Snow arrives in High Point

BY KARLA GREEN
Staff Writer

Snow, so pure and peaceful, as it came to the Triad beginning Jan. 10, in the form of nine inches, brought decisions, headaches and worries for many.

To the Dean of the College it meant the decision of whether or not to cancel classes.

Dean David Cole said, “The decision to cancel classes is made by the road conditions and weather reports are thoroughly checked with the city weather service.

“If the faculty can safely arrive and park on campus then it’s our responsibility to the students to have class,” Cole said.

On Jan. 14 and 15, Cole decided the driving conditions were “too hazardous” and classes were cancelled.

Cole said, “HPC students. In the midst of a snowstorm, should tune in to the three TV stations in the Triad: Channels 2, 8, and 12 for in-formation on possible cancelled classes.”

The report is usually given to area radio stations as well. Cole said to check with these area radio stations:

- Greensboro – WCOG and WRQK: High Point
- WGLD and WMFR; and in Winston-Salem – WKZL and WSJS.

To the day students, cancelled classes meant a relief! According to one day student, cancelled classes put an end to worrying about “sliding to school”. However, if classes are not cancelled, day students have the option of calling the Dean of Students’ office to get their absence excused.

To dorm students the snow meant snowball fights, sledding, or the problem of being “snowed in”. According to campus security officials, many students had problems when trying to move their cars about campus.

According to the new Director of Security and Safety, Ed Canady, “The jumpeercables and helping students who got stuck in the snow kept them quite busy.”

A big part of our job during the snowstorm is to aid students with any problems they may encounter on campus,” Canady said.

However, according to Canady, one campus security officer encountered a problem of his own.

“Officer Modie Rook was on his way to the cafeteria Tuesday night, when he slipped and fell on the icy rear steps,” said Canady.

“He was aided by many concerned students until help arrived,” according to Canady, “and that was greatly appreciated.”

According to Canady, Officer Rook is now back to work. He suffered from bruises following the fall but was not seriously injured.

Students that did attempt to go to classes on those snowy days were concerned about the conditions of the road. Canady said.

Security Officer Modie Rook discovered an unusual occurrence during the usual door checks Tuesday night, Jan. 19.

“Acc. to Rook, he spotted a man at 11:40 p.m. looking in a window, but the man ran after being spotted. "I figured he would double-back which he did,” Rook said.

Rook saw him again at 12:06 a.m. and immediately reported the incident to the High Point Police dept.

Rook said he was approached by the man, being careful to keep himself between the man and any escape routes. The police arrived minutes later and Rook escorted the man to the police car.

"The man was not def. ant," Rook said and he came with the officer when asked. "He is just a suspect now," Canady said. "We’ve been hesitant to identify the man publically because the matter is still being investigated," Canady said.

Mr. Bill Burwell, High Point Police legal advisor, is still investigating the incident.

"I have nothing but praise for Officer Rook in obtaining this person until the police arrived," Canady said.

The security guards also expressed a deep concern for the continuing safety of this campus.

"If someone coming in late at night will contact the security guard, he will be more than glad to escort you to your destination. You can contact him by radio or by locating him on campus,” Rook said.
Will we ever be satisfied?

Winter – the season that shuns the sun and encourages gray skies. The recent snow and the ever-present bleak sky confirms that winter has definitely arrived. Temperatures drop and all wetness turns to possible accident spots. The comfortable sneakers are put aside and uncomfortable boots are taken out from the back of the closet.

Everyone is moving at a much slower and more careful pace. We sit and stare out of the windows and wonder if springtime will ever come.

"I can’t wait ’til summer gets here" is a very common statement among shivering bodies. "I like hot weather a whole lot more than cold weather," everyone exclaims boldly. We begin the countdown to the first day we can wear shorts and flip-flops. We actually long for warm, sunny weather.

But I remember back to one day in July when the sweat trickled down my back and I could not find a cool place anywhere. My clothes were sticking to me and I was absolutely miserable.

The sun baked the ground and the beautiful flowers shriveled up and began to die. The sun blared down upon the earth and would not let up even for a second. All I wanted was some relief.

"I can’t wait ’t I winter gets here. At least in the winter you can keep putting on clothes and get warm. In the summer you just can’t get cooled off.”

It seems to me that I have heard that declared quite often. So our long-awaited winter is finally here. We should be ecstatic. We should be thrilled with the actuality of cold weather. We no longer have sweat trickling down our backs. Instead we have chill bumps creeping up our spine.

However, we are not ecstatic. In the midst of gray skies, we curse the sun. Where are you? Have you deserted us? Yet in the midst of unbearable heat, we still curse the sun. Won’t you give us a break? Go away for awhile!

Will we ever be satisfied?

It’s doubtful that we, as human beings, will ever be completely satisfied. We always want exactly what we don’t have at the moment.

So maybe we can appreciate this cold wave more by remembering the scorching weather of last summer. But I remember back to one day in July when the sweat trickled down my back and I could not find a cool place anywhere. My clothes were sticking to me and I was absolutely miserable.

Security Officer expresses gratitude

Dear Editor:

On Tuesday night at 11:15 PM I was just beginning my tour of duty and upon entering the rear of the cafeteria I slipped and fell on the ice causing me to have a badly bruised back and head. I, being afraid that I was more seriously injured, remained still until the Rescue squad arrived and carried me to the hospital.

At the hospital I was advised by the Rescue squad that there were 34 blankets, coats, etc., thrown over me to keep me warm until they arrived.

As a security officer I often times feel that I am generally not liked because of my responsibility of enforcing campus policy. However on this night I really felt that the students and cafeteria workers showed a lot of love and concern for my well being. I truly appreciate these acts of kindness and if I can help any of you please feel free to call on me.

Sincerely

Basketball Coach thanks SU

Dear Editor,

A great deal of appreciation and thanks goes out from this office to the Student Union Organization, its chairman Pete Gibson and its advisor Dean Tingle for their support of High Point College’s athletic program.

The Student Union Organization purchased 200 student tickets for the Greensboro Coliseum Invitational Basketball Tournament and distributed them “free of charge” to HPC students for the night of Dec. 2. High Point College was the only school out of the eight participating schools to sell its total allotment of tickets.

This organization has agreed and arranged for buses to take any students who choose to attend the HPC-Elon game on Feb. 17. The cost to each student is only $1.00. The Student Union will pay the balance.

Special thanks to Dean Tingle for the sign he supplied to commemorate Coach Steele’s 300th collegiate coaching victory, and his support of our “Spirit Stick” competition.

Sincerely,

Richard Hoffmann
Asst. Basketball Coach

Snow days to be made up

Due to the cancellation of classes on January 14 and January 15, 1982, the holiday, “Spring Fling,” scheduled for Tuesday, March 23, 1982 will be abrogated. Classes scheduled for Tuesday will be held on that date.

The college community is notified by this publication that if an additional class day is cancelled because of either inclement weather or other reasons, the holiday schedule for Monday, April 12, 1982 (Easter Monday) will be abolished.

If more make up class days are needed, it will be necessary to schedule classes on Saturdays.

To date, there have been a large number of cases reported this semester. All cases involved alcohol possession.

The first case reported was a second offense for a McCulloch Dorm resident. A Judiciary Hearing was scheduled for last Wednesday but the defendant failed to show. After waiting 20 minutes the justices found the defendant guilty. The defendant appealed to the President of the College. The appeal was denied and the student was suspended from school for two weeks.

In the second case three defendants were charged with alcohol possession. During the preliminary hearing one defendant claimed responsibility and stated that the other two defendants were not responsible. Charges were dropped against the two and the defendant claiming responsibility was fined $25.

In the third and fourth cases the defendants admitted being guilty of alcohol possession and accepted the administrative decision which was a $25 fine.

Also, in the fourth case the defendant was charged with failing to truthfully identify himself when questioned by an R.A. That charge was handled by the administration.

What bothers me is that many people are not aware of the possible penalty for failing to truthfully identify themselves. A person can be subject to immediate expulsion for not identifying themselves. Keep that in mind when someone asks who you are. Also those who already have an alcohol possession conviction should be careful; a second conviction could result in a two week suspension.

Terese Gallo, Professor of Modern Languages at High Point College, was critically injured and later died following a head-on collision near Jamestown Dec. 16.

Gallo was in route to administer a final Spanish exam when the accident occurred. According to Dr. Richard Bennington, Department of Modern Foreign Language, Gallo was in critical condition for one week before her death on Wednesday, Dec. 23.

Highway Patrol spokesmen said "slippery road conditions were blamed in the accident which occurred on Hwy. 29 near Jamestown."

Gallo said, "Gallo taught part-time at both HPC and UNCG." Gallo had taught Spanish for three semesters at High Point College.

Gallo was a native of New York City and had relatives there, according to Hoch.

High Point College has received a $2,000 grant from American Television and Communications Corp. which will be used to help the college broadcast programs from the area's cablevision by his spring.

Dr. William Deeleuw, director of HPC's communications program, announced the grant money has been designated for several purposes in the college's developing television studio.

Deeleuw said a portion of the grant has already been used to purchase a lighting system and the balance of the grant will be used to pay communications student's field trip expenses, to pay speakers, and to pay a student television studio manager.

The college has acquired several other pieces of recording equipment, including a 1/2-inch video recorder and a 1/2-inch videocassette recorder. The college was able to acquire this equipment through a $25,000 grant from WGHP-TV of High Point and a 1/2-inch videocassette recorder and battery pack to be utilized as a remote unit for filming on-campus and community programs.

Deeleuw said editing equipment is still needed in order to "expand the college's studio totally self-sufficient."

All editing is currently being completed at WGHP-TV. Deeleuw is now petitioning area businesses in order to raise funds for the needed editing supplies.

The news-centered and educational programming, which is to be aired over cablevision's channel 16, will not actually be broadcast from the campus because of a lack of proper broadcasting equipment.

Carolyn Laws, general manager of High Point's cable system, said the current cablevision access on N. Main St. are to be relocated this summer. At that time, it may be possible to implement a line running from the new cablevision headquarters directly to the college's studio. Thus, programming cold then be aired directly from the college.

Students in HPC's television practicum are earning one semester hour credit by planning operations for the new station. Mr. Gallo was in charge of the college's studio totally self-sufficient.

If you had an extra $10,000, what would you do with it?

Emile Hodge gave his to the High Point College Furniture Marketing Department.

Hodge, a retired furniture marketer, donated the money Jan. 9, 1982 for scholarships. Approximately 3/4 of the money will be used for scholarships and the other 1/4 for principle to draw interest to increase the amount for additional scholarships.

The Emile Hodge Grant will be given once a year to eligible applicants in the Home Furnishings Marketing major. The same student can receive one of the scholarships more than once.

The Furniture Retailers Association hopes to equal Hodge's contribution with another $10,000 grant, although the details have not been finalized. Only students in the top 10% of the class qualify for the FRA Scholarship.

According to HPC President Dr. Charles Hoch, the approximately 25 students currently enrolled in the curriculum should not have many problems finding jobs, even though the furniture market is in a recess.

He says according to furniture marketers, "a very good salesman could make from $40,000 to $100,000 annually.

Anyone interested in the major or current majors interested in the grants can contact Dr. Richard Bennett, Head of the Home Furnishings Marketing Department.

APOGEE requests entries

BY JOANN PARKS

Webster's Dictionary defines APOGEE as "the point farthest from a planet or satellite reached by an object orbiting it."

Dr. Charles Mounts chose the name almost 20 years ago for High Point College's student-faculty literary visual arts magazine.

The APOGEE, printed once a year, is compiled of photography; and pen and ink sketches.

Each student or faculty member may contribute up to three poems, one short story, three black and white 8x10 glossies and three 8x10 pen and ink sketches.

Junior English major Charles Burton says he has not been pleased with the amount of submissions. So far, he has received only four pages of material.

All material is given to two different reading committees, to be analyzed and judged. The reading committees then send the selected work to Dr. John Moehlmann and Burton for the final judging.

The APOGEE awards cash prizes to the winner in each of the four categories.

Students and faculty are urged to submit any creative work before Friday, Feb. 19, 1982.

"I wish more people would realize they don't have anything to lose," Burton said.

The proposal to extend visitation hours has been approved by President Charles Lucht.

"The proposal stated that visitation hours would begin at 1:00 p.m. everyday. The extended visitation hours will go into effect Feb. 1, according to Dean of Students Bob Lowdermilk.

"The present hours will remain in effect and will be enforced until Feb. 1," Lowdermilk said.

Seniors propose out-of-doors graduation ceremony

BY NANCY HOULBERG
Staff Writer

Eight seniors met last Monday, Jan. 11, with President Charles Lucht, Dean David Cole, Dr. Murphy Osborne and Mr. Ken Bulla to discuss the possibility of an out-of-doors graduation ceremony.

The seniors presented the idea, as have previous senior classes, in hopes that the administration would see a need for a change, the need for trial and possibly error. It became apparent that the senior classes to come would probably bring this same proposal their way.

"I've never met a group of nicer people in my whole life," Canady said. "I feel like I'm a part of the college family already."

Ed Canady's life changed quite a bit and he is now excited about the future for several reasons.

After reading an ad in the newspaper, Canady was accepted as the new Director of Security and Safety at High Point College and began work in December.

"I would like to improve the relationships between security and the students," Canady said. "We can operate better with people communicating with each other.

"I would like to see every student think of this campus as their home and report any suspicious people, lock doors and cars."

Canady would also like to encourage students to come by the Security Office and borrow a marking pen to engrave valuables.

He decided to display the work of his fall class after seeing the "quality of their work." He described the class as "the best he has had."

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

The Alpha Gams returned safely from an all too short Christmas break. It was a much needed vacation that was lengthened by the gorgeous snow, much to our approval.

When the weather finally started to clear, the Gams had a wild belated New Year's party at the Elk's lodge to officially ring in the new year.

Congratulations to the five Alpha Gams who have been chosen as representatives in the Homecoming Court. They are: Nancy Chipman for Delta Sigma Phi, Sharon Harper for Lambda Chi Alpha, Karen Ashley for Pi Kappa Alpha, Jannell Welsh for the Senior class and Kathy Halligan for the Sophomore class. Way to go girls!

The Gams are now busily preparing for lots of fundraisers and trying to get back in the swing of things after all of the snow.

PHI MU

The Phi Mu's would like to welcome everyone back to school and we hope everyone had a great holiday.

This semester is going to be a busy one for the Phi Mu's. It started off with the Phi's giving the sisters a Phi surprise. We never knew our Phi's had so much talent. Anyway, we all had a blast!

We had a night at the Crazy Horse Lounge on Thursday, Jan. 21 from 8-12 p.m. It was really a nice place and somewhere new to go.

We're looking forward to a very nice evening at our wine and cheese on Jan. 30.

That about sums up the month of January. Until next time...

DELTA SIGMA PHI

The Sigs have wasted no time in getting back on track this semester. They would like to welcome eight new pledges: Joe Bell, Bob Cook, George England, Stephen "Butch" Mackintosh, Jack Mengster, Bob Ward, Bob Weckworth, and Mark White.

All members enjoyed a delicious feast at Friendly Road Inn on Jan. 15. During the next two days, brothers and pledges volunteered their services for the Cerebral Palsey Telethon on WGHP-TV.

Also, the Sigs won first place in the snowman building contest, sponsored by IFC.

KAPPA DELTA

This past week has been exciting for Kappa Delta. As of Sunday, KD has four more sisters! They are: Ginger Budd, Kathy Fauconnet, Fran Jones, and Barbara Wells. Our deep congratulations go to these girls.

Congratulations also go to Terry Spittel. She was elected editor of the chapter and appointed to the vacant junior representative seat on student legislature.

The KD pledges have been busy with fundraisers. Thanks to those people who supported the roller skating night and the night at the Rail.

Kappa Delta's now looking forward to Sisters' Party on February 12.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

The past several weeks have proven to be rather full for the Zetas.

Of course there was exam week and all the Christmas festivities, but the Sisters were met with an extra-special surprise about the same time.

The Deltas "kidnapped" the Sisters! The "capers" included dinner at a local Zeta's house (cooked by our "capturers" of course), followed by Christmas gifts picked out especially for use.

Thanks again Deltas! Congratulations go to Danny Hewett for winning the raffle we held before Christmas whose prize was $15 worth of gas money.

More recently, the Zeta Sisters have been playing tricks on the Deltas.

The Deltas' sudden long trip turned out to be our annual pledge retreat.

Everyone enjoyed this rare, but treasured time with all the Zetas together for an entire night.

Congratulations go to our Zeta Sisters who have been named to the Homecoming Court! They include Debbie Bouldin, Kim Darden, Kathy Schaefer and Deb Shaver. Congratulations also to the other girls on the court.

ALPHA DELTA THETA

Alpha Delta Theta has had a very busy spring semester thus far.

We have a new president since Cathy Wilboit is student teaching. We feel quite confident that Sarah Sparks will do a good job in her new role as president.

As our service project this month, we babysat for Grace Baptist Church of High Point during special services held there Jan. 18 and 19.

At our last meeting, we elected Carmen Cottle as our Homecoming representative. We also planned our spring Rush.

The first Rush meeting was Monday, Jan. 25. Anyone interested in joining ADT who did not attend that meeting should contact any ADT member immediately.

THETA CHI

Welcome back HPC! We would like to wish good luck to the Pi Ks', Gams, and Phi Mu's with the pledging this week.

Congratulations go out to our pledges Rafael Bandas, Robert Barth, Don Dewey, Chip Fleming, Richard Hand, Mark Mann, Clint Osborn, Jim Riddle, and John York, who all made it through their intense week of pledging.

Preparations for the Bong Show are under way. Be thinking of acts you would like to submit. Applications will be coming out soon. The show is scheduled for sometime after spring break.

Good luck this semester.

The Hi-Po is distributed on campus by the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity as one of its service projects. This is the third year the APOs have provided this service to the Hi-Po.

Students travel and study in Spain

Each year for 5 weeks of the summer, a program is offered to students in the U.S. and Canada to travel and study in Spain. Last summer, 30 students from 25 states departed from Kennedy Airport in New York and flew to Madrid.

The schedule was then bussed to the campus of the Ciudad Universitaria of Madrid where they lived and attended classes. The living quarters consisted of one room per student. Each class met five days a week, and courses ranged from Elementary Spanish to Literature and Culture.

Students toured La Mancha for two days, visiting all the interesting places related to Gervantes and Don Quixote. Sixty students made a four-day tour to Santiago de Compostela.

Once or twice a week a group was scheduled to visit such historical places as Valle de los Caídos, El Escorial, Segovia, Avila, Toledo, Museo del Prado, Palacio Real, etc.

Students found that they had also more than enough time to see, and learn whatever they chose. As part of the program, a trip was taken to Southern Spain, visiting such famous cities as Cordoba, Sevilla, Granada, Malaga, and two days were spent in the beautiful Torremolinos Beach.

Plans are already in progress for the 18th Summer School Program in Spain in 1982. Students may earn 9 quarter college credits.

All persons interested should write to Dr. Doreste, Augustana College, Rock Island, ILL. 61201 as soon as possible. Space is very limited.

Student Financial Aid: what it involves and how to get it to help meet college expenses will be the subject of a statewide consumer information effort by the North Carolina Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators during the week of January 24-30. In preparation for this week's "Student Financial Aid Awareness Week," Governor James B. Hunt, Jr. recognized that, due to ever increasing educational and living expenses, more and more students are finding it necessary to seek financial assistance in order to further their educations beyond the high school level.

The underlying theme in student aid since its inception has been that of assisting students with ability but inadequate resources to attend post-secondary educational institutions. The major thrust in student financial aid programs began in 1958 when Congress created the National Defense Student Loan Program to assure that no student of ability would be denied an opportunity for higher education because of financial need. Since that time, tremendous expansions have occurred in both types and dollar amounts of assistance available to students. The passage of the Middle Income Student Assistance Act by Congress in 1978 further opened up financial aid programs by making available funds to students who in the past had typically not been eligible for aid-those from middle income families.

In recent months there has been much media attention given to the impact of federal budget reductions on financial assistance programs. Students and their parents should realize, particularly in these difficult economic times, that there are still many financial aid programs available, and that colleges and universities all over the country are trying very hard to counter the effects of reduced federal assistance.

With the publicity of recent months so negative in its impact, it is believed that some potential students who are eligible for assistance might not explore the possibilities of post-secondary education because they feel they cannot afford a college education. For this reason, the North Carolina Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators has made a commitment to provide to North Carolina students more comprehensive information on financial aid resources available for the 1982-83 academic year. NCASFA President, Jim Stanley, states that the purpose of the week is to create an awareness of the financial aid programs that are available to students. Now more than ever it is imperative for students to understand financial aid programs, institutional philosophies on student aid, and eligibility requirements. Students should not be scared away by media coverage of federal aid reductions as virtually every institution is preparing itself to continue to provide access to education through institutional funds and alternative sources of aid.

Now is the time for students to begin the application process. At High Point College, the Family Financial Statement (FFS) Packet is required to be filed with the ACT Student Need Analysis Services. These forms should be completed as early as possible after January 1 when parents' tax information becomes available. Anyone desiring more information concerning financial aid, grants, or scholarships should contact the student aid office located on the first floor of Roberts Hall.

"Look For Me Under Your Boot Soles"

BY VERA WILSON

A Saint, the devil incarnate, a transcendentalist. These titles were among the several that labeled Walt Whitman. Yet he still remains America's foremost and most controversial poet. Whitman's "Look For Me Under Your Boot Soles" is an interweaving of poems, ranging from the well-known "Song of Myself" to many lesser-known works. The fabric of Whitman's poetry is American through and through -- speaking of America's dreams and her disappointments, her triumphs and her failures -- but always with a sense of hope and the knowledge that love and life are eternal.

The show is not a poetry reading. It is a special student performance which quarries into the most important themes contained in Whitman's work -- life, death, war, and the existence of God.

David Lenthall, a veteran actor whose career has spanned Broadway, Off-Broadway, regional theatre, one-man shows, and film, depicts the character of Walt Whitman. Lenthall has been a member of the North Carolina Shakespeare Festival for five years, he has undertaken some of the most challenging roles in classical literature. Randall Haynes, standing director for the production, has also acted in more than twenty productions of the North Carolina Shakespeare Festival.

The production will be held in the High Point Memorial Auditorium at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, January 28th. General admission is $2.00, $1.50 for students. Dr. Edward Piacintino, Dr. John Moehlmann, and Dr. Marion House will host a discussion on the play immediately following the show.

The production is not intended to tell Whitman's life story or to serve as a history lesson. Rather, it offers an invitation to a man's soul, with only a few clues given to unlock the mystery.

As Whitman more eloquently states, "Why, even I myself, I often think, know little of my real life; only a few hints, a few diffuse faint clues and indirections I seek for my own use to trace out here."

All students, teachers, and poetry lovers are encouraged to attend the one hour production of a classical Literature work.

2. Write your name in your books even if you don't plan on keeping them.

3. Be careful where you put your books, even when placing them on racks in the cafeteria. Remember, they could leave before you do.

4. If you are missing a book, report it immediately to Student Personal or the Campus Bookstore. If nobody knows it's missing, nothing can be done.

The Judicial Committee has approved the handling of students caught taking books or trying to sell stolen books back to the bookstores by Ethics Code Section 7 or Article 3. (First offense, suspension, second offense, expulsion.)

In addition to this, the guilty student must pay for the book or give the money back to the student if he doesn't want the book back.

Guy Lombardo would have been pleased with the way the High Point Basketball team entered the new year. He probably would have hired the team to sing back up to his hit recording "Little Things Mean Alot", because Coach Steele also hums the same tune in his strategies.

It seems the strategy has worked for the Panthers as High Point remains tied for first place with Catawba in the Carolina Conference with a 4-1 record and one loss and an 8-5 overall record.

"You just do the little things if you want the big things to happen," Steele says. "The little things make the tough plays look easy. The little things include hustling, good passing, and boxing out. We are trying to concentrate on doing the little things consistently."

"It's like a mystery," said senior forward Bruce Floyd. "I don't know what to expect, but I know I want to have the best season I've ever had. The sweat, hard work and dedication is there. All we need now is to fill up just that! During the Christmas holidays High Point won the Guilford Christmas Tournament by downing Lenoir Rhyne in the championship game, 75-71. The previous night, High Point gunned down Gardner Webb, 74-63.

Roosevelt Brunson, junior center from Lillington, N.C., was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player. Brunson pulled down seven rebounds and netted 22 points in the championship game.

"I had the hot hand at the beginning of the second half," said Brunson. "I felt we were over confident and when we saw it wouldn't be an easy game, we began to tighten up and play the way we should have.

Brunson also agreed with Coach Steele about the little things. "The little things are boxing out and working for the good shot. They are things that go unnoticed in the box scores but the coach notices it. When we do the little things right, it seems we do better."

The all-tournament team consisted of Anthony Parrish, Bruce Floyd, and Roosevelt Brunson of High Point, Eddie Wilkins of Gardner-Webb, and Gary Holmes of Lenoir Rhyne.

The women's basketball team has gotten off to an excellent start in 1982, winning three consecutive games against Conference opponents, upping their record to 3-2. The Lady Cagers downed Catawba 77-50, in an easy game, we began to tighten up and play the way we should have.

The Panthers are doing just that! During the Christmas holidays High Point won the Guilford Christmas Tournament by downing Lenoir Rhyne in the championship game, 75-71. The previous night, High Point gunned down Gardner Webb, 74-63.

The Panthers faced conference in '82...
Steele snatches 300th win

BY MARIO WATSON
Staff Writer

High Point College Basketball Coach Jerry Steele reached a coaching milestone Jan. 6 as he won his 300th collegiate basketball game in an 89-67 Panther win over New Paltz State College.

Steele has picked up 149 victories since coming to High Point in 1972 and won 151 games at Guilford College between 1962-1970. With the 300th win, he joins an elite group of 27 active NAIA coaches.

Clearance “Bighouse” Gaines of Winston-Salem State is the career leader with over 650 victories.

“I would like to maintain my sanity,” commented Coach Steele referring to his future achievements.

“I think it’s healthy not to be chasing anyone or have anyone chasing you. Either you win or you lose.”

He won number 299 on Dec. 19 as the Panthers won the Guilford College Christmas Tournament over Lenoir-Rhyne.

“There was no special preparation for the game,” said Steele. “Outside of some people talking about it in the gym a couple of days and my brother, John Henry coming up, it was a normal game.” “Later on tonight, I’ll drink a cup of coffee and think about it.”

Anthony Parrish, Roosevelt Brunson and Jackie McNeill led the scoring with 19, 17, and 12 points, respectively, against the New Yorkers. McNeill also recorded 10 assists during the game.

“We carried on practice like any other day,” said McNeill. “Steele was pretty cool after the Christmas break.”

New Paltz State College’s “Smooth” Hammond was unstoppable as he led the scoring with 29 points.

“We had our problems tonight,” said Hammond in his northern accent. “You guys played good ball. Number 4 (Jack McNeill), is a deep ball player.”

Congratulations go out to Coach Steele from the Hi-Po staff.
Jeff Anderson leaves

Jeff Anderson, the former All-State ace at Grimsley High School and a member of High Point College’s team a year ago, withdrew from school Jan. 19. Anderson headed the list of returning juniors for the Panthers. The two-year starter at forward withdrew Monday around 10 a.m.

“I’m tired. I just wanna go home,” said Anderson as he packed some belongings into a duffle bag Monday night.

Anderson’s withdrawal came as a surprise to everyone.

“Monday morning around 12:30 he came into the gym and said he wanted to talk,” stated Coach Jerry Steele.

“He told me he had just withdrew from school. I asked him if he talked with his mother and his high school basketball coach. He said he talked with his mom the night before. I pointed out the options of Jeff staying in school without playing ball but his mind was already set,” said Steele.

“He seemed unhappy since the beginning of the fall semester. Academics played no part in Anderson’s withdrawal.”

Anderson refused to comment further.

High Point outmaneuvers Elon

Elon came out stalling but High Point College was able to outmaneuver the Fightin’ Christians for a 12-10 Carolina Conference victory last Wednesday night.

The game did not start out slow but developed into a slow down battle after the first five minutes. At intermission High Point lead 8-6.

The first points of the second half were scored by Bruce Floyd with 2:00 remaining. Tied at 10 with 22 seconds left, High Point set up for the final shot. Butch Bowser was fouled by Elon’s Mel Melton with 4 seconds left to play. Bowser sank both free throws to match the Panther win.

In other action, the Panthers fell to Pfeiffer in a double overtime effort Saturday night, 51-50. A questionable call by an official upset coach Steele.

“I didn’t see it. (a foul) I don’t think he (official) saw it. I don’t think it existed,” Steele said.

Jump beginning the second overtime and held the ball the entire five minutes. Following a timeout with 19 seconds left, Pfeiffer worked the ball inside but the ball was knocked away and the clock ran out.

"A foul was called on Butch Bowser and two seconds were put back on the clock. Pfeiffer hit the first free throw and missed the second intentionally, and time expired. "I came up and hit the ball," Bowser commented. "It's over now but I didn't commit the foul."

The extremely biased opinion expressed herein is just that: extremely biased opinion. It is the sole property of the author, but please feel free to disagree. Unfortunately, you must be in a position to agree.

Time was when you couldn't have a hit record unless you were a younger brother of the Bee Gees, or had at least made a movie with them. Satin, silk, and Saturday night fever were in, sanity totally out, and the whole world tried to dance like Denny Terrio. Fortunately, we're still dancing, but the two-step and "boy dips girl" routine is slum out, while slam dancing, pogoing, and the "new wave" (this being the dance) are definitely in. No more puffy sleeves and tight, tight jeans, instead skinny neck-ties, jazz and tennis shoes, and blazers with the sleeves rolled up to the elbow. It's the new look for the eighties, but as predicted, some of you will choose to look this other way. Now you know if Olivia can come from "I Honestly Love You" to "Physical" then you know something must be happening.

What is it? Have we suddenly regained our senses of humor? A friend of mine offered this explanation for the occurring "wave" of new wave. It is the opinion of the author that this form of music requires the most discipline. I mean, it's pretty hard to dance to "Our Lips Are Sealed," or "Rock Lobster" and keep a straight face. That takes real style, and a certain sophistication. Face it, Casey Kasem groups, and Top 40 rockheads just don't have it. But let me not dismiss them completely, and in a language I'm sure they'll understand - on with the countdown!

Best Female Vocalist: Olivia Newton-John. O.K. I'll go along with that, but only because I know you're not really for Frans Joll or Suzy Lane.

Best Female Vocalist (black): Diana Ross. Is it some kind of "supreme" being, or something? Have you ever heard of Joan Armatrading? (thank you, Pat!) Did Grace Jones pull up a little too close to your humper? Admittedly, the lady is talented so I won't go into extreme detail, but what about Evelyn King? Just because she isn't as old as Olivia doesn't mean she's not a widow.

We all know who the best rock group is, don't we? Of course we do. The Rolling Stones, right? Absolutely, no questions asked. But I ask you, what's so great about "Tattoo You"? Maybe it's because it's been in the number one position Rolling Stone for over seventeen weeks, but what on tay i say know - yes, it's the same people who rated REO Speedwagon's "High Infidelity" the number one album for 1981. I'll let you AC/DC fans argue that one. My money is on Mickey and the boys, but then I though Cincinnati would win the superbowl.

For the best male vocalist, you can get right on out of here with that Billy Joel/Berry Manilow trash. In case you haven't noticed. Rod Stewart is still around and definitely the top of my list. Honorable mentions: Christopher Cross, Phil Collins, and Bruce Springsteen. (He deserves more than an honorable mention, but there can only be one number one. That's Life, Bruce)

Best Male Vocalist (black): I won't even take up space to mention the names I received. That's not to say I discount Quincy Jones, Peabo Bryson, or even Michael Jackson, but this time Prince has it all the way. Maybe that's because I have a dirty mind.

While we're on the subject, let's move to the best R&B single for 1981. If you think "Super Freak" was numero uno, then you must be one. "Celebration" gave you no reason to celebrate, and "Just Once" should not be repeated. Come on, what about "I'm in love," by Evelyn King, or "Snap Shot," by Slave? I'll forgive you this time because there were just too many good jams, but seriously didn't anyone ever tell you too much Top 40 will wear you out?

Let's see, best rock single: Again the Stones with "Start Me Up." Not this time Mick, I have to defect. Let's try Foreigner's "Urgent," or "Abacad" by Genesis. Either shows enough taste for good breeding. Not quite preppy, but put yourself on the back.

Best R&B album. Again you give me Rick James, and again I give you Prince - with a capital P. Get the message? The album is called "Dirty Mind." Running a close second is Cameo's "Nights of the Sound Table," and O.K. O.K. Kool and the Gang. (We won't count EWF till 1980).

Now we get to the fun stuff. Best new group. For the women it's the GoGo's, for the rockers Kix, and for you R&B fans, The Time, with the Tom Tom Club breathing very heavily down their necks. But what about the funky New Wavers? Take your pick: The Hitmen, Adam and the Ants, The Police, and of course, The B52's. This time I have to go with Kraftwerk, and there in lies a tale.

Best New Wave group: Kraftwerk.

Best New Wave single: "Numbers," by Kraftwerk.

Best New Wave album: Computer World, Kraftwerk.

Enough said about new wave, but you really can't say enough.

Best country artist, male. Kenny Rogers. I beg to differ. Kenny has moved into the pop category, so let's go with Willie Nelson. For the females, Emmylou Harris and Barbra Streisand (because her singing with her on "TV'S In Too Close to decide a definite winner.

For the most dispointing, we all agree it's Elton John, right? Steve Miller was pretty bad also. In the R&B category, Teddy P. and Aretha take the honors, and for country, Dolly Parton top them, but then she really can't help it.

Wow! this has been fun. Can I get into trouble for writing this stuff? Oh yeah. Best Top 40 single - Jessie's Girl or Endless Love. Take your pick. O.K. bye now.

Jannell Welsh Crowned '82 Homecoming Queen

BY VERA WILSON
Staff Writer

Each homecoming a girl is recognized for her school involvement, her contributions, and her school spirit. Possessing all these attributes and more, Jannell Lynn Welsh claims that honor.

On Saturday, February 6, in the Alumni Gymnasium, Welsh represented the Senior Class for the Homecoming Court and was crowned Homecoming Queen for the 1981-82 school year. Her escort for the evening was senior Jeff Sloan, also of High Point College.

Welsh, a High Point College graduating senior, from Randallstown, Maryland, is a biology major who hopes to attend grad school and get a degree in human genetics. Welsh is a member of the Alpha Chi Honor Society, Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority, and Co-captain for the field hockey team. She was awarded the Tobias Scholar-Athlete Award, the Presidential Scholarship, and named to Who’s Who.

Welsh’s roommate Kelly Jones, feels Jannell deserves the crown because, “The homecoming queen should be recognized as a person who has greatly contributed to the benefit of the school; this clearly defines Jannell,” Jones said. Jones also says that Jannell is a good influence on schoolwork and life in general.

When asked how does it feel being crowned Homecoming Queen, Welsh replies, “It’s a nervous, but most memorable occasion.”

Association to meet at HPC

BY CRYSTAL L. HEDGE COCK
Editor-in-Chief

High Point College will host the annual meeting of the N.C. Association of Independent Colleges and Universities on Thursday, Feb. 11.

The association consists of 39 independent colleges and universities. Presidents, staff representatives and members of the Boards of Trustees will be attending this meeting.

Lt. Governor James Greene and Liston Ramsey, Speaker of the House of Representatives will also be attending the meeting, according to Mrs. Dorothy Easter, Assistant to President Lucht. The two state officials will arrive on campus Thursday at approximately 10 a.m. by helicopter. The helicopter will land on the athletic field.

The two main topics discussed at this meeting will be ways of making up the difference between government cuts and financial aid and a state constitutional amendment about bonds to benefit the private colleges.

Close to 100 people will be attending the meeting, which will be held in the Campus Center. Representing High Point College will be President Lucht, Mrs. Easter, Mr. Clete Kruyer, Mr. Charles E. Hayworth, and Mr. Robert Rankin.

“Dr. Lucht is very pleased that they have chosen HPC,” Mrs. Easter said, “because it is one of the few times they have met out of Raleigh for their annual meeting.”
Scholarships -- take advantage

One of my more recent conversations with my parents was somewhat depressing. We talked about the cost of tuition and how it would affect my education. The possibility of my return to college will not be affected, but the luxuries that I now enjoy could very well be ended.

I live on campus and since I am from High Point, this particular aspect, that so many take for granted, is certainly an appreciated luxury for me. However, with the cost of tuition forever rising and the amount of grants and loans forever declining, this luxury may soon disappear from my college career and I will return to the status of a Day Student.

In enjoying living on campus and I really believe that the experience of a roommate, sharing the bathroom and telephone, and the constant presence of others has been good for me. That is why I am trying so hard to raise money for next year.

I almost feel like I am raising money for a "cause" and that "cause" is me. I checked out many possibilities and all I have to do now is make the effort to fill out several application blanks, write several 500-word essays about myself and buy a book of stamps.

Surprisingly, there are many scholarships available here on campus (that will save you the 20¢ stamp). The Financial Aid Office has 50 scholarships on file that are ready to be picked up at any time (however, the sooner, the better). The Alumni Office has five scholarships that can be applied for with a deadline of the end of the school year. These 64 scholarships are academic, but there are many other scholarships available for the artistic, the athletic or perhaps just the needy.

The money for these scholarships has already been designated. There will not be any new bill in Congress to take these away. The scholarships just need to be utilized. They are already there, why not take advantage of them?

I am constantly printing press releases from all over the United States about scholarships that are available. Why not take advantage of them? If the scholarship is not applied for, then the money will be left, unused. And if you don't make the effort to apply for the scholarship, then how in the world are you going to win it? Isn't the possibility at a $500 or even $100 scholarship worth a little effort? It certainly is for me.

Ralph McGill Scholarships available for 1982-83 school year

The Ralph McGill Scholarship Fund offers scholarships for the 1982-83 school year of up to $1,500 each to students with southern backgrounds who have completed at least two years of college. Jack Tarver, chairman of the Scholarship Fund said today.

Tarver said May 1st is the deadline for applications. He said a number of scholarships are awarded each year to students who have demonstrated a long-time interest in the news and editorial phase of newspapering.

Schriftnships, he said, are limited to those young men and women whose roots lie in the south. Applicants must also convince the Awards Committee that they firmly intend to pursue a career in daily or weekly newspapering. Tarver said the Awards Committee wants to give scholarships to those who are likely to become leaders in the newspaper field.

Successful applicants will be required to maintain a "B" average in order to keep the scholarship.

A letter of not more than 500 words telling why the applicant wants a scholarship, together with a photograph of the applicant must accompany each application. Applicants also must have a letter of recommendation from a college authority.

Application blanks may be obtained from: The Ralph McGill Scholarship Fund: Box 4689; Atlanta, Georgia 30302.

Achievements to be highlighted during Black Awareness Week

BY ART LOMAX

The Black Unification Movement's Black Awareness Week will take place February 15-21, 1982. The group is sponsoring many activities that will highlight the black man's achievements in America.

Information sheets will be placed on cafeteria tables at lunch, briefly summarizing great black leaders, inventors and entertainers' achievements each day during the celebration.

On Tuesday, the group will sponsor a fashion show to be held in the conference room, at 7:00. The latest in swim wear, evening and casual wear will be featured. Anyone interested in modeling should see La Rita Mitchell in North Dorm.

Wednesday, a special candlelight service, honoring such great black contributors as Dr. Martin L. King Jnr., Robert Abernathy, and Jesse Jackson, will begin at 7:00. At this celebration the BMU Gospel Choir will be performing.

On Thursday we meet "The Whiz" starring Dina Ross, Michael Jackson, Ted Ross, and Nipsy Russell. According to critics, "Ross is vocally superb" in the musical and dances "wonderfully", while her supporting cast is equally "brilliant".

The film has several meanings, however, its main aim is to tell black and whites alike to "believe in themselves". Poverty, disillusionment, and drugs and alcohol can all be avoided.

Lena Horne inspires the audience with her rendition of "believe in yourself", the movie theme song. The movie begins at 9:00 p.m.

Saturday, area choirs will be performing in the auditorium, vocalizing the best in Gospel Music at 3:00 p.m.

And on Sunday, the week will close with a special service to be held in the chapel at 3:00. The final service will tie all of the programs together.

Refreshments will be served at all of the events. Anyone interested in participation in any of the activities should contact one of the following persons: La Rita Mitchell, Fashion Show Chairmain; Art Lomax, Black Awareness Chairman; La Fontaine Washington, Vice President and Movie Chairman; Darrell Peal or President; or Vera Wilson, Promotions Director.

This year's Black Awareness week should prove to be bigger and better than ever.
TV Practicum plans HPC studio

BY MARY HUNTER
Staff Writer

"Lights, camera, action" is a familiar cliche used in regard to making a film.
At High Point College this is exactly what is happening; lights have been set up, cameras have been donated by Channel 8-TV and installed by the students, and the action has begun in the Television Station Lab on the second floor of Cooke Hall.

What is all this action for? The new High Point College Community Television Station, of course. The first program will not be shown until March 17, but there is a lot of behind the scenes work to be done.

The television practicum students along with Dr. William DeLeeuw, who is the Director of Communications and the instructor of the TV Practicum Class, are busy working on their assigned duties in order to be ready for the programs to be aired in March.

To qualify for the position, a person should have at least a Bachelor's Degree and be available to travel extensively. Hassell said the heaviest travel is during September through December, when most high school students begin applying to colleges.

Hassell also said that no previous counseling experience is necessary.

The admissions counselors chosen to represent High Point College will be assigned Fast Coast territories including eastern North Carolina and Florida, western North Carolina and Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and Long Island.

Alumni sponsors talent show

BY TABBIE NANCE

While many students and faculty were idling away the hours before the Homecoming basketball games, several were putting their talents to use.

The Alumni Association sponsored a Faculty-Student Show on Saturday of Homecoming weekend. The show was hosted by Dean Bob Lowdermilk and judged by three alumni.

Acts ranged from the musical talents of Anthony Jenkins, Darnell Peeler, and Irene Tivald to the uncycling talents of Dean Bruce Tingle to the winning act featuring Louie Castaldo and Juan Velquez. (ostaldo and Velaquez played several selections on guitars, gave a new twist to "Sultan's of Swing," and were joined by Julian Rivera for a blues composition.

Cronies defeat Sophomores

BY JOANN PARKS
Staff Writer
After three months of "wracking their brains," the Campus Cronies defeated the Sophomore Contingency to win the College Bowl finals at High Point College. Unfortunately, due to circumstances beyond their control, the Campus Cronies, consisting of Warren Owens, Alan Dorsett, Jay Juren, Paul Boyles, and Paula Winton, will not attend the College Bowl Regionals.

The Alpha Chi National Honor Society sponsors College Bowl. This year, College Bowl involved about 50 students, making up ten teams. College Bowl coordinator Teresa Sellers said she was pleased with College Bowl and "the students involved had a lot of fun."

Weekend brings alumni and tales of yesteryear

By Mario Watson
Staff Writer

As I wandered about during Homecoming weekend on my campus beat, I observed, talked with and enjoyed the stories of my alumni. It was hard to imagine some of the things occurring at HPC.

For example, the couple of Lois and Marshall Swanson said there is no comparison between the High Point of yesterday and the High Point of today. Mr. Swanson entered High Point College in 1925 for only one year. "Back then there were only three buildings. Then we had the days of knickers and plus fours. We ate dinner in the bottom of Roberts Hall," continued Mr. Swanson.

"The dress code consisted of dresses or skirts for the ladies and the men wore blazers. It's kind of funny. I had most of my classes in that one building," said Mr. Swanson as he pointed towards Roberts Hall.

Time and time again, the Swansons praised the campus hospitality. "Everyone here is so friendly," stated Lois Swanson. "Being back at High Point, it brings back fond memories for Marshall and I."

Mr. Swanson told of a stunt performed by he and some other classmates. "In the spring of 1926 we carried a live cow up in the auditorium which was located in the top of Roberts Hall. It was hilarious. Dr. Andrews was president back then. I'll never forget that."

As I made my way to the Campus Center where many alumni gathered and told of their college years, I enjoyed the stories of my campus beat, I continued Mr. Swanson.

Cagers Dump Catawba at Homecoming

In women's basketball action, HPC's Lady Cagers downed the Catawba Indians 73-57. The victory was the ladies' 7th in 16 attempts, and was especially sentimental for the Panthers who were playing before a capacity homecoming crowd.

"We were down by 6 at the half," comments head coach Nancy Little. "They were shooting from the outside on us and presssing us."

"In the second half we pressed them and made them turn the ball over a whole bunch." The cagers tightened up their defense and forced the hapless Indians to throw up shots from long range.

"Susie Ramirez went in and hit a couple of good buckets, as well as Lena Scriven and Ursula Watt," says Little. "Lena rebounded well; she had 15 rebounds -- that was the big difference. It was pure team effort."

The preceding week, the Panthers played host to conference leader Elon college. Despite having an extremely young team and playing one of the best teams in the state, the Panthers batted the Fighting Christians almost to a standstill, losing 66-64.

"We didn't work quite hard enough," says Little. "We played pretty good and we worked hard most of the time. But we feel that we can play better and that we can beat Elon."

In that contest Rebecca Cowles led all scores with 36 points respectively, while snaring 13 rebounds to win that war as well.

"She (Cowles) was a determining factor early in the game," says Little. "Lena rebounded well; she had 15 rebounds -- that was the big difference. It was pure team effort."

Quiet, yet dominating on the court, tall yet skillful, athletic, yet versatile, a dynamic player with a delightful personality. Who could describe? None other than the powerfully '6-6' forward for the High Point College Men's Basketball Team, Bruce Floyd.

After playing basketball for HPC for the past four years (101 games) and scoring a total of 1,156 points, Floyd will be graduating in May and leaving behind an outstanding college basketball career, in which he was selected on the All-Conference Team his sophomore and junior year, voted Most Valuable Player his sophomore year, was currently Conference Player of the Week (High Point Enterprize), and was a key performer on the team that won the conference title, the District 26 Championship, and participated in the NAIA National Tournament in 1979.

When asked about his college life, Floyd responded by saying that, "The experience has been very rewarding. When I first came here, people used to say how quiet I was. I feel that college life has brought me out more. Most importantly, I have enjoyed meeting people of different personalities, and having a good friendship with them."

Floyd, who is a Philadelphia, PA native, did not become serious about playing until he was 15. At that time, he was playing streetball. During his junior high school years, he played for Saint Rose of Lima. However, a broken ankle, which took about two months to heal, prevented him from playing in the eleventh grade at Overbrook High School.

His senior year, he came battling back out and landed a four year Athletic Scholarship to High Point College. The only physical related problems that he has had since then is troubled knees. But that didn't stop the robust player, who has a free throw average of 77%, has rebounded 632 shots, and has an average of 11.4 points per game.

Coach Jerry Steele says that "Bruce has important qualities about him. One important thing is that he has talent, yet he is very coachable and fits well with the team. And most important, he is a fine human being who I have great respect for. We will hate to see him go. However, we want him to graduate, to succeed in life and go as far as he can."

Floyd, who is the youngest of four children and comes from a family of height (6'3" to 6'7") remembers the heartfelt words that his mother, Mildred Floyd, taught him: "Always be thankful -- Thank God that you are able to do something well."

What influenced Bruce Floyd to come to HPC? A big influence was his older brother Charlie Floyd, who also played basketball for HPC. Also, Bruce said that he wanted to travel to the South and move out on his own.

However, basketball is not his only interest. Floyd not only stimulates his body with physical activities, but also stimulates the mind with intense chess games. He likes to attempt playing other sports such as tennis, softball, and WATCH OUT! if you compete with him at the bowling alley. Possibly you might even see him in the game room playing pool or ping pong. Bruce says that "If you compete with him you might even see him in the game room playing pool or ping pong. Bruce says that "If you compete with him you might even see him in the game room playing pool or ping pong."
The distance events are a strong suit for the team also. Phil Roberts, a former teammate of Ford's in high school, is a highly regarded mile and two mile distance runner. He will add the depth to the distance runner that the team needs. Brad Rogers, another mile runner, will also run the 880 distance event. Other runners that are expected to contribute to the distance events are: Rafael Bandas of Carolina, Puerto Rico; senior Jeff Koechler, Jeff Norris and freshman Don Brown, who is on the basketball team.

The hurdles events are another bright spot for the track team. Doerr is expected to run the high hurdles as well as the 440 intermediate hurdles along with Ford. Doerr and Ford should prove to be two of the better hurdlers in the conference.

There are a couple of bright spots in the field events. Jon Richardson, for example, is a returner who throws the javelin and does it well. Jack Songster will develop into a fine high jumper this season and his contributions to the team will be greatly needed. Ralph Barnes event will be the long jump and although this is not his specialty, hopefully he will develop into a fine long jumper.

However, every coin has two sides and for the track team, the dark side of the coin will be the field events. "We're going to have to give up some points in the field events," said Davidson. Those certain events that he is referring to are the pole vault, the discus, and the shot put. "Right now we don't have anyone for these events, but hopefully some people will fill those positions."

Overall, this year's team will be an improved one over last year team. Last year's team finished third in the conference (out of six) and eighth in the districts (out of sixteen). "Know we'll be an improved team over last year," said Davidson.

Baseball Team Is Ready For Action

BY JOANNE PARKS
Staff Writer

Just four months after coming to High Point in 1979, Jim Speight coached his baseball team to the nationals, where they were runner-up. Speight said "They were a very good team. They were very consistent this season. But this is a little bit as good as the first club I had. They could go all the way by doing the little things right. Some were close, and with a little luck."

Speight lost three seniors: Jay Schwamberger, pitcher; Steve Van Asch, second baseman; and Mark Lackey, catcher. The season ended with a 22-15 record. The Panthers include:

Styles played a major role in today's society. Fads constantly change from the old to the new, leaving many in the trend of the old. Anthony Parrish, graduating senior of the High Point 81-82 school year, stays with the school in every aspect.

Anthony Parrish, graduate from Tusnnal High School of Dalton, Va. came to High Point College during the 78-79 school year on a basketball scholarship. When asked why he agreed to attend High Point College, Parrish said, "For several reasons I refuse to comment on, but also because High Point is a smaller university where I'm known as Anthony Parrish, not just another number." Parrish also stated that his coach had alot of influence concerning his decision to attend High Point College.

As a freshman, Parrish served as an alternating starter on the Panther basketball team, later advancing as a regular starter his sophomore year. Parrish lettered in basketball his freshman team, he was voted to the All Tournament Team at Guilford College during the 80-81 school year, and was featured in Parade-All American. He also received the Player of the Year Award in the Piedmont District. Parrish has received numerous amounts of awards and plaques. "The most important, in which he quoted, was being nominated as McDonald's All American. During the four years of Parrish's basketball career, he has helped High Point to date an overall record of 78-82, and a conference record of 38-12. Anthony Parrish was one of the key performers on a team that won the conference title, the District 26 Championship, and team was selected in the National Invitation Tournament (NAIA) in 1979.

During the entire year of Parrish's basketball career at High Point College, he achieved a .512 field goal percentage and a 3.6 rebounding average. Parrish played his final homecoming game Saturday, February 6, 1982. He reached a career milestone this year by going over the 1,000 point mark.

Anthony was an outstanding member of the team on and off the court as well as on the court. He got along great with his teammates and the coach. Parrish says his basketball career may prove to be beneficial to his future plans because, as he said, "Basketball opened up many closed doors for me; it gave me the opportunity to go places and meet interesting people."

A Physical Education major, Anthony hopes to be a P.E. teacher or a basketball coach. During his leisure time Parrish enjoys playing tennis, fishing, recording music, and watching the Panthers. His academic and extra-curricular career Parrish has achieved what few would attempt. He plans to continue working diligently towards his career in both basketball and his education.

For his closing statement Anthony Parrish said, "So far all my dreams of having a successful basketball career have been fulfilled and I now plan to have a promising career continuing I enjoy most -- playing basketball -- even if it means changing my style."

Speight said. But, with Neil Van Asch, Bob Heiron and Tony Moody, who all hit over .300 last season, the Panthers can overcome the problem.

Their strong points, according to Speight, are pitching, outstanding, power and especially defensive in-field. "You won't see many ball clubs with as decent an in-field as we have," Speight said.

The Panther's first game is a double-header Feb. 27 and 28 here at High Point against N.C. State and Virginia Tech.

Speight said, "We have good stats coming back and, considering we were in the top three last year with Elon and Wingate, we are capable of going to the championship." Speight added, "I don't want them to have to do too much, and then be disappointed."

Other key performers include: outfielders - Darrell Barber, Ronny Chapman, Steve Furman, Jim Darlington, Bernice Hamburger; second baseman - Mike Everett; and catcher - Barry Roberts and others.
Familiar Faces seen in "Story Theatre"

BY KARLA GREEN
Staff Writer

Henry Penny, Little Peasant, Master thief, Simpleton and Venus... are coming to High Point College very soon. The question is... what do these strange characters intend to do when they get here?

"Make you laugh," says Director David Appleton, of the HPC Theatre dept., speaking of the spring production of STORY THEATRE.

STORY THEATRE is a collection of ten childrens stories taken from Grimm Brothers and Aesops Fables. This production was first adapted to the stage by Paul Sills in the 1970's, according to Appleton.

Appleton has directed this show before and finds it to be "so much fun for the audience that they probably will want to come back again." He added that it requires much audience involvement.

"Theatre of the ridiculous", is how Appleton describes STORY THEATRE. He says that though it is made up of children stories, it is a show "for all audiences".

Among the cast will be many familiar faces from the fall theatre play, BUS STOP, including freshmen Irene Tivald, Steve Mullins, Suzanne Gillespie, Tom Williams and David Dickson. Others from the cast you may recognize are sophomores Craig Farkas and Scott Morgan.

Also among the cast members are such names as Lundrigan and Elson. However, do not be mistaken by the families' names. STORY THEATRE is debuting Erik Lundrigan and Elizabeth Elson to the HPC campus. Both are active in theatre and are students at Griffin Jr. High School.

Pat Park, a freshman, will also be debuting in this play, according to Appleton.

Other faces will include Beverly Snowden Lampe, from the High Point Community Theatre. She most recently appeared in COME BLOW YOUR HORN which ran in High Point last fall. Lampe presents "Phoenix", a cut from the title cut. "Make you laugh", says Appleton.

Appleton has directed this production for all audiences. "People have come from a distance to see our productions. That is what we are trying to do," says Appleton.

With variety among the cast and the music, the production should prove to have "something for everyone" says Appleton.

According to the cast, STORY THEATRE could help lift your spirits this spring... Productions dates are set for Thurs. Mar. 18 (Student showing), Friday, Mar. 19 and Saturday, Mar. 20 at 8 p.m. The following weekend shows will include Friday, Mar. 26, Saturday, Mar. 27, and a Young Peoples Matinee on Saturday afternoon, Mar. 27.

Fogelberg disappoints audience

BY CRYSTAL L. HEDGECOCK
Editor-in-Chief

Appearing disillusioned and unorganized, the entertainers sauntered onto the dark stage. No "Hello Greensboro!" or "Thank you, Greensboro!" But a "Hello, I'm Dan Fogelberg and I'm here in Greensboro Coliseum."

Fogelberg, who was supported by six band members, began his concert like his 1979 album "Phoenix." "Tallmore Dew", the first cut on "Phoenix", was followed by the title cut.

The audience was polite and applauded at the finish of a song. Now and then, a sparse applause would shimmer through thecoliseum but would quickly end. As the concert slowly progressed, the audience passively listened and the performer apathetically performed.

In an indifferent voice, Fogelberg's first words were, "Thanks for comin' out tonight - wherever we are.

The concert proceeded for two hours with the first standing ovation coming after Fogelberg and Tim Weisberg's release of "Tell Me To My Face." The acoustics in the coliseum were poor and much of the concert echoed off the walls. However, one segment of the concert was acoustically perfect - the segment when all of Fogelberg's band members left him along on stage. Fogelberg sat down in a chair and tenderly performed his recent release "Leader of the Band," the endearing memorial to his father.

Freshman Tom Williams feels STORY THEATRE tests our creativity and adds that much audience participation will help make the play successful. "Everyone has enough imagination to take simple scene and change it into a hilarious comedy," adds Tivald.

There will be a variety of music interluding the cast for the production. Erik Lundrigan agrees, saying this show is more "physically demanding", but "it is fun.

A livelier moment in the concert was when the audience participated in "The Gambler," a cut from "Souvenirs." The audience aided in the chorus and once had a solo of the chorus. The harmony sounded rehearsed and actually was in tune.

Fogelberg left the stage without performing several of his best, such as "Longer," "Netherlands" and "The Innocent Age." The encore brought hope for a great finale, but Fogelberg again disappointed the audience when he left for the final time without satisfying them.

As the audience applauded and pleaded for more, Fogelberg turned his back and talked to his band members without acknowledgement to his gracious, supportive audience. His apparent concern was disheartening to many fans who idolized this guitar-player from Illinois.

The Circus is coming to town

Elvin Bale is just like any ordinary 35-year-old Englishman, except that instead of going to an office or a fish and chips shop every day, he roars up an inclined highwire on a motorcycle, challenges a menacing "Mechanical Monster," and risks his life on a treachery contraption that's known affectionately as the "Wheel of Death."

He's the star attraction of the 112th Edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, produced by Irvin Feld and Kenneth Feld, which arrives at the Greensboro Coliseum on Tuesday, February 23 for 12 performances through Sunday, February 28. This is no small achievement considering the glittering array of talent that is featured in The Greatest Show On Earth, and since then he has been a major attraction of sensational Circus stars from all over the world. Elvin did not have a typical Irish boyhood. At the age of five he was flying on the trapeze. At 12 he did a trick cycling act. By age 18, Elvin had developed his own single trapeze act and toured Russia with an elite group of Circus performers. In 1969, Irvin Feld asked him to headline the second unit of The Greatest Show On Earth, and since then he has headlined audiences across America with his amazing aerial artistry, blindfold, and superb sense of balance.

This season Elvin performs three facts of classic daredevilry: he barrels his motorcycle up an inclined highwire; he executes death-defying feats of balance, in, on, and around the rapidly spinning 40-foot "Wheel of Death;" and he tackles the treacherous "Mechanical Monster."

For the first time in the history of the Circus, Elvin will not only balance blindfolded on the "Wheel of Death," but he will also attempt an even more dangerous stunt -- a suicidal walk on the giant whirling wire-mesh gyro wheel, with Christopher Adams on his shoulders.

Elvin admits that he experiences fear during every performance, but says this is a key to his survival, because it keeps him from becoming careless. Although the hand- some "Phantom of Balance" risks his life thirty times a week, he is not reckless in his private life. "I'm actually a very same and safe driver when I'm behind the wheel of an automobile," he says. "Perhaps that's because I'm not willing to put my live into someone else's hands!"

Prospective scholars attend Weekend

BY KRIS SOUTHARD
Staff Writer

Presidential Scholarship Weekend was held February 20 and 21 and approximately 70 candidates for the scholarship visited the campus for interviewing and entertainment.

The Presidential Scholarship, valued from $2,000 to $5,000 for a four-year period, is awarded annually to incoming freshmen who are considered the most outstanding in scholarship, leadership, and citizenship.

April Callahan, chairman of presidential scholars, was in charge of planning the weekend.

"It took all year to plan the weekend," she said. "Our executive council consisting of Presidential Scholars, formed committees for registering the students, entertainment, accommodations, transportation, and publicity.

"Everyone was confused about the whole thing and they were mostly nervous," Southard said. "I feel we have to compensate. Things never go as you plan them, but I enjoy my job. It's growing, which adds the element of excitement," he said.

On Saturday morning, the candidates enjoyed a continental breakfast, toured the campus and met with Dr. Lucht and other faculty members to discuss campus and academic life at High Point College. At 10:30 a.m., the interviews began and were completed around 5:30 that afternoon. An informal reception followed. On Sunday, the candidates were invited to attend mass or the campus chapel.

The council was also responsible for setting up the interviewing schedule for the candidates and chose faculty members as interviewers. Callahan said that there were 12 groups of interviewers, including three Presidential Scholars and two faculty members in each group.

The twenty-one junior marshals for these events. Each spring semester, this honor is given to twenty juniors with the highest cumulative grade point averages as of the beginning of their junior year. Once they have been chosen, the faculty elects them and the students are notified.

TV studio tapes trial session

BY MARIO WATSON
Staff Writer

A major step in bringing High Point College Community TV, Channel 16 to the screen was taken when the television practicum students held a trial taping session on Feb. 11.

Dr. William DeLeeuw, director of communications and instructor of the television practicum class, directed the students in filming two segments, the opening and closing station id's and a commercial.

Michael White, station manager, interviewed Program Director Kris Southard and Delbert Hickman, producer, in an introduction to Channel 16 and its purposes.

Alisa Walker interviewed interns Erika Allion, who is working with TV 8 and Kris Southard, who has completed her internship at WGLD radio station about the department's internship program.

Southard's voice is also heard on the station identification. Kathy Fulp and Craig Farkas combined efforts on a commercial about the Communication major.

"Everyone was confused about the whole thing and the mistakes were quite entertaining," White said after reviewing the session in the studio.

"We made a lot of progress towards getting it on the air, but we still have a long way to go. This may not be the best production you will ever see, but we take pride in our efforts and we hope the College and student body will be proud of what we have done," White said.

Bridge needs TLC

Being the especially clumsy person that I am, I was terrified at the news I heard the other day. It seems that an area youngster was riding his bike down the hill between the cafeteria and Cooke Hall recently. Since the hill, either way, is pretty steep, a bike can gather much speed before it reaches the bridge. This child was coming down the hill, like many children before him, when his front tire caught between the slabs of the bridge and stopped the bike, throwing the child promptly into the creek.

Fortunately the child was not hurt. In fact. he is probably bragging about the marvels of flying, but still the accident could have been more serious.

Now that is what scares me. This child just happened to be a victim. The victim could have been one of us. And since I am much more clumsy than the average person, it is probable that if there are anymore victims, then I could be the one.

Imagine walking aimlessly across the burnt-red bridge that we all know and love and suddenly vanishing beneath the dark, grungy waters that rush underneath.

Are we in danger or was the bike accident just "one of those things"?

True, it could have been a coincidence that the child's bike tire slide down between the wooden slabs. Then how many times will it be coincidences that a foot gets hung in there and breaks off?

O.K. I realize that I am exaggerating a bit, but the aging bridge really could present a serious problem one day. Why not give the bridge a little TLC now, so in the future it won't have to be completely renovated and perhaps destroyed?

The bridge does add to the beauty of the campus and I am one who would hate to see the bridge torn down later when a little repairation now could prevent that from happening.

The next time you cross the bridge, don't stop to admire the aging lines of the bridge. Instead, rush across and admire from the other side. If not, you may find yourself bragging about the marvels of swimming to class.

Dear Editor:

Several editorials have recently appeared in THE HIGH POINT ENTERPRISE concerning High Point College's relationship with the community of High Point. Janet Freeman, wrote to the ENTERPRISE to express her feelings with regard to High Point's lack of support to the College. On Feb. 10, HPC President Lucht responded to Ms. Freeman's editorial, saying he did not totally agree with her concern over lack of support from the community, and he cited numerous High Point residents, organizations and businesses who continually support the college. While I am appreciative of the "business community" support received by the college, I am puzzled by the ignorance on behalf of many High Point public school students concerning our college.

For experience attending High Point Public schools has led me to believe that the majority of their students have a faulty view of the college and the many fine things it has to offer its students. For this reason, High Point residents are often ridiculed when they choose to attend HPC. During the three high school graduation commencements I have observed, laughter actually spread through the auditorium as it was announced that students would be attending High Point College. This attitude has not only humiliated these students, but it has discouraged many students from taking advantage of a fine school.

Much of the ignorance all about our college is simply due to lack of exposure to HPC's campus and curriculum. I have known several High Point high school students who were pleasantly surprised upon their first visit to the campus. One such student, who was taking a history course here during her senior year of high school exclaimed, "It's a whole different world out there - the atmosphere is so friendly and I'm learning a lot!" Two high school students I have recently shown around campus had no idea we have so much to offer. They were amazed by our new television studio, our modern student center, our friendly atmosphere, and the chance for a good education. These two students went by the admissions office and picked up applications before they left the campus.

I am not saying that we need an influx of High Point area students to attend HPC because one of the primary reasons people go to college is to "get away from home." Nevertheless, I think it is time for these area students to take a much closer look at our college and to quit criticizing. After all, High Point College has a lot to be proud of!

Faculty salary error noted

Dear Editor:

May I make one correction in Mr. Greg Fox's fine article "HPC teachers survive high inflation," in the February 10, 1982 issue? The average faculty salary for this academic year is $17,340 with the average compensation (including fringe benefits) at $20,265. In addition, the Board of Trustees voted a 3% increase to the amount paid each faculty member based upon the 1981 W-2 tax form. This amount would increase the average faculty stipend by approximately $490; the addition was paid on or about January 20, 1982. With the additional stipend, the average base faculty salary would be approximately $20,265. This figure is $2000 above that stated by Mr. Fox as the average contract salary for the 1981-1982 academic year.

Sincerely yours,

NCAE meeting held at HPC

Representatives from High Point College, Winston-Salem State, Livingstone, Catawba, and Wake Forest attended the North Carolina Association of Educators meeting Thursday at High Point College.

Don Morrow, Assistant Secretary of the NCAE, presented a slide presentation and spoke on teacher rights and the law.

The NCAE, which has its headquarters in Raleigh, protects and informs its members. It also lobbies for different teacher rights. Some have even called it the strongest lobbying organization in the state. Politicians like Governor James Hunt have sought the support of the NCAE for their campaigns.

Morrow, a former history teacher at Reynolds High School in Winston-Salem, says the NCAE encourages its local chapters to meet at least once or twice a year to discuss various aspects of teaching.

If a teacher or a student member is a member of the NCAE, he or she can expect the NCAE to support him/her in any situation.

Delta Mu means business

BY MARY HUNTER

Staff Writer

Accounting, Economics, Business Law, and Delta Mu Delta, these subjects all evolve around Business Administration at High Point College.

One might ask, "What is Delta Mu Delta? And what does it have to do with Business Administration?"

Delta Mu Delta is the National Honor Society in Business Administration. It elects students who have distinguished themselves scholastically, and have shown good character and leadership potential while majoring in some aspect of Business Administration. Students inducted into Delta Mu Delta have cumulative grade point averages of at least 3.2, in the top 20 percent of their class, have completed at least 62 semester hours toward the degree.

The NCAE chapter of Delta Mu Delta, which was established in 1970 and became one of the numerous colleges and universities to sponsor a business honor society, has elected the following students as members for the 1981-82 school year: Teresa Brown-King, NC; Larry Carson-Avon, CT; Joseph Davis-Merrill Island, FL; Reid Davis-Kernersville, NC; Gary Edwards-High Point, NC; Debora Hagar-High Point, NC; Tummi Hedrick-High Point, NC; Craig Hock-Pfafftown, NC; Ruth Ragdale-Lexington, NC; Kathy Shields-Winston Salem, NC; Christopher Williams-Tri- nity, NC; and Katherine Wilson-Winston Salem, NC.

Fraternity chooses HPC theatre students

BY MARY HUNTER

Staff Writer

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players." Does this quote, which was taken from a passage in William Shakespeare's play, As You Like It, sound familiar to you?

Well, it may or may not relate to you, but it certainly does to the five outstanding people who have been voted players for the High Point College stage (theatre department). They may or may not have been seen as actors or actresses on the stage, but due to their participation in theatre activities, leadership ability, and knowledge of good theatre production, these students have been chosen as members of Alpha Psi Omega, the Honorary Theatre Fraternity.

Chartered in 1970, HPC has a total of approximately 86 members, and is one of the over 500 colleges and universities in the U.S. with an Alpha Psi Omega charter.

Appraise or a standing ovation is in order for the newly elected members: David Appleton-a theatre instructor at HPC; William Dills-High Point, NC; John Liles (honorary member)-High Point, NC; Scott Morgan-Trinity, NC; and annette Santamaria-Cockeyville, MD.
Lindley receives award

Winfred E. Lindley, a 1963 graduate of High Point College, recently received a Certificate of Appreciation from the U.S. Army Mobility Equipment Research and Development Command, Fort Belvoir, Va.

Lindley, a general engineer in the command's Energy and Water Resources Laboratory, was recognized for accumulating more than 1,000 hours of sick leave. He has been employed at MERADCOM since 1968. In 1970 Lindley was listed in Outstanding Men of America, and his work at MERADCOM has earned him numerous awards.

MERADCOM is part of the U.S. Army Material Development and Readiness Command and is responsible for research, development, and first production buys of equipment in four areas: energy and environmental systems; energy and environmental systems; and supply distribution and construction equipment systems.

Faculty nominates Who's Who

Is it possible for someone to be involved in numerous campus and community activities and still keep up with their school work? Regardless of how hard and challenging this task may be, fifteen outstanding High Point College juniors and seniors have accomplished this task and much more.

Based on their contributions to the college, its community, and their scholastic standing, these High Point College students were chosen to be in WHO'S WHO AMONG AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES for the 1981-82 school year.

The students were nominated by the faculty of HPC; and chosen by the School Personnel Committee, which consists of Dr. Carl Wheelees, Chairman, and other student and faculty members. Congratulations should be given to the following very active people: Debra Boudinot - High Point, NC; Paul Boyles - Winston-Salem, NC; George Brandt - High Point, NC; April Callahan - Kernersville, NC; Betty Canup - Hickory, NC; Bryan Christian - Westfield, NC; Larry Corson - Avon, CT; Kim Darden - Winston-Salem, NC; Alan Dorsett - Thomasville, NC; Jeff Koehler - Rockville CTR, NY; Anne Ludvigson - Sea Ford, NY; Art Prillaman - Martinsville, VA; Carol Rogers - Bowie, MD; Jannell Welsh - Randallstown, MD; and Cathy Wilhoit Reid - King, NC.

Teachers organization seeks applicants

Editor's Note: The writer of the following article, John P. McAndrew, is president of the Foreign and Domestic Teachers Organization.

The Foreign & Domestic Teachers Organization needs teacher applicants in all fields from Kindergarten through College to fill between five and six hundred teaching vacancies both at home and abroad.

Since 1968, our organization has been finding vacancies and locating teachers both in foreign countries and in all fifty states. We possess hundreds of current openings and have all of the pertinent information on scholarships, grants, and fellowships.

The principle problem with first year teachers is where to find the jobs!

These new officers were installed last night. KD is really excited about their new leadership. Congratulations to these ladies!

The older sisters would like to thank the new sisters for the party they gave on February 12. They did a terrific job. Everyone had a good time. Thanks!

This past weekend, Kappa Delta had a visit from our Province President, Kitty Barnes. She gave helpful hints to the new officers. We appreciate her visit.

Just a reminder to folks who have munchies. KDs are selling candy - Ressie’s cups, Crackels, Kit-Kats, and milk chocolate bars with almonds. They’re only one dollar! So, if you start craving chocolate, see any KD.

And finally...Have a fun-filled Spring Break! Live it up. You deserve it!

Spring Fashions

The spring fashions modeled in this feature were provided courtesy of the Tobias women's store and Zibo's men's store, both located at Westchester Mall in High Point.

The stylish culotte outfit featuring bold navy and white stripes is by David Warren of New York. It comes with a wide cotton belt and is priced as an outfit at $98.00.

The mens dress outfit includes a $21.50 John Henry shirt pictured here with a Cambridge Collection cotton knit tie priced at $8.50. It is worn with a Justin Reed sport coat which sells for $155.00. The pants worn here are by Berle and priced at $32.50.

On the first warm, sunny day of spring something happens. There is a tendency to reach deep into the closet and pull out those comfortable clothes - the T-shirts, shorts and tennis shoes. If you enjoy shedding those winter sweaters for the loose comfortable fashions with bright spring colors, you will love the new spring fashions for '82.

According to one sportswear salesperson at Thalhimers of Hanes Mall in Winston-Salem, the new spring line is "full of bright, bold stripes and loose, comfortable styles."

Two popular color combinations in the windows of many mall shops include the red, white and blue "sailor look" and the "desert sand colors," says Sabrina Fletcher of Thalhimers.

According to this sportswear salesperson, coordinates combining khakis and olive greens in shorts, banded ankle pants, and tops are among the favorites of the stores college shoppers this spring.

What is still around this spring? "Polo shirts and jeans, as always," says one mall storekeeper. "It is comfort that is setting this spring's fashions," she added.

Pauline Tatum of Tobias at Westchester Mall, says that she has noticed that more of the student shoppers are "dressing up this season." "They are going back to dresses more," she said.

Culottes and knickers are "in" this spring according to several mall window dressers, who are busy filling the storefronts of Hanes Mall with brightly colored outfits. The displays include a lot of accessories this spring: headbands, "concha" and other wrap style belts, ankle socks and scarves, according to one window dresser.

Laurie Barnes, salesperson at the Limited of Hanes Mall, says that one of their biggest sale items is the ruffled blouses with the high necklines in the earth tone shades. "It goes with what is called the Santa Fe look that is out this spring."

This "Santa Fe look," according to Barnes, is made up of the "prairie princess" full-bottomed mini-skirts worn with the wide concha belts. Concha belts are belts often set with inlays of turquoise which originated out of the Ralph Lauren styles, according to Barnes.

Who sets these fashions we seem to rush out and buy? One HPC student says he feels that our fads come out of music, using the example of the "preppie" look coming in with the popularity of beach music over the past few years. "Now you see a lot of "punk" styles with the recent popularity of that style of music," he added.

Barnes of the Limited agrees saying that after the Olivia Newton-John special on TV recently, her store sold "an incredible amount of headbands and similar fashions" featured by Newton-John in her special.

Are we that easily swayed by fashion? Do we simply wear what others wear in masses on TV and in magazines? One student feels that we simply wear "whatever we like" and "set our own trends" on campus. But, one Mall store owner said simply "Without changing styles and fads, it would take all the fun out of shopping."

The spring fashions are modeled by HPC students Karla Green and Mike Weisehan.

The featured mens tennis outfit includes a Jantzen sweater over a Damon shirt. The sweater sells for $31.00 and the shirt for $27.00. The Berle tennis shorts are priced at $21.00 with matching Jantzen socks for $3.50. The ladies tennis fashions worn here include a sweater by John Meyer and shorts by Lady Thomason. The sweater lists for $36.00 and the short for $32.00. The tennis rackets featured in this issue can be purchased at Triad Sporting Center. The rackets are by Pro Kennex for $99.95 and Prince Classic for $69.95.

The casual mens fashions include the Members Only jacket and pants shown here with the OP shirt. The Members Only jacket is priced at $49.50 and the pants at $27.00. The OP shirt is priced at $16.00.

The womens dress suit is by Betsy's Things. It is a three piece suit that features a khaki skirt with a matching camisole topped by a short waisted red cotton jacket. It sells for $60.00.

The womens fashions begin with casual wear by White Stag. The pants sell for $36.00, the striped knit shirt for $28.00, and the jacket for $30.00. This collection comes with several mix and match coordinates at Tobias.
A YEAR OUT OF COLLEGE, ANDA STRAUSS IS MAKING AVIATION HISTORY IN THE ARMY.

"I'll be seeing Germany a way no tourist can. From the cockpit of an Army Chinook helicopter.

"I'm being assigned to a Chinook helicopter unit in Germany as a test pilot and maintenance officer, and I'm proud that I'll be the first woman to have that assigned over there. It's a real thrill for me.

"So was learning how to fly a helicopter. It takes a lot more skill than an airplane. If you think college is demanding, flight school is even tougher. It's not only academically demanding, it's really mentally demanding as well as physically.

"In Germany, I'll have a chance to use some of the leadership and management techniques I learned in ROTC. It's going to be a real challenge having command responsibilities.

"I'm also excited about living in Germany. I'm looking forward to travelling and doing some skiing. And I really want to learn the language and get to know the people.

"I got into ROTC really just to see what it was all about. For me, it all couldn't have worked out better."

"Army ROTC got Anda Strauss off to a good start. Maybe it can do the same for you. To find out, stop by your Army ROTC office on campus. While you're there, ask about our scholarships and $1,000 a year spending money you can earn in your last two years.

Falcons edge HPC

BY ART LOMAX
The High Point College Men's Basketball Team ended its regular season on a sour note, as the Pfeiffer Falcons invaded Alumni Gymnasium to capture a 59-54 Carolinas Conference victory.

The Panthers loss made the team the number 3 seed, while the Falcon victory boosted them into the No. 2 seed position. HPC is forced to play 3 consecutive nights opening with defending champion and 6 seeded Pembroke State, if they are to win the championship.

"Pfeiffer played harder, quicker and smarter than we did," said Head Coach Jerry Steele.

"As far as being in the flow of the game, I never saw a rhyme or reason for what we were doing two times in a row. "We've been a pretty good rebounding team all season.

Despite poor play in the second half the Panthers were able to close the gap in the score to as little as 3 points, with fine shooting from ready reserve Mike Everett and Roosevelt Brunson.

However, the visitors were unstoppable at the Charity-stripe and kept HPC at a distance to finally edge them 59-54. Pfeiffer's William Miller led all scorers with 28 points, respectively.

About the chances of the Panthers winning the Conference tournament and advancing into post-season play, Steele said, "To win the tournament you've got to get ready and stay ready." He ends, "We either lay it on the line or take inventory!"

Athletes honored in tournament

Volleyball standouts Lena Scriven and Rebecca Cowles have expanded their athletic horizons to serve as dominating forces in women's basketball. Both ladies were named to the All-Tournament Carolinas Conference team. Cowles was also elected to the All-Conference team as a likely candidate for all-state, and possibly All-American.

She is among the top 10 rebounders in the nation and served as the Panther's offensive "punch".

Scriven led the way in scoring and rebounding in the 1st round of the tournament, and is always an offensive threat as well as being a defensive standout.

REBECCA COWLES

LENA SCRIVEN

Issues

- athletes receive from fellow players. When you're not at your best, they're there encouraging you.
- it's worth it to go out for the team. The self-satisfaction and self-improvement you gain definitely a positive.
- the men's Track walk-ons have not been interviewed. Positive comments were attributed to Coaches Kitty Steele (Tennis and Field Hockey) and Jim Speight (Baseball) who seemed to work with all athletes who went out for the teams. This is not to say that the other coaches do not give fair-channels to athletes, because all interviews with players of every sport are not complete.

Issues

- Having been a walk-on both in high school and college, I can understand both the feelings of the coach and the student.
- A walk-on is faced with so many pressures. First he must muster up the courage to try out for a team. And quite often once he makes the team he realizes it is an uphill struggle to work his way into the starting lineup. It appears he or she must perform to their upmost ability at all times. If not he is cast aside, and treated somewhat like an outcast in a religion. I've found that the encouragement seems to be there when I won or played well. But even in high school when I performed well, I felt estranged from the coach. The best thing though about being a walk-on is the encouragement you receive from fellow players. When you're not at your best, they're there encouraging you.

In short, although the life of a walk-on "ain't no crystal stair," it's worth it going out for a sport at HPC, Greensboro, or anywhere, take a chance and go for it. You may come up a winner.

Fernie Lee Lindsey, an indispensable employee for High Point College’s cafeteria, is looked upon as the father of High Point College’s termindable employee for employee, Lindsey replied, “There’s no telling.” Lindsey has been a resident of High Point the majority of his life. He has also witnessed many changes in the area in which he resides and the uprising of the city of High Point.

Lindsey was introduced to the job at High Point College by a friend who was a cook before him. “But that was many years ago,” Lindsey said.

When asked what his present age is, Lindsey refused to reply because, he said, “It’s a military secret.”

Alumnus Dale Hatt returns to HPC to play in “Story Theatre”

You can take the man out of High Point, but you can’t take High Point out of the man.

That old cliche may be true for Thomasville native Dale Hatt. Hatt, a 1977 Human Relations graduate from High Point College, recently returned to High Point College to participate in STORY THEATRE. Hatt reads about the production in the paper and said he thought it would be fun to do the play.

216, “244,” and “238” were high bowling scores for a three-game set which beat the record in the city under the American Junior Bowling Congress for the most pinfall in three games.

Don Kester, a HPC junior, bowled a spectacular three-game set on Feb. 6 while bowling in the High Point College Bowling Club.

His total pinfall for the three games, “907,” beat the record at the High Point Lanes for juniors as well as for the city. Kester’s best game was in a row for a hopeful three games. “697,” beat the record at the High Point Lanes for the second game, which brought suspense to all. "It's fun... that's it... it's fun."

Folksongs highlight Silver's act

Folksinger Elaine Silver will present a program of folksongs, ballads, blues and swingtunes in the Old Student Center on Thursday, Feb. 25, from 8 p.m. until 10:30 p.m.

Her critically acclaimed lyric soprano voice and wide ranging repertoire have made her a popular attraction at many college campuses and coffeehouses.

She sings a cappella or accompanies herself on guitar, banjo or Appalachian dulcimer, yet her traditional style is quite contemporary when she sings her own songs or those by friends.

Whether a song from the southern mountains, classic blues from the twenties and thirties or a new song, her warm style quickly reaches out to her audience.

Her appearance is sponsored by the Student Union and admission is FREE.

Refreshments will be served.

Representatives to attend "Career Day"

BY KARLA GREEN
Staff Writer

Thursday, March 18 will be an important day for all career-minded students on the campus of High Point College. "Career Day" will fill the schedule of the Campus Center with representatives from area businesses and agencies who will spend the morning talking with students about career planning and possibilities.

William Cope, Associate Professor of Sociology and head of the college intern program heads up this project. "We are expecting about 30 area representatives covering a wide range of majors," Cope says. Since the hours of the project conflict with morning class times, classes may be dismissed on this day. Cope says that dismissal of classes has been suggested to insure better student attendance on "Career Day".

Bruce Tingle, Associate Dean of Students for Career Planning calls this "a time for information sharing" whereby students can make contact with those working in their chosen career fields. "It will be a good time to talk with representatives that can tell students what some of their advantages may be," says Tingle. "It can aid students in such decisions as choosing a minor, etc," he says. He feels this is a chance that students should really take advantage of.

Cope says that many majors will find this day of interest to them. Such majors as business, communications, history, behavioral science, and political science will be represented.

Cope plans to open Career Day with an introduction to the representatives, including an explanation of the HPC intern programs. "Hopefully I can make them aware of our internships so that they can take advantage of this," Cope says. He encourages all students to take time to talk with these representatives.

According to Cope, the following are some of the area businesses that we can expect to see represented at HPC Career Day: the North Carolina State Highway Patrol, Pernod Aviation, the Boy Scouts of America, YMCA, YWCA, 4-H, the United Way, Piedmont, Inc. R.J. Reynolds, Inc., the Research Triangle, the HIGH POINT ENTERPRISE, WQLD, WQHP-TV Channel 8, and Multi Media Advertising. These are only some of the representatives that will be in attendance.

Happy St. Patrick's Day!

Work-Study funds to cease by April 1

BY LEWIS WHELESS
Associate Editor

One-hundred ten students enrolled in the College-Work Study program will not be able to benefit from the program after April 1st because all of the work/study funds will be utilized by that time, according to Kay Stroud, assistant director of financial aid.

The federal government issued to the college an initial allocation of $85,000 for the College-Work Study and for other types of financial aid at the beginning of the 1981-82 school year. Stroud said those funds "have not yet run out, but they will by April 1st." The college, through each department that employs students, pays 20% of the work/study amount, and the federal government imparts the remaining 80%.

The need-analysis system determines who is eligible for work/study awards, based on the student's family contribution. The college awards these students the maximum amount up to one-fifth of the total college cost for which they are eligible, but these amounts are in no way guaranteed. The eligible students do not have to take full advantage of the maximum award if they choose not to do so. The financial aid office has on record the amount of time each student works and the amount of wages he or she receives.

Stroud said, "College-Work Study) supervisors will examine their budgets and decide whether or not they will continue students working by placing them on a workshop. We have asked them to let us know their decisions." When a student is placed on a workshop, the department pays 100% of the students' wages.

Stroud said "We do not yet know how much money will be given (by the government) next year," due to President Reagan's proposed student aid cutbacks. Some returning High Point College students may still be worried by the department they are working for this year. Those students given work/study awards next year will have given primary consideration for job positions. Students not eligible for work/study, but who desire to work on campus, may apply for a workshop, said Stroud.

Each of the following six one-half hour programs will be aired four times a week over Cablevision, Channel 16: Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, 11:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; Thursday, Saturday, 8:30-9:30 p.m.; Sunday, 2:30-3:30 p.m.

Apathy widespread

Apathy is a subject that I have considered not writing about several times. Apathy is just so common I figured I should not waste my time.

And that same attitude is in epidemic proportions across our campus.

Apathy affects many areas such as athletics, extracurricular activities and out-of-class projects. However, one area particularly bothers me: the Student Government Association.

SGA controls this campus. Anything major or even minor that happens on this campus has probably been approved by SGA. The students in SGA have a large responsibility. It's necessary that SGA have representatives of the entire student body, so a majority of student views will be presented and considered.

Elections for the 1982-83 SGA officers are coming up Mar. 23 and 24. The election of a new SGA president should be like electing the president of the United States. There should be several candidates constantly seeking the support of the students. The campaign could get vicious with the candidates railing against their opponents. What an exciting election of a new SGA president should be like the student that doesn't care enough to get involved, yet would have probably found the request which she questions was made by the Executive Council of the Presidcal Scholars Organization. The membership of said council is comprised of students, and of the Greek system. It was my understanding that the request was made in light of accusations in recent years that "dirty rush" was being conducted during the visit of prospective students. Whether or not this was the case is not known. However, the student in charge of the Weekend can attest to this concern which the Executive Council considered.

I believe that Ms. Hutter's implication of the "administration" is without factual basis. If she had investigated the matter, she would have probably found that the request which she questions was made by the Executive Council of the Presidential Scholars Organization. The membership of said council is comprised of students, and of the Greek system. It was my understanding that the request was made in light of accusations in recent years that "dirty rush" was being conducted during the visit of prospective students.

I regret very much that Ms. Hutter has blamed the "administration" for a supposed breach of relationship between Greeks and the "administration" itself. I personally find it dishonorable to work to improve these relationships and then be involved in an umbrella accusation such as the one which she makes. As long as ill-informed accusations such as these continue to be made, it will continue to be difficult to "...realize the good things" which Ms. Hutter asks the "administration" to recognize.

Indeed, there is credit to be given, for there are some good things happening within our Greek organizations. However, I would request that the "administration" receive credit when credit is due, and that the blame not always center around the "administration" when said blame is not due.

Cordially,
Bob Lowdermilk
Dean of Students

English Dept. Shows gratitude

The English Department would like to extend thanks and appreciation to all the College and community organizations and personnel who have worked or contributed to the station's recent airing of High Point College Community Television over Cablevision, Channel 16.

In the community, the various media have announced and covered the progress of the programs: John Lowe of the High Point Enterprise; Lorraine Gundy of WMFR, High Point; Channel 2 in Greensboro; and TV Times Magazine of the Triad area.

WGHP-TV of High Point has been helpful in donating assistance and equipment. Specifically, Dean Blevins, Jim Porter, Rich Cathers, John Lowe, and Dr. Earl Crow of the Religion Department have given personal trips to advise students on basic camera work.

Cablevision of High Point-Jamestown, through its affiliation with American Television and Communications Corporation, has donated a grant of $2,000 because of the interest and time of Carolyn Laws, Cablevision of High Point Manager. Cablevision has allocated Channel 16 exclusively for use by High Point College. Rich Cathers, Program Director for Cablevision of Durham, has made personal trips to advise students on basic camera work.

On the College campus, the student publications have done an excellent job in promoting and advertising the new facility: interviews and announcements over WWIH Radio; news articles and photographs in the HI-PO; pamphlets and brochures distributed across campus; and general circulation of the ad sheets for the station.

Faculty and staff have supported and encouraged the station: Mrs. Charcock and Mr. Bula in the Business Office; Bruce Tingle in use of furniture for set design; the maintenance staff and Fred Pel in building the set; the pride shown in sending prospective students to the facilities; Dr. Earl Crow in the Religion Department in allowing the station to interview Dr. Harvey Cox and Daniel Berrigan; Mr. Bill Cope in his interview on community involvement with the College; and the Fine Arts Department in allowing the use of the College's facilities.

The opinions herein are not necessarily those of the College or the majority of the student body, rather, those of the writers.

WWIH to increase power to 100 watts

BY TABBIE NANCE
Staff Writer

Heard rumors about WWIH changing from a 50 watt station to a 100 watt station? You’re hearing the same rumors the students at High Point College heard several years ago. So what’s the hold up?

In mid-December of 1981 WWIH sent at application for the change to the Federal Communications Commission. After receiving the application the FCC engineers studied the station and sent other stations in the area letters explaining that WWIH wishes to increase their wattage. The other stations were then given a 30 day period to respond. This process took several weeks because the FCC receives over 3,000 such applications a year.

In late February WWIH, 90.5 FM, ordered and received a 100 watt transmitter which is ready for use. Currently the station is awaiting a construction permit from the FCC to hookup the transmitter.

When questioned as to when the construction permit is expected to arrive, station manager Pat Connelly said, “It should arrive any day. The station’s lawyer just called today to say we should be receiving the permit soon.” Connelly said he expects the station to change in several ways once it is a 100 watt station. “I hope to have better quality programming with more album oriented rock. I feel there must be a cohesiveness of shows and not such a wide, wide varety.”

Additions to the station could possibly include suspense, mystery type shows, sports coverage, educational shows, and interviews with people in the music field.

“I wish the campus would really support the station. The students are really paying for the station and it is for them,” Connelly said. “Any student on the campus can become involved in the station and we’re always open for ideas and suggestions.”

Science Academy to meet

The North Carolina Student Academy of Science, District 4, will meet Saturday, March 20, at High Point College. The day-long program for junior and senior high school students and their teachers will include the presentation of original research papers. Students in Alamance, Caswell, Davie, Davidson, Forsyth, Guilford, Randolph, Rockingham, Stokes, Surry, and Yadkin counties are eligible to attend the meeting which will be held in the Haworth Hall of Science.

Papers in biological science, earth and space science, environmental science, behavioral science, physics, chemistry, technology and engineering, and mathematics have been submitted in the competition. Judges include High Point College science faculty, High Point College students majoring in the sciences, and local high school science teachers. Winners will be eligible to compete at the state level in May.

After lunch in the Campus Center, the Student Academy will hold election of officers and announce the winners in the various categories one involved in the competition.

Placement prospectus to be mailed

Within the next week, the English Department will be mailing copies of the 1982 Job Placement Prospectus for graduating English and Communications majors.

The 17 Prospectus will be mailed to approximately 500 media businesses in the Triad area, the southeast, and across the nation, specifically to television, radio, newspaper, and advertising businesses. The Prospectus contains a photograph and brief outlines the basic curriculum for the major, and invited the business to contact any of the major for further resume information and portfolio materials.

The Prospectus especially honors Patti Itterman, the first Communications major graduate in the CAEP Program at R.J. Reynolds in Winston-Salem.

Incoming and prospective English and Communications majors for the fall, 1982, semester will also be mailed a copy of the Prospectus which is being printed courtesy of Postal Instant Press of High Point.

Majority of SGA offices run unopposed

BY JOANN PARKS
Staff Writer

It’s lonely at the top, it’s lonely getting there too. At least it is for the 28 students running for positions on the Student Government Association because most of them are running for their respective office alone.

This disapprots SGA President Karen Magill. She says the SGA has done a good job promoting the election. For example, they gave the nominees two weeks to get a petition to run and made announcements during lunch, and they sent letters to all clubs and organizations advertising the elections.

She is also disappointed because one of her major goals as president was to “make students aware of the SGA.” By the turn-out for elections, she says she feels this goal was not accomplished. “People complain, then don’t get involv-ed,” says Magill.

The SGA wants to grow. It recently passed a bill allowing four legislators from each class rather than three, as in the past. According to the bill, if only three people run, the SGA will appoint a fourth member. The SGA also has six representatives from each class, rather than four. Despite these recent changes, “it may take a couple of years for the SGA to become as visible as it wants to be,” says Magill.

The lack of competition for offices doesn’t surprise Magill. “People want to see others running for them they then pick an office without anyone else running.” Magill saw strong competition two years ago.

“The candidates had strong opinions and voiced them. They were real go-getters,” she said.

This lack of competition may influence voter turn-out. If only one person is running, why vote? Magill says she’ll be happy if 500 people vote in this years elections.

Anyone interested can use the write-in ballot. “Since High Point is a small college,” says Magill, “it’s easy to get involved.”

Those running for SGA offices include: Pres. SGA, Mark Massburn; V.P. unofficial write in Denise Watts; Sec., Wendi Hora; Treas., Mary Hunter and Sharon Sweeney; Sr. Pres., Sean Russell; Sr. V.P., Nancy Siersted; Legislative, Terry Spittle; Yvonne Hurley; Ted Coyle, April Callahan, and Amy Smith; Judicial Rep.: Art Prillaman; Jr. Pres., Bonnie Hopkins; Jr. V.P., Tom Leech; Leg. Rhonda Cecil, Sharon Lowe, Pat Connolly, and one open write-in.

Soph. Pres., Denise Metivier; Soph. V.P., Judy Jones; Leg., Theresa Sweatman, Suzanne Zuroff, Hope Phelps, and one open write-in in Jud., Paula Winton.

SCJ holds “Day of Celebration”

BY KARLA GREEN
Staff Writer

Communications majors have something to celebrate! The major is starting its fifth year in existence at HPC and the Society of Collegiate Journalists are celebrating.

What is the perfect way to celebrate these first five years? Alina Walker, President of the Society says “We are sharing what our major is all about with prospective high school students in this area.”

According to Mario Watson, Society member, students have been invited from Andrews, Ragsdale, Central, and Southwest in the High Point area. Also such schools as Trinity, Thomasville, East Forsyth, and all high schools in Greensboro were invited. The afternoon will be filled with tours, directed by communications majors, to the sights of the various publications on campus.

We are calling this our “Day of Celebration,” says Walker.

Along with tours, students will see the college and how this major prepares for careers in television, radio and the newspaper media. HPC Society members will be explaining their work on the publications and practical experience they gain through the communications major. Pat Connelly, station manager of WWIF radio will be on hand at the radio station. Jean Williamson will represent the Zenith staff. The HI-PO office and publication room will be a part of the tour, with Editor Crystal Hedgecock explaining how the paper “goes to press.”

The most recent addition to the major is the campus television station. Station manager Michael White and assistant Kris Southard will be directing the tour at that end.

Walker speaks proudly of her major, calling it “very well-rounded.” The purpose of “A Day of Celebration” is to make area students aware of what High Point College has to offer,” says Walker.

“We are proud of how far the major has come in these five years,” commented another Society member. The Society of Collegiate Journalists is sponsoring the event, but “all communications majors are invited to take part,” says Walker. All participants will have a chance to talk with former SCJ students. Many of these students have worked at the HIGH POINT ENTERPRISE, WGLD, and WGHP-TV Channel 8. They will have a table set up with their work on display.

Walker also encourages all HPC students from other major fields to come and join in the tours as they are offered. “I think other students may be interested in what we are doing, as well.”

March 18 should prove to be an interesting day all around with Career Day for HPC students and the SCJ sponsored “Day of Celebration.”

In 1969 he organized the teacher education department and was head of that department until retiring in 1975.

In 1980 he was named president emeritus of High Point College.

The Alpha Chi Honorary Scholastic fraternity will honor a creative paper, written by April Callahan, in Charleston, S.C. on March 15, 19 and 20.

The paper, “The Red Leather Diary,” gives Callahan’s philosophical view of life. It is written as if Callahan’s grandfather had found her diary years from now.

Callahan is a noted delegate to the National Convention of Alpha Chi, where she will read her paper to delegates from all over the nation.

“The Red Leather Diary” is one of 20 papers selected from those submitted from all over the United States. Anyone in Alpha Chi could write the paper and submit a paper to the competition.

Callahan said “The knowledge for myself that my writing will be heard is the most rewarding part of the honor. It’s one thing to make an A on a paper, but it’s fulfilling to know that you can have the paper chosen to be honored,” Callahan said.

Finally, the hard work is put to rest as members of the staff sit back and watch the results of their labor appear upon the TV screen. Along with the campus of High Point College, hundreds of television viewers in the community will have the opportunity to see and learn about such a growing college. BMU says thanks

Dear Editor:
I would just like to take the time to thank the following people for all their help during BMU's Black Awareness Week, 1982. Without their assistance we would have been lost: Mr. Paul Lundrigan, Dean Lowdernilk, William McCorcle, Mr. Appleton, Mrs. Charnock, Lisa Baumann, Mrs. Parks, the bookstore and cafeteria staff, and anyone else not mentioned. Thanks once again.
Sincerely,
Art Lomax

Few times do students have the opportunity to come forward and praise an administrator. In this case, this student feels obligated to do so. The person I wish to acknowledge is Assistant Dean Bruce Tingle.
Mr. Tingle is the assistant dean in charge of Career Planning. His help to me has been priceless. Being a senior, Mr. Tingle has been instrumental with help in resume writing, career direction, and academics. Bruce's guidance in these areas have given me a positive outlook for my future and career.
In closing, my only regret is that there are not many more like Mr. Tingle. It would appear after four years at High Point College that most of the administration thinking reflects "I'll get back to you" or "I have to talk so and so." But Mr. Tingle is different. He helps each person he knows by taking the time to help them now—not later.
In Bruce Tingle's case he is a worker, not a talker.
Sincerely,
Robert R. Duarte

The High Point College Men’s Tennis Team defeated California State of Pennsylvania 6 to 3 to bring their overall record two wins and four losses. Their conference record is one win over Wake Forest, Appalachian, and Virginia Tech. The Panther’s Coach, Dr. Charlie Futrell says, “Since they (NCSU, Wake Forest, Appalachian, and Va. Tech) are big NCAA teams, we didn’t really expect to win.”

Bright spots on the team include Jim Holleran, Griff Thompson, and Pekka Makelo. Holleran has the best overall record at 3-3. Griff Thompson, playing at the number three sport, has a 2-4 record. “He has played very well against the NCAA teams - all his matches have been close,” says Futrell.

The number one doubles team, consisting of Jim Holleran and Pekka Makelo, is another plus for the Panthers. They have an overall record of four wins and one loss.

“X” and “Jam Patrol” win Intramurals

BY ART LOMAX
Sports Editor

In Men’s Intramural Basketball Action, Team “X” edged the Lambda Chi A Team to win the A League title, while the Blockade runners extended the “Jam Patrol” to a third game in the double-elimination affair, but fell one shot short of claiming the B League title, falling 41-40.

Team X, playing without scoring and rebounding threat Darin Dunzweiler, played team ball to win the championship. Bob Weckworth sank 2 free throws in the final minutes of play, which proved to be detrimental to the Chi’s.

In B league play, it looked as if the Jam Patrol (11-3 final record) would walk away with the title, as they amassed a 11 point lead at the half. But in the second half, the blockade runners came out shooting, and for the first time in the game, occupied a one point lead with a little over a minute remaining in the game. Paced by Branson Davis and David Matzko offensively, the team was able to recapture the lead. The Blockade Runners did have a chance to win the game with Vince Vrana on the line shooting two shots. Vrana missed both attempts and the Jam Patrol gained the B. Championship.

One member from each team in the A and B leagues were selected to an All-Star Team. Members of the A All-Stars include: Bob Watkinson, Dennis Dunzweiler, Mickey Stokes, Scott Oliver, Craig Baldwin, Bob Hannum, and Daniel Spanishour. B All-Stars are: Branson Davis, Craven Holt, Darrell Katz, Mark Lackey, Robert Evans, J. Carl, John Brown, Owens, and Kennedy.

have been a weakness. But the outfielders have been surprising the veteran coach, and ironically, he is having more trouble with his pitching, an area thought to be one of the sluggers’ strong point.

“The pitching which I thought was going to be a strong point in the beginning was not as strong a I’d like for it to be. The outfielders are hitting real well. Although I’m surprised, I’m pleased with the hitting I’ve gotten from the outfield,” says Speight.

Probably the biggest surprise is the performance of starting catcher Stan Cruz and backup freshman Jim Maceoron.

“Catching is a strength this year. Stan Cruz is doing and excellent job behind the plate. And Jim Maceoron who is a freshman is also doing a good job and is hitting .400 right now.”

“Overall, I feel like we’re playing well,” says Speight. “We’re 2-0 in the district which is the important thing. We’re playing good, we’re not making errors, we’re hitting cut off people — we’re doing the little things we need to do.”

Students spend spring in Paris and London

BY LEWIS WHELESS
Associate Editor

Instead of working, studying, or watching "I Love Lucy" reruns during spring break, a group of High Point College students packed up and jetted away to Paris and London for an exciting week of European culture.

Dr. Carole Head, assistant professor of modern languages, organized the "Paris in Spring" trip as both a time of relaxation and as a learning experience for the 20 students and two faculty members (Dr. Head and Associate Dean Diane Hanson) who travelled to Europe.

Head explained that the students involved "were a wonderful group -- considerate, mature, and independent. Some are going back (to France and/or London) this summer for a trip or to study."

The students' knowledge of foreign language was most helpful in allowing the students to site-see in a foreign country without a translator present at all times. Senior Alan Dorsett, one of the group members, exclaimed, "To be able to communicate with the people of another country after having studied their language is fantastic. The trip was really an invaluable learning experience."

After arriving at the Hotel de Berne in Paris on Sat., Feb. 27, the group viewed some of the major sites of the city on a half-day bus tour. Included in this tour were such famous places as the Eiffel Tower, Notre Dame, the Arch of Triumph (France's symbol of patriotism), and "Place de la Concorde" -- one of the main squares of Paris. The group relaxed after a busy day of site-seeing by dining out and walking along the famous avenue of Champs-Elysees.

The site-seers divided into groups on Sunday morning. Several people attended mass at Notre Dame while others visited the Palace at Versailles or the famous impressionist museum, Jeu de Paume. Others browsed through open-air markets, acquiring a glimpse of the French farmers' produce.

Monday morning was filled by viewing the nearly 250,000 drawings, paintings, statues, and other works of art in the Louvre, one of the world's largest art museums.

The group boarded a bus and travelled to Boulogne by the French coast on Tuesday. From Boulogne, they ferried to Dover, the chief port of travel between England and France. They arrived in London after 7 o'clock. After registering at the Kensington Close Hotel, they observed the Ceremony of the Keys at the Tower of London.

Wednesday's activities were comprised of a half-day tour of London which ended at Buckingham Palace and a glimpse of the "changing of the guards." During the remainder of the trip, group members visited the Westminster Abbey, the Houses of Parliament, the British Museum, Tate Gallery, and the National Gallery. They also beheld the Royal Coach used when Prince Charles and Lady Dianna were married. The group's festivities ended Saturday evening with a "Beefeater" party in Medieval style.

Dr. Head commented that this is the first year she has escorted a group from High Point College to Europe and she would "like to envision doing it again." After all, one can never get enough of "Paris in the Spring."

Silver Sings at HPC

BY MARISA FIRPI
Staff Writer

Listening to Elaine Silver singing folk tunes was just one of the few pleasures derived from attending the Coffeehouse on Feb. 25. Her performance throughout the night consisted of a variety of musical styles and instruments.

“We have been singing since I was a little girl. I come from a musical family. My father was a concert violinist.” A native of New Jersey, Silver sang in high school and started performing at the age of 18. Now, she is in her fourth year of making a living soley from music.

Silver sang at HPC on March 4 and 26, and at the Coffeehouse on Feb. 25. She performed during a concert at HPC sponsored by the American Cancer Society and the Delta SIGS. The Delta SIGS also sponsored a twenty-fifth reunion for the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity this past Friday-Saturday.

Gart Evans, Director of Alumni Affairs, said the reunion had “a tremendous turnout.” Alumni came to High Point College from states all over the country, including New Jersey, Washington, D.C., Virginia, Maryland, and North Carolina.

Activities for the reunion consisted of a barbeque banquet Saturday for lunch, a combined brothers meeting for both active brothers and alumni brothers, and a reception for faculty and staff. Evans said the Delta Sigs were especially glad to have three charter members – Frank Collins, Don Phillips, and Hardy Tew – attend the reunion celebration.

The highlight of the reunion was a dance held at the Howard Johnson’s Motel on Saturday night. One hundred fifteen people attended the dance, said Evans.

The reassignment of Cole is part of a renovation that Lucht is setting forth in order to keep the school at its best, Lucht explained. "We're studying the administrative organization with the view of making the school the best it can be. We have to do the best we can," Lucht said.

"Quite likely there will be personnel changes which will mean shifting of personnel. One of these shifts is in the Dean's office. Dean Cole will resume to full-time teaching in history," Lucht said.

Student reaction has been one of grave concern. At a call meeting of the SGA on Tuesday night, March 30, students expressed anger and concern at not being told of the changes made in the Dean's office.

"We have the right to know what is going on," Karen Magill, former SGA president said at that meeting.

Students discussed several ways of "making themselves heard." After much discussion, a student delegation was decided upon to meet with Dr. Lucht the next day and discuss the communication problems between the President's office and the students.

The delegation, consisting of Karen Magill, Debbie Hutter, Teresa Swatzman, Mike Showalter, Sean Russell and Tom Leech met with Lucht on March 31.

News of Durham will assist in the installation. Within the next two weeks, the equipment will be installed and checked out for operation. The equipment includes a portable Sony Trinicon color camera, a portable recorder/playback unit, a light system, and a 5 inch color monitor. Cablevision of Durham will assist in the installation.

The new High Point College TV station will no longer be limited to in-studio filming. Through a grant donation from the Rawley Fund, new portable equipment will allow students to shoot on location.

Within the next two weeks, the equipment will be installed and checked out for operation. The equipment includes a portable Sony Trinicon color camera, a portable recorder/playback unit, a light system, and a 5 inch color monitor. Cablevision of Durham will assist in the installation.

There are no limits now to what the station can film with the equipment. Projected programs will include on campus sports, important speakers, interviews, and any major meetings, particularly the SGA meetings. Community programs will include possibly the annual Shakespeare Festival, meetings of the City Council, and any programs for non-profit community organizations. Even feature stories on almost anything in the state within traveling distance can now be programmed.

Editing still will be done at WGHP-TV, Channel 8. This station has been most helpful in assisting the new College station. WGHP-TV even came to the College studio to cooperatively tape an interview with Daniel Berrigan. Hopefully, next year, the purchase of a Sony editing system for the College station will make it as complete as any commercial station.

Most of the present equipment (monitor, studio camera, studio recorder/playback) was purchased two years ago with a grant donation from the Rawley Fund. Additional miscellaneous equipment was purchased with grant money from Mobil Oil and American TV and Communications Corporation, a major satellite company which owns HBO, Cinemax, and Cablevision of High Point-James-Town.

Since the College station is finishing up the final program for this spring semester, there may not be time to officially begin any out-of-the-studio filming this semester. During the summer, Communications major, Gary Guffey will be working in the business office for an exit interview with Mr. Fogarty. Please call for an appointment. The interview should take about 15 minutes.

The fourth reminder is for all graduating students to pick up and complete the placement packet from the Career Planning and Placement Office. Return it to Bruce Tingle.

Last, graduation rehearsal will be Saturday, May 1, at 10:00 a.m. at the gym.

In conclusion, the new High Point Colleage TV station will be a major plus for the College and the community.
Hostility seizes campus

Just as epidemically as apathy spread over the campus, so has a new emotion. Hostility is running rampant through the halls of High Point College. This dangerous and uncontrolled anger has overcome even the most sensible person and turned him or her into an irate monster.

I must admit that I too have gotten defensive about the stand that I take concerning the episodes of the previous weeks. Everyone has their opinion about Dr. Lucht and the changes that have occurred recently. But what has happened is each person is trying to make everyone else see things exactly his way. Rational mature thinking no longer exists. Hostile persuasion is the tone of our conversations now.

Our conversations lately inevitably turn to the events on campus. When the talk gets boring, this is one sure way of sparking it up a bit. If two people with strongly opposing opinions get together, one can bet that sparks will fly.

But all of this hostility can’t be good for us. Living in hostile surroundings tends to work negatively on one’s mental well-being. Why can’t we have our own opinions and live with them, instead of forcing them down each other’s throats? I have gotten so tired of even talking about the changes on campus, and a lot more tired of trying to make someone see things my way. I get irritated and usually walk off getting nothing accomplished.

Differences of opinion are good. They offer versatility and many more creative ideas than when everyone agrees. Why then can we not accept these differences in each other and appreciate their originality, instead of speculating about their ignorance?

Sure, these changes on campus have affected the students, as well as the faculty and administration. Concern is probably a normal emotion and maybe even being disturbed, but prolonged hostility takes it a bit far I believe.

Let’s listen to each other for a change, instead of just listening to ourselves. Maybe we could learn something.

CRYSTAL L. HEDGE COCK

SGA shows concern

Students, I have received information from the Department of Education concerning distribution of financial aid via Pell Grants for the coming academic year. After a study was done, it was discovered that $348 million in overpayments and $47 million in underpayments were made due to incorrect information supplied by applicants. This is going to result in a strengthened verification procedure. At this time the exact procedure has not been determined. However, now is the time to start planning for the coming year.

Even though we are approaching the end of the semester, there exists a problem due to students lack of responsibility. Many students are cashing bad checks in the business office. It is vital that we try to alleviate this problem lest our check cashing privileges be revoked.

See Concern p. 3

SU reacts to elections

Dear Editor:

Two weeks ago, elections for SGA officers were held, with only two available offices being sought in opposition. Student Union elections were held and all offices filled resulting from an unopposed election.

Which is the point of this letter. This past year, 20 active union members had the opportunity to participate in the coordination of all Union activities, including: dances, movies, basketball games, houses, recreation, Last Class Bash, and others that arise during the academic year.

Lack of participation in Union meetings and activities has caused a decline in extra-curricular activities available. The only way to change this situation is for all of us as High Point College to get off the apathetic bandwagon and get involved in the planning and execution of student activities.

At present, the newly elected students are planning for next semester. One problem we have encountered is that there is no Dance Chair. At present, there are not dances planned for the fall semester. It must be noted, however, that other activities are in the works, including: concerts, movies, coffee.
Admission Counselors chosen

BY KARLA GREEN
Staff Writer

After 470 people applied for the three Admissions Counselor positions earlier this year, Al Hassell, Director of Admissions, knew he had his work cut out for him. After rounds of interviews, three new representatives were chosen. They have a common selling factor: "Enthusiasm," says Hassell.

Neil Teague, June Frocum and David Hope are very enthusiastic about representing High Point College. All agree they were very impressed to have been selected. And how do they feel about HPC so far?

"I think the people here are fantastic!" says Neil Teague. Teague, 24, is a 1979 graduate of Elon College where she double majored in Human Services and Social Sciences with a minor in History. She previously worked as a social worker at Wesley Hall, a rehabilitation facility in Burlington. Teague will be representing the college in the regions of Eastern NC and Florida. During her first weeks with the college, she made her first trip to the Tampa area, where she did several college day programs.

During the past few weeks, Teague has been on campus directing tours to students who are visiting HPC. She is enjoying her new job. "We are taking a new approach to Admissions—we talk to the students and find out where their interests lie, then we show them the areas we can help them in—instead of just trying to 'sell the school.'"

"It is called the personal touch," says June Frocum. "It is our main concern about HPC so far. We talk to the students and find out where their interests lie, then we show them the areas we can help them in—instead of just trying to 'sell the school.'"

"The people have been so friendly to us. "

Berrigan makes peace appeal

BY KARLA GREEN
Staff Writer

A common concern over the threat of nuclear war brought 150 people shoulder to shoulder in the crowded Campus Center conference room last Wednesday afternoon to listen to a man with a cause.

Father Daniel Berrigan, anti-war activist and Nuclear disarmament advocate challenged everyone present to "celebrate life" by not being a "slave to silence and fear.

Berrigan charged that America is currently involved in a "great celebration of death...of the unborn, the old, and above all, death by war, by nukes..." He said the way to celebrate was to liberate.

Berrigan said that we must "interrupt the kinship with those who are shot down in other countries for what they believe," stressing that we, as Americans, should not be afraid to speak out against nuclear disarmament in our country.

The Writing Center is a place where students can go to over certain grammatical problems and in trying to convey the ideas in a manner that they can easily comprehend.

One of the difficulties that we encounter is in trying to help foreign students understand their problems and in trying to convey the ideas in a manner that they can easily comprehend.

First, we try to help them realize their difficulties and then take care in explaining and answering the questions.

Mrs. Sink also feels that the Writing Center is a very helpful aid to students who want to improve their writing skills or reinforce their grammar usage. Mrs. Sink also feels that we, as Americans, have dramatically increased.

As a public service to all students who plan an after-school jaunt to the seashore, the Myrtle Beach Police Chief has sent High Point College and other area schools a code of laws which are enforced for your safety and vacationing fun.

It is unlawful to:
• Consume alcoholic beverages in specified areas.
• Sleep on any public beach or in any vehicle within the city between 9:00 p.m. and sunrise.
• Ride in any portion of a vehicle not designated for passenger use.
• Carry any kind of weapon, either concealed or not.
• Commit disorderly conduct or disturb the peace and quiet of the public.
• Trespass on posted grounds or grounds owned or occupied by someone else without legitimate cause.
• Wear a mask or any identity-concealing device in public.

In addition to these laws, the City Council of Myrtle Beach recently enacted a lengthy ordinance relating to the sale, manufacture or possession of drug paraphernalia.

SGA recaps year's events

BY KAREN MAGILL
Special to the Hi-PO

Well, another year at High Point College is coming to a close, and along with it, another year in the Student Government Association.

The SGA has had a good year. We have accomplished a number of things, and have opened the doors to a lot of future achievements. What has the SGA accomplished? We have done a lot in updating the student Handbook and SGA Constitution. The Registration Committee and Attorney General deserve a lot of credit for this accomplishment. We have also formed a number of committees; for example, this was the first year for the Food Service Committee, and we have seen that this committee has been very helpful in improving communications between the students and cafeteria staff. We have also formed a recruitment committee to help in the Admissions area, and we have formed an ad-hoc committee to study the possibility of redecorating the campus center. If anyone has any suggestions, please let us know.

Freshman Orientation and homecoming were both very successful, thanks to the vice-president of SGA, Debbie Hutter. We have also succeeded in getting the dorm hours extended, and we are now working on the possibility of eliminating the 81 guest fee. We have worked with the faculty and Administration in changing the process of faculty evaluation in order to make it more effective, and we are still fighting for the reinstatement of unlimited cuts for Dean’s List students. Last, we have in the preliminary stages of studying the much-discussed topic on campus - alcohol. What does the future hold for the students of HPC? SGA is the most effective means they have to express their views. It is the link between the students and the faculty and administration, so make use of it! Support Mark Mashburn, SGA President for 1982-83, and let him know what you like and dislike at HPC because he can express these views to those who develop changes. The SGA President needs the students support and input, so please give it to him and keep in mind that things don’t happen overnight, but if we keep pushing, keep our heads up, and don’t give up we will all succeed together!

It isn’t always easy... this thing called life. Plans don’t always work out the way they’re supposed to and misfortunes sometimes cloud the horizon. But... no matter how lonely the morning sun becomes we always have to remember that it’s up to us - We’re the ones that have to push the clouds away.

Best wishes to all of the seniors and good luck to everyone next year!

SGA Election results reported:
Magill sounds off about problems

The SGA already has a lot planned for next year. Their major goal is to try to overcome this year’s major problem - communication between the students and the administration. But, she says, it can’t be done overnight. "It takes a while to reach your goals, especially with the barriers you face."

One of the SGA’s major actions will be meeting with other area colleges such as UNC-G, and Guilford once a month to discuss each others problems and plan activities together like speakers.

"I just hope everyone doesn’t forget about the SGA," says Magill.

Track action includes win at Gardner-Webb

BY JOANN PARKS
Staff Writer
The High Point College Men's Track Team, with 23 wins and 13 losses, scored a major victory March 27. They placed first in the Gardner Webb Invitational, beating out the other nine teams involved.

Three freshmen have played major roles for the Panthers. James Ford placed first in the 200-meter in 22 flat. "He has been a sensation in the 100 and 220," says Davidson. April 13, they travel to Lynchburg, then on to the District meet April 16 with the conference meet April 22.

All in all, Davidson says "This team is the strongest team we have had in the past four or five years. This team has the best potential to do well in the district and conference meets."
Lucht

The delegation asked why there were so many rumors going around and Lucht told them that he had left it up to Dean Cole how he would announce his reassignment. According to Lucht, Cole went to the History department and requested to teach four history courses next fall and the word got out from there.

The delegation requested that Lucht hold a Presidential Forum to explain the changes to the students and answer their questions. Lucht refused to have a forum, but did say that he would get press releases out to the HI-PO and other press sources if the need arose. Leech told the crowd.

The fifth point brought up by the delegation was that several students had previously requested appointments with Lucht but had been denied them. The secretary had told the students that Lucht was busy or unavailable. Lucht told the delegation that he was unaware that this happened, Leech said.

To better improve communication between students and the administration, Lucht wants to organize a President’s Advisory Group, besides the already President’s Advisory Committee. This group would be appointed by Lucht himself, Leech said.

A list of confirmed and approved resignations was also given at the meeting. The resignations are as follows as of June 1: Dr. David Cole will be a professor under Dr. Carl Wheelless in the psychology department, and will leave the college. Dr. Earl Crow will resign as department head in the religion department and will remain at the college in faculty standing. Dr. Vance Davis will resign as College Chaplain and Dr. Murphy Osborne will resign as Vice-President of financial affairs and will leave the college.

Kruyer explained that Beck resigned to satisfy the needs of the department. "His contract was just up," Kruyer said.

"Crow has a personal conflict as what he is expected to do as an arm of the administration," Kruyer said in reference to Crow’s resignation.

"Davis has indicated for two years that he does not want to continue as Chaplain. The search for a new Chaplain has been going on for a couple of years," Kruyer said.

In a press release from the Director of Informational Services, Osborne stated that he has been exploring other opportunities for some time and considers this move to be in the best interests of his future.

John Van Horn asked if students could influence the president’s decisions and Kruyer said that "you should certainly make him aware of your feelings."

Magill stressed over and over that the student body should go directly to Lucht to talk with him about any questions.

Magill also added that Lucht would make a conscious effort to be at the next SGA meeting which will be April 15 to answer any questions that students might have.

Lucht has also scheduled a meeting on Thursday, April 8 at 11:30 a.m. in Hayworth Chapel to discuss any questions with students, Mrs. Mona Saunders, secretary to the president, confirmed yesterday.

Year ends with Last Class Bash

BY TABBIE NANCE
Staff Writer

How does High Point College celebrate the last day of classes? How else but with a Last Class Bash!

This year’s event is scheduled for April 23 and begins at lunch with Kier, a solo act performing from 11:30 to 12:30 in the cafeteria.

At 3:00 the acts move to the front yard of McCulloch Dormitory. Kier will then perform from 3 to 4 followed by Pegasus Rox, whose performances continue until 6:45. During this time the cafeteria will provide a picnic lunch on the lawn.

Pegasus Rox is billed as a "high energy up-tempo rock group" who draw their roots from rock, yet play Top-40, classical, and contemporary.

The Bash continues at 7 o’clock in the parking lot of Cooke Hall with the area top band, Sugar Creek.

Pete Gibson, co-ordinator of the event, said this year’s event should be a success but "we still need a lot of student help with such things as equipment, meeting bands and showing them the area, etc."

When questioned as to why this year’s event was moved back on campus, Gibson said, "Last year the Student Union did everything we could to make the event safe. We even provided a bus service for those who did not want to drive there or drive home. Yet there are problems this year we have chosen to treat the students where it is going to be safer - on campus."

For those HPC students who want to get the Bash rolling early, there will be a campus skate on April 22. Skates will be available to students free.

“Story Theatre” brings characters to life

BY JOANN PARKS
Staff Writer

The cast of Story Theatre brought many favorite childhood characters to life in two hours of good, clean entertainment during its performances.

From "The Little Peasant" to "The Golden Goose", the cast laughed and joked with the audience. They seemed to enjoy performing the play as much as the audience seemed to enjoy watching it. Sophomore David Martin said, “One of the things that made the play entertaining was the enthusiasm the cast had.”

Although geared more to children and adults and older students displayed a positive reaction. High Point College Junior Marisa Firpi said, “I really enjoyed the play. It was a lot of fun watching them (the cast) perform.”

According to cast member Craig Farkas, Saturday night was the best night overall. Not only did STORY THEATRE have a fairly large turn-out, also, Farkas said "The audience was very responsive, and that helped us." Farkas said the size of the audience shouldn’t make any difference in the performance.

"The cast should do their best, regardless of the crowd," He said. "It was fun, but I’m glad it’s over. Now I can get back to studying."

All was quiet on the campus grounds Tuesday, April 20, when the majority of High Point students attended the Honors Day Convocation. Dr. Robert E. Lowdermilk, Dean of Students, presided over what seemed to be the largest turn out ever for the Honors Day Convocation. Students and faculty alike received awards for outstanding achievement.

April Callahan, APO Awards Chairman, presented the L.E. Moody Service Award, a very honorable award of which Mr. Ernest Price was the recipient.

Every year since 1935, High Point College has honored fifteen juniors and seniors who have distinguished themselves through their scholarship, leadership, service and character. To attain this honor, a student must maintain a high scholastic average for five consecutive semesters, render outstanding service and provide leadership in such collegiate activities as student government, religious life, athletics, theatre, and a list of others. Nominated by members of the Order in residence, candidates are elected by the faculty. Those elected to membership in the Order of the Lighted Lamp this year from the class of 1983 are: Paul Douglas Boyles, Jr., Catherine Wilhoit, Betty Jean Canupp, William Christian III, Kimberly Darden, Anne Marie Ludwigsen, Debra Ann Bouldin, Lawrence Corson, Jefrey Koehler, Jannell Walsh, Artis Prillaman, Jr., Carol Rogers, George Brandt, Alan Dorsett, and April Callahan.

Mr. Raiford Porter presented the recognition of twenty-one Junior Marshals for the 1981-82 academic year. Those twenty-one are: Louise Canrobert (chief), Laura Canrobert (co-chief), Thomas Brown, Betty Chandler, William Costello, Joseph Davis, Samuel East, Greg Fox, Christopher Henson, Eric Herrin, Jonnie Lauten, Cynthia Lloyd, Brenda McElroy, Cindy McGowan, Craig Mock, Ernest Parkett, Carol Rogers, Sue Saxe, Kathy Schaefer, Stephanie Vukovic, Christopher Williams.

Alissa Walker, Society for Collegiate Journalists President, presented the Outstanding Student Contribution to Publication Awards to Kris Southard, and Carolyn Laws was the recipient of the Best Community Person Involvement Award.

Ana Maria Diaz-de Medina, a sophomore from Bolivia, South America received the Tobias-Scholar-Athlete Award which was presented by Dr. Murphy Osborne.

Rebecca Cowles, a sophomore, received the Most Valuable Player Award for Volleyball and Lenora Compton for Basketball.

Mr. Richard Hoffman, Assistant Coach for the Men's Basketball Team presented the MVP Award to Senior, Bruce Floyd and Mrs. Kitty Steele presented Jannell Walsh the MVP Award for Field Hockey.

Seniors exit the college cocoon

The struggle is nearly over.
Another two semesters complete, 34 more credit hours to subtract and the eager anticipation for summer—all of this adds up to the end of the school year.
My summer vacation will zoom by and all of my productive plans will somehow step aside for late morning sleep-ins, hours of catching up on the soaps and days of melting in the sun. I won’t worry, though, because I know what I’ll be doing next September. I’ll be back here with the majority of the people that leave on April 30 or before.
But what about those fortunate few that are seniors?
True, the struggle of High Point College is through, but a new and probably more difficult struggle will begin.
Whether the college graduate will begin to search for a job or continue his education, the new life will not be as casual as that one at HPC.
It’s true that life here is not always easy and carefree, but on the average, we have an easy-going life studying everyday and “hanging out” around campus.
Ideally, the college graduate wants a job that allows him to apply all that has learned over the four years of school. But these career opportunities are few and far between and it is often necessary to start with a job out of the field, which can be discouraging for the person that has worked so hard for a degree.
The graduate that continues his education is faced with many more long and difficult hours of studying. This studying is intense and very demanding on the student.
Whatever direction the graduate takes, he will begin a new life—different from anything else he has probably ever done. He will experience parts of life that we, the ones left at HPC, will not get a chance to experience yet. The graduate will not be lost on the world, given the chance to make a place in it. Yes, a new and difficult struggle will begin, but what an exciting struggle that will be.
Hang in there, Graduates! You are getting to do what the rest of us long for—finally getting out into the world.
We’re in a little cocoon here at HPC, but the seniors are coming out of that cocoon.
Best of luck to the graduating class of 1982 on your adventure “out of the cocoon.”

Reaction: Guilford County student voting controversy

Dear Editor:
There has recently been a great deal of discussion in the media concerning whether students who live in Guilford County for the purpose of attending college are eligible to register and vote in Guilford County or whether they more properly should register and vote in their home county.

Legally any voter, including students, must be a permanent resident of the location in which he wishes to register and vote. Therefore, it follows that a transient student who resides in Guilford County only for the purpose of attending school, who returns home during vacations and the summer, and has no intention of making Guilford County his home is not a permanent resident and is not eligible to register and vote in this county.

The Board of Elections currently uses a revised questionnaire to help determine whether a student is in fact a permanent resident. This questionnaire and the more general question of determining the permanent residence of students has provoked a great deal of controversy. In all this controversy it is important to remember that this is not a question of whether a student can register and vote but only where he can register and vote. Certain individuals have launched student registration campaigns and they apparently view the inquirers into a student’s permanent residence as an impediment to the achievement of their goals.

Unfortunately the one thing being overlooked in all these political maneuverings is the welfare of the student. Once a student registers to vote in Guilford County, he has legally declared himself to be a permanent resident of Guilford County. Such a declaration has serious legal consequences, some or all of which may be highly unfavorable to the student. For example, once a student registers to vote in Guilford County, he is required to pay a fee to change the address on his driver’s license and car registration and, if out of state, to buy new license tags. He may be summoned for jury duty, disrupting classwork. He is required to list and pay personal property taxes, and in many cases the combined city and county taxes for this area may greatly exceed taxes he would have to pay in his hometown. Many group health insurance policies owned by a student’s parents only cover fulltime students who maintain their permanent residence at their parents’ home; thus declaring a residency in Guilford County may end this important health coverage. There is also some question as to the continued eligibility of a students’ parents to claim them as a dependent on their income tax.

Therefore, unless a student is from Guilford County or truly intends to cut loose the home ties and make Guilford County his permanent home, he has nothing to gain and a lot to lose by registering to vote in Guilford County even if he is able to satisfy registration requirements that he is entitled to do so. Students should be very wary of political leaders who may attempt to use their votes to gain personal political advantage with absolutely no concern for the welfare of the student.

Sincerely,
Richard J. Bryan
Member, Guilford County Board of Elections

SGA President bids goodbye

That time of year has slipped around and caught most of us totally unaware and unprepared, as we wind up another academic year and semester. It is also the time when tensions grown and each of us become a bit edgy. We will all be under considerable stress as we move into exam week with our last desperate efforts to cram in knowledge we should have been soaking in all semester.

The point I want to make is this, try to be understanding, patient, and respect your fellow classmate during this stressful time.

Secondly, as we as occupants check out of our respective dorms, we must be careful and keep our rooms secure at all times. After speaking with Dean Osborne, I discovered that the greatest time for theft to occur is at checkout time.

We must alleviate this problem before it starts.

Finally, I want to wish all students, faculty and administrators a great summer vacation. This has been a hard year, but a very productive one in many ways. Rest up, for I feel the coming semester will be even more challenging, and present new horizons for us to venture into. Now is the

"Every president has a different leadership style and there are no right or wrong style - just different styles," Murphy Osborne said.

"I happen to work best under a style that allows me to have a lot of leadership and I realized my job was not expanding here," Osborne said. "I felt the leadership role I could have here was not being utilized to my satisfaction."

Murphy Osborne, after a decade of leadership at High Point College, plans to continue working until late July, take off the month of August to be with his family, and hopes to start a new job in September.

"Those are my plans; don't know if they'll work out or not," the High Point College alumnus said. "I've had several offers in college, businesses, social service organizations, and I'm trying to stay open to whatever options I have."

Ultimately Osborne hopes to have a job where he can offer a greater leadership role and be of more service. "I don't have to be saving the world," Osborne laughed, "but I must rationalize and think I am."

Osborne explained his leadership style as one that includes open communication and a democratic process by working closely with staff members. "Dr. Lucht is a strong leader who is going to make many decisions; therefore, if I'm going to get any additional leadership responsibilities, I must move on."

"My leaving is not the effect of anything that has occurred recently, it is an effect of my changing and the changing of an institution," Osborne said.

He has always felt positive about the students at HPC and the faculty and staff. "It is painful to leave," Osborne said. "I am especially appreciative of the students' response to my leaving and the kindness they have shown," Osborne said. "It is difficult to use the word love, but it belongs here somewhere."

Air Force seeks graduates

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. - The Air Force is seeking more than 1,000 college graduates or those soon to graduate to become officer and navigator trainees during the next 12 months, according to MSGT Pat Shannon, Air Force Recruiter here.

Openings are available now for those who meet Air Force commissioning requirements for navigator training.

Undergraduate navigator training begins after graduation for officer training school at Lakeland AFB, near San Antonio, Texas. Classroom instruction at Mather AFB, near Sacramento, California, prepares the student with the fundamental principles of navigation.

As students progress, they proceed to training in a two-place jet trainer, then to a Boeing 757 converted to a flying classroom with 12 training positions.

Following the 120-day basic course, they receive navigator wings and attend one or more advanced graduate courses. These courses - advanced navigation, tactical navigation, navigator-bombardier training, and electronic warfare officer training - emphasize the specific skills navigators will use in their operational assignments.

As members of the Air Force, navigators enjoy an excellent package of pay and entitlements. Following 12 weeks at office training school, they are commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Force, and may earn up to $1,489.66 per month in pay and allowances, which includes $125 per month in special flight pay.

For further information on Air Force training, contact MSGT Pat Shannon, at 530 Spring Street, or call collect (919) 723-7014.

Keesee to leave HPC

High Point College President Charles R. Lucht April 9, 1982 announced that Larry B. Keesee will leave the College as Director of Library Services at the end of the current school year.

Keesee said, "Having found the administrative responsibility associated with my present position neither personally nor professionally rewarding, I am seeking a position that is more compatible with my professional interests in the acquisition or acquisition department of a larger library."

Dr. Lucht commended Keesee for his contributions to the College in making the best possible use of an overcrowded library facility that is not well adapted to current academic and institutional needs.

Keesee expressed an interest in leaving at this time to give the College ample opportunity to employ a head librarian interested in administrative work who will be available in the development of the new library to be constructed soon.

Norma Robinson honestly thought she would remain in her position as Director of Information Services longer than four months. But, her husband of one year, five months, got a job at the Dallas Times Herald, so the couple moved to Denton, Texas April 16.

Norma Robinson wasn't the first Robinson to work at High Point College. After moving to High Point from Chapel Hill, both her parents worked here for four years. Then they moved to Greensboro when Norma was five.

After attending Salem College for one year, she graduated from UNC-G with a BA in Religious Studies. She worked for the Greensboro Daily News as a copy boy for two years. Unhappy with this, she went to the Asheboro Courier-Tribune where she wrote obituaries and did some freelance reporting for two more years.

Then she sent her resume to Greensboro College. They, in turn, sent it here to High Point, where she was appointed Director of Information Services. The job entailed printing, photography and all media coverage on campus. Robinson said she liked her job here and may decide to apply at one of the two nearby Universities. She may also get back into journalism, but her main goal for now is "unpacking."

Robinson said "it hurts to have to leave now, but sometimes with two professionals, one has to make sacrifices."

The College Radio Station, WWHI, and the new High Point College Community Television Station are both combining efforts in purchasing equipment and working out some basic programming formats for simulcasting. Although the efforts will not materialize until fall, 1982, the first step this semester is the purchase of equipment for joint use. The equipment purchase was made possible by a grant donation from the Rawley Fund.

The TV Station will be receiving portable filming equipment that duplicates all the present Sony equipment in the TV studio. The Radio Station is planning to receive a new Shure 8-outlet stereo console board. When the station moves to 100 watts and stereo capabilities this fall, the new board will ensure quality sound. The present board will be used in the production of programs. At this time, the Radio Station has been hampered in production because no production could be done while the equipment was on the air, from 6:9 a.m. and 3 p.m. until 1 a.m. The Radio Station can now plan far ahead for recorded, pre-recorded PSA's, commercials, and interviews.

Over the summer, a further step will be taken to consolidate efforts through the new proposed Greensboro Consortium Cablevision Network now being worked out through representatives from the various colleges in the consortium. According to Dr. DeLeeuw, College representative to the committee, plans are being formulated for a hook up between the Greensboro and High Point cable systems for a common educational channel to be used by area colleges, public organizations, and county and city public schools. The audio from many or all the programs could be aired on the WWHI also.

By fall, 1982, Cablevision of High Point will probably have the campus hooked up for cable reception in classrooms, main buildings, and dorm lounges for reception of all cable channels except HBO and Cinemax. A two-way drop cable from the TV Station to the new Cablevision office will allow the station to air programs directly from the campus. The station can also receive any educational programs from the Cable system. This summer, the TV Station will be filming various community programs, including the Shakespeare Festival, the Shakespeare for Women Seminar on campus, city council meetings, and any non-profit organization programming. These programs will then be edited at Channel 8 in High Point and used for programming and interviews fall, 1982. Also planned for the campus is a weekly news program with announcements, feature stories, interviews, and Sports Roundup. The portable equipment will also allow filming of any sports events on or off campus.

WWHI Radio has also expanded its program format to include news, weather, PSA's, commercials, pre-recorded tapes from service organizations, and the new Mystery Theatre, every Sunday evening, 11-11:30 p.m. With a subscription to Associated Press Wire Service, the station could provide up-to-date news coverage. The Hi-Po could also use the wire copy.

Dr. DeLeeuw, Director of Communications, stated that the purchase of a typesetter would further unite the publications by allowing the Zenith, the Hi-Po, and any other brochure publications on campus to typeset copy for camera ready material. A complete Sony editing system would also free the TV Station from relying solely on Channel 8 for editing.

The TV Station to the new Consortium Cablevision Network will be filming various community programs, including the Shakespeare Festival, the Shakespeare for Women Seminar on campus, city council meetings, and any non-profit organization programming. These programs will then be edited at Channel 8 in High Point and used for programming and interviews fall, 1982. Also planned for the campus is a weekly news program with announcements, feature stories, interviews, and Sports Roundup. The portable equipment will also allow filming of any sports events on or off campus.

Dean Bob Lowdermilk has been quite busy these past days. Not only has he discussed the subject of the prohibition policy, but he has also taken time to research and write a scholarly book on "Leisure Education and Guidance for College Students: A Ministry of the Church-Related College."

The book is a Doctoral Thesis about students' attitudes toward leisure, their use, and how it fits into their life style.

Lowdermilk maintains a statistical perspective that life should be a balance between work and leisure, and as human beings we should be aware of this balance. But too often people make work precedent over all else, when this happens, the balance tends to sway in favor of work.

He also said that colleges should show more interest on the topic by offering a course that would help people appreciate their leisure time. Colleges only prepare students for work, but as they begin to accumulate more free time, especially people getting ready to retire, they won't know how to use their time wisely or how to adjust to "not working." Lowdermilk said.

Hopefully Lowdermilk's book will help people realize just how important leisure is to a healthy and happy life.

If you're not sure what to do on your free time, read a book, a book on Leisure.

Lowdermilk advocates leisure

The High Point College Singers and piano students of Marcia Garrett Dills will present a Spring recital Thursday, April 22, at 8 p.m. in the Charles H. Hayworth, Sr., Memorial Chapel on the college campus. Admission is free and the public is invited.

The Singers under the direction of Dr. James Elson Lowdermilk will be accompanied by a group of madrigrals, a group of folk hymns and spirituals, music by Hoagy Carmichael and a medley of country music hits.

A lot of studying and reviewing has to be done before even a meeting can be held. This will take some time, so students, don't get your hopes high yet.

Lowdermilk thinks it's not a bad idea if a student wants to have a calm afternoon in front of the T.V. drinking a nice cold beer. But his opinion tends to sway when he thinks of all the students who may abuse this privilege by being too rowdy, drinking excessively, and destroying school property.

"If this problem occurs," Lowdermilk said, "disciplinary action, such as temporary probation or suspension from school should be taken."

But this step is only a suggestion not yet acted upon. A lot of studying and reviewing has to be done before even a meeting can be held. This will take some time, so students, don't get your hopes high yet.
Class conducts abortion survey

Another survey has circulated the HPC campus during the past few weeks – this one on the controversial moral issue of ABORTION. Students from the Section B of the Interpersonal Communication class, taught by Paul Lundrigan, composed the poll, circulated it and this week will present those findings before their class along with other research on the subject.

Participants included some 240 males and females, who were randomly chosen by their classes: freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior respectively. The findings were tallied, the results are listed here by the answers most highly chosen and secondly. The answers were separated and listed by students sex and their class status.

In the survey the answers were scaled in the usual way: Strongly Agree (SA), Agree (A), Neutral (N), Disagree (D), and Highly Disagree (SD). The findings are also listed in this manner.

Here are the questions and the findings:

KAPPA DELTA

Congratulations to our newest bid and pledge, Judy Jones! She accepted her bid Friday and her first degree ceremony was held Monday. The sisters would like to welcome Judy to our circle. Congratulations are also in order for alumna Ellen Myers and our Sweetheart, David Welborn. They were engaged April 9.

This past weekend was a busy one for KD, Saturday, we braved the sporadic rain and had a car wash. Despite the weather, it turned out to be a fairly profitable afternoon. Sunday, rush was on everyone’s minds at our workshop. We got a lot accomplished. It looks like it’s going to be a good fall.

The KDS are now looking forward to their “Leaving Sisters” party on Thursday. Three sisters won’t be back next year: Lisa Baumann, who’s graduating; Sue Saxe will be at FIT; Barb Wells is transferring. We sure are going to miss them.

If anyone has a “Sail On” banner painted on a light blue sheet, the KDS would like it back. It’s from our White Rose dance. A reward is being offered. All you have to do is return it to any KD – no questions asked.

And finally, good luck on exams, everybody! To those of you not coming back, we wish you the best, to those of you who are, we’ll see you in August. Hopefully, we’ll see a lot of you at Myrtle Beach. Have a fun, safe summer!

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Among all the brothers and bull pledges, Alpha Phi Omega has received 661 hours of service to the community and to the campus. We have enjoyed the services we have performed this semester.

Our social activities for the semester included a cook-out on Friday at advisor Bill Cope’s home, and our 24th anniversary party on Saturday. Mr. Earle Dalbey, our former advisor, and Kenny Bull, our new advisor, honored us with their presence at the anniversary party. A new award established in honor of Mr. Earle G. Dalbey was presented to Brother Timothy L. Gray for outstanding service as a brother of the fraternity. We would like to offer our best wishes to all the Greek organizations in hopes that they had a successful year. In addition, we would like to extend warmest congratulations to all those seniors going out into the cold, cruel world. To everyone else – have a happy summer! Good luck to all on exams.

PHI MU'S

The Phi Mu’s have been busy trying to raise money to tie us over for the summer. Our Phi Mu weekend went real well. Steve Ingram is our Phi Mu Sweetheart. Diane Sherry was awarded best sister by the sisters and Phi class. Teresa Brown was awarded best Phi by the sisters and the Phi class. Monique Peyer and Kathy Shields shared the outstanding senior award. Kathy Shields received the Presidential award.

We had a mixer with the TTKA’s and their little-sisters, which was a blast. We have all been studying hard for exams. We would like to wish everyone good luck on their exams, if you’re like us, you’ll need it. We also hope everyone has a fantastic summer. We’re looking forward to the break and to see all of you back next semester. We would also like to wish our seniors, Monique Peyer and Kathy Shields good luck with everything they venture and we’re going to miss you! Don’t forget us and we love you!

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

As another year draws to a close, the Alpha Gams are finding themselves packing away more memories of a fantastic year than books, clothes or personal items. The year has been full of many laughs, fun-filled mixers, rewarding service projects, and of course the pangs and anxieties of overcoming the hurdles of growing in a college environment. As the end draws near, we’d like to wish all our seniors the best of luck in all their endeavors, and also a big thanks for their guidance and leadership.

Congratulations go out to Nancy Chipman and Ameren Stocke for receiving Delta Sigma Phi’s Attending Senior Girl and Miss Sailor’s Ball awards, respectively. Also to Jannell Welish for being selected to membership in the Order of the Lighted Lamp. To Dana Holmes, congratulations on recently being lavaliered to Chip Fleming.

The Alpha Gams would like to wish everyone good luck on their exams and have a fantastic summer! We will see you at Myrtle Beach in eleven days.

HPC's Women's Tennis Team wound up their regular season with a 15-2 record, with losses to VPI, 5-1 and Guilford, 5-4.

They won their fifth consecutive Carolina's Conference last Friday and Saturday with a score of 24 team points, with Guilford finishing second and Elon, third.

At number one position in singles action, Ana Medina scored a major victory over Pfeiffer's Carol Durkin in the first round, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5. With the score 4-4 in the third set, a bystander commented to Coach Kitty Steele that both girls "were playing errorless tennis." Medina then lost in the finals to Guilford's undefeated Tarja Koba.

At the number two spot, Anneli Kivineimi defeated Pembroke's Julie Hall, 6-0, 6-0. Then, she avenged an earlier loss to Guilford's Kerri Kennedy by defeating Kennedy, 6-4, 4-6, 7-6. After that, she easily defeated LeAnn Summerland of Atlantic Christian, 6-3, 6-0.

Number three spot, Lynn Palumbo scored a major victory over Atlantic Christian's Susan Dickerson, 6-0, 6-1. She then went on to defeat Lyn Guyton from Pembroke, 6-0, 6-1 and Elon's Mary Beth Hughes, 6-1, 6-0 to win the championship.

Junior Helen O'Brien scored her third conference championship in three years defeating Patti Juede Vine of Catawba, 6-1, 6-0, and Elon's Missy Mann, 6-1, 6-0. She defeated Tammy Brown of Pfeiffer in the championship, 6-1, 6-3.

In number six spot Dori Johnson, defeated Pembroke's Yvonne James 6-0, 6-0 and Misey Jones of Elon, 6-2, 6-1, before losing to Guilford's Tammy Strickland in the finals.

The doubles matches had to be moved to Guilford's indoor courts the following day because of bad weather.

Medina and Kivineimi defeated Morris and Betom from Catawba, 6-2, 6-0, then went on to defeat Atlantic Christian's Dickerson and Giron. They played their most outstanding match against Guilford's top-seeded Koba and Kennedy, defeating them, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5.

Sharkey and Johnson drew a bye in the first round, then went on to defeat Wingate's Frier and Medlin, 6-0, 6-3, before losing to Guilford's Carpenter and Strickland.

Gianopolis and Teresa Sweatman defeated Pfeiffer's Campbell and Oakley, 6-3, 6-1. Palumbo and Jones from Elon, 6-1, 2-6, 6-0. In the finals they came back after being 0-3 in the second set, to defeat Guilford's Eastman and Heller, 6-2, 6-4.

Overall Coach Kitty Steele says it has been an outstanding tournament. And, she "hopes it will set the momentum for the Districts at Atlantic Christian," she says. Their immediate goal is to gain another victory to receive the open draw at the District play-offs.

HARRISBURG, N.C. - A record-shattering entry total featuring more than 375 cars and drivers from throughout the United States has been posted for this weekend's WBT Spring Sprints at Charlotte Motor Speedway, easily eclipsing the past mark of 263 cars and drivers.

Only the fall National Championship run-offs at Road Atlanta, Ga. and the June Sprints at Elkhart Lake, Wis. top the number of Charlotte entries.

Son of Mario's twin brother, Aldo, John will drive a Crossle in the Formula Ford event entered by Skip Barber of Massachusetts. Barber has entered a sister car for Maximo Olizieri of Foxboro, Mass.

Spartanburg, S.C.'s Brian Little, who won five races in the Southeast Division and has claimed crowns in that region in eight of the last 12 years, will drive his C Sports/Racing AMW1300 Sunday.

Jeffrey Schwartz, from Lake in the Hills, Ill. will bring his Chevrolet Citation XI1 to compete in the Showroom Stock B race. He finished second in class in his first race this year at Sebring, Fla. and then won not only his class but the overall crown in the Showroom Stock race at Lake Charles, La. earlier this month.

Dennis Linker, the 1981 Florida Region Driver of the Year, has entered his Camaro in the GT-1 class. From 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. daily, he is an auto dealer in Boca Raton, Fla.

Golf team advances to District 26 tournament

BY MARIO WATSON
Staff Sports Writer

The High Point College golf team, in the midst of their best campaign in three years, has high hopes of finishing well in the Carolinas Conference and District 26 Tournaments being played April 19-20 at Keith Hills Country Club in Buxes Creek, N.C. The Panthers are coming off three regional tournaments in which they easily performed their best of the year.

In the Elon College Tournament High Point finished fourth out of 31 teams, being led by senior Buster Hall who tied for eighth individually with rounds of 76 and 73. Sophomore Ted Barnhardt also played well with rounds of 77 and 76, along with soph Buddie Sess with 78 and 79 and senior Larry Corson with 77 and 79.

The following week saw High Point finish seventh in the Penskome State Invitational out of 18 teams. The Panthers were only seven shots out of second place in a tightly bunched field.

Hall again led the way, finishing second individually with rounds of 77-73 while Barnhardt shot 76-77 and Corson had 78-79. Sess turned in a first-round 78 before shooting over 80 in the final round on a cold windy day.

Last week High Point finished second out of 12 teams in the Belmont Abbey Tournament, shooting a season low 297 team score. UNC-Charlotte won the tournament with a 296 score.

Hall and Barnhardt both shot one-under par 71's for the day, tying for second-place individually. Barnhardt birded the second playoff hole to win the runner-up trophy.

“We have a good shot at winning the conference and district tournaments if everybody keeps playing as well as they have been,” says Woody Gibson. "This group of players has worked harder and come as close to realizing their potential as they could."

Kneedler participates in marathon

BY VERA WILSON
Staff Writer

Have you tested your physical endurance lately? Well, Stuart Kneedler has and he's proved to be in great condition.

On a cold, rainy Saturday morning, Stuart Kneedler participated in the Shamrock Marathon in Virginia Beach, Va. The marathon trail was 26.2 miles. Despite the bad weather, over 1,500 runners participated, and Stuart held the fantastic place of 558 at a time of 3 hours, 39 minutes, and 11 seconds.

Kneedler is a Resident Counselor for McCulloch Dormitory. He's a junior majoring in Oceanography and a member of the track team. Originally from Mexico, he now resides in New York.

Kneedler began training in January by following a three month program from the magazine Runners World. After the strenuous work-out he entered the marathon on March 20. Five miles of the race was a nature trail that was extremely wet and muddy.

In order to keep his mind off the race, Stuart ran with a friend whom he talked with, which took up a lot of time.

Despite the blisters on his feet from wet socks, his drenched clothing from the rain, and his immense exhaustion, Kneedler was ecstatic to finally see the finish line because of his fatigue, but also because he had achieved what very few would attempt; run 26.2 miles.

When asked what were his feelings toward the race, Kneedler said, "It's unexplainable; you would have to participate in a marathon race to experience the exhilarating feeling I had."

"As for a reward, he continued, "mine was just personal satisfaction of being able to run 26.2 miles."

Stuart plans to enter another marathon race in Rochester, New York on September 6.

Track Team places 3rd in Districts

BY JOANN PARKS

The High Point College Men's Track Team finished an outstanding 7th out of 19 teams in Carrollton, West Georgia a week ago. James Ford finished fourth in the 100-meter and 200-meter with scores of 10.53 in the 100-meter and set a new school record of 21.62 in the 200. Phil Roberts finished 2nd in the 800 meter steak-chase in 47.55. Brad Rogers also finished second in the 1500 meters in 4:36.2. Jeff Dooer placed fourth in the 440 Hurdle with 66.24 and Kent Sides came in fifth in the 200 meter with 21.83.

High Point had an outstanding day in Lynchburg last Tuesday. Finishing second in the 1500 meters, Jeff Dooer was a double winner in the 100 and 200 meter with scores of 10.81 and 22.54 respectively. Jeff Dooer, another double winner, ousted the competition in the 110-meter hurdles and the 440 hurdles. Phil Roberts scored another victory for the Panthers in the 1500 meter. Jack Songster accomplished a personal best in the high jump with a 6'11". scoring another first for HPC. Jon Richardson placed first in the javelin, and Sides, Greg Coats, Doer, and Raphael Bendas completed the mile relay in first place.

HPC cruised to third place out of 12 teams in the Districts last Friday. The best High Point has done in the past few years, Davidyson says. Jon Richardson placed second in the javelin and Phil Roberts, fourth in the 10,000 meters and second in the 5000 meter to help the Panthers. In the 5000 meter, Roberts led nationally renowned Gary Henry of Penbrooke the entire way until the last 30 yards.

This Thursday, the Panthers travel to the Conference meet at Penbrooke.
Coach Davidson says "Since we have some of our injured back and we're in pretty good shape, we should do pretty well."

The Panthers will do very well. He also says he knows that "We're winners, no matter what the scoreboard says."

BECAUSE OF CHEMOTHERAPY KAREN ANDERSON IS A STATISTIC.

THE KIND OF STATISTIC WE LIKE TO BRAG ABOUT.

When Karen was 18 years old, her doctor discovered she had a deadly form of leukemia. Facing incredible odds, Karen spent three years in intensive chemotherapy. Now eight years and two sons later, you'd never suspect that she had battled a disease that kills more than 15,000 Americans every year.

Your donations help us continue the programs that will give us more statistics like Karen Anderson. Statistics we can all be proud of.
"Quest For Fire" takes audience to "distant past"

For years, motion pictures like "Star Wars," "Star Trek," and "Close Encounters of the Third Kind," have excited our imagination by taking us far into the distant future.

Now 20th Century-Fox presents a motion picture which takes us to a time that is just as unknown and mysterious...the distant past.

"Quest For Fire" is a spectacular science-fantasy adventure set 80,000 years ago, a period when men lived as members of fiercely loyal tribes, scattered throughout a vast, unexplored world. These tribes -- some of them savage, others peaceful -- who venture beyond the safety of their tribal campsites and drive off attacking tribes and predatory animals.

"Quest For Fire" is the extraordinary adventure of RON PERLMAN, EVERETT MCGILL and NAMEER ELKADI (L-R) stars as three courageous warriors who venture into the vast uncharted world of the Ice Age.

three courageous warriors journey to find another source of the sacred, life-giving flame, they encounter vicious beasts, cannibals who nearly take them captive and -- most important of all -- they discover the secret of how to make fire anew.

In its initial engagements in New York and Los Angeles, "Quest For Fire" broke attendance records previously held by "Close Encounters of the Third Kind." The visual beauty and excitement of this magical re-creation of an alien, primitive world stunned audiences and impressed critics, who called it "the next 'Star Wars'" and "the movie adventure of a lifetime."

"Quest For Fire" continues to create excitement as it opens at theatres across the country.

Although it is rated R, the film was been applauded by educators as a unique and important production, teaching us about our ancestors and the beginnings of our civilization while entertaining us with its spectacle.

In France, where "Quest For Fire" had its world premiere, the book on which the film is based is required reading in the public schools, and the film itself was endorsed by numerous scholars as an event which all students should have the opportunity to experience.

The French Academy of Motion Picture Arts & Sciences voted "Quest For Fire" the Best Picture of the Year Award (the equivalent of our Oscar), and in this country the film was voted a special Best Picture prize by the Academy of Science Fiction, Fantasy and Horror Films.

"Quest For Fire" is now playing (or will soon be opening) in your city. A Michael Gruskoff Presentation of an IOC-International Cinema Corporation Production, the Jean-Jacques Annaud Film stars Everett McGill, Rae Dawn Chong, Ron Perlman and Nameer El-Kadi. Annaud directed from a screenplay by Gerhard Brach, based on the novel by J.H. Rosny, Sr. The music is by Philippe Sarde.

THE LAST CLASS BASH, which will be held Friday, features SugarCreek. The day begins at 11:30 a.m. with Kier performing during lunch in the cafeteria. He will continue his performance in the afternoon, followed by Pegasus Rox. SugarCreek will begin playing at 8 a.m. in the parking lot behind Cooke Hall. The performance will last until 12 a.m.
