briefs.

Following the release of this yearbook, the "Christian" students at the University held a book burning. This was followed by the announcement from the administration that certain members of the faculty had been fired. Those are the facts as they were reported to this writer.

Now it may seem that this has little to do with High Point College, yet it may serve as an example of liberty. The fact that students have the liberty to publish their yearbook does not always mean that they have the freedom to publish it.

Perhaps the students in the class of 1976 at ASU went to an extreme and perhaps they did not, that is a matter of personal judgment. What remains is: they had the liberty to begin with.

Liberty is not a right, it is something that has to be fought for, historically. Many philosophers maintain that it cannot be ascertained in this life. Perhaps they are correct. There is much truth in justice.
National News
Leading to worry and collective frustration

America is baring her collective fingernails over some of the events of the last few weeks. If it is not worrying, then it is frustration.

Coal strike

The coal strike has continued and after Sunday's announcement of the turn-down vote by the miners of a settlement contract; the miners rejected the new pact because it did not contain a clause to raise pensions for those miners who have already retired. The union and the coal mine owners are at such opposites, many feel the government should take action, especially those who are losing money due to the strike.

Thus far the President has refused to act, hoping the parties involved will settle the dispute. The government's frustration at the lack of action has led to their own inaction. The miner's frustration at the lack of interest Congress has over coal production. The public's frustration at the inaction they can lose support, by making Park tell the truth they may lose their jobs. It is a no-win situation, but this Congress is no winner anyway.

Train derailments

The public is worried about the recent rash of train derailments which have caused murderous chemicals to leak from tank cars. Four incidents in Tennessee and one in Florida have caused the loss of several lives. The public's alarm has pointed fingers at railroad company insensitivity and lack of government regulation. Now many people who live near railroad tracks will now sleep with gas masks. Insomnia due to a mate's snoring is an expected spillover benefit from sleeping in gas masks.

These latest bits of news lead to one trend. When one party does nothing and the government takes no action, the American public begins to worry. Further inaction leads to a collective frustration. And as one philosopher said "when the public gets its back up, somebody backs down."

McAuley wins over talented field

Saturday night parents and students were treated to an exhibition of talent and hilarity-The Bong Show. Led by master of ceremonies and mastermind Bob O'Brien the Theta Chi Fraternity show was a complete success. The Heart Fund considered the show a success as they received 10 percent of the proceeds.

Miss Germaine McAuley with her medley of songs drew a standing ovation from the nearly-filled auditorium and the first place price. Cliff Goodman with improvisational piano selections was one of the second place finishers. Greg Clark and Zeke Reiztel, a three time World Champion banjo player tied Cliff for second place with their blue grass playing. Two other groups received perfect scores. Matt Rogers and Ron Byrne playing blue grass music and the Delta Sigma Phi Band playing the perennial favorite "Let's Catch a Buzz."

Germaine McAuley and Bob O'Brien

The panel of judges consisted of four campus professors Doc Gratios, a member of last year's panel, baseball coach Chuck Hartman, Dr. Karen Cholot representing the female gender, and an alumni Theta Chi brother, Dean Holt. The twenty one acts covered the entire spectrum of talent (and lack of it). There were original works in music by Wally Culbreth and original dance-ballet by Sandy Stumick. Mr. Voncannon, a crowd stopped from last year did his famous dance to "Saturday Night Special". Sit-down comic Dan Merri-day provided some intellectual humor. Lady did the National Indonesian Dance which also added culture to the show. There were numerous musical acts such as Dee Dee Holloway and Jorge Nobre doing their singing acts and Edith and Popeye and B&G Fried Apple Pie Band with their guitar renditions. The most unusual musical act was Perry Macheras who tinkled ivorv with his nose.

Other groups showed the futility of being too timid to display a lack of talent. The Phi Mu Sorority, The Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority, the Theta Chi Fraternity and the Roldaids were bonged by the judges for various reasons. One was bonged by Coach Hartman because it displayed public therapy and another was bonged by Dean Cole because "everybody likes a dog that's an act but nobody likes an act that's a dog."

Bob O'Brien was nearly bonged for playing the scales on a bassoon but Mike Taylor, next year's master of ceremonies, pulled him off the stage in the nick of time.

Many people deserve thanks for their help with the show; several members of the administration, some local businesses and all the Theta Chis. The best way to say thanks is to say it was a complete success— which it was.
Urban Survival is realistic

by Jan Dunkelberger

Although January's inte-

rim program is no longer a part of our curriculum, the spirit and enthusiasm for one of its courses still shines on. It was this same spirit that made one of the school's most innovative courses, Urban Survival continues to receive praise and inquiries from students and media alike.

Dr. William P. Matthews, originator of the course, felt that there was a definite need for students to be exposed to society the way it really is, rather than through textbooks or a professor's lectures. The course was designed to test an individual's ability to survive and protect himself in a strange or difficult environment with a minimum amount of personal help from present relationships.

The prerequisites for the course are that students must register for the course by the student's major advisor, (2) the student must pay for the transportation to their location, and (3) the student must have participated in the project. The prerequisites are two women participants. In order to get a first-hand account of some of the experiences encountered, Dana Merryday, who drew to go to Richmond, Virginia, was interviewed. Rather than invest in a bus ticket, he decided to hitchhike to Richmond. After arriving, he was cut off from the Salvation Army. He was able to find a shirt for $10 a day and a job at the Salvation Army where he got a free dinner, a place to sleep, and breakfast the following morning. Since the Salvation Army only renders this service for one day, Dana again was without a "home" but soon had the situation under control when the "state" offered to put him up for the night...in a federal jail. On his third day he found a boarding house and a job at a Dairy, both of which only lasted for a week, because he found a better boarding house and job at another Virginia Salvation Army. During his free time, Dana went to free entertainment events which he had found advertised in the newspaper. When it was time for him to return to High Point, he decided to again hitchhike, but when some of his fellow workers found this out, they took up a collection for his bus ticket back home.

Dana said, "This course is essential for people in the area of human service. The course is important in that working with people, is who you appear to be - not what you are. It determines how you are accepted, who will help you, and what they will do." Dana added that the students had never hitchhiked before, but had no place to spend the night. He asked around and finally ended up at the Salvation Army, where he got a free dinner. A place to sleep, and breakfast the following morning.

When Dr. Matthews was asked what changes he would like to see in the course, if it was ever offered again, he stated that maybe less money (possibly $20-30) that the students go to a city with a minimum of 50 thousand residents.

High Point College has in its academic structure one of the most unique majors of any college or university in this area. In fact, this program is only offered at ten colleges in the United States. I am referring to the Human Relations major, or the Youth Agency Administration major, as it is known at other schools.

The purpose of the Human Relations major as stated in the High Point College bulletin is "to provide the best possible undergraduate background for the young person who is looking forward to professional leadership in youth-serving agencies such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Boy's Clubs, Girl's Clubs, and etc.

The Human Relations curriculum aims for a broad understanding of the nature of social work and group work, and the psychology of education involved in working with people. It provides an opportunity for the student to sharpen the business and management skills necessary in leading a voluntary organization. These aims are achieved through courses such as Social Group Work, Group Dynamics, and Administration and Supervision of Social Agencies.

Mr. Earnest Price, Jr., first-year chairman of the Human Relations department, has an extensive 37-year background of professional experiences with the YMCA.

Affiliated with the Human Relations department at High Point College is the American Humanities program. Organized in 1948, American Humanities has a single purpose and women who aspire to professional employment in youth agency leadership and administration.

High Point College provides the curriculum and qualified faculty. American Humanities provides a varied curricular activities such as workshops, field trips, and internships to provide on-the-job training.

Mr. Terrence H. Dunn has been the resident administrator of American Humanities at High Point College for the past year and a half. Previously he had served as a district scout executive and Exploring executive in the Findlay Area Council, Sandusky, Ohio.

Many of the Human Relations majors have learned to live with packed calendars. In addition to cla... and American Humanities workshops and field trips, both locally and out-of-state, many Human Relations majors are active in campus organizations such as the SGA, the Hi-Po, and the Student Union.

Any student looking for a major that will provide the opportunity for the highest quality of agency management and leadership skills with which one may administrate to the needs of young people should consider the Human Relations major.

HR majors seem to have a philosophy that is summed up best by the following quote: "The greatest use of life is to spend it for something that will outlast it." The commitment to serve the youth of America is definitely A CAUSE EVER-LASTING.
Men's Tennis Team Open
by Chris Harrington

The High Point Panthers men's tennis team successfully opened their 1978 season with an impressive 8-1 thrashing of the University of West Virginia. The Panthers begin the season with high aspirations as they attempt to make their 7th consecutive trip to the NAIA National Tournament. In the last part of April, the Panthers will defend their District 26 title at Grimsley High School. The following week, they will attempt to regain the conference title form ACC.

The team is composed of seven sophomores and one junior. Jeff Apperson, out most of last year with a broken ankle, returns this year to lead the team in the #1 spot. Phil Parrish will hold the #2 spot after winning the District singles and moving into the fourth round of the Nationals last year. Sophomore Christian Hohnhold is the newest member of the team. Hohnhold transferred from Lima, Peru where he was one of the country's top players and competed in the Davis Cup two years ago. Sophomores Willem de Grote, David Burgess, and Kendall Handy round out the top six players.

First year coach, Mike Glover, has slammed down the schedule by dropping some of the weaker teams. "We should have a pretty good year with all these people back. It'll be hard to defend our district championship with ACC in our District. The Panthers next game is March 9 at ECU."

Third Straight Title

Lady Panthers Score Big Time!!
by Scott Hance

The High Point Lady Panthers capped their third straight Carolinas/Conference championship Friday night with an 81-71 revenge victory over Pfeiffer. Tournament MVP Marie Riley led the Panthers with 30 points and her rebounding gave the Panthers control of the boards, especially on the offensive end of the court.

HPC went ahead first and trailed only once in the ballgame at 23-20. The ladies came back to take the lead and build a seven point lead at the half. The second half belonged strictly to High Point as they took leads of as much as 15 points. Jody Westmoreland hit consistently from the outside to go with the inside scoring of Riley. Westmoreland ended the contest with 23 points while Robyn Cooper contributed 11.

To reach the finals against Pfeiffer, a team that had defeated the Panthers twice during the regular season, High Point defeated Guilford 68-48 in the first round and downed Atlantic Christian in the semi-finals 68-40. Germanne McCauley and Westmoreland each netted 14 points against Guilford while Riley hit for 12 and grabbed the same number of rebounds. Cooper led the Panthers to the victory over ACC with 17 points, followed by Riley with 14 and Westmoreland with 13. HPC at one time took a 50-21 lead and then looked ahead to the Pfieffer matchup for the championship.

Before the Pfeiffer game, Coach Wanda Briley commented that the team was confident. "We played terrible against Pfeiffer before but now we are playing better team ball. I am very confident we can win." She also noted that they would look to Marie Riley inside and Cooper and Westmoreland for the outside shots. That is exactly what the ladies did to take the championship and earn all conference honors.

The previous weekend saw the Lady Panthers capture the NCAA/AW State Championship, for the third year in a row. HPC, seeded fifth in the tournament, picked up wins over Lenior-Rhyne, Western Carolina, and Mars Hill to gain the title that will send them to the regional tournament at Bridgewater College in Virginia this weekend.

Marie Riley, named to the All-Division II team along with Ethel White, poured in 33 points, 22 coming in the second half, to lead the Panthers to a 78-69 win over fourth-seeded Lenior-Rhyne in the opening round. White scored 11 points in the second period to bring her total to 15 for the night and Robyn Cooper added 14 points to the winning effort. The Panthers then faced top-seeded Western Carolina in the semi-finals and came away victors by a 68-58 margin. Riley again led High Point with 22 points and put High Point in the lead for good with a basket at the 15:55 mark of the second half. The contest was tied several times in the early stages of the second half after Eastern erased a 37-34 deficit at halftime. Jody Westmoreland contributed 14 points to the effort and Vickie McLean came in with 13.

Host Mars Hill proved no match for High Point in the finals as the Panthers ran away with a 86-59 victory. A strong press helped give the winners a lead midway through the first half and they never looked back. White led the Panthers with 27, followed by Riley with 20, Cooper with 17, and McLean with 14. McLean at one point scored 11 straight points for the Lady Panthers.

Panthers Win Opener
Despite Cold and Snow

High Point College started its season with a 10-6 victory over Susquehanna of Pennsylvania. The game went but 6½ innings before being snowed out, which marks the first time in High Point College home game has ever been called due to snow.

Susquehanna scored three runs in the first inning, but it was all High Point after that. The Panthers collected ten runs on nine hits, while Susquehanna compiled five runs on seven hits.

Leading the Panther attack was Danny Wilbur who homered his first time at bat for the second consecutive year. Wilbur went 3 for 3, compiling 3 rbi's, and 2 runs scored. Bruce Turner, also having an outstanding day, was 2 for 3, 2 rbi's, 2 runs scored, and a homer in the fifth, followed by Tony Waite's 2 run homer in the sixth. The only punch from Susquehanna came from Bill Hart and Howie Baker, both of which hit 2 run homers.

Dirk Gurlay, who received credit for the win, pitched five innings for the Panthers before being relieved by Kevin Keene. Pete Callahan, who took the loss, pitched five innings for Susquehanna before being relieved by Arena.

The Panthers, after defeating Susquehanna soundly, were scheduled to play 4 games with the University of Baltimore over a three day span, but all four were cancelled due to the recent snow.

Panthers Down Guilford, Take Conference Title

By Chris Harrington

Something new has been added!!!! Yes, folks, not only was High Point playing on T.V., but they were winning their first Conference Tournament since 1969. It may have seemed an impossible task just a month ago as High Point was wallowing in the cellar of the Carolinas Conference. Thanks to a first round bye, High Point faced off with Guilford in the tournament final on Friday night. The thought of being on T.V. must have had its effect as both teams were plagued by numerous turnovers and missed shots in the early going. Floyd hit with 19:20 left in the first half to give High Point the first score and they never looked back from then on. Things finally slowed down as High Point carried a comfortable 40-22 lead at the half. Charlie Floyd was one of the big keys to the Panther success as he scored 26 points (16 in the second half), grabbed 20 rebounds, and shot 6-6 at the line. West and Anderson both scored 18. The other key contributing to the Panther’s success was their phenomenal 20-23 free throw shooting performance. High Point was up by 12 at one point before Quaker guard Gary Devlin scored 12 points in the last seven minutes to move Guilford back to within one point with :30 left in the game. A last second shot by Guilford bounced off the back of the backboard and was rebounded by the Panthers to put the game away 82-80.

Floyd was named the most valuable player in the conference tourney while Coach Jerry Steele was named Coach of the Year. Floyd and teammate Danny Anderson were named to the All Conference team. High Point opens the first round of the District 26 play-offs Monday night at Grimsley High School against the same Guilford Quakers.

Women Defend CC Tennis Title

by Scott Hance

The High Point Women will soon begin defense of their Carolinas Conference tennis championship as they attempt to duplicate a very successful 1977 season that saw HPC win 14 of 16 matches. Conference Coach of the Year Kitty Steele returns to guide the Panthers to what appears to be another strong season. Returning players from last year include past Conference Player of the Year Marie Riley and flight winners Temma Allen and Joan Richardson. Freshman joining the squad this season are Vicky Williams, Roberta Riley, Kathy Neblett, Donna Pfister, Debbie Hill, and Jan Baker.

Williams was a member of the Junior Wightman Cup team and is ranked 7th in the state of Virginia. Riley is ranked as the number 2 player in the state of New York. “I’m counting on these two players to really help us,” said Steele. “We will have much more strength and depth than we have had in the past.”

Last season the Lady Panthers recorded six shutouts and were defeated only by Wake Forest and Methodist. All-Conference players returning from last year are M. Riley, Allen, and Richardson.

Coaches honored by trustees

By Arnold Hendrix

As a result of the college winning the Joby Hawn Award for the best all-round athletic program in the Carolinas Conference, the athletic coaches were honored as guests at the Board of Trustees meeting last Wednesday.

High Point College has won the award both times in the award's two year existence and Patton said, "we're not ready yet to give it up." as he presented the coaches to the board.

Coaches attending the meeting were Wanda Briley, volleyball and women's basketball coach; Mike Glover, tennis and assistant basketball coach; Ken Chartier, soccer; Bob Davidson, track; and Chuck Hartman, baseball.

Next, the trustees heard the four administration departments with the most noteworthy being the academic affairs and student affairs reports, both of which were presented by Patton.

The academic affairs report said faculty salaries at HPC are no longer among the lowest in the state in comparison to other colleges. Patton said the faculty salaries at HPC run in the middle which shows an improvement over the past few years, while the salaries were among the lowest in the state.

In the student affairs report, Patton reported admissions was 18% ahead of last year in the number of students making the decision to enroll at HPC. Patton said the figure shows extra effort by admission is paying off, but that more effort is needed as the college is faced with the largest graduating class in its history this year.

In other action taken by the trustees, it is decided to wait before awarding any honorary degrees from the college for next fall until a review of the basic policies and objectives of the college could be accomplished. The policies and objectives of which the college is operating under now have been in effect for 18 years.

And finally, those seniors who will complete the required number of hours necessary to graduate at the end of the spring semester have been legally approved for graduation. Usually, the Board of Trustees legally approve seniors for graduation at a dinner meeting before graduation exercises; however, because of the times the graduating class planned its meetings and graduation exercises, the trustees were left without a time to meet. Therefore, they went ahead the legality at this meeting.

Admissions' efforts must improve to keep up

By David L. Bobbin

High Point College will be graduating 242 students this May, the largest graduating class in the college's history.

The Admissions office will have to improve its efforts 14% to keep up with the times, according to Dr. Wendall M. Patton, President of the College.

The college, as all colleges, is having to bear down on admissions simply because there are less 17 and 18 year olds now than ever before. Patton said, "We have to have to start getting two smaller pie, to put it simply."

Patton said, "We will be moving in three areas:

• Extra effort in Recruiting
• Advance Technology
• Increase in Degrees offered

The extra effort in recruiting has begun with the addition to the Admission staff of Nancy E. Koontz. Ms. Koontz will begin on April 1, 1978. She is a High Point graduate and is working to improve the current College Placement Program. This new "PR" material - they will be available within the next two years. Patton stated that "right now and for this next fall we'll be relying on a renewed effort in admissions. The other materials will not be available in time, he said.

An increase in Degrees offered is also being considered for the admissions offices, but if not ready yet to give it up," said Patton. As for the new "PR" materials - they will be available within the next two years. Patton stated that "right now and for this next fall we'll be relying on a renewed effort in admissions. Other colleges have higher job placement budget

By Art Hebebush

At the beginning of High Point College's fiscal year Dean Hanson requested a $3000 budget for the Job Placement Program. This request was denied by the Financial Affairs Office, which cut the request to $1500.

According to Dean Hanson the increased budget request is needed to represent the college at meetings as the North Carolina Placement Association and the Southern College Placement Association. The Dean said the money will also provide current literature concerning Job Placement.

How does High Point College's Placement Program compare with its peers?
The opinions herein are not necessarily those of the college or the majority of the student body, rather, those of the writers. The "Editorial We" is the expressed opinion of the Editors of the Hi-Po.

It appears that HPC administration has definitely taken big steps towards admission improvement. Advances in technology, requirements, and just down home extra effort are being pursued. Much money will cross the tables before any results will be visible, but where else could one spend it? Much money will cross the tables before anything will be seen. Much money will cross the tables before anything will be seen for the present students happy. Word of mouth 'Getting a bigger hunk of a smaller pie!' is an attempt to express concerns of the Student Handbook. "other activities that the Cheerleaders are responsible for are as follows: dances after ball games, pep rallies, and sponsoring a chartered bus to one away game for all students."

I suggest to the Cheerleaders that they either see to it that the Student Handbook is changed, or they start assuming all their responsibilities instead of trying to pass them on to the S.G.A. or the S.U.

In closing, I would like to urge the Cheerleaders to keep on cheering because this is what they do best, but please, for the sake of all the other students on campus, do it within your budget!

Sincerely,

Jim Van Horn, President
Student Government Association

Correction:

In last issue's 'Editorial we,' headlined Campus organization Viability, we incorrectly stated the staircase project had been dropped. It was a poor choice of words as the newspaper drive to fund the staircase project has been dropped, but not the staircase project itself.

The Editorial We is an attempt to express concerns of the students to the administration and other officials and draw attention to the subject without drawing attention to individual students. The above is the expressed written opinion of the Editors. Contributions of subject matter are welcome.

The Editor
There have been a lot of questions and misconceptions circulating concerning the Equal Rights Amendment, for quite a while. Everybody has heard of ERA but no one seems to understand what it really is or represents.

The National Organization for Women, in its efforts to educate both males and females on the ERA bill, has a leaflet out that gives clear explanation about ERA. It states, "As of Spring, 1977, 35 states have ratified, with only three more states needed for the ERA to become the 27th Amendment to the United States Constitution. It means that federal, state and local governments must treat each person, regardless of sex, as an individual. (It) will not interfere in personal relations such as marriage and family... Women are legally persons under the Constitution and will not be until the ERA becomes part of it. Join us in the attempt to clear up the public's misunderstanding about ERA, three High Point College freshmen women with both interest and knowledge in the Equal Rights Amendment, volunteered their ideas on the subject. Jill Christianson, Paula Prillman, and Jill Strong are very much in favor of ERA's ratification. Jill Strong stated, "ERA stands for Equal Amendment -- an amendment that should not even have to be a conflicting issue, but is. ERA involves me and my future as a woman. The question of women having equality is ridiculous. If the ERA is passed, under law, I and every other woman will be guaranteed equality for equal work, equal opportunity and equal status." "Everyone should support the ERA," added Paula Prillman. As it now stands, women are not legally persons under the constitution. The constitution was written by and for men.

Jill Christianson, in her support of the ERA's ratification, stated, "If the amendment passes, all people will be equal under law, regardless of their sex. I believe it will aid me in my future by ensuring me the same pay as my male counterpart. In relationships such as marriage, it will be a true partnership under law -- not the master servant concept. Educational opportunities for females will be equal to that of males. Traditionally all male vocational schools, colleges and academies will be open to females and vice versa."

Paula discussed some myths and misconceptions that have been generated by anti-Era forces and generally, the unformed. She said, "As stated in a pamphlet published by the American Association of University Women, many have the false belief that the ERA will destroy the family, dictate homosexual marriage laws and interfere with a state's right to legislate. These misconceptions are forced into the hands of the American public by self-righteous hypocrites -- a prime example being Florida's orange juice queen, Anita Bryant. Ignorance upsets me. People against ERA are either ignorant or egotistical. Some women are afraid to men's equals. Women have been in the dark so long, they're afraid of freedom. Many of them don't realize that until the ERA is ratified, women aren't people under law."

Jill Christianson continued, "Many people have the wild idea that the ratification of ERA will destroy the family institution and require women to earn a salary. This is not true. Coed bathrooms will not result from the ratification of ERA. The ERA will not affect the Supreme Court's decision on abortion and will not dictate homosexual marriage laws."

"Loss of husband's pension, loss of alimony, change of rape laws and the idea that all women will be drafted into combat are all fallacies of what the ERA will do for us," said Jill Strong. Most of us don't realize Congress already has the power to draft women, even without the ERA. All three of the girls have had or will have direct contact with the Equal Rights Amendment campaign.

Jill Christianson described her experiences. "I first became interested in the women's movement back in the late 1960's. My mother was very involved with the League of Women Voters, and she helped me realize that there is a great difference in equality between males and females today. I participated in the League of Women Voters parade. Besides keeping myself in touch with how things are progressing with the ERA, I try to explain to others of both sexes what ERA is all about. I am a member of NOW (The National Organization of Women), and I am hoping to help sponsor through the Student Union the ERA Caravan put on by NOW here at High Point College this spring."

"I have found that many High Point College students are uninformed and uninterested. I hope to have the ERA Caravan here to answer all questions about ERA and inform students. I believe that men and women ought to know about ERA -- it affects everyone."

Jill Strong stated, "I went to the National ERA March in Washington, D.C., last summer and went to an ERA meeting, but basically, I am active in the movement by spreading the truth of ERA and clearing up ridiculous misconceptions."

"I went to the National Women's Day March in Philadelphia and worked on William Roth's senatorial campaign," stated Paula. "Mr. Roth is now one of two senators representing Delaware, and he is very much in favor of the ERA ratification. The best way to push for the ERA is to vote for state officials that support it and also to strongly oppose any candidate that is against the ratification."

Jill Strong spoke of students' support and involvement saying, "It seems that there is not enough interest or concern about ERA anywhere as far as college students are concerned. Unfortunately, it is those people and the generations after them that will be affected by the amendment."

Paula added, "There is very little concern for the ERA at High Point College. In fact, few people even know what ERA means. Jill Christianson has been attempting to host any ERA meeting here. Hopefully, we will have a big turnout."

Jill Christianson summed up her ideas saying, "ERA will be a legal beginning. Under law, men and women will be equal. There will still be chauvinistic attitudes persisting, but after many years of hard work, I foresee a true equality of the sexes. I don't know if I will see true equality in my lifetime, but that's what I'm striving for."

Parking bill removes obsolete language

By Robert Gillis

The final draft of the parking bill was passed at the Legislative meeting of March 14. The bill is now awaiting Dr. Patton's signature for approval.

The bill that was passed rids the parking regulations of obsolete language, such as the section permitting parking on parts of the main College Drive that are off campus. The City of High Point has placed "no parking" signs in these areas, making the current regulations outdated.

The original bill, proposed by Ms. Rhonda Banther, contained a clause reducing the price for parking stickers for day students to one-half that of stickers for dorm students. According to Ms. Banther, this clause was dropped from the bill because of a lack of support on the part of the day students.

Mr. Perry Macheras and Mr. Andy Wubbenhorst conducted a parking survey of the campuses and found 34 day students and 66 dorm students. According to the report made by Mr. Macheras at the February 28 meeting of the Legislature, 60% of these students felt that day students should pay half-price for parking stickers.

Ms. Banther stated that if the day students wished to change the present parking situation, they have to organize themselves and be active. She said, "People have no right to gripe or complain if they just sit back and don't get involved."

Ms. Banther also would like to have student input on the following: 1) whether to have window or bumper stickers decals, and 2) the idea of selling temporary parking decals at the price of $1.00 a piece good for two-week periods. She stated that she welcomes any ideas or suggestions students might have concerning the issue of parking.

Correction

NOTE: In the last issue of the Hi-Po, it was stated that the sticker fees help campus security costs. The money collected for these stickers goes into a general fund. Campus security costs are paid out of this general fund. The sticker fee money alone cannot even approach the campus security costs.

Students urged to support alternative tax credit plans

By Arnold Hendrix

High Point College Financial Aid Director, Louise Nowicki, is urging students to write letters to their representatives in their respective states as the bills have begun to pass through the states as the bills have been introduced. Nowicki said her goal is to establish the basics of financial aid or an increase in financial aid. She explained that to obtain rights for gays, a very much political issue, many Congressmen do not believe in financial aid or an increase in financial aid.

"The time is now for students to write letters to their senators and representatives in their respective states as the bills have already passed the committee and will be going to the floor pretty soon," said Nowicki, and "whether they support or not parents claim them as deductions."

When asked why do senators and representatives try to push a tax credit plan in spite of seemingly distinct advantages of alternatives plans, Nowicki answered by saying Congressmen are very much political in that parents of college students are more likely to vote than the students themselves and many Congressmen don't believe in financial aid or an increase in financial aid.

"If any students doesn't have need for financial aid, they should check with the Financial Aid office. Those students who don't receive support from their parents. "Some parents don't support students unless they are in college, so students would never see it," said Nowicki, and "whether they support or not parents claim them as deductions."

Financial aid students need to file

Those students who have not filed need analyses for the Financial Aid office should contact the Financial Aid office as soon as possible to get their forms. It takes three weeks from the time they are mailed to be received in the office by April 14th so they will be mailed to students by May 10th. Those students on campus would receive their packages through the campus mail, while off campus students would have theirs mailed to them.

If any students doesn't hear anything by May 10th, they should check with the Financial Aid office.
Dr. Fletcher to speak on images of man

Dr. Joseph Fletcher, visiting professor of medical ethics at the University of Virginia, will speak at 8 p.m. April 11 in the auditorium. Fletcher came into national prominence a decade ago when he popularized "situation ethics" by discussing the lack of rigid rules that characterized the Christian religion.

Since that time he has turned his attention to the DNA furor, genetic engineering, abortion, and similar medical problems fraught with moral overtones. He will speak on "Contemporary Images of Man" in his lecture at High Point College. The public is invited to attend without charge.

Since earning his doctoral degree from the University of London in 1932, Fletcher has been associated with several colleges in this country and England. He was instructor and chaplain at St. Mary's Junior College, Raleigh, from 1932 to 1935. He was a professor at Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, from 1944 to 1970, when he retired and moved to Charlotteville, Virginia.

He has been a director of the Massachusetts Planned Parenthood Federation, president of the Assn. for Voluntary Sterilization, vice president of the Assn. for Study of Abortion, and a board member of the Center for Private Independent Higher Education.

He has written numerous books on morals, ethics, and genetic control with translations into Spanish, German, Japanese, Korean, Swahili and Persian.

He is listed in Who's Who in America, Directory of American Scholars, and the Living Church Annual.

Dr. Mazlish will speak first at 9 a.m. in room 106, Horace Hayworth Hall of Science, on Uses and Abuses of Psycho-history: Kissinger and Carter.

After the lecture, the Alpha Chi Scholastic Honor Society will sponsor a coffee hour with Mazlish from 10:30 until 11:30 a.m. in the Holt McPherson Campus Center. He will lecture again at 12:15 p.m. in the trustees dining room of the Campus Center. His topic will be Personality and Politics.

The lectures are part of a series under the auspices of the Visiting Scholars Program of the North Carolina Center for Private Independent Higher Education.

Dr. Mazlish's books include Kissinger: The European Mind in American Policy, and in Search of Nixon, A Psychohistorical Study. His Riddle of History was a Hudson Book Club selection in 1968. Several of his titles have been published in foreign editions.

He is a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and he has been a consultant to the task force on psychohistory for the American Psychiatric Association.

Mazlish, a native of New York City, earned his bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees from Columbia University. He has taught previously at the University of Maine, Columbia University, and was director of the American School in Madrid.

Job placement budget comparisons

Elon College Placement Office does not have a separate budget, according to Larry E. Barns, Director of Placement. Barns said, "We send out a couple of hundred letters to business concerns inviting them to come to the campus to recruit." Barns is also involved with admissions. Barns does not attend the Southern College Placement Association meeting.

Dean Hanson has two positions. She is responsible for the Job Placement Program and she is Dean of Students. The Dean will not attend the Southern College Placement Association meeting.

According to Dick Coe, Director of Placement at Guilford College the allocated budget excluding his salary is between $1600 and $1800. Coe said he does go to the North Carolina Placement Association meeting regularly and the Southern College Placement bi-annually. Coe said, "I plan to attend the Southern College Placement Association meeting this spring."

Dick Coe has one position at Guilford College. He is Director of Placement. His responsibilities include teaching a class in "Career Life Planning," according to Coe, "this class is similar to courses taught at Davidson College and Meredith College.

Concerning High Point College's actual budget at this date it is unknown. Dean Hanson was not able to locate the budget she requested of $8000 and the budget of $1500 granted by Dalbe, Vice President of Financial Affairs.
Cinderman up to 3-1

In their first home meet of the season, High Point snatched runner-up honors in a tri-meet with perennial track power J.C. Smith and Towson State (Md.).

Though the cold and windy conditions hampered many of the athletes from performing at their peak, several of the Panthers were still able to turn in some very fine times and results. Tracy Lyons and newcomer Bill McCowan are proving to be very consistent assets for the Panthers as they took the pole vault and 120 high hurdles respectively for the second straight meet. McCowan also placed second in the 440 hurdles and was a member of the winning 440 yd. relay team with teammates Dennis West, Keith Chance and Lyons. Cross country star Mark Hamlet placed second in the 880 and posted a very fine time of 4:26.9 in the mile despite high wind conditions. Ron Byrne captured his second javelin title in as many meets and veteran Norris Woody was runner-up again to Lyons in the pole vault. The top performers of the meet had to be sophomore Dennis West.

Tough Week for Panther Baseball

By George Phillips

High Point had an impressive victory over Concord, 11 to 1, behind the pitching of freshman Jay Schwamberger. Schwamberger in his first start fanned 12 batters on his way to a near perfect game. Also, having an outstanding day were Tim Reid, who went 2 for 3, Danny Wilbur 3 for 5, and Bruce Turner who homered, for his 2nd of the year.

In the second game with Concord the Panthers compiled 9 hits and 3 runs, but it wasn't enough, losing 3 to 4. Outstanding Panthers were Joe Garbarino, 3 for 4, Jim Mugele, 2 for 4, and Tony Waite 2 for 4 and a homer.

The Lady Panthers captured their second straight AIAW Division II Regional title and earned the right to move on to the national playoffs this week as they swept three wins at Bridge water, Virginia two weekends ago. High Point downed host Bridgewater, Kentucky State, and South Carolina State in route to the title.

In the first round, Panthers easily handled Bridge water by a 104-48 tally. Six High Point ladies scored in double figures, led by Ethel White with 18, and took a commanding 53-17 into the locker room at halftime. The Panthers cruised through the second half for the victory. Pam Henline hit for 15 while Sylvia Calhams and Linda Cottrell came in with 14 each. Vickie Mclean contributed 12 and Jody Westwood pitched in 11 points.

The followign night HPC squared off against Kentucky State and came away with a 76-67 win to advance to the finals. White again led the winners with 20 points as the Panthers took a 31-26 lead at the half. At one time they led by 11 points but Kentucky closed the gap at 19-18. The ladies got 18 points from McLean while Germaine McAuley and Marie Riley chipped in with 16 each.

South Carolina State was the opponent for High Point in the finals and they too proved no match for the Panthers as they fell 95-84. The Lady Panthers hit on 43 of 52 free throws for the margin of victory. Coach Wanda Briley's plan was to work inside and the only method Carolina came up with to stop the penetration was to foul. Riley hit with 11:23 left to play in the first half to put HPC out in front for good and ended the contest as high scorer with 24 points. White and McAuley each hit for 22 while McAuley helped out with 20 tallies.

With the victories in the regional tournament, High Point upped their record to 26-8, having won 16 in a row after getting off to a sluggish 10-8 start.

The Lady Panthers will now move into national competition in a field of sixteen top teams, including defending champion Southeast Louisiana who have been averaging over 100 points per game and boast a 26-3 record. The only way that High Point could face the Lions would be in the finals, due to the arrangement of the single elimination tournament. The tourney is being played at Francis Marion College in Florence, S.C.

High Point's first round opponent will be Eastern New Mexico on Wednesday the 22nd. The tournament finals are slated for the 25th.

Students speak on graduation

By Malen Baucom

The Senior Class of 1978 is the largest graduating class in the History of High Point College. Like all significant events and decisions in life, graduation requires thoughtful planning. This year is no exception.

In planning for graduation, the senior class met and discussed matters which may seem trivial to some but are very important in insuring the success of graduation. Some of the issues which the senior class had to confront were: Who is to be graduated? Where is the ceremony to be held? What color of cap and gown is to be worn? The latest senior class seating met for the purpose of deciding on the graduation site -- either in the gym or auditorium. The auditorium seats around 3,500 people and the gym seats approximately 3,500.

The dilemma is if graduation is held in the auditorium, there will be limited seating - four tickets for each senior. The gym has its problems with hard benches, heat, and trouble-some public address system. In talking with Dr. Patton, President of the college, I learned that four engineering firms have been called in to try to solve the problem of the PA system with no success. Graduation is a special occasion and the position of the college administration is to use the gym for the supreme purposes of allowing for enough seating. There is no final speaker for graduation as of yet; but Governor Jim Hunt has been asked to speak.

Some graduating seniors commented on graduation. Tim Harper said: "I feel limited with the sound system in the gym." Angie Marlette said that she personally would like to have graduation outside or in the gym. The auditorium limits graduation. Even though HPC is a private college, graduation is a public occasion. Pam Smith expressed the urgency of graduation by saying "I can't wait till it gets here." A person who wished to be anonymous talked of making graduation more creative by acting out drama skits for parents to reflect the meaning of our four years of college. The ceremony of graduation is important in itself, but the traditional march doesn't prove anything except that we can walk.

A rising senior expressed his hope that graduation would be held at City Lake next year. The graduation attire would be bathing suits and there would be a watermelon celebration. So well does this express the uniqueness of High Point College students!!!!!!

Security force of 1,000 on campus

By Robyn Marley

Due to a recent incident campus security problems have again come into focus. Dr. Murphy Osborne, Vice President of Student Affairs discussed the problems and solutions.

According to Dr. Osborne there are three main areas of concern. They are the security force hired by the college, the security of buildings, specifically Women's Dorm, and the education of students the awareness of dangers.

Concerning the hired security force on campus Dr. Osborne said that their job is mainly to be of assistance to the students. They cannot carry arms and cannot make arrests. They are limited to mainly the prevention of dangers, yet when a dangerous situation does arise they can immediately call the city police. The security force has modern communication equipment.

Security also entails the security of buildings. Four times nightly the on-duty officer checks the locks at Women's Dorm to make sure intruders cannot get in. Dr. Osborne said that for the first time in years all the doors were locked the same night. It was the night that a student was assaulted.

The Vice President of Student Affairs stated that the main problem with security was the education of students of the risks. A "sensitiveness" to the problem of one being injured from bodily harm should be the solution. Dr. Osborne stated that every one should be aware that the risks from trespassers are real and not just news found in the newspapers. Should a problem arise, campus security or the city police should be immediately notified.

According to Dr. Osborne no one is immune from the dangers of assault or theft and should therefore be aware of ways of prevention. He wrapped up the discussion by saying everyone should be involved in the well being of the campus community. "The real security force on this campus is one thousand students."

Hi-Po must lay cards on the table

EDITORIAL REPLY
March 15, 1978

Submitted by:
Andy Wubbenhorst, Speaker Pro-Tem

The March 8th Hi Po editorial column called for an investigation to try their cards on the table. "We're doing so, the editors questioned the viability of the SGA while substantiating its own viability. I take the opposite perspective.

The editors specifically criticized the SGA for "dropping the staircase project" and insinuated SGA President Jim Van Horn had missed his opportunity for giving viability to the organization. The Hi Po obviously had not even consulted Mr. Van Horn. The President's first directive upon entering office was to drop the paper drive to finance the staircase project, not to drop the project itself.

Currently, Van Horn is working with Dr. Epperson and Mr. Rawlins to find new, more practical ways of financing a staircase. An application for a government grant is the measure which is in the works. Elon College recently received approximately $2 million in government grants. Obviously this is far more practical than a paper drive.

The failure of viability is with the editors of the Hi Po. Not once has Van Horn been interviewed by an editor or reporter of the Hi Po. I currently hold the second highest position in Legislature and not once have I been interviewed by a Hi Po representative. Since when do journalists wait for the news to come to them?

The Hi Po claims the Legislature is doing nothing but 'correcting inconsistencies in its own constitution and bylaws.' If the editors had only asked I could have given them many issues being considered by the Legislature and in committee. Among these pasted their cards on the table. What kind of working relationship neglects an interview with the SGA President? Are deadlines more important than accuracy?

In the interests of sound journalism, I hope not.

Andy Wubbenhorst, Speaker Pro-Tem
H.P. Legislature

Mr. Wubbenhorst,

In response to your letter, it seems to me that the most important thing is to say that you brought out some very good points and we would like to commend the intellectual level in which your letter was presented, for so often letter responses involve nothing more than name calling. However, I feel many of the points presented are somewhat misleading to the student body. For many of the issues go so much deeper into details than you presented or were able to present in space limitations of letters to the editor.

First of all, we did state in our editorial the newly appointed SGA President, Jim Van Horn, did drop the staircase project, but it was nothing more than a poor choice of words as we only meant the funding drive for the project had been dropped.

Secondly, the receiving of grant money from the government is somewhat misleading as the situation is much more complex. High Point College is applying for a government grant as a development institution. However, HPC is not in the classification of a developmental institution and was told they would be turned down before they applied. So since the college cannot receive funds as a development institution, the application for development institution funds is only a procedure in government red tape, and if and when the college receives funds as an advanced institution, none of it will go toward the staircase project because these government funds cannot be used for capital improvements such as building a staircase. These funds may instead be used only for such items as hiring more faculty, starting new majors, and other academic related functions. The only possibility of funds being used for building a staircase in back of the Student Center is if the grant from the government takes the place of existing expenses by the college, thus, freeing funds for other purposes.

Next, is the matter of the interview Jim Van Horn, which is admittedly a debatable point. The Hi-Po's report on the legislature at the time, Ed Grandpre, talked with Van Horn for twenty minutes after he was able to get through the administration. I now ask the editors to lay their cards on the table. What kind of working relationship neglects an interview with the SGA President? Are deadlines more important than accuracy?

We, the editors, felt we could present Mr. Wubbenhorst with some very good points and suggestions as well as ideas from our school paper which claims to be "working for a better informed campus."

Please lay your cards on the table.

Thank you,
Arnold Hendrix
Dave Bobbin

Hi-Po's job this year is to provide a badly deserved efficient job placement office. However, there comes a time for all student organizations to "lay off deadbeats" and maintain on all three levels - student, faculty and administration. I now ask the editors to lay their cards on the table. What kind of working relationship neglects an interview with the SGA President? Are deadlines more important than accuracy?

Excerpts from Mr. Wubbenhorst's letter:

"We have heard of administration wants for the higher mental institution. So, the Hi Po has been sharp in criticism and dull in suggestion. I realize as student government representatives we have a responsibility to keep our constituents informed. This is why the Legislature has a public relations committee, public hearings on controversial issues and student surveys. We are doing our best to promote interest in our organization but are finding it increasingly difficult to do so in light of the many inaccurate, cynical accounts printed in the Hi Po. We have heard of administration wants for the higher mental institution and was told they would be turned down before they applied. So since the college cannot receive funds as a development institution, the application for development institution funds is only a procedure in government red tape, and if and when the college receives funds as an advanced institution, none of it will go toward the staircase project because these government funds cannot be used for capital improvements such as building a staircase. These funds may instead be used only for such items as hiring more faculty, starting new majors, and other academic related functions. The only possibility of funds being used for building a staircase in back of the Student Center is if the grant from the government takes the place of existing expenses by the college, thus, freeing funds for other purposes."
WWIH to begin broadcasting this Monday

By Arnold Hendrix

Music with Jeff Nesbitt, Mike Wallace, Fred Patterson, Steve Stultz, and a few other students around campus will be heard on WWH as the campus radio station begins actual broadcasting this coming Monday night.

The station, located at the top tower of Robert's Hall, will be operating every Monday through Friday from 6:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. until May 5. WWH is a 10 watt FM station, located at 90.5 on the FM dial with a range of 10 to 15 miles.

Official testing has been done and the results are being waited for this week from the FCC. Meanwhile, the week is being used for training in operating the control board and for programming of material to be aired next week.

The entire radio station operations will be performed by students and broadcasting will be done by students who have received their third class radio license. On Monday nights, by Jeff Nesbitt and Mike Wallace; Wednesdays, by Arnold Hendrix; Thursdays, by Mike Showalter; and Fridays, Steve Burton and Mike Wallace.

The candidates for SGA president are Bob Brownlow and Mike Wallace. Southwood is seeking the junior judicial position. Mike Rogers is currently running uncontested for junior class vice-president. Mike Showalter is serving now as freshman class president. He is a member of the legislature and legislation committee, and chairman of the elections committee. Mike Wallace is seeking to have a class outing, to let sophomore class members know what's happening in student government, and to allow input suggestions.

Keith Chance is the sole candidate for sophomore class vice-president. The secretarial position is being sought by Steve Burton and tammy Garrison, Laurie Hoover is running uncontested for sophomore class treasurer, Sharon Billings, Jacky Hendrix, and Jim Powell are seeking legislative positions. Chip Aldridge is seeking the junior judicial position.

The candidates for sophomore class president and sophomore class vice-president are Bob Brownlow and Mike Wallace. Bob served one year as representative in the legislature and legislation committee, and chairman of the junior judicial positions. Chip Aldridge is seeking the junior judicial position.

Neil Simon comedy starts next Wed.

By Robin Henson

Spring is time for car washes, sunburns and Neil Simon comedies. This first one has already arrived on campus from the looks of things. The last is on its way.

“The Elephant Man,” a Tower Players production under the direction of Mr. David Cristovich, will be presented on select nights, 8 p.m. on Wednesday through Saturday, April 26 through 29. Admission for this cultural credit event will be $1.50 for students, and $3.00 for adults.

Cast for “Prisoner” includes Jan Kleeckner and Mark LaFranco in the starring roles of Edna and Mel. Portraying Mel’s brother and sisters will be: Jack O’Doherty as Harry, Edythe Menhesas as Pearl, Paula Fillman as Pauline, and Rhonda Cariman as Jessie.

The plot of the story involves Mel losing his job very traumatically, becoming very paranoid, and subsequently having a nervous breakdown. Edna must try and pull Mel back from the brink of insanity without much help from his brother and sisters. His family is worried mainly about having to support him and his wife if he does actually go mad and have to be institutionalized.

Special staging techniques are being executed for the performances. A new stage floor has been constructed so that the playing area will be “raked” or raised from front to back.

From the looks of things, and the time and effort put into this show, it will be a great way for the Tower Players to end this dramatic production season at HPC.

Fletcher says key word is control

By Malon Bascom

Dr. Joseph Fletcher came to High Point College Tuesday, April 11. This man has made it his business to come into national prominence a decade ago when he popularized “situation ethics” by discussing the lack of rigid moral principles in the Christian religion. Since that time, he has turned his attention to the DNA fusion of ethics, medicine, and biology.

Dr. Fletcher is the author of such books as “Morals and Medicine, Situation Ethics, Moral Responsibility and the Ethics of Genetic Control.”

The key word for the ethical revolution is “control.” We can no longer justify the lip service given to human reproduction. Modern genetics, medicine, and biology have opened up a new ethical frontier in making human beings realize that they have a responsibility to discover who and what we are inside our biological selves.

With these thoughts in mind, Dr. Fletcher proceeded to discuss seven new methods of human reproduction in addition to the DNA fusion of genetics. The seven new methods are: (1) artificial insemination; (2) artificial in vitro fertilization; (3) in vitro fertilization or impregnation; (4) artificial gestation; (5) nuclear transplantation or cloning; (6) transfer from womb to womb; and (7) parturition or unfertilized ovum development.

Dr. Fletcher ended his speech by saying that when we learn more about life, we have a greater burden of responsibility to choose between ethical values. The rights of parents vs. the rights of children must be distinguished. To fail to respond to ethical issues is to be irresponsible as human beings. To those who call it ungodly to talk about these issues, Dr. Fletcher challenged with an ending question: “What kind of God would prevent us from learning in this world by seeking to prevent birth defects and address ethical issues of moral responsibility?”

HPC students win top two bio-awards

Debra Ward and Dale Williams, Derieux award winners

Dale Williams and Debra Ward have won John Bewley Derieux awards from the North Carolina Academy of Science for meritorious scientific research in microbiology.

Williams’ paper won first place and Debra’s paper won second when they presented them to a recent meeting of the Collegiate Academy of the North Carolina Academy of Science.

Williams’ paper dealt with the isolation of strains of disease-causing staphylococcus bacteria from hospital patients and the sensitivity of the bacteria to various antibiotics.

Debra’s paper was concerned with research on the effects of garlic extract on the fungus that causes a disease called footrot in common bean plants.

Williams plans to attend medical school next year and Debra expects to pursue graduate study in biochemistry.

This includes all faculty, students, administration, and staff. Forms can be put inside the box outside of the radio station or sent to the station through campus mail.

APO’s host car smashing

David L. Bobbit

The life of a college president is often filled with surprises. Like when Pres. Richard Dale Williams showed up the morning to find a junk car, turned upside down in front of Roberts Hall.

The Alpha Phi Omega spring pledge class were hosting a “Car Smashing” that morning and planned on a group of students to turn over their car and push it into the street the night before.

The pledge class made 38.50 in spite of the troubles, with many students faculty and administrators taking part in venging their hostilities on the junked car.

It was a good way for students to relieve their frustrations after a long day of pre-registering”, said Dale Williams, President of the pledge class.

The auto was donated, with towing services, by Jack-Hurt Auto Salvage.

A graduation dinner will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium on Sunday, May 14, 1978, at 11:00 AM. The line of march will form at 10:30 AM outside of Cooke Hall if good weather or inside of Cooke Hall in the event of rain. Rehearsal for graduation will be at 10:00 AM Tuesday, May 13, at the gym.

Baccalaureate Service will be held on Saturday, May 13 at Wesley Memorial United Methodist Church at 8:00 PM. The line of march will form at 7:30 in covered walkway at the church.

Caps and gowns may be picked up at the bookstore now. The Bookstore will be open on May 13 from 9 to 12 for your convenience. Graduation announcements may be purchased at the Bookstore.

A graduation dinner will be served from 5:00 to 6:30 PM on May 13. This will be one of Frank Cafiedfield’s specials from soup to nuts, with steaks and turkey in between. The cost of the dinner is $3.50. Senior Class Officers are arranging an informal program at the dinner to which all seniors and their families are cordially invited. All seniors will be guests of the college.

There will be a continental breakfast in the Dining Hall on Sunday morning from 8:30 to 9:30 AM and a luncheon will be served after graduation in the Dining Hall from 12:30 to 2:30. The cost of the breakfast is $1.25 and the luncheon is $2.90.

First year coach Mike Glover decided before the season that the only way the tennis team was going to maintain its usual competitive edge was to trim some of the weaker schools off the schedule, put still maintain the usual ACC and NCAA division powers such as Chapel Hill, NC State, ASU, E. Tennessee, Davidson, etc. By doing so, a somewhat mediocre appearing record (10-10) has resulted but the experience gained may prove to be the ingredient necessary to ensure a 7th straight trip to the national championships.

Right now it appears as if High Point is headed on another collision course with rival Atlantic Christian for the district and conference titles and the right to represent District 26 at nationals. With a 4-0 conference and 8-9 overall record, the Panthers

Women undefeated on courts

By Paula Prilman

While attempting to maintain the Lady Panther's winning tradition, the women's tennis team has established an impressive (12-0) record. Coach Kitty Steele is very pleased with her team this far and is looking forward to another conference title. She expressed her thoughts on the team's bright future by stating, "This is the first year for Small College competition on the state, regional and national levels, and I believe our chances are good to win the state championship and gain a berth in the regionals."

Top seeded Freshman Vicky Williams, Kathy Neblett and Donna Pfister, along with Sophomores Marie Riley, Temma Allen and Becky Brown, work together to form a strong team unit. Freshmen Debbie Hill and Jan Baker add depth to the singles team by playing seventh and eighth seeds. The talent doesn't stop there; Ms. Neblett and Ms. Williams display their versatility by working together to form the number one doubles team, while Temma Allen, Donna Pfister, Marie Riley and Jean Richardson play second and third seeded doubles, respectively.

Guilford College is High Point's closest competition in the conference according to Coach Steele, however, top seeded player Vicky Williams seems quite confident of victory against Guilford. Ms. Williams stated, "Guilford was our toughest match with an over-all score of 54-5, but the competition brought our team closer together. Even opposing coaches have commented on the closeness of our team." While playing on the 1976-77, Junior Wightman Cup team, Ms. Williams gained valuable experience which will surely be to her advantage in the up-coming competition.

The North Carolina AIAW Tournament will be held April 20th, 21st, and 22nd, here at High Point College. With the support of the students, the Lady Panthers feel they will have little trouble in securing the state title and advancing to regional competition.

Ladies grab national title

By Scott Hance

The Lady Panthers, with three championships already in hand, traveled to Florence, S.C. to face fifteen others teams for the national championship and were not to be denied. Led by All-American and tournament MVP Marie Riley, and two time All-American Ethel White, High Point tallied fifteen points in the overtime period to defeat South Carolina State 92-88 in the finals.

Riley tallied a school record 30 points in the big game, going to 13 rebounds. She ended the season with a 17.2 points per game average followed closely by guard Ethel White with an average of 16.9. White poured in 20 points in the final including a pair of free throws that put the game on ice with seven seconds to play in the overtime.

"Riley’s play gave us the national championship,” said Coach Wanda Briley. "Her free throws and rebounds in the overtime were the key to the outcome." Riley hit for 13 points in the overtime including seven of eight from the charity stripe.

S.C. State took an early 36-30 lead and maintained at least a 21 point lead throughout the second half. White connected for 27 points while Robyn Cooper came in with 15.

“Chambers was the difference in the game,” praised Coach Briley. “Without her we definitely would have gotten beaten.”

The contest was knotted at 36-all at the half after the Panthers fought back from an 11 point deficit. Chambers hit a bucket to put the Panthers in front 52-51 and they never trailed again. Vicki McLean gave the ladies a 66-63 lead with 50 seconds remaining. After Penn got their final basket, High Point stalled the ball for the win. Riley led the HPC scorers with 15 followed by White with 14.

The Panthers, after getting off to slow 10-5 start, ran off 20 straight wins finishing the season with a 30-5 mark and as conference, state, regional, and national champions!
Individual efforts key to track success

By Steve Bisbing

While this year’s track team appears to lack the depth necessary to capture the Conference and District 26 titles, several team members have excellent chances of taking several individual crowns.

Though it’s difficult to single out any one athlete as the most outstanding, several of the team members must be cited for their consistently fine performances for the Panthers. Freshman Bill McCowan and veterans Ron Byrne and Mark Hamlett have continually faired well in every meet this year. In the prestigious ACC Relays, Byrne captured the javelin and Hamlett placed fifth in the grueling 3000 meter steeplechase despite heavy rain and mud. On April 4th, led by Hamlett’s winning victory in the 800 and steeplechase, the Panthers entertained Davidson College. Other High Point winners were Bill McCowan’s double in the high jump and 440 hurdles, Tracy Lyons (pole vault), Randy Larzelere (1500 meters), and the mile relay team of Keith Chance, Mark McIntyre, Lyons, and McCowan.

In the Davidson Relays, considered by many to be the track showcase of North Carolina, Byrne (javelin), McCowan (440 hurdles), and Hamlett (steeplechase) once again made their presence known as they grabbed 2nd, 5th, and 5th respectively. In a recent tri-meet with Emory and Henry and Lynchburg, newcomer Rick Callicut broke the school record in the high jump (6’5 1/4”) erasing the old mark by over an inch and a half. McCowan once again took both hurdles (120 and 440) and the mile relay team of Chance, Hamlett, McIntyre, and McCowan easily swept that title. In that event, Mark Hamlett ran a blistering 440 leg (49.8) to aid in the victory.

The next two home meets will be April 18th and 25th against conference foes Elon-ACC and rivals Catawba-Lenoir Rhyne. Track time is 2:45 so come out and support the team.

Panther Profiles

Bill McCowan - Track
Woodbridge, Va. (Freshman)

Newcomer Bill McCowan has definitely got to be considered one of the brightest hopes for future Panther seasons. In the last 3 meets, Bill has taken 3 hurdles, 1 high jump and been a member of 2 winning relay teams. He also placed 5th in the 440 hurdles at the prestigious Davidson Relays.

Wanda Briley - Women’s Basketball
Charleston, SC (First year)

Few veterans could match the phenomenal success of this freshman. After a highly successful volleyball season which culminated in a second trip to the Nationals, Briley then led her team on a 20 game winning streak that included a conference (#3), state (#3), regional (#2), and the big one -- the 1977-78 AIAW Small College National Basketball Championship.

By Dave Bobbitt

The HPC faculty voted to discontinue the present cultural credit requirements at the end of the 1977-78 academic year, at its regular meeting on April 12.

Seniors, however, will be required to complete their requirements this year. Incoming freshman will be made to replace the old ones.

Ms. Mickey stated that she looks forward to the editorialship and is depending on organizations cooperation and many students as staff members. "I know it will be a lot of hard work but I'm really looking forward to it."

Mickey will publish the final edition of the Hi-Po for the 1977-78 academic year will hit the streets on May 3, 1978. She has not named an assistant editor at this time.

Life with α capital "L"

By Malos Baucom

We really don't understand each other as people. The complexity of a human being is sometimes more than we bargain for in a relationship. What makes him tick? We are all motivated by some driving force or purpose in our personal private lives; and, this motive is reflected in the mirror or progress daily in our relationships and encounters with people. Some people are content to live lives of haphazard chance believing in fatalism -- that life is just the way it is and there is nothing anyone can do to change any part of it. This type of thinking seems to be advocating merely existing and not really living. A life of mere existence is a life of routine. Everything is run by a schedule. Go to lunch, break in line, and go to class. It seems no thought is ever given to other people's feelings in the matter. There is a need for communication in life and on this campus. Quit trying to read people's minds and summing up who they are in one statement of thought. Just because one sees a person's actions and knows a few of their thoughts does not mean one knows who that person really is in life.

There is a need that can be fulfilled in one word: Love. Little everyday acts of kindness can change the world. "Be kind to one another, tenderly forgiving another."

The end is near

At 15 hours per week, HPC students have 37 hours left in the classroom this academic year. There are a total of 421 hours until the beginning of exams. It will all be over in 558 short hours. Graduates will be graduated in exactly 604 hours. In 604 hours 1 minute and 15 seconds every senior will be on the way to the beach. GO FOR IT! (Your next Hi-Po will hit the streets in just 366 hours. For those who go by sun time, the sun will be almost directly above you, and that Friday we will have fish.

Reinhart elected President, elections to be completed soon

by Nancy Reichle

Caryn Reinhart secured the position of SGA president and will head the new slate of SGA and class officers elected by student vote on Wed., April 19. Caryn has had two years previous experience in student government here at HPC. She served as a member of the legislature and elections chairman in 76-77. This year, she is a non-voting member of the legislature. Caryn is a member of the Society of Collegiate Journalists and is editor of this year's Zenith.

Caryn hopes to establish a good working relationship between the faculty, administration, and students during her term as president. She also plans to allow more student input into SGA. Other goals include seeing that the staircase is built and that double majors are recognized.

Jorge Lagerueda will serve as next year's SGA vice-president. He will head the Orientation Committee. Patti Wooten achieved the position of SGA treasurer, and Sherri Jones will serve as secretary.

The rising senior class elected the following officers: Dave Horton, president; Linda Essey, vice-president; Jennifer Bull, treasurer; Sharon Sullivan, secretary; Robert Gills, Pam Skelly, and Debra Weber, legislators; and Matt Dun- ton, judicial representative.

The class of 80 elected French Bolen as president and Mike Rogers as vice-president. The secretarial position will be decided by the legislature. Kendall Handy will serve as treasurer of the class. Legislators will be Rhonda Banker, Donna Forvanii, and Mark Walling. Chip Aldridge will serve as judicial representative.

The rising sophomores selected Bobby Brownlow to serve as president, Keith Chance as vice-president, Laurie Hoover as treasurer, and Steve Burton as secretary. Sophomore legislators will be Sharon Billings, Jackie Hendrix, and Jeni Powell. Tom Miller will serve as judicial representative.

The voting machines used in the elections made the voting tabulation much easier and gave students practical experience in using the machines. Only 291 students, however, voted in the election. Other goals include seeing that the staircase is built and that double majors are recognized.

To better inform you

The end of another school year is almost upon us and the staff of High Point College's campus newspaper would at this time, like to thank you for your readership and support of the Hi-Po. Next fall we will be back bi-weekly and would like to strongly encourage you to become an active part of your newspaper. By your on-staff or off-staff participation, we can better achieve our goal of making this campus a better informed one.

The opinions herein are not necessarily those of the college or the majority of the student body, rather, those of the writers. The "Editorial We" is the expressed opinion of the Editors of the Hi-Po.

May we thank you

A few quick thanks you are in order since this issue is the final one of the year. First of all, we would like to thank our staff for putting in the hours they have this year for its been a banner year for us in staff effort. Secondly, we would like to thank President Patton for the effort he has put in, in making for what we consider an excellent relationship between administration and newspaper editors this year. Next, we would like to thank those at Stone Printing who have worked so well with us this year, especially Pat and Shirley. Then we would like to thank Mrs. York at the college switchboard for being so patient with us in the numerous telephone calls we've had to make. Finally, we would like to thank everyone else who has contributed to the making of this newspaper either in written form or in their time and patience. Thank you all and until next year, go well and stay well.

A Mickey Mouse college

by Robyn Marley

Like many North Carolinians this assistant editor could have attended several in-state schools. The cost of public education at the college level is considerably less than at High Point. When my friends at home ask me why I go to HPC I must admit my reasons are flimsy.

The quality of academics, the main reason for going to school anywhere, is probably as good as anywhere else in the state. The faculty for the most part is as qualified as any other institution's faculty. The amount of material that can be taught in four years is the same for every school and therefore is difficult to gauge the statement that you would learn more at say, Duke. The major difference between HPC and Duke then must be the students. The apathetic, disinterested, non-competitive attitude of the majority of the students makes HPC more of an expensive nursery than a college.

But some students do compete with themselves and set goals that they wish to reach. Therefore the Mickey Mouse attitude of the student body does not really affect my reasons of why I am here. Certainly I cannot explain my reasoning for attending HPC because of the intimacy between the faculty, administration and the students. This in fact does not exist for the most part.

It can be said that the faculty is dedicated to presenting material. In the Business Department for instance there are 250 majors and eight professors. Therefore the personal attention that should be given every student cannot be given.

Strength in numbers; power in people

By David Lawrence Bobbitt

I guess one of the hardest things in life to do is stop what you're doingespecially when you love it so much. The Hi-Po has been my outlet for two years now, and although I'm not leaving it completely, my influence will be greatly diminished when Lisa Mickey takes charge with new enthusiasm.

In two years Arnold and I have seen HPC take on a whole new outlook - I hope you have. In the last two years I've seen HPC take a new look at the Hi-Po. I feel that we have earned your respect and trust and I hope that feeling carries over to Ms. Mickey.

On Wednesday, as you're reading this, you might look around and see the glow on the staff members faces. This is the only thanks they receive -- your eyes glued to the Hi-Po. It is enough. We know that when you have read the paper our goal has been accomplished, and, when you respond to us in forms of comment, letters to the editors and acknowledgement, we are elated. We take on a responsibility they take on a obligation. We have done so, and I take pride in knowing that we met every deadline, filled every inch, typed every line and did all this without incident or mishap.

I'm proud of each and everyone of our staff.

I know that in some cases we may have made mistakes, but I trust that the feedback from you, the readers, is read. Students, you have created a power by your own initiative. Let no one take your pride in the Hi-Po away either!
The only way students can get anything changed by the S.G.A. is in Legislation, and this is by presenting a bill and getting it passed. The S.G.A. is run exactly like the national government, divided up into three branches; legislative, executive, judicial. The people who run these branches are elected by you, the students. If the S.G.A. doesn't do 'work' it's your fault; you elected them. Therefore, you should not complain about the S.G.A., but should do something about it by getting involved.

Anyone can be involved in the S.G.A.; just know who your class Legislator are. They should be willing to listen to you and present any bill you would like to see brought up. The manner in which a bill is passed in Legislation is by action originating within that body and approved by same with the speaker's signature. The President of S.G.A. may then take action on the bill. If signed, the act of the S.G.A. then proceeds to the appropriate persons of college and administration, when necessary. In case the President vetoes the act of Legislation, the latter group may override the veto then present the action of the S.G.A. to the appropriate college administrator, when necessary.

In the Legislation this year the S.G.A. promoted and passed a good number of bills. The first bill of the year was to establish the "Run For Fun Club." The new and exciting club on campus will be a great asset to the many amateur joggers we have on campus. The next bill to come up was an act to amend the Ethic Code. This bill dealt with any person convicted of violation of the construction of college property. This bill was vetoed by Dr. Patton for the college felt that any person convicted of distraction with intent of any property should be dealt with severely, because they represent a threat to our students and to the overall college. However, out of this veto a bill was brought up and passed on the unauthorized use or destruction of fire extinguishers. This was an important bill so we won't have students lives in danger nor any fire fires in 1974, on campus. Next in Legislation, we had a bill to upgrade the election procedures at High Point College. This bill promotes things like voting machines used in our last election.

One of our most controversial bills this year was presented by Rhonda Banther and the Day Student Organization. The bill was to change some of our parking regulations. The Legislation held an open public hearing on this bill, however not many people attended. This is a poor response for the number of people who work on this campus. One thing that the bill states is that; "If a student receives more than five (5) violations in a semester, it will result in the suspension of the offender's car from campus by the Dean of Students.

The bill that probably took more time, effort and research to get passed by the college President and administration was the regulation concerning open dorm hours for H.P.C. dorms. What this legislation was to extend the dorm hours on campus for next year to 3:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. on weekdays and 1:00 p.m. to 1:45 a.m. on Friday and Saturday and 1:00 p.m. to 12:45 a.m. on Sundays. The only problem with having dorm hours on the campus is in the security, not by the campus police, but by the students. If students don't stop popping open locked doors, or leaving these doors unlocked, the dorm hours will be taken away by second semester next year. It's up to the students whether or not we have dorm hours for long next year.

The last four bills that were passed this year in Legislation were mainly clarifications and definitions to upgrade the Student Handbook. The first of which was to modernize the trial procedures which will help students when they are charged by the Supreme Court. Second, to explain the general dormitory rules of H.P.C. to give students more rights to their home here at H.P.C. This is good for everyone. Third, to define and clarify a definition of hazing for the Greek organizations on campus. The fourth bill was set up to protect students from harm or serious injury by other students here on campus.

These are just some things your S.G.A. did this year, and these things do effect you as a student, and do govern the things you can do here at H.P.C. in the years to come. Remember, "The only way the S.G.A. can work for the benefit of the students is for the students to take a stand on the matters in which they believe." "The college is here for the students" benefit, providing as an academic and growing surrounding; let's keep it that way, we are not here for their benefit.

At a school which prides itself on the close association between students and faculty, a 30 to 1 ratio of students to faculty in one department is not a strong selling point. Neither is it a point to bring up when one gives reasons for being a student at HPC instead of a cheaper school.

The administration, however, only when he tries to make a point, seems to use this ratio as a selling point. Neither is it a point to bring up when one gives reasons for being a student at HPC instead of a cheaper school.

The way we were

By Debbi Johnson

Thank God, it's finally over!
That is the proverbial echo of 250 seniors
as than final day approaches.
It’s been fun, it’s been four years of experience and never ending events such as late night cramming and all night partying.
There were times for laughing with friends, whose names we may forget, but their faces will be forever etched on our minds.
There were times for sadness and tears from broken promises and saying goodbye.
There were times we thought teachers met together to plan reports, papers and exams.
We will always remember the C's in Biology, the never ending process of waiting in line after line after line, cold morning showers, long nights spent in the infirmary, taking tours over the campus looking for a parking space and making the important decision as to whether to cut that eight o’clock class when it’s raining or for that matter when the sun is shining.
But perhaps seniors should use this period of their lives for retrospection, to see where they’ve been and where they’re going.
It’s been repeatedly said that these are the best years of one’s life. But let’s hope the excitement doesn’t end after graduation.
The best years of your life are always with you, it’s what you do with your life that becomes the deciding factor.

You all did a hell of a job!
"Prisoner" good, effects were great.

by Robin Henson

Are high-rise apartments in New York City conducive to nervous breakdowns, or is there really a plot to drive everyone crazy?

By the end of "The Prisoner of Second Avenue," you're beginning to wonder if it was the people in the play, or the characters that they portray that were going crazy. Or maybe it was Neil Simon who was nuts in the beginning.

The acting in "Prisoner" was very good, though some of the movement was questionable. Mark LaFranco made a very convincing Mel and had the entire audience believing that he was really losing his mind. The audience seemed sympathetic for him when he was water-dropped from the apartment upstairs. The only problem in his method, from the audience standpoint, was his almost constant fever pitch. LaFranco's constant intensity resulted with the audience almost begging for relief before intermission.

Jan Kleckner, as Mel's wife Edna, was believable. Her very emotional scenes were very aptly portrayed by Mentesana and Carlman. Some of the movements on stage seemed to accomplish little. The long crosses back and forth across the stage by Mel and Edna seemed to do little but bore the audience, and the first scene tended to drag in spots.

The show was stolen by the characters with small parts. The audience was ready for a change of pace when Mel's brother Harry (Jack O'Doherty) and sister Pauline, (Paula Prillman), Jessie, (Rhonda Carlman) and Pearl (Edythe Mentessa) had their family scene disagreement concerning their paying for Mel's psychiatric treatment.

O'Doherty was a strong Harry -- the older brother who envied Mel's position as baby of the family and favorite of his sisters. One could sympathize with the character easily.

Mel's sisters provided a lot of much-needed comic relief from the tension of the earlier scenes. Prillman as Pauline, the sensible sister did a good job with the role. Pearl, the forgetful sister and Jessie, the eccentric man- chner were very aptly portrayed by Mentesana and Carlman.

Among the 80 people Jan was one of 260 people who auditioned several weeks ago at Chapel Hill for the Institute of Outdoor Drama. But it wasn't until recently when Director Charles Bazalua called Jan from Santa Barbara, California, to offer her a paid acting job for the summer.

Bazalua said she was cast in two shows -- Oklahoma, which will be directed by him, and Dust On Her Petticoats, which will be directed by Barry Lewis of West Palm Beach, Florida. Jan accepted the roles along with two other positions. She will understudy the supporting lead, Ado Annie, in Oklahoma and will be teaching Indian children improvisational acting. All activities will take place in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The shows will open after two weeks of combined re- hearsal consisting of 12-15 hour work days. Both shows will run in repertory from June 17 to August 26 Monday through Saturday. Jan held roles in the following plays at High Point college: Prisoner of Second Avenue, Blood Relations, A Couple Times a Year, Oh! Coward, The Real Inspector Hound and Kennedy's Children. She has also appeared in several High Point City Theatre productions. In the fall, Jan plans to audition in New York. From there, she's considered attending graduate school at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh. Jan is from St. Clairsville, Ohio, and will graduate in May. Her Tulsa, Oklahoma performance will be held in a 2000-seat amphitheatre -- the fifth largest in the United States. Once the shows open, Jan's day will include working with Indian children, participating in dance and movement classes and speaking on television and radio programs for promotion purposes.

"Prisoner" good, effects were great. Technical aspects greatly helped to facilitate the play's action. The lighting, while not being creative, was perfectly functional. The most spectacular effect was the illuminated view of the New York city skyline. It set the mood for the show. Sets for the production were great. The paper-thin walls that are always gripped about by apartment tenants were really paper-thin in this representational setting. The furniture could have come straight from a "how-to-decorate" magazine. Special effects evoked much emotional response from the audience. The water dropped on Mel provided a point to which the audience could relate. The snow scene was just the way that the show should have ended.

Kleckner accepts position in theatre

by Cindy J. Briggs

Acting for some people may not continue beyond community theatre productions, but for Jan Kleckner, it may have opened doors to an unlimited horizon.

Jan accepted the roles along with two other positions. She will understudy the supporting lead, Ado Annie, in Oklahoma and will
